Rev. Dr. Holmes was at Quincy last Thursday, having been invited by Prof. Parker to deliver the address at the graduating exercises of their High School. He reports that the occasion was a very interesting one, and that Prof. Parker and Miss Wright are winning golden opinions among both their pupils and patrons. Success to them.

Graduating Exercises.

The graduating exercises of the Chelsea High School were held in Town Hall last Friday evening, and were patiently witnessed by a packed audience for about three hours, in defiance of the intense heat; abundant perspiring being the best possible evidence of interest in what was transpiring.

After the introductory music and invocation, Miss Belle A. Chandler read an essay on The Importance of Trifles, illustrating her subject by numerous well selected examples from nature and history. Larry D. Morton followed with a well written essay, entitled To Be, Not to Seem, in which he set forth the superior importance of real, substantial worth and character over all semblances and imitations. Miss Kittie J. Crowell's essay on Perseverance was itself a good illustration of the subject she treated. She had manifestly practiced her own teaching, and realized the importance she was endeavoring to impress upon others. The Power of Knowledge was well set forth by Miss Ada Prudden; and Fred J. Morton traced ingeniously and successfully the mighty working of the occult and unostentatious forces of nature and of character under the caption, The Silent World. The papers were all read in good, clear, audible tones of voice; and thought, style and execution reflected high credit on both pupil and teacher. Due attention to delicate points of rhetoric as well as grammar was manifest in them all.

The address of Prof. Thomas, of the University, was a well digested refutation of the objections some raise to our free school system of education; but, on account of the lateness of the hour and the weariness and discomfort of the audience, a large portion of it was omitted. Prof. Louis has acquitted himself so well during the past year that he has been engaged for another year with an increase of salary.

Our Loss Ypsilanti's Gain.

Dr. Thomas Shaw, who has successfully pursued the practice of his profession in Chelsea and vicinity since 1870 has decided to remove to Ypsilanti, and follow his profession there. We are very sorry to lose him, as he has been a valuable man not only in the practice of his profession but as a member of our society. Coming to our town a stranger his efficiency, character and integrity soon won a healthy practice which he has held throughout, and which he now leaves for a larger field of labor. He has arrived at an age, when, if he was ever to make a change, it is now the proper time. During his long and extensive practice here he has enjoyed the confidence of the community, both as a physician and as a man. His intelligence, force of character, strict integrity and professional efficiency were at once recognized by the community and have never been brought into question.

He has been twice elected President of our village, and made a most competent, painstaking and satisfactory official. He leaves here enjoying the respect and confidence of all, and a long list of patrons who sincerely regret his removal but wish him success and happiness in his new home, knowing their loss will be Ypsilanti's gain. He is now in the prime of life and being equipped with eighteen years experience, good character, good habits, the strictest integrity, absolute efficiency, and is short every element that belongs to the makeup of a physician and a gentleman. We confidently predict for him success in our neighboring city, and the confidence of her people. M. J. L.

School Picnic.

A picnic under the auspices of school district No. 8, Lima, Hattie McCarter, teacher, and district No. 6, Alice Guinau, teacher, was held in Koengster's grove, Lima, Friday, June 22, 1888. About 200 people were present from the above mentioned and neighboring districts. After all had partaken of a very good dinner, the programme, consisting of instrumental music together with recitations, dialogues and songs by the children of the two schools was attentively listened to. After a good social time, and the playing of games by the children, all returned to their respective homes, not to forget very soon, at least, the enjoyable time they had.

What Mrs. Grundy Says.

That the season for picnics is now at hand.
That a little tan on a pretty face doesn't mar its beauty.
That the pint flask for hip pocket purposes is being resurrected.
That red bandanas should be added to the free list in the Mills bill.
That everybody is living with his own wife, and all is quiet along the line.
That Cleveland must have burned that letter he wrote about one-term Presidents.
That the white horse and red-headed girl wit has become exceedingly tiresome.
That women who have artificial complexions deserve all our sympathy in hot weather.
That women anxious to find out everybody's affairs are the ones who keep their own domestic secrets.
That the Prohibition party has no use for St. John this year. Probably because they found out he couldn't carry New York.

A white gun has been tried at Shoburness, Eng., which can send a shell weighing five hundred pounds a distance of twelve miles.

Sixty-two years ago ex-Governor Berry, of New Hampshire, now in his ninety-first year, organized the first temperance society in that State.

Russia has adopted the American sleeping-car on certain railway lines. When the sleeping-car porter gets used to the country the car will find that he is no longer an autocrat of all the Russians.

Mrs. JOHN A. LOGAN has secured all the suitable mementoes of her late husband that she could obtain, and arranged them in what she maintains as a memorial room in her house at Washington.

The new steam ferryboat, Robert Garrett, recently put on for business between New York and Staten Island, can carry five thousand passengers, and is said to be the biggest ferryboat in the world.

It is announced that after settling all outstanding debts the estate of the late Roscoe Conkling will amount to between $700,000 and $800,000. His will, which was made about twenty years ago, leaves his entire fortune to his wife.

At Dundee, Eng., recently a young woman was found guilty of committing a breach of the peace, this being her eighth-second conviction in fourteen years, and on thirty-two occasions she had been sentenced to sixty days imprisonment.

The Arthur Kill drawbridge, just finished, connecting New York and New Jersey, is the greatest draw in the world. It is five hundred feet, and the spans are each one hundred and fifty feet, making the structure eight hundred feet. It will cost $450,000, and the first train will be run in September. When its machinery works satisfactorily the draw may be closed in two and one-half minutes.

De Lessers will cut down to the sea level through the Culbra mountains in the construction of the Panama canal by means of ten iron locks. The canal is to be thirty-seven miles long, of which nine on the Atlantic and three on the Pacific side are completed. The canal's depth will be twenty-five feet, eventually to be deepened to accommodate the largest steamers. The mortality among the employees is not so great as formerly.

It is reported from Youngstown, O., that Nannie Evans, aged ten years, whose career as a vocal prodigy was cut short seven months ago by the paralysis of her vocal chords, induced by overtaxing them singing in large halls, recovered her voice the other day during a severe storm just after two violent claps of thunder. She had not been able to speak above a whisper, and had been pronounced incurable by physicians.

Mrs. ROSE LUDVIG, a New York dress-maker, is charged with defrauding the custom-house out of $10,000. After buying two costumes in Paris, she engaged a young woman to represent herself as an actress, and that the gowns were portions of her wardrobe. Under these conditions the costly garments were admitted free of duty. To better carry out her scheme, Mrs. Ludvig, as alleged, played the part of maid to the alleged actress.

In order to properly perform the stern and exacting duties pertaining to the office of "Chief Marshal" at the recent graduating exercises of Vassar College, at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., the fair occupant of that position wore "a gown of white silk en train, opening over a petticoat of gold brocade, and carried a large bouquet of Maroon and white roses." The wish of that white silk train was doubtless as inspiring and kept the girls in excellent order.

GERMANY now has more Empresses, probably than any other country. They are Augusta, Dowager Empress, widow of William I.; Victoria, Dowager Empress, widow of Frederick III.; and Victoria, Empress, wife of Emperor William II. The new Empress is the daughter of the Duke of Schleswig-Holstein, and was born in 1860. She is said to be rather dull and of the phlegmatic German type. Her distinctive Tontoum is a recommendation to the present Emperor, as he is anxious that his "English blood" shall disappear from the family.

TWO GENTLEMEN started for Europe recently with novel projects in their heads for spending the summer. Mr. Thayer, of Hartford, Conn., will make a tour of Europe on his bicycle. He has projected a zigzag route in order to take in the chief continental attractions. The other, a Boston reporter, has his eye fixed on the little stream north of the Alps that becomes the mighty Danube. He expects to launch a row-boat on the river in Bavaria, and float down stream over two thousand miles to the Black Sea, taking in the capitals of four nations.

Mrs. JULIA WARD HOWE apparently did not look upon her marriage as an end of her school days, for since her marriage she has learned to speak French, Italian and modern Greek fluently, and has acquired a profound knowledge of the works of Kant, Hegel, Spinoza, Comte and Fichte. But all girls, says an exchange, are not Julia Ward Howes. If the average of them could learn to do the marketing, keep house and cook well, their future husbands would doubtless, in most cases at least, be reconciled to the lack of their further accomplishments.
