The New Crucifix.

We would call the attention of our readers to the magnificent crucifix, recently erected in St. Mary's church, as a memento of the mission, given by the Jesuit Fathers.

The figure of the dead Christ is life-size, and the face has a most realistic expression. The cross of solid red oak, 14 feet in height, and corresponds to the other church furniture. The crucifix which is really a master-piece, was imported from Paris. St. Mary's congregation is very proud of possessing such a work of art.

Rev. Reilly's Reception.

We copy the following from the Elgin, Ill., Advocate, of Oct. 26:
"The reception tendered Rev. J.
Edward Reilly, the Congregational pastor, last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Edwards was indeed a brilliant event
and no pains were spared to make everyone entirely welcome. As many as two hundred people assembled during the evening and all were presented to Rev. Reilly by the reception committee, consisting of Mrs. Frank Rover, Mrs. C. F. Hall,
Misses Emma Blow and Rosa Westerman.

Rev. Reilly occupied a platform in the bay window with Messrs. J. W.
Herrick and W. E. Walker at either hand who introduced all the guests to Rev. Reilly. All was the most enjoyable congeniality imaginable.
J. W. Herrick, president of the Y.
P. L. S., who gave the reception, made a neat address of welcome to which Rev. Reilly very heartily replied. Misses May Edwards and Georgia Smith played a violin and piano duet, Miss Jessie Newell recited "The Clown's Baby," Miss Anabel Cleveland contributed some instrumental music, Mrs. Fielder of Chicago recited "Cleopatra's Protest" in costume in a graceful and effective style and Miss Georgia
Smith sang a pleasing selection.
After this somewhat informal program sociability and refreshments were the prime indulgences. The young people and their assistants
may feel proud of the grand success
of the reception in every way, as it was an evening of perfect enjoyment to all who attended. All were given delicate souvenirs in remembrance of the occasion."

CHICAGO, ILL., MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1888.

The four new stars are not under statute added to the flag until Fourth of July next.

JAMES G. BLAINE and Melville W. Fuller, the present Chief-Justice, were reported on papers in August, Mo., as being 65 and 66 years old.

The number of public schools in Chicago for the year ending September 1, 1888, was 81,130, and the number of pupils, 2,000,000.

According to a paper read at a congress at Strasburg 32 per cent of all passengers in Prussia travel fourth class, 21 per cent third class, 20.1 second and only 8.9 first.

Among the aged domestic animals owned by Farmer Brown, of Tuscarawas County, O., are a dog sixteen years of age, a cat that is nearly seven years old, a rooster of thirteen summers and a cow of twenty-two.

More than 3,000 miles of railway have been built in the United States this year. At this rate of construction, there will be 5,000 miles of new road at the end of the year. This will mean an aggregate of no less than 100,000 miles in the country.

People who object to shutting up shop fifty-two days in the year would not make good citizens of Serbia, as it is stated that a law, rigidly enforced, compels all business to stop on Sundays and holy days, which count up one hundred and eighty in the year.

An Eastern Ohio invalid thinks he contracted rheumatism from a horse chestnut which he carried in his clothes as a preventive. He picked up the nut in the street, and now believes some one else had thrown it there after loading it with the disease.

A Kansas City policeman says, as the result of his official observation: "One reason there are such a great number of vagrants about is because so many men are without trades. It is difficult for a poorly dressed man to get a job unless he is a mechanic. A mechanic can always get work."

The fact that the passage of an electric current through a rose leaf will cause it to lose color was taken advantage of at a recent dinner in Paris. Instead of the ordinary card the seat of each guest was indicated by his name being inscribed in white letters upon a rose leaf at his place at table.

The fire loss in the United States and Canada for September was $7,735,903. This is an enormous destruction, but there is some comfort in the reflection that it is less than during the same month of 1887, when the figures were $11,000,000. The aggregate for the nine months of 1888 is $96,106,250, against $98,650,029 in 1887 and $93,183,500 in 1886.

The female clerks who have obtained positions in the Treasury Department within four or five years are mostly young women who have just passed through the normal schools and have entered the Government service through the civil-service examination test. They are a bright lot of young women.

Daniel Webster is in position to know what is going on in the world, he will recall with some astonishment that, as to a considerable portion of the territory included within the new Northwestern States, he once declared it was "so far off that it could never be governed by the United States," and that a delegate to Congress from there "could not reach Washington until a year after the expiration of his term."

Early last summer a young girl at Summerside, Prince Edward Island, wrote her name and address upon an egg, which subsequently found its way to Boston, Mass., among other shipments. The parents of the young lady visited Boston recently, and, strange to say, were introduced to the young Bostonian who had received the egg and asked them if they knew the young lady—their own daughter. Explanations followed and a correspondence was opened. The wedding is to take place in December.

The total coal consumption of the world is said to amount to more than 1,000,000,000 cwt. per hour. Of this quantity about 210,000,000 cwt. are required per hour in order to heat the boilers for stationary and marine engines, locomotives, etc. The production of pig-iron absorbs 100,000,000 cwt. and that of other metals 80,000,000 cwt. per hour. The average hourly consumption of household coal is reckoned at 200,000 cwt., but the total production is estimated at 30,000,000 cwt. to 33,000,000,000 cwt. per day, so there is a considerable margin.

Letters received in London from Zanzibar assert that the slave trade is openly carried on in the streets of that city at the weekly markets where slaves are exposed for sale with placards suspended around their necks, on which their prices are written. Women sell, if young, for £6 to £10 each. The capital for business is understood to be furnished by a rich firm of traders, the members of which are English. It is further declared that the local officials are in the pay of this firm, which thus secures immunity for its traffic.

The oldest bank notes were those first issued in China 2697 B. C. They were first issued by the treasury, but afterwards changed to the banks under Government control. The early Chinese "greenbacks" were similar to the modern bank notes, bearing the name of the bank, date of issue, the number of the note, the signature of the official issuing it, indications of its value in figures, in words and in the pictorial representation in colors or heaps of gold equal in amount to its face value, and a notice of the pains and penalties following counterfeiting.

DEATH AMID BLAZING OIL.

Train-Wreckers Cause a Horror Near Kokomo, Ind.—An Oil Train Thrown from the Tracks—The Debris Takes Fire, and Three Trainmen Are Burned to a Crisp.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 20.—A singularly horrible railroad wreck occurred on the Lake Erie & Western at this place Friday morning at a 4 o'clock, resulting in three men being burned to death. Several attempts have recently been made to wreck trains near Kokomo, but all have been thwarted by timely discovery. Friday morning, however, the villains succeeded. An obstruction of some kind was placed on the track near a switch just beyond a rivulet that runs south of the town and was so arranged that in the dim light of the early morning it would not be likely to be noticed by the engineer.

When a north-bound freight-train, which left this city at midnight, came along it struck the obstruction just after the locomotive whistle had been blown to give warning of its coming. The engine was thrown from the track upon its side and two box cars just behind were thrown into an adjacent field, while several flat cars piled upon them a dozen large tanks filled with oil. Besides the engineer and fireman, a brakeman who was at the time in the forward part of the car was caught in the wreck and was unable to release himself. As the contents of the tanks were emptied upon the locomotive the whole mass of wreckage was instantly enveloped in flames, and one after another the tanks exploded, throwing burning oil and debris 200 feet in the air.

The three unfortunate men were burned to death in a few minutes, and the heat was so intense that it scorched the paint on houses in the neighborhood, and, in some instances, melted window-glass. Nothing could be done toward rescuing the men. The burning oil flowed down into the rivulet and the stream was covered with flames, which reached up over a wagon bridge a few hundred yards below the scene of the wreck and completely destroyed it. Several of the cars were burned, but such as had not been thrown from the track were saved by being run down the grade beyond the reach of the fire. When the wreck occurred Conductor Tokes and Brakeman Hellchow, on the rear of the train, jumped to the ground and escaped injury. The men who lost their lives were Jacob Mehl, engineer; Ed Burnett, fireman; John Spellman, brakeman.

All killed in Peru, Ind. Mehl and Burnett, and families, but Spellman was unharmed. The charred remains of the bodies were taken from the wreck, and after an inquest by the county coroner were sent to Peru. The loss caused by the wreck is large. Eighteen cars were destroyed besides the cargo.

WESTERN FARM MORTGAGES.

A Demand to Have the Next Census Show the Extent of the Evil.

St. LOUIS, Oct. 26.—There is a growing feeling that the farmers and other wealth-producers do not receive an equitable return for their toil. The statements are repeatedly made that "the rich are growing richer, and the poor poorer," that 95 per cent. of the wealth of the country is owned by less than 5 per cent. of the population; that three-fifths of all the wealth is in the hands of less than 30,000 persons; and that the sturdy, self-respecting farmer is becoming the American peasant. Lack of facts upon which to base conclusions has rendered even theorizing valueless. The first requisite to an intelligent discussion of the subject being a knowledge of the actual facts in the case. An important step toward securing them, in fact the primary step, would be the collection of data to show to what extent the farms and the homes—the basis of our civilization—are owned by their occupants and free from debt. Mr. Robert P. Porter, Superintendent of the Eleventh Census, in reply to correspondence on this subject, says that the act authorizing the census did not contemplate the collection of these data, that before he can undertake the work there must be special legislation by Congress instructing him to do so, and that he will lay the matter before the Secretary of the Interior with a view to securing such legislation. There is no doubt that if a general public demand existed, the legislation could be secured.

With a view of creating such a demand, the Western Economic Association, of St. Louis, requests all bodies interested in the welfare of the producing classes to adopt resolutions of the following character, and to send them without delay to Washington:

WHEREAS, There is a growing belief that the farmers and other producers of our country do not obtain an equitable share of the wealth which they create, and that the farms and the homes of the country are very largely under mortgage; and

WHEREAS, Exact knowledge on this subject is of great importance in the study of the social and economic questions of the day; therefore, be it by (insert here the name of the body adopting the resolutions and the locality):

Resolved, That it is our judgment that the next United States census should show what percentage of the people in this country occupy their own farms and homes, and what proportion are tenants, and of those who occupy their own farms and homes, what proportion have their property free from debt, and of the farms and homes which are under mortgage, what percentage of the value is so mortgaged; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of this meeting be requested to transmit a copy of these resolutions to John W. Noble, Secretary of the Interior, Washington, D. C., and a copy to the congressmen from this district, with a request that he use his influence to have these facts collected and published.

SAMOANS AT WAR.

A Desperate Fight Takes Place Between the Followers of Malletto and Tamasee—Several Were Killed on Each Side and Many Wounded.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Advices from the Samoan Islands, received via Auckland, say that a desperate fight has taken place at Savali between the followers of Malletto and Tamasee. About 1,000 men were engaged in the battle, in which several were killed on each side and many wounded. With which party the victory rested the dispatches do not state, and it is probably unknown.
