FELLOW CITIZENS OF THE SINATE AND House OF REPRESENTATIVE.—I connected and ingulated by the continued property of our country. By the favor of Divine Providence we have been blessed during the past year with health, with abundant harvests, with profitable employment for all our people, and with contentment at home, and with peace and friendship with other nations. The occurrence of the 24th election of chief magistrate has afforded another opportunity to the people of the United States to exhibit to the world a significant example of the peaceful and safe transmission of the power and authority of government from the public servants whose terms of office are about to exhibit to their newly-chosen successors. This of government.

supple cannot fail to impress profoundby thoughtful people of other countries with the advantages which republican institutions afford. The immediate, general and cheerful acquiesence of all good ditizens in the result of the election gives gratiying assurance to our country, and to its friends throughout the world, that a government based on the free consent of an intelligent and patriotic peeple possesses elements of strength, stabbitty and permanency not found in any other form of government.

EQUAL RIGHTS.

Continued opposition to the full and free enjoy ment of the rights of citenship, conferred upon the colored people by the recent amendmendments to the constitution, still prevails in several of the late slaveholding states. It has, perhaps, not been manifested in the recent election to any large extent in acts of violence or intimidation. It has, however, by fraudulent practices in connection with the ballots, with the regulations as to the places and manne: of voting, and with counting, returning and canvassing the votes cast been successful in defeating the exercise of the right preservative of all rights, the right of suffrage, which the constitution expressly confers upon our enfranchised citizens.

It is the deeire of the good people of the whole country that sectionalism as a factor in our politics should disappear. They prefer that no section of the country should be united in solid opposition to any other section. The disposition to refuse a prompt and hearty obedience to the equal rights amendments to the constitution, is all that now stands in the way of a complete obliteration of sectional lines in our political contests. As long as either of these amendments is flagrant ly violated or disregarded it is safe to assume that the people who placed them in the constitution, as embodying the legitimate results of the war for the Union, and who believe them to be wise and necessary, will continue to act together, and to insist that they shall be obeyed. The paramount question still is, as to the sujoyment of the right by every America ictizen who has the requisite qualifications, to freely cast his vote and have it honestly counted. With this question rightly settled, the country will be relieved of the contentions of the past; by gones will indeed be bygones; and political and party issues with respect to economy and efficiency of administration, in ternal improvements, the tariff, domestic taxation, education, huance and o her important subjects, will then receive their full share of attention; but resis ing to any part of the people of our country, or to any of their interests. The inviolability of the amendments rests upon the fundamental principle of our government. They are the solemn expression of the will of the people of the United States.

acceded to the provisions adopted by it, which will be laid before congress for its information. A commission for the revision of the judicial code of the reform tribunal of Egypt is now in session in Cairo. Mr. Farman, consul general, and J. M. Batchelder, Esq., have been appointed as commissioners to participate in this work. The organization of the reform tribunals will probably be continued for another period of five years.

In pursuance of the act passed at the last session of congress, invitations have been extended to foreign maritime states to join in a sanitary conference in Washington, beginning the first of January. The acceptance of this invitation by many prominent powers gives promise of uccess in this important measure, designed to establish a system of international notification by which the spread of infectious or epidemic diseases may be more effectively checked or prevented. The attention of congress is invited to the necessary appropriations for carrying into effect the provisions of the act referred to.

The efforts of the department of state to Total ordinary expenditures.

The efforts of the department of state to enlarge the trade and commerce of the United States, through the active agency of consular officers and through the dissemination of information obtained from them, have been unrelaxed. The interest in these efforts, as developed in our commercial communities, and the value of the information secured by this means, to the trade and manufactures of the country, were recognized by congress at its last session, and provision was made for the more frequent publication of consular and other reports by the department of state. The first issue of this publication has now been prepared and subsequent issues may regularly be expected. The importance and interest attached to the reports of consular officers are witnessed by the general demand for them by all classes of merchants and manufacturers engaged in our foreign trade. It is believed that the system of such publications is deserving of the approval of congress, and that the necessary appropriations for its cont nuaces and enlargement will commend itself to your consideration.

In financial legislation every measure in the direction of greater fidelity in the discharge of pecuniary obligations, has been found by experience to diminish the rates of interest which debtors are required to pay, and to increase the facility with which money can be obtained for every legitimate purpose. Our own recent financial history shows how surely money becomes abundant whenever confidence in the exact performance of moneyed obligations is established

THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

The secretary of wav reports that the expenditures of the war department for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1880, were $39,924,773 03. The appropriations for this department for the current fiscal year amount to $41,993,630 40.

With respect to the army, the secretary invites attention to the fact that its strength is limited by statute (section 1115, revised statutes) to not more than 30,000 enlisted men, but that provisos contained in appropriation bills have limited expenditures to the enlistment of but 25,000. It is believed the full legal extendity is the least possible forms at which is ment of but 25,000. It is believed the full legal strength is the least possible force at which the present organization can be maintained, having in view efficiency, discipline and economy. While the enlistment of this force would add somewhat to the appropriation for pay of the army, the saving made in other respects would be more than an equivalent for this additional outlay, and the efficiency of the army would be largely increased.

west of the Mississippi river and the great tide of settlers which has flowed in upon new territory impose upon the military an entire change of policy. The maintenance of small posts along wagon and stage-routes of travel is no longer necessary. Permanent quarters at points selected of a more substantial character than those heretofore constructed will be required. Under existing laws permanent buildings cannot be erected without the sanction of congress, and when sales of military sites and buildings have been authorized, the moneys received have reverted to the treasury, and could only become available through a new appropriation. It is recommended that provision be made, by a general statute, for the sale of such abandoned military posts and buildings as are found to be directed to the construction of other posts. While many of the present posts are of but slight value for military purposes, owing to the changed condition of the country, their occupation is continued at great expense and inconvenience, because they afford the only available shelter for troops.

The absence of a large fumber of officers of the line, ha active duty, from their regiments, is a serious netriment to the n is asked to the nec and liberal appropriations are recommen in this behalf. The reports of the adju-general of the army and the chief of order touching this subject fully set forth its im-pay of commissary sergeants. An appro-ation is needed to supply the judge advo-ses of the army with suitable libraries, and priation is heeded to supply the judge advocates of the army with suitable libraries, and the secretary recommends that the corps of judge advocates be placed upon the same footing as to promotion with the other stail corps of the army. Under existing laws the bureau of military justice consists of one officer, the judge advocate general and the corps of judge advocates of eight officers of equal rank (majors), with a provision that the limit of the corps shall remain at four when reduced by casuality or resignation to that number. The consolidation of the bureau of military justice and the corps of judge advocates, upon the same basis with the other staff corps of the army, would remove an unjust discrimination against deserving officers, and subserve the best interests of the service.

Especial attention is asked to the report of the chief of engineers upon the condition of our chief of engineers upon the condition of our national defenses. From a personal inspection of many of the fortifications referred to the secretary is able to emphasize the recommendations made and to state that their incomplete and defenseless condition. tions made and to state that their incomplete and defenseless condition is discreditable to the country. While other nations have been increasing their means for carrying on offensive warfare and attacking maritime cities, we have been dormant in preparations for defense; nothing of importance has been done toward strengthening and finishing our casemated works since our late civil war, during which the great guns of modern warfare and the heavy armor of modern fortifications and ships came into use among nations, and our earthworks left, by a sudden failure of appropriations some years since, in all stages of incompletion, are now being rapidly destroyed by the elements.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The two great rivers of the North America ontinent, the Mississippi and the Columbia, have their navigable waters wholly within the limits of the United States, and are of vast importance to our internal and foreign commerce. The permanency of the important work on the south pass of the Mississippi river seems now to be assured. There has been no failure whatever in the maintenance of the maximum channel during the six months ended August 9 last. This experiment has opened a broad deep high. nel during the six months ended August 9 last. This experiment has opened a broad, deep highway to the ocean, and is an improvement upon the permanent success of which congratulations may be exchanged among people abroad and at home, and especially among the communities of the Missippi valley, whose commercial exchanges float in an unobstructed channel safely to and from the sea.

A comprehensive improvement of the Missip

A comprehensive improvement of the Mississippi and its tributaries is a matter of transcendent importance. These great water ways comprise a system of inland transportation spread like net-work over a large portion of the United States, and navigable to the extent of many thousands of miles. Producers and consumers alike have a common interest in such unequalled facilities for cheap transportation. Geographically, commercially and positions. consumers alike have a common interest in such unequalled facilities for cheap transportation. Geographically, commercially and politically they are the strongest tie between the various sections of the country. These channels of communication and interchange are the property of the nation. Its jurisdiction is paramount over their waters, and the plainest principles of public interest require their intelligent and careful supervision, with a view to their protection, improvement and the enhancement of their usefulness.

The country of the columbia river, for a distance of about 100 miles from its mouth, is obstructed by a succession of bars, which occasion serious delay in navigation, and heavy expense for lighterage and towage. A depth of at least 20 feet at low tide should be secured and maintained, to meet the requirements of at which the straits of Fuca and San Francisco at which the necessities of commerce, local and general, will be best accommodated. The am-ount appropriated is thought to be quite in-adequate for the purpose intended. The cost of the work when finished will be very great, owing to the want of natural advantages for a site at any point on the cost. a site at any point on the coast between the designated limits, and it has not been thought to be advisable to undertake the work without a larger appropriation. I commend the matter to the attention of congress.

NEW WAR DEPARTMENT BUILDINGS. The completion of the new building for the war department is urgently needed, and the estimates for continuing its construction are especially recommended.

The collections of books, specimens, and records constituting the army medical museum and library are of national importance. The and norary are of national importance. The library now contains about fifty-one thousand five hundred (51,500) volumes and fifty-seven thousand (57,000) pamphlets relating to medicine, surgery, and allied topics. The contents of the army medical museum consists of twenty-two thousand (22,000) specimens, and are unique in the completeness with which both military surgery and the diseases of armies are illustrated. Their destruction would be an irreparable loss, not only to the United States, but to the world. There are filed in the record and pension division over sixteen thousand (16,000) bound volumes of hospital records, and (16,000) bound volumes of hospital records, together with a great quantity of papers, embracing the original records of the hospitals of our armies during the civil war. Aside from their historical value, these records are daily searched for evidence peeded in the settlement of a large number of pension and other claims, for the protection of the government against attempted frauds, as well as for the benefit of honest claimants. These valuable collections are now in a building which is peculiarly exposed to the danger of destruction by fire. It is therefore earnestly recommended that an appropriation be made for a new fire-proof building, adequate for the present needs and reasonable future expansion of these valuable collections. Such a building should be absolutely fire-proof; no expenditure for mere architectural display is required. It is believed that a suitable structure can be erected at a cost not to exceed $250,000.

wise, firm and patriotic conduct did so much to bring that momentous conflict to a close. The legislation of the United States contains many precedents for the recognition of distin-guished military merit, authorizing rank and emoluments to be conferred for eminent ser-

The report of the secretary of the navy exhibits the successful and satisfactory management of that department during the last fiscal year. The total expenditures for the year were $12,916,639 45, leaving unexpended at the close of the year $2,141,682 23 of the amount of available appropriation.

with Central and South America, which are rapidly growing in importance. Locations eminently suitable, both as regards our naval purposes and the uses of commerce, have been selected, one on the east side of the isthmus at Chiriqui layoon, in the Caribbean sea, and the other on the Pacific coast at the bay of Goiff. The only safe harbors, sufficiently commodious, on the isthmus, are at these points, and the distance between them is less than 100 miles. The report of the secretary of the navy concludes with valuable suggestions with respect to the building up of our merchant marine service, which deserves the favorable consideration of congress.

The Postal service.

The report of the postmaster general exhibits the continual growth of the high state of efficiency of the postal service. The operations of no department of the government, perhaps, represent with greater exactness the increase in the population and the business of the country. In 1860, the postal receipts were $8,518,067 40; in 1880, the receipts were $33,315,479 34. All the inhabitants of the country are directly and personally interested in having proper mail facilities, and naturally watch the post office very closely. This careful oversight on the part of the people has proved a constant stimulus to improvement. During the past year there was an increase of 2,134 postoffices and the mail routes were extended 27,177 miles, making an additional annual transportation of 10,804.19 miles. The revenues of the postal service for the ensuing year are estimated at $38,8.5, 174 10, and the expenditure at $42,475,332 leaving a deficiency to be appropriated out of the treasury of $3,680,707 90

The universal postal anion has received the accession of almost all the countries and colonies of the world maintaining organized postal services, and it is confidently expected that all the other countries and colonies now outside the union will soon unite therewith, thus realizing the grand idea and aim of the founders of the union of forming for purposes of international mail communication, a single postal territory embracing the world, with complete uniformity of postal charges, and conditions of international exchange, for all descriptions of correspondence. To enable the United States to do its full share of work, additional regislation[is asked by the postmaster general, to whose recommendation especial attention is called.

The suggestion of the postmaster general, that it would be wise to encourage, by appro-

The suggestion of the postmaster general, that it would be wise to encourage, by appropriate legislation, the establishment of American lines of steamers by our own citizens, to carry the mails between our own ports and those of Mexico, Central America, South America and of trans-Pacific countries, is commended to the serious consideration of the serious consideration. ed to the serious consideration of congress.

and maintained, to meet the requirements of the extensive and growing inland and ocean commerce it subserves. The most urgent need, however, for this great water-way is a permanent improvement of the channel at the mouth of the river.

From Columbia river to San Francisco, a distance of over 600 miles, there is no harbor on our Pacific coast which can be approached during stormy weather. An appropriation of $150,000 was made by the 45th congress for the commencement of a breakwater and harbor of refuge, to be located at some point between the straits of Fuca and San Francisco at which the necessities of commerce, local and general, will be best accommodated. The amount appropriated is thought to be quite in the circuit pludges and that an intermediate appellate court should be formed in each circuit, to consist of the circuit judges and the circuit justice, and that in the event of the absence of either of these judges the place of the absent judge should be supplied by the judge of one of the district courts in the circuit. Such an appellate court should be formed in each circuit, to consist of the circuit justice, and that in the extent of the absence of either of these judges the place of the absent judge should be supplied by the judge of one of the district courts in the circuit. Such an appellate court should be supplied by the judge of one of the district courts in the circuit. Such an appellate court should be safely invested with large jurisdiction, and its decisions would satisfy sultors in many cases where appeals would still be allowed to the supreme court. The expense incurred for this intermediate court will require a very moderate increase of the appropriations for the expenses of the department of justice. This recommendation is commended to the careful consideration of congress.

It is evident that a delay of justice, in many instances oppressive and disastrous to suitors, now necessarily occurs in the federal courts, which will in this way be remedied.

INDIAN APPATRS The report of the secretary of the interior presents an elaborate account of the operations of that department for the past year. noteworthy exceptions, has been orderly and peaceful. The guerilla warfare carried on for two years by Victorio and his band of southern Apaches has virtually come to an end by the death of that chief and most of his followers, on Mexican soil. The disturbances cansed on our northern frontier by Sitting Bull and his men, who had taken refuge in the British dominions, are also likely to cease. A large misjority of his followers have surrendered to our military forces, and the remainder are apparently in progress of disintegration.

I concur with the secretary of the interior in expressing the careest hope that congress will at this session take favorable action on the bill providing for the allotment of lands on the different reservations in severalty to the Indians, with patents conferring fer-nimple title insticuable for a certain period, and the eventual disposition of the residue of the reservations for general settlement, with the consent and for the benefit of the Indians, placing the latter under the equal protection of the laws of the country. This measure, to gether with a vigorous prosecution of our education I efforts, will work the most important and effective advance toward the solution of the Indian problem in preparing for the gradual merging of our Indian population in the great body of American citizenship.

THE PUBLIC LANDS.

A large increase is reported in the disposal of public lands for settlement during the past year, which marks the prosperous growth of our sgricultural industry and a vigorous movement of population toward our unoccupied lands. As this movement proceeds the codification of our land laws, as well as proper legislation to regulate the disposition of public lands, become of more preasing necessity, and I therefore invite the consideration of congress to the report and the accompanying draft of a bill made by the public lands commission, which were communicated by me commission, which were communicated by me to congress at the last session. Early action upon this important subject is highly desir-

The attention of congress is again asked the attention of congress is again asked to the wasteful depredations committed on ou-public timber-lands, and the rapid and indis-criminate destruction of our forests. The urg-ent necessity for legislation to this end is now ent necessity for legislation to this end is now generally recognized. In view of the lawless character of the depredations committed and the disastrous consequences which will inevitably follow their continuance, legislation has again and again been recommended to stress the evil, and to preserve for the people of our western states and territories the timber needed for domestic and other essential uses.

The report of the director of the geological survey is a document of unusual interest. The consolidation of the various geological and geographical surveys and exploring enterprises, each of which has heretofore operated upon an independent plan, without concert, cannot fail to be of great benefit to all those industries of the country which depend upon the development of our mineral resources. The labors of the scientific men of recognized merit who compose the corps of the geological survey during the first season of their field of crations and inquiries, appear to have been very comprehensive, and will soon be communicated to congress in a number of volumes. The director of the survey recommends that the investigations carried on by his umes. The director of the survey recommends that the investigations carried on by his bureau, which so far have been confined to the so-called public land states and territories, be extended over the entire country, and that the necessary appropriation be made for this pur, ose. This would be partisularly leneficial to the iron, coal and other mining interests of the Musicainei valley and of the cert the renting of private buildings in different parts of the city for the location of public offices, for which a large amount of rent is annually paid, while the separation of offices belonging to the same department impedes the transaction of current business. The secretary suggests that the blocks surrounding Lafayette square on the east, north, and west, be purchased as the sites for new edifices for the accommodation of the government offices, leaving the square itself intact; and that if such buildings were constructed upon a harmonious plan of architecture, they would add much to the beauty of the national capitol, and would, together with the treasury and the new state, navy, and war department building, form one of the most imposing groups of public edifices in the world.

EDECATION.

The commissione: of education reports a continued increase of public interest in educational affairs, and that the public schools generally throughout the country are well sustained. Indu trial training is attracting deserved attention, and colleges for instruction, theoretical and pratical, in agriculture at the mechanic arts, including the government schools recently established for the naturation of Indian youth, are gaining steadily in public estimation. The commissioner asks special attention to the depredations committed on the lands reserved for the future support of public instruction, and to the very great need of help from the nation for schools in the territories and in the southern states. The recommendation heretofore made, is repeated and urged, that an educational fund be set apart from the net proceeds of the sales of the public lands annually, the income of which, and the remainder of the net annual proceeds, to be distributed on some satisfactory plan to the states and territories and the District of Columbia. District of Columbia.

The District of Columbia.

The success of the public schools of the District of Columbia, and the progress made, under the intelligent direction of the board of education and the superintendent, in supplying the educational requirements of the district, with thoroughly trained and efficient teachers, is very gratifying. The acts of congress, from time to time, donating public lands to the several states and territories in aid of educational interests, have proved to be wise measures of public policy, resulting in great and lasting benefit. It would seem to be a matter of simple justice to extend the benefits of this legislation, the wisdom of which has been so fully vindicated by experience, to the District of Columbia.

I again commend the general interests of the District of Columbia' to the favorable consideration of congress. The affairs of the District, as shown by the report of the commissioners are in a very satisfactory condition. THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

In my annual messages heretofore, and in my special message of December 19, 1879 I have urged upon the attention of congress the necessity of reciaiming the marshes of the Potomac adjacent to the capital, and I am constrained by its importance to advert again to the subject. These flats embrace an area of several hundred acres. They are an impediment to the drainage of the city, and seriously impair its health. It is believed that, with this substantial improvement of its river front, the capital would be, in all respects, one of the most attractive cities in the world. Aside from its permanent population, this city is necessarily the place of reindence of persons from every section of the country, engaged in the public service. Many others rethe city, the consumption by government is necessarily very great in the navy yard, arsenal and the various departments, and a large quantity is required for the proper preservation of the numerous parks and the cleansing of sewers. I recommend that this subject receive the early attention of congress, and that in making provision for an increased supply, such means be adopted as will have in view the future growth of the city. Temporary expedients for such a purpose cannot but the wasteful of money, and therefore unwise. A more ample reservoir, with corresponding facilities for keeping it filled, should, in my judgement, be constructed. I commend again to the attention of congress the subject of the removal, from their present location, of the depots of the several railroads entering the city; and I renew the recommendations of my former messages in behalf of the erection of a building for the congressional library; the completion of the Washington monument; and of liberal appropriations in support of the benevolent, reformatory and penal institutions of the District.

Brockway, charged with having been concerned in the counterfeiting of $204,000 worth of United States bonds, obtained his release upon simply surrendering the 25 plates from which the counterfeit bonds were printed. Brockway admitted, it is said, that there were 250 of the $1,000 counterfeit bonds printed, of which 204 were found in the possession of Doyle, in Chicago. He did not know where the remaining 46 were. The examination of Owens, accused of printing the bonds, takes place December 1.

The census of Alaska shows a population o 30,000, of whom not more than 300 are whites Lucy Emetine Meeker convicted at Montpelier, Vt., of poisoning her 11-year-old daughter with strychnine. The testimony was horrible in the extreme. Her son Almon was an accessory, and confessed all.

The law of Georgia provides that the electoral college shall "meet on the first Monday in December so as to be ready to vote on the following Wednesday," which bull-headed provision didn't work this year for obvious reasons.

Extract from the Army and Navy Journal No. 10, Oct. 9th, 1880.

CAPT. MAX HOCHGRAUF, late of the Detail Light Guard, has compiled a Manual of Island Tactics for the non-commissioned efficers at soldiers of the Michigan National for d. It is hand book for the rank and file of the miss showing what are the rights and details, because obtain the former and perform the last. Late by enabling them to sees, promotion and disjustion in the service. It is compiled from the faction, Regulations, and Customs of the Service, S. Army, and of the Michigan militia. Insidding to the school of the sound and company, is and of arms and bayonet exercise, the customs of service, duties in camp and garrison enguisms guard mounting, are fully explained. It is pocket edition, and will be found of prest value not only to the militia of Michigan, but to every non-com, officer and soldier, regular or National Guard.

His Coffin,—Some people appears find real enjoyment in keeping a complooking at it daily, trying it on to see how it fits,, etc. The irrepressible appears to the complex of the like heads. Bernhardt, when she feels like having a little quiet fun, lays down in a com and fancies herself in a graveyard. It and rancies herself in a graveyard. It must be extremely edifying, and a Artemus Ward would say, 'for those who like that sort of a thing, this must be the sort of thing they would like.'

Now, a West Virginia man carried this coffin business to the extreme limits of felicity. About thirty five respectively. it of felicity. About, thirty-five year ago he planted two seeds to raise his own coffin. One of these died, which was a pity, for he might have raised coffin for his wife at the same time; but the other flourished and grev. From a shoot it became a sapling, and finally, in the finally, in the course of thirty year, 1 fine tree. About eighteen months and a severe wind-storm prostrated the tree. He had it cut into lumber and sent to a Pittsburg firm. In a short time it was returned to him in the shape of a beautiful coffin. Of course there was nothing left for him too but to die and be buried in the spec-men of home production. "Ma, are we Canit als?" asked alittle Woodward avenue girl of her mother the other mor ing. Why my child what do you mean? "Nothing, only! heard you say to Bridget, "boy legs for breakfast."
