CHELSEA, APRIL 17, 1873.

The Abolition of Free Postage.

On and after the first day of July next the law known as "the repeal of the franking privilege" goes into effect. Congress, who owe the loss of this privilege to the pressure brought to bear against it by the press of the country, it turns out has retaliated in part at least. The bill of Mr. Farnsworth, of Illinois, to make publishers of newspapers prepay postage on their entire issue passing through the mails, was so manifestly unjust that after using it as a scarecrow for a time, it was allowed to die of its own meanness, but tacked on to the postal appropriation bill, and smuggled through at the eleventh hour of the session, was a direct stab at the local newspaper interest, as follows: "Provided, That all laws and parts of laws permitting the transmission by mail of any free matter whatever be and the same are hereby repealed from and after June 30, 1873." Therefore, after June 30th next, all mail matter known as "free matter" under existing laws, on which postage must be paid after June 30, by the repeal of the franking privilege and the passage of the above resolution, is classed under twelve heads, as follows:

- 1. All mail and from the President and Vice President.
2. Official communications to or from Cabinet or Bureau officers, chief clerks or franking officers of each of the Executive Departments.
3. All letters or printed matter to or from members of Congress, Secretary of the Senate or Clerk of the House of Representatives.
4. Petitions to Congress.
5. Copyright matter to Librarian of Congress, if so marked on the package.
6. Smithsonian Institute mail.
7. Exchanges between publishers, one copy of each publication not to exceed sixteen ounces weight.
8. Weekly newspapers to actual subscribers within the county where published.
9. Notices from Postmasters of refusals to take publications.
10. Dead letters returned to writers.
11. Medals, certificates of thanks, or other testimonials awarded by Legislatures to their soldiers.
12. Under a special act of Congress, passed some years since, all mail matters to and from Mary Lincoln, widow of Abraham Lincoln, during her natural life.

The persons now enjoying the franking privilege are the President, Vice President, Senators, Representatives, Delegates, Secretary of Senate, Clerk of House, Cabinet and Bureau officers, all their Cabinet clerks, Postmasters, for official communication only, also Collectors of Internal Revenue, and Mrs. Lincoln.

Under the present law free matter is carried at a cost of about $1,250,000, while the estimate made for amounts required to pay actual necessary official postage for the ensuing fiscal year is about $2,500,000.

The changes in the law will be especially onerous on the library of Congress and the Smithsonian Institute, whose advantages in this respect have never been abused, and were always used in the interests and diffusion of knowledge. Another change which will be of great inconvenience, is that relative to returning "dead letters" to their writers when known. The English postoffice follows the rule we have, and collects when the returned letter is delivered. The only matter that can be sent under the amended law after the 30th of June next, without prepayment, is newspapers sent regularly. Postage is to be collected quarterly on them when delivered. Present regulations remain in effect.

How to Make a Place Prosperous.

There can hardly be a greater sign of prosperity in a community than a disposition to help one another to lift a little when a neighbor's wheel is stuck fast in the mud.

We know of a place where a man's barn, with all his winter stores of grain and hay was consumed in the night. Immediately all the men of the country side mustered and hauled up timbers for a new barn, and then a big raising came off. After that the sound of twenty or more hammers were heard until the whole was shingled and sided. But their deeds of kindness was not done yet; one and another offered to take a head or two of his stock and winter them for him, thus greatly reducing his loss, and assuring his heart of the more endurable riches of brotherly love and neighborly good will. No one can compute in money the value of one such example of noble liberality in a community, especially in the influence upon the young. When this spirit prevails there is sure to be progress in a place, even if all improvements are in their infancy. People will like to come and settle in a place which bears such a good name. Now, if you desire to see your place in a growing, popular one, do what you can to show yourself a good neighbor, especially those who need a little extra help.

If a man starts a tin shop or a blacksmith shop in your place, don't harness up and drive off five miles to buy your pans and get your horse shod, just because you have been in the habit of doing it. Patronize the new comer, when you want anything done in his line. Speak encouragingly to him, and well of him to your neighbors. Little words of approval or of censure go a long way, and when once you have spoken them, you cannot call them back.

News in a Nutshell.

It is reported that Indians are raiding on stock near Cheyenne, Wyo.

The steamer Clarksville sunk in the Arkansas River, near Pine Bluff, Monday.

Three detachments of native Cuban troops in Spanish service have revolted and joined the insurgents.

Bidwell, the supposed bank of England forger, is confined in Havana, without benefit of counsel.

President Thiers has received an invitation from the Emperor of Austria to attend the Vienna Exhibition.

For the fourth time in succession the crew of Cambridge University in England has won the annual race against that of Oxford.

A man named Mace lately set out to walk from Glasgow, Ky., to Dallas, Tex.,—660 miles on a wager that he will perform the journey in 24 days.

Reports from Campbelltown, Taylor county, Kentucky, states that the greater portion of the town was destroyed by fire several days ago. The loss is not stated.

The steamer Dardanella was sunk several days ago, at Mills Bend, in the Arkansas River, 35 miles below Little Rock. She belonged to the Memphis and Arkansas River Packet Company, was worth $16,000, and was uninsured.

A survivor of the famous sea-fight between the Shannon and the Chesapeake died, lately, at Chatham, England. His name was William Stack, and he was 88 years old. His relatives state that he was the last survivor of the crew of the Shannon.

Fred. W. Cooper, a distributing clerk in the Boston Post-office since November last, has been arrested on a charge of rifling and destroying money letters. He acknowledged having taken three hundred and fifteen dollars, though it is believed his stealings will amount to much more.

Henry Rambo, a horse dealer, of Reading, Penn., went to New York City on business, about nine weeks ago, and, as on former occasions, boarded at the Crompton House, at Third avenue and Twenty-fourth street. Soon afterward he sold some horses for $2,500, and as nothing has since been heard of him by his family, he is supposed to have met with foul play.

The will of the late Samuel J. Browne, a clergyman of Cincinnati, has been annulled, on the ground that the testator was insane. This will left $200,000 to found a university, to be named after Mr. Browne. The heirs of the testator agree to give $100,000 to endow the Cincinnati University. This Mr. Browne, it will be remembered, shot a boy and killed him, for robbing his orchard, a few months before his death.

THE MUSCLES.—The order in which the muscles lose their power is worth knowing. The muscles which move the arms and legs usually become relaxed before those which maintain the body in an erect position. In relation to the social senses, that of sight is first lost, the eyelids forming a barrier between the retina and external world; but independently of eyelids, if they had been removed by the surgeon, or could not be closed by disease, this is still the first sense whose functions are abolished. Some animals, as the hare, do not shut their eyes when asleep; and in case of somnambulism the eyes remain open, although the sense of sight is temporarily abolished, but their acuteness is much lessened. Taste is the first to disappear, and then smell; hearing follows, and touch is the most persistent of the senses. So, conversely, a person is most easily awakened by the sense of touch; next in order by sound, and then by smell.

The sewing machine company organized at Memphis, has purchased a large three-story building lately erected for an oat mill, and has also secured an engine and other appliances for carrying on an extensive manufactory.

State News.

On the Flint river 100,850,000 feet of logs await saw mills.

The ice in Keweenaw Bay is said to be about 22 inches thick.

The Bay City schools contains upwards of 1,732 children.

A wolf measuring seven feet long is the trophy of a Big Rapids man.

A woolen manufactory company has been organized at Plainwell, with a capital of $50,000.

The artesian fire-well at Albion is a success. An inexhaustible reservoir of water was struck at 80 feet.

Large quantities of maple sugar are being made this spring in the "bushes," the season proving a very productive one.

A barrel of oysters fell from a wagon in Grand Rapids last week, and the street trochins had a feast of the bivalves, flavored with mud.

The Imlay City Sentinel, after a struggling existence of four months, has expired. The publisher says his expenses have exceeded his income by $100, and he has lost his time—which reasons ought to be satisfactory to all concerned.

The Ontonagon (L. S.) Miner has in its office a boy 13 years of age, at the business less than two months, who lately set up and corrected over 5,000 ems of bourgeois type in less than nine hours. He will evidently make a "fast comp."

The Saginaw Courier says the lumber camps on the Flint river are nearly all broken up. The number of logs put in this season is 81,800,000 feet; held over from last year, 23,360 feet; total to be manufactured 105,160,000 feet. The mills are all starting.

The Tawas Gazette says: "More logs are banked on Tawas bay and river this spring than were ever before put in at one time. If the summer ever comes the success of the past winter's lumbering operation will materially lessen the "fight" times we are now experiencing."

Thompson & Brothers have just completed their second salt well at White Rock (L. H.) and the result is even more satisfactory than that obtained at the first boring. The new well is 555 feet deep; the brine stands at 80 degrees, and the supply is double that furnished by the old well.

Besides our active sympathy with our kind, we human beings have all a certain passive sympathy, causing us to take pleasure in their approval and pain in their contempt. If they were only to us so many useful or hurtful machines, like steam engines, this sentiment would be impossible; whereas, as we are actually constituted, we can no more help feeling a reflex of their feelings towards us than the earth and moon can help reflecting each other's light.

A proof of the close alliance between dogs and men is that in this way dogs feel like ourselves. The dog who lives under a sense of public disapproval in the household to which he belongs, nay, toward whom some one person habitually looks reprovingly, obviously, suffers misery under the cloud. His spirits droop, he moves about in a humble and sneaking manner, and often, like an ill treated child, adopts deceitful ways foreign to his original character.

Only when some members of the circle caresses him and leads him far away from the ill-omened home does his spirit revive and his tail resume its normal elevation. Praised and petted dogs, on the contrary, manifestly, develop all their finest qualities in a continual interchange of sympathy with their masters, whose characters react on theirs in the most singular manner. The creature "grows like the being he worships" in all respects in which his nature permits of likeness. The dog of a brave man is brave, or of a coward, cowardly; ill-temper and suspiciousness in the master are reflected in his hargnoux, spaniel, or terrier; and good humor, sociability, activity, indolence, cheerfulness, sadness, generosity, dignity, impudence, cringing, with a score of other human characteristics, are reflected in dogs even after a few months of association.

The young Prince Imperial, Eugene Louis Jean Joseph, was born on the 15th of March, 1856, and is, therefore, now drawing toward the completion of his seventeenth year. While still in arms he was placed on the master roll of the French Imperial Guards as a private in the regiment; for, as it was intended that he should receive a military education, and afterward assume a military command, it was designed as a compliment to the army that he should, at least nominally, go through all the gradations of the service. When old enough to begin to learn the military exercises he was put through them with youths of his own age, and in ECHO-MEN.—There is no greater bore than a human echo, that repeats, assertingly, whatever one suggests or asserts. It is a nuisance to be always coincided with. A man of sense likes to argue his points and prove his positions. The whetstone of opposition sharpens his wits, but if met with a continual affirmative iteration of his own words, his game is blocked, and he is, so to speak, dumb-founded. On the contrary, a sententious "No, I don't think so," puts a man on his mettle. If wrong, he has a chance of being set right, of enjoying an honest triumph. To be in company with one who has no opinion but your own opinion, is as bad as being caged with a macaw. If you ask an individual in the habit of agreeing with everybody, the reason of his complaisance, he may tell you, perhaps, that he hates controversy. (Hates controversy!) He might as well say he hates truth, for disputation is the crucible in which the gold of truth is separated from the alloy of error. How many things were taken for granted in former ages that modern argument has shown to be mere fallacies. The grand object of a man of mind is to acquire knowledge, but he can learn nothing from those who are always ready to pin their faith on his sleeve without taking the trouble to think for themselves. We detest the snivary that's too polite to doubt, and the indifference that is too phlegmatic to argue.

BRIEF MENTION.

The girls will wear their hair a la terrage right over the bump of self-conceit, the coming summer.

Ladies will find a new supply of zephyr's and milliner goods, at Mrs. M. E. Sargent's, over G. H. Coleman's Drug store, Chelsea, Mich.

The weather for the past week has been rainy, foggy and cloudy, increasing the mud, which was deep enough before, and bringing the frost out of the ground at a rapid pace. The idea begins to be general that old winter has taken a back seat, and that spring is looking through the window.

RESTIVAL.—There will be a Maple Sugar and Ice Cream Festival at the Congregational Church, in this village, on Friday evening, April 18th, 1873, under direction of the Sabbath-school. Tickets of admission, 10 cents. Tickets also entitles the holder to refreshments. A general invitation is extended to all.

BY ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE.

To MAKE MONEY.—If you have anything to sell, advertise in the HERALD; for there is somebody who will want to buy it. If you want to buy a house and lot, a farm, a mill, a horse or cow, advertise the fact in the HERALD; for somebody has the thing to sell. By advertising you will more than double the amount paid the printer, in saving time, in getting customers, in selling what you have to dispose of, or in saving where you have to buy.

Making all due allowances for the damage done to the fruit crop by the extreme cold the past winter, the prospects for plenty of fruit the coming season are fully as good as any season for a number of years back. The grapes, pears and apples have not been injured, and the peaches have suffered but little. Altogether the prospect is that the crop will not be an immense one, but will be fully up to the average, and that prices will be about the same as last year. Any material advance need not be expected.

ACCIDENT.—A young daughter of Mr. Wm. Havens, who lives six miles west of this village, met with a severe accident on Tuesday last week. The young lady was driving a span of horses that had been unhitched from the wagon, and while on the road, one of the horses kicked her on the side of the head. She fell down in an unconscious state, and was carried home. Dr. Shaw was sent for, and after dressing her wounds, left the young lady in a fair way of recovery.

We once knew a man who suddenly gave up advertising for a long time. He had never advertised but once, and that was when a chap came around with a traveler's guide and sold him a page in it, offering at the same time to send a copy to every hotel in the country. As our advertiser kept a local store, it is easy to see why he gave up advertising. A circular saw, for instance, is a very useful article, but it will not pay to run it backwards; and this instance was even worse, for the book never appeared. This is as good a reason as is often given for not advertising in the local paper—because some former advertising venture, of a wholly different character, did not pay.

A MOTHER.—There is something in sickness that breaks down the pride of manhood, that softens the heart and brings it back to the feelings of infancy. Who that has suffered, even in advanced life, in sickness and dependency—who that has pined in a weary bed, in the neglect and loneliness of a foreign land; but has thought of the mother that looked on his childhood, that smoothed down his pillow and administered to his helplessness? O, there is an endearing tenderness in the love of a mother to her son that transcendeth all other affections of the heart. It is neither to be chilled by selfishness nor dainted by danger, nor weakened by worthlessness, nor stifled by ingratitude. She will sacrifice every comfort for his convenience, she will surrender every pleasure to his fame, and exult in his prosperity; and if adversity overtake him, he will be dear to her by his misfortune; and if disgrace settle upon his name she will love and cherish him; and if all the world cast him off, she will be all the world to him.

GENTLEMEN—Simmons' Liver Regulator has been used in my family many years with great success. I regard it an invaluable family medicine, and take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

REV. J. RUTGE FELDER.

Newspaper Blunders.

A political paper in Minnesota, in advertising the election of a candidate, says that its "standard bear, G. vs. E. Flaudra, has twice laid down his life to save Western Minnesota from being devastated by the Indians." Its opponent thinks a "dead corpse" after all a suitable candidate for a dead party? Wonder which blundered most?

Here is still another, this time from Wisconsin: "A new disease has attacked pork in Rock county. Three hogs of Mr. McCune, in Janesville, were struck by lightning on Saturday night." A new definition for lightning?

Not typographical, it is true, but none the less amusing are the following:

An honest farmer writes to the chairman of an agricultural society: "Gentlemen please put me down on your list of cattle for a bull."

A notice of a recent steamboat explosion in a Western paper ends as follows: "The Captain swam ashore. So did the chambermaid; she was insured for $15,000, and loaded with iron."

Here is a peculiar "freak of nature" from the Granite State: "During a severe thunder storm in our vicinity a cow was struck by lightning and instantly killed, belonging to the village physician, who had a beautiful calf four days old."

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican tells of a horse which ran away in that city, "throwing the driver out and cutting a severe gash in one of his hind legs."

A New York city paper says: "A woman may frequently be seen on Broadway, with a baby in her arms, who dances on the pavement, and carries a barrel organ, which she plays." Smart baby that.

The New York World says that "ex-Governor Andrew was born in 1818, previous to which event he had two strokes of apoplexy, one in 1804, and the other in 1800."

THE WIFE.—It needs no guilt to break a husband's heart. The absence of content, the matters of spleen, the untidy dress and cheerless home, the forbidding scowl and deserted heart—these, and other nameless neglects, without a crime among them, have harrowed to the quick the heart's core of man, and planed there beyond the reach of cure, germs of dark despair. Oh my woman, before that sight arrives, dwell on the recollections of her youth, cherishing the idea of that tuneful time, awaken and keep alive the promise she so kindly gave. And though she may be the injured, not the injuring one—the forgotten, and not the forgetting life—a happy allusion to the hour of peaceful love—a kindly welcome to a comfortable home—a smile of love to banish hostile words—a kiss of peace to pardon all the past, and the hardest heart that locked itself within the breast of selfish man, will soften to her charms, and bid her live, as she had hoped, her years of matchless bliss—loved, loving, and content—the source of comfort and the spring of joy.

BE CAREFUL.—In these days, when tight hats, hot air, and sedentary occupations, cause the hair to fall out, it is a matter of no little importance to know which of the hair preparations are of any value. The majority, as has been frequently proved by the first dermatologists, or hair-doctors, possess little or no merit. Such being the fact, it is consoling to those who are afflicted to know there is really one good article, which is recommended and used by the first medical authority, and has stood every test, many years. This preparation is Hall's VEGETABLE SICLIAN HAIR RESTORER, a truly scientific compound, which is unquestionably the best preparation of the kind now before the American public. It will restore to gray hair its original color, cleanse the head thoroughly, cure all eruptions of the scalp; and will always restore the hair so long as any germs remain, as they almost invariably do, until extreme old age has destroyed the roots. The original article is made by R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.—Forney's Press, Jan. 25, 1868.

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the condition of a certain mortgage, executed by Laura Bates to Chandler Dunning, on the twenty-second day of January, A. D. 1870, and recorded in the office of Register of Deeds for Washtenaw county and State of Michigan, in Liber 43 of mortgages, on page 124, on the 24th day of January, 1870. And the power of sale therein contained having become operative by reason of said default; and said mortgage containing a special interest clause, providing that in case any payment of interest falling due on said mortgage, should remain unpaid for the space of thirty days, then the principal and all arrearages of interest should at the option of the obligee, become immediately due and payable. And default having been made in the payment of interest due on said mortgage, and said interest not remaining due and unpaid more than thirty days, and said obligee or mortgagee having elected that by reason of said non-payment of interest as aforesaid, the whole amount secured by said mortgage is now due and payable. Therefore, there is now claimed to be due on said mortgage, the sum of forty-four dollars and twenty-eight cents, and also, an attorney fee of one hundred dollars, as also provided for in said mortgage; and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof. Notice is therefore hereby given, that on Saturday, the fifth day of July, A. D. 1873, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the south front door of the Court House, in the city of Ann Arbor, (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said county of Washtenaw), there will be sold at public auction or vendue, to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage, with the interests, costs, charges and expenses allowed by law, and provided for in said mortgage. THE ANTI-MONOPOLY WAR.

Do the Railroads Control the State, or Does the State Control the Railroads?

The following is the closing portion of the able speech of Senator Castle before the Illinois Farmers' State Convention, at Springfield:

It comes up the great question whether the State is superior to the charters they grant, or has parted control over them; and this question is the foundation upon which you must build.

The people of this State, in common with the people of our whole Union, have now a grave responsibility thrust upon them.

Now if this interest has grown in forty years to an income of $155,000,000 last year, what can we expect in the future, when all these gains are to come from the producing classes of our nation?

Now, fellow-citizens, do not forget the main question; do not be led off upon side-issues; settle first the question: "Do the railroads control the State, or does the State control the railroads?"

A Much-Needed Invention.

There was still one drawback to the sewing machine. Running one was a sort of treadmill operation, and it has been charged caused physical exhaustion...

It is simplicity is only equaled by its durability and convenience. The attachment consists of a neat iron water case about one foot in diameter, which is attached to the left side of the table.

The stream of water running upon the wheel is no larger than a dining needle, though the pipe, save at a point within an inch of the wheel, is a inch in diameter.
