IN GENERAL.

We have completed inventory for 1889 happy, and believing not only that it has been the most successful of the 18 years of our business career, but that we have made a substantial advance in our reputation for providing goods suitable for the trade of Chelsea. Of course we intend to do even better for 1890, and beg your attention to our advertisements announcing bargains in our different departments as they may appear in the HERALD each week. Thanking our patrons for their substantial support during 1889, we remain,

LE CARON, the spy, has the reminiscences of his adventurous life almost ready for publication. A great deal of space will be devoted to the Fenian raid on Canada.

A GREAT YIP peculiar thing happened in Rhode Island. A bill has just passed the Senate in that State giving the Governor, whose salary is $1,000, a secretary with a salary of $1,200.

THE annual loss by fire in the United States and Canada during the last five years has been as follows: 1885, $94,200,000; 1886, $116,000,000; 1887, $129,394,400; 1888, $123,230,520; 1889, $131,949,250.

CHEMISTS, physicians can not practice in New York without a license, so says the coroner's jury in the case of Dr. Nam, who attended a Chinaman who died recently. The "Dr." had left his diploma in China!

Mrs. WINDOM, wife of the Secretary of the Treasury, had arranged to spend the night at the residence of Secretary Tracy when it was burned, but some slight accident fortunately caused her to change her mind.

THE unmarried women of Massachusetts are said to have $29,000,000 on deposit in the savings banks of the State. The unmarried women in Massachusetts seem to have more confidence in good bank accounts than in unmarried men.

AN English inventor claims to have a system by which coal gas can be compressed into eight per cent. of its natural bulk, and in that shape carried about and turned into an illuminant at any time by simply turning a stop-cock and lighting the evaporation.

SOUTH CAROLINA'S new anti-cigarette law just gone into effect discriminates against cigarettes and excludes tobacco in other forms. It applies to minors under eighteen years of age; provides penalties of from $25 to $100 fine and imprisonment, or both, and awards one-half of the fine imposed to the informer of the offense and the other half to the treasurer of the county in which conviction is had.

ROBERT NIXON, a London barrister, is in Boston, where he is delivering a course of lectures. He says: "It would not surprise me if before I die there is not a crowned head in Europe. Ideas are in the air and events move rapidly. Two years ago the theory of imperial federation was not regarded as practicable; now it is recognized as within the sphere of practical party politics. This is a great gain."

JOHN JACOB ASTOR works as hard as the driver of a leased hack with a large family on his hands. He stays in New York winter and summer. His fortune, estimated at a hundred millions, keeps him chained down to business. For twenty-four days in a month he trudges about Wall street like an errand boy. He has other folks to collect his income, but the business of investing it satisfactorily keeps him humming.

THE word "conciergerie," which has figured so conspicuously in European dispatches of late, refers to a prison which is included in the palais de justice, or court-house, of Paris. It is there where prisoners are confined who are to be arraigned before the court of assizes or the court of appeals. In former years this prison was the residence of the chief porter (concierger) of the palace, an office of great dignity a few centuries ago.

A GREAT many people who are poor are living and walking over untold herds of wealth. A farmer living in the southern part of Douglas county, Kan., has discovered a vein of marble and granite about thirty feet in thickness and about twenty-five feet below the surface. Successive strata developed different colors, beginning with a mottled gray and running through bluish, pink, blue, red and clear white.

In Clinton, Mo., the other day a decree of divorce was granted Mrs. Sarah Brown, wife of Major Brown, on the ground of desertion. In less than half an hour after the decree had been granted the wronged and forsaken divorced wife found her husband in the arms of a young man who had just been granted the divorce by the court of appeals. In one instance where the applicant for divorce had her prospective second husband in court and the judge who granted the divorce married the couple with his next breath.

MR. GLADSTONE, in acknowledging the other day the receipt of a copy of the biography of Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe by her son, says: "I think it a great honor to have been selected as one of those to receive from the author copies of the 'Life of Mrs. Beecher Stowe.' Mrs. Stowe has grown old amidst the admiration of her country and of the world, and has been blessed with a period of peace which to look 'before and after' may be said to look 'before and after' that great blessing, and carry them with her, when the time arrives, into the land where it shall be perfected."

EPIDEMICS, like other great misfortunes, never come alone. Influenza has appeared, done its work and is retiring. And now come tidings of small-pox in Texas. On a single ranch, of 150 persons employed 147 were stricken with this awful disease. There had already been seventy-five deaths, and as there was a scarcity of nurses and physicians, much greater loss of life was expected. Small-pox has purged the world now for many years. Has vaccination lost its force in antcipating the deadly microbes, or have the people in Texas refused the purification afforded by vaccine lymph?

AFTER fifteen years of almost continuous warfare the Chinese have at last subjugated the savage tribes in South-eastern Formosa and will open up that hitherto-unexplored region to the world. The northern part of the island has been occupied by the Chinese all that time, but they have never been able to gain a foothold in the southeastern part, so desperate has been the resistance of these savages, who seem to have possessed the courage always characteristic of mountaineers. The whole island contains about 15,000 square miles and has several mountain peaks over 13,000 feet in height.

FORMALLY DEDICATED.

The Carnegie Free Library and Music Hall at Allegheny City, Pa., Thrown Open to the Public—An Address by President Harrison.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 21.—President Harrison arose early Thursday morning, and after breakfasting at the Duquesne club visited the Homestead steel-rail mills and other points of interest. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon a public reception was held at the court-house.

ANDREW CARNEGIE, at which the President greeted several thousand persons. The formal dedication of the Carnegie free library at Allegheny took place in the evening and the institution was declared open by President Harrison. After the singing of "America" and prayer by Bishop Whitehead Mr. Carnegie presented the key of the library to Mayor Pearson. Mr. Carnegie referred to the fact that it was in Allegheny that his parents—poor Scotch immigrants—found a home in America, and concluded by handing over the key, with warm wishes for the prosperity of every citizen of Allegheny. Mayor Pearson replied briefly, and then introduced President Harrison, who spoke in part as follows:

"MR. CHAIRMAN AND FELLOW CITIZENS: I have spent a very instructive day in Allegheny County. I have seen that which was only fit to be cradled stone to be trodden under the foot of man transmuted into that which serves the highest purpose of our material lives. But here to-night we witness the transformation of what we are wont to call the precious metal into something that blooms for eternity. We will find here in the instructive volumes that are to crowd these shelves the impulse, the spark, that is to touch the slumbering mind of many a stalwart boy and many a bright and ambitious girl into the life that shall make them the servants of their fellow-men and the companions of the Son of man who left His glory to serve the race."

"I hope that this institution may carry with it always and with every book that rests upon its shelves the suggestion to those who will participate in its blessings and think 'because, unless thinking accompanies reading, there is not much profit in the books. I congratulate you that you have a citizen who could conceive a work like this. I am sure it will be an impulse to others who dwell among you, which will influence those who have accumulated wealth to feel that they hold it as trustees for mankind. May I not do what I will with my own? In the noble spirit, that dedicates to personal luxury the fruits of toil. How much higher and nobler use of accumulated wealth have we before us in this magnificent structure to-night! It gives me great pleasure to be associated with the suggestion of this great enterprise. No one can tell how wide and deep and strong the stream will be that shall have its origin here, and that will follow the fruits of toil."

"It is left in your charge, citizens of Allegheny, and speaking for its generous donor, I declare it now to be open to public use and to place of assembly for all, and I charge you that you care for it in such manner that its highest usefulness may be reached, and that it may not in your hands fall below the high thought which was in the mind of him who has out of his own personal means created and dedicated this library to public use." (Applause.)

President Harrison was followed by Mr. Pratt, of Baltimore; Governor Beaver, Congressman Dalzell and Bayne and others. The Presidential party was then escorted through the art gallery, after which they entered carriages and were conveyed to the Duquesne club. After a light lunch at the Duquesne club President Harrison was driven to the depot, where he took the night train for home.

Kelly Discharged. CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—The latest sensation in the Cronin case has exploded. "J. H. Kelly" proves to be Kelly and not Simmonds, as the police had hoped, and he was discharged yesterday after being inspected by Mr. Hatfield, the clerk at A. H. Revell's, who sold the Carlson cottage furniture, and Mr. Trookmorton, the clerk in the real-estate office who rented the flat at No. 117 Clark street, both of whom failed to identify him.

GERMANY SURPRISED.

The Government Parties Lose Many Seats in the Reichstag at the Elections—Attaching Gains for the Socialists.

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—A heavy vote was polled at Thursday's elections for members of the Reichstag and at many polling places the officers were overwhelmed with work. At midnight the apparent result is that the Government parties have lost fifteen seats and the Socialists throughout Germany have doubled their vote. Herr Liebknecht and Herr Singer are elected. The latter, a Socialist, defeated Eugene Richter, one of the most distinguished of German politicians and a leader of the German Liberal party. Singer is the man whose libel case against the Staatsbürger Zeitung made a great deal of noise in December last. He gained his case and the editor was condemned to pay a fine, and this fine the Emperor remitted, using his royal prerogative to set aside the verdict of a court of justice. This made a great sensation, and Singer's candidacy became a sort of rallying center for protest against such an abuse of power. His election was an almost necessary consequence. Singer polled 46,500 votes, against 14,100 for Richter (German Liberal). In the Fifth district Baumbach, Deutsche Freisinnige, 10,000; Auerbach, the Socialist, 7,200; Luedtke, Conservative, 4,324. Liebknecht received 50,293 votes.

The great feature of the election is the enormous and unexpected increase in the Socialist vote. This party has manifested strength in places where it was unknown before, and other parties will have to make a firm combination against it to stem the tide on the supplementary elections. In the vote in Berlin alone the Socialist vote is increased 30,000, the Deutsche Freisinnige 3,000, and the Conservatives have lost 34,000.

Richters is elected for Hagen. The Socialists were successful at Elberfeld, Barmen and Frankfurt, and have good prospects for success in the second elections at Stettin, Breslau and Bremen. It is reported that a Socialist is elected for Kongsberg; three Cartellers are elected for Worms, in Dessau, two Poles for Posen, and six ultramontanes for Cologne and Treves. Moltke was a candidate for the Fourth Berlin district. In Hamburg in the First and Second wards the Socialist majorities were overwhelming. In the Third the contest was closer, but the Socialists polled 5,000 votes.

Schiffel, Socialist, carried Chemnitz by 24,000 majority. In Leipzig, Geyer, Socialist, is elected in one district and a new election is required in another to decide between the Socialist and National Liberal candidates. Auer and Stolle, Socialists, are elected in Zwickau and Dantzig respectively. Meerane returns a Socialist and Meiningen a Progressivist.

THE GALLOWS.

It Finds Three Victims in the Keystone State—Jacob Schoop and Thomas J. Cole Executed in Moyamensing Prison.—The Sheriff Bungles the Hanging of Hopkins at Bellefonte. PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Jacob S. Schoop and Thomas J. Cole, the former the murderer of Anton Schilling, his assistant in his bakery, and the latter of his room-mate, Walter McAllister, were hanged here yesterday on the same gallows in Moyamensing prison, the drop falling at 10:04 o'clock. There were no sensational scenes in connection with the execution.

Schoop's crime was especially atrocious. On December 27, 1888, some boys playing in a park at 1219 Cadwalader street, found the body of a hatched-out man, the remains of a man tied in two bags, hidden away in a section of water-pipe. The crime was finally traced to Schoop, who was a baker at 1219 Cadwalader street. Hopkins was his assistant. Schoop acknowledged his guilt, saying that on Christmas morning he had knocked Schilling down with his fist during a quarrel. Supporting him dead, he had thrown a hatchet to make the man bleed. He then cut the body up, and conveying it in his wagon to the park during the night placed it where it was afterward found. Schoop's trial developed the facts that he had not quarreled with his victim, but had deliberately murdered Schilling in order to obtain $600 which the latter had saved up. Schoop's wife was implicated in the crime, but she became insane and she could not be tried, and is now confined in the State Insane Hospital at Norristown.

Thomas J. Cole, July 8, 1888, killed his room-mate, Walter McAllister, while the latter was asleep. The two had quarreled and Cole, waiting until McAllister had gone to sleep, beat him to death with a hatchet.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Feb. 21.—W. Seely Hopkins was hanged yesterday. The drop fell at 10:15 o'clock. The rope broke and Hopkins was picked up inensible. The knot was readjusted and the man was hanged again, this time successfully.

W. Seely Hopkins' crime was the double murder in the same place, of Anton Schilling and his room-mate, Walter McAllister, on September 28, 1888, at Philadelphia, Pa. He shot Thomas J. Cole, who was his room-mate, says he attempted to shoot and kill him until McAllister had gone to sleep, beat him to death with a hatchet.

PERISHED IN THE FLAMES. Four Children Burned to Death at Kingston, Ont. KINGSTON, Ont., Feb. 21.—At a late hour Wednesday night fire broke out in a two-story frame dwelling on Bagot street occupied by John Leston and family. The fire had been burning some time before it was discovered, and when the firemen entered the house they found four children dead in bed. Mrs. Leston, after vain efforts to rescue the children, jumped from the second-story window with a babe in her arms. Her leg was broken by the fall, but the baby was uninjured. Mrs. Leston also made heroic efforts to save the children.

Montana's Legislature. HELENA, Mont., Feb. 21.—The Montana Legislature adjourned Thursday night, having been in session ninety days, and failed to pass a single bill. Addresses to the people were issued by the Republican Senators and the Democratic Governor Toole will call a special session to pass appropriation bills about the 1st of May. It is said the Governor will recognize the legality of the election of the five Republican Representatives from Silver Bow Counties if the United States Senate sends Sanders and Power. This sense the dead-end ends.

Failed to Pass. JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 21.—Representative West in the House Thursday called up the memorial to Congress relative to the constitution of the United States and moved its adoption. The motion was lost by a vote of 11 to 38.

Theater Burned at Amsterdam. AMSTERDAM, Feb. 21.—The Grand Theatre here has been destroyed by fire. The fire, which is believed to have been of incendiary origin, completely gutted the interior of the theater and destroyed the valuable library belonging to it.
