Day you ever have to buy a new 50 cent washboard, because holes were worn through the zinc on the old one? It so, what wore those holes? Was it not hard rubbing the family clothing got on that old 50 cent washboard? Yet zinc is a metal and will stand a great amount of hard subbing. If the family clothing has been rubbed on that old 50 cent washboard, until holes have been worn in the zinc, what has been the effect on the clothing? Don't you believe that old 50 cent washboard has worn out 25 shirts, and a proportionate quantity of under clothing, Ladies' clothing, pillow cases, able linen, etc. Don't you believe you have paid your storekeeper twenty dollars a year more for dry goods, than would have been necessary if it had not been for that old 50 cent washboard?

Geo. P. Glazier's Loan and Real Estate Agency, Chelsea, Mich.

Farm Me. 1—270 acres, located 2 miles south of Francisco, 6 miles west from Chelsea, 5 miles east of Grass Lake, adjoining Michael Schenk's farm on the south, known as the Wales Riggs farm. One of the best soil farms in Michigan. There is a com fortable frame house, a large frame barn 114 feet long, 2 small barns, 2 good wells of water, wind mill, corn house, hennery and tool house, orchard and a fine vine-yard of one acre. 180 acres of land fit for the plow, besides ample woodland. In all it is one of the best grain and stock farms in Michigan to make money from.

Farm No. 38.—Consisting of four seperate 40 acre tracts of Beech and Maple timber land, in Cheboggan county, Michigan, near Sturgeon River. Price $12.50 per acre. The owner will accept in part payment, good property in southern Michigan. A good chance to trade for desirable farm land.

THAT OLD 50 CENT VASHBOARD.

That old 50 Cent vashboard.

The northwest corner of this farm is the highest, gently sloping to southeast, protecting wheat from winter winds. It has a fine young orchard of grafted fruit just coming into bearing. The buildings are unusually good, consisting of a frame dwelling house, upright and wing each 18x26, two stories, kitchen 15x18, wood shed 15x20. A fine basement barn 36x80 with gambrel roof, built in 1885, also hog house and kettle room, corn crib, carriage house and kettle room, corn crib, carriage house and workshop attached, hen house 16x20, tool shed, and 2 good wells. Sandy loam about buildings but most of farm is a clay loam and is a superior grain and stock farm in excellent condition: The owner was offered four years ago, $70 per acre, but will now sell at a sacrifice that he may remove to California. Price, $60 per acre.

Farm No 6—160 acres, 81/2 miles N. W. of Chelsea, 31/2 miles from Gregory, 2 miles from Unadilla, 4 churches within 2 miles from Unadilla, 4 churches within 3 miles, on good road, excellent neighborhood, soil mostly sandy loam, remainder clay, surface level as desirable. 100 acres of plow land, producing excellent crops; 35 acres of good white oak, hickory and walnut timber; 25 acres of good mowing marsh, with good living stream of water through it; 3 acres of orchard; 2 good frame dwellings, a frame stock and hay barn, a grain barn and 3 good wells of water. This farm is nicely arranged to divide into 3 farms. Ill health is the cause of owner selling. Price $50 per acre.

So you may pay your subscription in produce, such as chickens, eggs, butter, pork, potatoes, cottonseed, stove wood, possums, etc., and you need not be bashful about bringing it in."

AT Bridgeport, Conn., while a groom was swearing to his best man the other day about the tardiness of his bride in coming to the wedding, she appeared and overheard the remark, but saying nothing turned with him to the altar, and when the clergyman asked if she would love, cherish and obey, answered: "Not by a long shot," and marched out of the church.

JAMES TROKE, an aged native of Letange, N. B., adopted a novel method to put an end to his life. He built a rough wooden coffin in the woods about two miles from his home, and then dug a grave and placed the coffin in it. The lid of the coffin rested on a stick, to which was attached a string. This was so arranged that Troke could get in the coffin and close the lid, thus ending his days by suffocation.

THE queer will of Commodore John Perceval, in which he left his fortune of $22,000 to charitable institutions. without naming them, or the way he wanted it divided, is making lots of trouble for the courts of Massachusetts. Nearly every charitable institution in the State wants a slice, and the judges are trying to make a fair division and have enough to go around.

GENERAL HARRISON has two brothers living. One, Captain Carter B. Harrison, lives at Murfreesboro, Tenn., on a large cotton plantation. His family consists of wife, two sons and a daughter. One of the sons is married, and is an employe of Armour Bros.' banking house in Kansas City. The other brother, John Scott Harrison, is a prominent lawyer in Kansas City. He married Sophia Lyttle, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., and has three sons and one daughter.

SPAIN is heard from once more, and the news is very characteristic. On the arrival of Minister Canovas at Madrid from Seville a few days ago he was received with open arms by a mob, which by means of hooting and the throwing of stones expressed its peculiar regard for him. The windows of his carriage were smashed, and his wife was somewhat injured by a flying missile. It is in such ways asthis that Spain shows how far it lags behind the rest of the world in the great march.

It's pretty tough if a man doesn't know his own name, but Charles A. Ope Hundred Settlers of Des Moines Lands Served with Write on Wednes-

MASON CITY, In., Nov. 22. - One hundred Mason City, Ia., Nov. 22.—One hundred additional writs of ejectment were served Wednesday on settlers on the Des Moines lands. No trouble resulted. The settlers are driven out of their houses, their furniture piled up in the road, and the doors and windows barred against them. The settlers around Lehigh have formed a more than ever apparent at the morn-ing session Tuesday that Powderly's is the master mind. As has been published, Mr. Powderly has stated his willingness to union, with R. S. Böynton as their president. It is expected that this union will ssue a circular to-day outlining their

[The lands in question comprise the sections within five miles of the Des Moines river, from the Raccoon forks to its source. The lands were granted to lown by Congress in 1846 for the improvement of navigation in the Des Moines river from its month to the Raccoon forks. In 1854 the State contracted with the Des Moines Navigation & Ra Iway Company years later a large amount of land, including that over which the present controversy is being held, was granted by the State to the nav gation company to aid it in performing the work which it never carried out. In 1850 the United States Supreme Court held that the grant did not include the lands north of the Raccoon river, and they were thrown open to sections. The lands were withdrawn again, however, before final proofs could be made by homesteaders. In 1862 Congress entered the grant so as to cover the land in discute, but it was alleged that, as the navigation company had failed to fulfill the contract, they had forfeited their claim to the lands of the State; and at the last General Assembly an act was passed reconveying to the United States all right of the Sta e in these lands, the object being to allow the National Government full opportunity to do justice in the case. For years the company has made no determined efforts at evictions on a large scale, fear ng dangerous resistance from the determined settlers, but now it seems that purchasers, homesteaders and squatters alike must yield to the demand of the company.]

POWDERLY'S TRIUMPI'

The Enights of Labor Convention America Its Const tution So as to Embody His Ideas Concerning the Relection of an Executive Hourd. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 21.—It was inue in office under certain couditions. The report of the Committee on Law, which was submitted, was exactly in accordance with the conditions expressed by Mr. Powderly. Section 15 of article 8 of the constitution was amended to provide that the elective officers shall a General Master Workman, General Worthy Foreman, General Secretary Treasurer, General Director of Woman's Work. The General Executive Board shall consist of four members besides the General Master Workman and the General Co-operative Board shall consist of two members besides the Grand Worthy Foreman. All except the General Executive Board and General Co-operative a General Master Workman, Gener-Executive Board and General Co-operative Board shall be taken from the floor of the General Assembly, and when elect-ed shall serve two years. This is a reduction of two members in each board be-sides a union of the offices of Secretary and Treasurer, and is that much of a saving in expenses. In section 16 of article 3, however, Mr. Powderly's influence most appears. That article, hereafter, w.ll provide that the General Master Workman shall be chairman ex-officio of the General Executive Board, and shall as soon as practicable submit to the General Assembly the names of eight persons, eligible under the constitution, from which the General Assembly shall select four members. The section further provides that the General Worthy Foreman shall be exofficio chairman of the General Co-operative Board and that he shall submit to the General Assembly four names from which they shall elect two who will constitute that board. When these amendments were propose there was earnest contention as to their advisability. To the consolidation of the office of the secretary with the office of treasurer there was general assent. As an economic measure it is deemed a necessity, but to the other propositions there was formidable opposition on the ground that they tended to one-man autocracy. In behalf of Powderly the plea was entered that no general master workman could accomplish the best results unless the Executive Board be in harmony with him and personally acceptable to him. Lichtman defended the amenament as necessary and, therfore, highly de sirable. A two-thirds majority is required to adopt amendments. When the vote was taken the master workman counted 95 affirmative and then stopped. That was more than enough. The amendments were easily carried, and Powderly con-tinued master of the situation. The work of the morning session progressed so well that the same line was aken up in the afternoon. The report of the committee being resumed, section 22 of the constitution was so changed that the filling of all vacancies was placed in the hands of the master workman, and this official was relieved from the duty of countersigning orders and vouchers, a thing of which he complained in his address. Another change in the fundamental order, suggested for the purpose of pacifying the opposition, was an amendment in effect that the seat of any general officer may be declared vacant by a majority of the General Assembly in regular session. All of Powderly's decisions since the Minneapolis and increased difficulties in the enforcem tion to set aside $80,000 for co-operative purposes, and the report was adouted. Support was formally withdrawn from the Industrial News, of Toledo, the committee reporting that it was no longer a co-operative paper. Just before adjournment the committee reported that the mileage due to members aggregated $7,593. Now that every thing is going Powderly's way, there is no talk of any other candidates for the office of master workman, and he will certainly be re-elected. Candidates for other positions are making a vigorous canvas and a good deal of interest s manifested. Turner, the present treasurer, and Hayes, secretary, are candipopular man, was a candidate for the secretaryship, but he is understood to be out of the race. His following was perhaps larger than that of any other candidate. Friends of Hayes claim something of an advantage for him in the race. Richard Griffiths, of is a candidate for re-election. For General Executive Board it is believed that Powderly will nominate among others the following: - Ira B. Aylesworth, Tom O'Reilly, Frank Turner, John W. Hayes, T. B. McGuire, of New York; Robert R.

Elliott, or some other Canadian. HOT SHOT FROM BARRY. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 21 .- Late Monday night T. P. Barry furnished a long screed to the press charging the Powderly administration of the Knights of Labor with spying upon the actions of all delegates suspected of opposing Mr. Powderly, Tuesday Mr. Barry issued a formal open letter to delegates, in which he charges them with having denied him a fair trial and an opportunity to be heard in his own defense, in violation of all law of knight bood and justice.

Mr. Barry then makes numerous charges which he declares his ability to prove. Among them are the following: That Powderly and Payes have paid large sums to persons who lave never rendered service therefor; that non-union men have been employed in the genmoved to make room for them; that clerks in the general offices who would not bow to the administration have been dacharged on trumped-up charges; that the charges of District Assembly 74, East Sag-inaw, Mich., was recalled because of its support of him (Barry); that the policy of the general officers has been to destroy small districts and to concentrate the power into State assemblies; that a de mand for an itemized account of the expendi ture of $495,000 of "poverty's money" was denied a general officer; that the Journal of United Labor had been used to destroy the character of a man and a district; that no em ployer was ever more cruel in seeking to viclimize those who differed with them in opini than were the general officers; that charge published against him (Barry) in the Journal of United Lobor were positively untrue.

Annual Report of Commissioner Miller— The Seccipts Greater by Over $5,000,000 Than Those of 1887—Opposition to Re-moving the Tax on Fruit Brandy—Olec-inarger: 9.

WASHINGTON. Nov. 26.—The annual report of Joseph S. Miller, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, has been given to the press. The report covers not only the operations of the bureau durier the fiscal year ended June 30, 1888, but includes some very interesting comparative tables relating to production in past years, as well as additional information relating to the work of the office during the first number of the current fiscal year.

uarter of the current fiscal year.
Mr. Miller's report so wa that internal refiscal year were $124,326,175, or nearly $4,500.0 H more than his estimate. His estimate of receipts for the current year is $123,000,000, providing that no changes are made in existing fates of taxation. The cost of collection during the past year aggregated $3,978,283, being less than $2.10 per cent, of the amount colless than 3 2-10 per cent, of the amount col-lected, against 8 4-10 per cent, in 1887. The estimated expenses of the service for the next fiscal year are put down at 84,135,280. Of the total revenue recepts lilinois paid over $30,0 0,000, or about 30 per cent. The collections of the Fifth (Peoria) district were $18,-388,240, which were larger than those of any other's ngle district: that of Cincinnati standing next with $10,202,0.0. The city of Chicago comes closely after Cincinnati with 49,463,831

New York comes second in the list of States with $15,00,000; Kentucky third, $14,000,000, and Ohio fourth, with $12,000,000, and it may be and Ohio fourth, with $12,000,000, and it may be so d that while 1.074 violations of the internal revenue laws were reported by spacial agents and $12 persons were arrested not ofthe of these violations or arrests occurred within the State of Illinois, and, according to the reports of the Commissioner, no frauds occurred there. It is notable that there was a decrease of $7.55 till standards of the commissioner of $7.55 till standards. decrease of 7,552,168 gallons of spirits product during the year, 9,551,425 gallons less of bot bon whisky, 1,443,959 less of rye whisky at 1,891,487 gallons less of h gh wines. It is an interesting fact that in the prohib ton State of Iowa there are 6 beensed recit flers, 2,928 licensed retail liquor dealers and 36 licensed wholesale dealers. In the probit tion State of Kansas there is 1 rectifier, 1,271 retail 1 quor dealers, 8 wholesale dealers and 8 manufacturers of stills. During the last year no one has been licensed to manufacture or sell liquor in the State of Maine, and there is no other State in the list of which the

In reference to the proposition to repeal th tax on fruit brandles, distilled from any kind of fruit, Comm ssioner Miller says: "It as pears probable that the relief of this artici from taxation would lead to the utilization of a large number of different fruits for the distillation of spirits, and to production of an additional volume of suc spirits, which might reasonably be expected to have an appreciable effect upon the tax-paid grain and molasses spirits with which it would come into competit on. Under the present law wh ch practically confines the brandy produ to the use of apples, peaches or grapes, ar despite the endeavor to exercise as close supervision as it has been found practicable apply to a business carried on by so many it div duals and scattered over so large an area it is supposed that a considerable percentag of the product escapes tax; and this amount i the subject of complaint from the distillers o wh skies, who declare that it is perceptibly felt in some places." The Commissioner believes that if in addition to the fraudulent quantity the whole leg timate product of fruit brandy should be put upon the market tax free, and this should again be swollen by the unrestricted use not only of apples, peaches and grapes, but of any and all other fruits, under the inducement offered of competition with whisky and rum loaded with a tax of 93 cents a gallon, the grievance to the whisky producers would prove not to be an imaginary one So the reduction in the revenue by the abolit on of the tax upon fruit brandy is not to be measured by the subtraction of the present collections from that source. A considerably larger amount would, in all probability, be lost, while mischief to the revenue service tee reported adversely upon the proposi- all proportion to the amount of tax surrendered, might be seriously apprehended. During the past year tobacco and its manufactures yielded $80,662,481, against $80,108,067 during the preceding year; spirits, $69,306,106, against $65,829,321 in 1887, and fermented liquors $23,324,218 last year, against $21,922,187 the year before. The revenue from oleomarger ine during the past year amounted to $9,864,139 and for the eight months in 1886 and 1887. when the tax was first put on, it aggregated

Speaking of the operations of the Oleomarge rine law, the Commissioner shows that the total quantity manufactured during the ten months since the law went into effect was 56,0.0,154 pounds, all of which was consumed in this country except 2,. 503,000 pounds, which was exported dates for the combined office, Robert D. destroyed by fire. In April, 1886, Layton, formerly general secretary and a there were 33 manufacturers, 236 wholesale dealers and 3,929 retail dealers, making a total of 4,197 holding licenses. Since that date this total has been reduced to 3,462, of whom 29 are manufacturers, 184 wholesale dealers and 8,279 retail dealers. The Commission er attributes the falling off to the fact that manufacturers are now dealing direct with consumers and to the prohibitory Chicago, is general worthy foreman, and laws in several States which have driven out the manufacturers and dealers. He intimates, however, that this decrease may be partially due to fraud, and says it is a subject of great solicitude in the department. The report says: "The statement as to the production and use of cleo ol shows that more than 27,000,000 pounds out of a total product of 68,000,000 pounds of this substance, invented solely for ase in the manufacture of a butter stitute, was neither exported used in the manufacture of eleomargarine. The question as to what actually becomes of this material will never be satisfactorily answered until the manufacturer thereof are compelled to account for it with the same particularity as they are required to account for the article subject to tax, and I renew the recommendations on this subject made in my last annual report. It is doubtless used in the manufacture of some food prod uct, such, for instance, as cheese. It can not e economically used as a lubricant, in the face of the fact that its market price is nearly double the price of tallow. The examination in laboratories of articles sold asb utter but suspected of being oleomarger.ne have been found inapequate to meet the demands of a service covering a territory whose area is 8,611,849 square miles."

The Commissioner's tables show that of total of 56,000,000 pounds of eleomargarine manufactured during the last year 29,000,00 pounds were produced in the city of Chicago and that the State of Connecticut comes se ond with 0,000,000 pounds. The receipts from the taxation of eleomargarine during the fleen year ending June 80, 1888, were $864,189, which $653,835 came from the taxation of cents a pound.

She had a weakness for lace, and in the childishness of age might easily have been extravagant in gratifying her tastes had she the oppor-tunity. "But I never expect to have them new this side o' Heaven."

"La, Mandy, how you do talk," and Miss Serena shook her head reprovingly, "as if the Lord would spend His time making lace curtains, or as if there is any thing real in them."

Well, and why shouldn't there be Serena Buell? Isn't this world just full of peer folks, who have never had the chance to use the sparkling diamonds or the glit tering gold, and all the beautiful things He has furnished material for and given people the understanding to make; and why shouldn't they have their chance after their hard work and their pinching and scrimping is constituted. scrimping is over?"

Miss Serena starod at her sister in mazement, the idea was so entirely novel hat she had no words in which to combat teven if she had the desire. Her eyes fell after a moment, and she meekly raised a stick of wood and added it to the wan-

"He'l never have run away as he did.

But father could never see that he could in do any thing but farm and Gustus did hate farming," interrupted Miss Mandy. She was the close of the two, and Gustus had been almost like a son as well as a petted brother. Fifteen years her junior, she had curled his infantile ringlets and buttoned his rina' row with method to dispute the between him and his stern father, who between him and his stern father, who would not see that the slender lad was good for any thing, since he had neither to their welfare so long. His sisters in strength or ability to carry on the great farm from which Jonathan Buell had coined a large portion of his wealth. Finally the lad ran away, and when the old man died his will was made so as to cut off the son with a paitry handful of his father's wealth, the whole of the large remainder going to the sisters. This would not have been so bad, for justice could still have been done, had they been given the have been done had they been given the control of their own; but fearing that they would share with their brother, he had appointed Russell Osborne sole trustee of the estate in trust for the sisters, givwhile they could only command the inter-

This would have been ample for all their needs, lace curtains and a trip to Europe included, had they chosen to use it, but the saving instinct of the Buells was strong in them, and they were economical, leaving all the more margin for Russell Caborne's scheming, and one fine merning. Osborne's scheming, and one fine morning they awoke to the sore knowledge that he and his bondsman had failed, and that the Buell property had gone with the rest.

The Osbornes lived more lavishly than before, but the property was in the wife's name, where the law could not touch it, and the Buell girls grew old and faded under the sense of their wrongs, and eked out an uncertain living upon a small village property which had been spared from the general wreck, it having belonged to their mother and not included in the will property. What had ever possessed Jonathan Buell to place such an unlimited trust in the hands of such a man as Russell Osborne is still a mystery; but in his unfortunate spite toward his son he had, as the saying goes, bitten his own nose off, and given his wealth to enrich one who had no right to it, and deprived his own family of even a decent living from the proceeds of his life of toll, and if the sleek and venerable Mr. Osborne was not haunted by his accusing spirit, he certainly deserved so hungry last night that I dreamed about

A merry evening was spent by the young reople in planning for the coming journey, but Mr. and Mrs. Buell talked over the matter with grave faces. Electa had been the heavy of the families and had been the beauty of the family, and, in one sense, his favorite sister, though Amanda occupied more of a mother's place to him after his own mother's death, and the thought that she would be missing from the family circle was a sad one, as well as the fear that she had died in privation and poverty, when, had he known of their loss of fortune, he would possession of the estate, a part of which he considered telonged to himself, he had

John E. Turner, who fied recently from Lansing, is a big, blonde Englishman, with a cheek of brass and a checkered career. He arrived in this country from England six years ago, leaving two wives with families. He went South and married, deserting No. 3 before the honeymoon was fairly over. No. 4 shared his bed and board for a brief time, when he wearied of her, and in due course of events an Illinois lady submitted to his marital embraces. When he came to Michigan No. 5 was left in peaceable possess on of the field. While in Lansing he followed the occupation of builder and contractor, and was a fairly good mechanic.

Meeting of a Detective Association. The Michigan State and Northern Indiana Detective Association met at Kalamazoo the other afternoon. There was a large attendance. The association has twenty-five hundred members and is in a flourishing condition. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, H. D. Pessell, Quincy, Mich.; Vice-President, G. W. Hunt, Kendallville, Ind.; Treasurer and Secretary, H. Dale Adams, Galesburg, Mich.; Executive Committee, J. H. Gardner, Centerville, Mich.; B. T. Morgan, Battle Creek, Mich.; William Cox, Plainweil, Mich.

Formed a Flour Trust.

The State Millers' Association met at Grand Rapids the other day and decided to organize a flour trust. Five members were to be appointed by the Executive Committee to fix the prices of regular standard and clear grades of flour and the associa tion was to maintain these prices under penalty. It was decided to reduce the production fifty per cent from now until the 1st of January.

A Year's Work Done in Ten Days.

From the Chaplain of Exeter College, and Houghton Syriac Prizeman, Oxford.

Coll. Exon. Oxon. Sept. 1888.

Dear Sir:—in April, 1885, while thinking of taking orders in September. I suddenly received notice that my ordination examination would be held in a fortnight. I had only ten (10) days in which to prepare for the Exam. I should recommend a year's preparation in the case of anyone so utterly unp epared as I was; but your System had so strengthened my natural memory, that I was able to remember and give the gist of any book aft reneing it once. I therefore read Lightfoot, Proctor, Harold Browne, Mosheim, &c., &c., once, and was successful in every one of the nine papers. The present Bishop of Edinburg knows the facts. Faithfully yours. [Rev.] James Middleton Macdonald, [M.A.] To Prof. A. Lois the 257 Fifth Ave. N. Y. Perficely taught by correspondence. Send for prospectus.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoo. Mr. Epps har provided our break ast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by leeping ourselves well fortined with pure blood and a properly nourished frame," "Civil Service Gazette."
