PRAIRIE FIRE IN KANSAS. Loss of $100,000 in Cattle and Produce Reported Near Wichita.

Wichita, Kan., March 24,-- A prairie sare started near here about noon Sun-Brakemen Riley and Olsen were killed day. The wind was blowing almost a gale from the southeast and it was impossible to stay the flames. The stock on the farms was driven before the fire, some of it outrunning the flames, while others fell from exhaustion and the heat and were consumed. The flames were driven by the wind in a northwesterly direction as far as the Santa Fe railway, where, having no fuel to feed upon, it died out. Four farm-houses, with their barns and sheds, were destroyed, but no human lives were lost. The loss to property, including live stock, is estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000. Ten quarter sections were burned over and every thing combustible was consumed.

The intercourse beed with the last few questions, which tween the Emperor and the Secretaries of State is regulated by the law of 1852. It was only within the last few weeks that Bismarck felt it necessary to refer to that regulation. He considered its execution and observance inand farms and the amount of incumb- dispensable and did not wish to be a party to its abrogation. The opposition he encountered in this matwide-spread demand, however, for such ter finally brought clearly home information on these questions as could to him the necessity for his resignation. The negotiations between Prince Bismarck and Dr. Windthorst with refcensus law so as to require the collec- erence to the Guelph fued and the attitude of the clerical party in the Reichstag were only connected with the crisis in so far as that the Chancellor refused to subject his intercourse with the deputies to any control. No steps have been taken by the Emperor personally or by the sovereigns of any of the federal states to induce Bismarck to remain at the head of the Ministry of Foreigh Affairs. The Cabinet order of September 8

1852, has always been held by Bismarck to mean that the President of the Ministry ought to appoint his own Cabinet, choosing men having political opinions and principles in harmony with his own. The Emperor maintained the right of the monarch to appoint Ministers having a direct responsibility, not to the President, but to the crown. The appointment of Baron von Berlepsch as Minister of Commerce was the thin end of the wedge. The direct instructions that the Emperor gave to Berlepsch affecting the economic policy of the empire evoked a warm remonstrance from the Chancellor. The Emperor, in a written communication sent by him to 21. Able to speak English. If not, the lan- Bismarck early last week, explained his conviction that the Chancellor's claims were an encroachment on the rights of the sovereign, and finally, his determination to exercise a general and absolute control. About the same time direct overtures to Windthorst and other leading clericals from persons in the Emperor's entourage, aiming to take the guidance of negotiations out of Bismarck's hands, produced the climax of the crisis. Saturday the Emperor got, as he probably desired and expected, an intimation of Bismarck's resignation, and Tuesday, in a closely-written document of twenty folios, the Emperor received the Chancellor's reason's for resigning. It was hoped that the Emperor would assent to an early publication of this great historic apologia, but its non-appearance beside Thursday's rescripts implies that the Emperor considers it a private state paper.

ACTION OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT. WASHINGTON, March 22.—The news of the death of General Crook was a great shock to the officials of the War Departlation, but nothing definite has develment. Secretary Proctor was particularly affected by the intelligence, as he had very intimate associations with General Crook during his recent visit to Washington a few weeks ago. He sent a personal message of condolence to Mrs. Crook and gave instructions for the preparation of a general order announcing General Crook's death to the army. GENERAL CROOK'S RECORD. General Crook was born near Dayton, O., September 23, 1829. He entered West Point in 1848, graduating in 1852, with Generals Sher-idan, Schoffeld and others who afterwards gained fame. He was first assigned as Second out the Virginia campaign as Brig-adier-General. Ordered to Tennessee, he distinguished himself at Chickamauga. Under General Sheridan he aided in defeating the reb els at Cedar creek, and planned the attack upon Early at Fisher's hill, from which Early never recovered. After the war, as Lieutenant-Colonel of the Twenty-third Infantry, in the Department of the Columbia, he did good work in quelling hostile Indians. From the rank of Lieutenant Colonel he became a Brigadier-General of the United States Army in 1874, something in the way of promotion very rarely heard of. During his career as Commander of the Department of the Platte, by his conquering the hostile Sioux and Cheyennes, he opened up to settlement stretch of country larger than France. lands on which they had seized, en couraged the Apaches in planting and pledged the diphtheretic complications in the trenched themselves in the fastnesses of the mountains on the Northern Mexican boundar, and began a series of raids. General Crook struck the trail, and, instead of following, took it backward, penetrated into and took posses-sion of their strongholds, and, as fast as the warriors returned from their plundering excursions, made them prisoners. He marched over 200 miles, made 400 prisoners and captured all the horses and plunder. During the two years following he had sole charge of the Indians, and in that time no depredation occurred. He then set them all at work on their farms, abolished the system of trading and paying in goods and store orders indulged in by contractors, paid cash direct to the Indians for all his supplies and stimulated them to increased exertions. The In dians became self-supporting within three
