Last May he came to Chelsea, where he

THAT OLD 50 CENT WASHBOARD.

Some Common-sense Questions to Men Whose Wives do their own Housework.

MISSOURI STEAM WASHER.

Do you ever have to buy a new 50 cent washboard, because holes were worn through the zinc on the old one? If so, what were those holes? Was it not hard rubbing the family clothing got on that old 50 cent washboard? Yet zinc is a metal and will stand a great amount of hard rubbing. If the family clothing has been rubbed on that old 50 cent washboard, until holes have been worn in the zinc, what has been the effect on the clothing? Don't you believe that old 50 cent washboard has worn out 25 shirts, and a proportionate quantity of under clothing, Ladies' clothing, pillow cases, table linen, etc. Don't you believe you have paid your storekeeper twenty dollars a year more for dry goods, than would have been necessary if it had not been for that old 50 cent washboard?

MANY HAVE BEEN LOST.

A Terrible Snow-Storm Along the Lower St. Lawrence Causes Great Anxiety and Loss of Life and Property. Many Persons Perished.

QUEBEC, Can., Nov. 10.—A snow-storm and gale which in severity has seen few equals even in winter here set in late yesterday afternoon and continued until noon today. It extends over the whole of Quebec and the maritime provinces. Dispatches from Lower Quebec say that two and a half feet of snow has fallen all along the lower St. Lawrence, and that serious fears are entertained that there has been a large loss of life among the fishermen on both shores of the gulf.

A-Inlet, forty-three miles below Quebec, the snow-storm was reported so thick that the light-house at the point could not be seen fifty feet away, and the fog signals could not be heard. A gale of wind was blowing all night and continued Friday morning, the waves washing clear over the island and endangering the structures. At River du Loup and Farther Point it is said that a fleet of vessels are anchored there, among them the Liverpool steamer Sardinian.

At Matane a lumber-laden schooner is ashore and her crew were in the rigging all night. They were rescued badly frozen. Six weeks ago a Norwegian steamer went ashore in the same spot and all her crew were lost except the captain and steward. At Cape Magdalen the Beaver line steamer Lake Ontario, for Liverpool, was reported as passing with two of her boats gone and her crew and passengers on the completely buried steamer. The steamer Polna, attempting to run up the north of the Saginaw, was compelled to put into Trinity Bay, where she dragged her anchors and went ashore on the rocks. The captain is reported drowned. It is known that a number of fishing boats were below Anticosti Tuesday, but none of them have been heard of since. It is impossible that they all can have escaped. The storm was the most furious known on the gulf for many years.

The steamer Montreal left here for Montreal Thursday. Only two passengers are aboard. She has not been heard of since, although the passage usually takes eleven hours. From Rimouski, the last gulf station of the International railway, there comes a story that a fishing smack with three men aboard had been lost.

No names or particulars are given. The steamer was a lower and train are delayed by the snow, and communication with the gulf signal station is practically impossible. The Government light-house tender Napoleon was sent out Thursday afternoon to patrol the coast and succor wrecked or derelict vessels. It is feared that there will be a fearful tale to tell of the loss of life among the fishermen.

LONDON'S FIEND AGAIN. He Kills Another Woman Near the Scene of His Former Crimes.—The Body of His Latest Victim Mutilated in the Most Horribly Shocking Manner.

LONDON, Nov. 10.—The murder fiend has been arrested and is charged with the murder of a woman cut into pieces was discovered in a house on Dorset street, Spitalfields. The police are endeavoring to track the murderer with the aid of bloodhounds. The appearance of the remains was frightful, and the mutilation was even greater than in the previous cases. The head had been severed and placed beneath one of the arms. The ears and nose had been cut off. The body had been disemboweled, and the flesh was torn from the thigh. The womb and other organs were missing. The skin had been torn off the forehead. One hand had been pushed into the stomach.

The victim, like all the others, was a dissolute woman. She was married, and her husband was a porter. They had lived together at spasmodic intervals. Her name is believed to have been Eliza Fisher, but to most of the habits of the house she visited she was known as Mary Jane. She had a room in the house where she was murdered. She carried a latch-key, and no one knows at what hour she entered the house Thursday night, and probably no one saw the man who accompanied her. Therefore it is hardly likely that he will ever be identified. He might easily have left the house at any time between 1 and 6 o'clock this morning without attracting attention. The doctor who has examined the remains refuse to make any statement until the inquest is held. Three bloodhounds belonging to private parties were taken to the place where the body lay and placed on the scent of the murderer, but they were unable to keep it for any great distance, and all hope of running the assassin down with their assistance will have to be abandoned. The remains were mutilated in the most horrible manner. The body of the woman murdered in Whitechapel, in the House of Commons Mr. Conynge, member for Camberne, asked whether, in view of the latest Whitechapel murder, Sir Charles Warren ought not to be superseded as Chief Commissioner of Police and the question to be investigated by the Special Commission. He pointed out that the question must be submitted in writing.

One of the gentlemen remarked to his friend: "I wonder how far he can come and get back?" The stranger replied: "I don't know how far a boat can go, but I will show you how far I can go." Throwing away his half smoked cigar he jumped over the brink and at once passed over the fall. A match after for the body and in about half an hour it was found lying in an eddy just beyond where the falls strike. It was drawn to the shore. The body was badly broken up and had received several severe cuts. Both coat and vest were gone and the trousers were badly torn. There was nothing in the trousers pocket but a red bandana handkerchief.

HARRISON WINS.

Verdict of the People at the Polls on Tuesday.

The Republican Candidate Will Have 330 Votes in the Electoral College—He Carries New York, Indiana and West Virginia—A Republican Majority in the New Congress.

THE RESULT.

The latest returns of Tuesday's election leave no room for doubt that the Republicans have carried the country and that Harrison will succeed Mr. Cleveland in the Presidency. A dispatch from the New York Times (Ind.), which has been referred to throughout the State of New York to the Republicans, admits that Harrison has carried the Empire State, and that Hill (Dem.) is elected Governor, and that there is no doubt of the election of the Republican candidate.

The latest report from Indiana, in addition, says that Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic State Committee, conceded that his State had been carried by Harrison by 3,000 plurality.

Connecticut has closed all doubt with a small plurality for Cleveland—a plurality ample for that purpose—but the Connecticut Governor, who has a majority vote, will not be elected by the Legislature, and the Legislature is Republican.

The result of the National election has not been cleared in effect by late returns, except that the addition of the electoral votes of West Virginia to the Republican column is indicated, the Republicans claiming to have carried the State for Harrison, and have captured the Legislature and to have elected all the Congressmen.

The late returns from the Congressional electors indicate that the Republicans have secured full control of the National Government, increasing their majority in the Senate and establishing a majority in the lower House. The Legislature of Delaware is Republican by 3 on joint ballot, which will result in the election of a Republican United States Senator to succeed Sausbury and in the retirement of Secretary Bayard to private life for a time at least.

If the Republicans of West Virginia have secured the Legislature of that State, as claimed, a Republican successor of Kenna will be chosen.

In the lower House of the present Congress the strength of the parties is: Democrats, 108; Republicans, 153; Independents, 4. The returns so far received indicate, granting doubtful districts to the Democrats, that the lower House of the Fifty-first Congress will stand: Republican majority 166; Democrats, 77. It seems likely that the Republican majority will be increased rather than diminished. Several Congressional districts are very close and it may require an official count to determine who is elected in them.

The net gains of the Republicans are: California, 1; Connecticut, 1; Iowa, 2; Louisiana, 1; Maryland, 1; Michigan, 3; Minnesota, 3; Missouri, 3; Nebraska, 1; New Hampshire, 1; Ohio, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; Tennessee, 1; West Virginia, 1. The Republican losses are: Indiana, 3; Kentucky, 3; New York, 1; North Carolina, 2; Virginia, 3.

If the Republicans of West Virginia have secured the Legislature of that State, as claimed, a Republican successor of Kenna will be chosen.

In the lower House of the present Congress the strength of the parties is: Democrats, 108; Republicans, 153; Independents, 4. The returns so far received indicate, granting doubtful districts to the Democrats, that the lower House of the Fifty-first Congress will stand: Republican majority 166; Democrats, 77. It seems likely that the Republican majority will be increased rather than diminished. Several Congressional districts are very close and it may require an official count to determine who is elected in them.

The net gains of the Republicans are: California, 1; Connecticut, 1; Iowa, 2; Louisiana, 1; Maryland, 1; Michigan, 3; Minnesota, 3; Missouri, 3; Nebraska, 1; New Hampshire, 1; Ohio, 1; Pennsylvania, 1; Tennessee, 1; West Virginia, 1. The Republican losses are: Indiana, 3; Kentucky, 3; New York, 1; North Carolina, 2; Virginia, 3.

HARRISON WINS.

Verdict of the People at the Polls on Tuesday.

The Republican Candidate Will Have 330 Votes in the Electoral College—He Carries New York, Indiana and West Virginia—A Republican Majority in the New Congress.

THE RESULT.

The latest returns of Tuesday's election leave no room for doubt that the Republicans have carried the country and that Harrison will succeed Mr. Cleveland in the Presidency. A dispatch from the New York Times (Ind.), which has been referred to throughout the State of New York to the Republicans, admits that Harrison has carried the Empire State, and that Hill (Dem.) is elected Governor, and that there is no doubt of the election of the Republican candidate.

The latest report from Indiana, in addition, says that Chairman Jewett, of the Democratic State Committee, conceded that his State had been carried by Harrison by 3,000 plurality.

Connecticut has closed all doubt with a small plurality for Cleveland—a plurality ample for that purpose—but the Connecticut Governor, who has a majority vote, will not be elected by the Legislature, and the Legislature is Republican.

The result of the National election has not been cleared in effect by late returns, except that the addition of the electoral votes of West Virginia to the Republican column is indicated, the Republicans claiming to have carried the State for Harrison, and have captured the Legislature and to have elected all the Congressmen.

The late returns from the Congressional electors indicate that the Republicans have secured full control of the National Government, increasing their majority in the Senate and establishing a majority in the lower House. The Legislature of Delaware is Republican by 3 on joint ballot, which will result in the election of a Republican United States Senator to succeed Sausbury and in the retirement of Secretary Bayard to private life for a time at least.

If the Republicans of West Virginia have secured the Legislature of that State, as claimed, a Republican successor of Kenna will be chosen.

Geo. Augustus Sala.

George Augustus Sala, the well-known English writer, on his last Australian trip wrote as follows to The London Daily Telegraph.

"I especially have a pleasant remembrance of the ship's doctor—a very experienced maritime medic indeed, who tended me most kindly during a horrible spell of bronchitis and spasmodic asthma, provoked by the sea fog which had swooped down on us just after we left San Francisco. But the doctor's prescriptions and the increasing warmth of the temperature as we neared the Tropics, and in particular, a couple of ALCOCK'S PAINLESS PLASTERs clapped on—the one on the chest and another between the shoulder blades—soon set me right."

POTATO bread is said to be good and wholesome for everybody, and is especially recommended for dyspeptics. A simple recipe for it is to boil good mealy potatoes, then peel and mash them, and to two parts of wheat flour add one of potatoes and a little more yeast than usual; knead the whole into dough and let stand to rise and ferment before putting into the oven.

Prosperous Northern Settlements in Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. The passenger department of the Illinois Central railroad will issue a new pamphlet about November 1 describing the following prosperous northern settlements in Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana, viz.: Jackson, Tennessee; Holly Springs, West Point, Jackson, Yazoo City, Terry and Brookhaven, Mississippi; Kentwood, Roseland Colony, Hammond, Crowley, Jennings, Lake Arthur, Lake Iow, Lake Charles and Vinton, Louisiana. Hundreds of Northern families are now happily located at these points, and in this new pamphlet will appear interesting letters from Northern men. It will also give the dates of two special Land Excursions south each month, from the principal points on the line of the Illinois Central, in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Dakota. This pamphlet, also, is a "Southern Home-Seeker's Guide," should be read by every person contemplating a southern trip, either for pleasure, health or a permanent home. Copies of each will be mailed free on application to the undersigned, at Manchester, Iowa.
