From the Family Story Paper.
Waiting.

Writu waiting and wishing our courses we pave;
We wait for the port as we battle the wave;
'Tis waiting forever, from cradle to grave.

Waiting for morn, so serene in its light;
Waiting for noonday, so brilliantly bright;
Waiting at eye for repose in the night.

Waiting for zephyrs in springtime that blow;
Waiting for summer and flowers that grow;
Waiting for winter and swift falling snow.

Waiting is ever the bosom's refrain—
In moments of pleasure and moments of pain;
Waiting, though stricken again and again.

Waiting in childhood for youth's joyous time;
"I'm waiting," says youth; "but I'll certainly climb
The top of the ladder on reaching my prime!"

In manhood awaiting the time when he may
Find rest on a calmer, happier day,
When age shall relieve from the worrying fray.

Waiting, when Fortune sheds brightly her smiles;
When choice are the pleasures the path-way beguile,
There always is something to wait for the while.

Waiting in poverty, anguish, and grief;
Waiting for Heaven to send us relief,
Telling the heart that the trial is brief.

Aye! waiting for joys that will never appear;
Waiting for voices we never shall hear;
Waiting for moments that never are near.

Waiting, when sinning and worn in the strife,
With penitent throbbings the bosom is rife,
Waiting the dawn of a holier life.

Waiting at last for the spirit's release;
Waiting a rest in the dwelling of Peace,
Where waiting and longing forever will cease.

JACKSON, Dec. 3, 1879.

THE CLOSING YEAR—ANOTHER THANKSGIVING.

As we approach the beginning of a new year, it is natural for and becoming in everyone to review the past twelve months, for the purpose of seeing wherein he has made mistakes, and how he may take advantage of that experience for future benefit. The editor of a paper will examine closely the course pursued during the year, and see where he has been on the wrong track and where on the right, and with a spirit of true progressiveness lays his plans to improve his paper, increase his list of subscribers, and his bank account at the same time. The lawyer sums up for the past year, prepares his briefs for the new, and sees where, under like circumstances, he could have won, instead of, as in the past, losing his case. The merchant, or manufacturer, as he balances his books for the year, scans with the eye of a true business man, every transaction of the past, and whether it has been a success or a failure makes it pay; or, in the light of experience, progress should be the watchword of every one, no matter what his occupation or how humble.

The year drawing to a close has been one in which the progressive business man will find in balancing his books, the most prosperous since the close of the war. Not only in the commercial circle has the market prospered been noticed, but in every branch of manufacturing industry is this preeminently true. The tillers of the soil have also great cause in looking over the past, to feel that he has been especially favored and rewarded for the labors of his hands, in view of the great prosperity, peace and good will, which prevails everywhere in our land. The thanksgiving season has been one of genuine rejoicing, and in our own city the rich and poor were alike made glad on Thanksgiving Day.

The day was observed with more than usual spirit, and apart from religious services, and happy home feasting, a large programme of attractions were prepared and enjoyed by all who participated. The Union Thanksgiving services were held at the First Congregational Church, and the sermon was delivered by the Rev. C. E. Harris, the new young pastor of the Bepst Church here. It was the first occasion in which the Reverend gentleman appeared in a union service, and his excellent discourse was much admired. He based his remarks from John 9: 32, and stated the first Thanksgiving sermon was preached in a large church at Leyden, Holland, in 1578, more than 300 years ago, after the raising of the siege by the Spaniards, when the famished people gave thanks for their providential deliverance in sending the west winds to overflow the dykes, and flood the moat which drove the Popish army from their walls, and brought them a fleet and food. He contrasted our present situation with peace and prosperity, in comparison with the poor Hollanders, three hundred years ago, and earnestly urged his hearers to render sincere thanksgivings to the giver of all good, for all his benefits to us as a people.

A NOBLE WORK.
It is more blessed to give than to receive seemed to be the feeling which prompted the Young Men's Christian Association to remember the poor at this season, and their appeal to the people for assistance was most encouraging; and on Thanksgiving morning they were busy visiting the homes of the needy, and left with some sixty families 25 pounds of flour 1½ bushels of potatoes, and chicken, meat, and other articles, needed to make a Thanksgiving dinner. And it is safe to say they made many hearts glad, and the little ones to wish for Thanksgiving every day.

AT THE PRISON.
The boys at the State prison are always treated with a special service, and an extra dinner, on Thanksgiving; and this year the Rev. Mr. Hildreth gave an interesting and wholesome address, which seemed to please the men very much, and a choir of ladies and gentlemen furnished excellent music for the occasion. So even within the walls the day was right royally observed.

THE RAILROAD SUFFERERS.
The remaining parties who were injured at the recent railroad accident here, Oct. 10th, met at the parlor of the Hurd House last week, and passed a series of resolutions, expressing their grateful thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who have been kind enough as to attend to their comforts during their stay here; also expressing their high appreciation of the treatment and consideration they received at the hands of the Michigan Central Railroad officials. They all expect to be able to return to their homes by the end of this month.

ST. JOHN'S CATHOLIC CHURCH.
The young ladies and their friends of this church are making preparations for their annual fair, which commences shortly. The success which has attended the fairs held by them in years gone by, and with the aid of their devoted pastor, the Rev. Father Buysee, the coming one will no doubt be a grand success. M. N.

A Wonderful Invention.

I HAVE just witnessed a private exhibition of a wonderful machine, and have obtained permission of the parties most interested to give the Enquirer a brief account of it. My brother-in-law, who is a butcher and pork-packer of this city, to-day killed seven hogs, weighing from one hundred pounds to three hundred and fifty pounds, to test a hog-scraping machine just patented by Stephen Collins, who is a brother of D. C. Collins, of the Northern Bank of Covington, Ky. I had seen corn taken clean from the cob by machinery, but never before had I ever seen the hair and bristles taken from a hog by machinery. I am not permitted to describe the machine in detail, but I can say that the working of it was simply marvelous. A hog was killed, placed in the machine, and almost the same instant it came out slick as a whistle, with the exception of a few odd hairs on the legs and head. The seven hogs were passed through the machine in fifty-seven seconds, and the entire body of each animal was as clean as could be desired. This was the initial test of the machine. It is so constructed as to clean any sized hog, and in the test made to-day animals were selected with a view to test its application to different sizes. I should think from what I have witnessed of its working that, with a few improvements which are contemplated, it will have a capacity of 6,000 hogs in ten hours. My brother-in-law is enthusiastic over the wonders already performed by the machine, and says it will certainly save the labor of twenty men for every 2,000 hogs cleaned. It is very simple, and not at all liable to get out of repair.—Chicago letter to Cincinnati Enquirer.

BURIED WITH HIM.—When the late King of the Sandwich Islands was gathered to his fathers, he was buried in a great feather cloak which had passed down to him through numerous generations of royal chieftains. When the remains were about to be placed in the coffin, and were removed from the feather robe on which they had lain in state, his aged father at once commanded that the body be buried in the robe, as the dead king, his son, was the last of the family, and to him, therefore, it belonged.

It will cost more than one hundred thousand dollars to replace this beautiful robe, if it ever is replaced, for one million of birds, possessed of rare red and yellow plumage, were caught to furnish the material of which it was made.

We were exposed last week to a pitiless storm, that wet our feet and stockings, and indeed our person all over. In fact we took a cracking cold, which brought sore-throat and severe symptoms of fever. The good-wife asserted her authority, plunged our feet into hot water, wrapped us in hot blankets, and sent our faithful son for a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It is a splendid medicine—pleasant to take, and did the job. We slept soundly through the night and awoke well the next morning. We know we owe our quick recovery to the Pectoral, and shall not hesitate to recommend it to all who need such a medicine.—Tehuacana (Texas) Presbyterian.

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage, executed by Andrew Gulde and Maria Gulde, his wife, to James Taylor, dated the nineteenth day of July, A. D. 1876, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, in Liber 55 of Mortgages, on page 5, which mortgage was duly assigned by said James Taylor to Maria Gulde, on the twenty-seventh day of November, A. D. 1877, by an assignment recorded in said Register's office, for said County of Washtenaw, in Liber 5 of Assignments of Mortgages, on the third day of December, A. D. 1877, in Liber 5 of Assignments of Mortgages, on page 869, and said mortgage was assigned by said Maria Gulde to said James Taylor, on the twenty-eighth day of November, A. D. 1877, by an assignment recorded in said Register's office, in Liber 5 of Assignments of Mortgages, on page 508, on the third day of December, A. D. 1877, and again on the sixth day of November, A. D. 1879, said mortgage was duly assigned by said James Taylor to said Maria Gulde, by an assignment recorded in said Register's office, for said County of Washtenaw, in Liber 6 of Assignments of Mortgages, on page 367, on the seventh day of November, A. D. 1879, by which said default the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative, and no proceedings having been instituted in law or equity to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof, and the sum of one thousand and eight dollars being now claimed to be due on said mortgage; and, also, an attorney fee of thirty dollars, as therein provided.

Notice is therefore hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed, by sale of the mortgaged premises therein described, or some part thereof, viz: The undivided one half of all that certain piece parcel of land, situated in the Village of Chelsea, County of Washtenaw, and State of Michigan, known and described as follows, to-wit: Lot two (2), John C. Taylor's Subdivision of the north-east corner of Block number four, Village of Chelsea, according to the recorded plat thereof, at public vendue, at the east door of the Court House, in the City of Ann Arbor, on the seventh day of February, 1880, at one o'clock in the afternoon of that day.

THE SUN FOR 1880.

THE SUN will deal with the events of the year 1880 in its own fashion, now pretty well understood by everybody. From January 1st until December 31st it will be conducted as a newspaper written in the English language, and printed for the whole people.

As a newspaper, THE SUN believes in getting all the news of the world promptly, and presenting it in the most intelligible shade—the shade that will enable its readers to keep well abreast of the age with the least unproductive expenditure of time. The greatest interest to the greatest number—that is the law controlling its daily make-up. It now has a circulation very much larger than that of any other American newspaper, and enjoys an income which is at all times prepared to spend liberally for the benefit of its readers. People of all conditions of life and all ways of thinking buy and read THE SUN; and they all derive satisfaction of some sort from its columns, for they keep on buying and reading it.

In its comments on men and affairs, THE SUN believes that the only guide of policy should be common sense, inspired by genuine American principles and backed by honesty of purpose. For this reason it is, and will continue to be, absolutely independent of party, class, clique, organization, or interest. It is for all, but of none. It will continue to praise what is good, and reprobate what is evil, taking care that its language is to the point and plain, beyond the possibility of being misunderstood. It is uninfluenced by motives that do not appear on the surface; it has no opinions to sell, save those which may be had by any purchaser with two cents. It hates injustice and rascality even more than it hates unnecessary words. It abhors frauds, pious frauds, and deprecates nincompoops of every species. It will continue throughout the year 1880 to discharge the first-class, instruct the second, and discomfit the third! All honest men, with honest convictions, whether sound or mistaken, are its friends. And THE SUN makes no bones of telling the truth to its friends and about its friends whenever occasion arises for public speaking.

These are the principles upon which THE SUN will be conducted during the year to come.

The year 1880 will be one in which no patriotic American can afford to close his eyes to public affairs. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of the political events which it has in store, or the necessity of resolute vigilance on the part of every citizen who desires to preserve the Government that the founders gave us. The debates and acts of Congress, the utterances of the press, the exciting contests of the Republican and Democratic parties, now nearly equal in strength throughout the country, will all bear directly and effectively upon the twenty-fourth Presidential election, to be held in November. Four years ago next November, the will of the nation, as expressed at the polls, was thwarted by an abominable conspiracy, the promoters and beneficiaries of which still hold the offices they stole. Will the crime of 1876 be repeated in 1880? The past decade of years opened with a corrupt, extravagant, and insolent Administration intrusted at Washington. The SUN did something toward dislodging the gang and breaking its power. The same men are now intriguing to restore their leader and themselves to places from which they were driven by the indignation of the people. Will they succeed? The coming year will bring the answers to these momentous questions. THE SUN will be on hand to chronicle the facts as they are developed, and to exhibit them clearly and fearlessly in their relations to expediency and right. Thus, with a habit of philosophical good humor in looking at the minor affairs of life, and in great things a steadfast purpose to maintain the rights of the people and the principles of the Constitution against all aggressors, THE SUN is prepared to write a truthful, instructive, and entertaining history of 1880.

Our rates of subscription remain unchanged. For the DAILY SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 65 cents a month, or $6.50 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents a month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.
The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.
The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.
