Make It A Habit To Meet Your Business Friends Here

Question And Answer Dept.

NOTICE—If your question does not appear below, it is because it is awaiting its turn, and will be published eventually.

Ques.—What is the northern boundary of Canada? Will you answer this as soon as possible?

Ans. — The northern boundary of Canada borders on the Arctic Ocean.

Ques.—I would like to ask in your very interesting question column just what "heir apparent" and "heir presumptive" mean?

Ans.—"Heir apparent" means manifest, obvious, evident. An heir apparent is an heir whose right to a throne or estate is certain if he survives the ancestor or possessor. "Heir presumptive" is an heir whose right to possession may be obliterated by the birth of other heirs. For instance, if a king of England had no children his oldest brother would be heir presumptive, and if a son were born to the king he would become heir apparent and the heir presumptive would be obliterated.

Ques.—I want to ask you if my parents should stand in the way of my marriage when I really love the man I am going with, notwithstanding we have a few differences. I am old enough to think for myself, but my parents, whom I love also, are much opposed to this man. Darn it, if it isn't one thing after another. What shall I do?

Ans.—You have your own life to live, and as you say you are old enough to think for your self, you ought to know whether the man is worth the break it will mean with your family. It's hard to choose a husband to please one's parents, but frequently they are the ones that know best. On the other hand it is hard on the parents to raise children ever so carefully only to have them disregard the years of training and advice. Why not wait a year or so, and maybe a brighter light will be shed on the situation.

Ques.—Can you tell me if it is true that Sammy Mandell backed off during the entire 15-round boxing contest with Jimmy McLarin as the aggressor?

Ans.—No. Jimmy was clearly outboxed and out generaled all the way through. It is true that Jimmy McLarin bore in, but each time it was to his own peril. Mandell side-stepped and back stepped in a bewildering manner that made Jimmy look like a second-rater, notwithstanding Jimmy is a wonderful fighter and can take unlimited punishment.

Ques.—To settle an argument, will you please be kind enough to answer in your question department what is the correct weight of a Ford (flivver) airplane and also the weights of average airplanes now manufactured?

Ans.—The Ford flivver airplane, as flown by the late Harry Brooks to Florida, weighed 550 pounds when empty. Other types of airplanes weigh from one half ton to ten tons. The plane used by Lindenberg, "The Spirit of St. Louit," had a gross weight of 47,500 pounds.

Ques.—I am told that the 17-year locusts remain in the ground that number of years and then return to the surface? It that is the case, how old can these locusts be?

Ans.—The so-called 17-year locusts die each year, but the larvae remains in the ground 17 years. Every year is a 17-year old locust year, because all eggs are not laid the same year. They emerge in greater numbers, however, every 17 years, and thus are popularly known as 17-year locusts.

Ques.—To settle a dispute will you please answer in your puestion and answer column on what days of the week were the following battles fought: Battle of Waterloo, battle of Manila Bay, battle of Santiago, and battle of Gettysburg.

Ans.—The first three battles—Waterloo, Manila Bay and Santiago, were fought on Sunday. Gettysburg began on Wednesday and ended on Friday.

Ques.—I wish to ask if Booker T. Washington, the educated negro, ever held a public office in the United States? Also, is he still living? If not, in what year did he die?

Ans.—Booker T. Washington never held a government office of any kind in the United States. He distinguished himself as an educator of his race and writer. His gratest work was done during his presidency of the Tuskegee Industrial and Normal Institute (Negro).

Ques.—Will you please answer how far or deep a submarine can be emerged?

Ans.—No submarine has ever been submerged by its crew to a depth greater than 331 feet below the surface. This record was made by an Italian submarine. Usually submarines do not go deeper than six to 10 feet below the surface, which makes them more formidable in an attack.

Ques.—When the moon is seen far in the north is it a sign we are going to have colder weather? Also is it a sign of rain when the moon is tilted in the position of pouring?

Ans.—Many people believe it is a sign of cold weather when the moon is far to the north—known as a cold moon. There is no relation whatever between the weather and the apparent position of the moon. The moon's motions and positions are so uniform and regular that its position and action can be computed for centuries ahead. This feature does not exist in regard to weather.

Ques.—A workman a few hundred yards away pounds a steel rail. We hear the sound seconds later. On the radio we hear music, played hundreds of miles distant, at exactly the same time it is played. Please explain.

Ans.—Sound vibrations and radio are two separate and distinct elements. The former travels through the air, while the latter is instantaneous, made possible through amplification by radio mechanism. In other words, the radio does not travel nor reproduce, but is the original sound amplified. Don't forget that sound waves traveling and the radio are not the same.

EYESIGHT

Natural Lenses

Everyone knows what a camera is — that it has a lens and "takes" pictures on sensitized films.

Our eyes are cameras too. They also have lenses and "take" pictures, but instead of a Kodak film the image produced by the eye lens is focused on a sensitive membrane which is connected with the brain by means of the optic nerve.

Sometimes the lens in the eye gets out of order, due chiefly to the fact that we do not live naturally. The most common ailments of the eye are caused by defective focusing. Optometrists correct this trouble by putting in front of the eye lenses made of glass (spectacles) which overcome these errors.

This process is called Refraction and is the basis of the science of optometry. Its greatest value is in giving accurate vision to people who would otherwise be put under a great disadvantage, no matter what their station in life might be.

You are invited to come to us for advice about your eyes.

Polarine MOTOR OIL

. . . and . . .

Times have changed! Faster driving speed—higher compression engines—more congested traffic—have put a heavier load on the engine.

A richer—sturdier lubricating oil is needed—an oil that will stand up no matter how hot the engine must run.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), always geared to anticipate changing conditions, has kept Iso Vis and Polarine abreast of development. These two good oils are up to the minute —both do a good job.

Polarine is the standard motor oil. It maintains a protective cushioning film of oil between frictional surfaces. Drain your crankcase every 500 miles and refill with fresh Polarine for maximum efficiency and economy.

Iso Vis is the new type constant viscosity motor oil. It will not thin out. It lubricates thoroughly and constantly the remotest frictional surfaces. It wears and wears and wears. It costs a bit more, but its use makes frequent crankcase changes unnecessary.

Use either of these rich, sturdy oils and your motor will run smoother and last longer.

Agricultural Extension Office Notes

The county Jersey Breeders are making plans for the annual meeting of the county association Saturday, March 2. They will serve a banquet dinner to the members, and are arranging an especially interesting program for the afternoon. One of the features of the meeting will be a two reel motion picture—"Builders of an Empire." The scene of this picture shows the part which agriculture has played in the creation of a nation, and sketches a swift panaroma of interesting events, many of which are sacred memories cherished by a generation now fast passing away. The picture will portray the days of the covered wagon, and the restless immigrants who toiled down the dusty sunset trails to the "line" where the "run" was to start into the Indian lands just after opening the settlement.

It shows the hardships of those settlers who erected sod huts, and labored with crude tools on virgin plains, creating the food supply which made possible the development of great cities. It portrays the dawn of the new day when the primitive methods of adventure yielded to the marvelous machinery those men of the cities developed, and to the scientific discoveries born in government laboratories, taught by the agricultural colleges, and applied through the efforts of organized agriculture.

This epoch story reflects the long and glorious history of American agriculture. It also contains an interesting love story which winds in and out of the episodes like the melody of some sweet song.

The committee from the Jersey Breeders making the arrangements for this meeting is: E. C. Simmonds, president, Ypsilanti township; C. D. Finkbeiner, secretary, Saline township; George Cooper, of the Oaklands, Ann Arbor township, and James Craig, Scio township.

The Southern Michigan Parish Show will meet in Ann Arbor, March 4th. This meeting will assemble at the agricultural extension office, Court House, at 11:00 o'clock, according to D. F. Anderson of the Oaklands, Ann Arbor township.

Better Seed Train Short Course School

The Better Seed Train, which will be in Chelsea Tuesday evening, March 12, being operated over the New York Central Lines in cooperation with the Farm Crops Department of the Michigan State College will be a short course school in itself, according to R. E. Decker, Extension Specialist in Farm Crops at M. S. C.

The Train will be manned by specialists of the College who will lecture, discuss problems, and demonstrate equipment with all the farmers present. Among those from the College who will be on the Train are H. C. Rather, Head of the Farm Crops Department; R. E. Decker, P. R. Miller, Ralph Morrish, Crop Specialists, and C. M. McCrary, Potato Specialist. In addition, E. J. Leonhouts and O. B. Price, the Railroad Agricultural Agents, will be present.

Complete exhibits of all kinds of certified seed will be carried and seed treating, and seed cleaning equipment will be demonstrated. A potato grading machine will be on the train and instructions given in the proper grading of potatoes for market.

Certified seed will not be sold from the train, but any farmer may register his desire for seed and the intent to purchase will be referred to the County Agent in each county or handled by the Crop Improvement Association where there is no County Agent.

This is the first opportunity the farmers have had of seeing and hearing the latest in the use of certified seed right at home.

Every farmer uses seed. He should know why the best is cheapest in the end. Don't miss seeing the exhibits on the train and hearing the message of the State College specialists.
