STOLE THE FUNDS.

Cleveland's City Treasurer a Defaulter to the Amount of Over $400,000. He Skips to a Foreign Shore. Excitement Over the Discovery of His Crime. CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 24.—The greatest excitement prevails here in financial and siness, as well as social circles over the reported defalcation of City Treasurer mas Axworthy. Mr. Axworthy left September 28, going direct to the city on September 28, going direct to New York City, from where he is said to have left for Montreal, Can., on September 29. Investigation so far develops a shortage of city funds of over $400,000, and it is thought that further investigation will increase the amount. Axworthy's bondsmen, consisting of United States Senator Payne and J. H. Wade, Jr., who are on his bond for $500, 000, had a hurried meeting at the office of Attorney Estey, Dickey and Squire about midnight Monday night, and attachments were immediately taken out, one for $500,-000, and the other by the National Bank of Commerce for $25,000, to secure themselves on Axworthy's paper. All of Axworthy's property in the city, consisting of large amounts of real estate and lake vessels, were also attached, and garnishments were served on all local banks where city and personal money was on deposit, and on the numerous firms in which the defaulting treasurer is interested. All city funds have heretofore been deposited in the various banks in the treasurer's own name, but a recent law compelled the depositing of all funds in one selected from bids bank, law took effect last week precipitated the crash. Axworthy's reason for embezzling are unknown. He was considered very wealthy and rated by those in a position to know at over half a million dollars. Many believe that he was caught in Hutchinson's wheat corner and lost half a million dollars. There is on deposit in various city banks about $350,000 in Treasurer Axworthy's name, but how much of it is city funds and how much personal it is impossible to tell. Axworthy lived in fine style, but not even a suspicion that he was using the city's funds was entertained by any of his friends, and the announcement of the great defalcation came like a thunder-clap out of a clear sky. His bondsmen are good for the amount, but it is feared that endless trouble will follow any efforts to collect from them. There is talk of another tax levy to meet the current expenses of the city, as the treasury is empty. From later developments it is learned that Axworthy has fled to Europe. A cablegram, known to have been from him, was received by one of his married daughters here on Saturday last, dated Liverpool, which read: "Papa is in Canada; tell mamma not to worry." A full investigation of the city treasurer's accounts has been made, which | dreadfully dark, the heavens being a mass shows that there should be to the credit of- of black clouds, with an occasional flash the city department $876,887.64. session, Treasurer Axworthy also held He Declares That Rome Is $192,000 belonging to the Board of Education $15,000 of the police pension fund and $8,000 of the firemen's pension fund. Of these sums there are no accounts. The Board of Education money is secured by a bond given by Selah Chamberlain and Truman P. Handy. It is stated that he had money belonging to the local Democratic committee, and was the stakeholder of several hundred dollars in election bets.

The Common Council met last night to take action in the premises. It was decided to declare the office of treasurer vacant, and that will be done as soon as the proper resolutions can be passed, when a temporary treasurer will be appointed to fill out Axworthy's term.

The British-Americans Complete Their National Organization of Principles. CHICAGO, Oct. 24 .- At yesterday morning's session of the convention of the British-American Association, it was decided to call the new organization "The National British American Association of the United States." The declaration of principles agreed on is, in brief, as fol-

It sets forth that the association maintains first, last and always adherence to the constitution of the United States and declares its determination to know no other test in those who seek citizenship than a acceptance of and adherence to these principles, and an honest renunciation of and disassociation from foreign politics and alien agitations. The association emphatdeclares its abiding faith in the public schools, unfettered by any denominational or religious restrictions, as the chief element in the perpetuation of the Republic, and declares its hostility to all measures, men or influences antagonistic to the common-school system. The association will use every honorable means to induce residents of British birth to become citizens, and will disseminate information that will enable such persons to intelligently comprehend the cuties and obligations of citizenship. The association will be ever ready to assist all who wish to become citizens, and asks the co-operation of all men of British birth or descent, and calls upon those who have acquired the right of cit zenship to exercise all possible occasions, and to regard the ballot as a sacred trust. It also calls upon all who have not yet acquired this privilege to do their duty to the land of their adoption by arming themselves with this right, in the interest of good order and for the protection of liberty without license. At the afternoon session, after a lengthy debate and a careful comparison of the constitutions of the different States, articles in accord with the declaration of principles were agreed upon. Membership in the organization is confined to resideats of the United States of British and British colonial birth and their sons and grandsons who have or intend to become citizens. The association will endeavor s promote good feeling between the United States and British governments.

The Forest City Almost Bankrupted by Axworthy's Actions - The Rescally Official in Canada.

Chaveland, O., Oct. 95 - There bout $450,000 belonging to the city of about $450,000 belonging to the city posited in a half dozen banks, the bondsmen of Thomas Axworthy, defaulting treasurer, have attached it, and the result is that the city is bankrupt. Kaufman Hays, member of the Council, has been placed in charge of the office, and will continue to act as treasurer until Axworthy's successor is elected. At present there is only $8,000 in the city's vaults, and when that is paid out the treasurer's office will be closed for financial repairs.

A meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last night and 'he office of the city treasurer declared vacant. The mayor was authorized by a resolution to issue notes of the city to the amount of $200,000 if necessary, to tide over the temporary financial stringency. The action of this board will will have to be confirmed at the meeting of the council Friday night before its legislation can go into effect. A. B. Conkey, Axworthy's confidential business manager, has just returned from New York, where he went to investigate the matter. His theory is that Axworthy went to New York with securities on which he hoped to realize in order to settle with the city. Failing to get the money he needed he went to Canada rather than return to Cleveland and face his shortage like a man. Mr. Conkey declares positively that Axworthy was not a speculator, as has been asserted. He saw all of Axworthy's correspondence, and he knows that the latter lost no money on

It is feared that Cleveland will also lose $175,000, the proceeds of bonds negotiated by Ayworthy in Boston about September 28

Shall Be the Capital of the Catholic World-Prompt Action Necessary to Overcome the Efforts of the Enemies of Rome, Oct. 25.-The Pope, addressing a deputation of pilgrims from Naples yesterday, said the foes of the Papacy would not hesitate to confirm by renewed insults, even on a solemnoccasion, the usurpation and violence which are within the remembrance of the whole world. "Rome," he declared, "is predestined to be the See of the Vicar of Christ and shall ever remain the capital of the Catho lic world." The Archbishop of Naples recounted to His Holiness all that occurred in Naples during the visit of the Kaiser to that city, whereupon the Pope said: "Our enemies are exerting their whole strength to oppress us. Let us redouble our efforts. Prompt and unwavering action is necessary, for which I rely upon the clergy."

King Milan, in a letter to the Metropol itan, written previous to the issuance of the pastoral, after pointing out that the ordinary laws of the country could not be applied to the sovereign who stood above them, demanded that the Metropolite avert the danger threatened for the Serv ian State and dynasty by dissolving his Majesty's marriage with Queen Natalie.

upon reliable data. Several writers have asserted-one of them in the Altoona Morning Tribune-that rattlesnakes can and do jump at their victims. I positively deny that assertion and ask them to present their affidavits. The first contact with a snake is an important epoch in any one's life, especially in the case of a boy. In 1842, when only a small boy, unused to woods and snakes, I was sent on a Having captured the venison, quick errand and running along an I returned to find only the tail of the old path among the hemlock and maple trees, I barely escaped jumpiug upon a rattler six feet in length. I had never before seen a snake, but the natural instinctive dread peculiar to every body asserted itself in my case, and paralyzed with terror, fear and fright I allowed to escape what otherwise would have been a brilliant trophy. This was in Cambria County, and my next experience in that line was near the same place-where Shirley station is now located. I happened upon a four-foot rattler, but this time my father, who was near at hand, came to my relief and killed it with a pole fully ten feet in length. Log Cabin Grandmothers.

Curcago boasts of an English bull-dog An Indiana doctor has recently discovered n a common weed whose medici have never before been suspected, a valuable remedy for bowel disorders. There is nothing particularly strange

> And yet the very simplicity of the new discovery would, with some, seem to throw just doubt upon its power. To make it one has only to pour hot water over the leaves of the plant. In its preparation no vast chemical works and appliances are re-

Is it to be wondered at since such plainly prepared remedies are accounted as of suc great merit in these days, that such wonderful results attended our grand-mothers, whose teas and infusions of roots and herbs and balsams, have exerted so great an influence in the maintenance of ealth and life!

Certainly not! The greatest pieces of machinery strike us most by their exceeding simplicity. The secret of the success of grand-nother's remedies was their freshness and simplicity. Every autumn found the little Log Cabin abundantly supplied with fresh leaves, roots, herbs and balsams, which were carefully dried and prepared and laid away for use. Dreading to call a doctor be-gained a foothold. The old Log Cabin grandmother, in cap and high tucked gown, and perchance bespectacled in rough silver, her weary feet encased in "hum made" slips, is the dear sweet nurse who rises to the view of many a man and woman to-day as the early years of life pass in retrospect.

The secrets of grandmother's medicine were rapidly being forgotten and the world was not growing in the grace of good health. To restore the lost art of log cabin healing has been for years the desire of a well-known philanthropist in whose ancestral line were eight "goodly physicians" of the old style, men who never saw a medica college save in the woods, nor a "medical diploma" except that inscribed on the faces of healthy and long lived patients. Much time and money was expended in securing the old formulæ, which to-day are put forth as "Log Cabin remedies"-sarsaparilla, hops and buchu, cough and consumption, and several others, by Warner, whose name is famous and a standard for medical excellence all over the globe. These oldest, newest and best preparations have been recognized as of such superexcellence that to-day they can be found with all leading dealers. When Col. Ethan Allen was making history along our northern frontier during the revolution, Col. Seth Warner, the fighting Sheridan of that army, who was a skillful natural doctor, used many such remedies, notably like the Log Cabin extract, sarsaparilla and cough and consumption remedy, among the soldiers with famous success. They are a noble inheritance which we of to-day may enjoy to the full, as did our forefathers, and using, reap, as did they, the harvest of a life full of days and full of use-

The good apples never hide their light under a bushel. They are always in plain sight in the top of the measure.—Merchant

What Next?

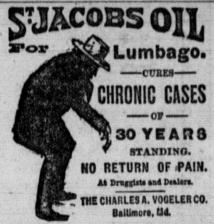

If this sort of thing keeps on they will be giving away houses and lots soon. We now learn that W. Jennings Demorest runs an immense Pattern Manufactory, and yet does not sell a single pattern. What nonsense! Not at all! They are all given away to the purchasers and subscribers to that wonderful Family Magazine, Demorest's Monthly. Each Magazine contains an order entiting the holder to any pattern they manufacture. We do not see how they can afford it, for their editions are immense, and it seems incredible that each Magazine (send ten cents for sample copy), contains an order for a pattern worth from 20 to 30 cents. This will certainly hurt the pattern trade, for ladies will soon learn that they can get their patterns free by simply buying or subscribing for Demorest's Monthly Magazine. Dear Sir:—In April, 1885, while thinking of taking orders in September. I suddenly received notice that my ordination examination would be held in a fortnight. I had only ten (10) days in which to prepare for the Exam. I should recommend a year's preparation in the case of anyone so utterly unprepared as I was; but your system had so strengthened my natural memory, that I was able to remember and give the gist of any book after rading it once. I therefore read Lightfoot, Proctor, Harold Browne, Mosheim, &c., &c., once, and was successful in every one of the nine papers. The present Bishop of Edinburg knows the facts. Faithfully yours. # Oliver Chilled Plow Works.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 20, 1888.

To Agents and Users of our Ploas:

It has always been our custom to go directly to you when any matters come up which might affect our mutual interest. An attack upon us or our plows is a reflection upon you also, and our long and pleasant relations warrant us in asking your careful attention to the subject matter of this communication. We speak in a purely business sense and ask you to so receive what we have to say. You have no doubt seen or heard of the Marshal reports monies collected by him and deposited with the Treasurer, for month ending Oct.

Knowing this statement to be false, you have probably passed it over lightly, feeling confident that we would look after it in due time, but there are some in every community who believe this absurd charge, and we ask your help in refuting it. You are authorized to say for us that there is not one word of truth in the charge, and the men who make it are either deliberate and malicious falsifiers, or inexcusably ignorant. In no case do we favor foreign buyers, and the man does not live who can furnish truthful evidence that we do.

A Campaign Against Plows

From the South Bend (Ind) Saturday Tribune, Oct. 13, 1888.

On the 28th of August last the Hon. W. H. Hatch, member of congress from Missouri and chairman of the committee on agriculture, made a speech at Kirksville, Mo., wherein he stated that "Olliver Chilled plows made at South Bend, Indiana, were exported to Canada and there sold at retail to Canadian farmers at an average of four dollars less than the same plows could be bought by the American farmer." Mr. II. F. Millan, of Kirksville, wrote to the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, giving the substance of Mr. Hatch's statement, and asked if it were true. To this, under date of August 31, the Oliver Chilled Plow Works replied, denying the state-Don't make up your mind to be stand under the postoffice to pay the sweet to everybody's brother but highest market price, in cash, for all the papers in northern Missouri, and was recently brought to the attention of CHURCH DIRECTORY. Mr. Hatch. On the 8th inst. that gentlemen rose to a question of privilege in the house and reaffirmed his statement, notwithstanding the denial made by the Oliver Chilled Plow Works. On the same day he wrote to the Oli er Chilled Plow Works, not only adhering to the statement made by him at Kirksville, but giving as his authority one Wm. deII.

OFFICE OF

THE OLIVER CHILLED PLOW WORKS,

SOUTH BEND, INDIANA

OCT. 11, 1888.

DEAR SIR:-We acknowledge receipt of your favor, 8th inst., with ecompanying "campaign documents," and have given the same our careful perusal and attention. Perhaps it would have been more courteous to us had you written and received our reply before rising to a question of privilege as reported in the house precedings of the 8th inst.; out, waiving that feature, we will reply to your letter with such courtesy as its statements and tone ment. You discredit our denial that we export our plows to Canada and there sell them for a less price to the Canadian farmer than they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former and submit they are sold to the American former. they are sold to the American farmer, and submit certain so-called evidence to sustain you. With all due respect for the position you occupy, and for yourself personally, we reaffirm our denial, and say positively that there is not one word of truth in the statement that our plows are exported to Canada, or any other country, and there sold to the user at a less price than the American farmer pays for them. You may be honest in your belief and statements, and we are inclined to think you are, but they are founded on information which we can show to be false, and, if disposed to be at all fair, you will heed what we say to you.

from the proceeds of the church farm, a tract of sixteen acres planted in cotton. The land is rented by the church members, and on regular occasions they all get together and coccasions to the country of washtened to the country of washtened to the country of washtened together and coccasions they all get together and coccasions they all get together and coccasions to the country of washtened together and coccasions to the country of w coccasions they all get together and give the ground a thorough tilling free of charge. The church thus has an income sufficient for its needs, and the pastor never feels any anxiety about his salary.

Every to Cil Harness.

Take the harness apart wherever it can be unbuckled; give each strap a good wash, using lukewarm water with a little washing soda in it. Scrub well with a scrubbing brush, and be sure that you get all the grease and dirt off. Work well in it. Scrub well with a scrubbing brush, and be sure that you get all the grease and dirt off. Work well in the hands until soft and plaint for it is no use to apply oil on dry, horny leather—it will never becomes off. After this has been done hang in a room where they will not dry.

**Tenum of the complex o will show whether or not we are telling the truth, and certainly you can have a cess to them. Mr. Washington: "I understand the same plows have a cess to them. Mr. Washington: "I understand the same plows are sold in quantities at the factory (not for export) at $14 each, and cost the American farmer $16." If you had taken the pains to inquire in your own state and district, you would have found that the largest chilled plow we make retails there for $11, and when a wheel and jointer are added (which is a rare case) the full retail price does not exceed $14.

We have shown Mr. Washington's information to be untrue in the features upon which he bases his conclusions, and his deductions and campaign assertions therefore fall to the ground. We are prepared to show that in every foreign country where plows of our manufacture are sold, they retail for a higher price than American farmers pay for them. Let us say right here that every genuine Oliver chilled plow is made here in South Bend, at our factory, and we neither manufacture in any foreign factory or have any interests direct or indirect in any foreign factory or country or have any interests direct or indirect in any foreign factory or

In your letter to us you say: "You admit that you have some trade with Canada, but are careful to omit that country from the list of those enumerated to which you export your plows." We omit Canada simply because we export no plows to that country, and you cannot furnish truthful evidence that we do. The evidence you do furnish, whether official or ful evidence that we do. The evidence you do furnish, whether official or not, is based on wrong information and wrong assumptions, and is entitled to no consideration whatever. Our letter to Mr. H. F. Millan, of Kirksville, Mo., was written in answer to his inquiry if the statements made by you, at that place, Aug. 28th were true. We have nothing to take back in our letter, and we repeat what we therein said that, "We are somewhat surprised that a gentleman of Mr. Hatch's national reputation should make such statements without satisfying himself of their truth." You are familiar enough with law to know the value attached to an exparte statement, and in simple justice should have heard both sides before making the broad statement you did. We speak for ourselves alone, and leave other manufacturers to fight their own lattles.
