THEOPHILUS LANDREAU, the discoverer of the immense beds of guano in Peru, is living in comparative poverty in Lima.

THERE is a pond in New Jersey where the sacred lotus of the East has become established and proved itself hardy, although in the winter the surface of the water is frozen over.

THE United States Senate Committee on Irrigation has closed its investigation and disbanded. A vast amount of information was gathered during the journey of twelve thousand miles.

ROBERT F. PORTER, the head of the census-taking bureau, estimates the colored people of the country at about eight millions—that is, one in eight or nine of the total population of the country.

NOW is a good time for forming reading and other literary circles or clubs. Young people can do much by means of such organizations to make the long winter months intellectually profitable.

THE greatest known depth of the ocean is midway between the Island of Tristan d'Acunha and the mouth of the Rio de la Plata. The bottom was there reached at a depth of 40,236 feet, or eight and three-quarter miles.

REPORTERS took a census of the worshipers who attended service in the various churches in New York on a recent Sunday, and the result showed a total of 164,526 persons, of whom 97,277 were women and 67,249 men. The weather was unpleasant.

A YEAR ago there were eleven prize fat women on exhibition in this country, but now there are only six. The others have gone the way of all flesh, whether fat or lean, and will be seen on earth no more. The fat woman market is now firm, with an upward tendency.

It is not a Yankee invention, for it originated in the brain of a Frenchman. Coats and trousers are hereafter to be made with large water-proof pockets, which will contain a small amount of carbolic acid. If the wearer falls into the water a small outlet will let in just enough water to create a gas, which will float the man for a number of hours.

If the most useful man is the happiest man, a gentleman in Steep Falls, Me., must enjoy supreme bliss. Besides keeping a general store to which he supplies the villagers with every thing from saleratus to gum, from candy to coffins, from cold soda to woolen stockings; he is also the village barber, sexton and gravestone manufacturer, and keeps a livery stable.

THE Russian oil wells along the shore of the Caspian sea, the prodigious field of which has exceeded in quantity the most noted wells in Pennsylvania, as might have been expected have more quickly exhausted the subterranean store of oil from which their production has been drawn. The yield for the last year has fallen one-half below the estimate, and the deficit will have to be made good in America.

A SAN FRANCISCO newspaper thinks that $12,000,000 is yearly "drained" by the Chinese through various channels from a city of 300,000 inhabitants. It figures this way: There are 40,000 Chinese in San Francisco. These persons earn at least $1 a day each, and above their board. That is $40,000 a day, $1,040,000 a month of twenty-five days and over $12,000,000 a year. Most of this money, it thinks, goes directly or indirectly to China, never to return.

WORKMEN have removed the log structure that served as Baltimore's first post-office from the spot on which it had stood 150 years to Monument square, and set it up alongside the great granite building, occupying a whole block, which was recently dedicated as the new post-office. The quaint old structure is fourteen by fifteen feet and twelve feet high to the dormer roof. The openings between the logs were plastered up with oyster shells and mud.

THE loss to California by forest fires this year is estimated at $25,000,000 in the value of the timber destroyed, while the deforesting of the mountains works great harm to the agricultural interests. The responsibility for these conflagrations is placed upon sheep-herders. The State's official foresters so report and the mountaineers affirm it. The herders drive their sheep upon land that does not belong to them. They eat feed that is not paid for, and burn down the forests through which they pass and in which they pasture their stock.

Did you ever hear of treating a horse after the manner of a first gentleman? Beasts of its intelligence are susceptible to kindness almost as much as are human beings, and feel to resent ill-treatment in much the same way. A team kindly treated, never struck with the whip, nor overworked, will do more for its owner than in any other circumstances. The man who interrupted a brutal driver whipping his overladen and balky horse in the street, by expressing it and uttering encouraging words, soon had the animal drawing the heavy load onward.

THE O'Sullivans are coming. There are twenty-seven of them in the family—father, mother and twenty-five sons and daughters. Nora O'Sullivan, the youngest member of the family, a flaxen-haired miss of fifteen years, was at the Mission of Our Lady of the Rosary at Castle Garden the other day. She informed Rev. Father Callahan that she had left her father, mother, thirteen sisters and eleven brothers in County Kerry, Ireland. She hopes to see the whole family in the States soon. She is the advance agent, as it were, of the great attraction.
