Arriving in the village of Detroit-then 'a small hamlet of about 1,500 inhabitants,-he found employment with T. W. Palmer, father of Hon. T. W. Palmer, and later worked for E. B. Ward. He remained in Detroit about one year, when, following the tide of emigration, which was tending westward, he settled in the town of Ann Arbor. He attended the first Fourth of July celebration at Yp silanti, in Woodland's grove, in 1824. In 1827 he married Miss Jane Pullen. After clearing and somewhat improving his farm he in 1835 sold it, and still moving towards the setting sun, settled in Stockbridge, where in March, 1847, he buried his wife, and one year later he married Mrs. Caroline Billinger who survives him. While a resident of Stockbridge he assisted in the formation of the township and held every office in it except that of supervisor. After a residence there of twenty-seven years, he in 1863 sold his property and again meving westward, settled in the town of Rives, eight inches in circumference the largest Jackson county, living there until 1869 when he moved to Chelsea, where he resided until his death. In politics he was a Whig until the formation of the Republican party when he became a member of that party and it is probable that he never missed voting but once during his connection with that party and then prevented by sickness. Mr. Wood was from childhood a regular attendant of the Methodist Episcopal church although it was not until at the age of 38 that he became a member, since which time he led a consistent christian life. There are many Michigan people who contemplate investing in orange lands or groves at Altamont this fall when the Florida excursion reaches there. The Al tamont Real Estate Agency (all wellknown Michigan men), will have for sale, not only their own lands, but desirable property of all kinds at owner's prices. Messrs. E. H. Glover, of Jackson, and L. D. Whitney, of Chelsea, are in Altamont now to prepare for the excursion. Mr B. S. Ashley, of Jackson, will take charge of the excursion. These gentlemen will be ready to show our folks anything they may wish in the real estate line. All property at or near Altamont has advanced 100 per cent. in the last year, and competent judges say the rise has but fairly begun. As a safe and profitable investment good orange property can not be equaled in this country. Mr. Ashley will give all information desired in regard to the excursion if parties interested will write him.

Notices in this space will be inserted at ten cents per line.

WASHINGTON.

A MICHIGAN MAN'S LUCK Joseph T. Hall, of Michigan, has been appointed to a $1,000 clerkship in the War Department. This is the second appointment from Michigan to the classified departmental service under the new law.

STEVENS SUSPENDED.

Among the other patent and pension attorneys who have been suspended by Secretary Teller from practicing before the interior department, on allegations of fraud, pending investigation of the truthfulness of the charges, are Milo B. Stevens & Co., of Cleveland, Chica, Washington and Detroit.

The following changes have been ordered in the Quartermaster's department of the army:
Col. J. D. Bingham, relieved, from duty in the department of the Missouri and ordered to San Francisco: Maj. James Gillis, relieved from duty at Fort Monroe and ordered to the department of the Missouri.

BOUND TO HAVE IT ENFORCED.

At the request of Postmaster General Gresham, Attorney Genera Brewster has address ed a circular to all district attorneys, directing them to cordially co-operate with officers of the postoffice department in enforcing section 3,894, revised statutes, which forbids that any letter or circular concerning lotteries shall be carried in the mail. The penalty for violation of the act is a fine not to exceed $500 nor less than $100, with cost of prosecution.

AN EXPLANATION.

Justice Bradley delivered the opinion of the supreme court on the civil rights decision the other day, setting forth the leading points in the decision, and explaining the scope of the Fourteenth Amendment. His remarks upon this point may be summed up in the following sentence: "Congress cannot legislate upon subjects within the domain of state legislation." Further in the decision he says: "Civil rights acts, such as are guaranteed by the constitution against state agression cannot be im-paired by the wrongful acts of individuals un-supported by state authority in the shape of laws, customs or judicial or executive proceedings. The wrongful act of an individual, unsupported by any such authority, is simply a private wrong or crime of that individual, an invasion of the rights of the injured party, it is true, whether they affect his person, his property, or his reputation, but if not sanctioned in some way by the state, or not done under its authority, his rights remain in full force and may presumably be vindicated by a resort to the laws of the state for redress. An individ-ual cannot deprive a man of his right to vote, to hold property, to buy and sell, to sue in he courts, or to be a witness or juror. He may, by force or fraud, interfere with the enjoyment of a right in a particular case; he may commit assault against the person, or commit murder, or use ruffianly violence at the polls, or slander the good name of a fellow citizen, but unless protected in these wrongful acts by some shield of state law or state authority be cannot destroy or injure a right. He will only render himself amenable to satisfaction or punishment, and amenable, therefore, to the laws of the state where the wrongful act is committed. If the principles of the interpretation we have laid down are correct, as we deem them to be, it is clear that the law in question cannot be sustained by any grant of legislative power made to congress by the fourteenth amendment. Of the thirteen amendment, he said, by its own force it abolished slavery and established freedom. This amendment is not a new prohibition of state laws, but an absolute declaration exist in any part of the United States. Innkeepers and public carriers, by the law of all States, so far as we are aware, are bound to extend their facilities, and to furnish proper accommodation to all unobjectionable persons who, in good faith, apply for them. If the laws themselves make any unjust discrimination amenable to the prohibitions of the fourteenth amendment Congress has full power to afford a remedy under that amendment and in ac-cordance with in. When a man has emerged from slavery, and by the aid of deficient legis-lation has shaken off the inseparable concomitants of that state, there must be some stage in the progress of his elevation when he takes rank as a mere citizen and ceases to be special favorite of the laws, and when his rights as a citizen or man are to be protected in the ordinary modes by which other men's rights are protected. There were thousands of free colored people in this country before the abolition of slavery, enjoying all the essential rights of life, liberty and property the same as white citizens, yet no one at that time thought it was any invasion of their personal status as free men because they were not admitted to all the privileges enjoyed by white citizens, or because they were subjected to discriminations in the enjoyment of the accommodations of inns, public conveyances and places of amusement. Mere discriminations on account of race or color were not regarded as a badge of slavery. If, since that time, the enjoyment of equal rights in all these respects has become established by constitutional enact-

UNCLE SAM WILL CARE FOR HIS CHILDREN Lieut. Kobbe, stationed at Mount Vernon barracks, Alabama, reported to the war depart-ment that a white mule which had been at that post 45 years was about to be sold, and the officers asked permission to buy him and keep him at their own expense. The petition went through the regular channels and Gen. Sherman submitted the case to the secretary of war with the following report: "I have seen that mule, and whether true or false, the soldiers believe it was left at Big Spring where the Mount Vernon barracks now are, at the time Gen. Jackson's army camped there about 1819-20. The tradition is that it was once sor rel, but now it is white from age. The quartermaster's department will be chargeable with ingratitude if that mule is sold, or the care or maintenance of it is thrown on the charitable officers of the post. I advise that it be kept in the department, fed and maintained till death. I think the mule was at Fort Morgan at Mobile Point when I was there in 1842." The secretary of war thereupon made the following order: "Let this mule be kept and well cared for as long as he lives."

Indian Commissioner Price has submitted his annual report. Price detects considerable improvement in the condition of the Red man but there is still a great work to be done. He recommends increased appropriations for the erection of training schools, and says that if any one thing is more essential than another it is that the Indian be taught to work for his own support. Among other recommendations he thinks a law should be enacted for the punishment of persons who furnish arms or ammunition to Indians.

torneys also of Washington. Mrs. Lockwoods is accused of receiving lilegal fees and withholding pension money, and Gelston & Co. of filing fraudulent claims.

NEWS NOTES

ONE UNFORTUNATE'S STORY. Helyn Leonard, the young woman who shot and seriously wounded Mrs. Clarence Smith, in New York city several weeks ago, was convicted of assault in the second degree and sentenced to the penitentiary for three and a half years. The young woman became an orphan early, was educated in a convent in Canada, later was a governess in Cuba, and later still became identified with a wealthy man here, who abandoned her. She charged the abandonment to the influence of the woman whom she shot. Then followed arrest, impriswhom she shot. Then followed arrest, imprisor ment, trial, conviction and sentence.

AN UNEXPECTED LOOP-HOLE.

Suspicions for some time have existed that many Chinese have been permitted to land from Chinese steamers who under the restrictions act were not entitled to that privilege. A loophole was discovered to exist under article 2 of the treaty which permits any Chinaman other than laborers to come to the United States if provided with a certificate issued by the Chinese government identifying him as engaged in other pursuits than that of laborer. The steamer Rio Janeiro, which arrived at San Francisco the other day, brought 132 Chinamen for San Francisco, 77 of whom held traders' certificates issued by ofwhom held traders' certificates issued by officials of the Chinese government. Notwith standing the strongest external evidence of their being ignorant Chinese laborers they were all with the exception of six, permitted to land. The steamer Coptic, which arrived last month, brought 114 Chinese, 54 of whom held similar certificates issued by officials of Chinese customs. Fully 90 per cent. of both lots bethat circumstance was called to the attention of custom house officials, the reply was that they had no power to go back of the Chinese government certificate.

A PLEASANT REUNION.

The 16th annual reunion of the Army of the Tennessee was held in Cleveland, Ohio, a few days ago. The attendance was large, showing that the patriotism of the men was deep-seat-ed and sincere. Gen. Sherman as president of the society, made one of his characteristic and thrilling speeches. The reunion closed with the usual banquet.

AFTER ONE HUNDRED YEARS.

5The celebration of the centennial of the disbanding of Washington's army was celebrated at Newburg, N. Y. October 18. The city was thronged with visitors, and decked out in her gayest attire. A procession four miles long, paraded the city, and halted in front of Washington's headquarters, where the exercises of the day took place. Eloquent addresses were delivered by Senator Bayard and William M. Evarts. A hallelujah cborus was given after the oration by a choir of over 500 voices, after which the great crowd scattered to the music of bands.

THE HERO OF "CHICKAMAUGA."

Gen. James B. Steedman died at his home a Toledo, O., on the 18th inst of pneumonia, after a protracted illness. The deceased was a prominent army officer during the war of the rebellion and was made Major-General for conspicious bravery at the battle of Chickamauga. At the time of his death Gen. Steedman held the position of Chief of Police at Toledo. His age was 67.

"OKLAHOMA" PAYNE AGAIN

The federal grand jury found a true bill against D. L. Payne, better known as "Oklahoma Payne," for conspiracy to violate the laws of the United States. Payne says he desires a speedy trial and declares that there is no case against him, as everything in the way of preparation for entering Indian territory and marching to Oklahoma has been heralded many ways, and that he invariably notified the United States attorney and asked him to interfere, if he proposed to, when they reached the state line, and not wait till they reached Oklahoma.

IS ALL GOLD THAT GLITTERS!.

Intense excitement prevails at Lisbon, D. T., over the discovery of gold. H W. Griswold, of Chicago, made the discovery on his place near here two months ago. He had 130 samples assayed and the result showed from $20 to $250 per ton. The matter was kept quiet until Griswold had secured all the land in the vicinity. ity. There is great excitement in that part of the country. Crowds are leaving for the scene of the discovery.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A platform crowded with spectators watching the scrub races at Harvard, on the Charles river, broke down Several persons were seriously injured, having legs and arms broken. Most of the injured are Harvard men. A student named Mead, of South Boston, class of '82, had his skull fractured. The crews were getting into line for the start. About 150 students had crowded to the front of the two balconies which stand out from the river front of the Harvard boat-house, about an equal num-ber on each balcony. All were pressing for-ward to see the race, when both balconies gave way, precipitating many into the river, while many others standing on the lower balcony were pinned down, and bruised by the fall of the upper balcony upon them. Fortunately there was but half a tide, so that those who fell into the river escaped with a wetting. As quickly as possible the upper platform was raised and several men were released in a more or less injured condition and carried into the

OPPOSED TO HOWARD.

A report from the East having reached Salt Lake City that Summer Howard, Speaker of the last Michigan House, was to be appointed Chief Justice of Utah, the members of the Salt Lake bar, numbering thirty, held a meeting and passed resolutions opposing the nomination. Howard was formerly United States District Attorney of Utah. He occupied that position when John D. Lee was convicted and executed. One of the chief movers was a Mor mon church attorney.

THROUGH A BRIDGE,

A train due at Glens Falls, N. Y., from Albany, went through the bridge over Glens Falls, a feeder to Champlain Canal, eighty rods north of Fort Edward. The engine crossed the bridge, but the baggage and passenger cars went down into the water, and are a total wreck. About twenty passengers were aboard. Three passengers were instantly killed, and the others seriously injured.

IN THE BANK'S FAVOR.

In the suit of the Muskegon, Mich., National bank against the Northwestern mutual life insurance company of Milwaukee for the recovery of $20,000 insurance on the life of Erwin G. Comstock, formerly cashier of the bank, the jury rendered a verdict of $22,905 for the bank. The insurance company sought to prove that Comstock was an habitual drunkard and that his death was caused by his own act.

A "SQUIB" EXPLOSION.

The people of Kingston, Pa., were startled the other afternoon by a loud explosion. The Excelsior squib factory had been torn to pieces excessor squite factory had been torn to pieces and eight children employed there blown out with the flying timbers in every direction. No one appears to know the exact cause of the explosion, but it is believed that there had been burning wood in the stove, and a spark blown out of the stove fired a keg of powder. Five of the injured ones died within a few hours after the explosion.

not justify the running of separate coaches to accommodate Negroes in accordance with recent civil rights decision. He says: "We can now make colored men take the seats we desige." The Governor replies that the difficulty involves the peace of society. There is but one remedy, that is, to provide coaches for each color. He sincerely regrets that the road will not do what seems reasonable, and what other trunk lines in Texas have done.

A BOILER EXPLODES.

A boiler exploded at the pump factory at Belpre, Ohio and nine persons were injured, four of whom will probably die. O. Lagrane died in an hour. Chas. Cranston, James Hutchinson, Geo. Gurlosh, Frank Brookhart and Will Howell were severely burned. Geo. Miller had a leg broken in two places.

GLIDDEN GOES UNDER.

Business circles of Cleveland, O., are greatly excited over the failure of John N. Gidden, Secretary of the Republic Iron Company. The company has filed in court a claim against him for upwards of $111,000, on which he confessed judgment. As security the com-pany holds his stock, the market value of which is about $250,000, but it is understood that considerable of this is pledged for other debts, and questions of priority of claims are likely to arise. Mr. Glidden stated to an Associated Press reporter that his failure is solely attributable to shrinkage of values in legitimate iron usiness. His indebtedness to the company is for ore purchased on his own account and sold to other parties and for transportation. to other parties, and for transportation. He says that in a year and a half he lost over $300,-000 from this cause. He will call a meeting of creditors and ask an extension of time. Glidden's embarrassment will not effect the Repub lic Iron Company, whose capital stock is $2,-500,000, and which owns perhaps the most valuable mining property in America, nor will it affect the firm of Gildden & Manning, which does a strictly commission business and has no CHARLIE ROSS HEARD FROM.

WHAT KILLED THE SHEEP.

For the past few weeks sheep in large numbers have been dying in a mysterious manner in the vicinity of Dayton, O. H. C. Riefaber, an extensive wool grower of that city has made a thorough investigation of the affair. He found the cause of death to be a worm about an inch long and one-third of an inch thick, with two horns similar to a tobacco worm. The insect inserts itself at the base of the sheep's nose and works its way to a vital point in the head. One of them was soaked twenty-four hours in coal oil, and when taken jout was as ively as ev.r

A DETROITER IN TROUBLE.

The trial in Toronto, Ont., of Charles Andrews alias Charles Morgan, the Detroit (Mich) gambler, for the shooting of Maroney on the 7th of August last, during a quarrel about a drink, resulted in a verdict of wilful murder, with a recommendation to mercy. Judge Galt asked them to retire to re-consider their verdict, because there was nothing to show that the act was premeditated. The jury said the difficulty had been with them as to the malice aforethought, but thought from the evidence they were justified in bringing in their verdict. The jury then again retired, and returned in half an hour with a verdiet of "manslaughter." Andrews was at once placed on trial for shooting with intent to kill Constable Cuddy, while the latter was arresting him a few minutes after the shooting of Maroney.

THE FAT WOMAN'S DEATH.

It is stated that Mrs. Moses, of Detroit, the fat woman who was found dead in bed in Baltimore was in an advanced stage of pregnancy, having been enciente for at least five months back. The announcement of this fact has given rise to the utterance of not a few snspicions as to the indirect cause of the woman's death. Mrs. Moses was buried in Mount Olive cemetery in Baltimere. The corpse was earried down stairs in a piece of canvass and placed in a coffin in the lower hall and thence caaried to the undertaker's wagon by 12 pall-bearers attached to the museum. The coffin of black walnut, was six feet four inches long. three feet two inches deep, and three feet

CRIME.

A FATHER'S CRIME. There is great excitement in the little town of Newcomerstown, Ohio, over a frightful tragedy which occurred about ten miles north-east of that place. All that is known at the present time is that Alfred Finzer murdered his wife and three children, and then terminated the fearful tragedy by putting an end to his own miserable existence. Finzer resided in Frier's Cree Valley, and when last seen was very despondent because the doctor had advised him to quit work on account of ill-health. He seemed much worried about his family. A neighbor named Neishaum visited the home of Finzer, and found the doors locked and the curtains down. After summoning neighbors the door was forced open, when a horrible sight met their gaze. On a bed in one corner of the room lay the dead body of Mrs. Finzer with her throat cut from ear to ear, while by her side was the youngest child cold in death, with its head mashed. In a little crib cot on the east side of the room lay the two oldest children with their heads crushed in, and near the north window of the room lay Mr. Finzer, with the side of his face torn off by the discharge of a gun. The mother and child on the bed were lying as if asleep, both being covered up with quiits. It is supposed that brooding over his ill-health and inability to work deranged Finzer's mind, and that while his wife and children were sleeping he murdered them and then killed himself, as there is no evidence in the room that there was a scuffle. The manner in which the murderous father killed himself is certainly diabolical. By his side was an empty gun barrel with no hammer or the stock. He must have loaded the barrel and held one end in the flame of a lamp that stood near by and the other in his face, and held it till it exploded from heat and blew his brains out.

While Alfred Gossett, colored, was on his way to the Criminal Court, of New Orleans, in charge of Officer Dominick to receive a life sentence for the murder of Policeman John Coff ey last April, the eldest son of Coffey, aged 19, stepped up behind Gossett, who was handcuffed, at Rampart and Contat streets, and shot him in the head. Gossett died in a few minutes, and the deputy sheriff in charge of the murderer immediately arrested Coffey.

The Model of Womankind

Was the subject of Mgr. Capel's sermon in St. Paul s Roman Catholic church, New York. The great prelate

"The doctrine of devotion to the Blessed Virgin meets with so much opposition from the fact that this doctrine is especially precious to Catholics. Why it is so, the Virgin herself explains: He that is mighty hath done to me great things.' These were inspired words, dictated by the Holy Ghost. Why was she to be called blessed? What greater things could even God Himself do in her, than he has done? Gifted as no mortal before or since, has been, or can be; the very Son of God dwelling in her, partaking of her own nature; admitted to a union with Deity as intimate as that of soul and body-what grace could exceed hers? Can there be any more sacred thing on earth that the union of mother and child? It is so intimate that the latter partakes even externally of the nature of the former. Some persons are shocked at the words Mother of God, because they will not look closely at dogmatic truths. They think of Christ only as a man, and not as the very God. It was the very God which Mary bore, and therefore she cannot possibly be termed other than the Mother of God. Among menthe holder of a dignity is treated with the honor belonging to that dignity. Mary was raised to the highest dignity by virtue of the son she bore. She was fitted to be the Mother of God by an endowmen of marvellous virtues. No angel could compare with her, and it was no wonder that one saluted her with the words. 'Hail, full of grace!' Virginity was the brightest jewel in her crown; then humility. The Incarnation trembled in the balance, waiting for her lowly are swer. Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to tay word.'

"God be praised for woman, the companion of man through life. The sweet domestic life where she shines most is little thought of. In these days, when women aspire to what they are pleased to call woman's rights,' to an education. wholly masculine, employments much more suited to man, to the ignoring of he prop er duties of woman, we ask can such a woman ever resemble Mary the Mother of God? Woman's sphere is home—near to God and far from the world. Purity, humility, retirement should above to the world. should characterize her—the very opposite of what men most admire now. God forbid that you Catholics should ever adopt, such baneful ideas. Bring up your girls to imitate the blessed Virgin; make them the daughters of Our Lady, that imbued with her virtues that may go forth as lights to bless mankind. The saints gone hence are still one with us in heart and love. They have power to help us. But who among them has so much power to do so as Mary? Woman can never be attractive until she copies her sublime extive until she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until the shear and she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until the shear and she copies her sublime extinct the should be attractive until the shear and she copies her sublime extinct the shear and site of what men most admire no over a project whereby transient papers which chance to be but partially prepared may be forwarded instead of destroying them as now.

No two men in America have had more experience with fine trotting stock, and none are better judges that Calvin M. Priest, of the New York Club Stables, 28th street near Fifth avenue and Dan Mace, of the Excelsior Stables, West 59th street, New York, the champion double-team driver of the United States. Both of these gentlemen say, that for painful ailments in horses, such as cuts, bruises, swellings, lameness, stiffness, St. Jacobs Oil is superior to anything they have ever used or heard of. This is also the opinion of Prof.

David Robarge, the celebrated horse-shoer of the metropolis, and thousands of stock-owners throughout the country. As a pain-cure for man and beast S. Jacobs Oil has no equal. Mr. Priest recites the case of a valuable trotter, so stiff from rheumatism that he could not move an inch. By one thorough application of St. Jacobs Oil at night, the animal was completely cured and was fit for the race-track, the next day.

Worn, Weary, and Wretched.

"As weak as a cat" is an expression frequently used by debilitated sufferers who are trying to tell how forlorn they feel. It is an incorrect expression, for a cat is one of the most agile and vigorous animals in existence. It would be more correct to say, "as weak as a limp old rag," for that gives the idea of utter inability to hold one's self up. The weary person who feels thus is generally worn, worried, woeful, and wretched. Sometimes it is a case of overwork, and sometimes of imperfect nourishment. The blood in the system of a person who is "as weak as a rag" is in a wretchedly thin condition. It needs iron, to impart richness, redness, and strength. This is to be had by taking Brown's Iron BITTERS, the only safe and proper preparation of iron in connection with gentle and powerful tonics. The physician and the druggist can tell the worn and weary how valuable a remedy Brown's Iron Bitters has been found in actual every-day use.

> "Ridiklus indeed," returned I. "Well, there she was," said he, a hale, active old party, with an immense nightcap on her head, her sleeves tucked up to her shoulders, and a bar of yellow soap in her hand.

> "She had been asking her way to her daughter Sally's' of every one she met for half an hour or more. And as most of the people could not understand what she said, they took her for a mad woman, and well they might.

"'Well, now, my good woman,' said

"Then she told me her story, and, though I could not understand all she said, I managed to pick up that she lived in Deeplane, Devonshire, and had come up the day before to see her married daughter Sally. It was the first time the old soul had ever left Deeplane, and Sally's husband met her at Paddington Station and took her home, but where that home was now she had not which caused him to procure a large botthe faintest idea.

"She had lost herself in this manner: Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. She had helped her daughter to wash, and the soap ran short. The shops were Store. Large size $1.00 about to close. So she volunteered to go. She had been to the grocer's with Sally, and could find her way again. So off she started, and, after some difficulilliamston, are visiting relatives in ty, found the shop, bought the soap, and was returning, but now other shops were closed, all looked different; she was in a dilemma; she had even forgotten the grocer's name, who was now closed, and so she wandered up and down asking for her daughter Sally's No. 3.

"I was puzzled what to do. Had it been a poor child lost, there would have been no difficulty; it would have been as easy as lying.

"How so?" said I, "I should have thought it would have been more difficult with a child than yan adult, even though she came from Devonshire."

"Not a poor child, sir. In this case we allus says: 'Where does your father get his beer?' and out like winkin' comes the name of the public house.

"Well, I took her up first one street and then another, thinking she might identify the right one; but she identified em all-they were all alike to her. How Watch Cases are Made.

This process of manufacture was invented by James Boss, who started in business in 1854, and the methods and tools used in making these watch cases are covered by patents. This is the only watch care made under this process. For many years the introduction of these goods was slow, owing to popular prejudice against "plated" goods, but gradually the public learned that the James Boss' Gold' Watch Case was not a cheap gold-washed or electro-plated article, but was made of genuine gold' pittes of standard quality and thickness. Conscientious adherence to the determination to make the best watch case ever put on the market, and the adoption of every improvement suggested, has made the James Boss' Gold' Watch Case the STANDARD. TADE MARK In this watch case the parts & most subject to wear-the bow, crown, hinges, thumb-catches, etc., are made of solid sold.

TOPICS OF THE TIME.

THE Albuquerque Indian school es tablished by the United States Government is in a flourishing condition, but is much crowded, and needs more accommodations. When the proposed new buildings are completed, there will probably be 300 pupils enrolled in the school. These pupils come mainly from the Pueblos of New Mexico, a semi-civilized race. There are in this tribe live within easy access of Albuquerque. There is a great desire among these Indians to have their children educated.

THE tallest man in the country is said to be Henry Thurston, who first beheld the light of day near Jefferson City, Mo., but who now owns a cattle ranch in Texas. Mr. Thurston is seven feet seven and a half inches tall, and as he is thin and gaunt, and invariably wears a stove-pipe hat, he never fails to produce a positively startling effect upon the beholder. Moreover, he has acquired several habits of posture which add to the impression. For instance, if he happens to feel tired when walking in the street he is accustomed to rest himself by dropping his arms over a swinging sign and reclining his chin up-

The Rev. Newman Hall is universally known in England as the author of the tract "Come to Jesus." Some time ago, it is related, he wrote a reply to some of his critics, and, having a good deal of "the old man Adam" in his make-up, used some pretty stinging language therein. Before publishing it he read it to his friend, the late Doctor Binney, and then said: "Now, Doctor, I'm going to print it in tract form and I want you to suggest a name for it,' "Well," said the other, "while you were reading some of those hard hits at your enemies, it occurred to me that you ought to call it 'Go to the Devil; by the Author of "Come to Jesus.' " Mr. Hall saw the point, and didn't publish the tract at all.

AMERICAN women going to Europe without escorts will hear with satisfaction of the establishment in Amsterdam and several other cities in Holland of a Hotel for Women to which men are not admitted as guests. Apartments are to be provided to suit every class, from the highest to the poorest; but the cheapest rooms in the attic are to be as clean as the suites on the first floor. These houses, it is stated, are an experiment of a society interested in the development of women, and are not managed with an expectation of pecuniary profit. It is easy to understand why the benevolent Dutchmen, bent on the development of wives and daughters, should, as the first stage in the work, have made this odd experiment of insuring their safety from insult while traveling. Homes for women could be established with great propriety in most Continental cities, and would no doubt receive a good deal of American and works of every land, but all the American books which the smaller like the large English patronage.

The announcement 18 made that that worthy is about to issue another of his documents, and the Tribune says: "If Plon-Plon had less time on his hands and more common sense in his head he would scarcely be found engaging in this unique sort of foolishness. The Pope's bull against the comet is not supposed to have exercised any marked disturbing influence upon the heavenly bodies. But it possessed the terrible potency of dynamite in comparison with one of these Napoleonic manifestoes. The Prince is consumed by an ambition as hopeless as it is magnificent. He yearns to see the hands go back on the dial and the consequent restoration of the Empire with himself on its throne/ A manfesto hurled at the electric light, and arguabout 2,500 children of school age, who ing for a return to the tallow-dip, would not be more absurd. The Republic must stay. It would be proper to add that Plon-Plon must go, were it not for the fact-which apparently he does not realize -- that he went some years ago."

> Among the questions likely to engage the attention of Congress at its next session will be the admission of Montana into the Union. Last winter the Legislative Assembly of the territory adopted a resolution providing for the election of delegates to a constitutional convention The election of these delegates was held recently, and among those chosen are such men as J. Schuyler Crosby, governor of the territory, D. H. Weston, territorial treasurer, and Alexander C Botkin, Republican candidate for congress last fall. The convention consists of forty-five delegates. The constitution drawn up by the convention will be submitted to the vote of the people at the election in November, 1884. If it is ratified it will be submitted to congress with a petition for the admission of the territory. Will the territory be admitted? There is one favorable feature. The claim of Dakota to be admitted as a state is too strong to be easily denied. Yet it is searcely suppesable that the Democratic house of representatives will add two Republicans to the senate | treasurer's accounts—one for which it is imand three to the Electorial College, unand three to the Electorial College, unless an offset can be found. For this into the hands of the treasurer within four the bands of the treasurer within four the hands of the treasurer within the han they must look to Montana, which has always given Democratic majorities. The admission of Montana and Dakota at once is therefore possible. At the election last fail Montana cast over 23,-000 votes. This year the increase of its population has been rapid, and in the two years that must elapse before admission can be accomplished the territory will undoubtedly attain a population of 100,000.

Kalamazoo Paul has strangely said
The man should always go ahead,
In other words should have his way
In other words should have his way
In other seemed the thought to carry
And further seemed the thought to carry
That 'twas not best for men to marry.
If Paul had been a pioneer,
If Paul had old-fashioned ague shake him
Had had old-fashioned ague shake him
Had bilious fever overtake him,
And bilious fever overtake him,
With no one near to soothe his woes,
With no one near to soothe his woes,
Or hold the camphor to his nose,
Or hold the camphor to his nose,
It was not best for men to wed?
It was not best for men to wed? It was not best to not know I cannot say, I do not know About their wives so long ago. They may have been so worthless then They were a pulsance to the men, and he had reason in his head No doubt for saying what he said. But if St. Paul were here to-day, To look upon this fine array of faithful and devoted wives, Could read the record of their lives, Could look upon these lovely girls, Their sparkling eyes and glossy curls, He'd doubtless say—I do declare i must have been mistaken there; I and then acknowledge to his credit He bad dyspepsia when he said it."

The patrolman started off on his er-ad with alacrity, and, turning the jacent corner, climbed over the railunto a garden at the rear of the mises. He had no difficulty in ntifying the house in its altered as-et, for a light in the basement at w. which spanned the area, and led o the garden. and led the way down stairs. I followed him. I don't know what we were going to do exactly. We went down without making a sound, for I was barefooted, and so, I think, was the butler. The moment after he had entered I heard voices, followed by s loud report, a groan and a heavy fall. By chance I came across a box of matches. I struck one with great difficulty, and then lit a candle which was standing on the dresser. The poor butler was uttering low moans, which ceased as I bent over him. I then perceived he was dead."

The unfortunate gentleman was evidently quite unmanned by the scene which he had witnessed. He seemed almost hysterical, showing that the shock had seriously affected his nerves.

An inquest was held, at which the householder repeated his story, and the inquest, which gave the coroner an excellent opportunity of airing his importance, terminated in a verdict of willful murder against some person or persons unknown. The police, as us-ual, expressed themselves confident of being able to capture the guilty parties at any moment, and asserted that they were in possession of an important clew, though nothing ever transpired to verify the allegation.

About a month or six weeks afterward the householder was one day seated in his office when a clerk entered and announced that a young man wished to see him. The caller declined to give his name, but declared that he had something important to communicate.

"He says you wouldn't know his name, sir; but he seems quite respectable,' said the clerk, who presently ushered in a tall young man of military aspect. "Well, my man, what do you want name in, eh?' "You wouldn't have been any wiser, growled the officer-an old sir. I'll close the door if you don't mind," said the young man, seizing the handle. "Thank you, I prefer it open." "You needn't be afraid, sir. You've only to raise your voice above a whisper to be heard through that partition. You don't recognize me in private clothes, sir, and in fact I don't suppose you noticed me at all. I am the officer that came into your house that night when your butler was shot."

'Oh, yes, I remember," said the other, changing color. "What brings you here?" he added, lowering his voice. "Has anything transpired?"

"No, sir; not that I know of," sai the man, taking a chair. "Have you left the police?"

"No, sir. That just brings me to what I want to say. I haven't left the police, but I'm thinking of doing so I've a brother doing very well in Oregon, and I wish to join him. But of course, it is no use going without some course, it is no use going without some the course of the burs.

"Do you? Has the burglar been discovered?

'No, sir, I haven't discovered no burglar, but at this moment I could lay my finger on the party who fired the shot," said the visitor, still looking him in the face.

"Do you mean that you suspect me," "Yes, sir. It was an accident, no doubt. You had a revolver in your hand, and were so enervous that you didn't know what you were about. I expect the butler startled you by coming up against you in the dark, and you fired from sheer fright," said the young man in a matter-of-fact tone.

agitation. "You can rely on my holding my tongue for my own sake," said the young man with a short laugh.

Acting upon this significant hint the merchant raised no further objections, and the following week the enterpris-ing young patrolman went to Oregon.

series of six admirable drawings by Walter Crane of the superb frieze, illustrating Longfellow's "Skeleton in Armor," recently painted by Mr. Crane for the Newport residence of Miss Catherine Wolfe. A biographical notice of this popular artist is accompanied by a portrait drawn by him from his reflection in a mirror, by many examples of his work as an illustrator, and by a spiritual drawing of his picture of "The Angel of Love Averting the Hand of Fate." The designs for wood-carving, china painting, embroidery and sketching on linen are numerous and excellent. There is a profusion of hints and direction for art work, and the department of home decoration and furnishing is abundantly illustrated and filled with practical suggestions. The Finest Dry Goods Store

Old Mammoth, at Jackson.

Th is store has been re-fitted at a large expense and is now being filled with NEW, FIRST-CLASS merchandise.

For many years it has been the rule of the former proprietors, Camp, Morrill & Camp, to sell nothing but first-class goods and under no circents; per year, $4. Montague Marks, cumstances allow any salesman to missrepresent. As it is my desire to continue the business, and wishing to increase the sales largely, I shall sell all goods at the lowest possible profit and at any time goods bought from my establishment that are not as represented, may be returned and I will cheerfully refund the money. I buy all my goods gor Cash and sell them for Cash, and as my store is the best lighted of any in the State, the customer can see exactly what they are getting.

Since the introduction of spelling match es, many words have come prominently in-

Daughters, Wives and Mothers, We emphatically guarantee Dr. Marchist's Catholicon, a Female Remedy, to cure Female Diseases, such as Ovarian to notice—words that were previously comparatively unknown. For instance we find Antiseptic, meaning: preventing and stopping all fermentation and decomposition, and Analgisient: Painkiller. Then there is Antipyretic: cooling down inflammation and fever heat. These three words so often mis-spelled, are three of the cardinal virtues of something that will care many a bad spell, and that is Salicyicia, pronounced Sal-i-cyl-i-ca. Warranted to afford immediate relief, and guaranteed to cure Rheumatism, Gout and Neuralgia.

Chisi's Catholicon, a Pointing of our Female Diseases, such as Ovarian troubles, Imflamation and Ulceration, Falling and Displacements or bearing down feeling, Irregularities, Barrenness, Change of Life, Leucorrhæa, besides many weakness springing from the above, like Headache, Bloating, Spinal weakness, Sleeplessness, Nervous debility, Palpitation of the heart, &c. No Cure, No Pay! For sale by Druggists. Prices $1.00 and $1.50 per Bottle. Send to Dr. J. B. Marchisi, Utica, N. Y., for Pamphlet, free. For sale by R. S. Armstrono, Druggist.
