A SINGULAR fact is reported asto the Italian immigration to this country. Of forty-five thousand Italians who landed in Castle Garden, New York, last year, thirty-four thousand were males. The emigration of females from Italy is smaller than any other country, averaging but fifteen per cent, of the whole number who land. From Germany the percentage is forty; from Ireland, forty-five Italians mostly come to the United States to acquire a little fortune and expect to return. For that reason their families do not accompany them.

The Disastrous Work of the Flames in Montana Stopped by Snow and Rain. HELENA, M. T., Sept. 4.-The forest fires which have been raging in the mountains for the last six weeks are now supposed to have been extinguished by the rain and snow which fell Monday night. In the vicinity of Elliston and Ten Miles snow to the depth of four to six inches covers the ground. The fires raged fiercely Saturday and Sunday. Fifteen hundred people, it is estimated, turned out at Elliston and other places to fight the fire. Many came out with scorched faces, burned clothing and bloodshot eyes. The fire still smolders in the trunks of trees and may take a fresh start if the wind rises, Many bridges girls. The loss to property was placed at have been burned, as well as miners' cabins. The snow-fall saved the town of Jay Gould and the gold mill and mining property there. The fire at Ten Miles was disastrous Sturrock & Brown's saw-mill is a mass of ruins. The timber in that section was fir, cedar and pine, and was said to be the finest forest in Montana. Hundreds of the trees were four feet thick at the trunk. There was one pile of logs which stood twenty feet high and 300 feet long. The area burned is very large and the occupation of the woodmen in that section is gone forever, as every thing is burned to ashes.

NEGROES IN THE NORTHWEST.

parations Being Made for an Exedu Colored People from the Scuth-Morata and Washington Their Meces.

MILWAUKES, Sept. 7.—There are strong edications that plans have been laid for nother great exodus of colored men from a South, and the significant feature lies the fact that the new States of Mon as and Washington are the objectives of these migrating hordes of these of Ham. The man who figures a and of the movement is Rev. T. W cugo, and he is peculiarly fitted for the po-nillien, as he took, a leading part in the great execus of Millies ippi negroes to Kan-sus in 1872. Rev. Mr. Henderson was seen Printay and said:

"This movement has been quietly worked for a long time and will be continued to that way until we have settled Montana and Washington Territory from end to end with refugees. Plantation negroes are no better off now than they were before the war. When they hire out it is for the year and they contract to buy all their supplies from the masters' stores, so that when they make a final settlement they always come out make a final settlement they always come out in debt. So their condition is really no better that that of the Mexican peons, who slave for-ever as creditors of their employers. The move-ment is thoroughly organized and on such a selid basis that no one in the South will real-tac how the colored tolks have escaped until all are gone who wish to go. We have a better underground railroad now than existed in the days of old John Brown. It was I who originated and conducted, under Governor St. John, the great exodus of my people from the State of Mississippi to Kansas in 1874. At that time I was editor of two newspapers in Kansas. We got over 60,000 colored people to move to that State, gave most of them a mule, and sold them forty acres of land each on five and ten years' time. It was a great success. Many of them are now rich; all are well-to-do." Work will be begun at once toward organizing the parties of Southern negroes who may desire to leave the South and settle in the Northwestern States. Rev. Mr. Henderson is sanguine that thousands and thousands of Southern negroes will gladly take advantage of the opportunity offered to escape "from bondage," as he puts it, and predicts that all who settle in the new land will thrive and prosper. He refuses, however, to go into details as to how these negroes, who do not possess a dollar, are going to travel several thou-sand miles, but says that every thing is arranged satisfactorily.

a Defaulter-Liabilities Over $500,000. Boston, Sept. 7.-The Douglas Axe Company is expected to go into insolvency, owing to defalcations by its treasurer, Dennison D. Dana. Dana is supposed to be in Canada. The liabilities of the company, it is said by a gentleman familiar with the case, will exceed $500,000, but it is hoped will not exceed $1,000,000. The deficit in Dana's accounts extend over several years, though the accounts were audited regularly. Dana received a salary of $6,000 to $8,000 a year and lived in good style, and is not known to have bad habits. He is a deacon in the Congregational church at Brookline and a teacher in a Sunday- which is there about 2,200 feet broad school. He has a wife and five children. He raised $10,000 before leaving.

It is learned that the case has been placed in the hands of the police and that to-day a criminal prosecution will be begun against Dana on the charge of embezzlement. It is thought there are sufficient grounds on which to secure his extradition should he go to Canada, and it is generally supposed that he has gone there.

BALTIMORE, Md., Sept. 7. - Secretary Tracy has ordered the Yantic, Pensacola and Ossipee to Baltimore to participate in the sham navsi battle and sham bombardment of Fort McHenry September 13, which closes the festivities in commemoration of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the battle of North-Point. The fort garrison and State militia will defend the fort Many prominent naval officers will participate in the naval engagement, and Secretary Tracy will probably witness the fight and review the naval procession. Nearly 4,000 troops, including regulars and State militia of Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, will take part in the sham battle at Pimlico September 12. The historic and industrial parade will be from six to eight miles in length. An army of 500 sons, grandsons and great-grandsons of the defenders of Baltimore will march in the historical division. The flag of the famous Twenty-seventh regiment and the musket carried by Roger B. Taney will be borne in the line. Since Eben Appleton, the grandson of Colonel Armistead, who commanded Fort McHenry during the bombardment, refused to loan the old flag to be carried in the historical division, twenty ladies have reproduced the old flag that Key immortalized in the song "Star Span gled Banner."

In the industrial section of the parade over 3,000 employes of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania railroads will march, and on twenty floats will be representations of the progress made since the time Peter Cooper ran the first locomotive on the Baltimore & Ohio. More than 300 floats representing the industries of Baltinore will be in the line.

Antwerp, Sept. 7.—A terrible explosion of dynamite occurred in the cartridge factory here Friday by which 150 persons were killed and 500 injured. The explosion occurred in a workshop where old cartridges were being taken to pieces. Men and women were actively at work breaking them up, and 25,000,000 had been partially broken when the explosion occurred. The factory was situated behind the docks, upon which millions of cartridges were being loaded. It was adjacent to the petroleum stores, and two large Russian warehouses, containing 80,000 barrels of oil, were set on fire and are now burning. Other stores are endangered. burning. Other stores are endangered. The Bourse, which is in the immediate vicinity, was also set on fire by the burning fragments. The loss will be many milion francs. It will be impossible to extinguish the flames in less than twenty-four hours. Several vessels have been burned.

Owing to the intense heat the firemen are unable to approach the flames nearer than 100 yards. Police, gendarmes and troops are assist-ing in the work of extinguishing the flames, while priests and Sisters of Charity are caring for the injured. The city is enveloped in dense smoke.

The fire is still raging and now covers two acres. The flames shoot up to an ira-mense height. SCOTLAND'S GREAT CALAMITY.

EDINBURG, Sept. 7. - Sixty-three men and boys have perished through the fire in the Maurice Wood pit near Penicuik, Midlocovered. The fire is one of the most dis astrous mining calamities that have ever befallen Scotland. Thursday morning sixty-five miners, including a contingent of boys, went down the pit to prosecute their calling, and all but two have perished. From the time of the alarm till now relays of men have worked at the task of rescue, but without any result. All through Thursday night there was kept up a struggle with overmastering fumes in puting up brattice work to obtain ventilation. Two or three men were let down an incline In a truck, and besides having to battle with the current of smoke so thick as to obscure all vision, their efforts were rendered almost of no avail by the force of the current itself, which threatened again and again to destroy their work as soon as it has been completed. After a shift the men would come to the surface with steaming eyes and perspiring faces. Their object was to reach the eighty-fathom level from which it was hoped it might be possible to turn the current to clear the in-

The men about 3 o'clock Friday morning came on the bodies of Jehn Walker and Hugh McPherson. Both bodies were found in the vicinity of the eighty-fathomengine. It was part of the duties of these men to attend to it, and they seem to have died at their posts. Dr. Badger, who examined the bodies on their arrival at the surface, says the corpses were frightfully scouched, not with actual fire, but with hot air in the pit, the temperature of which is stated to have been high enough to melt lead. The flesh adhered to their clothes, and the ghastly spectac was rendered the more hideous by the fac hat, on endeavoring to remove their boots the feet nearly parted from the lega.

Shortly after 8 o'clock it was found that the east side of the pit began to fall in, and in order to retain the sides and roof large numbers of props were utilized. A quantity of stuff, however, fell, considerably hinde ing the operations of the rescuers About 4 a'clock information' came that, altho six bodies were visible on the west side hey can not be approached. BOGUS ANTIQUITIES.

Boston the Great Manufacturing Center of New "Old Things."

Boston is even to the present day the great producing center of old furniture. By which it is meant to be implied that such antiquated household goods are not merely shipped from but actually manufactured in the customers at short notice with whatever they may desire in this line of any age back to the fifteenth century. If you want an armoire of Louis XI., or a bed after the style of George L, you have simply to send an order for it and it will be ready within a fortnight. Domestic equipments of all sorts, from one hundred to five hundred years old, are readily purchasable here, with every possible evidence of genuineness accompanying, at the lowest market rates. A few years ago agents used to be sent through all the rural parts of New England to pick up superannuated furniture of every kind, such as was found astray in farm-houses, village atties, country hotels, and elsewhere, having been handed down from generation to generation in the families of long resident natives. These families were usually willing enough to part with the treasures-valuable only in the eyes of the ethetically-disposed, for a song, and the dealers reaped a big profit. But now the supply obtained in this way has been practically exhausted. Relics of this sort have pretty much all been gathered in, and accordingly the demand has to be met by artificial means. It is the fashion in these times for rich Yankee people to have in their houses This costs money, but it produces a States comes chiefly from Smyrna. fine effect and is considered quite the With us it is used mostly as a medi-

Notes on the above chart.—The equal length of the dotted lines extending | Many times more Railways radiate in all directions from Chicago than from New York or Washington.

The population for 1890, given for each State, is partly estimated from the percentage of increase between 1880 and 1885 in States taking a census in the latter year, and in others from the increase between 1870 and 1880. But other circumstances affecting this increase have also been taken into account. Though some of the estimates may vary considerably from the actual count in 1890, the variations will be quite as great east of the Line as west of it.—As the West is much more rapidly populating than the East, there is no doubt whatever that by 1892 much more than TWO-THIRDS of all the people in our country will be found west of the Line, and therefore nearer to Chicago.

A local paper tells a startling story of the experience of the residents of a little suburb located on the hills, and ordinarily a charming place of residence, where recently there were twenty-five cases of typhoid fever in one street. Every family but two was visited by the scourge, and these were the only ones that did not drink from the suspected spring. This is about as clear a case as has ever been known. Investigation showed that the spring was within reach of contamination from an old and decayed cistern and also from foul surface drainage. The spring, with its treacherously sparkling water, is a terrible danger to the residents of crowded localities anywhere. It can only be safe when entirely isolated from impure surroundings, and this is only possible in the Dickinson's was the rival bank at cleanliest rural regions - Philadelphia

A Great Bait for Rats.

An interesting, not to say valuable discovery, has been made by Captain Weeding, in charge of the Zoo. The building is infested by rats, and how to get rid of them has long been a perplexing question. Traps were used, but nothing would tempt the rodents to enter. TELLING HIS CRIMES.

Bandit Holszay Details His Various Lone-Hand Plays.

Bandit Holszay, long the terror of the northern sections of Michigan and Wisconsin, now in jail at Bessemer, is twenty-five years old and by no means a desperate-looking fellow. The prisoner has confessed to all his crimes, and the other day he made the following statement to the officers who captured him:

"I did hold up the Milwaukee & Northern train. I don't just remember the date. I got s haul of about $60. I boarded the train at Maple Valley. I went through the train and spotted such men as I thought would be likely to have money. I then walked back and the first man I held up was the brakeman. I then held up a passenger and got $30 out of him. I also held up several other passengers and got small amounts. I had to take what they gave and I could not search them, as I was playing a lone hand. I also got a few watches, but none that were of much value. I did not have a sack to collect the boodle in. I held my gun in one hand and received the donations with the other. I got off at Ellis Junction and took to the woods. I also held up the Wisconsin Central train. I think it was August 7 or 8. I only got a small amount in cash. I got a few watches, two of which you have taken from Dentral train. I think it was August 7 or 8. 1 only got a small amount in cash. I got a few watches, two of which you have taken from me. The black pocket-book found on me was taken from a passenger on the Wisconsin Central train. You will find a $800 note and a lot of cards, which I think give the passenger' name. I have done several other little jobs, but these don't concern you and will do no good to tell, as they did not amount to much. I commenced business in this section some time this spring."

Her Face Was Her Fortune.

She was as pretty as a picture and so animated and lively that it did one good to look at her. She was all this but she is not now. Poor soul, the roses linger no more in her cheeks, the former luster of her eyes is gone. She is a woe-begone looking piece of humanity now. She has one of those troubles so common to women and needs Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It recuperates the wasted strength, puts the whole system right, restores the roses and the luster and makes the woman what she once was, bright, well and happy. Improvements in Passenger Cars.

The Wagner Palace Car Company is revolutionizing the equipment of its cars and making them superior to anything of the kind in the world. One of the greatest improvements is the lighting of the cars with gas. The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad Company is also equipping its passenger coaches with gas. About one hundred of them running out of New York City have been so equipped. The gas is compressed in a cylinder under each car, and one filling of a cylinder will last the round trip between New York and Chicago. The gas is made from petroleum, and furnishes a 60-candle power light as against a 16-candle power light under the old method. Coaches lighted with gas are as light as a parlor, and passengers can read as well in the night as in the daytime.—Rome (N. Y.) Sentinel. Improvements in Passenger Cars.

Do We Need Big Muscles?

By no means. Persons of herculean build frequently possess a minimum of genuine vigor, and exhibit less endurance than very small people. Real vigor means the ability to digest and sleep well, and to perform a reasonable amount of daily physical and mental labor without unnatural fatigue. It is because a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters enables the enfeebled dyspeptic to consume the allotted activity of every day life, as well as to participate without day life, as well as to participate without discomfort in its enjoyments, that it is such a pre-eminently useful medicine.
