How Money is Made by Farming.

Much labor is done on farms that is not farming in its true sense. By such labor no money is ever made. A man may support himself and his family, keep out of debt, and have a few dollars in his pocket by practicing the most stringent economy. If he is otherwise than industrious and sober, he is on the down grade, with loose brakes, and the end is not reached. But farming in its true sense is a profession equal in dignity to that of law or medicine, and needs study, mental capacity, and intelligently directed labor to command success in it. The principle which underlies the practice of the true farmer must be well understood and a steady, consistent course of operations must be followed. Having thoroughly learned the nature and capacity of the soil he possesses and chosen the rotation most suitable, and the stock to be most profitably fixed upon it, he does not swerve from his chosen course, but in good markets and bad raises his regular crops, and keeps his land in regular increasing fertility. No special cry tempts or frightens him. He does not talk dairy this season or crops the next; but doubtless, if any particular product be in demand and brings a good price, he has some of it to sell, and reaps his share of the advantage. He saves as much money as some men make, by care and economy, purchasing and preserving tools, seeds, manure, and machines; and his business habits and constant readiness for all occasions give him reasonable security against the effects of adverse seasons and bad weather. Always prepared, he is never too soon, and thus, "taking time by the forelock," he has the stern old tyrant at his command, and turns him at his will. He has no losses, and his gains are steady.

Volcanic Eruptions.

In the year 1750, during an eruption of the volcano Jombie, in Mexico, a mass of lava five hundred feet thick was thrown up, and sixty-eight years after was found smoking and sufficiently hot to light a cigar. In 1783, two streams of lava, one fifty miles long, and the other seven miles broad by forty miles long, and varying in depth from one hundred to six hundred feet, were thrown up by a volcano in Iceland. This mass would cover the city of New York with a mountain rivaling in height the peak of Teneriffe, which is a little over twelve thousand feet high. In 1681, a putrid fever prevailed at Itawa, in South America, from the dead fish thrown up by the volcano of Inaburnum. A. D. 473, 473, ashes from Vesuvius fell in Constantinople, Syria and Egypt. In 1815 the sun was observed and the streets and houses in Java strewn with ashes from Tomboro in Sambawa, a distance of three hundred miles. They were also found floating in the ocean more than one thousand miles distant, forming a stratum two feet thick and almost impassable by ships. It was not a stream of lava from Vesuvius, but simply its ashes, that buried the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum. And this same volcano in 1779 threw jets of lava a perpendicular distance of ten thousand feet. During an eruption of Cotopaxi, a block of stone weighing more than two hundred tons was thrown a distance of nine miles.

GIVE THE GIRL'S STRENGTH.

The Independent, remarking the fact that not one woman was saved on the ill-fated steamer Atlantic, although many had the same chance of life, as the men, observes: "The strength of women at the crisis of their life depends on their physical culture while children. Let parents be no more ashamed of their girl's brown faces and fists than of their boys. Let them be clothed so they can run and climb and care for and protect themselves. Let them be taken with their brothers into the harvest field. A boy is not ashamed of work no more should be a girl. The refinement that shuts a girl out of God's sunshine, and allows her no rougher work in doors than to embroider worsteds or tap ivory keys, or dust marble mantels, is refining her off of the earth to give place to the daughters of the servants in the kitchen."

Our Chip Basket.

In regard to the dance held for the benefit of the Nixon, the condemned murderer, the Danbury News says: "There is but one more sad office for the mourning friends to perform—raffle off the body."

A Georgia internal revenue collector has decided that every farmer who serves out rations of tobacco among other supplies to his hands, must pay for a license as a retail dealer if he take any quo pro quid.

The existence of a new association of French Carbonari has been brought to light. It is spread over France, particularly in the departments of the Ardèche and the Drome, and has already 100,000 members.

Agassiz points out that hydrophobia results only from blood poisoning, and that therefore one may dine off the flesh of a mad dog and not be affected by the disease. Still for his part he prefers mutton chops.

The other day the Detroit (Mich.) Post contained a little item to the effect that two orphan girls were at the station house, homeless and penniless, and before noon thirteen different persons had called and offered to adopt them.

Mark Twain, a few months after his first baby was born, was holding it on his knee. His wife said, "Now confess, Samuel, that you love the child!" "I can't do that," replied the humorist, "but I am willing to admit I respect the little thing for its father's sake."

A Vermont man has a sample of bread in his possession which he picked up on the Plattsburgh battlefield in 1814, and which formed a part of the rations left behind by the British troops. It is quite stale.

A commendably neat Massachusetts man, having occasion to cut his throat recently, considerably went out on the back piazza with a pall, over which he held his head during the operation, in order to avoid making a muss.

A little boy in a neighboring city, after his customary evening prayer a few nights ago, continued, "Bless mamma and Jenny and Uncle Benny," adding, after a moment's pause, the explanatory remark, "His name is Hutchinson."

A cruel carrier-pigeon "amateur" condemned one of his pets to convey to his country seat the following laconic passage:—"Send basket of early green peas by express train; pack the bearer of this in with them, as he is plump and I intend to eat him with them!"

The owner of a tenement house informed his tenants the other day that he was going to raise their rent all around, whereupon they held a meeting and passed a resolution of thanks to the landlord for promising to raise their rent, as the times were hard and they feared that without assistance it could not be raised at all.

An elderly man of a neighboring village, says he always get mad when he goes along the principal street of the place, about nine o'clock in the evening, and passing a shady porch where a young man is bidding his beloved a good-night, hears the girl exclaim, in a loud whisper, "Oh, stop, George! you haven't shaved."

A New York alderman once called upon Dr. Francis, and said, "Doctor, I have a strong tendency to gout; what shall I do to arrest it?" "Take a bucket of water and a ton of anathracite three times a week," "How?" "Drink the former and carry the latter up three pairs of stairs." A good remedy.

The lumber product of Wisconsin the present year will be enormous. The Spring freshet has been sweeping and greater than for several years. Logs cut two years ago, and which have lain on the banks of the streams awaiting a rise of water to float them off have been brought down to the mills, furnishing an amount to the Southern and Western markets which they have not seen in years.

One of the curiosities of the Vienna Exhibition will be a watch made entirely of rock crystal. Many years since a workman in a French manufactory decided to make a watch, every part of which, the mainspring alone excepted, should be of rock crystal, and after thirty years' labor accomplished his task. All the pieces of the watch are fastened by rock crystal screws, and the escapement is most intricate. It is valued at $2,000.

The Danbury, Conn., News says of a citizen who has recently been made a father, that he enjoys the heir hugely. Being of a social turn he attends many parties, and on his departure places the sweet cherub in bed. On his return he gets into the place warmed by the darling, and puts the darling at the foot of the bed where he can keep his feet on it. He says a cold room is the healthiest to sleep in, and that a register is not only a folly but a positive injury.

Every family should have a screw-driver. The borrowed screw-driver hasn't got any handle to it; and if it has, it is split. The blade is too blunt for the screw, and one corner is gone. It slips and sticks into your thumb, and breaks the screw in two, and throws you off your feet, and then it gets lost, and the owner comes around for it, and swears it was nearly new, and valued mostly on account of its associations, and he wouldn't have had it lost for ten times its value in solid gold. You had better buy a new screw-driver at once.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has any thing been so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. It is a uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease, and to young children, it is at the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the lungs and throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear. Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses. So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish the certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that its qualities are fully maintained.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chills, Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it is in no wise injurious to any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of Ague medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgment we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily. For Liver Complaints, acting on the torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

For Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints, it is an excellent remedy, producing many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Practical and Analytical Chemists, Lowell, Mass., and sold all round the world.

OUR NATIONS INDEPENDENCE.

—In our last issue, we mentioned about celebrating the Fourth of July. Are the citizens of Chelsea in for patriotism? If so, let some of our popular men get up a long sheet of blank paper, and go around with a patriotic feeling, that means business. We think $300 to $500 can be raised. Who will take a hold?

Church, in this village, is boasting of having had new potatoes for breakfast last Monday, and has yet a reserve for the anniversary of his birth. They were grown in the south-of-his property. Who can beat this?

An intoxicated Chelsea man saw two cars passing him the other evening at the depot, with red and blue lights in the front and rear. His fuddled brain comprehended colored lights, and he was heard to say to himself: "Must be pretty sick—sickly here; they are running drug-stores around on wice-wheels."

A young gentleman in Chelsea, having paid his addresses to a young lady for some time, popped the question. The lady, in a frightened manner, said, "You scare me, sir." The gentleman did not wish to frighten the lady, and consequently remained quiet for some time, when she exclaimed, "scare me again."

Within the past three weeks thirteen newspaper offices about the State have been presented with "the big egg" the sizes varying from eight to thirteen inches in circumference. So says the Detroit Post. But now we must chronicle that the CHELSEA HERALD makes the fourteenth. We were presented with a big egg measuring eight inches in circumference, by Charles Tichenor, on Friday last.

Our Village Improvements.

Martin McKune, our Street Commls sloner, is making our streets look fine.
John Taylor has commenced to erect a large brick upright to his kitchen.
Edward McNamara has been beautifying his residence, by painting, etc.
B. J. Billings, Jr., has overhauled his residence from cellar to attic, in the shape of painting, papering, etc.
S. J. Chase has moved his barn a few rods to the rear.
A. Burkhart has overhauled his residence by the way of painting, window-blinding, fencing, etc. It looks gay.
Byron Wight has been making his residence look clean and tasteful, in the shape of painting, etc.
Thos. H. Godfrey has raised his house in the hollow, to seven feet above ground, and intends to have a cellar on terra firma.
And last, but not least of all, is the ERROR's residence. It has been elevated to a height of three feet above the level of the sea—and it took five Jacks and four John's to raise it. How is that for high?

MAKING CHARACTER.—Many people seem to forget that character grows; that it is not something to be put on, ready-made, with manhood or womanhood; but, day by day, here a little and there a little grows with the growth and strengthens with the strength, until, good or bad, it becomes almost a coat of mail. Look at a model man of business—prompt, reliable, conscientious, cool and cautious, yet clear-headed and energetic. When do you suppose he developed all these admirable qualities? When was a boy. Let us see the way in which a boy of ten years gets up in the morning, works, plays, studies, and we will tell you just about what kind of a man he will make. The boy that is late at the breakfast table, late at school, who never does anything at the right time, stands a poor chance to be a prompt man. The boy who half washes his face, half does his chores, half learns his lessons will never make a thorough man. The boy who neglects his duties, be they ever so small, and then excuses himself by saying, "O, I forgot! I didn't think I!" will never be a reliable man. And the boy who finds pleasure in the pain and suffering of weaker things, will never be a noble, generous, kindly man, a gentleman.

A Chelsea miss, newly installed as the wife of a farmer, was one day called upon by a neighbor of the same profession, who, in the absence of her husband, asked her for the loan of his plow for a short time. "I am sure you would be accommodated," was the reply, "if Mr. — was only at home. I do not know, though, where he keeps his plow; but," she added, evidently zealous to serve, "there is the cart in the yard; couldn't you plough with that till Mr. — gets back?"

This is no apology for whisky drinking; it is a medicine that cannot be used to intoxicate; it produces a tonic effect, as well as acts as a cathartic. In fact Simmons' Liver Regulator is pronounced an unexceptionable medicine.

All people would undoubtedly prefer a fine head of hair grown upon their own heads, to being bald, or wearing false hair, and it has been the study of many of our learned men to find a remedy to restore the hair when it has fallen out, and renew its color after it has become gray. Such a remedy has been found and is now offered to the world under the name of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer; and, to verify this statement, read the following:

This is to certify that I was very bald; in fact, my head was perfectly smooth, and it is common in my family to grow bald early in life. I have now used four bottles of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer; and the hair has grown out all over my head, and is now a natural brown.

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the condition of a certain mortgage, executed by Laura Bates to Chandler Dunsen, on the twenty-second day of January, A. D. 1870, and recorded in the office of Register of Deeds for Washtenaw county and State of Michigan, in Liber 43 of mortgages, on page 154, on the 24th day of January, 1870. And the power of sale therein contained having become operative by reason of said default; and said mortgage containing a special interest clause, providing that in case any payment of interest falling due on said mortgage, should remain unpaid for the space of thirty days, then the principal and all arrears of interest should at the option of the obligee, be immediately due and payable. And default having been made in the payment of interest due on said mortgage, and said interest now remaining due and unpaid more than thirty days, and said obligee or mortgagee having elected that by reason of said non-payment of interest as aforesaid, the whole amount secured by said mortgage be now due and payable. Therefore, there is now claimed to be due on said mortgage, the date of this notice, the sum of nine hundred and forty-four dollars and twenty-eight cents; and also, an attorney fee of one hundred dollars, as also provided for in said mortgage; and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.
