How the Spider Spins His Web.

Most people have too great antipathy to spiders to spend even a few minutes in watching them. But we must confess that we rather cultivate their acquaintance, as they catch and devour our enemies, the flies. The spinning apparatus of a spider is very curious. On the under part of the body are several small prominences covered with many hundreds of small holes, through which exudes a gummy substance which hardens on exposure to the air. Thus each little hole produces a thread of inconceivable fineness; and when these many threads are joined together, they form what we see as a single thread. When a spider wishes to form a web, if he belongs to the race of geometrical spiders, which build a wheel-shaped web, he collects some convenient place, and proceeds to lay the foundation by attaching the spokes of his wheels to proper objects; he then commences at the centre formed by the crossing of these lines and travels round and round, spinning his web, employing his feelers for guides as to distance. He always uses the outer web as a pathway, and every time he crosses one of the spokes he attaches one of his lines to it. When he has finished, he takes his position at the centre, head downward, and waits for the unlucky insect which he is sure will soon happen along. As soon as he perceives that some awkward fly has run against his delicate framework, he bounces out on him and quickly ties him fast hand and foot, so that he may devour him at leisure. But it is not alone for laying traps and tying fast his unlucky victims that the spider uses his web. If he wants to cross from one tree to another, as from one side of a stream to the opposite, he uses the web for a bridge. This he constructs by taking a favorable position and then spinning a web, which he lets float in the wind. As soon as it strikes some object to which it adheres, he pulls it, to see that it is secure, and then crosses on this single line. This is an achievement in engineering that far surpasses the suspension bridges built by human skill. Here is a bridge, oftentimes from fifty to one hundred feet long, spanned by so insignificant an insect that we may have some trouble to find him, yet strong enough to bear his weight safely. When a spider wishes to descend from an elevation, he attaches the end of his web to some object and then boldly launches off spinning as he goes. When he gets down, he cuts the line and leaves it, unless he wishes to return immediately, in which case he coils it up and takes it along as he ascends.

THE CRUELITIES OF SEAL HUNTING.—In a letter to the London Times, Mr. Frank Buckland gives a shocking account of the cruelties perpetrated by seal-hunters. Selecting the third week in March, when the baby seals are just born, the hunter chooses a place where a number of young seals are lying, and harpoon the mothers directly they come to nurse them. "It is horrible," says Mr. Buckland, "to see the young ones trying to suck the carcasses of their mothers, their eyes starting out of their sockets, looking the very picture of famine. They crawl over and over them until quite red with blood, poking them with their noses, no doubt wondering why they are not getting their usual food, uttering painful cries the while. The noise they make is something dreadful. If one could imagine himself surrounded by four or five hundred thousand human babies, all crying at the pitch of their voices, he would have some idea of it. Their cry is very much like an infant's. These motherless seals collect into lots of five or six, and crawl about the ice, their heads fast becoming the biggest part of their bodies, searching to find the nourishment they stand so much in want of."

"Bob, is your sister at home?"
"Yes; but she won't see you to-night."
"Why?"
"Because she said she was going to have one more plate of onions if she never got another bean."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.
A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Paled or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a BRIEF MENTION.

To Subscribers.—On and after July 1st, 1873, all subscribers receiving the Chelsea HERALD at the Chelsea Post-office, will take notice to the above date, and call up at the printing office for their papers. Owing to the new postal law, we are compelled to adopt this system.

N. B.—There will be quite a number we presume, that will not understand the above "Subscribers Notice." The new Postal Law requires five cents a quarter, or twenty cents per year, for all bona fide subscribers, receiving their papers through the mails, (home or foreign). This will save the subscribers (who receive their papers at our village Post-office), twenty cents per year. We have erected a young Post-office of our own, and invite all of our home subscribers to call and see us, on and after the above date.

A temperance author wrote, "drunkenness is folly," and the printer made him say "drunkenness is jolly."

Among the latest novelties is an ironing glove to protect the hand from heat when ironing. The underpart is composed of several thicknesses of flannel.

Sheriff Fleming has a new boarder: his name is — O'Brien, and he is charged with breaking into the dwelling of Norman Pomerooy, of Sharon. — Ann Arbor Argus.

PERSONAL.—Miss Olive Conklin, of Sylvan, left Chelsea last Friday evening, on an eastern tour, for the benefit of her health, and will remain in the east during the summer months.

A lady's waterfall fell out of a farm, house window, not ten miles from Chelsea, the other day, and next morning it was found that a hen had taken possession and laid two eggs in it.

Ennon.—In our last issue, we mentioned in the double marriage notice in our local column—daughter of James Gorman. It ought to have read daughter of Peter Gorman Pomerooy, of Sharon. — Ann Arbor Argus.

The Union societies of the three churches, in our village, are a complete success. Thus far, there have been full houses. The meeting next Sabbath evening will be at the Baptist Church.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Isaac Taylor, arrived in Chelsea, on Wednesday last week, from Europe, after an absence of three months, looking hale and hearty, and has somewhat the appearance of coming from a tropical climate.

Henry Goodyear, of Sharon, was before Justice Beahan on Wednesday, charged with procuring J. J. Robinson's endorsement of a note by false representations with intent to defraud. He was held for trial. — Ann Arbor Argus.

The M. E. Church, of Waterloo, Jackson county, Mich., will be dedicated June 20th, 1873. Dr. Geo. B. Jocelyn will preach at 10 1/2 o'clock A. M., and the Rev. Samuel Clements in the evening. An invitation is extended to all.

J. W. CAMPBELL, Pastor.

A liquid glue, far superior to mucilage, may be made by dissolving glue in an equal quantity of strong hot vinegar, adding a fourth of alcohol and a little alum. This will keep any length of time when placed in closed bottles, and will glue to, gether wood, mother of pearl, etc.

There will be a Strawberry Festival at the M. E. Church, (on the green), in Sylvan, on Thursday, June 20th, 1873. The proceeds to go towards the payment of their church organ. A general invitation is extended to all.

By ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

"I wish I had your head," said a Chelsea lady the other day to a gentleman who had solved for her a knotty point. "And I wish I had your heart," was his reply. "Well," said she, "since your head and my heart can agree, I don't see why they should not go into partnership." And they did.

To SUBSCRIBERS.—We wish to impress upon the minds of those subscribers that are in arrears, to come forward and settle the same. The Fourth of July is near at hand, and money will be somewhat plenty. The printer wants a little money to spend, and be like his neighbors in Holiday times. Pay him a visit.

WOOL.—There has been no new wool in market yet. From all we can learn, we are inclined to think the market will open at about forty cents. Farmers will be slow sellers at those figures, as they cannot see any good reason why wool under the present tariff should be so low. And who will say that it is not singular that, after the great destruction of wool by the Boston fire, it should be so low now. — Ann Arbor Courier.

The Horse Association of Chelsea, hold their First Annual Meeting on their race course in this village, July 4th, 1873. Races to commence at two o'clock P. M., so that it will not interfere with any of the exercises of the celebration on that day. The Association have offered liberal premiums, and they propose to make it interesting to all. See large bills.

Do YOU APPRECIATE?—Passing by our beautiful Union School building, and observing its many conveniences, memory carried us to an old, dilapidated building, with dreary and uncomfortable walls, through the clinks and crannies of which the winter wind sighed, and moaned, and whistled, and mocked at the old cracked and rusty stove in its vain efforts to heat the apartment! How the dashing rain would pour through the leaky roof, and those benches, formed from inverted sails, without backs, on which tired scholars sat and wilted the weary hours away, o'er Webster's Spelling-Book, the English Reader, Hale's History of the United States, Smith's, Davies', or some more antiquated Arithmetic, or Kirkham's Grammar. As Memory drew back the misty veil of the past, and the picture hung in bold relief before us, we thought—do the scholars in this commodious building before us, appreciate their many privileges and advantages? We hope they do. And when they pass out to engage in the Battle of Life, will they not look back with gratitude and pleasure to the labors in their behalf bestowed by their kind Teacher of the Grammar Department, Miss Louise A. Dickinson, her assistants, and the efficient School?

There was a lively time for a few minutes in front of the Court House last Wednesday. The facts were these. A lady requested a certain attorney to go to the justice's office immediately and attend a lawsuit for her. The lawyer answered that he was very busy and could not go. She insisted upon knowing the reason, when he declined to go unless his fees were paid in advance. Whereupon she said she had a habeas corpus for him, and she would see if he would not go. She then drew a pistol and fired at his feet. He and some of his brother attorneys immediately expressed their willingness to go if she would stop firing. We have not heard whether she won her case or not. — Ann Arbor Courier.

A disappointed Yankee tourist writes home from the Rhine: "Take the Upper Mississippi, or even the Hudson river, place upon their bluffs the ruins, put a little historical truth and an immense amount of romantic fiction upon each little headland, have a few men write eulogiums upon them, and the 'winding Rhine' will be wound up forever."

ADVERTISING PATRONAGE.—In a general sense, the effort on the part of any merchant to get trade without advertising is a wrong to other business men in the place. Whether a man believe in advertising or not, he will admit that the newspapers are a very great help to the place, and that business amounts to very little in places that don't support one or more of them. Absence of newspapers is a bad sign for a place, in a business point of view, as absence of churches is in morals, of school houses in education. The men who support the village paper do more to build up the place, and make it prosperous, and draw trade there, than all other influences combined. Therefore, the man who tries to come in and take the benefits of that prosperity without contributing to sustain it, tries to "dead head" on the rest of the business men, and does them wrong.

MARRIED.

At Ann Arbor, on Wednesday, June 11, 1873, by the Rev. Mr. Shier, of the same city, Mr. H. L. Wood, of Chelsea, to Miss ADA DANCER, of Lima.

Smiles and kisses were lavished on the newly married pair, and many tender greetings gave them joyous welcome to the honors and joys of conjugal felicity. May their cup of pleasure ever be full.

Mr. Jesse Shaffer, of that first-class wheat town, Lyndon, was in our office on Wednesday. He says that there are but very few pieces of good wheat in that town. He thinks there will not be over half a crop this year. He also says they have planted their corn over two or three times, and the prospect looks bad for the corn crop. — Ann Arbor Courier.

DEFAULT having been made in the condition of a certain mortgage executed by Laura Bates to Charles Dinning, on the twenty-second day of January, A. D. 1870, and recorded in the office of Register of Deeds for Washtenaw county and State of Michigan, in Liber 43 of mortgages, on page 154, on the 24th day of January, 1870. And the power of sale therein contained having become operative by reason of said default, and said mortgage containing a special interest clause, providing that in case of any payment of interest falling due on said mortgage, should remain unpaid for the space of thirty days, then the principal and all arrears of interest should at the option of the obligee, become immediately due and payable. And default having been made in the payment of interest due on said mortgage, and said interest now remaining due and unpaid more than thirty days, and said obligee or mortgagee having elected that by reason of said non-payment of interest as aforesaid, the whole amount secured by said mortgage is now due and payable. Therefore, there is now claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of nine hundred and forty-four dollars and twenty-eight cents; and also, an attorney fee of one hundred dollars, as also provided for in said mortgage; and no suit or proceedings having been instituted at law to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof. Notice is therefore hereby given, that on Saturday, the fifth day of July, A. D. 1873, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the south front door of the Court House, in the city of Ann Arbor, (that being the place of holding the Circuit Court for said county of Washtenaw), there will be sold at public auction or vendue, to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage, with the interests, costs, charges and expenses allowed by law, and provided for in said mortgage; that is to say all those certain pieces or parcels of land known and described as follows, viz: The west half of the north-east quarter, and the east half of the north-west quarter of section number eight, township number one, south of Range number four east, county of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan.

Dated April 1st, 1873.

The Great Chill Cure!

The king of terrors, the Effluvia Miasmatic or malarial poison, so long on its victorious march throughout the fairest portions of our country, has at last succumbed and found its master; and after many a hard fought battle in the racked and fever-parched bodies of men, women and children, now trails its dark banner in the dust before the use of Dr. Willhoff's Great Anti-Periodic, the most reliable, safe and speedy cure known for Chills and Fever, Congestive Chills, Billious Fever, and all other diseases of kindred nature.

Every family should have it, because it is a family medicine; every family should use it because it is as safe for children as for adults; and every family should buy it, because it is cheap compared with all other chill mixtures "in big bottles," that contain perhaps more water than medicine, and which if not dangerous are as worthless for good as for evil.

The Celebrated Argyle Bitters, made of true Calisaya bark and pure old Bourbon, are the safest, most pleasant and most refreshing Bitters now known, and have stood the test for twenty years.
