

10 DAYS 10

MORE TO BUY

CLOAKS 1-2 OFF!

Clothing 1-3 Off.

BOOTS & SHOES,

DRY GOODS

CAPS AND MITTENS

AT GREATLY

REDUCED

PRICES.

Don't Miss the Next Few Days.

KEMPFF & SCHENK.

E. G. HOAG.

During January we shall sell Lamps very cheap. Library Lamps from $2.00 to $15.00. Vase Lamps, beautiful goods, including Rochester Lamps, from $3.00 to $7.00. Stand Lamps, Hand Lamps, Side Lamps, Night Lamps, Kitchen Lamps, Bracket Lamps, Founts, Shades, Globes, Burners, Wicks, Illuminators, Reflectors, Lanterns, (three styles) Lantern Reflectors, Dark Lanterns, everything pertaining to the Lamp trade we have in stock, and in too large quantities for this season of the year. We shall make it very interesting for parties who will see us this month on Lamp Goods.

E. G. HOAG.

CHELSEA ROLLER MILLS.

MARKET REPORT.

Roller Patent, per hundred,	$2.80
Housekeepers Delight, per hundred,	2.40
Superior, per hundred,	1.75
Buckwheat Flour, per hundred,	3.25
Corn Meal, bolted, per hundred,	1.50
Corn Meal, coarse, per hundred,	1.10
Feed, corn and oats, per ton,	18.00
Bran, per ton,	15.00

Corrected weekly by COOPER & WOOD.

BLAICH BROS.,

FINE GROCERS.

Teas, Coffee & Spices a Specialty.

Also, constantly on hand, Fresh Vegetable and Fruits of all kinds. Try a pound of the Best 50 cent Tea sold. We roast all our own Coffees, so they are always fresh and nice. Call and see us. Respectfully,

BLAICH BROS.

Here and There.

Saline is to have a dancing school.
J. L. Gilbert was in Lansing last week.
Frank Ellsworth's youngest girl is very sick.

Mr. L. Wood spent Sunday with his family.

Geo. Blaich is having the front of his store painted.

Mrs. C. O'Brien is slowly recovering from the pneumonia.

Nearly time for the ground hog, and no winter yet—to speak of.

20 per cent or one-fifth off on any heating stove in Hoag's store.

New Jersey farmers were plowing the first week of the new year.

Mr. L. Conkright and family moved back to Chelsea last week.

The furniture factory at South Lyon is sending out some fine samples.

Christian Weidman hung himself in the Ann Arbor jail last Thursday.

The first person mentioned in history who turned over a new leaf was Eve.

The "nine" that will be the hardest to knock out this year will be the 9 in 1889.

This weather is said to be bad for the shoe trade. Drop a tear for the ice men, too.

Remember Harkins & Granger's big entertainment at the town hall, Jan. 23th, 1889.

Mrs. Wm. Martin and daughter, Carrie, and Mrs. J. Gorman were in Detroit last Thursday.

An Alabama negro who took his first ride on a railroad train last week died from fright.

Detroit is jubilant over the prospect that the government will give the city an appropriation of $1,500,000.

The little baby of the Emperor of Germany is fed on army biscuits, and gunpowder is employed in its bath.

Chicago lard is composed principally of cotton seed oil, stearine and tallow, with a small proportion of genuine lard.

The boom company and the water power company at Big Rapids are engaging in a fight to see which owns the Muskegon river.

You can not lawfully kill any partridge, ruffed grouse, woodcock, duck, goose, or any other wild game bird from now to Sept. 1st.

James Riley, living near Dexter, received $700.00 from the German insurance company, of Illinois, last week, to cover his loss by fire last fall.

It is said that since his defeat for re-election Mr. Cleveland is being neglected by the politicians and feels lonesome. The setting sun has no worshippers.

A Lansing minister is organizing praying bands, and says: "We are going to shake Lansing this winter with the mighty power of prayer." Well, Lansing needs it.

A tame crow belonging to a farmer near Ridgeway, Ont., has been taught to distinguish colors, and will pick out from a pile of articles of various colors one of any color asked for.

Married, at the home of the brides parents in Lyndon, by the Rev. T. Robinson, on Wednesday, Jan. 18th, 1889, Mr. Harvey S. Barton to Miss Lillie Sellers, both of Lyndon.

Last year our importations from Japan, including raw silk, teas, fans, handkerchiefs, bamboo, and the like, amounted to nearly $16,000,000; more than was brought in by any other nation.

Harkins & Granger's Specialty Co., will appear at the Town Hall, Chelsea, Jan. 23, 1889. They will give a first-class specialty entertainment, new songs, new music, exquisite toilets and graceful dancing. Don't fail to see them.

Slavery times were recalled in Wilmington, N. C., the other day, when two darkies got into a loud dispute almost came to blows, quarrelling in regard to the social standing and personal accomplishments of the men that owned them before the war.

About 100 members of Gen. Harrison's old regiment—70th Indiana—will meet him at the Willard hotel door March 4th, and, as his guard of honor, will remain immediately about him till after his inauguration. Their "uniform" will be light brown overcoats, with Derby hats to match.

A dangerous $3 counterfeit is in circulation. If you are lucky enough to have one offered you, look out for it. It is the department series of 1888, and it can be detected by the fact that in the cut of Gen. Grant, the engraving of the right lapel of his coat is rough, studs are missing from his shirt bosom, and a small white mark is in the right hand corner of his mouth which does not belong there.

An interesting relic was received recently at the Navy Department in Washington. It was a section, about three feet in length, of one of the timbers of the San Pablo, one of the ships which composed the famous Spanish Armada, which sailed to conquer England 350 years ago.

The San Pablo was one of the ships which escaped. She was afterward renamed Naylor Soberano, and after several cruises was wrecked on the coast near Santiago de Cuba, where the bulk now lies buried in the mud.

Chas. Wunder is some better.

Ypsilanti wants a free mail delivery.

20 boxes matches for 25¢ at Glazier's.

Tinware at rock bottom prices at Hoag's.

Miss Ella Freer went to Jackson last week.

South Australia is becoming a wine-producing country.

Dr. Gates is somewhat better and will be about again soon.

The recent great storm caused a loss of $2,000,000 in Canada.

Mable Buchanan fell and broke her collar bone last Saturday.

There are nine saloons in Manchester now paying the state tax.

The lumber and log dealers have had sledding so far this winter.

The citizens of Stockbridge are talking of incorporating that place.

Mrs. L. Babcock spent Sunday with Mrs. Dr. Shaw at Ypsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Durand, of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday in town.

25 per cent or one-quarter off on any hanging lamp in Hoag's store.

Rather quiet in town these days; but watch for the boom when spring opens.

Mrs. Geo. Davidson is in Steubenville, Ohio, with Geo. Patterson who is very ill.

The Sun says that over 420 carloads of lumber were shipped from Stockbridge in 1888.

Clarence Maroney and sister, Nell, are spending a short time with relatives at Holly.

It is said that farmers are being troubled with dry wells in different parts of the county.

Luther Lord, of Ithaca, Mich., was in town last week visiting friends, and made the HERALD a pleasant call also.

Rutherford B. Hayes will be the guest of Senator Sherman during the inaugural ceremonies at Washington in March.

Mr. S. Drury, of Gladwin, Mich., wishes to return thanks to his Chelsea friends who so kindly assisted him in buying a horse.

Married, Jan. 17th, 1889, Mr. Milo A. Shaver, of Chelsea, to Miss Clara Whipple, of Lima, the Rev. J. Edward Riley officiating.

There will be a dance at the town hall Friday night immediately after the show. Music furnished by the Chequamegon Orchestra of Ann Arbor.

Jackson wants the state fair and will guarantee the society against loss if it is held there. The society will receive bids for temporary and permanent location.

Dr. Palmer, Health Officer of Chelsea, wishes everyone who has not been vaccinated recently to be vaccinated immediately, as we have have several cases of small pox near us.

Uncle Sam's Condition Powders will cure Distempers, Coughs, Colds, Fevers and most of the diseases to which Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, and poultry are subject. Sold by all druggists.

The Times says it is the custom in Philadelphia to send young ladies to dancing-school up to seventeen or eighteen years of age, and then turn them loose into society to learn how to talk.

Hippolyte, the leader of the insurgents of Hayti, defeated the army of Legitimé. In scripture phrase he smote them hip and thigh. Dividing the name of the President into three sections, we find Hip's message to Leg to quit the island thus: Leg-Git-Time.

Thirty-five years ago Geo. M. Woodruff, of Litchfield, Conn., cut his initials on the limb of an apple tree. They disappeared in time, but when the tree was cut down and split into fire-wood not long ago, the initials were found four inches from the surface perfectly distinct.

A Republican County Convention to elect twenty-one delegates to the Republican State Convention to be held at the Detroit Hotel, Detroit, Mich., on Thursday February 21, 1889, at 12 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating one Justice of the Supreme Court, and two Regents of the State University, will be held at the Court House in the city of Ann Arbor, on Wednesday, Feb. 13, 1889, at 11 o'clock a. m.

Friends, please don't try to perpetuate the memory of your "loved and lost," in attempts at rhyme to the public through newspapers. The immortal part of the loved one still lives and does not live to be treated in that way. If it could speak to you audibly the prayer would be to be spared the infliction of just about 1,999,999 out of 2,000,000 people who attempt obituary poetry. O, it's tough, horrible, execrable to treat the immortal soul thus. Don't, please don't do it.

What a very pleasant winter Mrs. Cleveland may have this year with all the power and all the opportunities of other years, and none of the responsibility. For the first time she may do what she pleases without dreading its effect on her husband's future. Probably what will please her will be kindness and graciousness; but she might be the direct reverse if she liked, and yet do no harm. On the other hand, the wives of all the officeholders except the justices will be in tribulation lest, in an unguarded moment they may do or say something fraught with evil consequences for their husbands.

ONLY
8 DAYS
—MORE—IN WHICH YOU CAN BUY CLOTHING AT ONE-QUARTER OFF.Be sure and secure a suit or an overcoat before the 3rd of February.Our sales in every Department have been very satisfactory, but we want to make these the 8 largest days of our sale.

DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT.

Everything goes at closing prices for 8 days more.

GROCERY DEPARTMENT.

Our prices for the next 8 days.

13 lbs. granulated sugar, $1.00

30 cent coffee, 22¢

12¢ raisins, 10¢

Yeast cakes, 5¢

Saleratus, 5¢

Other goods in proportion.

OUR CARPET ROOM

In basement is full with a well selected stock of carpets, curtains etc. Don't fail to visit it this week.

IN OUR CLOAK DEPARTMENT

On second floor we are still selling Newmarkets at half price.

TERMS: CASH OR PRODUCE.

Remember money is money and we will save you money if you will spend your money with us during the next 8 days. Come and secure the bargains.

Yours Respectfully,

H. S. HOLMES & CO.

500 PAIR

Of Shoes for Men, Women and Children, that must be sold in the month of January. All new goods, and will go at a reduction of 1-4 to 1-3 Off.

B. PARKER.

BOOT AND SHOE DEALER.

TO THE PUBLIC!

We have had a great sale on Overcoats, in fact on Everything our sales are

Way Ahead of Last Year

And we propose to make January and February Sales larger than ever before. They are the closing months of our fiscal year and we Propose to Make Them Boomers!

On our Overcoats (which we have been selling at from $2 to $10 less than all Competitors) we propose to make

A Still Greater Cut!

We have just received a large shipment of Men's and Youths' Suits which we bought at our own price. We will dispose of them at less than other dealers can buy them.We have put the knife into our Underwear. Some are marked at 1-2 the former price.

The finest line of Mufflers in the city to be closed out at 1-4 off.

J. T. JACOBS & CO.,

One-Price Clothiers

Jan. 24, 1889. 27 & 29 Main St., Ann Arbor, Mich.

AUCTIONEER.

GEO. E. DAVIS,

Chelsea, Mich.

Orders by telephone or otherwise from any part of the state promptly filled.Terms reasonable. Office in W. J.
Knapp's Hardware. v1889?

CITY BARBER SHOP.

FRANK SHAVER.

Two doors west of W. J. Knapp's hardware store. Work done quickly and in first-class style.

BOOT & SHOE DEPARTMENT.

LARGEST STOCK
ever
IN CHELSEA.

Secure bargains for the next 8 days.

IN OUR TAILORING DEPARTMENT

On second floor Mr. Raftery will be pleased to show you our elegant line of suitings, and will make you greatly reduced prices for 8 days more.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

Remember only 8 days left now in which to buy your clothing at 1-4 Off.

F. P. GLAZIER.

Chelsea Savings Bank.

Copy of Report, Monday, Jan. 7, 1889, of condition of Chelsea Savings Bank, Chelsea, Michigan, as made to State Bank Commissioner;

LIABILITIES.

Capital paid in, $50,000.00

Surplus Funds, 6,132.21

Earnings from Jan. 1, '89 68.38

Due Depositor, 140,569.63

Total, 196,770.22

RESOURCES.

Bonds, Mortgages and other loans, $162,485.20

Over drafts, 324.43

Furniture and fixtures, 1,004.96

Expenses, 123.50

Cash on hand and in banks, 33,232.13

Total, 196,770.22

I do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

GEO. P. GLAZIER, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this Seventh day of January, 1889. THEO. E. WOOD,

Notary Public.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE BY

Geo. P. Glazier's Loan and Real Estate Agency, Chelsea, Mich.Farm No. 1.—270 acres, located 2 miles south of Franciscus, 6 miles west from Chelsea, 5 miles east of Grass Lake, adjoining Michael Schenk's farm on the south, known as the Wales Riggs farm. One of the best soil farms in Michigan. There is a comfortable frame house, a large frame barn 114 feet long, 2 small barns, 2 good wells of water, wind mill, corn house, henery and tool house, orchard and a fine view-yard of one acre. 180 acres of land fit for the plow, besides ample woodland. In all it is one of the best grain and stock farms in Michigan to make money from.Farm No. 15.—108 68-100 acres, situated 3 miles from Chelsea, near school, on good road, and in an excellent neighborhood of Eastern people. There is a frame dwelling house of 20 rooms (large and small), a frame barn 28x36, also a stock barn 100 feet long, wagon house 20x30, brick smoke house and fruit dryer, 2 good wells of excellent water, medium sized orchard, 90 acres of plow land, remainder good timber land. No waste land whatever. This is a superior located farm, under high state of cultivation; The owner desires to retire from active work and will sell for $85 per acre.Farm No. 38.—Consisting of four separate 40 acre tracts of Beech and Maple timber land, in Cheboygan county, Michigan, near Sturgeon River. Price $12.50 per acre. The owner will accept in part payment, good property in southern Michigan. A good chance to trade for desirable farm land.The Chelsea Savings Bank in its quarterly statement published above, makes a very gratifying exhibit of its condition
Jan. 7th, 1889. The deposits are $140, 569.63. The law requires it to have in cash, of that amount of deposits, $21, 085.44. It had on hand one-half more than required, viz: $33,232.13. The law requires that $79,559.03 of the remainder shall be invested in U. S. Bonds and certain grades of municipal and real estate securities. The bank possesses of such securities $107,459.53 the remainder of its $142,485.20 loans being in approved bonds and notes.

Dr. Frank Buckley,

Dentist,

Will be in Chelsea Friday and Saturday of each week from 8 a. m. to 5.30 p. m. Office with Dr. Palmer over Glazier's drug store. n32

FIRE! FIRE!!

If you want insurance call on Gilbert & Crowell. We represent companies whose gross assets amount to the sum of $45,000,000.

(THE KINGS.)
It is believed the souls of ancestors at long last have found their way to the other side of the great divide.
The late Duke of Burgundy, who died in the month of June, has been seen by his subjects in the other world, and he is now reigning over them as a king.

His subjects are now in a state of great excitement, and they are all waiting for the Duke to appear. They are all saying that he is a great king, and that he is a very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

They are all saying
that he is a great king,
and that he is a very
good king. They are all
saying that he is a great
king, and that he is a
very good king.

"And did he give no explanation of this great difference?"

"None."

"Humph! this must be looked into. And now he declines your son's suit?"

"Yes."

"On the score of his poverty?"

"That is what he says."

"And is the daughter really worthy of his love?"

"Richly, sir."

"Then she can not take after her father."

"She is in all respects like her mother, who was a lovely woman, but M. Gaspar treated her harshly, so it is said, and she died, at length of neglect."

"Do you know whether M. Gaspar has any particular alliance in prospect for his daughter?"

"I do not know, but I hear he has sworn—in fact he told my son so he has sworn—that he meant to secure one of the young lords of the court for her."

"Has he any ambition, and yet there is more than one that would prove unworthy of her, if she is really as beautiful and attractive as you say."

"Doubt it not, sir; she is all that I have told you."

"And your son—where is he? I should like to see him, and if I take a fancy to him, who knows but I may adopt him?"

"He is even now coming up the road. He will be here in a moment."

The Duke kept his eye fixed upon the door through which there presently entered a young man of fine form and handsome features, but the last were overcast by a gloomy expression.

He entered the room with a downcast air, and did not even glance at the stranger, but threw himself wearily upon a settle in one corner, and buried his face in his hands.

"Henry," said his mother, "do you not see our guest?"

He looked up slightly, and nodded, saying:

"He would find me but poor company, mother. I had best leave him to you."

"But he is interested in you, and thinks he might help you in your suit."

"Have you told him the story?"

"Then he will see that it is hopeless, unless he shows me how I can multiply our present wealth by ten."

"Perhaps M. Gaspar can be brought to terms otherwise," suggested the Duke, composedly.

"There is no hope of that," said Henry.

"Possibly I may bring some argument to bear upon him that you know not of."

"You do not know him as I do. He is a hard man and cares only for money. He has cheated me out of my right, and because I am poor, he would reject my suit."

"Yes! I understand all that, but still, I am not discouraged. I have thought of a plan which I could wish to discuss with you in private. My good lady," he continued, turning to the mother, "could you furnish me with a private apartment for an interview with your son? It may be that we can devise a plan."

"Willingly, and may Heaven bless your good wishes, even if you do not succeed."

Ushered into a private room, the Duke changed his manner, and said, in a dignified tone:

"My good friend, it is well that we should, at the outset, understand each other. Would you know who I am?"

"A merchant, I judge, from your attire."

"It suits me to be considered such, but I am not what I seem."

"Who, then?" inquired the youth, in wonderment.

"I am your sovereign," said the Duke, in a dignified tone.

"What! Philip of Burgundy?" exclaimed Henry, dropping upon one knee.

"Even so; but arise. I call for no homage, while in disguise, and you must still address me as if I were a merchant. Tell me, do you now consider your case as hopeless?"

"I do not doubt your power, my lord Duke."

"Spare titles. Call me only sir. Without detailing my plan, I will merely say that it will require you to go back with me to court, and as soon as the storm is over, we will start. You can render some excuse to your mother, but take care not to tell her the truth."

"You shall be obeyed," said the youth, bowing.

The merchant, Gaspar, was seated in his warehouse, his mind intent upon a contemplated venture which promised to be lucrative, when his attention was attracted by the entrance of a page, richly dressed in court-livery, who advanced toward him, and said, inquiringly:

"Is this M. Gaspar?"

"It is," replied the merchant.

"Then I have a mission for you," said the page.

"From whom do you come?"

"From the court."

"And your mission?" said the merchant, surprised.

"Is from the Duke."

Herewith he presented a missive, directing the merchant to accompany an interview with him. Gaspar was surprised and perplexed, hardly knowing whether to feel gratified or apprehensive at the sudden summons.

"Know you why I am summoned?" he asked of the page.

"My master is not in the habit of communicating to me his secrets," was the brief and unsatisfactory reply.

At length they reached the audience chamber of the Duke, and the merchant was announced. Philip was seated upon a throne at one end of the apartment. Gaspar bent his knee.

"I suppose you are surprised at my summons," said Philip, abruptly.

Gaspar acknowledged that such was the case.

"I am told that you have a beautiful daughter," said the Duke, after a brief pause.

"I am willing to leave you to decide upon that point," said the proud and ambitious father, in whose breast a wild hope arose that the Duke might seek her for himself.

"I am willing to trust to testimony," responded Philip. "I have to tell you, then, Gaspar, that a young man, whom I am interested, has conceived a passion for your daughter, and would fain receive her hand in marriage."

"A court gallant, thought Gaspar, proudly. 'It is the very thing that I have been longing for.'"

"Have you any objection to the alliance?" queried the Duke, "or are her affections engaged?"

"Nay, my lord."

"But methinks I have heard of an attachment between herself and a certain young man."

"It is quite broken up," said Gaspar, hastily. "He was unworthy of her."

"Then you have nothing to object to the alliance I propose?"

"May I inquire who is the young gentleman?"

"Is it not enough," said the Duke, haughtily, "that it is one in whom I take an interest?"

"Yes; certainly," responded Gaspar, hastily, fearing to offend the Duke.

"How much are you willing to give your daughter as a dowry?" asked Philip.

"One-half of all that I possess," said Gaspar, who, though covetous, was ambitious for his daughter.

"It is enough. I wish the marriage to take place to-morrow."

"To-morrow! So soon?" repeated Gaspar. "I fear me—you know young girls are full of whims—that my daughter may object. She may fancy that she loves the other young man."

"Send her immediately to the palace, and the ladies of the court shall be present unto her the advantages of this union, that I warrant me at her scruples will vanish as the morning dew."

"It shall be done," said Gaspar, bowing.

"And mind you breathe no word to her of the purpose for which she is called to court."

"I will obey your lordship in all respects," said Gaspar, glad to have the task of persuasion, which he foresaw would be troublesome, taken off his hands.

"Do then as you are bidden. Send your daughter to me forthwith, and be in attendance yourself to-morrow at twelve to witness the marriage."

Gaspar bowed profoundly and hastened home, his heart swelling with exultation, at what he considered the prospective greatness of his family.

"For who knows," he thought, but the Duke will ennoble me, when my daughter is wedded to a noble of the court," and he privately decided to urge upon his daughter, at a proper season, to use what influence she might be able to bring to bear upon Philip for the attainment of this highly-desired result.

"My presence required at court!" exclaimed the beautiful Constance, as her father communicated the Duke's message.

"Yes, my daughter."

"And wherefore?"

"That I know not; but as Philip is fond of beauty, he has, perhaps, resolved to make you a lady of the court."

"I know not whether that be desirable," said Constance, thoughtfully; "but I will at least obey the summons."

"Good," thought the father, well satisfied. "I would give something to know whether the Duke will be successful in accomplishing what I have not been able to do—reconcile her to giving up Henry Dumont."

The next day, mindful of his engagement, Gaspar took his way to the palace to his daughter's wedding.

"I wish I knew who is to be the bridegroom," he said to himself. "It may be De Courcy, or again, young Beaumont."

Entering the palace, he was again ushered into the long audience-room. A curtain concealed from view the lower end. There were present, besides himself, many noble lords and ladies attached to the court, and his heart swelled when he considered that all this pageant was assembled for his daughter's wedding.

As the clock sounded, the curtain rose, and displayed upon a raised dais the bride party. Gaspar glanced anxiously at the bridegroom. What was his dismay when he recognized Henry Dumont, richly dressed. The ceremony commenced, but such was Gaspar's bewilderment that he did not think to interfere, and the twin were declared man and wife.

"Let the bride's father come forward," proclaimed the herald.

Gaspar advanced mechanically to a table, whereon he found awaiting his signature, an instrument conveying one-half his goods to Henry Dumont.

"I will not sign it," he said, hastily.

"Would you rather have it wrested from you?"

"But is that justice?" said Gaspar, sulkily.

"It is just that he who defrauds should make restitution," was the stern reply.

Gaspar seized the pen and affixed his signature. The consciousness of guilt made him a coward.

Need it be said that Henry Dumont and his fair bride lived happily and prosperously under the favor and protection of the Duke Philip, and the former received, in course of time, a degree of nobility in return for his faithful services. Rightly did he attribute all his prosperity to the lucky chance which led to his meeting a Duke in Disguise—Horatio Alger, Jr., in Yankee Blade.

WILL OBSERVE LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY!

MONTICELLO, Jan. 17.—An order was received here from Major-General G. B. Abbott, Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Veterans of the United States, directing the order to observe February 12 as a National memorial day in honor of the birth of President Abraham Lincoln. Appropriate services commemorating the life and public services of the great emancipator are to be held all over the United States on that day.

A train on the Little Rock & Fort Smith road was wrecked near Oak, Mo., Tuesday. The engineer, W. A. Voss, was killed, and several others were badly injured.

OUR RIGHTS IN SAMOA.

America Wide Awake and Determined Not to Tolerate Their Invasion by Germany.—Official Correspondence on the Subject.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The correspondence regarding Samoa affairs referred to in President Cleveland's message includes instructions issued to Admiral Kinkaid by Secretary Whitney on January 11, and telegrams from the German government to the United States.

It is a well-known fact that the German government has been endeavoring to establish a protectorate in Samoa, and that the United States has been endeavoring to prevent this.

JOURNALISTIC JOTTINGS.

It is said that a secret treaty has been concluded between Japan and Russia against England.

A TABLET in memory of Henry Ward Beecher is to be placed in the wall of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn.

A WASHINGTON paper says that a dollar of conscience money has been received at the Treasury for two years.

The Sea-Coast Fishing and Shooting Club is the name of an organization in Tennessee which meets once a week to play checkers.

A ULSTER (Feb.) man has built the "largest corn-crib on earth." It is 400 feet long, 12 feet wide and 12 feet high, and holds 20,000 bushels.

It is getting to be the fashion in New York to salt tenement houses with free tenants for the purpose of selling them. It has been more for us than all other modern cities.

It is thought by experts that the next census, to be taken June 1, 1880, will show a population in the United States of 64,000,000—an increase of 14,000,000 over that of 1870.

A TOURIST fell into a Yellowstone Park geyser the other day and was carried some distance below the surface of the earth. An instant later he was hurled up fully twenty-five feet above the ground.

It is proposed to make a new county for Connecticut from the Sixth and Twentieth Senatorial districts. The named suggested is "Waterbury" County, and it would include eighteen towns, with an aggregate wealth of $23,435,000.

The Scientific American says the great oil fields of New York and Pennsylvania are rapidly becoming exhausted. The supply has fallen from 100,000 to 45,000 barrels per day. Search is being made for new fields.

A RESIDENT of Detroit, Mich., recently purchased a real good dog when he was in Venice, paying $450 for it. The freight bill was the original cost of the dog. It will accommodate twenty persons, and will float on the Detroit river next season.

This postmaster of New York says that if the rates paid by the Government for carrying the mails on the railroads of the country were reduced in the same proportion as the companies have reduced freight rates to private shippers, a one-cent rate for letters could be immediately inaugurated without increasing the present post-office losses.

THERE is only one woman in the United States who is entitled on all occasions to the privilege of the floor of the Senate. This is the wife of Senator John H. Reagan, of Texas, who has been appointed private secretary by her husband, with all the honors and emoluments of that position, amounting to $3,000 a year. This is said to be the first case of the kind in the records of the Senate.

An Unusual Chance.

How to receive four numbers of a sixteen-page paper for two and a half cents. Send ten cents before the 1st of April to Robert Bonner's Sons, Publishers, 184 William street, New York City, and they will send you a month's trial copy of four numbers of the New York Ledger in its new form and artistic make-up.

God rules the waves that go over me and hide the very sky above me. It is the world as it is, and it is the world as it is. It is the world as it is, and it is the world as it is. It is the world as it is, and it is the world as it is.

The man who has left his watch with his "uncle" is frequently super-sensitive on the subject of pawnbrokers.—Merchant Traveler.

Go Look at the South.

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad will, on January 23, February 12 and 16, run a series of special excursions from Cincinnati, Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis to Columbia, Tenn., Florence, Ala., Sheffield, Ala., Decatur, Ala., Cullman, Ala., Evergreen, Ala., and Ocean Springs, Ala. Tickets will be sold at one fare round trip, and will be valid for sixty days in each direction, south of Columbia. Tickets will be valid in the North and West from principal points. For further information address C. P. Atmore, General Pass. Agent, Louisville, Ky.

Isorely tries the patience of the editor of a sanitary journal to write an article on the subject, "Some Ideas in Filtration" and have it appear "Some Ideas in Filtration." But it probably became known by them by much more interesting to lady readers.

Would You Believe

The Proprietor of Kemp's Balsam gives thousands of bottles away yearly! This mode of advertising would prove ruinous if the Balsam was not a perfect cure for all the ailments of the throat and lungs.

You will see the excellent effect of taking Kemp's Balsam. It is a perfect cure for all the ailments of the throat and lungs. It is a perfect cure for all the ailments of the throat and lungs. It is a perfect cure for all the ailments of the throat and lungs.

Underdone cakes in the course of time will batter down any man's stomach.—N. O. Picayune.

One Secret of Longevity.

Those anxious to prolong this rapid transitory existence of ours beyond the average span, should foster their digestion, negatively by abstaining from indigestible food, and affirmatively by the use of that peerless stomachic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, when he experiences symptoms of indigestion. The impairment of the digestive function is fatal to vigor. Subdue with the Bitters, also, fever and ague, biliousness and constipation.

There are always two sides to a case except with an open-faced watch.

She Suffered for Six Years.

Wife suffered six years from suppressed menstruation. Has been treated by the best physicians without benefit. Two bottles of Bradfield's Female Regulator relieved her.

Write Bradfield Reg. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for further particulars. Sold by all druggists.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.

LIVE STOCK—Cattle..... 5.00 @ 5.00
Hogs..... 3.75 @ 3.75
Pork..... 10.00 @ 10.00

WHEAT—No. 2 Red..... 93.00 @ 93.00
No. 3..... 92.00 @ 92.00
No. 4..... 91.00 @ 91.00

CORN—No. 2..... 34.00 @ 34.00
No. 3..... 33.00 @ 33.00
No. 4..... 32.00 @ 32.00

RYE—No. 2..... 24.00 @ 24.00
No. 3..... 23.00 @ 23.00
No. 4..... 22.00 @ 22.00

BARLEY—No. 2..... 24.00 @ 24.00
No. 3..... 23.00 @ 23.00
No. 4..... 22.00 @ 22.00

WHEAT—No. 2 Red..... 93.00 @ 93.00
No. 3..... 92.00 @ 92.00
No. 4..... 91.00 @ 91.00

CORN—No. 2..... 34.00 @ 34.00
No. 3..... 33.00 @ 33.00
No. 4..... 32.00 @ 32.00

RYE—No. 2..... 24.00 @ 24.00
No. 3..... 23.00 @ 23.00
No. 4..... 22.00 @ 22.00

BARLEY—No. 2..... 24.00 @ 24.00
No. 3..... 23.00 @ 23.00
No. 4..... 22.00 @ 22.00

