My Sixty Years.

My sixty years! My sixty years! Shall I look back with joy or tears Across life's track, at duties done, At battles lost and victories won? At hopes that blossomed but to fade; Or, at the fruit that now appears, Of seed well sown, in sixty years;

My sixty years! My sixty years! What lights and shadows, hopes and fears, What glimpses of the good and true, What friendships all the journey through, What mercies have around me shone, What honest hands have clasped my own, Since that eventful time, below; My birthday, sixty years ago!

The man who lets the days pass by From youth to late maturity, In carelessness of acts and deeds, Unmindful of his nature's needs; When opportunity has gone, And still the days are passing on, Will never know, as evening nears, What may be done in sixty years.

My sixty years! My sixty years! The western horizon now clears, And I can see with calmer eyes, The hand that leads me toward the skies; And listening, I can hear to-day, A still small voice, that seems to say: "What man hath sown he reaps, alone; In sixty years, what have you sown?" Mrs. M. A. KIDDER, From Demorest's Monthly.

"HELLO!"

Shall We Have a Telephone Line?

Since we mentioned the fact that there was talk of constructing a telephone line from this place to Ann Arbor, which would give us telephonic connection with Ypsilanti and Detroit. Since that time not much has been said of the matter until a few days since, when Mr. T. J. Keech, of Ann Arbor, the general superintendent of the Michigan telephone line, visited our town and began talking up the matter with our business men, the majority of whom were very favorably struck with the scheme.

The company does not ask a direct bonus, but merely wants a sufficient amount of patronage guaranteed them to warrant building the line. Their proposition is that the people of Chelsea guarantee them one thousand dollars' worth of business. This amount is to be taken in stock, to be paid upon completion of the line, after which the owners of stock are entitled to the use of the line to the amount of capital they have paid in. Thus in reality Chelsea is merely asked to buy one thousand dollars worth of tickets, to be paid for when the line is completed, after which the purchasers can use them as they are needed. These tickets, or coupons, are also transferable, so that in case a party leaves town, or should go out of business, he may dispose of them to others. The rates for the use of the line will be 15 cents for a five minute's talk with Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti and 25 cents with Detroit. Telephones are no longer an experiment, but are daily coming into more general use, which, together with the facts that the principal cost is the construction of the line, and also that the company building the above line is composed of solid, moneyed men of Detroit and other cities, gives us good reasons to believe that there is very little danger of the company "busting up," and the project proving a failure.

The advantage of such a line must surely be apparent to everybody. It would often save our business men a trip to the city, as by its use they could obtain prices and order goods direct from the jobbers, nearly as well as though they were there in person. Some may argue that we have the telegraph. That is true, but to transmit the amount of business by telegraph that may be done by telephone for 25 cents, would cost by telegraph nearly as much as a trip to Detroit.

To be telephonically connected with Detroit would often save our business men a trip to the city, which would be a saving as follows: R. R. fare $3.30, dinner 50c, one days time $2.00 (sometimes worth $5. to a man in business) total, $5.80, which amount does not include bus and car fare, cigars, etc., etc. $5.80 for 25 cents! Shall we have a telephone?

If our business men will only take hold of the matter there will be no trouble at all in securing the prize. We understand that several firms in town will take $500. of the $1,000 required, and the remaining $500, can surely be raised. Let us act promptly.

Others First.

How few practise this advice. A very large number of men—and some women—proceed on the principle of self first. They have acted on this principle so long that it has become second nature to them. They may read in the Bible that "the last shall be first," but it has no meaning to them. Whatever they do concerns themselves; their property, their ease, their pleasure. They have no heart for others' troubles. Their pity is never better than contempt. Their gifts never come from the heart. Their aims are always low because they do not take in the welfare of others. Personal gain, this is the great object of life. To die worth so much, say $100,000 or possibly $1,000,000, this is the goal and they press on to reach it. And, in many cases, they are measurably successful. For what a man sets his heart on he is likely to attain; and what he seeks to be that he is likely to become. And so, to gain his end, he labors hard and makes all about him labor hard, year after year, till death calls and he has to obey. A slave to his idea of success! This is true of more people than one would naturally think until he examines into the case.

And another class are forever looking out for their own comfort. If they are traveling in the cars, two of them will monopolize four seats with no thought of others who are anxiously looking for seats. Or they will open a window to get a little air and let the smoke and dust and cinders drive in on the occupants of the seats behind them, perfectly indifferent to their comfort. Or they are thinking of their food; happy if they get just what they wish, cross and peevish if they do not. Or they are taken up with dress and make all their friends miserable till they get what they want. And so we might continue, for the list of their wants is endless.

Now these various classes of people are not only disagreeable, but they are making a failure of life. Life should reach higher than self; should be more than attempts, successful or unsuccessful, to gratify personal ends. A true life may be measured, by the greatest good done to the greatest number. To accomplish personal ends, in so far as they do not conflict with the rightful interest of others, may be noble and right, and in the highest sense wise. Shall we not then seek wealth? Yes. Shall we not enjoy our life? Yes. Shall we not indulge in fine clothing and beautiful furniture? Yes. Do all these things, provided that they do not conflict with others' rights and interests.

But, instead of asking why not, rise to a higher plane and live for others and with their interests in view. Begin at home. Lighten the burdens of wife and mother. Instead of keeping them running to wait upon you, try to save their steps and do what you can to sweeten and brighten their lives. Make your wife's interests of equal importance with your own. Enter heartily into the thoughts of your boys and girls. You have it in you, I doubt not, to make a loving husband and kind father; to be a great deal better than you are; to be more like what you thought you would be when married life was a future dream.

If you are a wife and have been too much wrapped up in self, stop and think what you can do at home. All good things begin, or should begin at home. Fill the house with sweetness and light by your presence. It rests a man wonderfully to return home and meet a genial, happy wife, who is thoughtful of his comfort. And then, fathers and mothers, husbands and wives, let your affections and your kindly interest take in a wider circle. Think not only of each other, not only of the culture and training of your children, but take a kindly interest in your neighbor and in his well-being. In business, in society, in the church, there is room enough for thought and word and act. You will not be the loser in the long run. Cast your bread upon the waters. Always be ready to lend a helping hand. Stand by the truth, by all that makes for righteousness. Wear as kindly and as hopeful a face as you can, and do all the good possible. This policy pays. It pays a man in his own soul. Such a man may sing songs in the night and rejoice in the day. He gives help and comfort on every side. He will be loved. He will get help when himself in trouble. He will be remembered when he is dead. Dear reader, we can wish you no better thing in this life than to belong to this class. Love God and help make the world better.—Golden Rule.

Who Are the Commercial Men?

No class of men are watched closer and censured more severely than are the drummers. If those who are so prone to cast reflections upon this class will stop for a moment to consider the amount of work they do, and the hardships they endure for the sake of their families, we are sure the censure heaped upon them would be lessened to a considerable degree. Just follow one of these commercial men from the time he leaves home until his return, and one trip will be sufficient. To see him riding along on a passenger train or sitting in a hotel office looks very nice, when you happen to catch him there, but it is all work to him. He gets up in the morning, while everyone else is sleeping, at 2, 3 or 4 o'clock, and takes the early train. Traveling forty or fifty miles, eats his breakfast at some horrid place called a hotel, and is out on the street with his grip by the time the merchant comes to his store. As he must take the 10 o'clock freight to the next village, he works like a miler, selling half a dozen merchants what they need in his line. Taking the freight to the next point, he is side-tracked half a mile out, and compelled to carry his two grips into town, where, tired and out of breath, he hurries his work through in that place because he must go on the night train to the next town. It is thus that day after day in hundreds of places where our drummers drive the trade of to-day, and although it is not always observed by people of other pursuits, the drummer is harder worked than any other man in the country. Then, too, he is always expected to wear a smile for every one, and never be cross in his business transactions. If he complains of the country hotel, he is a "kicker." If he comes into town in the morning with his eyes looking heavy, after having been jerked around in a caboose all night, he has been "on a spree," and if a train is wrecked he is always there to be crushed beneath the flying debris. The drummer is the most patient man in the world. He never complains nor kicks at his treatment or the size of his bills. He knows it would avail him nothing, and no matter how much he may be insulted, the interest of his house and his own personal reputation, especially if he wishes to escape being termed a "crank," demands that he humbly submit to the inevitable. In conclusion it is but just to say that the drummer is as good as anybody else, and, considering his hardships, temptation, privation and opportunities, behaves much better than he gets credit for. It is to him that the wholesale business men of the country owe their prosperity and trade to-day, and without his monthly visits the retail merchants all over the country would scarcely know what to buy. To say the least, the commercial men of the country are entitled to better treatment than they receive at many hands.

A DANGEROUS CIGAR-LIGHTER.—Street hawkers, says the Scientific American, have lately taken to selling a "magic cigar-lighter," which is calculated to do much mischief. As every student knows, the affinity of sodium for oxygen is so great that it will take the coveted element from water with such rapidity as to cause it to burst into flame. The new lighter is a thin strip of sodium, a fragment of which, when placed on the end of a cigar and touched with water, burned with great vehemence. Few of those who buy the little vials of lighters are aware what vials of wrath they may turn out to be if unskillfully handled. The burning sodium will make an ugly wound if it comes in contact with the skin, which is likely to happen from the sputtering way it has. A sweaty finger is enough to set the stuff ablaze, or a sweaty pocket, should the cork of the bottle chance to come out. As the lighters are bought chiefly by the ignorant, who are taken by the seeming miracle of producing fire by the direct action of water, it is a wonder that no serious accidents with them have been reported. The traffic is not one to be encouraged.

A SALT MINE 2,000 YEARS OLD.—A mine has been found in the mountain near Salzberg, Austria, which gives indications of having been occupied and abandoned at least 2,000 years ago. It contains a large and confused mass of timbers, which were used for support, and a number of miners' implements. The timbers were noticed and sharpened, but were subject to an inundation and left in confused heaps. The implements were mainly wooden shovels, axes, handles, etc. Among the relics, also, was a basket made of untanned rawhide, a piece of cloth woven of coarse wool, the fibre of which is very even and still in good preservation, and a torch, bound together with flax-fibre. The probabilities are that the ancient salt-miners were overtaken by the flooding of the mine, as mummified bodies have been discovered, also. The find seems to have belonged to the pre-Roman times, as the axe-handles were evidently used for bronze axes, specimens of which have been found upon the surface of the mountain. The relics are of a high order, the basket being superior even to some that were used in the early historic times.—American Antiquarian.

either green or dry, is not eaten by cows with the same relish they show for orchard grass, redtop and timothy when these are properly grown. Perhaps clover is too rich, and they cannot eat so much of it, or perhaps it is most valuable as a part of a ration, like cotton-seed, meal, oilcake, and beans. We should certainly not recommend a farmer to give up his whole farm, nor all his best grass land to the production of clover, but it should form a larger part of the hay crop of the country.

On moist land that is really adapted to grass, timothy and redtop, especially the former, will make a full, or nearly full crop the first season after sowing the previous fall, but upon dry land it requires a year for the roots to get firmly established in the soil so as to produce a full crop. By the old method of seeding with grain in spring, the grass often had the first year to grow without being cut, and what was called the first cut, was really the second year of its growth. Green clover, especially if wet with rain or dew, should be fed with caution, as it is liable to ferment and cause bloating, and dusty, ill cured clover hay should not be fed to heavy horses; but properly cured, and judiciously fed as a part of the daily ration, it will always be acceptable to cattle, and it can be grown frequently where little else would grow.—New England Farmer.

NARROW ESCAPE OF A MASSACHUSETTS ENGINEER—TIMELY WARNING OF MR. JOHN SPENCER, BAGGAGE MASTER OF THE B. & A. R.R.

Marvelous Cure of Stone in the Bladder—Large Stones Removed by "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy."—The invention of Dr. Kennedy of Boston, Mass., for the cure of stone in the bladder, is now being used in all the hospitals of the world. Mr. Peter Lawler, of New York, has had a stone in his bladder for 15 years, and had consulted at different times seven physicians, but nothing beyond temporary relief of the pain had been worked. Towards the end of last January Mr. Lawler called on Dr. Kennedy, and after a few days' treatment, he was cured. He writes in a letter to Dr. Kennedy that he had been troubled with bladder stone for 15 years, and had consulted at different times seven physicians, but nothing beyond temporary relief of the pain had been worked. A Few Words To Our Readers.

With the current issue we take charge of the HERALD office. At present we will only say that we promise to make it one of the liveliest and wide-awake local newspapers in the county, and trust to receive the support of the business men and the reading public. Respectfully,
WM. EMMETT JR.

It is said that the fair held at Ann Arbor last week was a fa-ll-u-r-e.

Messrs. M. Foster & Son of Chelsea have lately purchased of George S. Wood of Lodi, thirty-six ewes of the original Wood flock which will no doubt make a good addition to their flock of blooded sheep.

REGISTRATION NOTICE.—To the electors of the township of Sylvan. The Legislature of 1881, passed an act amending the registration laws, requiring an entire re-registration of all electors before the election to take place on the 7th day of November next. Therefore notice is hereby given that the board of registration of the township of Sylvan, will be in session at the office of R. Kempf & Bro. Chelsea in said Township, on Saturday, November 4th, 1882, for the purpose of registering the names of the electors of said Township. The session will open at 9 o'clock A. M., and close at 5 o'clock P. M., of said day. Applications in person to the Township Clerk may be made on any week day, previous to said 4th day of November, when the names of electors will be received by him.

J. A. PALMER, Township Clerk.
Township Clerks Office, Chelsea, Oct. 4th, 1882.

POOR MEN'S WIVES.—The trouble is, none of our young women are willing to become poor men's wives professionally, even though they may be so in reality. The girl who marries upon a thousand dollars a year looks forward to a life spent in second-rate boarding houses, from which she will squeeze out a certain cheap domesticity and some expensive pleasures. The children which heaven may send are not thought of nor provided for. It is a question whether the young wife can make herself a dress or prepare herself a wholesome meal of victuals. She marries for freedom, to have a good time, spends money which she neither earns nor helps to earn—for heaven knows what—but certainly not to make a comfortable humble home for her husband. In this respect we consider the British girl has an immense advantage over the American. From the highest to the lowest circles of society in Britain, girls are trained to make good and useful wives. Inasmuch as ladies preside over the department of their households, and see that everything is kept clean and the food well cooked, so also in the lower classes, mothers teach their daughters to do the same for themselves, without suffering any loss of dignity in the doing of it. Many of our American girls will be surprised to learn that Princess Louise frequently makes her own pastry—and makes it well, too.

Free of Cost.

All persons wishing to test the merits of a great remedy—one that will positively cure consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, or any affection of the throat and lungs—are requested to call at Armstrongs drug store and get a trial bottle of Dr. King's New discovery for consumption free of cost, which will show you what a regular dollar-size bottle will do.

The new Postal Order bill promises to be a measure of real convenience to the public. Orders for a sum less than five dollars will cost three cents, and the service is extended so as to raise the limit of orders from fifty to one hundred dollars. Further, persons will not be required to fill out a blank as at present, for an order but will receive an order, payable to the bearer at the money office designated by the applicant. The new notes are to be handsomely engraved.—Grand Lake News.

James E. Mack, who has been accused of forgery in Jackson county, has also left aching hearts in St. Johns. He is alleged to have sold forged notes there as follows: John Hicks, $1,400; James H. Conn, $500; William Moore, $500; Shaver & Grison, $250. They allege that the name forged was that of James Yonders, a farmer and thrasher, formerly of Clinton county, but now living in a northern county. Mack has been a dealer in agricultural implements in Clinton, Gratiot and Jackson counties. He is now non est comestable.

Cole's Veterinary Carbolic Acid

Is always soft, easily applied and superior to any liniment for general stable use. It will cure any case of scratches, speed crack, or cracked heel. For reducing inflammation, and as a cure for cuts, wounds, galls and sores, it has no equal. Andrew Kentler, Madison, Wis., says: "I consider Cole's Veterinary Carbolic Acid the best preparation in the market. I have used it in my stables during the past winter, and find it all that it is represented, and heartily recommend it to all horsemen as being far preferable to any other preparation for general stable use." Pound cans, $1.00; small cans, 50 cents.

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure of SPERMATORRHOEA or Simulacrum, Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

How Lost, How Restored!

Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure of SPERMATORRHOEA or Simulacrum, Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

The celebrated author, in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. Address, THE CULVERWELL MEDICAL CO. 41 Ann St., New York. Post Office Box, 450.

COUGHS, COLDS, CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, AND All Diseases OF THE THROAT, CHEST AND LUNGS.

THE BALANCE OF TONIC has always been one of the most important weapons wielded by the Medical Faculty against the encroachments of the above diseases, but it has never been so advantageously compounded as in LAWRENCE & MARTIN'S TONIC, ROCK & RYE. Its soothing BALSAMIC properties afford a diffusive stimulant, appetizer and tonic, to build up the system after the cough has been relieved.

GREEN B. BAUM, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., Jan. 25th, 1880, says: "TOLU, ROCK and RYE is an agreeable Remedy in febrile complaints and is classed as a medicinal preparation under the U. S. Revised Statutes, and when so stamped, may be sold by DRUGGISTS, GROCERS, and other persons, without special license, or license."

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

Home Dressmaking.

The art of dressmaking in America has been of late years so simplified that almost any one with a reasonable degree of executive ability can manufacture a fashionable costume by using an approved pattern and following the directions printed upon it...

—An Iowa man writes to the New York Tribune that he has found the best cayenne pepper, put on with an ordinary pepper-box, a sovereign remedy for cabbage-worms, after years of trial.

—The Rural New Yorker says: The best advice we can give in fitting field for wheat is to prepare the land thoroughly, and after it has been harrowed for the last time—harrow it again.

—The London Gardener's Chronicle recommends raising a high, dry mound in every poultry-yard, no matter whether the yard be an acre in extent or only a few yards square.

—When potatoes are ripe and the tops become dry they should be at once dug and put into a cool cellar. It is best to put them in small bins—Great care should be used in digging not to cut or bruise the tubers, which hastens decay.

—The Scientific American gives the following recipe for the benefit of those who prefer to make their own baking powder: Pure cream of tartar, two pounds; bicarbonate of soda, one pound; corn starch, one ounce.

—The way, says a very positive friend of mine, "and the only way to make a peach pie, is to put whole peaches in the crust." Remove the skin, of course, and scatter sugar over the peach-just as if you were making the pie in the usual way.

—It would do no good to expect symptoms of ill-health and approaching decay as sediment in the urine, painful urination, milky urine, etc. When thus afflicted the kidneys and urinary system need to be completely cleaned out.

—A writer signing himself "A well man," writes: "I was ill for years with weakness, milky urine, palpitation of the heart, bad dreams, etc. I was cured by Dr. J. C. Warner's Kidney and Liver Cure."

—They call them war-clouds because they are brought about by the reigning powers. We are persuaded that the ancient Hermes with all the subtle art and natural resources of the Alchemists, was a very poor doctor compared with the modern Dr. J. C. Warner.

—To change window glass to tin-take pains to leave the window open when it rains and it will be in.

—Don't die in the house. "Rough on Rats." Clears out rats, mice, flies, roaches, bed-bugs.

—Gentlemen on the car takes an excellent cigar from his pocket and just as he is about to light it reflects that his fellow-traveler may object to his smoking.

—Honored and Blest. When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some of the most valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases...

—An Important Discovery. Has been made whereby a successful vegetable combination has been discovered, which acts upon the bowels, the liver and the kidneys, and at the same time imparts strength and vitality to the entire system.

—There is a kind of dwarf kangaroo in the staked plains of northern Texas. Its body is about eight inches long; its fore legs are not more than an inch and a half or two inches in length, while its hind legs are all of six inches. It has a tail about eight inches long, completely bare except a tuft of long hair at the end.

FARM AND FRESIDE.

—The Detroit Post and Tribune says there are nine Presbyterian churches in Detroit, with a membership of 2,872, paying $20,000 in salaries, and owning property worth $486,000, entirely out of debt, except some $10,000 or $15,000 still owing by the Fort Street Church on its rebuilding after the fire, and which its members can wipe out in any twenty-four hours that they will set about it.

—Mr. Flod, a German missionary and captive in Abyssinia, writes: King John has taken advantage of the troubles in Egypt to regain his lost provinces, and he has subdued and baptized the Galla tribes as far as Gurgoo.

—The success of St. Jacobs Oil throughout the civilized world is without parallel. Richmond (Va.) Southern Flaxseed Farmer.

—A BRAVE RECRUIT.—Tom was a very good boy, sharp and intelligent, but had the reputation of being a weak and timid fellow.

—"SOMETHING left over from the fight of yesterday," was the Duke of Wellington's definition of hash.

—It won't do no good to expect symptoms of ill-health and approaching decay as sediment in the urine, painful urination, milky urine, etc. When thus afflicted the kidneys and urinary system need to be completely cleaned out.

—A MAN is known by the company he keeps away from.—N. O. Procyon.

—"I was ill for years with weakness, milky urine, palpitation of the heart, bad dreams, etc. I was cured by Dr. J. C. Warner's Kidney and Liver Cure."

—The Cleveland Leader says that for many years an old codfish and a ham-bone hang in the carriage-house doors as well as a trip to the sea-shore, these were handy to the house in case of an emergency.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

How a Blundering Judgment May be Responsible for the Most Serious Results.

—Mr. Edwin Booth said recently that he supposed his lungs were affected, and he was a persistent cougher, until he saw Dr. Mackenzie, of London, who found that this symptom arose from a disturbance of the liver.—N. Y. Herald.

—The other item, which has been going the rounds of the press, is of no special significance, but to the personal friends of Mr. Booth, except that it brings to light a truth of the greatest importance to the world.
