

Notice.—All communications, local notices, and advertisements must be handed in on Monday of each week, to insure that week's publication. The above rules will be strictly adhered to.

Legal Printing.—Persons having legal advertising to do, should remember that it is not necessary that it should be published at the county seat—any paper published in the county will answer. In all matters transpiring in this vicinity, the interest of the advertisers will be better served, by having the notices published in their home paper, than to take them to a paper that is not as generally read in their vicinity, besides it is the duty of every one to support home institutions as much as possible.

To Correspondents.

Correspondents will please write on one side of the paper only. No communication will be published unless accompanied with the real name and address of the author, which we require, not for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

All communications should be addressed to "THE HERALD," Chelsea, Washburn Co., Mich.

Our Common Wealth.

BY WILL, THE POOR SCHOLAR.

God bless the children all—
Light of our home,
Where their soft footsteps fall
Sins should not come.
Like oases in desert bare
They live to drive away our care,
But feed our souls on richer fare.

Where'er the rising sun
Sends forth his light,
And when the day is done
Gives place to night,
Where the little children live
Brighter rays than he gave—
Gaudier radiance we receive.

Where polar icebergs float
Shrouded in snow,
And the rough bearskin coat
Due warmth bestow,
There the children's bonnie smile
Dark days and twilight nights beguile,
Melting cold heart bergs all the while.

Where equatorial beam
Makes constant spring,
And sparkling streamlets gleam,
And bright birds sing,
Birdling, nor brook, nor constant spring
Would make a true accordant ring
If children's voices did not sing.

Some safe make gems and gold
With lock and key;
Then greater treasures hold
For demon's prey:
Loving—and yet unloving too,
Guardians—yet leaving pitfalls through
Which the loved ones are lost to view.

Oil for consistency—
Jewel so fair
We fain would cherish thee:
With Zealous care;
Nor let a love for greed of gold,
Or passions of a baser mold,
Make us from living wealth loose hold.

Heart hath not yet conceived,
Ear hath not heard,
Nor speaking tongue reprinted
One tell-tale word
Of the bright carnival that gleams
Off this world's stage, behind the scenes,
Prepared by unseen ways and means.

The hidden mystery—
A glad surprise,
When from this tent-home free,
Will greet our eyes
Who can say when from earth's bonds free
Here Lord's the trust Thou hast given me,
I now return Thine own to Thee.

Full wages He will give,
When freed from strife
We in His presence live
The after life:
Leaving earth's load at heaven's own gate,
From labors hard and suffering great
Taught how "to labor and to wait."

Up, this is not your rest,
These moments fly,
Live for the brightest—best—
Faith's chivalry:
The waiting time will not be long
The right must triumph over wrong
Then learn to "suffer and be strong."

Village Board.

CHelsea Village,
June 5, 1882.

Village Board met in their room in regular session June 5th, 1882.

Present—J. L. Gilbert, President.
Present Trustees—Vogel, Palmer, Van Antwerp, Cushman and Robert.

Absent Trustee—Guerin.
Minutes of two last meetings read and approved.

The committee on finance to whom was referred the bill of W. F. Hatch as assessor for the year of 1882, recommended that the bill be allowed at thirty (30) dollars, and an order drawn on the treasurer for the amount, to be paid out of any moneys in his hands belonging to contingent fund, and that the bill of Jas. L. Gilbert be allowed at four (4) dollars, and an order drawn on the treasurer for the amount, to be paid out of any moneys in his hands belonging to contingent fund.

Moved and supported, that the report of finance committee to whom was referred the bills of W. F. Hatch and J. L. Gilbert be accepted and adopted—carried.

Moved and supported, that the bill of Thos. McNamara Sr. be referred to finance committee—carried.

Moved and supported, that the following bills for road work as certified by the village marshal be allowed, and orders drawn on the treasurer for the several amounts, to be paid out of carried.

Moved and supported, that the following bills as read by the clerk be allowed, and orders drawn on the treasurer for the several amounts, to be paid out of any moneys in his hands belonging to contingent fund, to wit:

G. H. Foster,	$.60
Geo. W. Turn Bull,	12.50
Geo. W. Turn Bull,	26.20
M. M. Campbell,	5.80
A. Allison,	1.75
J. D. Schnaitman,	10.00

carried.

Moved and supported, that an order be drawn on the treasurer in favor of Geo. H. Foster for thirty (30) dollars in payment of salary as village marshal for the month of May 1882, to be paid out of any moneys in his hands belonging to contingent fund—carried.

Moved and supported, that an order be drawn on the treasurer for forty nine (49) dollars in favor of Fred. Vogel, chairman of committee on moving Mrs. Ed. Winters house, to be paid out of any moneys in his hands belonging to contingent fund, the same to be paid over to Mr. Armstrong on satisfactory performance of work—carried.

Moved and supported, that ditch on east side of Main street south of the McNamara ditch be cleaned out—carried.

Moved and supported, that Geo. H. Foster be allowed five (5) dollars per month extra for five (5) months, from June 1st, '82, to Oct. 30th, '82—carried.

Moved and supported, that the Board now adjourn until its next regular meeting, subject to special calls by the President—carried.

J. D. SCHNAITMAN, Clerk.

WHAT TO TEACH THE CHILDREN.

Teach them to be polite. Teach them that there is nothing but goodness of heart, of so much durability as a pleasing deportment. They will lose the idea after awhile that it is smart to be pert and boisterous, and take pride in being little ladies and gentlemen. Teach them to say "how do you do" or "good morning" to everybody they meet with whom they are acquainted; never to contradict, whisper, hum, beat a tattoo with the fingers on the furniture, or roll round in lounging attitudes in company; to say "yes ma'am," "no sir," "what ma'am," "if you please," "thank you" and "excuse me," if it is necessary to pass before any one, or leave the table before the rest; and never to do any of things for which it is necessary to ask to be excused unless it is absolutely unavoidable. Not to toss things instead of handing them; not to eat with the knife; not to meddle with things which belong to others; not to listen to anything not intended for their ears; not to refuse to give the whole to a visitor when half will not do. A polite child is the best of companions; but a rude one is a troublesome nuisance and will find himself learning at eighteen or twenty, things which should have been taught him when a child.

QUIETING THE INSANE.

Among the inmates of a Western Insane Asylum is a man who is often perfectly sensible, and when accosted at such times causes visitors to wonder why he is confined there. This inmate entered into conversation with a caller whose dress proclaimed him a clergyman. Said the madman: "It was too bad, was it not, the killing of Grant at Chicago?" "It was," said the minister, who followed the accepted custom of assenting to the statements of lunatics for peace sake. "Hays was assassinated at Cincinnati, was he not?" again asked the lunatic. "Yes," replied the clergyman. "And was not Queen Victoria murdered in her palace?" To this query from the madman the clerical visitor once more answered in the affirmative. The lunatic named one after another, a dozen royal personages, all whom the clergyman was led to admit were put out of the way. Finishing his catechism, the madman turned to the clergyman and said fiercely: "Your dress would show you to be a minister, but you are the worst liar I ever met."

WARM AND COLD BATHS.

The physiological effects of warm and cold baths are thus noted by a writer in an English medical journal: Warm baths produce an effect upon the skin directly contrary to that which is brought about by cold water. The cutaneous vessels dilate immediately under the influence of the heat, and, although the dilation is followed by a contraction, this contraction is seldom excessive, and the ultimate result of a warm bath is to increase the cutaneous circulation. The pulse and respiration are both quickened by the cold bath. The warm bath increases the temperature of the body, and by lessening the necessity for the internal production of heat, it decreases the call which is made upon certain of the vital processes, and enables life to be sustained with less expenditure and force.

While a cold bath causes a certain stiffness of the muscles if continued too long, a warm bath relieves stiffness and fatigue. The final effect of both hot and cold baths, if there temperature be moderate, is the same, the difference being, to use the words of Braun, that "cold refreshes by stimulating the functions, heat by physically facilitating them," and in this lies the important difference between the cold water system and the thermal mode of treatment.

Manifestations of Fear.

It is said that the Emperor Charles the Fifth, reading an epitaph, "Here lies one who never knew fear," remarked, "Then he never snuffed a candle with his fingers." It is certainly a somewhat absurd, though a favorite claim of the popular hero, that "he never knew fear." No one possessing human nerves and brain could say this with truth, says the London Daily News. That a brave man never yields to the emotion may be true enough; but to say that at no period of his life he experienced fear is simply impossible. As Lord Lytton expresses it:

"It shames man not to feel man's mortal fear.
It shames man only if that fear subdue."

There is a story of a young recruit in the Thirty Years' War going into action for the first time in his life in the highest spirits. "Look at Johann," remarked one of his comrades, as the troops were drawn up ready to charge, "he is full of jokes; how brave he is." "Not at all," replied the veteran addressed; "he knows nothing of what is coming. You and I, old comrade, are far braver; we sit still on our horses though we are terribly afraid."

Fear certainly is one of the most irrational of the passions. It is not always excited by the presence of danger. Men who can be cool and collected in cases of real peril will tremble in cases of fanciful alarm. The Duke of Schomberg could face an enemy with ready courage, but fled from a room if he saw a cat in it. A very brave French officer fainted at the sight of a mouse. The author of the "Turkish Spy" states that if he had a sword in his hand he would rather encounter a lion in the desert than be alone in a room with a spider. Many people have similar fanciful antipathies, which excite their fears in a manner real danger would be powerless to do. Fear or infection is a dread that embitters the lives of many sensible people. There is a legend of an Eastern dervish, who, knowing that the plague was about to visit a certain city, bargained with the disease that only a specified number of victims should fall. When twice the number perished, the plague explained its apparent breach of contract by asserting that "Fear killed the rest." In all times of epidemics doctors can tell similar tales. During the great plague of 1665 '66, an unfortunate man died purely from fright; a practical joker who met him in the street pretended to discover the fatal "spots" upon him, and the poor man went home and died, not of the disease, but of sheer terror. A long obituary list might be compiled of the victims of fear from the criminal in the Middle Ages, who, reprieved after he had laid his head on the block, was found to have died ere the axe could touch him; down to the poor nun mentioned by Horace Walpole, whose disreputable abbess literally "frightened her to death" by visiting her at night, and telling her that she was dying.

The Irish Thirst for Gore.—An Englishman landed at Dublin a few months ago filled with apprehension that the life of any loyal subject of her Majesty was not worth a farthing there and thereabout. The Land Leaguers, he imagined, were all blood-thirsty assassins, and all that sort of thing. But it was his duty to travel in the land—a duty he approached with fear and trembling. Now, there happened to be on his route a number of towns, the names of which begin with the suggestive syllable "Kil." There were Kilmartin and so on. In his ignorance of nomenclature his affrighted senses were startled anew on hearing a fellow passenger in the railway carriage remark to another as follows:

"I'm just after bein' over to Kilpatrick."

"And I," replied the other, "am after bein' over to Kilmarney."

"What murderers they are!" thought the Englishman. "And to think that they talk of their assassinations so publicly!"

But the conversation went on.

"And there are you goin' now?" asked assassin No. 1.

"I'm goin' home, and then to Kilmore," was No. 2's reply.

The Englishman's blood curdled.

"Kilmore, is it?" added No. 1.

"You'd better be comin' along wud me to Kilmaule!"

It is related that the Englishman left the train at the next station, probably to go back to the tight little island and report an alarming increase in the number of outrages in Ireland.

Wouldn't it be a fine idea for the town board to erect a railing around the cellar of the burnt district of this village, for fear some one might find it some night and fall into it, and thus impose a heavy tax upon the corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Steinbach wishes to tender their thanks to the Chelsea Cornet band, for their beautiful music rendered on Friday evening, at their home in Chelsea.

CAND.—Mrs. Hooker thanks her friends for their assistance in helping to save her goods at time of the late fire—and also for the liberal patronage they have always bestowed—and wishes them to call at her new room in R. S. Armstrong's drug and grocery store—Mr. A. having kindly made room for her, greatly to his disadvantage.

MARRIED.

Married at the residence of the brides mother in Sylvan, June 1st, 1893, by Rev. E. A. Gay, BURNETT STEINBACH to Miss ADA GUTHRIE. All of Sylvan.

A most happy affair was the marriage of Mr. Burnett Steinbach of Chelsea to Miss Ada Guthrie, June 1st, at the residence of the brides mother three miles west of Chelsea. At promptly nine o'clock p. m. the guests, mostly relatives, were called in the parlor to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Elder Gay of Chelsea, it was brief, but very impressive—hearty congratulations followed by friends present.

After which the company were invited to a sumptuous repast, to which they did ample justice. Supper over the company were entertained with instrumental music, prominent among which was a solo (home sweet home) played on the violin by Master Henry Steinbach, assisted by his father. The company enjoyed themselves until the wee sma' hours of morning, when they dispersed to their respective homes—the newly wedded pair betook themselves to their residence in Chelsea, Friday eve., June 2nd. The Chelsea Cornet Band were invited to give the newly married couple a serenade the rain preventing them playing out-doors, they were invited in the house, where they rendered some fine music, after which they were invited to partake of some refreshments. Refreshments over, they played a few more select pieces, and then dispersed, wishing the young couple a long and happy life.

[The editor and family wish the young married couple happiness and success through life, and that all their troubles may be little ones—and also return thanks for "tis sweet to be remembered."]

NEW BROOM.—Glazier DePuy & Co. Chemists are fitting up the bank drug store in city style. It will be the finest drug store (excepting possibly one in Grand Rapids and one in Detroit) in the State, and really the most convenient in its appointments. They are also fitting up a complete laboratory over the savings bank for the manufacturing of medicines and chemicals, with all the necessary appliances for chemical and microscopic analysis, which is growing more and more in demand in modern science of treatment of disease by physicians.

The proprietors are both young and careful men, and are thoroughly educated in their profession of chemists.

Much praise is merited by Edward L. Negus the architect, and John Hoyer for the original design and beautiful finish of the interior of the store, to which effect the addition of paint and gilding by the magic touch of James Harrington Jr., there seems nothing wanting to make it pleasant to the patron to buy even bitter medicines there. By the way Mr. Negus has demonstrated in his designs for the above store and the Chelsea savings bank office, that he possesses much originality and excellent good taste in his work.

Everybody's Going To Ann Arbor. TO SEE THE HANDSOMEST WOMAN IN THE WORLD, AND 22 PERFORMING ELEPHANTS, 1,000 WILD BEASTS, COLOSSAL CIRCUS IN TWO RINGS, AND GRAND FREE PROCESSION OF INDUSTRY, AT ANN ARBOR.

The Great Forepaugh Show exhibits at Ann Arbor Wednesday, June 14th.

In addition to a grandly great circus in two great rings, and a monster menagerie of 1,000 wild beasts, all transported by four great railway trains, there is to be a great, grand, free Procession on the day Forepaugh exhibits there. Every town in this county will be represented in this huge, highway holiday parade. In addition to this, the great pageants of "Cleopatra" and "Lalla Rookh" will be presented in the show parade. This latter spectacle is described as being the most gorgeous ever seen upon the streets of an American city.

The loveliest lady in the land has been secured to personify the beautiful Eastern Princess, Lalla Rookh, whom poets describe as "more beautiful than any of those heroines whose names and loves embellish the songs of Persia and Hindostan; more perfect than the divinest images of the House of Azor." In this gorgeous, glittering, oriental pageant, Lalla Rookh is seen reclining in her sumptuous howdah, borne aloft upon the back of a ponderous and kingly elephant, the largest on this continent, whose embroidered velvet trappings touch the ground; a fair young female slave sits fanning the Princess through the rose-colored veils, with feathers of argus-plumage's wings, and the lovely troupe of Tartarian and Cashmere maidens of honor ride upon each side of the Princess upon small Arabian horses. Rajahs and Mogul Lords follow, accompanied by Cavaliers in costly armor, mounted upon

"Steeds with their housings of rich silver spun, Their chains and poitrels glittering in the sun."

And Camels laden o'er with Yemen's shells, Shaking in every breeze their light-tinted bells."

In keeping with the author of Lalla Rookh's description of this grand, glittering, lavish and luxurious spectacle, are seen the Guards of the Great Kedah Kahn, with their silver battle-axes, and maces of gold, followed by the Great Nazir, or Chamberlain of the Harem, and the retinue of the Court of Delhi, mounted upon elephants, camels and Arabian horses, decorated in oriental trappings, and bearing aloft the royal standards—the entire scene recalling to the beholder the glories and the grandeur of the distant Indies; the whole forming the magnificent, picturesque and realistic oriental spectacle ever presented in the New World, requiring the expenditure of a hundred thousand dollars in its preparation, eclipsing all displays of pageantry ever produced by any exhibition, and in itself worth miles of travel to behold. Remember, this superb spectacle is presented daily, between the hours of 9 and 10 a. m., and is a great, grand, gorgeous, free public festival for all to look at and admire.

LECTURE TO YOUNG MEN On the Loss of MANHOOD

A lecture on the nature, Treatment, and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, or Spuria, or Gonorrhea, induced by self-abuse, involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Debility, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordials; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents and two postage stamps. Address THE CULVERWELL MEDICAL CO., 41 Ann St., New York.

Post Office Box, 450. 18

THE GREAT APPETIZER, TONIC, AND COUGH CURE FOR COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, AND ALL Diseases OF THE THROAT, CHEST AND LUNGS.

The BALM of TOLU has always been one of the most important weapons wielded by the Medical Faculty against the encroachments of the above Diseases, but has never been so advantageously compounded as in LAWRENCE & MARTIN'S TOLU, ROCK and RYE. Its soothing Balm properties afford a diffusive stimulant, apectorant and tonic, to build up the system after the cough has been relieved.

GREEN'S BALM, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., Jan. 26th, 1890, says: "TOLU, ROCK and RYE is an agreeable Remedy in Pectoral complaints and is classed as a medicinal preparation under the U. S. Revised Statutes, and when so stamped, may be sold by DRUGGISTS, GROCERS, and other persons, without special law, or license."

CAUTION! Don't be deceived by dealers who try to palm off Rock and RYE, or LAWRENCE & MARTIN'S TOLU, ROCK and RYE—which is the only MEDICATED article made—the genuine has their name on the Proprietary stamp on each bottle.

Put up in Quart Size Bottles. Price $1.00. LAWRENCE & MARTIN, Proprietors, CHICAGO, ILL.

Sold by DRUGGISTS and GENERAL DEALERS Everywhere. FECHHEIMER BROS., Detroit, and HART & AMBURG, Grand Rapids, Stat Agents.
