 The girls who are wont to say that they will never marry a man who smokes, drinks, swears, etc., are getting fewer every year. They always either break this vow or live to be old maids. Nine men out of every ten have one of these habits, and they usually make the best husbands. The man who has no bad habits is generally a "Miss Nancy" who was brought up a pet, and the girl who embarks with him on the toboggan of matrimony will be ashamed and tired of him in a very short time.

 The biggest bug story of the season comes from the vicinity of Atlanta, Ga. About ten o'clock at night the inhabitants were aroused by a loud roaring which was believed to be an approaching tornado. A short while later the noise became more distinct and the air was filled with a moving black mass that fell in showers of bugs, covering the ground in many places an inch thick. Large pine fires were built, in which many of the bugs were destroyed. Every night since at exactly the same hour there is a similar occurrence. The people now prepare for them by building fires and putting vessels of water to destroy them as they fall. Prof. B. Vondahlen, a scientist of note, has visited the place so as to witness this phenomena. He has examined the bug, and asserts that he never found it before in this country. It is of a species that is peculiar to the southern part of Africa, and a few years ago rained down upon the people of that section every night for six months in the year. The bug is about the size of the June bug, black and rough with long, pointed gauzy wings. It is harmless and dies soon after touching the ground.—Ex.

What Mrs. Grady Says.

That a marriage without affection is like wilted celery without any salt.
 That it is a safe rule that the doctor who talks the least knows the most.
 That fashion will allow men to discard their waistcoats in town and country this summer.
 That camping out parties this season will be more numerous than ever, and just as lively.
 That a "merciful man is merciful to his beast," and in summer time more than any other.

Why I Love Her So.

She is shapely,
 She is fair—
 Eyes like stars
 And golden hair;
 Yet not for these
 Alone you know,
 Do I love
 My darling so.

She has lips
 Of cherry red,
 Teeth like pearls
 In river's bed;
 Little hands
 As white as snow—
 That's not why
 I love her so.

But her eyes
 Like stars above,
 Are so kindly
 Full of love,
 Bringing joy
 Though there be woe,
 That is why
 I love her so.

And her lips
 Of cherry red,
 Words so loving
 Have they said;
 Words so tender
 When they flow,
 That is why
 I love her so.

What?

I sometimes look at a pretty boy and think what a pity it is that he's bound to grow up and become a man and get married, and wicked, and do all sorts of horrible things. And when you look at the blue-eyed, fair-haired little female child and think that some day she is going to be a pretty woman with a tight-laced waist, a tailor-made suit, false hair and a touch of paint on her face; that she is going to flirt and coo, and deceive and marry the wrong man and have lots of trouble—well, you can't help asking: "What is the use of it all?"

A File of Cash.

The May debt statement shows that the government has at command $590,000,000 cash. These are colossal figures, and must startle even wealthy England. Remembering the leanness of our treasury before the war and its present plethora, the money in the United States treasury is to be classed among the seven wonders of the modern world.

Five hundred and ninety millions is more than one-half of the entire bonded and certificate debt of the United States, the aggregate of which is $1,045,000,000. Of course the legal tenders are a debt, but as they are generally accepted to be a permanent and necessary currency of the country, the sum in the treasury seems prodigious.

But fortunately under the law $1,000,000 in gold must be kept as a reserve for the redemption of the legal tenders, so the amount of unusual cash is $490,000,000.—Ex.

Notice.

Gilbert, in the Village of Chelsea on July 16th, 1888, from 9 o'clock a. m. until 5 o'clock p. m. of said day, for the purpose of reviewing the assessment roll of said Village, that any person or persons deeming themselves aggrieved may be heard and the roll then and there be altered if it shall be made to appear that any person has been wrongfully assessed. By order of the Village Board.

Dated, June 29th, 1888.
 A. R. COGDON,
 Clerk of the Village of Chelsea.

Lima Notes.

Hammond's house is now on the wall.

Our surplus fireworks were let off last Saturday night.

Our farmers unusually busy with haying and harvest.

A. G. Weston, of Unadilla, was among us last Saturday.

Geo. H. Mitchell is building an addition to his fruit dryer.

Sampson Parker gets around somewhat as he did, but is not as strong as before his sickness.

North Lake Items.

Elder Marshal is in camp here. Barley is nearly ready to gather in.

Hay light and nearly all harvested.

Potatoes promise to be about the same as last year at present.

Lon Glenn will be home on Friday for a four weeks vacation.

Mrs. Adella Pierce spent a few days at her old home last week.

The boys are going to have a ball game next week and supper in the evening.

Prof. Jones and wife, of Ann Arbor, spent a day at the Lake this week, and like it well.

The church has just received a new coat of water colors and a new carpet. It looks nice.

Parties from Ann Arbor are boarding at the Lake House and enjoying the grove between meals.

Mrs. Libbie Benton, of Dexter, is visiting at her old home and calling on the old neighbors this week.

Miss Minnie and Miss Josie Jackson were the guests of their teacher, Lon Glenn, a few days last week.

Mr. John Jackson and wife, E. L. Glenn and wife and others, helped our Scribe celebrate the 50th anniversary of his birth and the Fourth at the same time. We enjoyed it and hope all did. Come again.

A company of young men from Gregory and Plainfield, with their best girls, a bushel of fire crackers and a water melon, made it quite damp and smell quite patriotic around the Lake on the Fourth.

John Molush, of Unadilla, started on the 3rd with a lumber wagon, boat and baby cart, to celebrate his first Fourth of July. When he arrived at the Lake he found he was lacking the most essential feature, a nice girl. John was equal to the occasion. He soon abandoned the boat, wagon and baby cart, and loaded up with ice cream and lemonade, in true American style. John will "catch on" by another Fourth.

The friends and associates of Miss Emily Foster at this place will be pleased to learn that she has just graduated from a school at Sandusky, O., which she has been attending the past two years. The class numbered 27, and on her fell the lot of the Class Rhymes, in which she acquitted herself in a very fine manner, receiving the applause of a well filled Opera house. The rhymes filled one column of the Sandusky Journal of June 21st, from which the above is taken.

Removal.

C. Heselschwerdt has moved his restaurant from the Kanteleher block to the Wilkinson block, East Middle street, and has furnished some fine bedrooms, and will now take regular or transient boarders. He will be happy to meet all his old friends and as many new ones as will favor him with a call. He also thanks old patrons for past favors and hopes for a continuance of the same. Ice cream by the dish or by the quart, and a square meal for 25 cents.

What is Flirtation?

What is flirtation? Really,
 How can I tell you that?
 But when I smile I see his wiles,
 And then he lifts his hat.

'Tis walking in the moonlight,
 'Tis buttoning on a glove;
 'Tis lips that speak of plays next week,
 While eyes are talking love.

'Tis meeting in the ball room,
 'Tis whirling in the dance,
 'Tis something hid beneath the lid
 More than a simple glance.

'Tis lingering in the hallway,
 'Tis sitting on the stair,
 'Tis bearded lips on finger tips,
 If mamma isn't there.

'Tis tucking in the carriage,
 'Tis asking for a call.
 'Tis long good-nights in tender lights,
 And that is—no, not all!

'Tis parting when it is over,
 And one goes home to sleep,
 Best joys must end, tra la, my friend,
 But one goes home to weep.

Message from Edwin Lawrence.

We copy the following from the San Francisco Golden Gate by request:

"Judge Edwin Lawrence, of Ann Arbor, Mich., a graduate of Middlebury College, and a thorough Spiritualist, passed to the higher life about eighteen months ago. He sends the following message to a friend through the hand of Mrs. C. Fisk:

I am happy to greet you all once more, and would say that the work of human enlightenment goes bravely forward; the world is on the march toward a grand spiritual enlightenment; the spirit world is in close proximity to the material one. The fact of the possibility of the spirit possessing the power and intelligence of communicating its thoughts to the world is fast gaining ground on your earth to-day.

Look if you will into the facilities of the past and compare the methods of procedure in the past ages with the present mode of transacting the world's business, and you will every time find that the improvements of man are vast and wonderful to behold, and the end is not yet, for we see that the present is fraught with splendid opportunities for learning the laws that govern creation, which, by the way, is a lesson that has hardly begun to be understood by the most advanced scholars. Yet the present is full of the grandest truths of science, literature, and art that have ever been spread before any age of the world.

Man has just begun to learn that there is a life above for the weary ones of earth, where the grand and noble can find the best facilities for rising higher and higher in the scale of being. You must know that to be convinced of the never ending life of our friends is enough to inspire to the grandest deeds and the highest aims in life, to the end that we may not only cultivate our own immortal conditions, but those of our fellow-men who are passing through the ups and downs of life.

We lone to come to you and free our minds on the great subject of the spiritual culture of the human race. We are always glad to lend a hand to help our neighbors on to higher conditions and more glorious views of human nature, and the great love for the welfare of the people the world over.

Then do not falter, but press forward through the fire of unbelief, if need be, and help in the grand work of proclaiming to the world that the people shall not die, but are changed in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye sometimes, and made to possess a most glorious spirit form that shall navigate the air and feel the glorious light and sunshine of divine love, as the busy butterfly spreads his wings and flits from flower to flower.

There is a glorious work for the Spiritualists to be engaged in; no time to be lost in doubt; but all should be busy spreading the principles of the new gospel to the needy world.

EDWIN LAWRENCE."

The Test of a Good Husband.

A colored man living near Smithville forbade his daughter to receive the attentions of a darky who was visiting her. Some time before this the old man had expressed a desire for a certain kind of plow which he had seen, but didn't have the money to buy it. The youthful Romeo purchased the plow and presented it to him. "It's all right about the plow," said the old man. "Now go out dar in the field an' hitch that mule to it an' go to work. It's the only way you can git my gal. I tell you it's 'follow the mule' wid me every time."—Ex.

THE GREAT GO-AS-YOU-PLEASE WEST.

The advantages of the west for the young man consists in this, that he is there given a chance to show his gait and demonstrate his merits. Nobody asks him who his grandfather was and why he came west. He is tested and indorced or lynched according to his merits. That is not all. He is as good a man with a $5 suit of clothes and a bob-tail genealogy as any other man; if he be a good citizen and pans out all right. The difference between the east and the west is that in the west less attention is paid to forms and exterior than in the east. In the west a man may be a millionaire and still be required to behave himself. In the east a millionaire can behave himself days and do as he pleases the rest of the time.—Ex.
