London Dog Stealing.

A celebrated painter of animals in London had painted the portrait of a splendid Newfoundland dog, but he strayed or was stolen as he was returning from his last sitting. His owner was inconsolable; but knowing the distinguished artist's large and intimate acquaintance with persons who confidently concern themselves with other people's dogs, repaired to him for advice, and authorized him to offer ten pounds reward for the recovery of his missing favorite.

The artist soon put himself in communication with one of his dog fanciers, who asked him what kind of a dog it was.

"Why," says he, "look here; this is his picture. Should you know him again?"

The fellow gazed at the vividly faithful representation for a minute or two intently, and then said:

"I think I've got him now; I shall know him if I see him. But what's the reward?"

"Ten pounds."

"Wery 'ansome indeed, and worth a little trouble, but such a prime hanimal as that 'ere will cost a great deal of trouble to get hold on, such uncommon care is taken on 'em by them as has got 'em. Hows'er I'll do my best."

A month elapsed without tidings of the missing ten-pounder, but at length, in the dusk of the evening, the artist was summoned into his painting room, and there found his confidential agent.

"Well, Bill," quoth the former, "any news about the dog? I have given it up!"

"Oh, no, don't, sir," was the reply, with a wink. "I do really believe I've got him at last. But is the tip all safe still, and no mistake?"

"Ay—have it any way you like."

"It ain't a check?" asked his astute companion.

"No; a ten-pound note, two fives, or sovereigns."

"Well, sir, where that word's said by a gent, there's an end of everything, so the dog will be here in half an hour's time, and a pretty time I have had to find him."

Half an hour's lapse saw this little stroke of business complete, and the dog and the cash exchanged.

"Well, now, my man," said the artist, "it's all over; and though I said I wouldn't ask you any questions, I can't help it, merely out of curiosity. Give me your word of honor I have no other motive, and will take no steps at all in consequence of what you may tell me. Did I ever deceive you?"

"No, sir, you never did."

"Well, do you know who stole him?"

"Quite sure you won't do nothing if I tell you?"

"Honor, honor!"

"Well, sir, I was the chap as prigged him."

"You!" echoed the great artist, with expanded eyes, uplifted hands, and a great start.

"Yes, me, sir. I took'd the dog, and no mistake!"

"Whew! Well, but now I'm curious still to know why you chose to be so long out of your money—your ten pounds? Why not have brought him back in a few days, and got your ten pounds at once?"

"Cos, sir, you see, I sold 'em to another party for seven pounds, who took such a liking to the creature that I hadn't the heart to steal 'em from him until he'd had a week or two's comfort out of 'em; but as soon as he had, I know'd how to prig the dog. I as could do it once, could do it twice, and now you've got what you want; but it certainly sounds curious, don't it?"

"Why, you consummate scamp," quoth the artist, almost splitting with laughter, "you've got seventeen pounds out of that dog!"

"Yes, sir, that's the figure, exact," replied the stolid man of dogs.

"Well, but you impudent vagabond, if you could prig a dog, as you say, once and twice, you may thrice."

"Well, sir, so I may; but this here dog will be looked after unknimom close now, and I shan't run no risk."

Besides, 'honor among thieves,' yer know!" And with a wise look the fellow departed.

Wonders of the Grave.

The tomb of Edward the First, who died in 1307, was opened January 2, 1770, after 463 years had elapsed. His body was almost perfect. Canute (the Dane), who had crossed over to England in 1017, was found in 1776 by the workmen who repaired Winchester Cathedral, where his body had reposed nearly 750 years, perfectly fresh. In 1576, three Roman soldiers, fully equipped with warlike implements, were dug out of a bed of peat in Ireland, where they had lain probably 1,500 years. Their bodies were perfectly fresh and plump. In the reign of James II. of England, after the fall of the church at Assley, in Warwickshire, there was taken up the corpse of Thomas Gray, Marquis of Dorset, who was buried there the 10th of October, 1530, in the 22d year of Henry VIII.; and although it had lain there 78 years, the eyes, hair, flesh, nails and joints remained as though it had been but newly buried. Robert Baybroock, who was consecrated Bishop of London in 1381, and who died in 1384, and was buried in St. Paul's, was taken out of his tomb after the great fire in 1666, during the repairs of the cathedral, and although he had lain there no less than 283 years, his body was found firm as to skin, hair, joints and nails. Pietro Rodriguez, a Portuguese jeweler, while pursuing his occupation in the city of Mexico, was, in 1595, accused before the tribunal of the Inquisition, and after suffering a variety of tortures, was condemned to be buried alive in a vault in the Convent de St. Domingo, in that city. He was then 37 years old. The Convent de St. Domingo was lately destroyed in search of treasure supposed to be concealed there, and the body of Rodriguez taken out of the vault exactly as when placed there 270 years before. His daughter, two and a half years of age, was lying under her father's feet, and as perfectly preserved as himself. The evidence of torture on the body of the jeweler are fearfully apparent. Marks of the cord and of the burning iron are deeply recorded on various parts of his body. His hair and beard are firm, his skin natural in hue and texture, without the least trace of decomposition in any part.

In South Acton, Mass., recently, George Curtis, a lad of eight years, enticed a boy named Lane, aged three years, into the woods, and there beat him with a club in a most shocking manner, leaving him insensible. The child was soon discovered, but died of his injuries 24 hours later.

Martin Evans, an attache of the United States Signal Office, was shot and instantly killed at Wheeling, W. Va., a few days ago, while visiting a Mrs. Dunlap to whom he was paying attention. At the inquest letters were found on Evans addressed to his mother, and also a leading physician of Wheeling, stating his firm intention of shooting Mrs. Dunlap and then killing himself.

At Pioche, Nevada, several days ago, a man named Harrington shot and mortally wounded five men named Lynch, O'Neal, Frank, Sullivan, and Schoenemaker. The affray grew out of Harrington's throwing a dog across the street, the animal belonging to Schoenemaker. The presence of officers in strong force alone prevented the lynching of Harrington, who was arrested by Sheriff Travis and his deputies, after making a desperate resistance.

Some boys dropped an anvil weighing 200 pounds out of a fourth-story window on the head of a negro who was passing, and he had them arrested. He said he was willing to let the boys have fun, but when they jammed a gemmen's hat down over his eyes, and spoiled it in that way, the law must take its course.

Saratoga Springs never had so many distinguished visitors at this season of the year. At one hotel there are no less than three Governors of States and two college professors. There are about 20 Japanese summering at Saratoga. They say they like the place, but they have no occasion to drink the water.

Charles Reade, the novelist, told the London correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal his reason for not coming to America—"In the first place I can't drink no smoke, and I should not get on very well with the natives. Next, I have a weakness for high living, and you Americans have such an awful jolly lot of good things to eat that I'm afraid I should clam myself to death."

A bachelor friend is in deep trouble. He has a pet calf which entered his room the other day during his absence, ate a dozen cakes of perfumed toilet-soap, chewed into fatters all his Sunday shirts, swallowed his last pair of socks, knocked down all the furniture in the room, and then quietly took a nap on the floor until his return. He thinks the cool impudence of that calf is incomprehensible.

Vienna has no disastrous fires for the reason that she is a fire-proof city. The houses are built with the inferior walls eighteen inches to two feet thick, and the division walls of rooms are all built of brick. A fire is, therefore, generally confined to the room in which it breaks out, and the stairways being of stone, it cannot be communicated from one story to another. The roofs are all of tiles or slate.

Captain Estes, of a Lake Ontario steam-tug, reports, while he was on his way up the lake a few nights ago, there suddenly appeared into view the city of Oswego—thirty-one miles distant, with the gas-light in the streets and all the appearances that a brilliantly-lighted town would present from a hill in the immediate vicinity at night. The light-house at Oswego also, as well as a dozen others on the lake shore below as far as Sackett's Harbor, were distinctly seen. The display, he asserts, was witnessed for several minutes and then slowly faded into darkness.

The city of London (Eng.) has a population of four millions of people, and is the largest city in the world, but the real city has only 75,000 souls, and its territory is not one-fifth the size of Buffalo. All the glory, pomp and dignity of the city centers in the Lord Mayor. Chosen annually from the list of Aldermen, he has a salary equal to that of President Grant, and has, in effect, for more than a century, enjoyed more privileges than the sovereign of England.

EXPULSION OF FLIES FROM ROOMS.—It is stated that if two and a half pounds of powdered laurel leaves are macerated or boiled in two gallons of water, until their poisonous quality is extracted, and with the solution a white-wash is made by adding as much quick-lime as can be slacked in it, and if a room be whitewashed with this preparation, flies will not settle on the walls for six months. It is also asserted that if a paste, made by stirring together one pint of the powdered laurel leaves with a quarter pint of glycerine, be applied to windows and door casings, a room so prepared will soon be emptied of flies. Two applications of this paste are said to be enough to keep even a kitchen clear of insects for a fortnight. There is nothing disagreeable or deleterious to human beings in the order of the wash or paste, though laurel leaves, or laurel water, taken into the human stomach, acts as a violent poison.

STEAM FLOUR MILL.—Chelsea is going to have a steam flour mill at last. Messrs. Noyes, Cummings, Hatch and Wm. Warner, are the proprietors. They have got the necessary funds, and are making preparations to have a flour mill running in full blast in a few months.

WE need hardly say that the best of weather has prevailed since our last report; and we are glad to say that in consequence the wheat crop is nearly all gathered in and in fine condition. No grown or shucka wheat is the word passed along the lines.

FARMERS CLUB.—The North-western Farmers' Club, will hold a meeting at the Union School House, in Chelsea, on Saturday afternoon, August 9th, 1878. A large attendance is requested, as business of importance is to be transacted.

BY ORDER OF COMMITTEE.

ALARMING.—That alarming element, fire! that burns up dwellings and throws thousands of human beings homeless. Let every one guard against it, and take an insurance policy in the Watertown Insurance Company.

M. J. NOYES, Agent. Chelsea, Mich., July 31, 1878.

SHAWL LOST.—On Saturday afternoon, July 19, 1878, between the residence of John E. Cooley (one mile south of Lima Centre), and Chelsea, a black and white double Shawl, (small plaid). Any person giving information of, or returning the same to the owner, shall be liberally rewarded. JOHN E. COOLEY. Lima, Mich., July 31, 1878.

A WORD TO THE WISE.—G. H. Coleman, druggist, wishes to inform all those who are indebted to him, by book or note account, to come forward and settle the same, within 30 days from date. If accounts are not settled by that time, they will be handed to an Attorney for collection. G. H. COLEMAN. Chelsea, July 8, 1878.

AN ATTEMPT AT BURGLARY.—On the night of Thursday last, some miserable delinquent villain attempted to enter the residence of Mrs. Coates, on West Liberty street, in our village. This is the second attempt he made to enter her residence; but on the above night referred to, Mrs. C. was prepared with a few lead pills, to give him a warm reception—which she did by giving him the contents of two barrels from her revolver. She supposed some of the balls must have entered his back. Also, on last Saturday night, the residence of Dr. Van Tyne was entered, but he could not gain sufficient headway to do any damage. On the same night the parsonage of Rev. Wm. B. Holt, on east Church street, was entered; and being surprised, he put out on the double quick. He went next to the residence of Jacob Staffan, but his success was no better. We understand that the individual is known, and hope he will be brought to justice.

The Best Chill Cure!

Dr. Wilhoft's Anti-Periodic cures Chills and Fever and all other kindred diseases, and prevents the horrid sequelae of malarial poison, such as bloated faces, enlarged spleen, pale, sallow complexion and shaky nerves.

It contains no arsenic which is used to kill rats and vermin.

It contains no strychnine, used to kill wolves, polecats and vicious dogs.

It contains no quinine which splits the head and stops the ears.

But its combination is simple, containing only a few innocent drugs that any child or old lady can take with impunity.

Wilhoft's Tonic is as safe as it is sure, and a cure guaranteed.

There is nothing better for the general health than the celebrated Argyle Bitters, after health has been once established, and can be safely taken as an adjunct to all other medicines during sickness.

THE PUBLIC LANDS.—The United States Economist makes the rather startling assertion that the public lands are already all virtually disposed of, and that the emigrant will soon have to purchase his land of the railroad corporations, to whom the public domain has been given. The Economist presents a table showing to what object the lands have been appropriated, and according to its showing there are really no public lands left, and the only means by which lands can be secured for the benefit of the poor homesteader, will be by breaking faith with the Indians, appropriating lands to be reserved under existing laws for States, yet to be erected or encroaching upon those set apart for educational purposes or for internal improvements. We have been accustomed to believe Uncle Sam rich enough to give a farm to nearly every son of Adam now on earth, but it would seem that the old gentleman has been too prodigal of late, and that his gifts in that direction are likely to cease ere long. Surely it is high time the land grant and subsidy system was abandoned.

EXPULSION OF FLIES FROM ROOMS.—It is stated that if two and a half pounds of powdered laurel leaves are macerated or boiled in two gallons of water, until their poisonous quality is extracted, and with the solution a white-wash is made by adding as much quick-lime as can be slacked in it, and if a room be whitewashed with this preparation, flies will not settle on the walls for six months. It is also asserted that if a paste, made by stirring together one pint of the powdered laurel leaves with a quarter pint of glycerine, be applied to windows and door casings, a room so prepared will soon be emptied of flies. Two applications of this paste are said to be enough to keep even a kitchen clear of insects for a fortnight. There is nothing disagreeable or deleterious to human beings in the order of the wash or paste, though laurel leaves, or laurel water, taken into the human stomach, acts as a violent poison.

A reunion of the First Michigan Infantry will be held at Grand Rapids, on Thursday, August 23rd, 1878. Any person who was a member of the three months, or three years' regiment, and received an honorable discharge, may become a member of the organization, and is requested to send his name and post-office address, and the sum of one dollar dues, to the Secretary, William Widdicombe, Grand Rapids, Mich. Ann Arbor furnished one company of the three months' men, and the three years' regiment was quartered here during its organization, and it is therefore expected that our city will be well represented at the coming reunion.—Ann Arbor Courier.

THE BEST CHILL CURE!

Dr. Wilhoft's Anti-Periodic cures Chills and Fever and all other kindred diseases, and prevents the horrid sequelae of malarial poison, such as bloated faces, enlarged spleen, pale, sallow complexion and shaky nerves.

It contains no arsenic which is used to kill rats and vermin.

It contains no strychnine, used to kill wolves, polecats and vicious dogs.

It contains no quinine which splits the head and stops the ears.

But its combination is simple, containing only a few innocent drugs that any child or old lady can take with impunity.

Wilhoft's Tonic is as safe as it is sure, and a cure guaranteed.
