'Twas 'bout 10 a. m. when he came into our store. Rid'n wasn't e'ry good, so walked. Been want'n a watch sometime. The neighbors all said for him to go to Glazier's; he had the best stock and didn't have but one price on em. Common feller could buy a watch of him as cheap as the Prince of Wales, 'n he warrants em, 'n slays by em like e' pig to a root, to see that they give satisfaction, 'n he guessed he'd take that huntin case stem winder with that sand-hill crane wader in a puddle of bullrushes. Well he took it and saved enough on the price over what he expected; so that while I fitted the movement in the case he went out and got him a good pair of shoes. He came back smilin and presented me with his old shoes, saying that I had saved him enough on his watch to get him a dogon good pair of shoes, and he proposed to make me a present of his old ones to show his gratitude. The shoes are now on exhibition at my store.

THE CHELSEA HERALD. Epitome of the Week.

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN.

There are 825,000 school teachers in the United States, and they are a mighty force, armed with the rod in one hand and the spelling-book in the other.

The most ancient agricultural society in the United States was organized in South Carolina. It was founded in 1784, and is therefore one hundred and three years old.

A SAN FRANCISCO dentist charged a customer $336.50 for twenty-two hours' work in his month. The sufferer wouldn't pay. The dentist sued. The court cut the bill down to $70 and the defendant paid promptly.

Quite a feat was performed by an English steam tug recently. It towed the broken-down steamer Westphalia from the Grand Canals Island to Hamburg, a distance of eighteen hundred miles, in eleven days.

SIXTEEN years ago E. H. Prince, of Morgan County, Fla., cut down a pine tree that stood near his house. The stump is still green and has increased an inch in diameter, although no new growth of branches has started from it.

A. P. Foss saw a live chicken floating and struggling in the canal at Sunset, N. H., and pulled it out. Attached to its leg was a pickering weighing over two pounds, which had grabbed the chicken's leg in such a way that it could not let go.

The English post-office officials advise the disease of sealing wax on letters for countries beyond the seas. It often happens that the wax is melted by the heat under the tropics or the fumigations to which mail bags are subjected. Letters are often thus stuck together and the addresses destroyed.

A DR. MEYER, of Leipzig, has succeeded in reaching the summit of Kilimanjaro, the highest mountain in Africa. The height is almost 6,000 meters. Some years ago an Englishman named Johnston attempted the ascent of this peak, but did not succeed in getting above a height of 5,000 meters.

The death is announced at London of Valentine Baker, the English officer whose expulsion from the army for improper conduct toward a young lady in a railway carriage created a great sensation a number of years ago. Baker served under the Sultan in the war between Russia and Turkey and was conspicuous for his bravery.

A BOSTON paper alleges that a wealthy New Yorker of doubtful antecedents found a moss-grown tombstone of ancient date and bearing the same family name as his own in an English church-yard some time ago, and purchased it by bribing the sexton. It is now set up in his sumptuous library with a fictitious coat of arms attached.

MR. EDWARD ATKINSON thinks that this country could buy the provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton for $50,000,000. He says they are all eager for annexation, and he believes that the Dominion Government would be only too glad to get the money at the present time, because of the big railway enterprise it has on its hands.

A QUITMAN (Ga.) policeman had a strange experience one evening recently. A negro woman who he had given him so much trouble that he had to use his club to quiet him. He hit the "arrest" on the head two or three times, when he was startled by the sudden blazing up of the negro's wool. After the novel fire was put out the negro explained that he had been using his hair as a match-stick.

RUSSIAN railways are broad gauge, so the Emperor has two special trains—one for all journeys within his own dominions, and the other for European expeditions. This latter train is the one that belonged to the late Emperor Napoleon. It consists of six saloons, all furnished with the utmost luxury, and there are several carriages for suites and servants. Three of these saloons are fitted up as drawing-room, library and dining-room, and there is a kitchen car attached.

AN honest old school director at Puttstown, Pa., whose hallmarks are not first-class recently visited the school in his district. A little girl in the yard spoke to him in such a manner that he severely rebuked her. She ran in and told the teacher a tramp in the yard had been impudent to her. Thereupon the big boys of the school were detailed to disperse the tramp, which they did with clubs and stones. The next day there was great consternation at the school when the identity of the "tramp" became known to teacher and scholars.

JOHN L. MURRY, of Westport, Conn., a veteran of eighty-seven years, is a tailor, and remembers well when he sat as a journeyman at the same table with Andrew Johnson, who he says, was not a good tailor, although he did become President of the United States. Mr. Murry relates with appreciation his experience in New York City in 1844. He was drawn out jury, and lost so much time that he afterward joined the Volunteer Fire Department to escape jury duty. Soon afterward he received injuries at a fire that laid him up for sixteen months.

IN Northern Alaska, says a traveler, the sun shines twenty-two hours out of the twenty-four during midsummer, and on the high mountain peaks for a period of several days in June it is not entirely out of sight during the twenty-four hours. In July and August the weather becomes very warm. After this time the days gradually shorten until the sun shines but four hours out of the twenty-four, but at this period the aurora is exceedingly intense and helps very materially in dispelling the darkness, and compensates somewhat for the brief time of daylight.

THE EAST.

In trying to get a jury to try John Most at New York on the 23d, nearly all the men examined expressed an aversion for anarchy in general, and a particular aversion for the defendant.

GEORGE FRANCIS TRAIN has given up the intention of expatriation. He stated on the 22d that his daughter "Sue," the child of the late Mrs. Train, was pulling him back.

JOHN McKEE defeated Peter Conley, in a three-mile boat race at Boston on the 22d, by several lengths, in 21 minutes and 50 seconds.

JOHN MOST was put on trial on the 23d at New York and a State rested its case after proving that Most made a threat of murder, concluding with the words, "I am an anarchist! Rise, anarchy! AT THE

Busy

Bee

Hive,

THIS WEEK.

[The following poem on the Little Cable Cash Railway was written by a young lady 13 years of age.]
In southern Michigan there lies
A city of commercial enterprise,
Jackson is this flourishing city,
That has many fine goods stores, rich spacious, pretty.

And to Jackson people come from miles around,
To buy a hat, a cloak or gown,
And the very best place they bargain can drive,
Is on West Main St., at the Busy Bee Hive.

Most of the stores have boys for cash,
Or some ball contrivance quite as rash;
But if in that line you want perfection,
Go to L. H. Field's at my direction.

For he has a GREAT THING, I am sure you will say,
And it's called a Cable Cash Railway.
On the plan of the cable cars it's run,
Which is one of the grandest things under the sun.

The box for the money is made of steel,
And is drawn by a cord propelled by a wheel.
The little box goes as fast as a mouse,
And 'twill go straight up to the top of the house.

There are many stations along this way,
By which precious freight pass off times through the day;
And to the cashier they go, and she sends them back,
But accidents ne'er are known on this smooth running track.

There are two endless cords, one running each way,
And by the water is kept going all day;
And among the many good things you can say on it's side
Is: It's so quiet your nerves are not tried.

But if a screw you only turn right,
You've stopped the machine and its through for the night.
And so, you see, if you want perfection,
You must turn your steps in Field's direction.

—Miss KITTIE G. SLENOU.

What Am I to do.

The symptoms of Biliousness are un- happily but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; it is not white and turred, it is rough, at all events.

The digestive system is wholly out of order and diarrhea or constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

I pray God to give me a Heaven to go to Heaven in.

Acker's Blood Elixir is the only Blood Remedy guaranteed. It is a positive cure for Ulcers, Eruptions or Syphilitic Poisoning. It purifies the whole system, and banishes all Rheumatic and Neuralgic pains. We guarantee it. R. S. Armstrong, Druggist.

St. Nicholas for December, the Holiday number, has arrived, and is full of interesting, amusing and instructive matter, good for both young and old. How can young people get along without it? $3.00 a year.

We copy the following from the first Number of the Connecticut Courant, dated Oct. 23rd, 1764, and loaned to us by Mr. W. F. Hatch. The Present Editors, Mr. Henry and Arthur Goodrich, of the above mentioned paper, are cousins of Mrs. W. F. Hatch, of Chelsea:

"A surprising concatenation of events to one man in one week—Published a Sunday—married a Monday—had a Child a Tuesday—lost a horse a Wednesday—banished a Tuesday—died a Friday—buried a Saturday—all in one week."

Obituary.

DIED:—Nov. 23rd, 1887, Lewis L. Randall, aged 85 years, 8 months and 7 days. Lewis L. Randall was born in Orange Co., N. Y., March 16th, 1802. Under the guardianship of an uncle, he emigrated to Yates Co., when quite young. He was married at Benton, Yates Co., N. Y., May 15th, 1823, to Kezia Ellis. For 37 years they trod the path of life together, and on May 16th, 1860, his companion passed to the Home Eternal. To them were born three children, one daughter and two sons; only one of whom, the daughter, survives him. He lived to see the fifth generation of his posterity. He had seven grandchildren, nine great grandchildren, and one great-great grandchild. He was one of the earliest pioneers of this county; he came to Lima Center with his family Nov. 12th, 1837, and lived upon the site he selected for a home, until the founding of Chelsea. He then removed to Chelsea, bought a lot and built the house which he owned at the time of his death.

In his early days he was very public spirited, taking great interest in the progress of the growing town in which he lived, holding various town offices, and was ever ready to help in all worthy undertakings. He professed religion over fifty years ago, and united with the Baptist church at Lima, and as each church edifice was erected in this place, he contributed largely toward them. His life was that of a peaceful, energetic christian, until the frosts of age weakened his energies, and made him glad to lie down this tenement of clay and seek eternal rest in the bosom of Him to whom he had so long intrusted his soul. His death was like the burning out of a taper.

There is a fact worth mentioning in connection with the late Lewis Randall. Being one of the early residents, he was one of the first to rent a box when the P. O. was established here, and had kept the same ever since, a period of over 35 years. "Blessed are those that die in the Lord."

Lima Notes.

Theodore Covert is slowly recovering. Miss Estelle Guerin is visiting in Detroit.

Irving Hammond is having many of his old apple trees dug out, and Mr. Seney is doing likewise with some of his burr oaks.

The Grange at W. Stocking's last Friday was well attended. It was more enjoyable than most socials, and after dinner the "middle man" was trotted out for consideration. It was argued briskly by a number. Some were in favor of abolishing him, as he now is, and having a new and revised edition gotten out, for he is making too much which consumers had to pay. The "drummer fared the worst in the hands of the festive granger. The arguments in favor of the middle man as now is, were of a missionary nature largely. He must do something, and so let him alone, and also our towns must be supported; so keep up by all means the middle man. By a close count vote the discussion was declared against the middle man. Some who seldom speak on any question, are presently expressing their opinion of the subject by satisfactory purchase of groceries under seal of P. of H. in Philadelphia, and it looks as though "there is more to follow." The next meeting is at Frank McMillan's Dec 7th, and the question for discussion is concerning the wisdom of the law, requiring instruction in our schools about showing up the dangers of using narcotics.

Obituary.

Great indeed was the shock experienced about half past 12 p. m. last Thursday, Nov. 24th, in the neighborhood of Summit street, by the startling intelligence that from house to house that Mr. Theodore E. Wood, on coming home for his dinner, found his wife lying upon the floor dead. For some four or five years Mrs. Wood has been afflicted with asthma, accompanied by a bronchial trouble that was attended at times by spasmodic coughing of great violence. An open door, loosened clothing and a fan on the floor by her side were evidences that she had been attacked by one of these coughing spells, and that the violent strain had caused the bursting of a blood-vessel in the base of the brain, producing instant death by apoplexy.

Etna A. Dixon was born in the township of Lima, on the 25th day of January, 1830, and was 37 years and 10 months of age. When four years of age, she was adopted into the family of Milo Baldwin, of Chelsea, at whose home she was married on the 29th of November, 1860, to Mr. Theodore E. Wood, also of Chelsea, since which Chelsea has been their home. In May, 1879, she united with the Congregational church, in whose fellowship she lived until so suddenly taken to join the church triumphant above. Her funeral was attended Saturday p. m., a very large concourse of relatives and friends crowding the church to its utmost capacity. Mr. Wood who is left entirely alone, having no children, has the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community. H
