Washington, March 28.—The International Council of Women resumed its session yesterday morning. Papers were read by Isabella C, Barrows and Laura McNeir on the "Work of Unitarian Women" and the "Limits of Woman's Influence." Isabel Bogelot described theprison reform work of St. Lazare in Paris. Edna D. Cheney followed with an essay on "Hospitals Managed By and For Women." Miss Clara Barton, president of the American National Red Cross, outlined the origin, purposes and work of the society of which she is the chief. The synopsis of her remarks is as follows:

follows: She told the International Council of Women Bhe told the International Council of Women how the Red Cross was established by the treaty of Geneva in 1864. Under this treaty all parties working in time of war for the succor of the wounded and sick are neutrals and may not be molested. Military hospitals floating the Red Cross flag may not be attacked, and those in the service of the hospitals or ambulances are safe from capture, while badly wounded prisoners on a captured field may be wounded prisoners on a captured field may be delivered to their own army. National so c'eties are formed within each signatory nation, and all work together in time of trial.

The American Red Cross differs from the European societies in going further in its work of mercy than do the Old World organizations, In this country not war alone, but any disaster too large to be handled by the people among whom it occurs is a recognized field for the Red Cross. Across the Atlantic this difference is known as the American amendment. In the Franco-German war of 1870-1 the Red Cross first displayed its great power for good. The Empress of Augusta, then Queen of Prussia, and the Empress Eugenie were the lead ers in the work of mercy, and the brassart on the arm of the relief corps was a passport anywhere. The speaker had herself served through that war and she spoke touchingly of the work that was done. The work done in this country has been seen in all the great misfortunes which have fallen upon the people, beginning with great floods along the southern Mississippi in 1874 to the cyclone at Mount Vernon, Ill. As to the efficacy of the methods of relief and the popular confidence in the work of the Red Cross it was pointed out that the United States Government spent $150,000 and the Red Cross of 1884.

$175,000 in relieving the sufferers by the floods

In conclusion Miss Barton said: "But, again what has the Red Cross to do with woman's work, and why does our Miss Anthony give it place here? Because her judgment is quick and sound, her vision clear and strong, and she sees from afar. Miss Anthony was the first woman to lay her hand beside mine in the formation of a Red Cross Society in her native city of Rochester, and that society has stood like a rock through trouble an disaster, responsive to every call. cause there are more women than men in the Red Cross of Europe to-day, Empresses and Queens lead its societies and its relief work in war, and while these princesses of peace and humanity, each queenly wife standing with her Red Cross hand on the enauleted shoulder of her war-meditating husband, he will consider well before he declares. This has been and will be again the case. Women have much to do with it, and in the great millenial day, when peace has conquered war, and its standards float out

Addresses were also delivered by Bessie Starr Keefer, Anna Gordon, Frances E. W. Harper, the colored delegate from Washington, Dr. Mary Weeks Burnett, Susan H. Barney, Matilda B. Carse, Mary H. Hunt and others. The Committee on Permanent Organizations reported the following committee to nominate for a National and international council of women, chosen from the delegates of the council alone: Clara Barton, Francis Willard, Rachel Foster, M. Louise Thomas, Ada C. Bowles, Mrs. Barry, of New Orleans; Mary Eastman, Mrs. C. C. Hoffman, of Missouri, and May Wright Sewall. To these are to be added the names of the foreign delegates. The expenses of the council were assumed by Miss Anthony, who used the money willed to her by Mrs. Eddy, of Providence, R. I., to be used at her discretion for the suffrage cause. Miss Anthony pays the hotel expenses of all delegates and speakers to the council and also the traveling expenses of the foreign delegates. RIOT AT LEAVENWORTH.

We had one on 'em down our way A spell ago. He was a poet— Leastways folks said so—though I swow I never seen a thing to show it! He was a simple sorter stick; An' though for made the gals all titter, Somehow I kinder liked the fool, An' studied up the cur'us critter.

He liked it or the farm, an' tuk A powerful interest in the flocks an' Herds, an' uster, so Sal says, Write lays to hens and odes to oxen, (Though what he owed 'em 1 can't see); She read 'em when she swept the litter, An', though I liked him, Sal she said He really warn't a Christian critter.

He warn't so smart as some, perhaps; The boys all thought him chicken-hearted Because he was so gentle like, But once they got his dander started-The time they skinned the cat alive; He walked right in, wal, I should twitter An' just missed skinnin' them alive. The queer and contradictious critter.

He never did a stroke o' work, O, but he was almighty lazy! He just 'ud set an' write an' spile Paper enough to drive you crazy; We'd hear him talkin' to himself, An' see his great big eye-balls glitter, But nothin' ever came of it-A genius is a harmless critter.

What's that you say? He's writ a book? An' sold it, too? Wal, now, I never! An' goin' to make his fortune, sure? Wal, dum it, now! But did you ever? If Sal'd had sense they might a hitched. But then somehow he never hit her; An' who in thunder'd ever think A genius such a likely critter!

HIS MATCH.

What Was Accomplished by Plucky Little Step-Mother.

Everybody said that Orphies French was crazy to think of marrying Hector Hunter. In the first place he was too old. (He was thirty-five and Orphies only eighteen.) In the next he was a widower with four children. (Orphies, being an only child, was unused to children.) And lastly, he was the crossest-grained, most miserly man that ever existed.

Every one in Hillwood knew him. They knew he had been the means of his first wife's finding an early grave; and now he wanted to break Miss eyed Orphies, the pride of the village, and the admiration of all.

The young man fell dead!

A friend and pointed a revolver at him.

"He didn't know it was loaded!" We often hear it stated that a man is not sponsible for what he does not know. The law presupposes knowledge and there-fore convicts the man who excuses crime

"If I had only known" has often been an unfortunate man's apology for some evil unknowingly wrought, but in a matter of general interest—as for instance that laudanum is a poison, that naphtha is a deadly explosive, that blood heavily charged with a winter's accumulations of the waste of the system -it is one's duty to know the fact and the consequences thereof. Our good old grandmothers knew for instance, that the opening of spring was the most perilous period of the year.

Because then the blood stream is sluggish and chilled by the cold weather, and if not thinned a good deal and made to flow quickly and healthfully through the arteries and veins, it is impossible to have good vigor the rest of the year. Hence, without exception, what is now known as Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla, was plentifully made and religiously given to every mem ber of the family regularly through March April, May and June. It is a matter of record that this prudential, preventive and restorative custom saved many a fit of sickness, prolonged life and happiness to a vigorous old age, and did away with heavy medical expenditures.

Mrs. Maggie Kerchwal, Lexington, Ky., used Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla "for nervous sick headache of which I had been a sufferer for years. It has been a great benefit to me." Capt. Hugh Harkins, 1114 S. 15th St., Philadelphia, 'a. says''; "urified my blood and removed the backes from my skin." Mrs. Aarea St. .th, Topton, Berks Co., Pa., says sl ; "was entirely cured of a skin disease of the worst L. .d," by Log Cabin Sarsaparilla. Bad skin indicates a very bad condition of the blood.

If you would live and be well, go to your druggist to-day and get Warner's Log Cabin Sarsaparilla and take no otherthere's nothing like it or as good-and completely renovate your impaired system with this simple, old-fashioned preparation of roots and herbs.

Warner, who makes the famous Safe Cure, puts it up, and that is a guarantee of excellence all over the known world. Take it yourself and give it to the other members of the family, including the children. You will be astonished at its health-giving and life-prolonging powers. We say this editorially with perfect confidence, because we have heard good things of it everywhere, and its name is a guarantee that it is first-class in every particular .- Cleveland

Every one needs a spring tonic—a remedy which will strengthen and invigorate the system and tone up the action of all the organs. The spring is the time above all others for the sick to get well; it is the time for the comparatively well to keep in good health by the use of a judiciously selected spring medicine.

the time for the comparatively well to keep in good health by the use of a judiciously selected spring medicine.

With the advent of spring comes malaria, nervousness and debility. A weak and tired feeling, if neglected, always results in nervous and physical exhaustion. Cure these diseases, or guard against them by the use of DR. GREENE'S NERVUMA NERVE TONIC, which is the greatest and best of all spring medicines. This wonderful remedy is re ommended by physicians, druggists and the people everywhere as being the most marvelous in its effects of any known medicine. If you are nervous, irritable, depressed and can not sleep nights, use this remedy by all means, and your nerves will become strong and steady, and your sleep calm, natural and refreshing. If you wake tired mornings, with dull head, bad taste in the mouth, no appetite for breakfast, and feel weak, languid and exhausted, this remarkable remedy will clear your head, give you an appetite and restore your strength, vigor and energies. If you have dyspepsia, indigestion, bihousness, constipation, kidney complaint, pain and weakness in the back, this remedy will give you sure relief and cure. It is a perfect specific for nervous debility, neuralgia, fiervous or sick headache, heart disease, palpitation, paralysis, numbness, trembling and all nervous diseases.

Use this remedy and you will never regret it. It is puriefy vegetable, and its wonderful effects afford a safe, sure and positive cure. Do not be persuaded to take any thing else, for this remedy has no equal. It is the greatest medical discovery of the age. All druggists keep it. Price, 81 per bottle.
