NOT SO BAD, AFTER ALL.

Jared Treat was an eccentric old bacholor, rich reputedly, and the pro-prietor of a handsome country cottage, here he lived with a couple of orphan jeces, cousins of each other who comed his household. Of these, Fannie White, by far the

This was not the only ground Nora Lester, Fannie's cousin, had for jealusy. Willard Norton was the dashngest of beaus, and from the time that Nora met him, while visiting some city friends, she had marked him for her own; the gentlemen seemed quite smiten with her charms at first, and renained as constant as maiden's heart uld wish till the day he saw Fannie

A solution of her doubts came unex-

Edward Tracey had long loved Fannie. She knew it, though he had never told her of it. He was a young docto. just beginning practice, and in her ur-cle's lifetime, had not felt free to ask her to leave a home of comfort to share his poverty. By degrees he had won his way, and was now in receipt of a certain income, and felt that, at last, he had a right to speak his mind to Fannie, and he spoke it like a man. We will not say how Fannie answered him; the reader will surmise that. her to leave a home of comfort to share him; the reader will surmise that.

On the day before their wedding, something had struck him, and his Fannie White and Edward Tracey, in handsome, bronzed face flushed. But obedience to a written invitation, went after a moment, to my surprise, he to the office of Messrs, Gavelkind & answered: Proctor, where they found that Mr. and

All these mineral matters in the fruit sold must be replaced in some way, either by the use of manure, home-made or purchased, or by cultivation of deep-rooted crops, to be used as fodder, that will bring up the mineral matters from greater depths in the soil. Stable manure has hitherto been and is even now the material most expression, used to make great this loss. commonly used to make good this loss of mineral matter, as well as to supply that most important constituent of the food of all plants, nitrogen; but it is becoming more and more difficult every year in some localities to find enoug of this kind of manure to meet all the demands for it; and fruit-growers and gardeners as well as farmers are in sore need of something else with which to feed their crops.

STABLE MANURE.

COMMERCIAL FERTILIZERS. That we have in commercial or concentrated manures a means of furnishing this needed supply, is clearly shown by their extensive use in all branches of high farming; and we have, moreover, good and sufficient evidence that they can, if need be, be used entirely by themselves, and without the co-operation of stable manure.

How shall we proceed to find the he Legislature Tuesday evening on he relations of the University to the supplies of stable manure with these concentrated manures? Can we apply or must we use them on forage crops, and thus increase the quantity of sta-ble manure? Much will undoubtedly be gained for horticulture if it can be proved that sure returns can be obtained from the direct application of the fertilizers in the fruit gardens and orchards, without the intervention of the domestic animals. But this can be established only by experimenting in those same gardens and orchards.

THE QUESTION STATED.

I think that a serious mistake is usually made in the matter of experimenting with commercial fertilizers. The question to be answered by the experiment is this:—"Will a certain quantity of plant food, consisting of nitrogen or phosphoric acid or potash, in a certain condition as to solubility, or a certain mixture of two or all three of those elements of plant food also in a certain condition as to solubility, yield a profitable return when put on a certain field with a certain crop?"

WHAT THE COMMITTEE PROPOSE.

With the sets of questions will be sent out directions for taking samexperiments are to be made by differ- ples of the fertilizers for analysis and sending them to the chairman of the committee at Cornell University, who places at the disposal of the society the facilities of the laboratory of that institution, for the purpose of the exe-cution of this plan of co-operative experimentation.

All members of the society who are alone, or stable manure and concentrated fertilizers, or concentrated fertilizers alone, are requested to send their address, to the chairman of the committee, Professor G. C. Caldwell, Ithica, N. Y., and to specify which of the fertilizers they wish to try.

ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL AND BENIGN COMBINATIONS ever effected, is that of the six med cinal oils of which THOMAS' less compound not only possesses remedial efficacy of he highest order, but, inasmuch as it contains no alcohol, its influence is not weak ned by evaporation, which is the case with very many oils of doubtful effi cacy, which have an alcoholic basis. It is an incomparable specific for affections of the throat and lungs, remedies chronic hoarseness and feebleness of the voice, and is a superb remedy for that harrassing, obstinate and consumption-breeding malady -catarrh. Swelling of the neck, tumor, neuralgia, Jame back, rheumatism, piles, and other diseases which can be affected by outward treatment, yield to its operation with greater promptitude and certainity than to that of any other remedy, and, when used inwardly, it is equally efficacious. Dysentery, kidney troubles, piles, excoriated nipples are also among the complaints which it eradicates. For ulcers, sores, burns, frosted feet, and contusions, it is immeasurably the best remedy in use All medicine dealers sell it. Price, 50 cents and $1 per bottle; trial size, 25 cents. The following is the President's message:

Fellow Citizens of the Senate and House of Representatives—The failure of the last Congress to make the requisite appropriations for legislative and judicial purposes for the expenses of the several executive departments of the Government, and for the support of the army, has made it necessary to call a special session of the Forty-sixth Congress. The estimates of appropriations needed, which were sent to Congress by the Secretary of the Treasury at the opening of the last session, are renewed, and are here, with transmitted to both the Senant and House of Representatives. Regretting the existence of the emergency which requires a special session of Congress, at a time when it is the general judgment of the country that the public welfare will be best promoted by permanency in our legislation and by peace and rest, I commend these few necessary measures to your considerate attention.

The ARREARS OF PENSIONS HE FULL TEXT ON THE SUPPLEME

TARY APPROPRIATION ACT. An act making appropriations for the payment of the arrears of pensions granted by act of Congress, approved January 25, 1879, and for other purposes;

Be it enacted by the Senate House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That there be, and hereby is, appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the following sums, namely: For the arrears of pensions due on claims in which the pensions were allowed prior which the pensions were allowed prior to January 25, 1879, $25,000,000; the amounts paid out respectively for ar-my and navy pensions to be accounted for separately to the proper account-ing officers of the Treasury Depart-ment. For pensions for army and navy invalids, widows, minors and dependent relatives, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1879, $1,800,000, in addition to the amounts heretofore appropriated for those purposes; the amounts paid out on account of army and navy pensions, respectively, to be accounted for separately to the proper accounting officers of the Treasury Department. For temporary clerks in the pension office, and for furniture, rent or additional rooms, and other contingencies, $52,200, in addition to the appropriations which have been made under other acts; the same to be available until June 30, 1880; provided that no more than $3,500 shall be used for furniture, contingencies and of invalid pensions shall be allowed and computed in the cases which have been, or shall hereafter be, allowed shall be graded according to the degree of the pensioner's disability, from time to time, and the provisions of the pento time, and the provisions of the pen-skewer. Lay it on a piece of toast, and sion laws in force over the period for put it into a Dutch oven or a hot stove which the arrears shall be computed.

The pension agents shall receive for their services and expenses in paying the arrears upon pensions allowed previous to January 25, 1879, including postage upon the vouchers and cheeks sent to the pensioner, 30 certs for each payment; and the sum o $15,000, or so much thereof as may b necessary is hereby appropriated for the payment of the same.
That the rate at which the arrears

That sec. 1 of the act of January 25, 1879 granting arrears of pensions, shall be construed to extend to and include pensions account of soldiers who were the War of the Rebellion, but died or incurred disability from a cause originating after the cessation of hostilities, and before being mustered out; provided, That in no case shall arrears of pensions be allowed and paid from a time prior to the date of actual hostil-

SEC. 2. All pensions which have been or may hereafter be granted in consequence of death accruing from a cause which originated in the service since the 4th of March, 1861, or in consequence of wounds or injuries received or disease contracted since that date, shall commence from the death or discharge of the person on whose account the claim has been, or is hereafter, granted, if the disability occurred prior to discharge; and if such disability oc-curred after the discharge, then from the date of actual disability, or from the termination of the party having prior right to such pension. Provided, that application for such pension has been or is hereafter filed with the commissioner of pensions prior to the 1st day of July, 1880, otherwise the pension shall commence from the date of filing the application; but the limitation here described shall not apply to claims by or in behalf of insane persons and children under 16 years of age. SEC. 3 Section 4709 of the Revised Statutes is hereby repealed.

Fresh and Stale Bread.

Every dyspeptic knows that new bread is not easy of digestion. The reason why has not been stated heretofore by any scientific authority; but recently the celebrated French chemist, Boussingault, has concluded a series of experiments which show Battle Creek......

Marshall that one of the great reasons for the indigestibility of new bread is not its newness, but its temperature. This he proved by placing bread which had been baked six days previous and dried during the whole interval, in the oven again, when it re-acquired all its original properties.

The process of baking produces various mucitaginous substances which, if eaten when warm, forms a pasty mass which in the stomach is formed into small compact masses which are impenetrable by the gastric juice. These portions of food remain in the stomach undigested, and occasion all the inconvenience and irritation which would result from the presence of other foreign bodies in the stomach. The results may be pain in the chest and stómach disturbance of the circulation. cerebral congestion and pain in the head, irritation of the brain, attacks of Old Fruit Cans.

Perhaps one of the most appropriate uses of an old fruit can that can be devised is to make it contribute to the growth of new fruit to fill new cans. This is done in the following manner. The can is pierced with one or more pin holes, and then sunk in the earth Soak a quart of cracked Indian corn near the roots of the strawberry or tofirst thing after breakfast, with three are to be of such size that when the pounds of beef, not too salt, and one can is filled with water the fluid can of pork. Cover with water, and let it only escape into the ground very cook slowly five hours, being very care- slowly. Thus a quart can, properly arranged, will extend its irrigation to a plant through a period of several days; the can is then refilled. Practical trials of this method of irrigation the longest droughts. In all warm localities, where water is scarce, the planting of old fruit cans as here indicated will be found profitable as a regular gardening operation.
