

September 6, 1883

Bertha was anxious for the picnic the next morning, and so, as the day was fine, she and a blonde companion went to the beach, when Mrs. Crawford followed her into the room.

"All you can see nice, Bertha, but remember to eat fresh vegetables."

"Yes, I will." Did you wish to see me?"

"Yes, I did, to the picnic?"

"Yes, Bertha returned wondering, if suppose Mr. Gerome is to be there?"

"I believe so."

"Then don't you go?"

"Why not?" Bertha asked, arranging the bathtub in front of a stiff blue cluster for the visit of the day.

Mrs. Crawford was seated the drowsy-ethrioneous tub.

"People say it's sweet on you, Bertha."

"Well, then, people had better mind their own business," Bertha flushed back.

"Bertha Domorest," Mrs. Crawford would say, "I have come to warn you."

"What to you mean?"

"Just like Mr. Gerome is a mangy mutt."

"What the hell nonsense!" Bertha snorted angrily and sarcastically.

"It is nonsense, and I know it,"

Mrs. Crawford said, "I have seen a letter from him—do you hear that?"

"I am not at all with him," Bertha said, to herself, returning to the parlor after the tender dusk, for the candle over one slender and supported by her hand as she stood and directed her gaze toward the window. "I am, however, she thought, the woman I flushed to her very at the word. "I have only seen him a month. I wonder if he is a plump creature he is, and particularly, as he went home to his old farm-house he was temporarily living, and a majorite he was Mrs. Cornelia."

He was a fair little girl with bright, dark, and heavy blue eyes, and Mr. Gerome, the handsome young man who had come to Westville to work in the machinery in the hands of Mr. Domorest's recently created, the most perfect creature he had ever seen, and particularly, as he went home to his old farm-house he was temporarily living, and a majorite he was Mrs. Cornelia.

Both Bertha and Bertha Domorest were at home, but there all day, Mrs. Crawford was seventeen, and she was rosy. Bertha was fresh, and a maid. Cornelia, faded and slightful, eyes, Mr. Gerome, Crawford said, as it came up as she ascended.

VIGOROUS HEALTH FOR MEN
THE PAST 5 YEARS
TESTED
NERVOUS
AND TROUBLES
OF THE NERVOUS SYSTEM.
The past five years have been devoted to the treatment of nervous diseases, and the results have been most gratifying. The health of the human organism is restored. The degenerating elements of life which have been wasted are given back. The body becomes energetic, strong and robust. The patient recovers his strength with rapidity.

NERVOUS DISEASES, organic weakness, and numerous obscure diseases, troubling the skill of best physicians. A few words of direction, from intelligent and experienced physicians, will remove all apprehension.

Do not temporize while such enemies live in your system. Take a remedy that has cured thousands, and does not interfere with you attention to business or cause any painful inconvenience.

Illustration, which will convince the most sceptical that they can be restored to perfect manhood, and fitted for the duties of life, same as if never affected.

Handy Slate Cleaner!

The time has past when can be seen in the public schools, generally, dirty and ragged children. On the contrary, when one enters a school, it is to see bright eyes, clean face, hair combed, and clothes neat and tidy.

But there is one filthy habit left, in fact, is the most disgusting of any ever acquired by children, and though sanctioned by long usage, if possible it should be eradicated. It is that of spitting on their slates, spreading it around with their hands and drying it with their sleeves, handkerchief or apron. The slate becoming in a short time so greasy that a pencil mark can hardly be seen. What should we think if we were to see a child spit upon a board and play in it with its fingers? Ugh!

The Cleaner is neat, and can be used a day or more by filling it once.

If it falls on the floor it makes little or no noise.

If the drying pad wears through, any mother can replace it.

If the sponge wears out, another can be put into it.

It will do away with a filthy practice, and teach habits of cleanliness.

HOW WATCHES ARE MADE

In a SOLID GOLD WATCH, aside from the necessary thicknesses for engraving and polishing, a large proportion of metal is melted only to bind and hold the engraved portions in place, and apply strength. The surplus gold is actually needless. In James Bass' Patent Gold Watch Cases this watch is leveled, and solidity and strength increased by a simple process, at one-half the cost. A plate of solid gold is soldered on each side of a plate of hard nickel composition metal, and the three are then passed between polished steel rollers. From this the cases, backs, centers, bows, etc., are cut and shaped by dies and formers. The gold is thick enough to admit of all kinds of chasing, engraving and engine turning. These cases have been worn perfectly smooth by use without removing the gold. This is the only case made under this process. Each case is accompanied with a valid guarantee signed by the manufacturers warranting it to wear 20 years. 150,000 of these Cases now carried in the United States and Canada. Largest and Oldest Factory, Established 1834. Ask your Jeweler.

GATHERINGS.

Saline burglars smell so strong of whiskey that they are detected before they do any harm!

The nine-pound boy on Monday was matched by a girl of similar weight on Wednesday to Mr. & Mrs. Gakle.—Courier.

Geo. Marriet, of Saline township, lost a stack of wheat by fire a few days since. A spark from the threshing engine did the mischief.

Saline's wind-mill manufactory caught fire a few days ago, but the fire department had a stream playing on it inside of five minutes and saved it. Good for the boys!

Seymour Hammond says he has contracted to make 200 apple barrels for Jacob Braun of Freedom. He says that there are quite a good many apples in orchards south of Saline.—Enterprise.

Mr. F. Schilling, of Sebewaing Huron county is visiting old friends in the city. Mr. S. came to Ann Arbor in 1829 when the surroundings thereof were a howling wilderness, and this is his first visit to his old home in many years.—Register.

Mr. J. H. Minor has returned from New Mexico, where he supervised the building of a fence 35 miles in length, enclosing a cattle range in which he holds an interest, and will remain with his family about two months. Mr. Minor holds 29 mail carrying contracts from the government.—Argus.

A few days ago we saw a young man who was in a bad condition, bleeding at the lungs. We advised him to take three or four thicknesses of linen, saturate in mineral water hot as he could bear it, cover his throat and lungs, and over this place a piece of flannel, changing every two or three hours. He now looks like another man.—Ypsilanti Commercial.

Dogs got among James Lucas' sheep last Sunday night, and raised the dickens. They killed and maimed about thirty-five. Mr. Lucas was obliged to kill some of the wounded ones, and they, together with those which the dogs killed, made twenty dead sheep for one night's work. We understand two of the dogs were caught and killed, and that their owners propose to make the loss good as per request of Mr. Lucas. R. C. Reeve also had nineteen sheep killed by dogs last Friday night. —Dexter Leader.

On the 27th of August there was found in the woods skirting Marshall the body of a man shot through the heart. All the circumstances point to a murder. Nothing was found to aid identification except a M. C. R. W. layover check, dated Aug. 12, entitling the holder to a passage from Ann Arbor to Dexter, and a picture of a couple of young ladies. The deceased was a man between 30 and 40 years of age, 5 feet 9 or 10 inches in height, sandy hair, weight about 350 pounds, and was dressed in a dark cheekeen suit, white shirt, cat-skin boots, and black wool hat with a cord for a band. There was a small patch on the pants near the knee. The picture is a type of two ladies, evidently sisters, aged between 10 and 30 years, in a sitting posture, with hair "braided." The shorter of the two wore a dress with a heavy ruffled skirt. The officers at Marsfield are desirous of obtaining a clue to identify the man and discover the murderer.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

WASHINGTON.

HUNTING FOR STILLS.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has issued instructions to Revenue Agent Powell, of Raleigh, N. C., to investigate the report that several revenue officers in the upper part of South Carolina had been systematically swindling the government for some time. It is charged that the officers in question have persons to put up old stills in remote places, and then capture the material in the night time and obtain the government reward of $50 for each seizure. The same material is then put up in another part of the State and seized again. It is alleged that only a few stills captured in the mountains of South Carolina have been used for illicit distilling.

CROOK'S LATEST.

G. H. Crook's latest communication has just been received by the War Department. In the report, Crook gives his idea of the future policy to be pursued by the government as follows: "I believe firmly that exact subversion by our government in the terms upon which these Indians understand they are to be allowed to live upon the San Carlos Reservation, appears to be the only possible means of protecting the lives and interests of the people of Sonora and Chihuahua, as well as our own country, and am as firmly convinced that if the present prisoners are treated with good faith, not only will the Indians now in the mountains return, but also that neither country will hereafter have any reason to complain of predations or outrages from them."

A NEW VAULT.

Plans are completed for the proposed new silver vault under the cash room of the Treasury Department. The storage capacity of the vault will be $28,000,000 in silver dollars. Until the return of Secretary Folger, the Assistant Secretary will act as Secretary.

THE GARFIELD HOSPITAL.

A statement has recently been published to the effect that the plan of establishing a Garfield memorial hospital in Washington had been abandoned for want of adequate support, and that the money thus far contributed for that purpose would be turned over to the Garfield Memorial fund. Thos. Fisher, of the Garfield Hospital Board, said in reply to inquiries that the report of the abandonment of the hospital scheme was entirely without foundation.

THE ARREARS ACT PROVES A TEMPTATION.

A pension office official says that there is no reason to doubt that more money has been fraudulently abstracted from the treasury in one year on false pension claims than was obtained by the star-route ring in the same time, and about which the country has heard so much; $100,000,000 in a single year formed a tempting prize to the pension agent ring, and out of it the ring must have got upwards of $10,000,000, their particular portion being in fees and expenses. Claims by the hundreds and by the thousands are made up in Washington, and sent ready-made to the ex-soldiers for signature and oath. Many men are found too honest to perjure themselves thus, but the temptation offered by the arrears act, which offered several thousand dollars in a lump if the case went through, is too great in most cases to be resisted. The more squeamish are urged by circulars and letters to sign and swear and forward. One of these circulars, dated April 26, 1889, addressed "Friend and client," says it is some time since the claim was made up and urges that it be signed, sworn to, and returned immediately. "Millions of money," it says, "have been appropriated, and we can file your claim and secure to you the benefits of the recent enactment." Another circular says the cases of those who pay their fees in advance "will be made special" by the department. Every effort is made to get hold of that fee. This system of wholesale perjury is believed to have been carried on to a greater extent than has ever yet been stated.

NEWS NOTES.

A POISONED LUNCH.

The family of William Luders, of Winsted, Minn., consisting of nine persons were poisoned a few days ago, and five have died and two more are not expected to live. The supposition is that some poison was mixed with the family lunch, but the name of the dead and the motive for the terrible crime are unknown.

HANDBILLY AFTER ARTHUR.

A story that reads like a dime novel came all the way from Idaho, and is furnished to the world by the "Wool River Times." The story is to the effect that a party of Texas cowboys have started for Yellowstone Park to kidnap President Arthur and his entire party, and to spirit them away into the mountains where they will be kept prisoners, while members of the party act as pickets to prevent being surprised and captured while negotiations for a ransom are being conducted. The captain or leader of the party has an idea that a heavy ransom will be offered by the United States, and personal friends of the president after search for the president's party shall be given up, and that $100,000 or more can thus be extorted from the secret service fund and diverted among the party, or the principle sixty men in the gang some of whom were guerrillas in the late war. A grand council was held just before starting out on the expedition, when every man swore by his dagger to do his duty.

A HOMINOID SIGHT.

Samuel Warrick, aged 15, cut his throat in Gloucester county, New Jersey, and then walked to his barn, holding his half-severed head in his hand. He met his wife, and she fainted. The husband lived 10 hours.

THE SUNCOO MILL CASE.

In the reply of the state department just sent to the Swedish delegation on the Suncoo (N. H.) mill case, the secretary, as was anticipated, takes the ground that he can do nothing for the enslaved Swedes. The report of the New Hampshire authorities is to the effect that the owners of the mill have a right to prevent the departure of the Swedes from the state under the statute, and that the men who have tried to make them leave have committed acts of violence against the Swedes, as was the case in the mill case, the secretary, as was anticipated, takes the ground that he can do nothing for the enslaved Swedes. The report of the New Hampshire authorities is to the effect that the owners of the mill have a right to prevent the departure of the Swedes from the state under the statute, and that the men who have tried to make them leave have committed acts of violence against the Swedes, as was the case in the mill case.

A HORRIBLE LUNCH IN UTAH.

At a late hour the other night a number of masked men stopped Engineer Thomas, Roadmaster Higgins, a white man in the employ of the Utah Eastern Railway, compelled them to return to the shop, and taking an engine and caroose run about thirty miles east to a coal village, about twenty miles distant. Leaving a number of men in charge of the train, the vigilantes passed to the city jail. Bringing guns to bear on the officers, they obtained control of the jail, and taking a man named Jack Murphy from his cell, returned to the train and ordered an immediate return to Park City. Upon arriving the vigilantes took Murphy and hung him to a telegraph pole near the station, the body being viewed by a number of passengers on the early trains. Murphy was arrested on suspicion of having shot a man named Brennan, and confined in jail awaiting trial.

TWO FOOLS KILLED.

A fatal encounter occurred at Toulon City, near St. Louis, Mo., between Louis Phillips and Jacob Rosenbrook, both residents of Bowling Green Township, in which the latter was killed instantly and the former wounded so badly that he died in a few hours after. The affair had its origin in a grudge long standing growing out of disrespectful remarks by Phillips concerning Rosenbrook's sister. Each time they met they quarreled, and they decided to settle the matter in a duel with pistols. They chose as their seconds Mark Swark and James Wren, who were present and witnessed the shooting. Rosenbrook fired the first shot, the ball entering Phillips' mouth. Phillips staggered, but before falling discharged his weapon, the ball taking effect on the side of Rosenbrook's mouth, riving upward through the head. Both duelists were young men, Phillips being about 23 years of age, and a school teacher.

AN AFFLICTED FAMILY.

Mr. Edward Knight, of Pittsboro N. C., has been bereft of his six children in a remarkable way—by such a succession of tragedies as makes truth, indeed, seem stranger than fiction. Three children died with diphtheria in quick succession. The day after the death of the last of these, two of the remaining children were playing in the yard, the mother being inside with the youngest child. A scream outside caused her to rush out, to find that a rat snake had bitten both children. Soon they were in the agonies of death. The crowning horror then came upon the distracted mother when she discovered that a large pot of boiling soap had fallen from the fire and scalded the baby past recovery. The account is in all respects accurate and is vouchered for.

MILWAUKEE'S FLIGHT.

Milwaukee is agitated over an alleged case of Asiatic cholera. A mad named Wotcky was taken sick and became torpid, and Zelowski, who has had experience in a Turkish hospital, pronounced the disease cholera. Dr. Richard Assistant Health Commissioner, agrees with Zelowski, but other physicians call it cholera morbus.

INCREASED MAIL SERVICE.

Supt. Thompson of the railroad mail service has ordered the establishment of a new line of postal cars on the Pennsylvania Railroad between New York, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis and St. Louis. The cars commenced running Saturday, September 1, leaving New York at 6 p.m. The postal car will arrive at St. Louis on the morning of the second day at 7:30 o'clock.

BURLED INTO ETERNITY.

Bursting of a Boiler on a Hudson River Steamer.

MANY KILLED AND OTHERS TERRIBLY INJURED.

The steamer Riverdale, on the North River, burst her boiler and sank at Twenty-second Street New York. In about five minutes the boat capsized. There were over 100 passengers on board at the time of the accident. Some of them were hurled into the air and then fell back into the water, and others were compelled to jump into the river to escape the scalding steam. The air was filled with flying debris and broken pieces of machinery. About 50 people lost their lives, some being blown into eternity, while others were drowned by being drawn down in the whirlpool caused by the sinking vessel. Those who were floating about in the river were rescued by tug-boats and taken to New York. Reports as to the number killed are conflicting, varying all the way from 10 to 50.

The engineer, Edward Tallman, who escaped with a few slight bruises, said he could not explain the cause of the accident by any theory whatever. The boilers were new four years ago, when the boat was entirely rebuilt and refitted. It was about to enter the engine room to obey the pilot's signal to slacken speed, when he was suddenly buried through the door and the next moment he found himself lying on the roof of the cabin directly under the shaft. The explosion occurred, he said, without the slightest warning, and was apparently the result of some hidden defect. A moment previous he had looked at the steamer gauge and found it to register twenty-three pounds. When the boat was inspected last June her allowance was fixed at fifty pounds to the square inch.

EFFECTS OF VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

Three Towns Destroyed--Terrible Loss of Life.

A dispatch from Batavia, Java, says the towns of Asjier, Tirling, and Telokholong, were destroyed by tidal waves caused by the volcanic eruptions. All the lighthouses in Sunda Straits have disappeared, and where the mountain of Krakatoa formerly stood the sea now flows. The aspect of Sunda Straits is much changed and navigation dangerous. The tidal wave completely destroyed Asjier. Many persons were killed. The loss of life among both Europeans and natives at North Bantam is enormous. The quarries at Morak disappeared, and all the people of the place perished. The floating dock, at an island near Batavia is adrift and badly damaged.

POLITICAL.

NEBRASKA DEMOCRATIC.

The Democratic State Convention at Omaha nominated Hon. J. W. Savage for justice of the Supreme Court, and for Regents of the State University Dr. D. Daniels, G. W. Johnson and Hon. J. M. Woolworth.

KEYSTONE GREENBACKERS.

The Pennsylvania state greenback convention in session at Williamsport nominated T. P. Ryder of Altoona, for auditor general, and A. F. Marsh, of Erie, for state treasurer. The platform adopted sets forth that the history of the trade dollar proves that money is solely a creation of law without regard to the material used: that the $400,000,000 paid by the government to the national bank is much money stolen from taxpayers, and the continued payment of $10,000,000 annually to the banks is a crime against labor; that monopolies ought to be restricted by state or national legislation and all government legislation for actual sufferers. The resolution in favor of protective tariff, a flat tax, currency of labor, and short sessions of congress and state legislature.

CRIME.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

Henry Hertel and wife, German shopkeepers of Savannah, Ga., were found murdered in their store. Customers went to the store in the morning and found it closed. Peeping through the blinds they saw Hertel on the floor in a pool of blood. The door was burst in, and the man found lying in the middle of the room with a bandkerchief tied over his eyes and skull crushed in. His wife was found in a calico wrapper lying on a sofa in the parlor, with her throat cut, and one arm nearly severed. An immense crown collected, and the police were notified. Hertel was supposed to have a large sum of money. Hertel and wife were middle-aged and highly respected Germans.

SENSATIONAL MURDER AND SUICIDE.

A sensational tragedy was enacted at the Notting House, Elgin, Ill., recently. Edward F. Joslin, a citizen of good standing, shot and killed Eliza Buckingham, a young woman of pleasing address. Joslin had been paying attentions to Miss Buckingham the past year, the nature of which created some comments, and he has latterly displayed evidences of fierce jealousy. He attempted to enter her room one morning and being denied admission, forced his way into the apartment. There was a scuffle, two revolver shots, and the young woman fell dead. Joslin immediately committed suicide with the same weapon.

Two men were found dead in a house in the Notting Hill district of London, and the police are investigating the case.

FARM AND HOUSEHOLD.

Facts for Farmers

Every day an animal is kept after being prime, there is loss, exclusive of manure.

Young chicks should be fed as often as four times a day until they are about three weeks old.

One of the most encouraging hopes for our country is the prospective improvement of its live stock.

A dying Scotch squire said to his son: "Be ye stickin' in a tree, Jock—they'll be growin' while you're sleepin'."

A writer in the New York Tribune gives this good advice in two words, how to cure an egg-eating hen—"eat her."

At a sale of Jersey cattle in New York, recently, "King of Ashantes" was sold to C. Easthope, of Niles, O., for $6,600.

Corn alone is not a sufficient food for fowls; wheat, bran in the form of a thick mush and some vegetables should be given.

Prof. Cook says: "I've experimented with salt upon the cut worm, to know that you can kill your plants before you can kill the worms."

Intelligent breeders contend that cross-bred animals, whether cattle, horses or sheep, mature earlier and are better feeders than any common stock.

The sick animal is usually dainty about his food, and should be allowed only light, easily digested food, trying various kinds, and allowing as a rule what he likes best.

Galls and bruises are more readily prevented by properly adjusting the harness; than they are cured by the best remedies, besides the loss of the animal's work at a busy season.

An Indiana farmer rides his sheep of ticks by feeding a half pound of sulphur to every fifty sheep, mixing it with the salt which is fed. Two or three doses, a week apart, are enough.

California wheat is so dry when harvested that when taken to the damper air of the sea coast it gains seven per cent or more in weight. The gain is sufficient to pay for transportation.

Potatoes are made scabby by wireworms. The best preventive is to grow the crop on fallow ground without manures or with fertilizers. The worms are encouraged or brought in by the manure.

Plums, pigs and poultry seem a trio which thrive in company. Plum trees in a poultry or pig yard thrive and bear abundantly when trees in other locations shed their fruit, which bears the "trade mark" of the "little Turk."

Cleanliness and careful breeding of animals, so as to keep the stalls dry and fresh, often prevents grave disorders of the general system, and also the irritating effects of the ammonia on the eyes causing inflammation of them and blindness.

N. Ritter, a successful strawberry culturist of Syracuse, says in the New York Tribune, that he considers straw worth $8 per ton for use on his strawberry patch. He uses it as a protection to the beds in winter, as a mulch, and says it keeps the fruit clean. He uses about one ton to the acre.

Put a teaspoonful of sulphur in the test as soon as hens or turkeys are set. The heat of the fowls causes the fumes of the sulphur to penetrate every part of their bodies; every louse is killed, and as nits are hatched within ten days, then the mother leaves the nest with her brood she is perfectly free from nits & lice.

Reports from California state that a severe distemper has been prevailing among the horse stock of that section during the past winter, which has proved fatal in many cases, and left many of those which survive in very bad condition. The noted tony Wildflower was among the sufferers and is now covered with scars resulting from ugly sores with which she has been afflicted.

The old fashioned pear trees, that grew to the size of oaks and bore fruit only fit for preserving, have been superseded by a greatly improved fruit, but the trees do not possess the hardiness of the old sort. The forcing of the trees to rapid growth is probably the cause, more than anything else, of pear blight, as the disease was quite unknown to the old, slow growing trees.

The Massachusetts Agricultural Society concludes that salt as a manure has the property of hastening the maturing of all grain crops; that wheat should be sown on six to ten days on milled land, all other things equal; that it increases yield from 10 to 50 per cent; that it checks blight and prevents rust and blight; if it does not entirely prevent the ravages of the chinch bug, it has a large power of absorbing sulfur from the air. When in piles it absorbs salt water and becomes heavier. When taken to market it weighs down, thus being freely exposed to the currents of air, it loses weight, and the man can get out all day for the investment of one or two pounds will sell for more than that amount in gold.

The Clark Book,

white of egg and sugar, lay it on the top and sides, and set into the oven a few minutes to brown slightly. Serve with cream.

Peach Cake.—Line a deep dish with pastry, place upon this halves of peaches close together; sprinkle plentifully with sugar and a little cinnamon; put in the oven and bake until cooked; eat with cream.

Delicious Layer-Cake.—Make white cake, as for strawberry cake, but omit the red sugar and add one cup of desiccated coconut, and use no flavoring.

Make icing, and into one-half put blanched and chopped sweet almonds. Put the first and second layers together, with the almond icing; on the next spread plain icing; and lay on that a layer of halved figs, then another coat of icing; for the next use almonds, and so on. Frost the top of the cake and stick almonds over it.

Raisin-Cake.—Three-quarters of a cup of butter, one-half cup of sweet milk, one and three-quarter cups of flour, yolks of eight eggs, one, and one-half teaspoonsfuls of baking powder. Bake in jelly tins. To put together, spread a thin coat of frosting on each layer, then one of chopped raisins, seeded, and another of frosting.

Hickory or Walnut-layer-Cake.—One cup of butter, two cups of sugar, five eggs, one cup of milk, four cups of flour, two teaspoonsfuls of baking powder. Put layers together with icing mixed with finely chopped hickory or walnut meats. Use plain icing for top and lay on it unbroken meats.

Artificial Oysters.—Take young green corn, grate it in a dish, to one pint of this add one egg well beaten; a small teacup of flour, half cup of butter, some salt and pepper and mix all well together. A tablespoonful of the batter will make the size of an oyster. Fry them a light brown and when done, butter them; cream if it can be procured is better than butter.

To Bottle Fruits.—Burn a match in bottle to exhaust all air, then place in the fruit to be preserved quite dry and without blemish, sprinkle sugar between each layer, cork and tie bladder over, setting bottles, cork downwards, in a large vessel of cold water with hay between to prevent breaking. When the skin is just cracking take them out, immerse thin paper in gum water and while wet press over and around the top of the bottle, as it dries it will become quite firm and tight.

Sweet Pear Pickles.—To two quarts of good vinegar take four pounds of brown sugar, a quarter of a pound of cinnamon stick, and a quarter pound of cloves. Tie the spices up in small bags, and boil with the sugar and vinegar until a good syrup is formed. Put in the Bartlett or Slekle pears, place on the back of the stove, cover closely, and cook very slowly until they can be pierced with a straw.

Grape Catsup.—Five cupfuls of pulp or juice, one cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of vinegar, one teaspoonful each of black pepper, cloves, cinnamon and salt. Boil half away.

Prince Bismarck has become suspicious and grabbed in his disposition to a degree that makes it impossible for any public official but the most obsequious to serve under him. It is said that the Crown Prince of Germany, while appreciating fully the great work which Bismarck has done for his country, has very little sympathy for his domestic policy, and hence, upon his accession to the throne, will have no scruples in disavowing them.

No matter what your ailment is, Brown's Iron Bitters will surely benefit you.

Waterloo Gleanings.

Miss Minnie Beaman is visiting her brother and sister in Dansville.

West Bros. threshed 3165 bushels of grain in five days last week and quit early each night.

Mr. Clement Barber is having all the threshing he can do with his horse power machine.

Thomas Standfield threshed for O. Gorton in one-half day, 326 bushels of oats, and 286 bushels of wheat cleaned ready for the market.

Corn is promising a better yield than was expected a few weeks ago, and will probably be two-thirds of an average crop. Oats are averaging from 35 to 50 bushels per acre.

The roof of the M. R. church has been repaired, and an effort should be made to repair the towers and spire before cold weather comes, as they are in bad shape for storms.

Mr. & Mrs. A. Koeltz lost their only child last Friday morning, a boy aged two years and one month, of membranous croup. The parents have the sympathy of many friends. It is the third child they have buried.

Now it did come to pass that on the seventh day of the past week, Henry came down from the land of his master, to the barn of his master's neighbor to do threshing, and behold the correspondent was there also. And when Henry saw him he was wrath and used words of abuse, and presented himself before the correspondent and did commit battery, whereupon the correspondent stretched forth his arm and Henry reclined toward the floor.

An Extraordinary Case.

Austin, Texas, Feb'y 20, 1880.

To Mr. J. W. Graham, Druggist:
Dear Sir:—My case was an acute form of bronchitis, and was of one and one-half years duration. I employed the best medical aid possible, but failed rapidly, until the doctor said I would die—that my case was incurable. Thrown upon upon my own resources, I got a bottle of Dr. Wm. HALL'S BALM for the Lungs and in six hours felt a decided relief. In three days the cough almost disappeared. Now that my chances of life are good for many years I earnestly recommend the above to every sufferer of lung or throat disease.

The Finest Dry Goods Store

CENTRAL MICHIGAN

Old Mammoth, at Jackson.

This store has been re-fitted at a large expense and is now being filled with NEW, FIRST-CLASS merchandise.

For many years it has been the rule of the former proprietors, Camp & Morrill, to sell nothing but first-class goods and under no circumstances allow any salesman to misrepresent. As it is my desire to continue the business, and wishing to increase the sales largely, I shall sell all goods at the lowest possible profit and at any time good bought from my establishment that are not as represented, may be returned and I will cheerfully refund the money. I buy all my goods for Cash and sell them for Cash, and as my store is the best lighted of any in the State, the customer can see exactly what they are getting.

Since the introduction of spelling matches, many words have come prominently into notice—words that were previously comparatively unknown. For instance we find Antiseptic, meaning: preventing and stopping all fermentation and decomposition, and Analgesic: Painkiller. Then there is Antipyretic: cooling down Inflammation and fever heat. These three words so often misspelled, are three of the cardinal virtues of something that will cure many a bad spell, and that is Solvency, pronounced Sol-liv-e-tee. Warranted to afford immediate relief, and guaranteed to cure Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia. 614
