MAN AND THE LOWER ANIMALS.

BY FRANCIS R. SMITH.
One day when business was dull,
And I had time to spare,
In philosophical mood I sought
A crowd of thoughtful men...

The sister never looked more beautiful or appeared to greater advantage than on that night, and Mary especially shone as a brilliant star.
At length supper was over. I had accompanied Mary to the room and from it, and was standing with her again in the ball room apart from the rest...

stranger to me. He appeared puzzled, and then replied: "I am the real Joseph Dithmar."
"Who, then, pray, was he who until last night was known here by that name?"
"Bogus, bogus," answered the man, turning to the piano and drumming with his right hand...

FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

Save the Bones.
We see on almost every farm, all over the land, old bones scattered around as though they were worthless. In many places, persons are doing a good business by gathering these bones and selling them. Every farmer or fruit-grower should prepare a place to save the bones...

Ironing Shirt Fronts.

In a first class laundry starch is made in the usual manner; to a pail of starch a whole spoon candle is used. When the linen is dry, it is dipped in the cold starch and ironed in the ordinary way; then it is dampened with a wet cloth and the polish-iron passed over it. This is an ordinary smoothing iron, ground off so that the edges are all rounding. To this last manipulation the linen is subjected for the peculiar laundry gloss we admire so much...

Mr. Greeley's Clothes.

Mr. Greeley throughout his life was twitted with his slovenliness of person, and many people were made to believe that he nearly ran the risk of being sold for a bag of ancient rags whenever he passed into Ann Street. The fit and quality of his clothes were not what Grammont or D'Orsay would have recommended; but he was always scrupulously neat—Beethoven himself having no greater passion for the bath. His linen was ever immaculate; his boots, though often coarse, well blacked; his face carefully shaved, and his hands as daintily kept as those of a fine woman...

OPENING DAY.

I came to town on opening day,
Along with Melindy Jane,
I thought as I saw I'd like to have
A brass new hat again.
The shop was full of city folks
Looking at their best;
I pulled Melindy's frock and said,
See how those gals are dressed...

THE BALL AT DITHMAR'S.

The name of Dithmar had been known to almost all members of his foundation, with honor many responsible positions in its gift. At the time of which I write the head of the family was one Joseph Dithmar, a retired manufacturer of about sixty, a gentleman of culture as well as fortune. Mr. Dithmar's house held circle, besides himself, then consisted of his wife, by some years his junior; his son, Arthur, a young man of twenty, and two daughters, Helen and Mary. Helen was twenty-six, and though by no means ill-favored, made fair efforts to retain a spinster of her own volition...

Management of Hens.

The Prairie Farmer is responsible for the following principles of chickery:
1. Never set a hen in a box above the ground or floor of the chicken-house, if possible, as the eggs dry too fast and lose their vitality. If possible to set hens on the ground you will have much better success.
2. Never set more than fifteen eggs, no matter how large the hen. Some set only ten or twelve, but under ordinary conditions thirteen or fourteen will hatch as readily as a less number, though more are a waste...

Iceland Volcanoes.

A great eruption of the Skaptar-Yokul, a volcano in Iceland, took place on the 9th of January. It lasted over four days, and the magnificent sight it presented was visible from most parts of the country. The Yokul, or enormous ice mountains, are among the greatest elevations in Iceland. The most extensive of these is the Klon Yokul, in the east; it lies behind the heights which line the southeast coast, and forms with little or no interruption, a vast chain of ice and snow mountains, covering a surface of perhaps 5,000 square miles. The lofty quarter contains, among other lofty heights, the Snafel Yokul, 4,800 feet high. In the north the mountains are not very high; but in the east the Orefa Yokul, 6,280 feet in elevation, is the most lofty of which any accurate measurement has been obtained. The celebrated volcano Hecla is in the southwest quarter, and about thirty miles inland. It is more remarkable for the frequency and violence of its eruptions than for its elevation, which is only about 5,200 feet. Besides more than thirty volcanic mountains there exist an immense number of small cones and craters, from which streams of molten substances have been poured forth over the surrounding regions. Nine volcanoes were active during the last year, four in the north, and the rest lying nearly in a direct line along the south coast. Twenty-three eruptions of Hecla are recorded since the occupation of the island by Europeans. The first of these occurred in 1004. The most extensive and devastating eruption ever experienced in the island happened in 1783; it proceeded from the Skaptar Yokul, a volcano (or rather volcano tract having several cones) near the center of the country. This eruption did not entirely cease for about two years. It destroyed no fewer than twenty villages and 9,000 human beings, or more than one-fifth part of the then population of the island.

Early Lambs.

We do not mention the subject of caring for early lambs because farmers are not aware of their duties, but as a reminder. It is well known that for market an early lamb is worth more than a late one, and it follows that extra care should be taken of the first. It is not economy to attempt to watch the flock in the field, and assist the lambs as they appear, but provision should be made for their protection before that period. Ewes that are soon to suckle should be separated from the flock, and put where they will not be subject to exposure, even if the lambs should not come on a stormy night. Sheep have again become valuable, both for the wool and meat they furnish, and they should be incentives to watchfulness, if humanity does not lead to it. Where lambs become chilled, take them at once to the house, and after being in a warm room for half an hour, put them under the stove where it is hot, and give them milk from the mother until they become able to walk, and then take them back to the sheep. If the mother is not inclined to take her own offspring, shut the two up in a small pen or box together for a day or two, and hold the ewe for a few times for the lamb to draw his rations.—Ohio Farmer.

Waxing Horses.

In trading horses it is generally supposed that the parties to the bargain depend upon their own judgment, and if one is cheated no one is to blame; but the warrantee holds good in this case, if the party be responsible, just as much as in any other. The law in the case is laid down by a New York Judge as follows: If a man warrant a horse, it is not necessary to say "I warrant that horse," but a distinct affirmation in regard to the quality or condition of a horse made to operate, and which does operate, on the sale, amounts to a warranty. If a man don't want to warrant, he must keep his mouth shut; and if he open his mouth, he must tell the truth.

The Abolition of Slavery in Porto Rico.

The official Madrid Gazette gives the full text of the law abolishing slavery in Porto Rico. It reads as follows:
Article 1. Slavery on the island of Porto Rico is herewith forever abolished.
Art. 2. The emancipated slaves are to remain for at least three years more in the service of their present masters, or to enter the service of some other master or that of the State. To protect the interests of the emancipated slaves, three officials appointed by the Government will act as their protectors during their term of service expires.
Art. 3. The owners will be compensated within six months. In addition to this, the owners in whose service the former slaves refuse to remain shall receive a bonus of twenty-five per cent on the compensation awarded to them.
Art. 4. The total amount of the compensation is fixed at 35,000,000 pesetas, and shall be raised by means of a loan, which the Government will negotiate on guarantee of the revenues of the island.
Art. 5. The apportionment of the compensation shall be effected by a commission, to consist of the civil Governor of the island as President, one Judge of the Supreme Court, three Councilors-General, the Syndic of the municipality of the capital, and two representatives chosen by fifty of the wealthiest, and two representatives chosen by the lesser proprietors. The resolutions of this commission are to be approved by a majority of its members.
Art. 6. If the Government should fail in negotiating the loan the present slave-owners will receive certificates.
Art. 7. The emancipated slaves shall be entitled to all political rights five years after the publication of this law.
Art. 8. The Government will adopt the measures necessary to insure the execution of the law and to comply with the imperative demands of public benevolence and labor.

Humorous.

Humorous.
LIP service—Teacup and saucer.
WHAT'S in a name? Everything.
A SOUND judge—A musical critic.
CRIMNEY-SWEETS are sooted with their trade.
MOTTO of the Early Closing Association—Shut up.
The devotees of tobacco and wine are felicitously called tobaccachamians.
"THAT'S my impression," as the printer said when he kissed his sweetheart.
Good advice—Always be sure you can lick a man before you call him a liar.
A STEEL is what makes a blade sharp, but a blade that makes a sharper is a stealer.
If you should lose your nose, what would you do? Take the first one that turns up.
Is Milwaukee all the lawyers are judges, but none of the judges are lawyers.
Why is nature like a baby? Because there is generally a squall when its face is washed.
You may sometimes put sauce into a cup, but you should always put a cup into a saucer.
A COUGH makes you wheezy in the chest, but of the chest you can easily make a coffin.
ALDERMEN is not a synonym for wooden heads, though they form together a board.
Most men like to see themselves in print. Ladies like to see themselves in silks and velvets.
A YOUNG lady being asked her opinion of mustaches replied, "I always set my face against them."
Why is the earth like a school-room blackboard? Because the children of men multiply on the face of it.
"IS DEM bells ringin' for fire, Tiberius?" "No, sir. Dey got plenty 'o fire; dem bells is ringin' for water!"
A Westerner's statement. "We are living in this moment under absolute despotism," is attributed by his contemporaries to the fact of his having lately been married.
We have often wished for a sentence that would clearly explain it. A Westerner kindly supplies the want in this beautiful simile: "You might as well attempt to shampoo an elephant with a thimbleful of soap-suds as to attempt to do business and ignore advertising."
A FRENCH farmer has discovered a simple and effective preventive against potato disease. He introduces a small quantity of crushed tan-bark into each hole on planting the crop, and by this method has, for the last three years, been completely successful in preserving his fields free from the disease.
It is told of a young gentleman, whom a maiden liked but for whom she had at a reasonable hour the old gent mildly intimated that the time for retiring had arrived. "I think you are correct, my dear sir," answered nineteenth century, modestly. "We have been waiting over an hour for you to put yourself in your little bed." The father retired thoughtfully.
Two country attorneys, overtaking a wagoner with two span of horses, and, thinking to be witty at his expense, asked him, "How does it happen that your forward horses are so fat, and the rear ones so lean?" The wagoner, knowing them, answered, "The fore span are lawyers, and the others clients."
The Pall Mall Gazette professes to have found the following advertisement in an American newspaper: "Wanted—A young man who has had experience in thinking up reasons why a man should subscribe to our new chromo, and take our newspaper; also, why our chromo is the best chromo; also, why every man, woman and small boy should have one; also, to think up other reasons why chromos are the best things ever made, whether than a Government mule, and warranted to save three hundred dollars a year in furnishing a household."
The Havana correspondent of the London Times gives the price of slaves at this time at from $1,500 to $2,000 per head.

How to be Healthy.
Take the open air,
The more you take the better;
Follow nature's laws
To the very letter.
Let the doctors go
To the Bay of Biscay;
Let alone the gin,
The brandy and the whisky.
Freely exercise;
Keep your spirits cheerful;
Let no dread of sickness
Make you ever fearful.
Eat the simplest food;
Drink the pure cold water;
Then you will be well,
Or at least you ought to.

The Joyless American Face.

What is to be done to prevent this acrid look of misery from becoming an organic characteristic of our people? "Make them play more," says one philosophy. No doubt they need to "play more;" but when one looks at the average expression of a Fourth of July crowd, one doubts if ever so much multiplication of that kind of holiday would mend the matter. No doubt we work for too many days in the year, and play for too few; but, after all, it is the heart and the spirit and the expression that we bring to our work, and not those that we bring to our play, by which our real vitality must be tested and by which our faces will be stamped. If we do not work healthfully, reasonably, moderately, thankfully, joyously, we shall have neither moderation nor gratitude nor joy in our play. And here is the hopelessness, here is the root of the trouble, of the joyless American face.

The worst of all demons, the demon of unrest and overwork, broods in the very sky of this land. Blue and clear and crisp and sparkling as our atmosphere is, it cannot or does not exercise the spell. Any old man can count on the fingers of one hand the persons he has known who led lives of serene, unhurried content, made for themselves occupations and not tasks, and died at last what might be called natural deaths.

So long as the American is resolved to do in one day the work of two, to make in one year the fortune of his whole life and his children's, to earn before he is forty the reputation which belongs to threescore and ten, so long he will go about the streets wearing his present aspect, pitiable, overwrought, joyless look. But even without a change of heart or reform of habits, he might better his countenance a little, if he would. Even if he does not feel like smiling, he might smile, if he tried; and that would be something. The muscles are all there; they count the same in the American as in the French or the Irish face; they relax easily in youth; the trick can be learned. And even a trick of it is better than none of it. Laughing-masters might be as well paid as dancing-masters to help on society.

News in a Nutshell.

The King and Queen of Denmark will visit London the latter part of this month.
A great coal discovery is reported between Peace and Bone Rivers in the Dominion of Canada.
A dispatch from Algiers says four insurgent Arabian chiefs have been executed at Constantinople.
White frost has destroyed the vines in the vicinity of Lyons, France. The disaster is similar to that of 1871.
The carriage works of the Lancashire Railway Company in Manchester, England, were destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Fifty locomotives and 120 coaches, which were in the building, were burned. The loss is $1,000,000.
Mention is made of a cannon, captured from the French by the Germans, at the battle of Sedan, and now sent by the German Emperor to the Rev. Mr. Schlotheim, at Sheboygan, Wis., to be made into a bell for that reverend gentleman's church.
The railroad station-house at the crossing of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago and Lake Shore Railroads, was burned on Saturday night, and a man, aged 70, named Klees, his daughter, and five children living in the house perished in the flames.

The manufacturing city of Joachimthal, in the mountains of Bohemia, was destroyed by fire recently. Out of 588 houses in the city, 450 were completely burned, and 5,000 persons were rendered homeless. The magnificent church, founded in the early days of the Reformation, fell a prey to the flames, as did also valuable paintings by Lucas Cranach and Albert Durer.

A telegram from Virginia City, Nevada, states that the stage from Hamilton for Pioche was robbed on Sunday night, near Hamilton, and the driver killed, by three men painted to give them the appearance of Indians, and having gunny sacks over their heads. The amount plundered is trifling. It is supposed the shot which killed the driver was fired accidentally by one of the robbers.

A fire broke out on Monday morning, the 28th ult., in Market Hall, Iowa City, occupied as apartments for families. Five people were buried under the falling walls, namely, W. P. Doty, Robert Love, F. Volkringer, Mr. Hart, and Geo. Andrews. Love died in half an hour. Andrews (colored) will not live. Hart is a law student, and cannot live. Other persons had limbs broken and were otherwise injured.

A dispatch from Lincoln, Neb., says the reports of the late snow storm show it to have been the most severe ever known there. Men were frozen to death within two rods of their homes, while trying to get to their stock to feed them. Near Grattan, a man named Keeler attempted to reach a neighbor scarcely half a mile away, accompanied by his wife and child, and the two latter were frozen to death. Mr. Marshall, of Hastings, perished while trying to reach his stock from the house. The wife and child of Mr. Brent, living near Red Cloud, were frozen while trying to reach a neighbor's, after their house had been rendered uninhabitable. Their bodies were found ten rods from the house. Families were compelled to take refuge in cellars, or keep their beds for three days. Houses were blown down and filled with snow. The destruction of cattle and horses was great; some farmers lost all they had. One man lost a whole herd of seventy-five head.

A rolling mill is to be established at Green Bay, Wis., at an early date.
More than 20,000 men find employment in the Nova Scotia fisheries.
The assassination of Canby, like that of Lincoln, occurred on Good Friday.
A loose tiger is roaming about Columbia county, Ga., devouring Cashmere eggs.
Mocking-birds are now a regular article of export from this country to Europe.
Two million screws can be produced daily by a manufactory in Cleveland, Ohio.
The season is approaching when drinking men, as well as drowning men, will catch at straws.
Colored linen is coming in vogue again among young ladies for collars and cuffs.
From fifteen to twenty ear-loads of ore are shipped daily from the Beaver mines, near Rolla, Mo.
A company of Englishmen are about to extend the system of narrow-gauge railroads in Colorado.
The Fort Dodge, Iowa, Plaster of Paris works are now manufacturing from fifty to one hundred barrels per day.
An epicurean has discovered that the pleasantest way to take cod liver oil is to fatten pigeons with it, and then eat the pigeons.
News from South Africa says that the finds at the diamond fields are gradually decreasing, and that the last rush proved a failure.
A Michigan man says he has discovered how to temper steel and even cast iron that it will cut glass like a diamond.

The late census of Fort Wayne, Indiana, makes the total population 23,700, showing an increase since the census of 1870 of over 5,000.

Probably the oldest soldier in the world on the active list is Field Marshal Wrangle of the Prussian army, who was commissioned a lieutenant in 1798.

It is proposed to substitute tea for brandy in the Russian army, and a committee of specialists are preparing a report upon the comparative merits of the two beverages.

The workmen engaged in digging the Oswego and Tualatin Canal, in Oregon, recently discovered a good quality of iron ore. The vein appears to be extensive.

Much anxiety is felt in Russia, regarding the destruction of forests, which threatens to deprive the country of one of the most valuable of its export products, wood for building purposes.

The lumbermen in Michigan are having all the water they want for rafting their logs down to the mills. The supply will be simply enormous, including, in many instances, the accumulation of the past two years.

A figurer has figured up that between going on a trip from New York to San Francisco and on a tour to Europe, going over the whole beaten track of the continent, the European trip is the cheapest by $73.

If you would have any idea of the ocean in a storm, just imagine 4,000 hills and 4,000 valleys in a state of intoxication, running over newly-plowed ground, with lots of caverns in it for them to step into now and then.

A fish three and a half feet long, with a slender eel-like body and a large head with a mouth like a crocodile, has been brought to San Francisco. The teeth are sharp and transparent, sloping backwards from the jaws. Immediately back of the head commences a large wing-like fin, about six inches high when erect, which runs the length of the back. The fish was found dead at Humboldt Bay, and is preserved in alcohol.

A remarkable engineering feat is now being accomplished in the crossing of the Andes by the Senia Oroya railroad. The mountain chain will be crossed at an altitude of 15,000 feet by a tunnel 3,000 feet in length. The grades are the steepest known on any ordinary railway. The workmen employed are Cholos Indians, the only operatives who can endure a prolonged period the rarified atmosphere at this great elevation.

FECUNDITY OF FISHES.—It is said that probably about 60,000,000 of 70,000,000 codfish are taken from the sea annually around the shores of Newfoundland. But even that quantity seems small when we consider that the cod yields something like 3,500,000 eggs each season, and that even 8,000,000 have been found in the roe of a single cod! Other fish, though not equaling the cod, are also wonderfully productive. A herring six or seven ounces in weight is provided with about 30,000 ova. After making all reasonable allowances for the destruction of eggs and of the young, it has been calculated that in three years a single pair of herrings would produce 154,000,000. Buffon said that if a pair of herrings were left to breed and multiply undisturbed for a period of twenty years, they would yield a fish bulky equal to the globe on which we live. The cod far surpasses the herring in fecundity. Were it not that vast numbers of the eggs are destroyed, fish would so multiply as to fill the waters completely.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, has derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. In venereal cases, it has been purified and cured by Scrophulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the mercurial continuation until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in a brief period. It is a most valuable medicine to be informed of its virtues or uses.
Scrophulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and malignant tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of embolism, fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and, on some favorable occasions, rapidly develop into one or other of the venereal, either on the surface or among the viscera, and invites the attack of embolism, fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence.

BRIEF MENTION.
Those heavy rains of last week, will stop farmers from plowing in some localities for at least a week.

The pastor of the M. E. Church, will preach next Sabbath evening upon "Intemperance as a Social Evil."

Last Monday was the first real warm, bright spring day of the season, and vegetation has come forward rapidly since that time.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Ira Cushman, left the village of Chelsea, on Tuesday last week for Minneapolis, Minnesota, to spend a few weeks. We speak for our friend a safe and pleasant journey.

There is so many buildings in course of erection in Chelsea, that masons, carpenters, and in fact every other branch of industry, cannot find sufficient help to do the labor that is in demand.

If the sidewalks in the neighborhood of our Union School, was in a little better fix, we would call the attention of the town fathers to the dilapidated and dangerous condition of the walks in other parts of the town.

PERSONAL.—We are glad to call attention to the card of Mr. H. E. Johnson, of Ann Arbor, who has lately come amongst us. Give him a good run, and we can then have a first-class barber shop here, as well as in other places.

We learn that the lecture, which was to have been delivered on last Sabbath evening at the Congregational Church—but was withdrawn on account of the Union Sabbath School Concert at the M. E. Church in the afternoon—will be delivered, (D. V.) next Sabbath evening.

Last Saturday was a lively day in Chelsea—Main street was crowded with teams and the stores full of people. We had a fire fight, in which several combatants joined in. Our Marshal went lively for them, and arrested one of the rebellious number and took him to Limbo and so ended the fight.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last, while Mr. Wm. Arnold, a tinsmith, belonging to the hardware establishment of B. J. Billings, Jr., was pulling up a stove from the ground to the second story in rear of the building, by a pulley and rope—the look got disengaged from the stove—throwing Mr. Arnold off his balance, and tumbling him and the stove into the cellar below, a distance of about twenty feet, bruising him severely about the head and back.

The Milwaukee Monthly for May, with its choice literature and Beautiful Illustrations, proves that even what we regarded as perfect in every respect can be made still more perfect, and also demonstrates the fact that our periodical literature is rapidly progressing, and that the west has now one of the best, original Magazines published. Send a Stamp for sample copy to T. J. Gilmore, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The spring has been cold and backward, and farmers are badly behind with their work. Oats are not all sowed yet, and there is but very little ground plowed for corn. The heavy rains lately will make corn planting later than usual this year.

Winter wheat, as a general rule, looks well, except in some localities where it is winter-killed, although there are a great many poor pieces in the county, as is always the case, which is mainly owing to poor farming instead of the soil.

The Union Sunday-school concert at the M. E. Church, was really an enjoyable entertainment. The three churches met for the first time, in an effort of this kind. It was really pleasant to see the three pastors, greet one another so kindly and brotherly. Future union concerts are contemplated.

What is it proposed to have a Union Service every Sabbath evening. We hope this will prevail. There are just about enough in attendance at the three churches Sabbath evenings, to make one good congregation.

A WIFE'S COMMANDMENTS.—Thou shalt have no other wife but me, nor shalt thou in thy sleep dream of other women.

Thou shalt not take unto thy house any beautiful, sly, brazen image of a servant girl to make love to when my back is turned, for I am a jealous wife.

Honor thy wife's father and mother—wear a smile when they meet thee.

Thou shalt not be drinking thy neighbor, but outline him in blessing thy wife and babies.

Thou shalt let thy wife have the last word in every row.

Thou shalt not get drunk, or go to bed with thy boots on.

Thou shalt not say nice words to other ladies in my presence, nor praise them in my privacy—remember I am a jealous wife.

Thou shalt not stay out after nine o'clock at night, nor snore at my side, nor kick in thy sleep.

Remember, oh thou Benedict, these commandments and keep them holy, for they are the law and gospel.

BIRTH.
May 1st, 1873, a son, an heir of Rev. W. B. and ANNIE B. HOLT.
A life has just begun—Another soul has won—The glorious spark of being, Pilgrim of life, All hail!

MARRIED.

THE Colossus of the Wonder World.
It has scarcely ever before been our good fortune to have the gratification of announcing to our readers the welcome news of the appearance of Robbins & Co's Great Moral Museum, Circus and Menagerie in this place. This monster establishment, without doubt, as the heading of an article names it, the Colossus of the Wonder World, presenting, as it does, the startling feature of five different and distinct shows in one—Museum, Aviary, Menagerie, Hippodrome and Double Circus—in separate pavilions, and all for a single price of admission, the same as in a single piece of admission, the same as in a single piece of admission, the same as in a single piece of admission.

Parents should also bring their children to see the wonders of the Museum, Aviary and Menagerie, as it has been practically demonstrated in the past few years that object lessons are the most successful in teaching the young. These departments may be visited without attending the performances in the Hippodrome and Circus pavilions. These exhibitions we notice, however, by our exchanges, are so conducted as not to offend the most refined, moral and religious tastes. This grand world's exposition will spread their canvass in this place on Wednesday, the 21st day of May, 1873.

An Amusing Scene.
Yesterday as the ship Ptarmigan, direct from Alexandria, Egypt, was discharging her cargo, rather an amusing scene occurred. As near as your reporter could find out, the facts in connection with it were as follows: It appears that in a large plank box was confined an Nileotic Crocodile for Robbins & Co's Menagerie, captured on the banks of the river Nile, about two English miles below the ancient city of Thebes by means of a hawser made into a noose and baited with a young calf, his captors being a party of natives in the employ of one of Robbins & Co's agents, who is actively engaged in securing rare excerpts of the animal kingdom in that benighted country. But to resume our narrative, by being jostled about in his narrow prison in a manner in which he was not accustomed to, his lordship became infuriated, and, lashing his ponderous tail against the sides of the box, succeeded in effecting his escape just as he was landed on the dock. Now began a scattering amongst the crowd—which had congregated on learning of what was going on—and his royal highness started along the dock, thrashing his caudal extremity at a fearful rate; only one hapless wight, however, was struck and that a German roustabout by the name of Stein, who was sent whizzing off the dock into the water, and would certainly have been drowned had not assistance been promptly rendered. The Crocodile was at last secured, before doing further damage, by his keeper who had accompanied him on his long journey.—N. Y. Sun.

The Crocodile is now confined in a large firmly secured den, with iron bars, made especially for his accommodation, thereby preventing a repetition of the above.

A. F. Aymar.
The great grotesque trick Clown and Jester, who has achieved as much popularity as any one in his profession, is one of the adjuncts of Messrs. Robbins & Co's Great World's Exposition. He dare not be as funny as he can be for fear of the consequences on the audience. Mr. Aymar will form one of the many attractions during the current season.

Unclaimed Letters.
LIST of Letters remaining in the Post Office, at Chelsea, May 1, 1873.
Bezzo, Emma Miss Britton, Harriet Mrs. Cameron, Allen Fisher, John McReynolds, Messrs. Rogers, Henry L. & Co. Wood, Stowell & Co. Wilkinson, Andrew Zinke, Emil Mrs. Whitaker Wm & Jo.
Persons calling for any of the above letters, please say advertised.
Geo. J. CROWELL, P. M.

RECIPE FOR DIARRHOEIA.—This is the season when the above distressing and often fatal complaint is widely prevalent, and we publish a recipe, which is said by those who have tried it to be a certain and sure specific: Put in a large pitcher two tablespoonfuls of carbonate of soda and four of sugar; pour on these a pint of hot water; when they are perfectly dissolved add half a pint of cold water; then put in a tablespoonful of pulverized Turkey rhubarb, or two ounces of the tincture; a small teaspoonful of ladanum; eight drops of the oil of pepper; and lastly, half a pint of good French brandy. Bottle up carefully, and administer to the patient in doses equal to half a wine glass full three times a day. In extreme cases, accompanied by griping pains, double the portion of brandy and ladanum, and use freely. Give it a fair trial. No family should be without it.

Now is the time to subscribe for the HERALD, the best family reading paper in the west. Only $1.50 per year.

I have been a dyspeptic for years; began to use the Simon's Liver Regulator two years ago; it has acted like a charm in my case. REV. J. C. HOLMES, Clayton, Ala.

D. 1871, and recorded in the office of Register of Deeds, for the county of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, in Liber 45 of mortgages, on page 104, and duly assigned by said John Van Gennip to Peter Gorman, Sr., on the third day of April, A. D. 1873; and which assignment was recorded in said Register's office, for the county of the 9th day of April, A. D. 1873, in Liber 3 of assignments of mortgages, on page 88; by which default the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, the sum of twelve hundred and seventeen dollars and thirty-five cents, and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the amount due on said mortgage, or any part thereof, Notice is therefore hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, I shall sell at public auction at the south front door of the Court House in the city of Ann Arbor, (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said county of Washtenaw) on Friday the 11th day of July next, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the following property described in said mortgage, viz: The north part of the north-east fractional quarter of section number fifteen, containing seventy-nine acres of land, more or less; also, the north half of the east fractional half of the north-west fractional quarter of said section fifteen; also, the land lying next north of a certain creek, running nearly from east to west, which is the boundary of the south of said land, containing forty acres of land, excepting a certain piece in west lot, lying north of a certain out-let, running from Eagle lake to South Lake, containing about four acres, more or less, all in township one, south of Range three east, county of Washtenaw and State of Michigan.
Dated April 10th, 1873.
PAYSON GORMAN, Sr., Assignee.

Mortgage Sale.
DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Laura Bates to Chandler A. Barber, on the twenty-second day of January, A. D. 1870, and recorded in the office of Register of Deeds for Washtenaw county and State of Michigan, in Liber 43 of mortgages, on page 154, on the 24th day of January, 1870. And the power of sale therein contained having become operative by reason of said default; and said mortgage containing a special clause, providing that in case any payment of interest falling due on said mortgage, should remain unpaid for the space of thirty days, then the principal and all arrears of interest should at the option of the obligee, become immediately due and payable. And default having been made in the payment of interest due on said mortgage, and said interest being due, and no payment thereof having been made; and said obligee or mortgagee having elected that by reason of said non-payment of interest as aforesaid, the whole amount secured by said mortgage is now due and payable. Therefore, there is now claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of nine hundred and forty-four dollars and twenty-eight cents; and also, an attorney fee of one hundred dollars, as also provided for in said mortgage; and no suit or proceeding at law being instituted at law to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof. Notice is therefore hereby given, that on Saturday, the fifth day of July, A. D. 1873, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the south front door of the Court House, in the city of Ann Arbor, (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said county of Washtenaw), there will be sold at public auction or vendue, to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage, with the interests, costs, charges and expenses allowed by law, and provided for in said mortgage; that is to say all those certain pieces of parcels of land, known and described as follows, viz: The west half of the north-east quarter, and the east half of the north-west quarter of section number eight, township number one, south of Range number four east, county of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan. Dated April 15th, 1873.
