Girls be cheerful but not gigglers; serious, but not dull; be communicative but not forward; be kind, but not servile. Beware of silly, thoughtless speeches; although you may forget them, others will not. Remember God's eye is in every company. Beware of levity and familiarity with young men; a modest reserve, without affectation, is the only safe path. Court—and encourage conversation with those who are truly serious and conversable; do not go into valuable company without endeavoring to improve by the intercourse permitted to you. Nothing is more unbecoming, when one part of a company is engaged in profitable conversation, than that another part should be trifling, giggling, and talking comparative nonsense to each other.

We pity the young fellow who wants to vote, but will lack a day of being twenty-one on election day. He must feel lack-a-day-sical.

AN Albany (N. Y.) paper tells this story of a Union veteran who fought at Gettysburg. Before entering the action he took his canteen from his shoulder and hid it in a crevice in the rock. At the close of the battle the soldier foraged all about his canteen, nor did it ever occur to him again until he visited the field at the late reunion. Then it flashed through his mind, and after a few minutes' search he found it where he had left it on the momentous day.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

MICHIGAN'S GOLD MINES.

Eight Thousand Dollars in Eight Hundred Pounds of Rock.

Eight hundred pounds of quartz, carrying $8,000 in gold, was disclosed by a single blast at the Michigan mine the other evening.

The shaft was fourteen feet deep, and over 2000 worth of gold had been discovered in less than a month.

The vein carrying the gold is wider and more plainly defined at the bottom than at the surface. The rock was at first supposed to be a pocket, but it looks now as though it is a continuous vein of wonderfully rich quartz.

Work was getting going from the shaft west of the Michigan, but no one was allowed to know how much or to enter the workings of the mine. The Superior Gold and Silver Company also had rock carrying several hundred dollars a ton in free gold. All the prospects, except the Michigan, were being worked for all there is in them. The Michigan was still in litigation, which retards the work.

DIED FROM TIGHT LACING.

A Michigan Young Lady Drops Dead While Dancing a Quadrille.

The craze for slender waists found a victim the other night in Miss Mary Crawford, a young lady living at Delray. She was a tender dancer and was suddenly seized and fell, but was caught by her partner, who carried her to a lounge where she seemingly fainted. It was found impossible to resuscitate her, and a physician was summoned, who pronounced the young lady dead. An examination revealed the fact that observers die from tight lacing, the stays in her corset having been drawn so tightly that her flesh lay in folds beneath so that the exertion of dancing caused the bursting of a blood vessel. Miss Crawford was to have been married the next day, and her betrothed was completely prostrated.

He is one of the men implicated in robbing and almost killing a man there last year and placing him on the track to cover the crime.

It commenced raining the other night and continued all the next day, putting out fires in the woods and greatly benefiting the crops. It was a relief to the potato crop as well as the long dry spell. The Entire Traffic System of the South Paralyzed by the Quarantine Against Yellow Fever. The Plague's Progress. JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 23.—The yellow-fever bulletin for Monday showed 113 new cases and 5 deaths. Total cases reported to date, 1,931; total deaths, 217. It is impossible to approximate the number of cases that have not been reported to the Board of Health. One physician has had 100, few of which have been reported.

A special from McClenny says three new cases occurred there. Plant City is free of fever, and people have been admitted to the place for the first time in sixty days.

FLORIANVILLE, Fla., Sept. 23.—Yellow fever was officially declared yesterday to be here. The Board of Health issued the following bulletin: "The Board of Health announces that the result of an autopsy held at 11 m. today on the body of Mr. Hood demonstrates the existence of yellow fever in this city."

DECATUR, Ala., Sept. 23.—State Health Officer Corcoran reports that no new cases have occurred. We have plenty of doctors, and need no help at present. There have been 100 deaths to date, and of the fifteen persons now sick only four are dangerous. The situation is very encouraging. Stores are being reopened and confidence restored.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 23.—There have been no new cases of death since Sunday morning. The population is 1,791—three-fourths colored. The Howard Association is receiving some financial help and has secured some supplies. No mails are allowed to leave here; mail matter may be received from one train every twenty-four hours as it dashes by. Two car-loads of tents arrived here at the asylum switch. The first case of fever in 1878 occurred August 31; the first death September 3 and the last death November 5. The total number of cases was 400; the total number of deaths, 54.

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 23.—The fifth day of the epidemic of lowering the temperature from 102 to 100 and lost the bloody battles of Mars-la-Tour and Gravelotte before being forced back into Metz. This stronghold was invested promptly by Prince Frederick Charles, and on October 23, 1870, Bazaine surrendered. One hundred and seventy thousand private soldiers, over 6,000 officers, fifty Generals and three Marshals of France were prisoners of war on this occasion. The Emperor Napoleon III. was taken at once. Bazaine fled to England.

It was a vital blow to the military pride of the French people followed in 1873 by the trial of Bazaine by court-martial for having failed to defend Metz. He was sentenced to death, but escaped after nine months' imprisonment. He fled to Germany and England, then removed to Spain, and had his residence at Madrid, where he had since resided.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—A suspicious case of fever was reported yesterday about eighteen miles south of Jackson in the direction of Natchez. The party sick nursed Policeman Loran, who died of the fever at Jackson on Thursday. There is also a suspicious case of fever at Miles Station on the Natchez, Jackson & Columbus railroads about midway between Natchez and Jackson.

CAIRO, Ill., Sept. 23.—There have been but four deaths from yellow fever this season in the valley between Cairo and the Gulf. But the Illinois Central is losing $7,000 a day on account of the quarantine. Several roads are shut out of Memphis Steamboats after running the gantlet of shot-guns for hundreds of miles are tied up as fast as they arrive at the levees at St. Louis, and the entire traffic system of the South is paralyzed. Even as far north as Iowa, this State, these absurd quarantine regulations are enforced.

Secretary John H. Rauch, of the State Board of Health of Illinois, has arrived, and he is very sanguine as to the safety of Cairo and vicinity, and regards the present quarantine as unnecessary. The sanitary conditions are satisfactory.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 23.—Only through trains on the Illinois Central are running, all local trains having been abandoned on account of the quarantines. All trains on the Northeastern railroad have been abandoned because the authorities of Meridian, Miss., and Natchez, refuse to permit trains to pass through their cities. Mail trains generally are abandoned, and as there is no rail connection now between Chattanooga and Memphis for Cairo mails have been delivered via Nashville, Montgomery and New Orleans.

Monday the State Board of Health granted authority to run trains on the Natchez, Jackson & Columbus road, to carry nothing but freights and medicines and bring in cotton and cotton seed, but as soon as the order became public the people rose up en masse and declared they would tear up the tracks to cross the river and railroads would be protected. All trains could not be otherwise prevented. The railroad company thereupon abandoned the project, and all employees of the road are likely to be suspended until the fever subsides.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 23.—The Board of Health has determined to place the same quarantine on the railroads west of the river as have been enforced against those on the east side, and after 1 o'clock to night no passengers arriving at West Memphis on the Kansas City, Springfield & Memphis, Iron Mountain or Memphis & Little Rock railroads will be allowed to cross the river unless supplied with passes from the Memphis Board of Health. The militia force, consisting of members of the Chickasaw Guards, Memphis Merchant Zouaves and Schorr Zouaves, went on duty yesterday, and are now guarding all roads leading into Memphis.

All passenger trains on the Louisville, New Orleans & Texas railroad between Memphis and New Orleans have been abandoned and none of the other lines are running their usual number.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—Many hundred refugees from the yellow fever arrived in St. Louis from the other railroads. The South here was crowded, and the hotels are all filled with the panic-stricken Southerners. No quarantine has been established here, and this great influx of refugees has alarmed the citizens, who are agitating for action by the city authorities.

A Georgia man has been married twenty years, and his wife one morning suggested that that was her birthday. He said to himself: "I've got a good wife; she has been kind, self-sacrificing and true in all respects; I must buy her a present." So he went down town and bought himself a new hat, consoling himself with the thought that nothing would more please a good wife than to make her husband a present of a new hat.

"John," said Mrs. Billus, affectionately, "I wish I could do something to relieve your toothache or at least to help you to forget it. Shall I sing for you?" And she seated herself at the piano. "I—I guess I can stand it, Maria," moaned Mr. Billus, bracing himself in his chair; "go ahead." Chicago Tribune.

EX-MARSHAL BAZAINE.

The Exiled Commander of the French Forces in the Franco-Prussian War Dies in Madrid. LONDON, Sept. 24.—A dispatch from Madrid announces that ex-Marshall Bazaine died in that city yesterday. The cause of death was heart disease. He had been ill for several days. The funeral will take place to-day.

The death of ex-Marshall Bazaine has created great surprise, although it was known that his health had been very poor since his serious illness of a year ago. Nothing had been said or published about him lately, and the announcement of his death recalled him to many persons who had entirely forgotten him. His exile had been spent for the most part in a condition of bordering upon an equal, and the little money which came to him from time to time was contributed by some of the few persons who adhered to the belief that he was the victim of circumstances and not the inarguable of the country he served faithfully and well.

Francis Achille Bazaine, ex-Marshall of France, was born February 13, 1811, and entered the French army as a private in 1831. He served in Algeria in 1832, and in Spain against the Carlists, and was distinguished for courage and ability, he was promoted to be Lieutenant and then Captain, and also received the cross of the Legion of Honor. In the Crimean war he was made a General of Brigade and General of Division. He was promoted to be a Commander of the Legion in 1856. In 1859 he served in the campaign against Austria. When the French invaded Mexico in 1862 he held high command and succeeded Marshal Forey as head of the forces in 1863, when he received the grand cross. The next year he was made a Marshal of France. In 1869 the Emperor Napoleon promoted him to be Commander-in-Chief of the Imperial Guard.

The war with Germany, 1870-1, furnished the scene of Bazaine's highest distinction and of his historic disgrace. At the outbreak of hostilities he commanded the "Fair Army Corps" near Metz. When the battles of Worth and Forbach had been fought, disastrously to the French army, Marshal Bazaine took command of the main armies of the empire. On August 14, 1870, he began the retreat from Metz and fought and lost the bloody battles of Mars-la-Tour and Gravelotte before being forced back into Metz. This stronghold was invested promptly by Prince Frederick Charles, and on October 23, 1870, Bazaine surrendered. One hundred and seventy thousand private soldiers, over 6,000 officers, fifty Generals and three Marshals of France were prisoners of war on this occasion. The Emperor Napoleon III. was taken at once. Bazaine fled to England.

It was a vital blow to the military pride of the French people followed in 1873 by the trial of Bazaine by court-martial for having failed to defend Metz. He was sentenced to death, but escaped after nine months' imprisonment. He fled to Germany and England, then removed to Spain, and had his residence at Madrid, where he had since resided.
