We copy the following from the Manchester Enterprise: The late Michael Kappler of Sharon Hollow had a safe in which to keep his money and private papers.

After his death an attempt was made to open it but with out avail. Mr. Kappler, it is said, made his will some time last spring and Mr. Kempf drew it. All sorts of rumors are rife regarding the contents of the will as well as of the safe, some claiming that there is a large amount of money in the latter. But on Saturday the safe was sealed by Fred Vogel and will probably remain so until the will has been read and the executor has given bonds.

Died.

Died, in Chicago, Sunday, Feb. 2nd, 1890, Mrs. E. W. Cassidy nee Grace VanFleet. It will be remembered by many friends in this vicinity that Miss VanFleet spent the winter here some six years ago the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Mitchell, of whom she was a niece.

Faithful friends, I lie, I know,
Pale, white and cold as snow,
And ye say, Grace is dead!
Weeping at the feet and head,
I can see your falling tears,
I can hear your sighs and prayers.

Loving friends, be wise, and dry
Straightway every weeping eye.
What ye lift upon the bier,
Is not worth a wishful tear.

'Tis an empty sea-shell—
Out of which the pearl has gone.

"Stop." Nature Has a Cure.

Easton Rapids, Mich.
J. M. Loose Red Clover Co., Detroit

Two year I was afflicted with a very severe attack of Erysipelas. After two physicians had used their treatment for several weeks and I continued growing ill, and in their diagnosis concluded that there was no earthly help or hope for me. I gave up, having tried all the remedies I knew or heard of. My neighbor, Mr. Miller, came in to see me one day, and sold me Loose's Extract of Red Clover as he had known of its working remarkable cures. I told him I had lost all hope, that nothing could do me any good in this world. He insisted, and taking his hat went to a drug store and bought one bottle and urged me to try it, which I did. Ten days afterwards I sent for two more bottles, and it was wonderful how I improved. I continued using it and to-day I am better than I have been in years. No sign of Erysip has been shown the if and I heartily recommend it to all suffering humanity as the Greatest and Best Blood Purifier in Existence.

Yours truly,
Henry Marvin.
