In our notice of the marriage of Rev. J. Edward Reilly and Lysa M. Hatch, in last issue, we did not get any of the items which go to make up the event, and will now say that there was a brilliant company of guests from Chicago, Detroit and other parts, among which was five of the members of the class which graduated with her from Olivet College. The couple received congratulations from Dundee Congregational church, of which he is pastor, and from Olivet College to Miss Lysa were taken of highest esteem, and the gifts were numerous and costly.

An Explanation.

Editor of the HERALD: Please give the following communication space in your paper, as there seems to be a misunderstanding in regard to civil service rules, and as to the manner of getting appointments. I wish to set some of the people at ease in regard to my getting an appointment, and only standing, 74 while others of higher standing were left out. In the first place no one is eligible only between the age of 18 and 35, except a person who served in the army, and was wounded or otherwise disabled; also all applicants must pass 70 per cent except soldiers or sailors who were disabled, who are only required to pass 65. They are given preference over all others in same class without regard to standing, and as I was unfortunate enough to get in the way of a bullet at Spotsylvania Court House May 12th, 1864, I came under the rule which gave me my appointment.
 A. N. MORRISON.

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN.

THE militia force of the United States consists of 7,697 commissioned officers, 91,873 enlisted men, and 7,308,498 men not organized, but available for military duty.

JOHN H. APPEGATE, of Asbury Park, N. J., made $40,000 by inventing a machine for lasting shoes. The man who invents a way to make shoes last will get about $40,000.

ADAM FORBEAUGH did not drink, chew or smoke, but he allowed no man to beat him in advertising, and when he died he owned two hundred houses in Brooklyn and one hundred in Philadelphia.

NELLIE BLY is to lecture on her recent record-breaking tour around the world. She will give three lectures in New York, and will then be heard in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and other large cities.

ARTHUR WARD, of Australia, is coming to America to swim Niagara in ordinary costume. By the time Mr. Ward gets through the whirlpool his body will be the color of Adam, if his friends succeed in finding it for Christian burial.

THE Canadian Minister of Agriculture will purchase from England $25,000 worth of the best two-rowed seed barley to be distributed at cost price to barley-growers in Canada to promote the production of that variety, which is in great demand in Great Britain.

THERE are three million people that walk about London's streets daily, and in so doing wear away a ton of leather particles from their boots and shoes. This would in a year form a leather strip one inch wide and long enough to extend from London to New York.

MARIE ANNE COLETHIER, a poor French-Canadian girl living in Montreal, has become an heiress to about $60,000 through the death of her grandmother, mother and aunt, who lived together and had their savings amounting to that sum, secreted in three tin boxes.

MRS. DELIA PARNELL is again reported suffering for the necessities of life. The house in which she lives is almost in ruins, and she has neither coal nor wood. Mrs. Parnell admits speculating in stocks and says the money raised for her was used in paying pressing debts.

One cigarette fiend put in some fine work the other day in Wilkes County, N. C., while adjusting a fuse attached to two kegs of powder. The result was that a spark falling from his cigarette caused an immediate explosion, and he with four other workmen passed at once out of existence.

THERE are in this country and Canada 645 miles of electric street-railway, of which 1,232 cars run. Ohio has the greatest number of miles of any State—834, and runs 101 cars, while Pennsylvania has but 314, and yet runs eighty-four cars, more than three times as many in proportion.

A GRAND JURY at Birmingham, Ala., has indicted A. S. Babbitt, coroner of Jefferson County, for the embezzlement of money from the bodies on which he has held inquests. This must be the veritable personage every one has heard about at one time or another who is mean enough to steal the coppers off a dead man's eyes.

SUSAN B. ANTHONY, Clara Barton and other more or less prominent women have organized the Lucy Webb Hayes Temple Association. Their aim is to erect in Washington a monument to the late Mrs. Hayes. They want five thousand charter members at five dollars a member. Several hundred members have already been obtained.

MINISTER FRED DOUGLASS writes to a friend: "I am quite satisfied with my position in Haiti. There is a chance of being of some service here. It is the black man's country, and though there is much to regret in its condition there is also much to commend. The people are lazy, but they do manage to export $7,000,000 of produce per annum."

NINETY-THREE THOUSAND Englishmen, 57,000 Irishmen and 17,000 Scotchmen emigrated to the United States in 1889; 22,000 English, 2,000 Irish and 3,000 Scotch went to Canada; 23,000 English, 2,000 Irish and 2,000 Scotch went to Australia; while to "all other places" went 31,000 English, 2,000 Irish and 1,000 Scotch. The totals for the year show 164,000 English emigrants, 64,000 Irish and 25,000 Scotch.

Of the thirty-five widows drawing pensions from the Government in consequence of service by their husbands in the revolutionary war the oldest is Mrs. Nancy Rains, of Knoxville, Tenn., widow of John Rains, who is now in her 98th year. By virtue of her pre-eminence in point of age over the other revolutionary pensioners her rate has increased recently by special act of Congress to $20 per month. None of the revolutionary soldiers are now alive, and only a few widows of the youngest of them survive, and these married doubtless quite young in comparison with their husbands.

THE latest Yankee notion has been devised by young women in Boston and other cities in Massachusetts who have formed an organization to supply small towns with libraries. Their plan is to visit towns destitute of libraries, talk the matter over with the leading people, get them interested in it and induce them to contribute according to their means, some of them the ground, some the books, and those who can not raise money to help the good work by labor. In this way several little libraries have been started in these towns which may become the nuclei of larger ones.

THE Supreme Court of the United States recently handed down an important opinion confirming the constitutionality of the Edmunds-Tucker test, oath. The court holds that polygamy is a crime and that the constitutional provision guaranteeing freedom of religion is not intended to prevent punishment of any person who commits a crime in the eyes of the law under the name of religion. The case in question came from Idaho on an application for habeas corpus made by a Mormon who is in jail for unlawfully taking the oath when he was at the time a member of the Mormon church.

HORRIBLE TRAGEDY.

An Aged Couple Slain Near South Omaha, Neb.—Arrest of Two Servants.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Feb. 15.—News of one of the most cold-blooded and apparently unprovoked double murders that ever occurred in this vicinity has just come to light. The details leading up to the finding of the bodies are as follows:

In December last Dr. C. H. Pinney, of this city, rented a farm, located six miles west of South Omaha, to A. B. Caldwell. The latter could not then occupy the place and moved his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Jones, to the farm to take care of the stock. On Tuesday last Mr. Caldwell drove to the farm and was surprised to find the front door open. No sign of the folk could be seen. Within the house every thing was in order. There had been seven horses and nine head of cattle on the place, and these were gone. A search was made, and on Friday the bodies of the missing persons were found. The remains of the old man had been buried in a pile of refuse, and partly hidden in a haystack fifteen rods distant lay the body of his wife. Both had been killed by the same weapon, a 44-caliber revolver. The man's body had been pierced by four bullets, while three had killed the aged lady.

The disappearance of the stock apparently tells the story. The thieves were evidently discovered while stealing the animals and killed the aged couple to conceal the lesser crime. The whole county is aroused and rewards amounting to $10,000 have been offered for the apprehension of the murderers. Frank Offit and Jerry Dee, two men working in South Omaha, have been arrested on suspicion of being the murderers. It is said that they sold the stolen cattle to a South Omaha commission house.

November 7, 1889, Roberts wrote a letter from Pinney, N. M., to Butcher, who was in Omaha, in which he disclosed the plans and asked Butcher to meet him in Denver the next day. The men met here, and by some means the police got hold of the letter and caused their arrest. When taken to headquarters they denied that they had any intentions of carrying out the scheme, but they were held until they confessed. Roberts is but 25 years old and Butcher 31. On account of their youth Mr. Tabor refused to prosecute them and they were released from custody.

BUTCHERED HIS BROTHER.

The Awful Crime of Fratricide Charged Against Isaac Sawtelle, of Roxbury, Mass.—Details of One of the Most Horrible Murders Ever Perpetrated in New England.

EAST ROCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 15.—The body of Hiram Sawtelle, of Roxbury, Mass., was found Friday afternoon in the woods near Lebanon, Me. It had been decapitated and the head has not yet been discovered. When found the body was projecting from a poorly-made grave and had a bullet in the heart. The corpse lay feet uppermost, not three yards from where an officer had previously found a paper wrapped around an axe bought by a brother of the dead man. The body was naked, with the exception of the feet, which had on a pair of socks. Beside it, where the arms and head had been cut off, was a mass of clotted blood. Isaac Sawtelle, brother of the dead man, is now under arrest on suspicion of having been concerned in the killing. He was arraigned Friday afternoon on a charge of murder and was committed without bail. He has not yet been told of the discovery of his brother's body.

In December last Isaac B. Sawtelle was pardoned from the State prison, where he had served a long sentence. Since that time he boarded with his brother Hiram in Roxbury, Mass. The latter kept a fruit store on Washington street, which, together with his residence, had been owned by their father and was held in their mother's name. Isaac had deceived his mother and induced her to transfer the property to him, but Hiram secured an injunction restraining Isaac from selling it. The property is said to be worth $15,000 to $20,000. Hard feelings existed between the brothers, and it is believed that in order to remove every obstacle from his own path Isaac plotted to kill his brother and the latter's daughter, a young girl, consisting of the wife, a daughter aged 8 years, a 5-year-old son and an infant. Week before last Isaac asked Mrs. Sawtelle's permission to take one of the children to Lowell. This request she refused and on February 1 he came into the house and told her that her husband had given him permission to take the little girl. The mother finally allowed the child to go.

When the father came home he denied having given his consent. From Boston Isaac and the little girl went to Lowell, staying until Monday, when they proceeded to Rochester, N. H. The girl claims that while at the latter place her uncle attempted to poison her with medicine and pills, which, however, only made her sick. Then he telegraphed to his brother Hiram that the child was ill with the grip and asked the father to come immediately. This was February 4. The next morning a telegram came to the mother urging her to come to Rochester. The inference is that had she responded in person she, too, would have been murdered. It was finally settled that Hiram should go alone, and he left Hoston Wednesday at 1 o'clock p. m. From that time his movements became shrouded in mystery, and he was never again seen alive by his friends.

The following day Isaac and the little girl arrived home, and the former declared having seen Hiram. Mrs. Sawtelle was suspicious of foul play and accused Isaac of being connected with the brother's disappearance. This he strenuously denied, and remained in this city until the following Sunday, when he left. Hiram's absence was reported to the police Saturday, and Monday, February 10, Special Officer Shields started for Rochester. From investigation it is learned that Wednesday, February 5, Isaac Sawtelle hired a team at a Rochester livery stable and went to a man, supposed to have been Hiram, at the depot. They drove away, and within half an hour Isaac returned alone with the team. It is believed by some that he delivered Hiram into the keeping of his confederates. Later in the afternoon he purchased a hat, pickaxe and spade at a hardware store. He also bought a canvas bag in which to carry them.

It seems that on his departure from Boston the second time, February 9, he again went to Rochester, where on Monday he bought two tickets for Portland. His companion may have gone there directly, but Sawtelle did not, although he reached there in the evening, where he registered at the Falmouth House as "J. Bridge, Dover." He was assigned a room and was not seen again for two days.

Wednesday the clerk of the hotel identified "Bridge" as Sawtelle from the photograph in an evening paper, and Thursday caused the man's arrest. Sawtelle admitted his identity and was taken to Rochester Thursday night. On the way he refused to make any statement except to say that Hiram was all right and would turn up at the proper time. Early Friday morning Officer Shields went to the station and ordered Isaac to remove his clothing, which was minutely examined. Blood spots were found upon the shirt, drawers and trousers.

A searching party was organized and more than 400 men were mustered in the public square. They divided into squads, and a systematic search for Hiram Sawtelle's body was begun. The result was the discovery of the horribly-mutilated remains as stated. The arms were cut off at the shoulders and the head had been removed by two blows of an axe, which cut down into the body in the shape of a V.
