What Am I to do.

The symptoms of Biliousness are unhappy but too well known. They differ in different individuals to some extent. A Bilious man is seldom a breakfast eater. Too frequently, alas, he has an excellent appetite for liquids but none for solids of a morning. His tongue will hardly bear inspection at any time; if it is not white and turred, it is rough, at all events. The digestive system is wholly out of order and diarrhea or constipation may be a symptom or the two may alternate. There are often Hemorrhoids or even loss of blood. There may be giddiness and often headache and acidity or flatulence and tenderness in the pit of the stomach. To correct all this if not effect a cure try Green's August Flower, it costs but a trifle and thousands attest its efficacy.

WHAT HE LEFT.

'Twas 'bout 10 a. m. when he came into our store. Kid'n wasn't very good, so walked. Been want'n a watch sometime. He lowed he needed shoes too, but hadn't money nuf to get both, 'n he's goin to have a stem windin, silver back-actin, yard-wide, all wool watch, er bust. The neighbors all said fur him to go to Glazier's; he had the best stock and didn't have but one price on em. Common feller could buy a watch of him as cheap as the Prince of Whales, 'n he warrants em, 'n stays by em like er pig to a root, to see that they give satisfaction, 'n he guessed he'd take that huntin case stem winder with that sand-hill crane wader in a puddle of bullrushes. Well he took it and saved enough on the price over what he expected; so that while I fitted the movement in the case he went out and got him a good pair of shoes. He came back smiling and presented me with his old shoes, saying that I had saved him enough on his watch to get him a dogon good pair of shoes, and he proposed to make me a present of his old ones to show his gratitude. The shoes are now on exhibition at my store.

In stature, eye-pleasing as manliness might A verticle fathom will compass his height.
In calling, an Hermes, that wing-footed

A mail-coated Richard in wry-limbed

With breath of a zephyr, a cupid, a babe—No prur bath lungs of a man ever made.
Solution abundant infolded is found In mantles of temperance, which him doth

A Gough more pronounced on that jewel are growing rapidly in interest and attendance. The members and pastors of other churches have entered heartily into the work. The singing is soul stirring.

The Rev. W. S. Sly, of Jackson, who has charge of the meetings, while making no attempt at heavy sermonizing, is given the closest attention by the hearers, to his simple exposition of the scriptures.

Resolutions of Regret.

WHEREAS: Almighty God in his wisdom has seen fit to remove from among us, the wife of our beloved comrade, Theo. E.
Wood, deeply deploring her demise, and while knowing her loss to be irreparable, yet we find consolation in the belief that she has reached that beautiful shore, where we all hope at last to arrive, eternal in the Heavens.

Resolved: That in the death of Mrs. T. E.
Wood, society loses one of its most useful members, the husband a most devoted, true and kind wife, and community an esteemed and christian lady.

Resolved: That this Post hereby extend its heartfelt sympathy to comrade Wood, in his sad and unexpected bereavement.

Resolved: That a copy of the foregoing resolutions be spread upon the minutes.

Resolved: That THE CHESAIRE HERALD, be solicited to publish these resolutions.
Signed, JAMES F. HARRINGTON, A. NEUBURGER, Commander.

Adj't.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bagge wish to thank their neighbors and friends for their kindness and sympathy in their late bereavement, and also those who furnished the beautiful flowers.

Lima Notes.

Wesley Westfall has bought a farm in Oregon.

Frank Guerin teaches a class in penmanship once a week in the upper room of the school house.

Preparations for a good time donation at Orrin Burkhardt's next Wednesday afternoon and evening. Turn out and give Mr.
Palmer a lift.

We don't raise much as usual in way of crops, but raise the usual amount of taxes.
The treasurer is raking in the crop at the Town Hall every Friday.

Our school teacher, Charlie Baldwin, rides merrily to and from his home to school daily, on a sulky. He gets six hours teaching and six miles sulky ride every day.

Quarterly meeting next Sunday. Love Feast at 9:30. Public preaching at 10:30, followed by communion services. The services will be conducted by the pastor who will also preach as usual, at 2 p. m. in Sylvan. The quarterly conference will occur on Tuesday, the 20th, at 2 o'clock p. m., when presiding elder Joslin will be present.

Our grange is booming. The attendance at the last meeting at Frank McMillan's was good, and the interest taken in the whole matter was almost enthusiastic. It was good socially, better at dinner table, and best on the spirited discussion that followed, concerning the law as to teaching in school about the baneful uses of alcohol and narcotics. At least ten speeches were made on the subject, two of the best of which were made by ladies.
One doubted wisdom of law as it might adversely instead of suppress. Next contended all evil should be explained, and taught.

Obituary.

Died at his house in Sylvan, December 6th, 1887, James Howard, only son of Jas. and Libbie Runciman, aged 7 years 1 week and 10 days.

Howard was a bright, intelligent little boy; a loving and affectionate child. He loved to attend Sabbath School, always asking about Jesus and Heaven. His illness was brief but severe, but he was patient and anxious to get better, and although kind and loving hands did all that skill could do to relieve him, it was in vain; he was conscious to the last and when he could no longer speak to his surrounding and grief stricken parents; he would put his little hands on his Papa's and Mama's face and kiss them seemingly to assure them that he knew how deep their grief was, and of his love and affection for them. Truly it may be said, "Death leaves a shining mark." It is a severe affliction for his parents and the little sister who survives him, as they were each other constant companions, as they were attending school every day when he was stricken down. The afflicted parents have the sympathy of the entire community. "May He who tempers the wind to the shorn Lamb comfort them," in this their sad bereavement.

We miss thee darling, everywhere;
How much, we cannot tell.
We cannot cease to think of thee, Howard, we love so well,

T'was hard to give thee up so soon,
To lay thy beauty low, Thy father's pride, thy mother's joy, But God has willed it so.

Farwell! dear Howard, till we meet Where parting is no more,
And join in the celestial band Upon the shining shore.

'Till then our darling we must part, Though deep thy loss we mourn; God thought it best, it thus should be,
Thou' with grief our hearts were torn.

God's will be done, He knows best.
The time it soon may come When we may all together dwell, In love around the Throne.

SARAH L. RUNCIMAN.

Benevolence

Of R. P. Carpenter Post No. 41, Grand Army of the Republic, at Chelsea Town Hall, Dec. 29th, 1887. Mr. John R. Clark, the famous orator and humorist in his witty subject, hits and misses. No description can do justice to this unique entertainment, it is made up of wit, humor, eloquence, pathos, song and dialect. Tears and smiles chase each other over the face of the listener. Pictures of domestic life, experiences in country and city, laughable incidents, eloquent appeals follow each other in rapid succession. John R. Clark cannot be described, he must be heard.

Obituary.

Mr. James White a much respected farmer of this section, died very suddenly last week. He and Mrs. White had arrived home on Saturday previous from Detroit, where they had been attending the funeral of Mrs. White's granddaughter, a bright little girl of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Teetzel. Mr. White had been enjoying his usual health up to the morning of the day of his death. He complained of being a trifle under the weather in the morning and was induced to take his bed. He gradually grew worse, and died at 10 o'clock the same evening. Mrs. Lake, of Ridgeway, and Shaver, of Morpeth, were in attendance during the day, and pronounced his case lockjaw. Mr. White was universally respected. Though he had no children, he took a deep interest in educational work, and served as trustee for a number of years. He also took an active part in church affairs, being one of the foremost men in the section to look after Trinity Church interests. Mr. White was recognized for his good qualities, his liberalism in giving to all good causes, the good way in which he used the men who were under him, and the friendly and business like manner in which he dealt with all with whom he came in contact. At the time of his death he had reached his 62nd year, and many are they who are bereaved today, for he will be missed in very many homes.—Howard Correspondent in the Bridgetown Ontario Standard.

Wm. Burry, of Chelsea. Ed.]

Homoeopathic Medicines.

To my former patrons and all who may wish to use reliable Homoeopathic Medicines, There is a constant and increasing demand for Homoeopathic Medicines for domestic use. No one ought to keep house without a reliable Tincture of Aconite and many other equally reliable remedies at hand. As I am about to leave to spend some time in the hospitals of New York and Philadelphia, I would say to my patrons that they can obtain all of the medicines I have put up for them, of F. P.
Glazier, the druggist, who keeps a complete line of Halsey Bros' Preparations, which are fresh and pure. I wish to announce also, that I have given Mr. Glazier the formula for various specialties of mine that are in much demand. My ointment and other preparations that have attained considerable reputation in the treatment of ulcers, hemorrhoids, catarrh and skin diseases, will be put up by Mr. Glazier.
I take pleasure in recommending my old patrons to go to Mr. Glazier for all medicines that I have heretofore furnished them, knowing that they will get of him just what they call for. He is a graduate of the College of Pharmacy, University of Michigan, thoroughly posted in everything pertaining to the drug business and you may rest assured will dispense all medicines in a thoroughly scientific manner.
