TOO LATE. BY HARRY HILDRETH.

If I had known how dear my life had been, How much of joy could crowd within a year, I had been mindful of its passing then, And saved me many a bitter, bitter tear.

We look around and plan so much to do; We hope and wonder, work and rest, and sigh, And hardly is our journey half way through Before we break the brittle thread and die.

Yankee Women Artists at Rome.

Harriet Hosmer has a beautiful studio, with flowers, and birds inside and outside of it, and across the street from it her stables,—for she is a famous horsewoman and keeps from three to five horses always. She is a grave, kindly, large-hearted woman, of large intelligence, free from conventionalities and affectations, fond of fun, sympathetic, industrious, and understands business.

A distinguished medalist is Margaret Foley, a little New England woman, who began her career up in Vermont, in cutting figures from chalk. One would think, from the work she has done, that she had put half the people in the world in marble medallions.

Edmonia Lewis, the little colored girl from New York State, who had an Indian, for her mother and a negro for her father, is working her way bravely, and winning both laurels and money. She has large, dark eyes, an intelligent face, and abundant energy.

Two Irishmen traveling on the Michigan Central railroad track came to a mile-post, when one of them exclaimed, "Trend aye, Pat, for here lies a man; his name was Miles, 103 years old, and he was from Chicago."

Sneezing.

The custom of invoking a blessing upon persons who sneeze, is, says Dr. Serrain in a recent article on sneezing, a most interesting one. Several old medical authors state that the custom dates back from the time of a severe epidemic, (in which sneezing was a bad sign,) during the pontificate of Gregory the Great.

have traced it back to the mythical days of Prometheus, who is reported to have blessed his man of clay when he sneezed. In Brand the rabbinical account is given that the phrase originated in the alleged fact, that it was only through Jacob's struggle with the angel that sneezing ceased to be an act fatal to man. In many countries, sneezing has been the subject of congratulations and of hopeful augury. In Mesopotamia and some African towns, the populace is reported to have shouted when their monarchs sneezed. Sometimes, moreover, it is very important not to sneeze; and Dr. Serrain has discovered what had been discovered before, but is insufficiently known, that sneezing may be prevented by forcibly rubbing the skin below and on either side of the nose.

Our Chip Basket.

A Waterbury man has christened his daughter Glycerine. He says it will be easy to prefix "Nitro" if her temper resembles her mother's.

A disorderly crowd in Utica, N. Y., was dispersed by a man taking off his hat and announcing that he was making a missionary collection.

A Boston reporter found a package of $16,000, the other day, and he refused the $2 which the owner tendered him. Some folks are so arish.

The Emperor of Brazil stands six feet four inches in his boots, and though a giant in size, is said to possess a voice that sounds like the shrill treble of infancy.

A barrel of grasshoppers was sent by a Texas man to a friend in Tennessee, but the railroad folks took the responsibility of dumping the barrel into the river.

A bass was recently caught in the Delaware River, near Easton, Penn., which was found to hold thirteen hooks in its mouth, with as many fragments of line attached to them.

"I declare mother," said a pretty little girl in a pretty little way, "his too bad! You always send me to bed when I am not sleepy, and you always make me get up when I am sleepy!"

The season is fast approaching when the husband without any discipline in his family must arise betimes, and with chattering teeth and fingers all benumbed proceed to light the kitchen fire.

There is said to be a woman in Derby who knows what it is to be the mother of thirty-one children. Her husband must feel that there is such a thing as a woman knowing too much.

The musical gentleman who used to declare in his sweetest voice that the dearest spot on earth to him was home, sweet home, has changed his tune since he got back from Long Branch.

Because fourteen persons said a fifty-cent scrip picked up on the floor of a Detroit horse-car was theirs, the conductor coolly settled the matter by putting the money into his own pocket.

Here is the latest description of a kiss: 'Twas night. A real warm couple stood in the pale moonbeams. Their lips touched and there was a sound like a cow hauling her hoof out of the mud.

"Mother, you musn't whip me for running away from school any more." "Why not?" "Cos my school-book says that ants are the most industrious beings in the world; and ain't I a tru-ant?"

A Texas paper says that the endeavors of partisan politicians to induce colored men to vote for them, remind it of the efforts of a red-headed woodpecker to exorcise worms from a copper lightning-rod.

Two Irishmen traveling on the Michigan Central railroad track came to a mile-post, when one of them exclaimed, "Trend aye, Pat, for here lies a man; his name was Miles, 103 years old, and he was from Chicago."

"It wasn't so very late—only a quarter of twelve." "How dare you sit there and tell me that lie? I was awake when you came in, and looked at my watch—it was three o'clock." "Well, isn't three a quarter of twelve?"

Abominations at seaside hotels:—Matches that won't light, soap that won't wash, towels corresponding in size to napkins, flies in soup, sand in water-pitcher, and looking-glasses "fearfully and wonderfully made."

This scene in a street car. The Dramatis personae, two gentlemen in calling attire.—First gentleman, briskly, "Well, who is going to be bored-to-night?" Second gentleman, as briskly, "I don't know. Where are you going?"

A man who was discovered asleep among a lot of tombstones in a stone-cutter's yard, said, on being awakened, he had come in to buy a monument for himself, and having picked out one, made up his mind he would try it one night before purchasing.

A wealthy, but miserly old man dining in the city one day with his son at a restaurant, whispered in his ear:—"Tom, you must eat for to-day and to-morrow." "Oh, yes," replied the half-starved lad, "but I ha'n't eaten for yesterday and the day before yet, father."

Manhood; How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of SPERMATORRHOEA or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, IMPOTENCY, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price in a sealed envelope only six cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents, or two post stamps.

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a paste of soot, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous, and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich, glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

BRIEF MENTION.

The North Lake Church Aid Society will hold a social at the house of W. R. Purchase, on Wednesday evening, November 12th, 1873.

Mr. Ira Custuman, of Chelsea, was taken down sick last Sunday with paralysis, and lies in a very critical condition.

There are several side-walks in different parts of the village which need repairing before winter sets in. We hope our town fathers will attend to it.

The Chelsea sportsmen left last week for the north woods, to hunt for deer and other game that may come in their way. We hope they may return home with plenty.

WEATHER.—Last Monday and Tuesday was two of the pleasant days we have enjoyed for some time; in fact, it made us think summer was coming instead of winter.

The third trial of Edward S. Stokes, for the murder of James Fisk, Jr., has ended, and resulted in his conviction of murder in the third degree, and he is sentenced to four years hard labor in the State Prison at Sing Sing.

THE WHEAT MARKET.—There has been a steady decline in wheat for the last week, which is mainly owing to the decline in the foreign market. There has been over twelve million bushels of wheat exported from this country during the last two months; but notwithstanding this we do not believe the decline will be permanent.

How is it that the people of Chelsea and vicinity will stand in their own light, and read in the daily papers from day to day, of the great fires that are taken place all over our land, and neglect to insure in that safe and reliable insurance company, the "Waterworks"? M. J. NOYES, Agt.

FRESH ARRIVALS.—New Dry-goods of every style and pattern are being received daily at the store of A. Congdon, and are to be sold cheap for cash at panic prices—at the store formerly occupied by J. G. Wackebat, on west side of Main street, Chelsea, Mich. Give him a call.

BURGLARY.—On Thursday night of last week, the Dry-goods store of Wilkinson & Holmes, in Chelsea, was entered by thieves, and goods to the amount of $300 stolen. No clue to the perpetrators or the goods has been received as yet.

A WORTHY ENTERPRISE.—The County Atlas of Washtenaw county, published by Messrs. Everts & Stewart, is now under way. Mr. A. N. Town called upon us last Tuesday morning, and showed us a copy of Walworth county, Wis., which was equally as good as the one shown us by the agent last spring, who was soliciting subscriptions for the atlas; and now having a sufficient number of subscriptions for the atlas, they are selecting some views, both of public and private buildings, to represent each city, village and township. We consider it an enterprise which promotes the interests of the county, and every man's personal interest. We think every business man in the county ought to take an interest in this valuable enterprise, and lend a helping hand.

HOW WOULD IT ANSWER NOW?—In the seventeenth century a law was in force in England that all women, of whatever age, rank, profession or degree, whether virgins, wives or widows, that should impose upon, seduce and betray into matrimony any of His Majesty's male subjects, by scents, paints, cosmetics, washes, artificial teeth, false hair, Spanish wool, iron stays, hoops, high-heeled shoes or other frauds, should incur the penalty of the law, and the marriage should stand null and void.

BETTER THAN CAPITAL.—The man whose statements may always be taken without question, whose promises are never to go unfulfilled, whose verbal agreements are as good as written contracts, whose integrity is of more value in his own eyes than any mere fortune which he could barter it for, will be astonished to find, in his hour of need, with what strength he is braced up on every side, and how often he will stand firm as a rock when other men tremble and fall. Five years of such constant rectitude will be worth, in credit, more than a double capital without the confidence which such character inspires. It is a good rule in building up such a credit, when a payment is once due, never to suffer one's self to be asked for it twice. Every man who aspires to honorable success in business should remember that he must hold to his promise as a ship holds to her anchor, and the moment he breaks it he is in danger of disaster to his fortune and wreck to his character.

THE BEAR.

BY SAM. SLY.

One Sunday eve—oh! no not that— 'Twas Monday morn I woen, I wouldn't how'er take my oath, Or which decide between,—

Sweet sister Sue,—no time you know— But, for that all the better, Was leaning o'er her father's gate— There's no harm in the matter,—

And, talking with a verdant youth— Perhaps it was the writer, About the stars, and northern bear, She feared that meant to bite 'er.

And that green youth, with beardless face, Declared he would defend 'er, Against all bears in Christendom, He'd smash them up as tender—

As breakfast steak, or what was that! His noble heart did fail him; And from the paws, of blped bears, His bean-pole-legs did bail him.

Now verdant youths, a word to you, And to the ladies fair, Don't lean across the "old man's" gate, There's oft a lurking bear.

BEAUTIFUL WOMEN.—The hair is the crowning glory of woman. There are few moderate defects which cannot be remedied by the proper disposition of the tresses. But when the hair begins to fall out, or turn gray, in young people, or with those in the prime of life, there is cause for real regret. When this is the case, Hall's Vegetable Sialian Hair Remedy will be found to be a first-class remedy, far superior, as a sound medical medium, to anything else before the public. It actually restores gray hair to its original color, and in the great majority of cases, causes it to grow again when it is becoming thin. It is not like many popular preparations, a mere wash, but a scientific discovery indorsed and approved by physicians of character. Address, R. P. Hall & Co., Nashua, N. H.—Furney's Weekly Press, Feb. 1, 1868.

The following we clip from the Ann Arbor Courier, giving a past sketch and early history of our townsman, M. J. Noyes, which we think will be very interesting to the readers of the HERALD:

Michael J. Noyes, Supervisor of the town of Sylvan, is thirty-five years of age, and was born in Maccomb county in this State. He is a civil engineer by profession, and at the age of 18 he went to Minnesota as a surveyor in the employ of the government, where he remained two years, when he returned to this city and entered college at the request of his father, David W. Noyes, familiarly known as old father Noyes, who was anxious to make a preacher of his son Michael, hoping thereby to make a good man of him. But after four months "Mike" ran away from college and his father, and started for Pike's Peak, but brought up in Washington Territory, and engaged in government surveying there for two years, when he started for the gold fields of California, arriving there in the year 1851. After looking the gold fields over, he concluded it was no place for him, and started for the silver mines of Nevada. When he arrived there he did not have a single dollar. He engaged in mining several months without success, but finally fortune favored him and he amassed a handsome competence when he returned to his native State to enjoy it, after an absence of seven years, a wiser if not a better man, finding his old father alive and glad to see him return. He has been a great traveler, having visited nearly every State in the Union. He has been engaged in the banking business in Chelsea since his return, until last year when he was elected to the Legislature by 250 majority over his competitor, Elias Haire, in a district which is overwhelmingly Democratic, and which Elias had fixed up for the especial purpose of sending himself to the legislature. He is a good citizen, a clear headed business man, likes good living, weighs 220 pounds, is probably worth about $5,000, and is a constant attendant of the Methodist Church in Chelsea, of which his wife is a leading and active member. The town never had a better Supervisor, and there is but little doubt, if he behaves himself, but he will represent the town for several years to come."

A WIFE'S RIGHTS.—It is a great mistake for a husband to keep his wife in ignorance of his business affairs. In ordinary families it is she who regulates the out-go, and she ought to know what is the income. A few weeks ago I heard a young wife just in the early experiences of housekeeping, say, "How shall I know whether we are living beyond our means? I can't get any idea of what we have to spend; and while I try to be very careful, of course, I might spend less on our table if we were getting in debt." Surely she ought not to be blamed if the debt and credit accounts are not prosperous. A loving and anxious wife suffers untold imaginary fears if she sees a tired or perplexed expression on her husband's face, unless she is assured of the truest confidence between them, and knows that no great concern of his is kept a secret from her.

He realizes that a penny saved is a penny earned, and he will profit by it." Then he stepped into a saloon to get a drink, and we moved on.

Chicago has found a new use for street cars, as they are now attaching boxes to them for the reception of mail matter. These will be so arranged that the letters can be deposited without entering or stopping the car, and arriving at certain points they will be removed and empty ones put in their places. The plan has worked exceedingly well as far as it has been tried.

A mournful story is told by a Maine editor:—"The winds of Autumn will soon whistle shrilly; the geese flies southward; the air speaks of snow and ice; everything betokens that in a few weeks more the Fall season will have ended, and circeus and snake shows will be no more."

Jones was thrown into a state of wonder by the sign, "Ladies' felt slippers," which he discovered when passing a shoe store. He can't understand it. He says children felt slippers, in his day, often enough, but ladies generally wore them, except when they were removed for cause.

Japan does nothing by halves. At a recent execution of three criminals there the victims were beheaded, their skulls battered in, their brains scooped out, and their hearts cut out. None of them survived this treatment.

Yan Kee, a prominent Chinese merchant of San Francisco, has obtained the services of a lawyer to make application for him, in a legal manner, for his naturalization papers. If he would add Doodle to his name he would need no papers.

A young lady who had coqueted with her beau until his patience was completely exhausted and he rose to go away, whispered, as she accompanied him to the door, "I shall be at home next Sunday evening." "So shall I," he replied.

The Portsmouth Chronicle says:—"Take ten cents and go to a leather dealer and get a pound or so of shoe pegs, and boil them well in molasses, and let them stand until cold, and they are just as good as barberries—in fact no one can tell the difference."

There is a story of an Englishman on a visit to America, who, being asked after dinner if he would have cream and sugar in his coffee, replied that he liked neither when the coffee was good, and then, immediately after tasting the coffee, sent his cup for both cream and sugar.

A clergyman once, when reading the burial service, came to the place where he must say, "Our deceased brother (or sister)." He did not know which; so, turning to a mourner, he asked whether it was a "brother" or "sister." The mourner innocently said, "No relation at all, sir, only an acquaintance."

The other day a bricklayer gave his boy two-pence and told him to go and buy a couple of German sausages. The young rascal went to the nearest shop, bought the sausages, ate the larger and took the other back to the workman. "Well, but where's the other?" was the natural question. "Why, this is the other," replied the young scamp with the utmost of frontery.
