Three months ago there was no such town as Milton, D. T. Its site was open, uncultivated prairie. Now there is a lively village, two large elevators, three stores a bank, and all the minor industries of a Western town.

Speaking of big day's work done by blacksmiths in the city, Jas. Wesley, the veteran, says that at his shop a few days ago, two men in his employ, S. Harrington and Scott, shod forty-seven horses, and put on three odd shoes in less than twelve hours.—Jackson Patriot.

We left our sonnet at a late hour the other night, and as we leisurely pursued our homeward way we observed a young lady and gentleman holding a gate on its hinges. They were evidently very indignant at being kept out so late, as we saw them bite each other several times.

More and more paper is taking the place of wood-work. Paper doors are now largely substituted for wooden doors. The paper doors are better for the reason that they are lighter. They do not shrink or swell with changes of weather; they are made from single sheets of paper molded into any desired pattern, and they are not dearer than wooden doors.

The latest "fad" among wealthy families is to burn "drift wood" in open grate fires. This wood is gathered along the seacoast by Eastern parties, packed in barrels and shipped through the country. It is mostly wreckage. A great part of it has once been the material of ships' bottoms, and was sheathed with copper plates. The copper salts have impregnated the wood, and when burned it gives out most beautiful green and peacock blue flames.

It is estimated that the amount of petroleum produced in Pennsylvania since Drake's well was drilled in 1879 to the year 1887 was 330,000,000 barrels of forty-two gallons each. This amount of oil would be sufficient to make a good-sized river or lake if collected in one body. It would make a stream 10 feet deep, 100 feet wide and about 850 miles long, or a lake or rectangular pond about three miles long, two miles wide and ten feet deep. Still the supply is not exhausted.

A Philadelphia grocer advertised to give every thirtieth customer the amount of his purchase free. The plan seemed a success at first, and business thrived, but one day the boys put up a job on him. Twelve of them walked into the store, and each made a trifling purchase; the whole bill for the dozen was less than a dollar. Then the thirtieth man walked in and ordered a barrel of sugar, ten pounds of tea, ten pounds of coffee, and a box of cigars. The grocer faced the music like a man, but at once took down his sign and put up another saying that the offer had been withdrawn.

On Wednesday evening Wesley Snow, a bright little fellow, about five years of age, died of diphtheria. It was nine weeks ago that he contracted the malady, and at one time it was thought his recovery was certain, as he was able to be running around for seven or eight days. When the illness re-attacked him he suffered intensely, and death was really a welcome release to him. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon. He was C. D. Snow's adopted son. Mr. and Mrs. Snow have received many condolences, for which the desire to thank numerous thoughtful friends.—St. Ignace News. [Mrs. Snow is a daughter of Mr. Jas. C. Harrington of this place. Ed.]

"The bustle" has utility as well as beauty. The other day, down in Georgia, an anger was concealed in one of these articles and carried into jail, with the result of liberating five of the prisoners confined there.

Gopher farming is a new industry begun at Auburndale, Fla. Two men have devoted a tract of 1,000 acres to the purpose. It is said that the most fastidious epicure cannot tell the flesh of the Florida gopher from the famous Maryland terrapin.

A woman of Jersey City, N. J., recently brought home a strange egg as a souvenir of a trip and placed it on the parlor table. One week after she was surprised to see a little turtle break the shell of the egg and slowly crawl out. The heat of the room had hatched it.

Editors as a rule, are kind hearted and liberal. An exchange tells of a subscriber who died and left fourteen years' subscription unpaid. The editor appeared at the grave when the lid was being screwed down for the last time, and put in a linen garter, a thermometer, a palm leaf fan, and a receipt for making artificial ice.

Arnon Burkhardt and family were somewhat surprised last Tuesday evening, when about twenty-five of their friends walked in with ice cream, etc., and prepared to have a good time, which they did, and the clock had struck the small hour before the last guest had departed, all having enjoyed themselves hugely.

The "Pilgrim's Progress," translated into the Japanese language, has been published with illustrations by native artists. Christian has a close shaved head, the dungeon of the giant Despair is one of the large wooden cages well known to eastern criminals, and the angels waiting on the further side of the river to receive pilgrims are clad in the latest Yokohama fashions.

"Hugging Socials" are now being introduced to swell the society treasures. The following is a standard scale of prices: Girls under 16, 85 cents for each hug of two minutes; from 16 to 20 years of age, 75 cents; school ma'ams, 40 cents; widows according to looks, from 10 cents to 3.00; old maids, three cents apiece or two for a nickel and no limit of time. Dudes are not charged. Who will give the first hugging social?

There is a serious dispute between General Sheridan and his mother to the place where he was born. General Sheridan insists that he was born in Albany, N. Y., on the 6th of March, 1833. His mother claims that he was born at Somerset, Ohio, on the 6th of March, 1831. Mother and son agreeing as to the date we concede that the general's memory is good as to dates, but as to place we should take his mother's memory to be more reliable. She ought to remember best where that little accident happened.

The watch without hands which has recently been brought before the public is simply a watch with the ordinary wheelworks in which the intermediate teeth are wanting, and which gear every minute and hour only. The contrivance, though admitted to possess some inconvenience, is, on the other hand, claimed to present some genuine preferences over the ordinary make. Thus, the construction not only allows the reading to be accurate, but also permits of estimating the time that separate cease passing minutes. There is not only an optical sign given, but also an acoustic one, since at every change of figure the ear perceives a slight sound, and consequently it becomes useless for one to examine his watch in order to measure a given interval of time—a feature of special value to engineers, physicians, of ficers, travelers and observers. The experimenter knows exactly when a minute begins and ends.

A girl, who is but 10 years old, has been noticed practicing the art of the highwayman upon the streets of Monroe lately. The child confines her attention to children, of course, and lays particularly for little ones who have been sent on errands, often robbing them of considerable sums in cash or quite valuable bundles of goods.

A pug and a Newfoundland dog belonging to a New Jersey gentleman were seen to halt before a brook. The big dog took to the water, but the pug refused to do so. The Newfoundland then persuaded the pug to get upon his back, but he slid off when half way across, when the big dog yanked him out and set him on the opposite bank. Since then the pug has carried out of the house to the Newfoundland the choicest bits of his food, and he seems to enjoy seeing the big dog eat them.

Life is too short to give all to business and nothing to pleasure or rest. Too many people scrimp their stomachs, their heads and their hearts until they have made a competency. When they expect to enjoy the pleasures of life they are generally too old to enjoy them, or their greed of money has dried up all the well-springs of their being, and they are incapable of enjoyment. Devote your business and your leisure to innocent pleasures and wholesome amusement, and the cultivation of such things as will make life pleasant.

Georgia has one fortune-teller who can be depended on. She is a young girl, and was recently thought to be a gypsy by a widower who was looking for a young wife, and was, therefore anxious to know the future. The girl said she'd tell the past and future, and, having first received a good fee, she told the man to take off his hat. He did. Then she said: "You took off your hat; you will put it back on, God loves you, and if you don't look sharp the devil will get you." The fortune teller then walked away and left him standing "like the boy the calf ran over."

A most peculiar case of superstition exists in York Township, Ohio. A well-known farmer named Milar has always kept a fine lot of cows and made a great deal of most excellent butter. Of late years he has had what he terms it, "Witches in the cream," giving himself and family a great deal of trouble and great loss. It happened about every two weeks when they put the cream in the churn it begins foaming over the top and refuses to gather. No amount of churning has any effect toward gathering the butter, and the cream is taken out and thrown far away. The family attributes the trouble to witches brought on through the agency of a woman in the neighborhood through spite. It is a strange case.

Before Vacation.
Tis night before vacation, so joyous, glad and bright.
How oft I sing the glad refrain, the children will be home to-night.
I know they will be glad to see their dear old home again,
And nothing must be sad or drear to give their young hearts pain.

I hear their young glad voices, they are coming up the hill,
With a loving warm embrace, I meet them at the door.
With one breath they all exclaim,
I'm so glad to be at home once more!

The old house rings with mirth and glee,
They gather round the hearth when the evening meal is o'er,
Each heart too full to speak,
Home never seemed so dear before.

We have no stately mansion grand,
No relics in our home that's rare,
Only just a humble home;
Where we hold each other dear.

And when vacation's time comes round,
The children love to gather there,
I love to think they are coming too,
And in their pleasures share.

AFTER VACATION.
I am sitting all alone to-night,
The house seems lone and still,
And I wonder if the children think
Of the old home on the hill.

Still I would not have them pine for home
Nor shrink a duty, whatever that duty be,
If it be teaching here at home,
Or the heathen over the sea.

I only pray, God give them strength to work,
And grace to do his will,
But give to mother one passing thought
In the old home on the hill.

C. L. S. C.
Two of the most pleasant gatherings of the C. L. S. C. for this year, have been enjoyed of late.

The first was the commemoration of Longfellow's birthday, at Mrs. J. C. Winans', with singing, select reading and essays, from his writings.

We were pleased to have a number with us who were not members of the C. L. S. C.

The other gathering which was appreciated very much by our circle was at the residence of Mr. G. P. Glazier, where the circle was joined by Mr. J. M. Hall, state superintendent of the C. L. S. C. After a 5 o'clock tea, Mr. Hall told us his visits to other circles in the state, of their methods of conducting meetings, etc., and then led the circle in the Vesper Service which is very impressive. The circle feels very much benefited by his visit and it has given us a greater zeal to go forward in this work. The wish of the circle is that more of the people of Chelsea would join us in this work for we are sure they would be greatly benefited by doing so. SEC'Y.

A Boy's Composition on Girls.
Girls are the most unaccountable things in the world—except women. Like the wicked fies, when you have them they ain't there. I can cipher clean over to improper fractions, and the teacher says I do it first rate, but I can't cipher out a girl, proper or improper, and you can't either. The only rule in arithmetic that hits their case is the double rule of two. They are as full of the Old Nick as their skins can hold, and they'd die if they couldn't torment somebody. When they try to be mean they are as mean as pearsley, though they ain't as mean as they let on to be, except sometimes, and then they are a great deal meaner. The only way to get along with a girl when she comes with her nonsense is to give her tit for tat, and that will fummux her; when you get a girl fummuxed she is as nice as a new pie. A girl can sow more wild oats in a day than a boy can in a year, but girls get their wild oats sowed after a while, which boys never do, and then they settle down as calm and placid as a mud puddle. But I like girls first rate, and guess all boys do. I don't care how many tricks they play on me—and they don't care either. The hoity-toitist girl in the world can't always boil over like a glass of soda water. By and by they will get into the traces with somebody they like, and pull as steady as an old stage horse. That is the beauty of them. So let 'em wave, I say; they will pay for it some day, sewing on buttons, and trying to make a decent man of the fellow they have spiced on to; and ten chances to one if they don't get the worst of it.

Registration.
The Board of Registration for the village of Chelsea, will meet at the council rooms in Town Hall, on Saturday March 10th, from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m., for the purpose of registering any qualified voters of said village, and performing such duties as may come before them according to law.

The Banquet.
Preparations are going on quietly but effectively, to make the supper and literary exercises, in honor of St. Patrick, at the Town Hall, on Thursday evening, March 15, 1888, a great success. The unanimity displayed by the parishioners of St. Mary's church, under whose auspices the celebration is held, augurs well for the entertainment.

Toasts will be responded to by Thos. D. Kearney, Esq., of Ann Arbor; Charles O'Connor, Esq., of Sioux City, Iowa; Senator Gorman, Messrs. Greening, Heatley, and Cavanaugh of Chelsea. Two prominent and gifted ladies of the parish will read essays. The musical part of the program will be rendered by the regular church choir, the boys' choir, and ladies and gentlemen of the parish. We are also glad to assure our readers that Mr. James E. Harkins, of Ann Arbor, who has been felicitously styled the "Scanlan of Michigan," will be present at the St. Patrick's Day banquet, and sing some of his pathetic and humorous songs. Our people, who have heard Mr. Harkins, have delightful recollections of his former visits.

The following ladies, whose names are an ample guarantee of success in whatever they undertake, will have supervision of the supper tables:

TABLE A.
Mrs. Jacob Miller, Miss Phenie Staphis, Miss Rose Howe, Miss B. S. Greening, Miss Rose Doll, Mrs. C. S. Penn.

TABLE B.
Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Frank Staffin, Mrs. Peter Gorman, Miss Hugerly, Miss Alice Gorman, Miss Agnes Conlin.

PROVISION TABLE.

Flings.
How wonderfully pleased some people are if they can, by any means, even by the grossest misrepresentation, get what they suppose to be a damaging fling at the clergy. An item in last week's HERALD contained a most untruthful misrepresentation of this kind, purporting to be a "little dialogue between a saloon-keeper and a Rev. gentleman." Being the "Rev. gentlemen" referred to, I trust, Mr. Editor, you will allow me to reply. Let me say then, that in the conversation referred to:

- I did not say to any saloon-keeper, "Why don't you vote local option?"
- Saloon-keeper did not say, "Because I don't think the doctrine a sound one."
- I did not say, "Why not? We preachers are in the right!"
- Saloon-keeper did make a most ungentlemanly personal fling, respecting the ratio of saloon-keepers and ministers in the state prison. Whether the ratio he gave was one saloon-keeper to four ministers, I do not remember.
- That "here the dialogue ended and silence prevailed," is not only not true, but is a most glaring falsehood. I replied, "I have not the means at hand by which I can contradict that statement, but I do not believe it."

In the absence of statistics from which the truth could be shown, there was no need of a verbal altercation upon a statement so utterly abused and so manifestly untrue. No gentleman ever continued long in a dispute of simply 'tis and 'taint. So much for respecting the "little dialogue" that so "much amused" the writer of that untruthful item.

Now, a few words respecting the claim of saloon-keeper, as reported, that, "the prison record will show that for every saloon-keeper confined, there are four preachers."

I have before me the "Annual report of the inspectors and officers of the Michigan state prison," issued in 1887—the last report. I think, that has been published. On page 42 of this report, I find "Table 9—Previous Occupations of Convicts received during the year ending September 30, 1886." In that table I read as follows: Bartenders, 2; Saloon-keepers, 4; Preachers, 1. Comment is unnecessary. Who was wrong? THOMAS HOLMES.

Reading, Mich., Sept 1, 1881.
Mr. J. D. Kellogg—I have been afflicted with kidney complaint for eighteen years, and used and done everything I could think of to get relief. I spent two seasons at mineral springs, but received no benefit and steadily grew worse. So that my mind was made up to die. But I was finally induced to try a bottle of Columbian Oil, and before I had used half of the first bottle, I felt much better, and I am now entirely cured. My wife was troubled with rheumatism, and the Oil made an entire cure on her. Yours truly,
Lorenzo Abbott.

Alger Club.
The first regular meeting of the Alger Club, of Chelsea, was held at the Town Hall last Friday evening. The club has over 300 names on its roll of members, which shows how unanimously the "Alger boom" is supported here.

The roads were in bad condition and the weather cold and stormy, but the hall was well filled and the enthusiasm was unbounded.

Mr. Robert E. Frazer, of Detroit, opened with a general view of the club movement in American politics. It is the fair, reasonable and honest way of conducting politics. It does away with the system of bosses, gives every man his say, interests a wide class of people in political matters, and gives opportunity for full, free and ample discussion of all questions arising, and all candidates presented.

Mr. Henry A. Haigh, of Detroit, said that he could add nothing to the force of Mr. Frazer's eloquence, and that he desired only to present a few points for contemplation by the more thoughtful, and especially by those who might properly be inclined to pause and consider whether after all it would be best, having in view the success of the party, for Michigan to claim the leadership in the great struggle about to ensue.

Weather Crop Bulletin.
The Voluntary Observers of the Michigan Weather Service have furnished the date for this Report.

TEMPERATURE.
The temperature for the past week has been below the normal. The temperature on the 24 and 25 was about 6 degrees above normal, while on the 26, 27, and 28th the temperature averaged from 10 degrees to 25 degrees below the normal, and the remaining days were about 5 degrees above the normal.

PRECIPITATION.
The precipitation for the past week has been above the normal in all sections. The precipitation was above the normal 27 inches in the southern section and .05 inch in the central section. Rain was recorded on the 24th and 25th, and on March 1st and 2nd, while snow fell light on the 26th and 27th of Feb'y.

REMARKS.
In the southern four teens of counties the ground has been practically bare of snow since Feb'y 18th, but the ground is still frozen. The temperature has been below the normal and precipitation above the normal, and there has been less than the average amount of sunshine. These conditions, at the opening of the spring months, are very unfavorable for wheat. N. E. CONGER, Ag't Signal Corps Director.

Notes.
In regard to the statement made in last week's HERALD, that all the teachers from Primary to High School attended the "neck-tie-snap-and-catch-em-love-in-the-dark" social, we, the undersigned, wish to state that we were not there.

Damp Beds.
The peril of sleeping in a damp bed is of the greatest, and it is almost ever present. The experienced traveler rarely hazards the risk of sleeping between sheets, which are nearly sure to be damp, until they have been thoroughly aired under his personal supervision at a fire in his bedroom. If this be impracticable he wraps his rug around him or pulls out the sheets and sleeps between the blankets—a disagreeable but often prudent expedient. Direct mischief may result from the contact of an imperfectly-heated body with sheets which retain moisture. The body heat is not sufficient to raise the temperature of the linen or calico to a safe point, and the result must be disastrous if, as is sure to happen, the skin be cooler than itself, and steadily abstracting heat all the night through. There is no excuse for the neglect of proper precaution to insure dry beds.

Canada Money.
The paper money, bank bills of Canada are at a large discount in the United States now owing to the discovery of late that the National bank act requires bankers to pay a large tax on all they pay out of it as money, and also because the holder of Canada money have not near the security for its payment that is afforded by the United States National Bank Act, for the protection of the holders of National bank bills, which are regarded in most instances preferable to gold. It is, however, an absurdity for citizens of the states to boycott Canada silver, which carries with it its own intrinsic value as security to the holder.

The Chelsea Savings Bank will continue to take Canada silver coin at par. GEO. P. GLAZIER, n27 Cashier.

In Your Seed Corn Safe?
Corn is likely to be a good crop to grow this year. It is a long time since the previous crop was so closely used up in the country as it will be before new corn begins to get into marketable condition, next October. From numerous correspondents of the Prairie Farmer we learn that, in their several localities, farmers are now buying corn, where, in ordinary years, the cribs were overflowing with that held waiting for better prices, and often carried into the next year. There is scarcely more fear of a repetition of last season's drouth, than there is of "lightning striking twice in the same place" at short intervals. With good weather there may be an enormous crop; but it will be worth much more than if two or three hundred million bushels of previous crop were carried over, as has been the case for a number of years past. Then again, if it should sink to half the present price, it would be because those growing it generally got a double yield per acre, and so the returns would be similar in amounts, bating the extra cost of handling the double quantity. With what we are subject to active competition, depending upon the quantity of the ever-varying yield in India, Australia, Southeastern Europe, California, etc. But as yet American farmers hold supremacy, with little competition, in corn and cotton, while Europe is each year learning more and more of the food value, for man and beast, of our cheap cereal, and taking it of us in larger increased amounts. Except in extraordinarily dry or extremely cold years, corn is one of our surest crops, though the increased destructions by the chinch-bugs last season is a cause of some anxiety. And here, by the way, we call on Dr. Forbes, and other entomologists, to keep the farmers well informed of all that can be done now and from this time on, to avert the destructive work of this comparatively new enemy.—Prairie Farmer.
