Lehman has had a new sidewalk laid in front and around his residence. Matt. Schwickert has the contract for building a new house for Frank Lusty. R. J. West intends to celebrate the 4th of July at Cavanaugh Lake in grand style. Alice J. Whitaker left Tuesday evening for Big Rapids, where she will spend a few days. Have you seen that old Indian pony saddle at Hummel & Fenn's. It is quite a curiosity. Chas. Steinbach will furnish the music for the dance at Cavanaugh Lake on the 4th of July. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gilbert, of Ann Arbor, will move back to Chelsea in the near future. Glazier the druggist is showing an immense line of Wall Paper, Borders and Decorations. The two young men who drove up west last Sunday do not report a very pleasant time. Geo. Barthel returned home from Detroit last Saturday, after spending several weeks in that city. Another change in the M. C. R. R. time card which took effect last Sunday. See card on last page. Martin Merkel sheared a sheep in twelve minutes one day last week. Now let us hear from others. Uncle Sam's nerve and bone liniment will relieve sprains, bruises, neuralgia and rheumatism. Sold by all druggists. The Misses Garegthys have gone west to spend the summer. Their smiling faces and merry laugh will be missed by all. Quite a number went fishing yesterday and we learn that several of them took a plunge bath. Don't say anything about it. The state crop report says wheat, oats and grass are doing well, but corn is considerably injured by the cold, wet weather. Glazier, the druggist, offers a complete line of Carriage and Decorative Paints, Paint Brushes, Varnishes, Alabastine, Floor Paints, etc. The Chelsea Roller Mills are running full time and the proprietors find a ready market for all their flour. See their change of price in their "ad." R. Irving Latimer has been released from solitary confinement and placed at hard labor in the blacksmithing department of the Jackson Wagon contract. Ellert's daylight liver pills are a boon to sufferers from sick headache, sour stomach, torpid liver and indigestion. Sugar-coated pills to take and warranted to go through by daylight. Up to ninety years ago every shoe was fastened with a buckle, and no man had the least idea that the time would ever come when he would have to take his teeth to a hard knot in a shoe string. Unless Professor Sullivan fights Professor Kilrain more skillfully than he wrestles Professor Muldon he will be voted better qualified for the position of soup inspector than for that of champion pugilist. Happy home blood purifier is the Peoples popular medicine for purifying the blood; preventing or curing dyspepsia, biliousness, headache, boils and all fevers and malarial diseases. Fine weather.

Try Glazier's 28c fine cut. The next holiday is 4th of July. Full cream cheese, 11c. at Glazier's. Next Sunday will be Trinity Sunday. 6 bars Babbit's soap for 25c at Glazier's. Corn in this vicinity is looking very poor. 6 bars White Russian soap for 25c at Glazier's. John Doyle has returned to New York City again. Very choice full cream cheese at Hummel & Fenn's. Grand wind up sale this month at Kempf & Schenk's. The cornish was placed on the new buildings Wednesday. Michael Wackenhut is building an addition to his barn on the farm. Glazier, the druggist, is selling groceries at prices that will make you smile. The census year has now begun, dating from June 1, 1890 to June 1, 1891. The brick work has been completed on the Babcock and Winans buildings. The Catholics of Pinckney are going to purchase a new bell for their church. The German Workingmen's Society of Manchester will celebrate on the 4th of July. E. M. Fletcher's grocery store has been painted and papered, and looks neat and clean. Sam's best girl has been visiting friends in Freedom, and the livery men reaped a little harvest. Cut worms and potato bugs are now wide awake, and seem to like the taste of Chelsea gardens. Studying telegraphy is the rage in Dexter at present and everybody carries a pocket machine. A very pleasant social was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Vogel Wednesday evening. Mr. Frank S. Buckley, dentist, will make this his future home, and move his family here in the near future. For rent, the store lately occupied by Steve Clark on north Main street. Apply to Steve Clark or Jas. Hudler. n37. Sunday was children's day at the Congregational and M. E. churches. There was a large attendance at both. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Clare Durand of Ann Arbor, were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. B. Parker for the past few days. Glazier's, the druggist, offers strictly pure Paris Green, London Purple, Insect Powder, Fly Paper, etc., at prices to suit the times. Eiffel is said to have gained the first idea of the tower which bears his name from sitting behind an American woman in an American theater. An Albany physician says he has never known a case of cancer among the Hebrews, and thinks their exemption from the disease is due to abstinence from pork. A Gilmore Musical Jubilee Festival is to be held at the Detroit Rink, in Detroit, two days, Saturday and Monday evenings, June 15th and 17th, with grand matinees on each day at 2.30. The smallest horse in the world made its appearance at Racine, Wis., lately. It is a Shetland pony and weighs 43 pounds. It is 2 feet 5 inches high, and 2 feet 3 inches long, and resembles a dog more than a horse. A Requiem High Mass will be celebrated in St. Mary's church next Monday at 8 a. m., for the happy repose of the soul of the Pastor's mother, the late Mrs. John Considine, it being the second anniversary of her death. A dray horse in Paterson, N. J., saw a woman with a red parasol coming towards him, and as he was tied and could not break away he fell in a sort of fit and could not be got up for two hours. Ladies don't carry a red parasol. Mr. and Mrs. John Row leave about the last of this month for Europe. They will visit England, Scotland, Ireland and the Paris Exposition. They expect to be absent about six months. We hope they may have a safe and pleasant trip. A. L. Noble says that any one visiting Ann Arbor on June 18th can save money enough by making purchases at his store to pay their expenses and make them good wages besides. Goods evidently have taken a serious tumble at the Star Clothing House. A story comes from a Gallician village to the effect that just at the close of a wedding carousal, the mother of the bride gave birth to a son. Of course the festivity had to be renewed in honor of the new comer, and the prolonged spree proved too much for the groom's father, who fell dead from the effects, and the survivors finished the entertainment with a wake, and funeral feast for the old man. The Nebraska Supreme Court has just decided a question of interest to money loaners. Growing corn had been mortgaged, and after coming to maturity it was harvested and sold to grain dealers. The owners of this mortgage sued them for the value of the corn. The court decided that growing corn is not the corn after it has been cribbed and sold; in other words, that the mortgage will not hold and the plaintiff cannot recover.

Try Glazier's 25c. plug tobacco. Choice Japan Tea 30c at Glazier's. Sheep shearing is now in full blast. Choice Groceries at Hummel & Fenn's. Cherries promise to be abundant this season. Elgin and Waltham Watches, pendant stem, wind, in 3 ounce case, $7.50 Glazier, the druggist. Dr. Jaques' German Worm Cakes destroy worms and remove them from the system. Safe, pleasant and effective. Mrs. Perry Barber and Mrs. Daniel Maroney returned home Monday from visiting friends in Howell and Fowlerville. By order of the Rt. Rev. Bishop Foley, a collection for the Pope will be taken up in all the churches of the diocese next Sunday. The choir of St. Mary's church meets regularly every Friday evening at 7 p. m. for practice. Under Mr. Hentley's direction it is doing admirable work. Cigarette smokers will be interested in the report that a certain manufacturer of cigarettes offers a nice cemetery lot to every one who smokes twelve dozen pack ages of his cigarettes. The reunion of the Seventh Michigan infantry, announced to take place at Monroe June 14, has been postponed to June 18 owing to the absence of many members who are taking in the Gettysburg exercises. Two sisters of the order of St. Dominic from St. Joseph's hospital, Adrian have been in town this week collecting among their Catholic friends, for their most deserving institution. They were cordially received, and had gratifying success. The great Forepaugh show is to be in Ann Arbor on the 18th, and crowds of people will be there to see it. On this day C. Bliss & Son, No. 11 south Main street, the leading jewelers will hold one of the greatest reduction sales on Ladies and Gents watches ever known in Michigan. If you intend to buy a watch within a year it will pay you to buy it on the 18th. Don't fail to see how cheap they are selling them. Remember on the east side of Main street.

PORTLAND, Ore., has a schoolman whose name, Georgia Rattan, is suggestive of a class of tender ministrations which no small boy is ever known to relish.

THE Congressional library at Washington contains 615,781 volumes and the pamphlets number 200,000. This is the largest collection of books in the United States.

THE New York Legislature before its recent adjournment passed, by a very large majority, a bill requiring all freight cars in the State to be equipped with automatic couplers.

THE year 1899 promises to be a memorable epoch. The early hot weather, followed by severe frosts upon the last day of May and the floods and disasters to life and property, make up an extraordinary record.

THE next census of this country will be taken with electrical census machines. The census collector will take the names in the usual way, but his report will be rewritten and printed by a novel device which is said to be incapable of making a mistake.

MORE than a thousand John Smiths in this country are said to hold Government offices. It is such things as these that make one feel that it was not of mistaken kindness for Pocahontas to have saved the original John.

"Of what use are spiders?" asks a timorous Boston maiden, in the first line of a thirty-stanza poem. Spiders, of course, may have dropped into disuse in Boston, but in various other parts of the country women find them handy utensils in which to cook meat.

Mrs. ANN FRASSELL SMITH, an American, is said to have made the best woman's speech of the evening at the meeting of the Women's Liberal Association in London recently, when Mrs. Gladstone was presented with a bracelet by the association in honor of her golden wedding.

THE terrible disaster when the Bradford reservoir embankment near Sheffield, Eng., gave way on March 11, 1864, was secured enduring memory by Charles Reade's wonderful description in his novel: "Put Yourself in His Place." About 250 lives were lost, and the damage amounted to $1,600,000.

SURPRISING as the statement may appear, it is asserted on good authority that the coast line of Alaska exceeds that of the United States. And its territory includes eleven hundred islands, some of them of considerable size. It's an empire in extent, with a vast interior region untouched by the foot of civilized man.

A GENTLEMAN of Murray County, Ga., has a genuine curiosity in his possession. It is the seed of a tract of land in Kentucky bearing the signature of the famous Daniel Boone as witness. The document is musty and yellow with age, but notwithstanding this the chronography of the old hero of a hundred battles appears in characters still bright and legible.

Mrs. MALINDA SKELLEY, of Millersburg, Pa., missed $5,375 by getting married. She applied for a pension several years ago and the other day a letter was received granting it, together with a voucher for the amount named. She had changed her name, becoming Mrs. Anderson eight days before, and the valuable paper had to be returned to Washington.

A RARE thing in New York harbor is a British cruiser. The Queen's ships do not touch at our American ports much for the reason that their crews have too good a chance to desert. One appeared, however, in New York harbor the other day—the gunboat cruiser Buzard, detached from the squadron at the Bermudas to carry important dispatches to New York by cable transmission to the British Admiralty.

ADMIRAL PORTER lately held a state dinner in Washington, and Ah Sin, a Chinese servant, was assigned to duty in attendance at the door. In his country a visitor's rank is indicated by the size of the card, a huge one meaning a prince. The small cards received but scant courtesy from Ah Sin, but a large one, which was the card of the Celestial's demeanor presented his bill the Celestial's demeanor underwent a change. The long yellow slip captured Ah Sin, and with profound salams he bowed the astonished gasman into the presence of the amazed family and irate head of the navy.

THE people of Wyoming are moving forward on the lines of Statehood, and propose to be in readiness to come into the Union as soon as Congress will allow them to do so. The Territory has been laid off into delegate districts, and the Governor has issued his proclamation for a constitutional convention, which is to meet at Cheyenne the first Monday in September, and after adopting a constitution, submit it to the people on the first Tuesday in November, when state officers will also be voted for. This done, Wyoming claims she will be ready to come in.

In one particular at least America is well represented at the Paris exposition. One third of the space in machinery hall is occupied with the works of American inventors and manufacturers. Furthermore, in many respects the exhibits in the same department by foreigners are borrowings from American ideas. By far the most interesting display is that of electrical machines. The section in which Edison's inventions are shown is the largest single exhibit. There may be seen all of his 493 contributions to man's category of mechanical triumphs.

FROM WASHINGTON. JUSTICE GRAY, of the United States Supreme Court, was married to Miss Jennie Matthews, daughter of the late Justice Stanley Matthews, on the afternoon of the 4th at the residence of the bride in Washington.

On the 5th Secretary Noble accepted the resignation of John H. Oberly, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, to take effect July 1. The Postmaster-General sent out a circular to postmasters on the 5th calling on them to inform him as to the extent of the business transacted at their offices on Sunday. The information was desired with a view to decreasing, if possible, the amount of Sabbath work performed by post-office employees.

It was decided by the Secretary of War on the 6th to purchase for the new site for Fort Omaha a tract of 540 acres of land about eight miles from Omaha.

A force was sent to Burgon-General Hamilton on the 6th to the 6th that there was serious danger of sickness at Johnston, Pa., unless active sanitary measures were taken. He had given the necessary orders, and had shipped a large quantity of disinfectants. A temporary depopulation was ordered.

The President on the 7th appointed Colonel John C. Kelton as Adjutant-General of the army to succeed General Drum, retired.

In the United States there were 225 business failures during the seven days ended on the 7th, against 315 the previous seven days.

NOTHING had developed up to the 4th to lower the terrible estimate put upon the number of fatalities resulting from the recent flood at Johnston, Pa. Through the agency of a bureau of registration, embracing twenty-eight different offices, a systematic effort was being made to reach the most accurate figures possible regarding the fatalities in Johnston, Cambria, Murrellville, Kernville, Conemaugh and other places devastated by the flood. Mr. McCannagh, who had charge of the work of registration, was of the opinion that the number of people who perished was considerably over ten thousand, while Adjutant-General Hastings maintained that the death toll would not exceed eight thousand. Nearly two thousand men were employed in different parts of the valley clearing away ruins and extracting the dead, and thus far thirty-two hundred bodies had been found. Money and clothing for the destitute was flowing in from all parts of the country.

On the 4th Mrs. Peter Kelley, of Rosendale, N. Y., gave birth to three boys. A cyclone which left Pittsburgh on the 4th for Johnston, Pa., probably has no parallel in the history of the world. It carried forty-one volunteer undertakers and two thousand coffins.

On the 4th the Mayor of Williamsport, Pa., reported to Governor Beaver that thousands of people in that city were homeless and in want, the flood having carried away their dwellings and property.

On the 5th the annual parade of the Sunday-school Union of Brooklyn, N. Y., took place, sixty thousand children being in line. The United States Brewers Association in session on the 4th at Jamaica Falls, N. Y., appropriated $10,000 for the benefit of the sufferers of the Johnston disaster.

The New Hampshire Legislature in joint session on the 5th took a ballot for Governor, there having been no choice by the people, and David H. Goodell (Rep.) was declared elected.

It was still believed on the 5th that the number of people destroyed in the flood at Johnston, Pa., would reach from 12,000 to 15,000. Three thousand one hundred and thirteen bodies had been recovered. It was estimated that the number of orphans in the Conemaugh valley would be about 300.

In New Bedford, Mass., a slight shock of earthquake was felt on the morning of the 7th.

A FIRE destroyed the Herlich piano works at Paterson, N. J., on the 7th.

At Johnston, Pa., the weather on the 7th was warm and fairs existed that outbreaks of disease would follow the flood. Five cases of diphtheria were reported, and diphtheria had made its appearance in some places. The work of recovering the bodies was going on steadily.

A CYCLONE did great damage in Lamb County, Tex., on the 4th to crops, fences, houses and barns and a number of people were injured. The cyclone struck the southern section of the county and moved in an easterly direction, sweeping every thing before it.

The death of Joseph Labord, the oldest man in the Northwest, occurred at St. Paul on the 4th at the age of one hundred and six years. He was born at Point Lewis, Wash.

DURING services on the 4th in the Free Methodist Church near Fomeroy, O., an attempt was made to blow up the building with powder, but it missed fire. At least one hundred persons would have been killed had the powder been ignited.

A VERY destructive shock of earthquake was felt at Nashville, Tenn., about nine o'clock on the night of the 5th.

An incendiary fire on the 5th at Biloxi, Miss., destroyed twenty-five buildings, causing a loss of $100,000.

THE American Bankers' Association will hold their annual convention at Kansas City, Mo., September 25-27.

In the Dr. Cronin inquest in Chicago all the evidence on the 5th was directed toward establishing the fact that the deceased was firmly impressed with the idea that his life was endangered through the machinations of Alexander Sullivan, the well-known ex-president of the Irish Land League.

EARLY on the morning of the 4th fire at Jacksonville, Fla., destroyed about sixty wooden buildings, for the most part occupied by colored people. The loss was estimated at $200,000.

The doors of the Bank of Omaha, Neb., incorporated about a year ago, were closed on the 4th. Liabilities between $60,000 and $70,000; assets nominal.

On the 4th the enumeration of Indiana school children showed that there were 70,730 in the State, which indicated a total population of 2,362,000. The apportionment of school funds is $1.31 per capita—an increase of four cents over last year.

A FIRE destroyed the St. James Hotel at Stevens Point, Wis., on the 5th, and a young man and two girls perished in the flames.

PROMOTIONISTS of Nebraska met at Lincoln on the 5th and organized a state league, and also arranged to establish local leagues in every county in the State.

THE school census of Nebraska showed, on the 4th, a total population of 318,853, which gives a total population to the State of about 1,600,000.

SEATTLE LAID WASTE.

The Best Part of the City in Ashes—Losses Estimated at from $7,000,000 to $20,000,000—People Crushed by Falling Walls—Aid Needed.

SEATTLE, W. T., June 8.—The most disastrous fire ever experienced on the Pacific coast broke out in this city at 2:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon in a row of wooden buildings on the west side of Front street, between Marion and Madison streets. The first large building made by Fry's Opera-house. From this initial point the fire spread north and south, extending from Second and Third streets to the bay, a distance of over one mile, and comprising the entire business portion of the city. Every newspaper office, hotel, telegraph office, railroad depot, and what in the city was totally destroyed. There is great privation among the poorer classes, as nearly every restaurant and grocery in the city was consumed by the fire.

The burned district now presents the aspect of a huge oven of burning coals, and threatens even further destruction. The firemen, reinforced by help from Tacoma and Snohomish, are on the alert. The militia and extra police are to be seen every corner, guarding the property against thieves.

The burned district comprises sixty-four acres. One hundred arrests for looting were made. The fire spread south of Union street and west of Second street, reaching around to the gas works above Fourth street, to Jackson, was burned. The Arlington and Commercial hotels were lost. It is estimated that the loss to the city by buildings alone amounts to $7,000,000, and the personal losses will probably reach $20,000,000. It is thought that many persons must have perished in the flames. Giant powder was used to blow up buildings in the hope of staying the progress of the flames, but to no effect. It is reported that two men have been crushed to death.

The large building occupied by Tokias & Singerman fell. Thirty people were near it at the time, and it is said that many were crushed. An estimate of the loss of life would be more guesswork.

An accurate record of the losses would include every business and household, and hundreds of people were homeless. A number of lives were reported lost. The burned district comprised sixty-four acres.

FLAMES on the 7th at Livingston, Ala., destroyed half of the town.

On the 7th the coroner inquest in Chicago on the 7th, three important witnesses were missing and could not be found by the coroner's agents. Daniel Brown, a policeman, admitted that he was the man who called Dr. Cronin to trial for treason. Brown was placed under restraint by the coroner, who intimated that he was the man who drove Dr. Cronin to his death on the night of May 6. Luke Dillon denounced Alexander Sullivan as the instigator of the crime.

FLAMES swept away eleven business houses and offices in Syracuse, Kan., on the 7th.

The will of Mary J. Kennedy was probated on the 7th at Indianapolis, Ind., and it was found that the only heirs to her estate were two sons who are both serving life sentences in prison for murder.

A fire on the 6th destroyed one hundred and ninety-five houses, including the village church and vicarage.

In Offenbach, Baden, the cotton mills were destroyed by fire on the 6th, involving a loss of 30,000 marks. Several women were killed.

NINETEEN men were crossing the river at Greenville, Tex., on the 6th when the boat capsized and five of them were drowned.

The houses of two leading Boulangerists were searched by the Paris police on the 7th and resulted in the discovery of papers which incriminated Boulanger in an international plot.

The czar of Russia on the 7th bestowed a dowry of one million rubles on Princess Militta, of Montenegro, who has been betrothed to Grand Duke Peter, of Russia.

ADVICES of the 7th from Crete showed the complete surrender of the island, and the murder and outrage of the kinds were of daily occurrence, and went unpunished.

LATER. The work of registering survivors of the flood at Johnston was going on on the 9th, and up to date there were 11,000 registered. The number of the lost was placed at 5,000 by those who held that it would reach 10,000 a week ago. A conservative estimate was between 2,500 and 4,000. Up to date there had been 1,500 bodies recovered.

The saons and theaters in Cincinnati were closed on the 9th, and no ball-playing was allowed.

The ship Altorna, bound from Sidney to San Francisco, was wrecked off the Fiji Islands on the 8th, and a number of her passengers and crew were drowned.

Various portions of the 8th were visited by severe storms on the 8th, accompanied by hail, doing much damage to growing crops.

CHEYENNE had a veritable blizzard on the 8th, and three inches of snow fell in the neighborhood of mountains.

The exchequer of the twenty-six leading clearing houses in the United States for the week ended on the 8th aggregated $1,118,085,014, against $1,012,297,423 the previous week. As compared with the corresponding week of 1888 the increase amounted to a half of a billion dollars.

The Clay County Bank, the oldest institution of the kind in Topeka, Kan., failed on the 8th for $100,000.

A THOUSAND-FUNERALS.

Sad Signs Witnessed by the Survivors of Johnston—During the Dead-Funerals Gaining Ground—Preparing to Rebuild—Contributions Flowing In.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 8.—The gray mists have scarcely arisen from the hills Wednesday morning until 1,000 funerals were being hurried to their graves. There were no hearse, few mourners, and as little solemnity as formality. The majority of the coffins were of rough pine. The hearsees were strong farmers' teams, and instead of six pall-bearers to one coffin there were generally six coffins to one team. Silently the processions moved, and silently they unloaded their burdens in the lap of Mother Earth. No minister was there to pronounce a last blessing as the clouds rattled down.

All day long the corpses were being buried. The unidentified bodies were grouped on a high hill west of the doomed city, where one epitaph must do for all, and that the word "unknown." There are hundreds of these graves already, and each day will increase the proportion.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 6.—Two hundred and forty-six more bodies were found Wednesday, of which the majority have been identified. This swells the list to 3,113 bodies.

Over 5,000 men are employed in Johnston proper clearing the streets, about 1,000 of these being the regular street hands hired by Contractors Booth and Flynn, of Pittsburgh, the others being volunteers. Mr. Flynn declares it will take 10,000 men thirty days to clear the ground of the debris. The general impression is the work of rebuilding commenced.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 6.—Chief Bigelow has ordered a corps of engineers to report this morning to go to Johnston. About a dozen men will go, taking with them all the necessary instruments for surveying and laying out the streets and property, with a view to reorganizing the destroyed city.

A house-to-house canvass was ordered by the sanitary authorities, and its revelations, as far as it went, were startling in the extreme. It was found that four and even six families were being crowded into a single house, and as high as fifty slept in the rooms, the doors and windows were left closed to shut out the stench and the dampness, and that as a result pneumonia was gaining an alarming foothold.

P. M. Carrington of the United States Marine Hospital estimates that there are at least a hundred well-defined cases of the disease in Johnston to-day. He ascribes its growth to the general impression that the coroner's jury Wednesday proceeded to the South fork and investigated the cause of breakage of the reservoir dam. Witnesses testified that slight breaks had appeared in the dam several times in past years, but had each time been repaired with straw, sticks and rubbish. The general impression is that the jury will declare that the Pittsburgh Fishing Club that owned the reservoir was guilty of gross negligence. In that event many suits for damages against this millionaire club will doubtless follow.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 6.—Out of a total population of 1,000 at Woodvale, 667 are known to have been saved, making the loss of life about 333 per cent of the submerged portion of the village.

It is estimated that the number of orphans in the Conemaugh valley will be about 300. They are being removed to central points where they can be found in case they are required.

St. Mark's P. E. Church lost 27 out of a membership of 150. Rector A. P. Diller, wife and two children were drowned. Their new church building has disappeared.

The drift of opinion among intelligent men, physicians, engineers, railroad men, is that from 1,000 to 1,500 of the bodies will never be found.

Captain Peter Fitzpatrick of Cambria City, learned yesterday that his two little boys, supposed to be dead, were safe eighty miles down the river, where they were carried on the roof of a house and rescued.

Work has begun on the wreckage of the Cambria mill in Millville. Only about 600 of the 1,000 employees have been accounted for.

CONTRIBUTIONS FLOWING IN. PHILADELPHIA, June 6.—The rivalry existing between the various collectors in this city for the Johnston sufferers has been the means of swelling the amount of the cash subscriptions to about $500,000, while the numerous good and other necessities are so numerous that some difficulty is experienced in handling them. Thirty-one carloads in all have been shipped, and it is thought that fully as much is awaiting shipment.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 6.—Governor Beaver has received by check and draft $125,000.

NEW YORK, June 6.—Dispatches from various points outside Washington and Philadelphia report food subscriptions during the day and night about $120,000. The receipts of cash at the mayor's office in this city Wednesday aggregated $180,000. Under this over $100,000 was subscribed to the fund of exchanges and newspapers. The Equitable Life has sent $100,000 to the flood victims.

LITERARY GOSSIP. WILLIAM PENN wrote his well-known "No Cross, No Crown," in the Tower of London.

Mrs. (Robert Elsmere) WARD is not merely a passive opponent of woman suffrage, but, with Frederic Harrison, is organizing an anti-woman suffrage society.

Some of the late literary work was the revision of a preface to a reprint of Jonathan Dymond's "War and Christianity." The book embodies the uncompromising condemnation of war that is associated with Bright's name.

FRANK DEMPSTER SHERMAN, the dramatic poet or rather "writer of society verse," is said to be a retail stationer at Peekskill.

It is said that owing to a splendid opinion of himself he has not met with the fame that to those who could give him the proper boost. He has a morbid dislike of reporters and does not give an introduction to one.

GEORGE MEREDITH, the novelist, is sixty-one years of age. He has been twice married, his first wife being a daughter of the late Lord Peacock, the well-known friend of Shelley's. His second wife, who died about two years ago, was the niece of the present-harvest near Boxhill, in the parish of St. Andrew's, near London.

ROBERTUS ACHER, D. T., June 7.—Sitting Bull, the great Sioux chief, is dying of pneumonia at Standing Rock. His death is momentarily expected, and the Indians gathered here, upward of 8,000 in all, are wild with excitement. The news of Sitting Bull's dangerous illness was brought here by a courier from Standing Rock, and announced at a secret council of the chiefs and head men in progress at Swift Bear's camp.

Bank Failure in Omaha. OMAHA, Neb., June 7.—The Bank of Omaha closed its doors Wednesday. The liabilities are between $200 and $300,000. The failure is attributed to bad loans and mismanagement.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

A DOUBLE MURDER. A Man and His Aged Mother Found Dead Near Linden.

Lawrence Murray, aged forty-six years, and his mother, aged seventy-two years, residing seven miles west of Linden, were the other evening found dead in their own house. Their bodies had been thrown through a trap door into a small excavation used as a cellar.

It is probable that she will live, although she is receiving the tenderest of care. When she was rescued, after six days and nights of exposure and lack of nourishment, spread through the town, hundreds of people crowded about the stretcher on which she was being carried.

William Gaffney lost fourteen relatives, including his wife and two children. Several of the bodies he recovered, and unaided performed the mournful duty of digging their graves and burying them.

An Empty Dream.

A youth went forth to sea... The lady whom he loved the best... And at her door his footsteps stayed... Until the moon had gone to rest.

He warbled till the dawning light... Came dangling o'er the hilltop's rim... But no fair maiden blessed his sight... And all seemed dark and drear to him.

With heart aglow and eyes ablaze... He drew much nearer than before... When to his horror and amaze... He saw "To Let" upon the door.

A Case of Necessity.

A noted Sunday school worker living in Kansas was once asked to talk to the children of a Sunday school on the subject of temperance. He is very earnest in the cause and wears a bit of blue ribbon as a badge of his principles.

Rising before the school, he pointed to his bit of blue ribbon and said: "Now, can any of you children give me a reason why I am not a drunkard?"

There was no reply for a moment, then a childish voice in the rear of the room piped out:

"'Cause this is a prohibition town!"

One Hundred Years Ago.

There was not an iron plow in the United States then. The first iron plow was patented in 1797, but it was a flat failure. The intelligent farmers of New Jersey, upon the first trial, pronounced the plow not only worthless but a great evil, on the ground that it poisoned the soil so that seeds would not germinate. About the middle of the last century it was not uncommon in England that the point of the plow was shod with iron, and in 1785 an Englishman invented a cast-iron share and in 1790 the land-side of the plow. In 1798 Thomas Jefferson wrote an elaborate essay on the proper construction of the mold-board of the plow. But progress was slow, owing to the prejudice and ignorance of the farmers. In view of the gang, riding, and sulky plows now in use on almost every farm it seems like telling a dream to say it was not until 1804 that David Peacock obtained a patent for a plow having the mold-board and land-side of cast-iron and separate, while the share was of wrought iron, edged with steel.—Ex.

What a Boy Should Learn.

To let cigarettes alone. To be kind to all animals. To be manly and courageous. To ride, row, shoot and swim. To fill a wood box every night. To be gentle to his little sisters. To shut doors without slamming. To do errands promptly and cheerfully. To sew on a button and darn a stocking. To shut the doors in summer to keep the flies out. To shut them in winter to keep cold out. To wash dishes and make his bed when necessary. To get ready to go away without the united efforts of mother and sister.

Crushed Again.

On an incoming Vandalla train was a family of five—a fat, good-natured man, his wife, a pretty but nervous lady, and, gracious knows, 'twas enough to make her nervous, the trouble she had with their three children. The eldest, a boy of six, mashed his hand by pulling a window down on it. A little later the three-year-old, at a sudden jerk of the train, turned a somersault, bruising and gashing his head. Then the half-year old baby upset the alcohol lamp from the window-sill, which frightened the mother nearly into hysterics, which was a signal for all the children to set up in chorus. But during the next five minutes, when that half-distracted woman was trying to stop the music, that fat man from the seat back of her looked on with never an effort—he was really charming in his complacency. When quiet reigned again the wife said with a sigh: "I do know I have more trouble than any woman on earth." "O, no, my dear; don't say that," answered Benedick, not moving his eyes from his paper. "I do say it!" she replied, more stoutly. "There's no calamity could befall a woman which I have not suffered." "O, no, my dear; not so bad as that. For instance: You are not a widow," he answered, sweetly. She held her breath two seconds and then retorted. "I said 'calamity,' sir."—St. Louis Republican. —A New York elevated railway locomotive applied hot coals on a horse's back, and the horse ran over Joseph Lowrey. He got $5,000 damages, and the general term of the Common Pleas affirmed the verdict.—N. Y. Sun.
