TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

A curious war against wire fence has broken out in Texas. Miles and miles of them, 125 miles in the three counties-have been cut down and destroyed, leaving the stock to ream at will. The governor has been asked by the leading stockmen to call out the militia, but he has refused and they have determined to take the matter into their own hands. Unless something is done serious trouble is apprehended.

A GENTLEMAN who has been present at the Vienna Electrical Exhibition says that even the cabmen have become enamoured of electricity. One of them, Leopold Frank, lights his vehicle with the electric light. The municipal authorities found no reference to anything but oil lamps and tallow candles in the cab rules, and made some difficulties at first about authorizing this worthy enterprise, but a noble persistence has overcome all difficulties. Frank has obtained the sanction of the chief magistrate, and no doubt is now charging quadruple fares for rides in his scientific

THE body of James Carey, the informer, was followed to the grave by Mrs. Carey and her children, the district surgeon and the assistant magistrate of Port Elizabeth. A rabble of negroes also gathered in the burial ground. No minister was present, and no arrangement was made for religious services; but just as the coffin was lowered into the grave the surgeon, Dr. Ensor, who for some time had labored under strong emotion, spoke in a clear and distinct voice as follows: "Friends, in the absence of any official minister, I think it only right that a few words should be said over the grave of this poor man. Let us pray." Every head was immediately uncovered, and Dr. Ensor offered up a short pra er. Earth was then thrown on the co n and thus terminated the obsequies of James Carey.

BARBARA Miller, the murderess who was hanged in Virginia the other day, has added a new feature to the last pleasures of the condemned. The confident expectation of an admission to Heaven, without any special repentance for the deeds done on earth, is seen so often that it has ceased to have the charm of novelty. Mrs. Miller improved upon it by having a vision in which her accomplice in the murder, who had been hanged a month before, appeared as a white-robed angel, and requested her to hurry up to Heaven. So that her associate is now nicely vindicated as well as herself. The murder was a peculiarly cold-blooded one, by the way-a case even worse than Macbeth and the dagger. Her accomplies faltered and Mrs. Miller did the deed She promptly "experienced Christiani ty" after arrest, and then, while in a religious frame of mind, tried to throw the whole guilt of the murder upon her accomplice.

THE Philadelphia Record utters a strong plea in favor of the study of science in the public schools. "Were science once properly taught in our schools," it says. "a check would be given to some of the forces which seem to be disintegrating society. Wealth, with the power and position accompanying it, is now sought for so anxiously that not only the rights of others but those of the individual self are ignored in the struggle to obtain it. Were men taught in infancy the certainty that punishment will in this life surely follow a sin against nature, and an outraged society will in various ways revenge an injury done to its memberswere these things taught with the same flounce out of the store so quickly.

devil, are inculcated, the millennium would soon commence."

THE planting of trees along the publie roads in France is considered worthy of statistical mention. At present the total length of public roads in France is 18,750 miles, of which 7,250 are bordered with trees, while 4,500 miles are at present being planted, or will shortly be planted. On the remaining 7,000 miles the nature of the soil does not permit of plantations. The number of trees already planted amounts to 2,678,-603, consisting principally of elm, poplar, acacia, plane, ash, sycamore, and lime trees. Strangers travelling in France could almost find out in what department of the country they are by noticing the different kinds of trees planted along the high road. Thus, the nut tree is most in vogue in Ain, Alliar, the Hantes Alpes, Aube, Cher, Doubs, Gers, Gironde and Herault; the chestnut tree in the Hautes Alpes, Aude, Charente, Correze and Corse; the apple tree in Cote d'Or and Marne; the mulable, the animal being fully five feet berry in the Easter Pyrennees, Haute tree in Eure and Marne; and the service tree in Haute-Loire,

The Future Metropolis of the World.

A striking article in the September Century is W. C. Conant's inquiry. Will New York be the Final World Metropolis?" which he answers in the affirmative. "The pivot of the whole open Bible. development of the metropolis," he says, "is on the eastern side, at the lower end of Manhattan Island. Here is the permanent financial center. It will not move, for all the world seeks it where it is. Wall street will preserve its character as long as the cosmetropolis endures. Banking, exchange, stocks, insurance, capital, and merchandise brokerage, speculation, and financial and commercial agencies from all parts of the world, will circle around Trinity Church until its walls crumble. Offices of railroad and mining companies, of steam and other shipping of telegraphs, of staple imports and export (stores and warehouses crowded into the distance and for the greater part on the Jersey flats) next center closest around the financial hub, attended by manufacturing and miscellaneous corporations, lawyers without number, brokers, courts for a permanent art gallery in that city. ers, and farther up, the im porters of foreign and agents of domestic manufactures. The physiognomy of this part of the city is fixed, and will only become more pronounced in time by the crowding out of small manufacturing concerns and warehouses for the storage of heavy produts. The jobbing trade will continue its march up town, and perhaps halt around the Hudson River Tunnel Depot to be opened near Washington Square. The retail drygoods trade, following the tide of fashionable life, will go northward until stopped or turned by the corner of Central

"After finance and foreign commerce, fashionable trade and society will eventually be the chief feature of the central city. The centralization of true metropolitan commerce, which is to make lower New York the London of the future, will make upper New York its Paris. Exclusive society in New York can scarcely be said to have any fixed and distinct habitat at present. It is in transitionary lodgings, looking about as it were; ready poised to take wing for some choice new quarter, well walled from vulgar intrusion. Where that quarter is to be, however, can hardly be a question. One suitable spot remains, and that is at once so beautiful, so isolated, and so admirably adapted, that one is almost constrained to believe that the susceptibilities of sublimated snobbery are not beneath the Providence that cares for the sparrow. Four or five square miles have been laid out by Nature on the peninsular upper extremity of the island, between the Hudson and the Harlem, at an elevation of from fifty to a hundred feet above plebeian street grades, expressly for the "court" quarter of New York's future aristocracy. It is a ridge about a mile wide, with abrupt sides and a broad top; overlooking at once, on either hand, the looking at once, on either hand, the magnificence of the Hudson beneath the to cut 8,000,000. The consideration was $30,-Palisades, and the romantic nooks of 600. About 5,000,000 feet of this stock is to be the Harlem and Spuyten Duyvil, with the glittering reaches of Long Island Sound; swept by the purest airs from land and sea; almost self-drained. and Hills Jale September 21, 1843. drained again of drainage at its base; inaccessible, in short, to the odors of the common world, to the heavy wheels of commerce, and to the enterprise of speculative builders."

Judge Withey yesterday delivered an opinion on a case tried before him in the United States court at Marquette in July last. The government, by District Attorney Stone, brought suit against the Marquette, Houghton and Ontonagon railroad to recover the amount of tax due on the undivided profits of that rail-road for 1871. The United States law at that time taxed the dividends of all railroads 2% per cent. and the undivided profits a like sum. ripe, rosy peach for 5 cents. The opinion given by Judge With ey gives the government a judgment of $1,945 which includes the tax and interest to date and costs to be taxed against the railroad, maintaining that the road is hable for the tax on allundivided profits expended in construction, the law exempting only such amount as was spent in legitimate improvements on such part of the road as is already constructed. Messrs. W. P. Healey of Marquette and J. L. Stackpole of Boston, general counsel, were the attorneys for the railroad. They express an intention to appeal the case on a writ of error to the United States supreme court.

Once I knew a little girl, Very plain; You might try her hair to curl, All in vain; On her cheek no tint of rose Faled and blushed, or sought repose; She was plain.

But the thoughts that through her brain
Came and went,
As a recompense for pain,
Angels sent; So full many a beauteous thing, In her young soul blossoming, Gave content.

Every thought was full of grace, Pure and true; And in time the homely face Lovelier grew; With a heavenly radiance bright, From the soul's reflected light Shining through.

If you take it in your hand, you will find it somewhat heavier than an ordinary biscuit, and if you bite it—but, no; I will not let you bite it, for I wish to see how long I can keep it. But if you were to reduce it to a fine powder, you would find that it would absorb a greater of ordinary flour. You would also obto its great age. But if you imagine | Have you? that its age is to be measured only by war, you are greatly mistaken; for there was a common belief among the boys that our hard tack had been baked long before the commencement of the Christian era! This opinion was based upon

It required some experience and no little hunger to enable one to appreciate hard-tack aright, and it demanded no small amount of inventive power to understand how to cook hard-tack as they ought-to cooked. If I remember correetly, in our section of the army we had not less than fifteen different ways of preparing them. In other parts, I understand, they had discovered one or two more ways; but with us, fifteen was the limit of the culinary art when hard-tack was on the board. On the march they were usually not cooked at all, but eaten in the raw state. In order, however, to make them somewhat more palatable, you simply cut down a slice of nice fat pork, laid the pork on your cracker, put a spoonful of brown sugar on top of the pork, and you had a dish fit for a-solcome out of the pickle, and was consehard-tack—prepared by toasting them before the hot coals. Most of the young readers of St Nicholas have probably seen the sea. either at some one of these crowded resorts, -Newport, Long Branch, Atlantic City, Asbury Park, and Coney Island, -or else at one of the little hamlets or fishing villages scattered along the coast. And, perhaps, some of these boys and girls have seen the curious sight I am about to describe. But as I have never had the good fortune to behold it more than once, I want to tell you of the incident.

One sultry August day, I left the hot city with a party of friends, in search of a cool and restful holiday by the sea.

Before night-fall, we found a pleasant A pretty way to decorate plush panels for an evening is to arrange a spray of flowers, either natural or artificial, and tie it with satin rioboz, and hang it in a graceful, carefully careless way on the panel.

of the surf and look out over the sea. Vessels of all sorts and sizes were moving slowly along in the twilight, and at last one fine steamer came up out of the southern horizon on her way to New York harbor, leaving a cloud of black smoke behind. As she passed by, she saluted the crowd on the shore with a deep, hoarse whistle, while the people waved their handkerchiefs, hats, and shawls in response. By and by, as it grew darker, the throng dwindled, and at last we roused ourselves from our rapt enjoyment of the scene to find that we were almost alone upon the beach. We jumped up, and were pre-paring to leave the shore, when one of the number called attention to a faint the great men of his time, his friend reflush on the eastern horizon, and with one simultaneous cry, "The moon!" we settled ourselves again upon the sand in expectation of a magnifient of generous collegians spontaneously spectacle.

The Settlement of Germantown On the 6th of October next is to accur the bi-centennial celebration of the settlement of Germantown, near Philadelphia, in which German-Americans all over the country may feel peculiar interest, because Germantown was the first place upon the American continent which was settled by Germans. In 1682 William Penn visited Germany and established there a society of Friends in and about Frankfort. This society sent out 13 German families, numbering about 40 persons, by the ship Concord, Jeffries master, which sailed from London July 24, 1683, arriving and settling in Germantown October 6, 1683. The heads of these 13 families were named: Lenert Arets, Abraham Dirck and Herman Opden Graeff, brothers; Abraham Tunes and Jan Zenzen, all linen weavers, and Johannes Bleikers, to whom a son, Peter, was born on the passage; Jan Lucken, William Streypers, Thones Kemderz, Raynier Tyror, John Seimens and Peter Keurlis. They were from Crefeld and its vicinity, in Germany. Afterward they were joined by others. From 1691 to 1697 they governed themselves after the German fashion, with four burgesses and a baliff. From the first day of their lauding until now the German language and German eustoms have never become extinct among them and their descendants.

The Praise of Knaves. Harper's Magazine.

It is but another form of the proverb that a man is known by his companions to say that he is measured by those who praise him. To be warmly commended by rascals, to be the model great man of those who everybody despises, is a cruel fate, because it is an unerring judgment. The qualities that secure the admiration of knaves are not the honorable qulities, and every superlative of admiration which a scoundrel bestows upon another man covers that man with suspicion, When a distinguished man showed his friends a letter of the heartiest admiration from one of plied that he would rather have that letter than a diploma from the first university. And when a graduating class cheers a professor as a parting taken of respect and regard, he may well feel that he is pledged to still greater devot on and diligence by the confidence which he has won from the young men. In estimating men whose names only are familiar it is necessary to know who it is that extols them and who sneers at them. It is this knowledge which makes almost as far away as the ball of light, to the shafts of the most venomous ridi-but moving toward it. It drew swiftly cule, and unmindful of the heaviest feeble flicker of a match. Indeed, there vessel inclosed within the circle of the stant and elaborate vituperation which is sometimes poured by a newspaper or a politician upon an opponent who is as absolutely unconscious of the incessant assault as a picture is heedless of the of the harmless traducer as to exclaim, good-naturedly, "Shoo, fly, don't both-

Real Estate Laws in Mexico.

Cincinnati Times-Star.

It is important for Americans who without exciting much attention; but as of land is required to reside in Mexico; Government, he forfeits his title. This does not apply to mines, however, the owners of the latter being allowed to reside abroad. The Governor of Durango, in reply to inquiries, says that if land has been acquired by a location of public lands, which shall not amount to over 6,000 acres to each locator, the right to the same is forfeited by failing to maintain on it one inhabitant for each five hundred acres. Such default accrues by failure to mainta'n such inhabitant for four months in any place. To obtain lands within twenty leagues or less of any frontier of the Republic, a foreigner is required to obtain the permission of the President, and no foreigner can acquire real property within five leagues or less of any seashore of the Republic, not even with the permission of the President, unless under a special law giving him the privilege. Upon buying real estate in Mexico, a foreigner becomes a Mexican citizen, unless he formally declares his desire to preserve his nationality. The above requirements form only a part of the peculiar Mexican real estate regulations. If our neighbors on the South would invite American capitalists to come among them or invest money in their lands, radical alterations should be made in some of these provisions.

HOW WATCHES ARE MADE

In a Solid Gold Watch, aside from the necessary thickness for engraving and polishing, a large proportion of metal is needed only to stiffen and hold the engravod portions in place, and supply strength. The surplus gold is actually needless. In James Boes' Patent Gold Watch Cases this WASTE is saved, and solidity and STRENGTH increased by a simple process, at one-half the cost. A plate of solib COLD is soldered on each side of a plateof hard nickel composition metal, and the three are then passed between pelished steel rollers. From this the cases, backs, centers, bezels, etc., are cut and shaped by dies and formers. The gold is thick enough to admit of all kinds of chasing, engraving and engine turning. These cases have been worn perfectly smooth by use without removing the gold. This is the only case made under this process. Each case is accompanied with a valid guarantee signed by the manufacturers warranting it to wear 20 years. 150,000 of these Cases now carried in the United States and Canada. Largest and Oldest Factory. Established 1854. Ask your Jeweler.

Tar, Resin and Turpentine.

All of these substances are obtained from the more resinous trees of the pine family. Tar, the first named, for example, is obtained by distilling in rude apparatus the heart wood of the pine. It forms a brownish red substance, which becomes black with age, or when overheated in the process of manufacture. It is viscous and semi-fluid at ordinary temperature, solid when cold, and becomes quite thin when heated. Pitch is obtained by boiling tar until its consistency has become considerably in-creased, in which condition it is hard at ordinary temperatures, but becomes ordinary temperatures, but becomes soft by the heat of the hand, and liquid on heating. Turpintine is the sap of the pine, which is obtained by tapping the trees at certain seasons when it flows most freely. The product yielded from the trees tapped for the first time is much whiter than that afterwards obtained, and is called white turpentine, or "virgin dip." The flow obtained after this for a succession of years is called "yellow dip." Trees stand this tapping for twelve or fifteen years in succession. By distilling this turpentine, or "gum turpentine," as it is properly called, with water, it yields two products, spirits of turpentine (which distils over with the water) and rosin, which remains behind in the still, and is afterward run off and collected separateafterward run off and collected separateboth because it yields a higher percentage of the valuable spirits of turpentine on distillation and because the resulting rosin is lighter in color. These industries are chiefly carried on in North Carolinn. - Manufacturer and Builder.

THE ONLY DISSOLVER OF THE POISONOUS URIC ACID WHICH EXISTS IN THE BLOOD OF RHEUMAT-IC AND GOUTY PATIENTS.

SALICYIICA is known as a commonsense remedy because it strikes directly it the cause of Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia, while so many so called specifes and supposed panaceas only treat loally the effects. It has been conceded by eminent scientists that outward applications, such as ruoding with oils, ointments, liniments, and soothing lotions will not eradicate these diseases which are the result of the poisoning of the brood with Uric Acid. SALICYICIA works with marvelous effect on this acid, and so removes the disorder. It is now exclusively used by all the celebrated physicians of America and Europe. Highest Medical Academy reports 95 per cent, cures in three days, that SALICYICIA is a certain cure for Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgie. The most intense pains are subdued almost instantly.

NO AID FOR GREELEY THIS YEAR.

The secretaries of war and navy have decided that it is not practicable to send another expedition to the relief of Lieut. Greeley this year. They have consulted Dr. Emil Bessels and George Kennan, gentlemen of Arctic ex-perience who are recognized as the best author-ities in Washington, and have received from consultations distant. lead to a conviction that little can be accomplished after October 20, when there are but few hours of 'daylight in that region. The danger of wrecking a new re'ief party in its attempt to reach Upernavik is estimated to be far greater than should be incurred for the chance of rendering any aid to Greeley.

NEWS NOTES

WAS HE KIDNAPPED? F. M. Ker. who as clerk for Preston Kean & Co., bankers, of Chicago absconded with $50, 000 worth of the bank's securities and was afterward captured in Lima, Peru, secretly taken on board an American man-of-war and brought to this country, was brought to that city a few days ago and taken before Judge McAllister of the superior court, under habeas corpus proceedings for his release on the ground that he was kidnapped from Peru, and therefore not legally in the custody of the sheriff of Cook county. The day was spent in arguments, the court at their conclusion re-

OUR APACHE PRTS. A special from Tombstone, A. T.: Eight hostile Apaches attacked a hog ranche at Ante-lope Springs, sixteen miles from this city, this morning. Only two men were there at the time —George Ward and Amos Williams. The former was killed. The latter escaped and brought the news here. Citizens armed and went in pursuit, with little chance of overtaking the hostiles. The Indians came from the direc-tion of Sonora, and are probably a part of those left in the mountains by Crook. They were on bare-back horses, believed to have been stolen from ranches below here. Several parties have left here for Sonora the past, few days, and grave fears are entertained for their fate. The main body of hostiles is near the Casa Grandas. Their overtures of peace were rejected by the Mexican authorities, and Col. Joaquin Terrezes was at last accounts organizing a force to at tack them in the mountains.

WANTS THE LION'S SHARE.

Mrs. E. H. Wallace, of Cincinnati, is now consulting legal counsel in the matter of prosecuting her claims for a share of the Trinity church property in New York. She is the only daughter of Cornelius D. Thorpe, of New York and maintains that she is the only lineal de scent of King William Webber, of Holland, in the fourth generation. She says she is a collateral heir of the Webbers, who prosecuted the case in New York. The property is now worth $1:2,000,000. An agent of the Anneke Janes and the Webbers states that the govern ment of Holland is willing to settle the claim for $66,000,000. Mrs. Wallace says the other heirs refuse this, but that she is willing to join them and accept a pro-rate share. She pro-poses to begin suit this fall, but expects that Trinity church congregation and other properholders in New York upon whose estate sh holds a first mortgage, will settle the matter before her rights are established by the courts.

MORTALITY IN MEXICO.

A new and terrible disease has broken out in Mexico. Some call it yellow fever and others "black vomit," but it seems to be more fatal than either, as from 40 to 70 persons die daily of it in the city of Guaymas, where it is ADJOURNED. The last clause in the constitution proposed for the new state of Dakota passed. Upon this point the convention adjourned, leaving final agreement of the document in the hands of the committee on arrangements and phraseology. It is a carefully constructed paper and very stringent safeguards are thrown against monopoly—banking and railroad being especially considered. The convention defeated an amendment to the article on corporations as sessing railroad property upon gross earnings.

Ten thousand copies in English and 1,600 each in German and Scandinayian will be printed for distribution among the people of southern Dakota. The census plan which employed chief enumerators with assistants was stricken out and the manner of chief the numerators. out and the manner of obtaining the number of the population will be by volunteer corps in school districts without cost to the state. The question of salaries to be allowed to state officers was decided as follows: The governor is to receive $2,000, and the treasurer, auditor and attorney general $1,000; the secretary, superintendent of public instruction $1,500. The legislature will fix other salaries. The state committee will be composed of one delegate from each county as selected by the convention, there being a belief that there was considerable feeling against electing state officers. Those voting in the affirmative on the question offered to reconsider the question. and it was proposed to leave the matter to the executive committee, but the legislative committee seemed satisfied to leave it as disposed of. A provision was adopted that will console the prohibitionists, which was to submit to a popular vote any measures upon petition of 5,000 legal voters, and upon a majority vote it shall then become part of the state constitution. The utmost good feeling prevails among the delegates, who are well satisfied with the work done.

EDEADLY EXPLOSION. Another disaster has been added to the lis of accidents that has made 1883 a year long to be remembered. The large boilers in the Sligo iron works, Pittsburgh, exploded the other afternoon and the shock was felt throughout the entire city. Many buildings were shaken to their foundation. News of the disaster spread like wildfire, and soon thousands of people were on their way to the scene of destruction. Upon arrival there a fearful sight met their The boiler department, a brick structure, was a complete wreck, as were also a number of passenger and freight cars and the Master Mechanic's slops of the Lake Erie Railroad, while a row of wooden buildings on the opposite side of the street were in flames Men, women and children were running about Men, women and children were running about, wringing their hands and calling for friends whom they supposed were either killed or wounded. In the ruins of the flanging department, scattered around, were the dead and the dying, some with arms and legs off, some disfigured beyond recognition, and others suffering from painful burns and scalds. By this time the police had arrived in force and the work of removing the killed and injured from the ruins was beguin. the ruins was begun. It was found that at the time of the explosion twenty men were at work time of the explosion twenty men were at work. Of these nine reported all right, three were killed and eight badly injured, four fatally, while four children of Charles Douglass, who lived across the way, were also badly burt. The following is a list of the killed; John W. Allen, top of head blown off; Charles Douglass, side of head blown off; John McGarigan, scalded and sides crushed in. Others who were so badly injured, have since died, making the sixth dead.

A NEW PHASE OF CIVIL RIGHTS.

J. N. Johnson, attorney, and I. R. Bryan and W. E. Reed, clergymen of Galveston, all colored have after a conference with Vice-Presiden Waldo, of the Houston & Texas Central Rail road, issued a card to the colored people o exas stating that all suits against the Central Road on account of denial of equal accommo-dations to Negroes are withdrawn. Further suits are discouraged. The company will put on separate exclusive equal accommodations for colored patrons within three months. The card expressly denies that the suits were brought to force social admixture and announces that the Negroes do not desire to ride in the same car with whites. An appeal was Harrison has been on the stump for the Repubmade to the colored people to abstain from acts of violence and from threats. Other roads, it is said, will shortly follow suit.

YELLOW JACKET'S RAVAGES.

A dispatch from Guaymas, Mexico, of the 24th, says: Nine deaths from yellow fever are reported the last twenty-four hours. The thermometer has risen to ninety seven degrees. Fears are entertained that under the great heat, and flithy condition of the streets, the fever will increase and spread. Eleven new cases were reported yesterday. Not enough rain fell to clean the streets, and the hot sun has tended to increase the deaths and malaria. The new cases have driven people almost frantic, not knowing whether they should flee from the city or remain in the hope that the worst had passed. The members of the Board of Health proved themselves utterly incompetent to deal with the matter. Capt. Caverly of the steamship Colema who touched at Mazatlan on the way up from Panama, speaking of the yellow fever on the Mexican coast, confirms the reports of the burial of the dead by a band of hired Indians, who he says roamed from house to house gathering the corpses, as a garbage man who would make his rounds. This resulted in many persons being buried alive. In the case of a man taken up for dead he was carted away and buried in less than half an hour. It was rumored that a noise was heard in the box as he was being catted off. A friend hearing this went to the cemetery, disinterred the remains and found the body turned over from the agony of suffocation. Information of a private source states that there have been 800 deaths at Mazatian during the last six weeks.

DEATH IN A MINE SHAFT. A terrible accident happened at the Woodward shaft of the Deleware, Lackawanna and Western Coal Company at Kingston, Pa., a few days ago. The shaft, five hundred feet deep, has 25 feet of water at its bottom. George Bulg, Thos. J. Davis, Edward Phillips and Isaac Bevan were working on a platform timbering the shaft, sixty feet from the bottom. A piece of timber weighing half a ton fell on the platform while being lowered. It gave way and the four men were precipitated to the bottom, and were drowned Philip Parry and Lewis I. Jones were saved by hanging to the beam. The men were all married, except Davis, and leave large families in destitute circumstances.

A GEORGIA STEALER'S WORK.

A Newman Ga., special to the Constitution gives an interview with the boy White, who was stolen by Ogletree, now so notortious for steal ing boys. The Constitution previously gave the details of Ogletree's abduction of Charlie Filden from Atlanta, of three other boys in Haralson County, all of whom he subjected to astly indignities before they escaped. The a duction of Joe Aller, white, aroused the country, and numerous parties were ia pursuit of the rascal. A couple of days since he was so closely pressed that he tied the boy in a fence corner and moved on himself. When found the boy was nearly dead from fright and want of food. He said the man approached him August 28, and telling him he owred a saw mill in Tennessee wanted him to work in it. The story of rambling through swamps, repeated chastisements and personal indignities baffle description. The county is still being scoured for Ogietree, who manages to keep

POLITICAL. THE REPUBLICANS OF NEW JERSEY.

Only two names were placed in nomination for governor: Judge Jonathan Dixon and ex-congressman John Hill. Judge Dixon was the unanimous choice of the convention, and after appointing a state central committee the convention adjourned.

PIERCE DECLINES.

Henry L. Pierce, who has figured as the probable candidate for the next governor of fassachusetts, has written a letter declining to be the nominee of the convention. Butler says of the declination:

> "Three cheers for the dead already, And hurrah for the next to die." MARYLAND DEMOCRACY.

The Democratic state convention of Mary land was held in Baltimore. The usual plat form was adopted, and the following 'icket nominated: Charles B. Roberts for attorneygeneral and J. Frank Turner for comptroller. THE REPUBLICANS OF THE EMPIRE STATE Assembled at Richfield Springs, on the 19th inst. E. G. Lapnam was chosen chairman, and addressed the convention as follows:

We have met at a moment of great interest in the history of Republicans, and if we are faithful to our trust we shall organize a victory here to-day. Politically last year was our Bull Run [laughter], but if we are aithful this year will prove our Gettysburg and Appomattox. [Applause.] What Charles S. Benten once characterized as the "tumultuary Democracy of the Mississippi Valley" is not the seat of our Republican stronghold, and the "tumultuary Democracy" are found in the state of New York. How could it be otherwise with distinct and rival bodies in our commercial great city, each refusing to surrender its oranization and each determined to send a full delegation to the convention at Buffalo. The result is that the idol of a year ago has been east down and is almost literally trodden under foot in his own home. [Laughter.]

He referred at some length to national affairs, and closed by stating that by wise and harmon ious action the success of the Republican party would be complete. After the a pointment of the usual committees, the convention nominated the following ticket: Secretary of State .-Gen. Joseph B. Carr; Controller, Ira Daven-port; State Tressurer, Pliny T. Sexton; State Engineer and Surveyor, Silas Seymour; Attor-ney General, Leslie W. Russell.

BAY STATE REPUBLICANS

met in convention in Boston for the nomina-tion of a state ticket. Charles R. Codman was president of the convention. He made a speech, the chief subject of which was the arraignment of Gov. Butler. In reviewing the Tewksbury affair, Codman said: One man has led this crusade against the fair fame of Massachusetts, a man conspicuous always, of great audacity, of ready wit, of voluble and copious speech and of restless personal ambition; a man of national noteriety surely, if not of national reputation, who has often solicited and sometimes obtained the votes of the people, but who has never been able to retain them long; a legislator identified with congressional raids upon the treasury, a politician who has A sad accident occurred at the Stockwall flouring mills in Galt, Ont., resulting in the death of John D. major general whose most valuable services were as provost marshal and never as a leader of men, and whose successes were those of the were as provost marshal and never as a leader of men, and whose successes were those of the sutler and not of the strategist. A platform, setting forth the principles of good and honest government, as regarded by the Republican party, was unanimously adoped. The convention then proceeded to nominate a candidate for governor. The honor was conferred upon George D. Robinson, who received 996-of the 1 168 votes cast. Oliver Ames was the of the 1,168 votes cast. Oliver Ames was the, unanimous choice of the convention for lieu enant-governor.

IOWA'S CAMPAIGN.

The Gubernatorial campaign in Iowa is being conducted with unusual vigor this fall. The issues outlined are prohibition and a pro-tective tariff on the side of the Republicans and license and a tariff for revenue on the side licans, and Gov. Hendricks for the Democrats, and Congressman Wm. S. Springer, of Illinois, has gone to that state, where he will begin on a series of speeches, lasting till the time of election.

CRIME. A MINISTER'S CRIME.

On the top floor of a four-story brick building, on Fulton street, Brooklyn, N. Y., in rooms occupied by Mrs. Elizabeth Kemlo, a horrible case of murder and suicide occurred. It appears that James Kemlo, a Methodist minister residing in Newark, N. J., and his wife Frances, paid a visit to his mother at the above number. Mrs. Kemlo was just preparing dinner, and left her son and his wife in the house while she went to a grocery. During her abscence a quarrei must have arisen, and the husband seizing a large butcher butch which was band seizing a large butcher knife which was lying near, stabbed his wife in the neck. He then drew the knife across his own throat and jumped out of the window, sustaining fatal in-

FOREIGN AFFAIRS. ENGLAND'S ATTITUDE.

English opinion is showing signs of absolute irritation over French restlessness. The Times gives a bolder warning than France has yet received. She is reminded that she is trifling with English interests, that in dealing with China it is necessary to maintain a common policy, to which every European nation can ad here, and that the French are seeking illusory advantages and endangering common interests by demanding territory to which they have no right. Indeed, the belief is growing that English opinion may induce Lord Granville to take action against French designs. The English view is not unfavorable to the French protection. torate in Anam and to the opening of the Red river, but as these concessions are covered by the Bouree treaty France can hardly be satisti ed with them without incurring loss of prestige If France proceeds to war for Tonquin as well as Anam, most likely she will embroil herself in Europe. The lack of earnestness on the part of the ministry, in neither summoning the legislative chambers nor in organizing substantial reinforcements for the meager army in the East, bas caused the French ship to drift toward the rocks. Marquis Tseng's willingness to accept English mediation and the French appeal for it, if that be M. Waddington's object, will strengthen the English position in China just as England gained in Egypt by French vacilation.

Three Particular Points.

Point the First.—Brown's Iron Bitters is not an intoxicating compound. It is a tonic medicine, not a drink. It is a skillfully compounded preparation made to restore strength and health; not a beverage to be sold in bar-rooms and taverns.

Point the Second.—BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is free from everything injurious. The most delicate ladies and the most enfeebled infants may use it with perfect safety and with great advantage. While it is powerful in its remedial agency, it is gentle in its operation, restoring wasted strength and imparting robust health in the most efficient manner.

Point the Third.—Brown's IRON BITTERS is made by the Brown Chemical Company of Baltimore, a long-established house, whose reputation is well-known to the business world and the general community.

There is no risk in buying such a medicine.

THURSDAY, SEPT. 27, 1883.

The influence of Naval conflicts in determining the current of human affairs has never been fully estimated. Nations invincible on land, often succumbed in a single decisive onset at sea und faded iuto insignificance. A discomfitted and panicstricken army frequently retrieved its fortunes in a new trial of strength; rarely was this true of a fleet. The hitherto unconquorable Persians received so signal a check at Salamis, the earliest sea fight on record, that Xerxes rent his garmente and wept. Actium sealed the fortunes of Anmastery of the world. The Cross wins and the Cresent pales into insignificance. A little later the invincible Armada is wrecked by wind and wave and English prowess, and Spain sees herself prostrated never to rise again. Had the Battle of the Nile been a French victory, the map of the World would have been changed; and in our own day, had the Monitor failed to meet the Merrimac, who could have foretold the consequences?

The history of Naval Warfare has hitherto been a neglected study because the facts were inaccessible except to a privileged few who were able to possess large libraties. We are glad however to know that this is no longer the case.

A new volume has just made its appearance entitled "Naval Battles, Ancient and Modern" (J. C. McCurdy & Co., Publishers, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, see advertisement in another column), which gives a clear and concise history of all the most noted sea fights of the world. The author is Medical Director Shippen of the U. S. N., who has seen more than thirty years of active service and whose literary ability is very generally conceded.

The book is written in a facinating and readable style, elaborately illustrated, and low priced and very popular we understand, as it certainly deserves to be. Write to the publishers for particulars.

Nothing Like It.

No médicine has ever been known so effectual in in the cure of all those diseases arising from an impure condition of the blood as Scovill's Sarsaparilla or Blood and Liver Syrup for the cure of Scrofula, White Swellings, Rheumatism, Pimples, Blotches, Eruptions, Consumption, Groire, Boils, Cancers, and all kindred diseases. It purifies the system, brings color to the cheeks, and restores the sufferer to a normal condition of health and vigor,

It is asserted that the ordinary cosmetics used by ladies are productive of great mischief. We believe this is so, and that a better means of securing a beautiful complexion is to use some good blood medicine like SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIV-ER SYRUP which cleanses the blood and gives permanent beauty to the skin.

The Finest Dry Goods Store

CENTRAL MICHIGAN

Old Mammoth, at Jackson,

This store has been re-fitted at a large expense and is now being filled with NEW, FIRST-CLASS merchandise.

For many years it has been the rule of the former proprietors, Camp Morrill & Camp, to sell nothing but first-class goods and under no circumstances allow any salesman to missrepresent. As it is my desire to continue the business, and wishing to increase the sales largely, I shall sell all goods at the lowest possible profit and at any time goods bought from my establishment that are not as represented, may be returned and I will cheerfully refund the money. I buy all my goods gor Cash and sell them for Cash, and as my store is the best lighted of any in the State, the customer can see exactly what they are getting.

Since the introduction of spelling match es, many words have come prominently into notice -words that were previously comparatively unknown. For instance we find Antiseptic, meaning: preventing and stopping all fermentation and decomposition, and Analgisient: Painkiller. Then there is Antipyretic: cooling down inflammation of Life, Leucorrhea, besides many weakmis-spelled, are three of the cardinal virtues Hendache, Bloating, Spinal weakness,
