

CLOAK! SPECIAL! SATURDAY! 18 PLUSH CLOAKS THIS DAY ONLY AT $16.99. Biggest Bargain

We have ever offered and bought especially for this Sale.

Respectfully,

GEO. H. KEMPF. HOAG & HOLMES.

We positively have more useful and ornamental holiday goods than any other house in Washtenaw Co.

We sell goods cheaper than any other house in the County.

100 Silk Plush Albums, extension clasp, good size, 49 cts. worth $1.
100 Scrap Books, good size, 10 cts.
500 Ladies and Gents fancy cups and saucers from 10 cts. up.
250 Lamps, extra good values, from 20 cts. up.
25 Dinner sets, 112 pieces, complete, $9.75, worth $15.00.
25 Tea sets, 56 pieces, $4.50, worth $6.00.
500 Pocket Knives from 5 cts. up.
1,500 Dolls, from 1c. to $3.00. Wholesale Prices.
25 Toilet Sets, 10 pieces, from $3.00 to $10.00.
500 pounds choice mixed candy, 10 cts. pound.
500 choice cloth bound books, 17 cts. each, 3 for 50 cts., 6 for $1.

We shall offer our entire stock, consisting of the most complete assortment ever placed on sale in Chelsea, at unheard of prices. We must

We Shall, We Will,

dispose of these goods. People wonder at the magnitude of our stock in a place like Chelsea, but we own the goods right, hence no trouble to dispose of them, and satisfy everybody.

Why we are in a position to offer you inducements not to be found elsewhere. We have been making preparations for holiday trade ever since last holidays, and does it not seem right to you that from such a stock as we have, you can better please yourself and purse than to make your selections from an assortment that is uncomplete and picked up in a short time.

Holiday goods are being sold early this season. We are already selling a good many Christmas presents. We invite an inspection of our stock and prices, knowing that if you will look, you will buy.

Respectfully,

HOAG & HOLMES.

Zero and There.

Thanksgiving day.
Four weeks to Christmas.
Read Glazier's new "ad." on last page.
The rains have done a great amount of good.
See Hummel & Penn's new "ad." on last page.
W. J. Knapp was in Detroit Tuesday on business.
Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lehman spent Sunday in Freedom.
The sunshine was very welcome in this vicinity last Saturday.
Mr. J. A. Crawford spent a few days in South Lyon last week.
W. F. Hatch has moved the express office to L. Winans' store.
Born, Friday, Nov. 22, 1889 to Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Lehman, a boy.

The brick work on the Wilkinson and Staffan buildings is almost completed.
There will be an oyster supper at the Lyndon church Friday evening, Nov. 29.
Mrs. Jacob Buehler and daughter,
Louise, are spending the week in Lansing.
Hoag & Holmes offer great bargains on holiday goods. Read their "ad." on first page.

Mrs. Savage has returned to Chelsea, after an extended visit with her son in Detroit.
An examination of teachers will be held in the village of Dexter, Friday,
Nov. 29th.

The Ypsilanti Sentinel comes to us looking bright and peppy under the new management.

While grading for the double track last Saturday some workmen dug up a human skull and some bones.

The fence around the Congregational church has been repaired, which was a much needed improvement.

Married, Thursday, Nov. 21, 1889, Mr.
Edison Koebe, of Freedom, to Miss Christina Finkbinder, of Lima.

Geo. H. Kempf will have a special cloak sale Saturday. It will pay you to attend.
Read advertisement on this page.

H. S. Holmes & Co. wish every gentleman to attend their suit, overcoat and underwear sale, which is now going on.

Mr. Fay, while raising a window one day last week, had the misfortune to break the glass, and cut his hand quite severely.

Mr. Frank Staffan, of Sylvan, and Mr.
John McKernan, of Lyndon, will serve as jurors at the December term of circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Finch, of Toledo, Ohio, are spending the week with their son, Dr. Finch, and family, of this village.

Joe Schatz is building a new fence around his residence, corner Summit and Garfield streets, which adds much to its beauty.

Mr. Louis Dettling, who has been very ill for the past eight weeks, is reported very low, with little or no prospects of recovery.

Mr. Jas. Mitchell, who has been a resident of Dakota for the past 20 years, has been visiting friends and relatives here the past week.

Persons donating articles for the fair will please leave the same with Mrs. J. C.
Winans on or before Dec. 2nd, 1889. By order of Com.

Mrs. Geo. Boyd has sold her property in Lima and purchased Geo. Blaich's residence on Summit street. Mr. Blaich has moved into the Robbins house on the same street.

While the bricklayers were finishing the fronts of the Wilkinson and Staffan buildings last Saturday, about 1000 brick fell from the top. The brick were wet which was the cause.

A Trades' Carnival will be held in the town hall Dec. 5th and 6th. Everyone should lend a helping hand, and we predict that the ladies who have charge of the affair will make it a grand success.

Hiram Lighthall has recently erected
Star windmills for the following persons:
David Lewick, Lima; John Buss, Freedom; Fred Trinkle, Lima; T. W. Baldwin, Sylvan; and Geo. Sayers, Munith.

Sunday morning a large iron gate was found floating from the top of the flag pole at the school house, and now the Village Board offers $10 reward for information that will convict the person or persons that committed the depredation.

The new fence on the east and south side of Mt. Olivet cemetery has been completed. Mr. Youm was busy this week, laying out a portion of the new grounds, quite a few removals of the remains of the dead from the old cemetery in Sylvan were made this week.

The Columbian Dramatic Association of St. Mary's church, Pinckney, will present the sterling play, "Danger Signal," in the Monitor House hall in that village next Friday evening. Vocal and instrumental music with two farces, will go to make up an interesting program.

St. Mary's congregation turned out in large numbers this morning to assist at Thanksgiving services, consisting of High Mass, celebrated by Rev. Father Considine, and followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The Rev. Pastor preached an appropriate and patriotic sermon.

Wedding Bells.

St. Mary's church was well filled last Tuesday morning with the many relatives and friends of Mr. Chas. E. Hindelang and Miss Margaret Doll, who had come to witness their marriage. The ceremony which was followed by a nuptial mass, took place at 9.30 a. m. Mr. Victor Hindelang, brother of the groom, and Miss Mary Doll, sister of the bride, were groomsmen and bridesmaids, respectively.

An elegant wedding breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's parents in the town of Dexter, at which only intimate friends and relatives were present. Many beautiful presents were received. Mr. and Mrs. Hindelang went to Jackson on a wedding tour.

The HERALD desires to extend congratulations and best wishes to the happy couple.

Whits.

There are over 2070 students in the U.
of M.

The G. A. R. at Jackson last week presented handsome flags to the two high schools of Jackson.

John George, jr., has purchased the Jackson Daily Patriot.

W. H. Talcott will sell groceries and practice law at South Lyon.

Mrs. Ann Starkweather has given Ypsilanti a public drinking fountain.

There are 8,237 farms in this county an average of 114.43 acres to a farm.

The Saline German school now has 35 scholars with a prospect of 50 or 60 in the near future.

Otsego county farmers are distressed because they find slow sale and low prices for their "tater crop."

A tangle in the Unadilla and Stockbridge charges, M. E. church, seems to be giving some trouble.

J. T. Campbell, formerly of the Leslie Republican, has bought the Mason News and taken possession.

An organization has been formed in the university to provide the hospital patients with fruit and flowers.

Nearly 800 students have signed a petition requesting the teaching of military training in the university.

The Young Peoples' Aid Society, of Howell, cleared about $140 from their Trades' Carnival last week.

The Methodists of Dexter want to change the basement of their church so that it can be used for socials, etc.

There are eight criminal cases on the docket to be tried at the December term of the circuit court at Ann Arbor.

The Petoskey Methodists are a humble folk, but all the same they are building a $10,000 church and will put a $1,000 pipe organ in it.

Warden Hatch will probably find out before he leaves the Jackson state prison that he cannot treat the prisoners confined there as pets.

The flag fever has caught the university.
A scheme is on foot to erect a pole 200 feet high, in the middle of the campus,
from which to float the stars and stripes.

Fred Webb, of Pittsfield, ordered some hunters off his place recently, and received an answer in the shape of shots fired at him. He was hit in three places, but not seriously injured.

A Gallen man who has been shut into close quarters by the fact that the Michigan Central railway has fenced in its right of way, says he will prosecute any man who ships anything to him by that road.

The Detroit Journal predicts that there will be a net cash surplus of $100,000 to be divided among the Detroit Charities, as the result of the 1890 Floral and Musical Charity Festival to be held April 23, 24, and 25.

The meanest man in Michigan lives somewhere within stealing distance of Carlton Court, Barry county. He broke into the cellar of a poor widow's house and stole her winter's supply of apples and potatoes.

Mind your own business, and always avoid repeating harsh and mean and censorious things which one person says of another, and you will escape many a trouble and heart burn, and so will those around you.

By the will of the late Millard P. Fil-more, of Buffalo, N. Y., a son of ex-President Fillmore, Mrs. Viola Newkirk, of Dexter, is to receive annually $400.
Mrs. Newkirk is a niece of the late President Fillmore.

It is a matter of official record in this state that diphtheria was communicated to three children by chewing a piece of gum that another child—then in the incipient stages of the disease—had given to her playmates.

There is nothing like figuring. The Michigan Central railway company has an official who has figured out that it costs that company $18,000 a year to do its whistling—and yet there isn't a man alive who will say it is worth listening to.

"The Toledo, Ann Arbor and all over Michigan, R. R." is the name given to that road by a Detroit paper some time ago, and if it keeps on, that will be about the only proper name. The latest scheme is a branch from Ann Arbor to Bellville, via Ypsilanti and thence into Detroit over the Wabash.

Facts & Figures.

Do you appreciate the FACT that we are working hard for your trade? If not, the following FIGURES may help to convince you that such is the case.

| | |
|-----------------------------------|----------------|
| Oysters, best standards | 15c per can |
| Oysters, extra select | 25c per can |
| 13½ lb granulated sugar for | $1.00 |
| 14 lb confectioners "A" sugar for | 1.00 |
| Starch | 6c per lb |
| Saloratus | 6c " |
| Yeast cakes | 3 & 6c per pkg |
| Finest tea dust | 12½c per lb |
| Good Japan tea | 20c " |
| Full cream cheese | 12½c " |
| ¾ lbs V crackers for | 25c |
| 6 lbs rolled oats for | 25c |
| 35 boxes matches, 200 to box, for | 25c |
| 23 boxes matches, 300 to box, for | 25c |
| 4 pounds best rice | 25c |
| Choice dates | 8c per lb |
| Choice mixed candy | 12½c per lb |
| Coffin bricks | 3c " |
| Finest roasted Rio coffee | 23c per lb |
| Fine roasted peanuts | 10c " |
| Water White Oil | 12c per gal |
| Hatchet baking powder | 20c per lb |
| Hoyle's baking powder | 42c " |
| Dr. Prices baking powder | 42c " |
| Sardines | 5c per can |
| 3 lb cans tomatoes | 10c " |
| 2 lb cans sugar corn | 9c " |
| Star Axle Grease | 5c per box |
| Hub plug tobacco | 45c per lb |
| Good plug tobacco | 25c " |
| Solier Tar plug tobacco | 35c " |
| Good fine cut tobacco | 28c " |
| Farmers' Pride smoking | 18c " |
| Good molasses | 40c per gal |
| Fine sugar syrup | 40c per gal |

All Goods Warranted.

Don't forget that we are headquarters for Drugs, Medicines, Wall Paper, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silverware, Books, Fancy Goods, and Paints and Oils, at hard pan prices.

Glazier, the Druggist,

Bank Drug Store, Chelsea, Mich.

Report of the Condition of the Chelsea Savings Bank.

At Chelsea, Michigan, at the close of business, Sept 30th, 1889.

RESOURCES.

| | |
|--------------------------------|--------------|
| Loans and discounts | $74,400.94 |
| Stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc. | 101,305.02 |
| Due from banks in reserve | |
| c'ties | 11,919.04 |
| Due from other banks and | |
| bankers | 10,204.47 |
| Furniture and fixtures | 8,559.89 |
| Other real estate | 6,950.50 |
| Current expenses and taxes | |
| paid | 524.76 |
| Interest paid | 125.81 |
| Checks and cash items | 21.13 |
| Nickels and pennies | 63.73 |
| Gold | 337.83 |
| Silver | 571.00 |
| U. S. and National Bank Notes | 2,881.00 |
| Total | $306,574.14 |

LIABILITIES.

| | |
|---------------------|--------------|
| Capital stock | $30,000.00 |
| Surplus fund | 7,601.92 |
| Undivided profits | 1,173.96 |
| Commercial deposits | 34,427.50 |
| Savings deposits | 113,941.76 |
| Total | $306,574.14 |

State of Michigan, County of Washtenaw, ss.

I, Geo. P. Glazier, of the above named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Geo. P. GLAZIER, Cashier.

(H. M. Woods,
Sam'l G. Ives,
F. F. Glazier,
Directors.

Subscribed and sworn to before me
this 4th day of Oct., 1889.

Thos. E. Wood, Notary Public.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE BY

Geo. F. Glazier's Loan and Real Estate Agency, Chelsea, Mich.

Farm No. 1—270 acres, located 2 miles south of Francisco, 6 miles west from Chelsea, 5 miles east of Grass Lake, adjoining Michael Schenck's farm on the south, known as the Wales River farm. One of the best soil farms in Michigan. There is a comfortable frame house, a large frame barn 114 feet long, 2 small barns, 2 good wells of water, wind mill, corn house, henery and tool house, orchard and a fine vineyard of one acre. 180 acres of land fit for the plow, besides ample woodland. In all it is one of the best grain and stock farms in Michigan to make money from.

Farm No. 15—103 68-100 acres, situated 2 miles from Chelsea, near school, on good road, and in an excellent neighborhood of Eastern people. There is a frame dwelling house of 20 rooms (large and small), a frame barn 28x56, also a stock barn 100 feet long, wagon house 20x30, brick smoke house and fruit dryer, 2 good wells of excellent water, medium sized orchard, 80 acres of plow land, remainder good timber land. No waste land whatever. This is a superior located farm, under high state of cultivation. The owner desires to retire from active work and will sell for $35 per acre.

Farm No. 22—350 acres, 5 miles from Chelsea and 5 miles from Dexter. Large frame house near school house, barn 40x50 also one 30x40, 2 sheds 20x40 each, two wells, a windmill conducting water into house and barn, orchard with plenty of small fruits, and other improvements. 180 acres of plow land, 80 acres of timber and 30 acres of marsh. Soil, gravel and sandy loam. Very productive. A farm to make money both in cropping and as an investment.

Farm No. 38—Consisting of four separate 40 acre tracts of Beech and Maple timber land, in Cheboygan county, Michigan, near Sturgeon River. Price $19.50 per acre. The owner will accept in part payment, good property in southern Michigan. A good chance to trade for desirable farm land.

WARM SHOES FOR COLD WEATHER.

Felt shoes with felt soles. Leather foxed shoes with felt lining. Eid shoes with flannel lining. Velvet and plush slippers for Christmas.

I have taken great care in selecting these goods, and am confident that I have what the people want at the right price. I solicit your inspection of my goods before you buy.

Respectfully,

B. PARKER, Boot and Shoe Dealer.

Given Away on February 1st, 1890.

On that day I will give away a $35 White Sewing Machine with numerous attachments, on the following plan: Every person buying one dollar's worth of goods for cash, can guess on the number of kernels of corn in a sealed dish on the machine, and the person guessing the number of kernels, or the nearest to the same will be given the machine free of charge. My stock consists of Groceries, Gloves, Mittens, etc., and everything is sold at bottom prices.

Nothing extra will be charged for guessing privileges. Look at the machine in the show window. Yours, etc.

R. A. SNYDER'S.

BLAICH BROS.,

Don't forget to get our Prices on Crockery, before buying elsewhere.

We have just received a fine line of Hanging Lamps and Stand Lamps, and we have a complete line of Glassware, also nice Chamber Sets, and a full line of yellowware.

We are also headquarters for Fine Groceries, and will try and make prices right. Respectfully,

BLAICH BROS.

GENTLEMEN

ATTEND

H. S. HOLMES & CO'S

GREAT

SUIT, OVERCOAT AND UNDERWEAR

SALE,

That is now taking place at No. 5,
South Main St.

Choice 50 Suits at $9.

Choice 50 Suits at $10.

200 PIECES

OF

GENTS' UNDERWEAR,

AT 32 CTS.

All other goods in these departments at reduced prices.

H. S. HOLMES & CO

THE CHELSEA HERALD. Epitome of the Week.

A. ALLISON, Editor and Proprietor.
CHLSEA, MICHIGAN

INTERESTING NEWS COMPILATION.

THE town of Orlando, Fla., has an ordinance forbidding saloons to be less than 200 feet apart.

The newspapers of Italy are raising subscriptions to erect a monument to Columbus on American soil.

GERMANY is importing live hogs from the United States, and the new enterprise is said to be profitable all around.

The United States cruiser Thetis, which has just returned to Sitka after an extraordinary cruise, is the first steam vessel that ever went to the mouth of the Mackenzie river, in the Arctic Ocean.

Miss ADDIE HAMILTON, just appointed a notary public in Washington by the President, it is said is the second of her sex ever appointed to a similar position in Washington, the other lady being Miss Emma Gilletty.

ONE of the oldest men in the public service at Washington is Mr. Lawrence, of the Post-Office Department. He has sworn into office all the Postmasters-General and their subordinates since Jackson's administration.

A BUFFALO paper says that Niagara river, below the falls, is unusually low, and what is more singular, the waters have been gradually falling for the past three or four years. It is still from 150 to 200 feet deep, however, and is not likely to dry up yet awhile.

Miss ADELIN HORN, described as a finely-educated and strikingly beautiful young woman, daughter of the richest man in Fleming County, Ky., killed herself the other day with morphine because her parents opposed a matrimonial engagement she had formed.

A SENSATION has been created in the City of Mexico by the sermon at Baltimore recently of Archbishop Ryan, who declared in favor of the right of Catholics to criticize the faults of priests. Such practices in Mexico have usually been followed by excommunication.

A FOSSIL forest has been discovered near Francon, in Scotland. Forty or fifty fossil tree trunks have been already laid bare, and the full dimensions of the forest are as yet unknown. One of the trunks is about three feet in diameter, and they are for the most part of freestone.

GENERAL F. E. SPINER will always be remembered gratefully in Washington as the public official who first suggested the advisability of employing women to do Government work in the departments. Before his time there was not a woman in the public service. There are now more than four thousand women working under salary from the Government in Washington alone.

THERE is a plant in New Granada known as the "ink plant," the juice of which serves, without the least preparation, as ink. The writing at first appears red, but in a few hours assumes a deep black hue. Several sheets of manuscript, written with this natural ink, became soaked with sea water on their journey to Europe, but when dried the writing was found to be still perfectly clear.

The King of Siam is about to send five Siamese boys to the United States to be educated at his own expense. The boys are to be placed in charge of an American missionary, and will probably be sent to school in Pennsylvania. It is the King's custom to educate the sons of the noblemen and the Princes of his domain in various countries, and when they return to Siam appoint them to high Governmental positions.

THE growth of the organization known as the Christian Endeavor Society is phenomenal. Three years ago last July there were 1,400 members in New York State, and about 50,000 in the world; a year ago there were 11,310,000 members, of whom 58,000 lived in New York; to-day there are 500,000 Christian Endeavorers and New York heads the list with 80,000 names, three-fourths of whom are church members.

THREE members of the sophomore class of Yale College were about to be expelled recently for hazing freshmen, when the class came to their assistance, in a body and promised that if the sentence was not executed they would refrain from hazing for the present. On these conditions the faculty agreed to suspend punishment until the next offense. The strain on the students in the meantime, however, is something intense.

On Broadway, says a New York Star man, I met General Abner Doubleday. The veteran was trudging along with the throng, carrying his seventy odd years with ease. He is stopping at the Grand Hotel, where so many army officers dwell when in New York. The queer military hat which the old General used to wear in war times is still on his head, or, rather, one just like it. General Doubleday is one of the three surviving officers of the bombardment of Fort Sumter, and he is very proud of the fact. I think he was next in rank to Major Anderson.

An extraordinary state of things is reported from San Francisco. A Chinese company has passed sentence of death upon Mok Lem for giving testimony in an American court, which served to convict one Lee Sing of murder. It is not contended that the latter was innocent, but that one Chinaman should not give evidence in an American court to convict another Chinaman. The call properly remarks: "Some way must be found to get hold of the officers of societies that set up their authority against that of our courts." The secret Chinese societies are difficult to reach, but the effort should be made.

THERE is no immediate danger of the United States becoming overcrowded, for Joseph Nimble, Jr., shows in Frank Leslie's paper that since independence was achieved the United States Government has been the largest owner of arable land on the earth. The total area of the "public domain," sold and unsold, amounts to 1,849,073,587 acres and constitutes 72 per cent. of the total area of the United States, including Alaska. About 700,000,000 acres of land have been sold and donated, and 1,150,000,000 acres remaining unsold. As the area of Alaska is 589,500,000 acres, the area unsold is about 750,000,000 acres.

FROM WASHINGTON.
On the 18th a committee from the National Convention of Commercial Bodies visited President Harrison and urged him to recommend to Congress the passage of a bankrupt law embodying the Torrey bill. The President promised that he would give the subject careful consideration.

THE sessions of the International American Congress commenced on the 18th. They will be secret.
THE Register of the Treasury in his annual report on the 21st shows that during the year 21,500 bonds, amounting to $103,894,350, were issued, and $5,149 bonds, representing $231,511,450, were canceled. The total amount of bonds outstanding was $762,428,513, of which amount only $10,362,586, or 1.36 per cent., were held abroad.

THE Treasury Department refused on the 21st the request of E. Ward Ford, president of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, that concern be allowed to import fifty skilled laborers.
COLONEL W. W. DUDLEY and James W. Tanner, both ex-Commissioners of Pensions, on the 21st formed a co-partnership in Washington in the pensions and claims business.

THE EAST.
DISPATCHES of the 18th from Hartford, Conn., say that Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," had become demented.

On the 18th the war ships Chicago, Boston, Atlanta and Yorktown, in command of Admiral John G. Walker, left New York for a cruise in European waters.

JAKE BUZZARD, one of the notorious outlaw brothers, died on the 19th in the Eastern penitentiary in Philadelphia.

MANY streams in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania had overflowed their banks on the 19th, owing to heavy rains, and a number of towns had sustained considerable damage from the floods.

On the 19th H. H. Warner, of "safe cure" fame, sold his business in Rochester, N. Y., to an English syndicate for $5,000,000, he to be president of the new company.

A FIRE destroyed the Seneca Hotel at Baldwinsville, N. Y., on the 20th and the building adjoining. Loss about $250,000. The guests at the hotel had a narrow escape.

PITTSBURGH advices of the 20th say that a syndicate had been formed to control the Monongahela valley coal region, including the carrying trade. The district named employs eighteen thousand miners.

On the 21st David E. Day, of Buffalo, N. Y., was elected General Grand High Priest of the general grand chapter of Royal Arch Masons in session at Atlanta, Ga.

A SQUARE-HEADED vessel was wrecked near New Bedford, Mass., on the 21st and all on board perished. One body was washed ashore.

LONG & CO., of Pittsburgh, Pa., iron manufacturers, failed on the 21st for $500,000.

AT Pittsburgh, Pa., the Lawrence Bank, an institution incorporated under the State laws, suspended on the 21st with liabilities of $700,000.

LARGE sales of so-called Jamaica ginger in York County, Me., aroused the suspicions of the prohibitionists, and the discovery was made on the 21st that the stuff contained a large amount of alcohol. Sellers of the compound would be prosecuted.

On the 21st John R. Williams, thirty-three years old, of Marblehead, Mass., was taken ill with hydrophobia and died after suffering terrible agony.

WEST AND SOUTH.
FIRE destroyed the pottery factory of Knowles, Taylor & Knowles at East Liverpool, O., on the 18th. Loss, $250,000.

On the 19th Mrs. William Nelson, of Hamilton, Ill., succeeded in finding a sister for whom she had been searching thirty years.

CITIZENS of "Somerset, Ind., were startled on the 19th when the fires in their natural gas stoves went out. Investigation showed that the gas in the well which supplied the town had given out completely.

On the 19th the new fast overland mail train from New York arrived in San Francisco, having crossed the continent in 4 days, 9 hours and 45 minutes.

THERE were over one hundred cases of diphtheria on the 19th in Lancaster, O., and all the public schools had been closed.

TWENTY-SEVEN men were placed on trial on the 19th at Topeka, Kan., for the murder of the sheriff of Stevens County a year ago.

ROBERT CROCKETT, noted as a counterfeiter, was jailed at St. Joseph, Mo., on the 19th for passing five-dollar bills of such expert workmanship as to deceive bank cashiers.

On the 19th Alice Jackson, the missing St. Louis heiress, was found in the convent of the Good Shepherd, where she had been placed by her guardian's son-in-law.

WHILE insane on the 20th Mrs. Nathaniel Straney, of Pulaski, Mich., took poison and forced her eighteen-year-old daughter to do the same, and both died.

MR. POWDERLY, in a speech before the session of the Knights of Labor at Atlanta, Ga., on the 20th, said the organization was in better shape than ever before and the outlook was the brightest possible.

A BUTTING match between two powerful negroes occurred at Kansas City on the 20th. The fight was to a finish and both contestants were terribly battered about the head when the combat ended.

TESTIMONY offered by the defense in the Cronin trial in Chicago on the 20th was directed mainly to strengthening the alibi for O'Sullivan, the keeman. The chief witnesses were Mrs. Thomas Whalen and her sister, Miss Kate McCormick, both of whom testified that O'Sullivan was at home on the night of May 4. Miss Danahy and William Coughlin also testified that Martin Burke was in the former's saloon from 7:30 to midnight on the night of May 4.

THE CRONIN TRIAL.

Testimony Given by Witnesses in the Murder Case.

Efforts of the Lawyers for the Defense to Secure Alibi—Friends of the Prisoners Testify—Proceedings in the Murder Trial.

Efforts to Prove Alibi for Coughlin and O'Sullivan.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—In the Cronin trial yesterday Peter Koch testified to the reason for Coughlin and Kunze being seen in the vicinity of the Cronin house last April and May. He said Kunze boarded at his house and was connected with the Sheffield distillery explosion, and possessed certain papers which Coughlin carried on him, and which he finally secured by getting Kunze drunk.

Captain Schack, recalled, read from his notes the description of the man who drove the white horse. It was the intention of the defense to impeach Liverny's testimony regarding the description of the white horse driver. There is a difference between Dinah's description and that furnished by Captain Schack to the reporters.

For O'Sullivan, Jeremiah and James Hyland, cousins, tried to impeach the testimony of Nieman, the Ashland avenue saloon-keeper, who swore that O'Sullivan and two men, whom he partly identified as Dan Coughlin and John Kunze, were together in his place drinking sherry about 11 o'clock on the night of May 4. The Hylands swore that it was their victim, Nieman's, who was the man who was with the white horse, and that the time was Sunday night, May 5, instead of Saturday night.

An alibi for Coughlin was the next thing in order, and ex-Detective Mike Whalen, Coughlin's old partner, was called to the stand to lay the foundation for it. He said that on the night of May 4, between 7:30 and 8 o'clock, he saw Coughlin standing in front of the Chicago Avenue saloon, and about 9 o'clock he saw Coughlin and Officer John Stiff went into Maloney's saloon next to the station and had a drink together. He claimed also to have seen Coughlin at regular intervals until nearly midnight, when he went home.

Officer Stiff, the next witness, corroborated Whalen in the statement he made as to drinking with Coughlin in Gleason's saloon on the night of May 4. He said that he saw Coughlin on May 4, he received instructions from Captain Schack to instruct the patrolmen to inquire at lively saloons as to what horses were kept out at night. On the cross-examination it was shown that it was impossible for him to have received such an order from Captain Schack on that Sunday morning, because no less than three witnesses had testified that he was on duty at the station until Sunday afternoon.

William Mulcahy, in the employ of O'Sullivan, the keeman, said he was present when the conversation between O'Sullivan and old man Carlson, in which Carlson swore that he knew O'Sullivan about his tenant Williams, and O'Sullivan replied that Williams was all right, and that the rent would be paid, came up. Mulcahy declared that he heard O'Sullivan tell Carlson that he did not know the tenant. He swore that on May 4 O'Sullivan was with him on the ice wagon. They returned at 5:30 in the afternoon. After unloading the horses they went into the house, had supper, and remained in the kitchen until 9 o'clock. O'Sullivan passing the time reading and looking over his accounts. Then he went to bed, and O'Sullivan remained in bed all night, except when he got up a moment about 9:30 o'clock to let his men in. He was familiar with the fact that between Dr. Cronin and O'Sullivan, when he went to bed, O'Sullivan had been troubled with a bad foot and the keeman advised him to go to Dr. Cronin for treatment as he, O'Sullivan, had a contract by which his men were to be treated by the doctor.

Thomas Whalen, brother of Mike, and first cousin of O'Sullivan, then took the stand and corroborated Mulcahy's testimony referring to the supper being at home on the night of May 4 and going to bed about 9 o'clock.

William Glenn, a reporter, testified that Mrs. Conklin told him on May 19 last that Captain Schack brought a white horse to her day before, and that it was very much like the one that took Dr. Cronin away.

Three witnesses, Robert Boyington, a carpenter who boarded at O'Sullivan's, and James Keighly and James Meahan, two of O'Sullivan's employees and members of his household, followed each other on the stand and swore that O'Sullivan was at home on the night of May 4. Patrick Brennan, who worked for O'Sullivan in April and May, testified that O'Sullivan and Mulcahy went to bed about 9:30 o'clock. He himself went to bed a little later.

Edwin Jones, a reporter, testified that he and two other reporters having heard some vague reports of blood-stains in the Carlson cottage, but not taking any stock in the rumors, secured some absorbing cotton and a piece of linen, got into the basement of the cottage they discovered the cotton, stained with blood from the river, in the crevices and rat holes they found. Their purpose was to work up a sensation. Having disposed of their bloody cotton in the basement, they concluded they would go through the rest of the house. They broke open the front door, saw blood stains on the front steps and in the front room, and foot prints in the hall. They took some chips from the blood-stained part of the floor. They did not take any of their cotton or linen.

In reference to the Hyland saloon-keeper, Nieman denies that he ever saw either of the men. Nieman will go on the stand and swear that on Sunday night, May 4, he had a "grand opening" and that his saloon was crowded the entire evening. The Hylands swore that there was no one present when they entered, and O'Sullivan save the bar-tender.

THE SIXTH New York district Charles H. Turner, a Tammanyite, was nominated for Congress on the 22d.

At Center Point, Ia., John Hendrickson fatally shot his wife and blew off his own head with a shotgun on the 22d. Domestic trouble was the cause.

In New York City on the 22d Thomas Morgan, Patrick McDermott, O. Katerba and Ella McNamara committed suicide for various causes.

A TERRIFIC snow-storm raged on the 22d in the neighborhood of Missoula, Mont. Railroad traffic was blocked and four serious wrecks were reported on the Northern Pacific.

A RABBIT dog was killed on the 22d at Marion, Ind., when in the past six days had bitten ten persons.

FATHOMERS & Co.'s general store and stock at St. Johnsbury, Vt., were damaged by fire on the 22d to the extent of $100,000.

WALTER F. PERRY, a half-breed, killed the three-year-old son of Philip Fisher on the 22d at Weymouth, Mass., by burying him alive in a yard.

A SKIFF in which were three unknown men capsized in the Ohio river near Point bridge at Pittsburgh on the 22d and the men were drowned.

JAMES SMITH, a New York letter-carrier, driven desperate by his wife's desertion, shot his two little children fatally on the 22d and then shot himself, but he was not seriously hurt.

The schooner C. B. Church, which left Baltimore October 19 with 1,324 tons of coal for Boston, was on the 22d given up for lost. Captain J. T. Gallagher was accompanied by his wife and child.

MR. JOHN MALONE, of Lincoln, Neb., was fatally burned on the 22d by the explosion of a gasoline stove.

During the seven days ended on the 22d there were 277 business failures in the United States, against 287 the previous week. For the corresponding week in 1888 the number was 296. The total of failures in the United States from January 1 to date is 10,107, against 9,502 in 1888.

THE CRONIN TRIAL.

Testimony Given by Witnesses in the Murder Case.

Efforts of the Lawyers for the Defense to Secure Alibi—Friends of the Prisoners Testify—Proceedings in the Murder Trial.

Efforts to Prove Alibi for Coughlin and O'Sullivan.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—At yesterday's session of the Cronin trial Louis Budenberg, Jr., of Hoboken, N. J., said that last spring he was living in Chicago, and that he was in the East. While in Chicago Dr. Cronin had been frequently pointed out to him, and by sight he knew him well. On May 4, about 7 o'clock in the evening, he stood in the doorway of a cigar store just opposite Dr. Cronin's residence, and saw the doctor accompanied by a man coming hastily from his door and getting into a buggy. The man with him unbuttoned the horse, and while doing so some one came up and talked with the doctor, who just before driving away took something out of his pocket and gave it to the one with whom he was talking. The witness described the horse as a spotted gray, with dark legs. He was looking at the horse and buggy for ten or fifteen minutes. He said he saw Dinah's horse in the stable museum, and it was not the one that took the doctor away.

Marshall D. Ewell, a professor of microscopy, testified that so far as he knew there was no method known to science by which it is possible to distinguish the difference between the blood and hair of a horse and dog, and that the blood of a human being, except County Physician Mayor and Dr. Leslie Curran corroborated the opinion.

Woodruff has made another confession. His last story is that he told his first yarn under instruction from Dan Coughlin. The story he told when first arrested was that the body of a woman in a trunk was put into a wagon driven by him, and that he was the driver. A man named "Doc" by those with him said, "I didn't think poor Alice would go this way." The story was told, so says Woodruff, as a part of the conspiracy to remove Dr. Cronin. The impression was got up that the doctor had killed a woman by criminal practice and for that he had fled the country. The doctor's pretended appearance in Canada was a part of the plan, and next some one was to see him in Europe. The finding of the doctor's body frustrated the further carrying out of the plot.

TO STOP A MONSTER INIQUITY.
Opening of an International Anti-Slavery Congress at Brussels.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 20.—An anti-slavery congress opened here Monday, Prince De Chimay, Belgian Minister for Foreign Affairs, presiding. He addressed a few words of welcome to foreign delegates, which were responded to by the Minister of the Netherlands. He congratulated the king and the Belgian Government upon the initiative they had taken. Baron De Lambermont, the Belgian Minister of State, was unanimously appointed president of the congress. He delivered a speech in which he traced the history of the slave trade and pointed out the great humanitarian interests which rendered it the duty of civilization to put a stop to that which Livingston had designated a monster of iniquity. Delegates were present on behalf of the United States, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Belgium, Denmark, Spain, Congo Free State, France, Great Britain, Italy, Netherlands, Persia, Portugal, Russia, Norway and Sweden and Turkey.

AGAIN AFTER ARMOUR.
The Senate's Sergeant-at-Arms Goes to Chicago to Subpoena the Millionaire Packer to Appear Before Senator Vest and His Fellow-Committeemen.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Sergeant-at-Arms Canada, of the Senate, has arrived here bearing subpoenas for Phil Armour and several other Chicago beef and pork packers to appear before Senator Vest's committee of cattle industry next week. These gentlemen, it will be remembered, refused to respond to the subpoena of a deputy sergeant-at-arms in this city last summer, and Senator Vest intends, if they again refuse to obey the will of the committee, to have them brought before the Senate in contempt, and, if possible, punished. If he is not able to enforce his proposals to have a new law enacted, increasing the power of committee to secure the attendance of witnesses.

Mr. Armour accepted service of the subpoena in his office Monday afternoon, but Messrs. Morris and Swift could not be found.

RASCALS AT WORK.
Train Wreckers Cause a Disaster in Canada Which Results in Serious Injury to Two Men and the Killing of 100 Sheep.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Nov. 19.—An east-bound freight train on the Michigan Central railroad was derailed at Stevensville Sunday owing to a switch having been designedly misplaced by unknown parties. The train was running thirty miles an hour. The engine was turned upside down, carrying Engineer Readon, his fireman, and brakeman, Murray, in the ruins. Reardon is badly injured. Murray is hurt internally and will die. Seventeen cars were completely wrecked, over 100 sheep killed and the track so badly torn up that nine hours were required to clear the road. A reward of $500 has been offered by the company for the arrest of the wreckers.

TIED OF HORSE MEAT.
A Movement in the German Reichstag to Rescind Restrictions on the Importation of Cattle.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—In the Reichstag Monday Herr Barth, a Progressist, moved to rescind the restrictions on the importation of foreign cattle. Herr von Boetticher protested that the law aimed to preserve the health of German cattle. Disease continued to rise abroad. The increase in the price of meat was not confined to neighboring countries. The interdiction against the importation of cattle was not the sole cause of the advance in prices. It is true that many Germans are devouring horse meat, being unable to pay the prices asked by butchers.

MRS. STOWE LOSES HER MIND.
The Writer of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Finally Becomes Demented.

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 20.—Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe is mildly demented. Day by day she wanders around under the bare boughs of the autumn trees, gathering their leaves like a child. She is quite harmless. Only last week she wandered out on to the street alone. A shawl which hung from her shoulders dragged on the ground, and her gray hair was in disorder. She smiled and talked to herself as she trotted wearily along, and finally a crowd of rough street-boys were following her. They laughed and jeered at the pitiful sight, not knowing who she was.

Chambers Indicted.
St. Louis, Nov. 19.—The St. Louis County grand jury in session at Clayton presented an indictment for murder in the first degree against R. M. Chambers, who killed Lawyer F. J. Bowman.

Chambers pleaded not guilty and said if he had violated any of the laws of God or man he was willing to suffer for it.

READY TO CLOSE.

The Defense in the Cronin Case Has But Few Witnesses Yet to Hear—A Synopsis of their Side of the Case—An Uninteresting Session of Court on Friday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The defense in the Cronin case closes to-day, and Attorney Forrest so announced at the adjournment of the morning session of court. Not one of the defendants will be put on the stand. The question as to whether it would be policy to put any of the five men on the stand has been fully discussed by their attorneys. It has finally been decided that the greatest confidence in the work is not to be placed in any of the men, and that there is danger, in the excitement of the sharp cross-examination that they will surely be subjected to, that some damaging statements will be made. Not even Beggs will be asked to clear away the evidence about the "inner circle" and the appointment of a secret committee.

The rebuttal will commence Monday and will not last over two days, and by Thursday next the great batteries of oratory will be opened.

When the State rested its case a week ago last Wednesday a brief synopsis of the charges against the accused and of the evidence brought against them individually and collectively was given. A summary of what the defense has proved—presuming that the witnesses who have been called shall be deemed more worthy of credence than those of the State—is briefly as follows:

That no secret committee was appointed at the meeting in Camp 26 February 4 for the purpose alleged in the testimony of Thomas F. O'Connor, Henry O. O'Connor, W. J. Kelly, J. P. O'Connor and others. For the defense Joseph Lyman and Walter Gibson allege a direct negation.

That the horse which took Cronin away was the white horse hired at Dinah's livery stable, as Mrs. Conklin and Frank Scanlan testified, the evidence of Louis Budenberg is on record that it was a spotted gray instead of a white horse. To impeach Mrs. Conklin's identification, Captain Schack, Officer Koch and Reporter Glenn swore that at one time Mrs. Conklin declared before the white horse, that it was not the right one.

That the wounds on the body found in the catch-basin were not necessarily fatal, as alleged in the indictment, the testimony of Dr. Major, Curtis and Andrew implies a doubt, but all these authorities admitted on cross-examination that the allegations in the indictment were consistent with a probable theory.

That the blood-stains and hair found in the trunk and the Carlson cottage were not produced from a human body the testimony of the above witnesses and of Marshall D. Sewell directly contradicts that of Prof. Haines, Prof. Tolman and Dr. Leslie Curran.

That the blood-stains in the cellar of the Carlson cottage (which were not mentioned by the prosecution) were not those of human blood, Reporter Jones testified that he had placed them there and that they were from the liver of a ox.

That Dr. Cronin did not enter the Carlson cottage as sworn by Mrs. Horrel is proven by the testimony of Salzman fixing the date of a minor point sworn to by the woman as occurring the same night at a date later than May 4.

That the defendants were not in the neighborhood of the Carlson cottage the night of May 4 the evidence of Officer McDonald, Stiff and Mike Whalen was brought forward for Coughlin; Mrs. Whalen, James McCormick, Tom Whalen, James Knight, James McDaniel, R. Boyington and Pat Brennan for O'Sullivan; Constable Gleason for Beggs; and Matt Danahy, W. F. Coughlin and J. F. O'Malley for Burke.

That O'Sullivan, Coughlin and Kunze were not drinking together at Nieman's saloon May 4 the evidence of the Hylands and the witnesses from O'Sullivan's house.

It is the general opinion around the Criminal Court building that Burke, O'Sullivan and Coughlin will hang, while opinion is divided as to the rest of the defendants—Beggs and Kunze. Some declare that they will be allowed to go, but other witnesses point to the Anarchist case, the evidence against Neebe and the sentence he received.

It was rumored around the Criminal Court building yesterday that the defense would explain away the blood in the Carlson cottage by the testimony of two private detectives, who would swear that they had a prize-fight in the cottage a few days prior to May 4. The testimony will also show, it is said, that Burke was interested in the fight and was present at the time, and that several other witnesses the blood on the coat.

At yesterday's session of the trial Mrs. Pauline Horrel, who testified for the prosecution to hearing Dr. Cronin's death cries while passing the Carlson cottage on the night of May 4, was called by the defense. Mrs. Horrel testified, for the State that she was locked out of her house the night of May 4, and after returning home from her search for her husband she was compelled to sit on the doorstep all night. The defense merely desired her to repeat her statement.

Then August Salzman was called. Salzman said he helped Frank Horrel, husband of Mrs. Horrel, put a new lock on the door of the Horrel home, and that the change in locks was made May 8. He could remember nothing else, whatever, on his cross-examination, except that about a week ago he spoke to saloon-keeper Ertel about the lock, and soon after was notified that the defense wanted him as a witness.

Dr. Edmund Andrews swore that the wounds described by the doctors who made the post-mortem examination of Dr. Cronin's body would not necessarily cause death.

Policeman Stiff then appeared to correct a statement made in his direct evidence relative to the time he issued the order to hunt for the white horse by saying that it was on May 6 instead of May 5.

Then ex-Detective Jake Lowenstein, for the purpose of showing that an interested motive prompted John Garrity to testify against Coughlin, swore to the existence of an enmity between the two occasioned by Coughlin having frequently when on the force arrested him.

HERBS FOR HOME USE.
TANSY makes a very good tonic. MINT is a very useful herb, having a good effect in cases of a sick or sour stomach.

ANY kind of herb poultice is very soothing. Prepare the meal as if for mush, and then add the herbs.

A CHICK hatched at York, Pa., first saw the light of day through three eyes. It had two mouths, but did not know how to use either, and died.

NEXELT to maintain proper insulation of wires is the cause of most of the fatal accidents by electric wires in New York lately, according to experts.

Two coat dealers at Fort Huron hid exactly the same figures for supplying the city with 800 tons of coal, and then they tossed a coin to see which should have the contract.

A LADY of Newville, Cumberland County, N. Y., has a piano which was owned by the wife of President John Quincy Adams. The instrument is still in excellent condition.

A HOR poultice is especially soothing on account of opiate qualities possessed by the hop, and for this reason a hop pillow has a happy effect on a person suffering from insomnia.

AT THIS OFFICE.

FOR THE BEAST!

Mexican Mustang Liniment

THIS GOOD OLD STAND-BY

remedies for every body exactly what is needed. Over the years for the great popularity of this Mustang Liniment is found in its universal applicability. Everybody needs much of it. The Housewife needs it for general use. The Cattleman needs it for his team and his cow. The Stockman needs it for his horse and his cow.

The Blister needs it in case of emergency. The Pioneer needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Stockman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Horseman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Stockman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Horseman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Stockman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Horseman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Stockman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Horseman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Stockman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

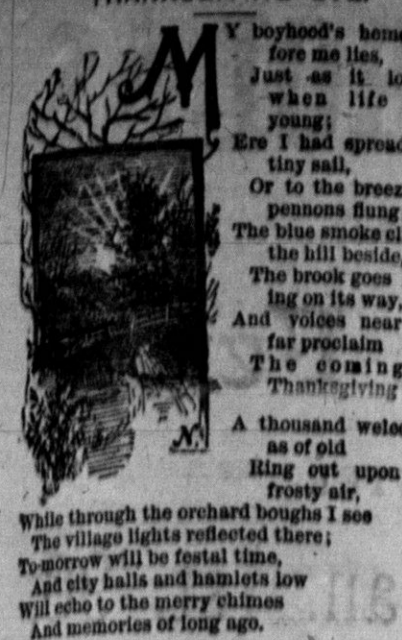

The Horseman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Stockman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Horseman needs it in his journey, his state, and his stock yard.

The Stockman needs it in his journey, his

THANKSGIVING EVE.

boyhood's home before me lies, just as it looked when I was young; Ere I had spread my tiny sail, Or to the breeze my pennons flung; The blue smoke curls the hill beside, The brook goes singing on its way, And voices near and far proclaim The coming of Thanksgiving Day.

A thousand welcomes as of old Ring out upon the frosty air, While through the orchard boughs I see The village lights reflected there; Tomorrow will be festive time, And still the merry chimes Will echo to the merry chimes And memories of long ago.

We all are young who gather here— The stars of three score years and ten, Type lightly with his sweet grandchild, The guest of our youngest men; For who cares aught for wrinkles now? Or does he care his locks are gray? His heart beats light with love and joy, The feast of our Thanksgiving Day.

Now let the slumber come again, In that old chamber in the old, And wake up from his dream and hear The night winds through the casement swell, No merriment has a grander sound, Or softer down on cheek to rest Than mine will be, for oh, my friends, I'm once more in my boyhood's nest!

—H. S. Washburn, in Watchman.

MY OLD DEAR.

A Pathetic Picture for Thanksgiving Study.

(Written for This Paper.)

HE farm was shrouded in November twilight and had a foreboding air, but this was by no means an air of untrifling or neglect. A typical Ohio farm-house of the better sort, with evergreen-crowded front yard and outbuildings stretching away from the rear, dimly outlined itself against a hill background.

The hired man came from the barnyard with two frothing pails of milk, and was met at the side door by a stranger who had labored with the front knocker in vain.

"Good evening," said the stranger, "My name is John Thomas."

"Does Mr. John Thomas live here?"

"Yes, sir."

"Is he at home?"

"He can't very well be anywhere else," replied the hired man, with an explanatory grin. "He's been little since a year ago last August, and can't go nowhere unless he's carried out. I tend to the business of the farm for the old folks."

"My business is with him, not with the farm," said the stranger.

"Step right into the house, then," invited the hired man, himself leading the way with his pails of milk.

"Aunt Susan," he announced in the familiar tone of one who feels the dependence of his employers, "here's a gentleman to see uncle."

The clean kitchen, bright with lamp-light and preparations for a country supper, held nothing else as heartening as the old woman who turned from her cooking-range. Her ripples of gray and auburn hair, patient, blue eyes and trim and active figure won the young man, though he tried to regard her with callous indifference.

She took him into an inner room where a table was spread at the elbow of an old man propped in an easy chair. It was a comfortable room, full of pleasant living, and signs of such opulence as an aged agricultural couple might care for on the mantel over the log fire stood a delicate clock and two vases of those mums known as winter bouquets.

Locked in the calm of paralysis the useless farmer met and resisted that approaching stranger's gaze. A lamp burned in the middle of the table. It showed every cast-iron line of the invalid's grizzled face. His weakness brought him to the door. He took refuge in it and covered himself with it from the past in search of him.

"Dear, here's somebody come to see you," said the old wife, bestowing this delight upon her husband and a chair upon the stranger. "The neighbors have all been so good, but it isn't often I have a stranger to our house now. I think it's so much better for Dear to see folks," she comforted to the young man, "than to sit alone in his affliction."

Her caller stood by the hearth, declining a seat and holding his hat. He was a hale, blond man, carrying with him the air of the busy world. Success had already set confidence in his face. He was a power confronting that wrecked old man, for whom he could feel no more pity than one gives a badly crushed snake.

"We don't eat in the kitchen since Dear had his stroke," apologized the old wife, her mind half lingering with her dishes on the range. "It's handier for him to have the table here. I'll bring him right in, and you'll sit by and take supper with us."

"No, thanks." The stranger took a paper from his breast pocket and unfolded it. "My business is brief. I came to hand this document, copied from one I retain, to Mr. John Thomas."

"It's a note or deed," said the wife, "I'll read it to him. Dear can't hold any thing in his hands now."

She took her spectacles from a work-basket, and coughed and reached for the paper.

The young man put it behind him with a flashing action of the muscles surprising to himself. The firelight made her mild spectacles glare.

"This is a business matter," he apologized, blushing. The old man sat like a sphinx, and left his innocent and tender guardian to encounter his fate.

"Well, my dear you would rather read it to Dear yourself," she suggested.

"I would, if he must have it read to him."

"Are you a lawyer?" she inquired, timidly.

"I am. Perhaps I forgot to mention that my name is Eugene Laplace."

"Seems to me I have heard the name somewhere."

"Your husband has. It is a name he knew well twenty years ago in the West. My father was his partner."

"There, now, Dear," cried the lovely old woman. "Company has been sent to us for this Thanksgiving. I knew we wouldn't have to sit down to our turkey by ourselves, if we are a lone couple. You'll take supper, of course. And where is your horse?"

"I walked here from the hotel in your little town," explained the young man. "It isn't far."

"Dear won't have the son of his old partner stop at any tavern," she remonstrated. "We don't send the hired man for your things, and you'll stay right where you are. Beds ain't so scarce in this house that a friend's child can't sit down and stay."

The young man folded his paper and put it back in his pocket.

"I'll call again," he said, in a blundering manner unusual to him, and his anxious hostess, seeing that he desired to get out, indicated the front entrance, and, mindful of dignity, conducted him herself into the chill hall. She shut the sitting-room door and leaned against a panel, her figure collapsing downward.

A fan-light, shaded by green paper, threw ghostly lines on her face in the dark. Upstairs the wind had found some crack through which it uttered a mournful cry.

Laplace stood still, feeling that he could not stop the front door and escape, leaving this sweet old woman sobbing.

"I don't often break down so," she said, clearing her face with her apron. "It was thinking how different you see Dear from the way your father saw him. He was such a fine figure, and so respected. They made him justice of the peace, and he could have been elected county recorder—and there he has to sit before folks now like a dummy. O my Dear—my poor old Dear!"

"Don't cry," said Laplace, hoarsely, from his throat. "My mother used to cry like that, after my father died."

"Is she living?"

"No. She, also, died when I was a child."

"You would be such a comfort to her. Our boy would have been man grown, and how I could depend on him now! I thought that was trouble to have his little face nipped up from my sight. But when Dear was struck down and made a living corpse—she covered her face with her hands and sobbed."

"I didn't come out here to take on, and my wittles on the stove and Dear needing me. I came out to urge you'll take your dinner here to-morrow. You know Dear can't speak. I have to be nice for him. He can't invite his friends, no matter how much he wants them. We would take it so kind."

"If I can," promised the young man, desperately. "I will come."

"Dear will enjoy it so much. He used to be the prettiest talker! He could argue down anybody in a controversy. I always have this to comfort me—there never was a man of more upright character than he was before the affliction. He lived without a blemish."

"But you will spoil him with indulgence now," said the lawyer, trying to smile.

Her sincere and anxious face received the sign.

"Yes, he's husband and baby both to me now. If he was of a size to bundle up and carry around it would ease my feelings. What was the paper you wanted read to him? If you leave it to me I can read it when I'm reading him an evening chapter."

"It can wait—it doesn't matter," said Laplace, opening the front door. "There's some promise of snow to-night."

"Yes, and you better turn your collar up around your ears. Come early to-morrow. We can't get out to the preaching."

Perplexity deepened in the young man's face as he trudged into the town, and continued to deepen after he had shut himself in his chamber of the rural inn. A box stove with its length of red hot pipe and a stooping ceiling bounded his restless striding. A coarse home-made carpet failed to muffle his steps. A kerseane lamp revealed him with his hair over his face gnawing his mustache.

"I'm not a fool," he said aloud. "I'm not going to have justice knocked off the track by a little sentiment. My mother suffered from the act of that old rascal. My father died of it. I grew up in poverty that he made. I could have read the accusation straight out to his old image—his condition couldn't touch me a bit! But he has that woman set up in front of him; I have to pierce through her to get at the old thief. His past blameless life is her comfort now! What would she do if she saw this?"

He took from his breast an old paper having a broken red wafer on parts where it had been joined, lighted and chewed a cigar and sat down nearer the lamp. This document was the original of the paper he had attempted to deliver. It was a statement made by Laplace's father just before death, and had been sealed up against the boy's twenty-fifth year. It specified how many head of cattle John Thomas had robbed his sick partner of, how many thousands of dollars not his own he had absconded with; it contained affidavits of witnesses, and indicated the part of the country from which John Thomas had come, and from which his movements might be traced after the lapse of years.

The young lawyer had identified his man, the oppressor of his mother and his childhood, where he could blast the man's reputation and strip him of all he owned.

"And I will do it," said Laplace. He rose up and walked the floor again. He thought of a girl who were a ring for him and whom he could marry at once, without waiting on the slow law practice of a young man. So long had poverty pinched him there was rapture in thinking of the things he could give her when he had wrested his father's dollars back. Beautiful journeys, an abundant home, with none of the mean stings of poor people to degrade life in it. A family would grow around them. Fortune should make it up to the homeless boy for the way she had treated him in the past.

"And she'll be as fond of me as that old woman is of her husband Dear. But that old woman would! If I trampled down that old woman I would! It's actually the woman I have to deal with. The old responsibility goes. But am I going to rob my family? If I am, chicken-hearted now how will I feel when I use? It's unfortunate she's where the hammer's going to strike. Confound a great lumber of a man that would hurt that tender old thing! Suppose it were my mother. But who had mercy on my mother?"

So he went on, talking about the room, while his watch ticked the hours. Suddenly, after midnight, he opened the stove and dropped both wafered document and copy in. They flared up and turned to ghostly parchment, showing written characters for a moment, and then melting down and becoming nothing. He replaced the stove-lid and threw his arms wide.

"I won't take revenge on any woman. My mother never meant it that way. No less a man if I took my rights creature like that one. I'm young, I can work for my family. The Lord Almighty may punish old Dear, and I'll do without my money."

Upon that he went to bed and slept the sleep which hardship teaches to her nurselings, until the landlord pounded at his door about dawn.

"What's a'fore?" asked Laplace, sitting up in the nipping air.

"Thomas' hired man's come after you," said the muffled voice of the landlord, "to take you out to their place."

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

The hired man, waiting solemnly with a democrat wagon and brick team, informed Laplace that the undertaker had

placed the body in the coffin, and that he had been waiting for Laplace to see the body.

"I'm not going out to their place," responded the young man. "I'm going on the first train. You tell him to tell Mrs. Thomas I have an engagement. I can't take dinner with her to-day. (Plague take people that get up at three in the morning and sit on the fence with a lantern!)"

"I guess you'll have to go," urged the landlord. "The old fellow's had another stroke, and he's dead."

DYNAMITE IN A PRISON.

One of the conspirators in the recent Plot to Blow Up the Michigan Penitentiary at Jackson Confesses—Irving Latimer, the Matricule, the Ring-leader in the Scheme.

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 21.—Irving Latimer, the Jackson druggist, who murdered his mother last winter and is serving a life sentence for that crime, was at the bottom of the fiendish conspiracy to blow up Jackson prison, and perhaps kill scores of convicts in order that he and a few fellow plotters might escape if they were not themselves torn to pieces by the explosion. One of the convicts who entered into the plot has made a full confession, which shows that the failure of Latimer's latest dynamite scheme was due to the merest accident and reveals a state of affairs which reflects little credit upon the management of the institution.

The story of the explosion which came so near blowing the south wall of the prison to atoms Monday night was told Wednesday by Frank Howard, a ten-year convict from Antrim County, who has been here only a month. While a private session of the board of prison inspectors was in progress Howard was brought before them. He is badly frightened, and says that if either the convicts in the prison or their pals outside get wind of his squealing they will surely kill him. He found he had no chance to escape from prison or being found out, and so he made a clear breast of it in hopes of escaping severe punishment. Howard said that John Donovan, from Ogemaw County, was persuaded by Latimer to manage the plot, and agreed to liberate Latimer if the scheme succeeded. Since Latimer's exploit last winter he has been closely watched, but not so closely but that he was able to instruct Donovan what to do and how to obtain dynamite with which to work. Donovan was with Howard when the dynamite exploded, and the two made a rush for the shatter-proof window, but found their scheme had fallen through. Howard said:

"The day I came here I approached him and wanted to know if I could get some dynamite. Donovan said he had nearly three sticks, but he was afraid he had not enough to get any as he had no friends in Jackson. Donovan said we were to release Latimer if he blew up the wall, and that he was the man who concocted the plan. I tried to get dynamite but couldn't, and old Donovan had some dynamite, but Latimer friend for some time. He was found and the letter was found and that scheme headed off. Then Donovan wanted me to go in with him and we would try the walls with what we had. When the dynamite exploded in the school-room we left our cells. Donovan dug a hole with the chisel in the masonry, laid the dynamite, placed the caps, lit the fuse and then we stood back and waited, but the window didn't come down and so we were caught. We threw away our revolvers and ran to our cells. We waited to go back on Latimer, but he could not help us and so we thought we would see what dynamite we had and take the chances. I suppose I'll get punished for my part in the job, but I can't help it now. We didn't have enough of the stuff or we would be free to-day."

Clerk Avery related how he had obtained Howard's confession. "I found," said Captain Avery, "four culminating caped up in a piece of calico among the debris after the explosion, and one revolver. I then searched Donovan's cell and found the piece of calico from which the one inclosing the caps had been torn. I found a chisel with a padded head in Howard's cell. Then I had Howard brought in from the solitary and showed him what I had found and he weakened and told me the story."

Last winter a plot similar to the one that failed on Monday was discovered by the prison authorities, who learned that dynamite had been smuggled through the gates and thrown over the walls by friends of Latimer, and enough of the terrible explosive was found in his cell to destroy a large building. How closely he has been watched since is shown by the fact that he was able, while associating with other desperate criminals, to engineer a fresh plot.

LABOR AND CAPITAL.

Chicago Board of Trade Managers Addressed by President Powell, of the Philadelphia Arbitration Council.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Mr. George May Powell, of Philadelphia, president of the Arbitration Council, addressed the managers of the Board of Trade Tuesday afternoon. He explained the objects of the body over which he presides. Arbitration is only a minor aim. Its chief work is the prevention of conditions creating causes for arbitration. He reported encouraging results from their agitation of profit-sharing in railroads, manufacturing and commercial concerns. One railroad which has followed the plan for ten years reports no lives lost, no serious accidents, and the greatest prosperity in its history. The Council is sending out documents showing gratifying results from public school savings banks. It also advocates postal savings banks and a reduction in rates on third and fourth-class mail matter. The savings bank means homes and growth of individual business, and the man with even a humble sum in bank, or who owns even a humble home or business will not carry the red flag or throw bombs. The council claims that elimination of ethics from political economy is the chief cause of industrial friction, and such elimination kills the goose that lays the golden egg. Therefore, there is no more dangerous or unprofitable citizen than a native American who has lost his conscience.

CRUSHED TO DEATH.

Three Michigan Miners Lose Their Lives by a Fall of Rock.

NEAHOKE, Mich., Nov. 21.—A heavy fall of rock occurred at the Buffalo mine at midnight Tuesday night, and more or less of the ground, sunk from ten to 150 feet. The great mass fell into the underground workings of the mine and seven miners were blown by compressed air into a shaft from the drift they were working in. Three, one a Swede and two Finns, were killed. One of the others was badly hurt. The other three will recover.

PIERCE CHOSEN SENATOR.

He Will Serve the Long Term from North Dakota—Johnson Leads the Race for the Short Term.

BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 21.—The houses of the Legislature voting separately Wednesday elected Governor Gilbert A. Pierce the first United States Senator from North Dakota, and by a unanimous vote gave him the long term. The name of the second Senator is in doubt, but M. N. Johnson is far in the lead. Governor Miller delivered his first message to the Legislature Wednesday afternoon.

TOLD FOR A LAUGH.

MOTHER (suspiciously)—"If you haven't been swimming how did you get so wet?" Little Dick—"That's no swimming, mother! I was just playing in the water, and I don't disobey you an' go in swimming!"

PROFESSOR—"Gentlemen will please close their books." After a lapse of a few seconds, observing that his polite command has not been obeyed, he adds: "Those who are not gentlemen will please close their books."

BOSTON is greatly agitated by the announcement that peanuts are a cure for rheumatism caused by dyspepsia, and the discoverer of the new opiate has felt it necessary to announce solemnly that he uses "baked peanuts."

A HOTEL guest at the Thousand Islands asked the colored waiter what game he liked best, and received the reply: "Almost any kind of game I'll suit me, but what I like best is an American eagle served on a silver dollar." And he got it.

FRANCIS O'Connor, the noted charlatan, in a speech in the British House of Commons once referred to the possibility of Beebeeb becoming sovereign, whereupon Sir Robert Peel dryly observed: "The honorable gentleman would then certainly expect the assistance of the crown."

CHIEF JUSTICE—"This man whom you have arrested is wonderful! He is a woman. How did you recognize him?" By the way he fumbled for his pocket! "A student—No! I watched him go into a store, and he bought the first thing he priced and then came right out."

"Then you think you really appreciate the music of Puccini?" "Puccini?" said, in a quizzical sort of way. "Well, yes—That is, I think I do. Once in awhile, you know, the instruments seem to be all out of tune and wander a little, but when the man hits the bass drum solid all is clear to me!"

A LADY who has been spending some years in India advises her friends who visit that country not to look too much at culinary matters. Going into her kitchen one day she was shocked to see her cook washing the coffee-pot with a sock. "Why," she exclaimed, addressing him in the language of the land, "how came you to use a sock for such a purpose as that?" "Madame," replied the man, as though air of injured innocence, "the sock is an old one."

CATARRH.

Catarrah Disease—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, and that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and the catarrhal tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby Catarrh, Hay Fever and Catarrhal Deafness are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of three cents in stamps to pay postage by A. H. Dixon & Son, cor. of John and King Street, Toronto, Canada—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from Catarrhal troubles should carefully read the above.

SOME of the compound Kalamazoo Greek names suggested for the kind of murderer by electricity are more terrifying than the thing itself.—Hartford Courant.

YOU may sing of the beauty of springtime that grows on the cheek of the young. But a line of beauty that's rarer than any of which you have sung. The beauty that's seen in the faces of those who have won it, whereby the sun-kissed beauty that charms us for more than the beauty of spring.

But this beauty is seen too rarely. The faces of most women lose the beauty of youth too soon. Female disorders are like frost which come to nip the flower buds of youth and health, without which there can be no real beauty. If our American women would fortify themselves against the approach of the terrible disorders so prevalent among them, by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, their good looks would be retained to a ripe old age. This remedy is a guaranteed cure for all the distressing weaknesses and derangements peculiar to women.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, one a dose. Cure headache, constipation and indigestion.

Don't heap coils of fire upon your enemy's head. Remember that coal is six dollars per ton. Economy is wealth.—Troy Press.

A Weekly Magazine

</

DOWN GO THE PRICES!

We have too many suits.

In order to move them livelier we are going to cut the prices all along the line. From the big fat man's suit, down to the little two-year-old kilt suits.

NEW GOODS,

and the latest styles.

Prices Reduced

ON

EVERYTHING

We are offering 15 styles men's

OVERCOATS!

worth from $12 to $16, for $10.00

Don't Fail to See Them.

Don't forget that we are headquarters for fine children's clothing. Yours, etc.,

W.P.SCHENK,

Corner Main and Middle Streets.

STAR.

Short, not in stature, but in time, to write up advertisements. If you want to see me for the next four weeks you will have to call early.

Everyone is after the Star Windmill, as usual, and our pumps and fixtures for wells. Don't forget the place.

H. LIGHTHALL, Chelsea.

BOILERS

STEPHEN PRATT'S
STEAM BOILER WORKS.

(Established 1835.)

Manufacturers of High and Low Pressure and Steam Heating Boilers of all kinds, smoke pipes, breechings, etc. Old boilers taken in exchange for new. Rivets, boiler plates, and boiler tubes for sale. Cor. Foundry st. and Mich. Cent'l R. R. tracks, DETROIT, MICH. v19n30

FIRE! FIRE!!

If you want insurance call on Giltbert & Crowell. We represent companies whose gross assets amount to the sum of $45,000,000.

TO MACKINAC

Summer Tours.
PALACE STEAMERS, LOW RATES

Four Trips per Week Between DETROIT, MACKINAC ISLAND
St. Ignace, Chicago, Alpena, Marquette,
Ontonagon, Grand Haven, Poplarville,
St. Clair, Oakland House, Marine City,
Every Week Day Steamer

DETROIT AND CLEVELAND
Special Sunday Trips during July and August.

OUR ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLETS
Rates and Excursion Tickets will be furnished by your Ticket Agent, or address
E. B. WHITCOMB, Gen. Pass. Agent,
Detroit & Cleveland Steam Navigation Co.
DETROIT, MICH.

Why Wear Pants

that do not fit or wear satisfactorily
when you can buy the Detroit
Brand, that are perfect in style, fit and workmanship. 13

JACOB BROWN & CO'S
PERFECT FIT PANTS and OVERALLS.
ASK FOR THEM.
And Accept No Other.

THE "PALACE"

Barber Shop & Bath Rooms,
CHelsea, MICHIGAN.

Ladies hang out in the latest style.
CRAWFORD & RIEMENSCHNEIDER.
First door south of Chelsea House.

AUCTIONEER.

GEO. E. DAVIS,

Chelsea, Mich.
Orders by telephone or otherwise from any part of the state promptly filled.
Terms reasonable. Office in W. J.
Knapp's Hardware v19n7

Local and Business Pointers.

Fred Schumacher and Will Conlin, of Ann Arbor, spent Thanksgiving in town. Married, Wednesday, Nov. 27th, 1889, Mr. Chas. Depeux to Miss Lillie Armstrong, both of Chelsea.

The C. F. D. ball Wednesday night was a grand success, despite the bad weather. Mrs. Rush Green is visiting friends in York State.

It is not our custom to puff articles of merchandise, but in duty to our subscribers we cannot help mentioning the excellent brand of stoves sold under the trade-mark of Garland Stoves and Ranges. A complete line at the Corner Hardware.

The oldest judge in the history of jurisprudence is Judge Lynch. And yet he hasn't been a fellow of regular habits—just seemed to hang around in spots.

Dressed dolls with movable arms, 5c per dozen, at Glazier's.

A three-in dash: Money, mirth, misery. We would be pleased to have you examine our goods before buying elsewhere. Hummel & Fenn.

Happiness is rest, and rest is contentment. Full cream cheese at Blaisch Bros.

Now there's Jeff Davis—but the good do die young.

Glazier has put the knife into prices and cut things right and left.

New York continues to believe that all things come to him who waits, and to illustrate it by waiting for the big show of '92 to sit right down there.

Hummel & Fenn's prices on all goods are way down.

The grub makes the butter; the blacksmith makes the fire fly.

Don't fail to get one of those fine baskets, made in Japan, filled with one pound of good tea, at Blaisch Bros.

Switzerland has built 1,000 inns since tourists began to visit her.

Glazier's prices appear to be cut.

Tempering copper, a lost art, is again accomplished.

Don't forget that Hummel & Fenn are selling Holiday goods.

Auburn, Me., has the biggest shoe works in the world.

See Hummel & Fenn's display of holiday goods before you buy.

Pittsburg has the biggest ax factory; makes 3,000 per day.

Oranges and lemons at Blaisch Bros.

This country has 1,000 canning factories and leads the world.

A sacrifice hit. Glazier's great hit in his kut rate bargains.

A full line of Perfumes and Toilet Powders at Hummel & Fenn's.

Cigar-shaped boats are the latest wrinkle in naval architecture.

Fine clover honey at Blaisch Bros.

Hudson will bond itself for $30,000 to put in water works.

It will cost you less for Christmas presents than it ever did before, if you buy at Glazier's.

A fast mail train has been put on the Lake Shore road.

We notice that Hummel & Fenn have a full line of Holiday goods.

Redheadville is the name of a new town in Onego county.

There is no temptation to steal goods when Glazier sells so cheap.

Good morning! Do you drink Glazier's coffee for breakfast? It is the best.

An insurance company conducted by women has been established in New Orleans.

New Cape Cod Cranberries at Blaisch Bros.

A groan in time saved an Ottawa man from burial alive. He uttered it just as his casket was being lowered to the grave.

In the general run of things, people who wear Glazier's strengthening plasters get there.

Another new store has been built in Dexter.

The money you might save by trading with Glazier, the Druggist. Just think of it!

The Dover Mills were consumed by fire last week.

Who sells cheapest? You are right, Glazier, the Druggist, of course.

Michigan has sent over 250,000 barrels of apples to New York this season.

Unique and artistic Christmas presents at kut prices are a specialty at Glazier's.

The case of Sarah A. Cole vs. the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Co., which was tried in this circuit last December and the plaintiff was awarded $5,000 damages, how goes to the supreme court.

House to rent, apply to Phil. Keusch, Chelsea.

Grand Rally.

Merchants' and Tradesmen's Carnival. The above is the title of an entertainment to be given at the town hall on the evenings of Dec. 5th and 6th.

The business men of Chelsea will be represented by about forty young ladies in costumes appropriate to the business or trade which they represent.

The entertainment will consist of a grand march led by a drum major, and two captains. A variety of figures will be represented during the march, giving opportunity for the audience to appreciate the novel and fantastic costumes.

The carnival will be held in connection with the Congregational fair.

On the second evening, in addition, music will be furnished by a male quartette of Ann Arbor.

This will be a grand entertainment. Admission only 10 cents.

North Lake Breezes.

Miss May Frazier spent last week at Gregory.

Mr. H. M. Twainley was in Detroit on business last week.

B. H. Glenn called on a friend at Gregory last Sunday.

The presiding elder of the M. E. circuit held a meeting at the church last night.

Mr. C. J. Becker, of the Cleary business college, called at North Lake last week.

Mrs. Alice Secor, of Detroit, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Reade and family.

Perry Noah has purchased a 9 months scholarship at the Cleary business college at Ypsilanti.

James Harris has nearly completed his house and will move his family into the same this week.

The Ladies aid society will give a social at the residence of Mr. P. W. Watts, next Thursday evening. All are invited.

A letter from the Webb Bros., of Dakota, states that they have received from their farms 8,000 bushels of wheat this season, which will at least net them $4,000.

The flouring mills and three barns, which belonged to the Birkett Manufacturing Company at Birkett, were consumed by fire on Monday night of last week.

Marion Porter has obtained a scholarship for 12 months in the Cleary business college, and is now in this locality assisting C. J. Becker, of Ypsilanti, in securing students for the college.

The result of the shooting match last week was 27 counts in favor of Herchel Watts and staff. The oyster supper was excellent, although on account of the inclement weather a great many were unable to attend.

Dr. Vaughn, who has had 13 years experience as professor in the medical department of the State University at Ann Arbor, joined Dr. Palmer last Sunday in council in Miss Lucy Webb's case. Dr. Vaughn pronounced Dr. Palmer's past treatment the very best possible. At present she is about the same.

The Lyceum will have many new features the coming winter. A lyceum paper was established last Saturday evening which we think will be a source of amusement. The debate was decided in favor of settling national disputes by arbitration. The question for next debate is: Resolved, that if the farmer received a better margin for produce, all would be benefited. Chief on affirmative, Perry Noah, chief on negative, Marion Porter.

Nearly Ready.

The Detroit Journal Year Book for 1890, will be ready for issue about Jan. 1st. It will be sent free to all old and new subscribers of the Journal. It has been thoroughly revised, and nearly all the matter it contains, as well as the cover, is entirely new, the latter being beautified by an elegant floral design. It is a beauty.

Notice.

Lost, last Friday evening, on the Territorial road near Hiram Pierce's, a log chain about 18 feet long. Finder will be rewarded by leaving the same at this office.

Markets.

Chelsea, Nov. 27, 1889.

| | |
|----------------------|--------|
| Eggs, per dozen | 17c |
| Butter, per pound | 18c |
| Oats, per bushel | 30c |
| Corn, per bushel | 20c |
| Onions, per bushel | 40c |
| Potatoes, per bushel | 35c |
| Apples, per bushel | 40c |
| Wheat, per bushel | 75c |
| Beans, per bushel | $1.60 |

The Nation's Wards.

The Indian reservations in 1886 in the United States amounted to 212,456 square miles, all that is left to the race of 3,350,000 square miles once all their own. The total Indian population of the United States is 247,761. Estimated number of Indians in Alaska is 30,000. The Indian agencies are 61 in number. Number of Indian church members in the United States is 38,663. Number of houses occupied by Indians is 21,232. Number of Indians living on and cultivating lands is 8,612. Number of Indians in the United States who wear citizen's dress is 81,621. Number of Indians in the United States who can read Indian languages is 10,927. Number of Indians in the United States who can read English is but 23,495. There are ten Indian training schools located in different parts of the Union.—Ex.

Subscribe for the CHESAIRE HERALD.

The Bald Headed Truth

About our stock is just this—It's immense. Quality, quantity, prices, each defy competition. Others may deal out "bald disjointed chat" about their goods, but the bald headed truth that our kut prices can't be capped or handicapped.

Truth Crushed to Earth

Will rise again but the truth about our prices is that they are so crushed up that they can't rise again. They are utterly smashed, broken and

All Kut Up.

Now is the time to take advantage of the greatest bargain opportunity of a lifetime.

Opportunity Has No Hair

behind says the proverb. It's no good to chase opportunity when it's gone past you once. The bargains and Kuts are on sale now, but they are going fast, the public have caught onto the fact that we are writing a new chapter on bargain making.

We have put the knife into our complete stock of Holiday Goods, it has kut deep, it has kut right and left, cutting prices to almost nothing, but strange as it may seem, has left the goods in excellent condition. The only fault people find with them now is that the prices kut such a small figure.

See Our Kut On Dolls.

Have got 'em from 5c per dozen up to 39 cents each. Only two car loads left, and going fast.

We intend to convince you that it pays to trade with Glazier the Druggist.

Verily, merrily, more and more it pays to trade at Glazier's Store.

Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Tuesday, the 12th day of November, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

Present, J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Abigail Davis, deceased.

William E. Depeux, executor of the last will and testament of said deceased, comes into court and represents that he is now prepared to render his final account as such executor.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Tuesday, the 10th day of December next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for examining and allowing said account, and that the devisees, legatees and heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, and show cause, if any they be, why the said account should not be allowed.

And it is further ordered, that said executor give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said account, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Chelsea Herald a newspaper printed and circulating in said County, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

J. WILLARD BABBITT, Judge of Probate.

W. E. DEPEUX, Probate Register.

Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, Louis Dettling, Complainant, vs. Valt Bohmiller, Catherine Bohmiller, Michael Weinman, Caroline Weinman, defendants. 2nd Judicial Circuit in Chancery. Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw—in Chancery—at Ann Arbor on the 8th day of October, A. D. 1889.

In this cause, it appearing from affidavit on file, that the defendants Michael Weinman and Caroline Weinman are not residents of this State, but reside at Tigardville, Washington County, Oregon, in violation of complainant's solicitors it is ordered that the appearance of said non resident defendants, Michael Weinman and Caroline Weinman, be entered herein, within four months from the date of this order, and in case of their appearance they cause their answer to the bill of complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on the complainant's solicitors, within twenty days after service on them of a copy of said bill and notice of this order; and in default thereof, said bill will be taken as confessed by the said non resident defendants. And it is further ordered that within twenty days the complainant cause a notice of this order to be published in the Chelsea Herald, a newspaper printed, published and circulating in said County, and that said publication be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession, or that he cause a copy of this order to be personally served on said non resident defendants at least twenty days before the time above prescribed for their appearance.

EDWARD D. KINNE, Circuit Judge.

LEHMAN BROS. & AVANATHGH, Solicitors for Complainant.

AT THE

Excelsior

Bakery!

YOU CAN ALWAYS GET FRESH

BREAD, CAKE AND PIES.

—ALSO—

Boneless Ham, Pork & Beans, and Cold Meats.

Particular attention given to everything in my line. Your trade is solicited.

WILLIAM CASPARY,

CHESAIRE, MICH.

Wunder's old stand v19n37

New Store!

New Goods!

I am now located and doing business in my new store, and carry a large line of Harness, Robes, Blankets, Whips, etc. Repairing done on short notice. I invite your inspection.

Hugh Sherry.

Chelsea, Michigan. v19n5

Get Your

JOB WORK DONE

At The

HERALD OFFICE.

ST. NICHOLAS

WILL BE AT

Hummel & Fenn's

ON AND AFTER

Dec. 1st until Jan. 1st, '90.

Free exhibition every day from 6 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Don't fail to see the great show of Holiday Goods of all kinds. We are showing the finest line of Plush Goods in Chelsea.

We have in stock a full line of books of all Editions, also a fine line of books for Children. We are headquarters for every thing in our line. Respectfully,

HUMMEL & FENN.

Druggists and Grocers.

Successors to R. S. Armstrong.

L. & A. WINANS

Dealers in

WATCHES, CLOCKS & JEWELRY.

Repairing a Specialty.

New Goods. Low Prices.

CHELSEA ROLLER MILLS.

Market Report.

| | |
|------------------------------------|--------|
| Roller Patent, per hundred, | $9.90 |
| Housekeepers Delight, per hundred, | 9.50 |
| Superior, per hundred, | 1.75 |
| Corn Meal, bolted, per hundred, | 1.50 |
| Corn Meal, coarse, per hundred, | 1.25 |
| Feed, corn and oats, per ton, | 18.00 |
| Bran, per ton, | 12.00 |

Corrected weekly by

COOPER & WOOD.

X-MAS!

Will soon be here! Don't wait until the last moment for us to make you

1 Dozen Cabinets for $2.50.

You can make no better present than one of our

LIFE SIZE PORTRAITS

For the small sum of $3.00.

E. E. SHAVER. CHELSEA

W. F. STRANGWAYS,

Physician, Surgeon & Accoucheur

Office and residence second door west of Methodist church. v19n7

Office hours, 3 to 6 p. m.

CHELSEA. MICHIGAN

C. E. FAY,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Special attention given to Genito-Urinary and Rectal Diseases.

Office over Chelsea Savings Bank.

Office hours from 10 to 12 a. m., and 1 to 3 p. m. v19n10

The Parlor Barber Shop,

Chelsea, Mich.

I take great pleasure in announcing to the citizens of Chelsea and vicinity that I have moved my barber shop to the old stand of Frank Shaver, where I will be found at all times, to wait on all who may favor me with a call. Good work and close attention to business is my motto. With this in view, I hope to secure, at least, part of your patronage. v19n51

GEO. EDER, Prop.

H. W. SCHMIDT,

Physician & Surgeon.

Calls by night or day will receive prompt attention. Office in the Knapp & Hindelang block. Reside opposite McKune House. 19n2

DR. FRANK S. BUCKLEY,

Dentist.

Office with Drs. Palmer & Wright, over Glazier's drug store. Office hours—8 a. m. to 12 m. and 1 to 6 p. m.

In Dexter every Saturday. 18n45

YOU CAN MAKE MONEY

This fall by canvassing for the

Michigan Farmer!

An energetic agent wanted at every post office to whom a good cash commission will be paid. References required. Make application at once for outfit and go to work early.

Every Farmer who has anything to sell can

MAKE MONEY

By subscribing for the

Michigan Farmer

And reading its market reports. The "Farmer" is a business paper for farmers.