We understand that the Danger Signal is to be produced at the town hall Monday evening at the request of many of our citizens. We urge everyone to go and see what our local talent can do. The prices of admissions are 25 and 15 cents. We have no doubt but the hall will be crowded.
The forty hour adoration was very largely attended at St. Mary's church this week. The altars were beautifully decorated. The closing exercises on Tuesday evening were very solemn and impressive. Rev. Father Isadore, of Detroit, conducted the devotion, assisted by Rev. Fathers Bayes, of Jackson, Kelly, of Dexter, and the pastor, Father Considine. Easter will be appropriately celebrated at this church.
We clip the following from an Exchange: April promises to open with pleasant, showery weather, accompanied by a temperature higher than the average. These conditions are likely to obtain with considerable variations along to the 10th or 15th. A period of unsettled weather is likely to succeed, developing storms in some sections and rendering it unpleasant everywhere. This period will extend from the 15th to the 19th, with several fine days not easily to place. A spell of rather fine weather is likely to succeed from the 20th to the 24th with the exception of a few not unacceptable showers. The last five days of the month promise to be mostly cold, rainy and disagreeable.

Last Monday Dr. Fitch's daughter aged 9 years, got his medicine case, and unlocked it, took a large dose of morphine. Everything possible was done to save the little one's life, but of no avail, it causing her death about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning.

W. J. Knapp wants the people of Chelsea and vicinity and any one visiting Chelsea to call and see his new store, form the habit of visiting this store whether you are in need of any thing or not so when you are in want of anything you will go to the right place.
A certain young gentleman who resides in London, went hunting recently, and after wasting five or six caps, he concluded to go home and take his gun apart and find out why it would not go off. After taking it apart he found he had put the shot in first and the powder on top. Therefore the boys have the laugh on him now.
Who started it? Who started that at the Glazier the Druggist was giving away wall paper? This report probably arose from the remark of some customer that they were "literally giving away wall paper at Glazier's." Of course that simply meant that the price asked were next to a gift, which is true enough.
We copy the following from an Exchange: "Has it occurred to any one to look into the graveyards nowadays and then recall the beautiful green Christmas we had? Who says that old says do not cut the cat's tail of truth? If hundreds laid low with influenza and its brood of terrors; the greatest death rate ever known, and the black flag of woe streaming from innumerable door bells. You remember the Christmas day. It was too bright and beautiful for words to picture. It had all the beauties of April and the Indian summer. The grass was most tenderly green and all humanity rejoiced. But the green Christmas brought the full church yard, and the wisdom of the ancients is again made evident in modern times."

Last Tuesday a half dozen filthy Italian beggars came to town with a trio of performing bears, the latter being far more wholesome looking than the vagrants who owned them. A couple of dirty women were of the party, with two or three begrimed children. Two single wagons, old rickety affairs covered with canvas black with age contained the effects of the poor wretches, who begged of everybody indiscriminately along the street. They left in the direction of Chelsea, where no doubt they were welcomed by the mayor and trustees, and hunted for a day or two at the public expense.—Grass Lake News.
The pleasure party the Grass Lake News refers to arrived in Chelsea last Saturday in due order, but a little weary after their long journey, and the poor treatment received from the citizens of Grass Lake. They were heartily received by our citizens, and not being so selfish as our neighbors in the little burg, treated them to a bountiful repast of snowball.

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

QUEEN VICTORIA recently ordered her baker to make for an American apple pie.

The projectors of a tower at London that shall be from 200 to 350 feet higher than Eiffel's are confident of success.

The hen of the United States was worth to this country on her own personal account last year $300,000,000, according to the bureau of industrial statistics.

Eight varieties of leprosy are recognized in China, and the disease is regarded as contagious, infectious and hereditary, but is said to disappear in four generations.

AMOS F. PARKER, who was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1813 and is now ninety-eight years of age, is said to be the oldest living college graduate in the United States.

STRIKING oil continues to be a flourishing industry in Pennsylvania. During the past month 476 new wells were opened, adding 10,459 barrels to the production of the oil regions.

HERMAN GUTEN has for more than seventy years lived in fish boats on the Cumberland river. He says he was born near Lubek, Germany, in 1773, which, if true, makes him 117 years old.

A WESTERN clergyman recently announced that he would preach a sermon on "Looking Backward." He kept his word, for he delivered a discourse on Lot's wife to the great congregation that assembled to hear him.

A CHEWING gum manufacturer amassed a fortune of $1,000,000. Say six sticks for five cents; five into 100, 100,000 goes 20,000,000 times. Twenty million times six equals 120,000,000 sticks of gum. Great heavens, girls!

GEORGE MURRAY, a colored man of Baltimore, is one hundred and fifteen years of age. He walks about and is in possession of all his faculties. The most remarkable thing about him is that he never saw George Washington.

QUEEN VICTORIA has written two books which have never been published. They are volumes of travel, and recount her impressions of various places on the continent. She has been so annoyed at the criticisms of her published works that she has refused to have these manuscripts put into print. They will be published after her death.

The ex-soldier, John McKeough, who was accustomed to stand guard over the Burnsides monument in Providence, R. I., with a drawn saber, saying every now and then: "I followed you at Newberne and I will not desert you now," was killed by a railroad train the other night. He was perfectly sane, with the exception of this eccentricity.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM REED, who has been on the police force of Pittsburgh, Pa., for forty-four years, claims to be the oldest police officer in the United States in point of service. He recently celebrated his seventieth birthday. Of the twenty-four policemen who constituted Pittsburgh's force forty-four years ago Captain Reed is now the sole survivor.

It appears that the past winter was a sort of a centennial celebration of the same season in 1790. A Connecticut man has been consulting the weather records kept by his grandfather, and finds that in February one hundred years ago but one and a half inches of snow fell, while in March the fall was 18 1/2 inches, with good sleighing for several days.

OLD GABRIEL, the mission Indian, the oldest man on the Pacific coast, probably the oldest in the world, died the other day in the almshouse at Salinas, Monterey. He is said to have attained the remarkable age of 150 years, the record of his birth having been found in the mission at Monterey. He has been a standing advertisement for the glorious climate of California for these many years.

WHEN Samuel Feinberg eloped from Chicago recently to Toronto with his pretty servant-girl he took with him $20,000 and left his wife five children and fifty cents. If he hoped to prevent her from following him he would have done much better to have left her a good share of the $20,000. He is now in a Toronto cell. A woman with an outraged heart and only fifty cents to soothe it is a winged Nemesis and the ends of the earth are not too far away for her to seek her vengeance there.

The young Emperor of China is displaying a good deal of vigor as a reformer. He is inquiring into every department of his Government and is issuing orders for the removal of abuses. He recently published a decree requiring periodical returns relating to the strength of the army, in order to prevent officers from drawing pay for troops which did not exist. He has also abolished a large number of unnecessary Government places in the provinces. Altogether he bids fair to be a progressive and enlightened potentate. Meanwhile he is at odds with his mother and his new wives.

It has been computed that between 30,000,000 and 37,000,000 babies are born in the world each year. The rate of production is, therefore, about 70 a minute, or rather more than one for every beat of the clock. With the one-a-minute calculation every reader of this journal is familiar, but it is not every one who stops to calculate what this means when it comes to a year's supply; it will, therefore, probably startle a good many persons to find on the authority of a well-known hospital writer that, could the infants of a year be ranged in a line in cradles, the cradles would extend around the globe.

ONCE waterspouts were regarded by seamen with terror, but it appears that now they are looked upon as comparatively harmless freaks, which vessels of the larger kind need not fear. On its last voyage from Hamburg to New York the steamship Slavonia encountered one of these roving monsters near the Grand banks, but nothing disagreeable happened beyond a harmless shock to the hull. In fact the collision seemed to demoralize the waterspout, for it traveled away with its cone pointed in the middle; in other words, its backbone was broken. Waterspouts are of frequent occurrence on the Chinese sea.

Epitome of the Week.

INTERESTING NEWS COMPILATION.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, March 23.—Senator Sherman's anti-trust bill was further discussed in the Senate. Bills were introduced to pension Mary Crook, widow of the late General Crook, at the rate of $2,000 per annum, and to establish an educational fund from the proceeds of public lands. In the House the world's fair bill locating the fair in Chicago, the opening to take place May 1, 1893, and close October 30, 1893, was passed by a vote of 202 to 40. Bills were introduced for the payment of a bounty of $100 to soldiers and sailors of the late war who received no bounty; providing pensions for soldiers and sailors who are dependent for support on others.

WEDNESDAY, March 24.—In the Senate the Sherman anti-trust bill was further discussed and the world's fair bill was reported. In the House a bill was introduced granting a pension of $3,000 per year to the widow of General Crook. The rest of the day was spent in discussing the bill for the admission of Wyoming into the Union as a State.

THURSDAY, March 25.—The Sherman anti-trust bill was further discussed in the Senate. The House bill for the admission of Wyoming as a State was passed. The bill appropriating $25,000 for the purchase of 2,500 tents for people driven from their homes by floods in the South was passed. The bill authorizing the President to appoint and retire John C. Fremont as a Major General was reported favorably. In the House the bill admitting Wyoming as a State was passed by a vote of 139 to 128.

FRIDAY, March 26.—In the Senate the greater part of the day was spent in executive session discussing the Florida judicial nominations. In the House Mr. Enloe, under instructions from the committee on war claims, reported bills embracing nearly 300 claims for stores and supplies furnished the United States army during the war. At the evening session twenty-five private pension bills were passed.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The President on the 25th issued a proclamation announcing that the new British extradition treaty would go into effect on April 4. By the terms of the new treaty the crimes of manslaughter, counterfeiting, embezzlement, perjury, rape, abduction, burglary, kidnapping and piracy are made extraditable.

BRIDGET SWEENEY, a trusted old servant in the Tracy household at Washington, had, it was reported on the 25th, confessed to setting the fire that burned the Secretary's home and killed his wife and daughter.

Mrs. HARRISON and party returned to Washington on the 25th from their visit to Florida and the South.

In the United States there were 180 business failures during the seven days ended on the 25th, against 200 the previous seven days. The total of failures in the United States from January 1 to date is 3,356, against 3,346 in 1889.

THE EAST.

On the 25th the grand jury at New York reported that the sheriff's office was a disgrace to the city and a shame to civilization.

SHIRLEY FLACK, of New York, sent his resignation to Governor Hill at Albany on the 25th, as a result of Flack's conviction for conspiracy.

The force at the Philadelphia mint was on the 25th working night and day to meet the demand for silver dollars, of which it was expected to turn out 1,800,000 during March.

A VERDICT of $10,000 was recovered by Rev. Dr. Joseph H. Rhyland, of New York, on the 25th against Nicholas Quackenbush for malicious libel.

On the 25th John A. Davis, city treasurer of Rochester, N. Y., who embezzled $60,000, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five years in Auburn prison.

At Red Rock, Pa., three brothers—Deidrick, John and Henry Bakoslee—all of New York City, were killed by the cars on the 25th.

EDWARD SPAULDING and William Slattery and his wife were arrested on the 25th at Buffalo, N. Y., for counterfeiting. They had been flooding the city with bogus ten-cent pieces.

THE Governor on the 25th appointed Major-General Daniel E. Sickles sheriff of the city and county of New York, in place of James Flack, resigned.

WEST AND SOUTH.

THERE were 557 persons killed on Illinois railroads and 1,706 were injured during the year 1889.

On the 25th S. V. R. Trowbridge, Attorney-General of Michigan, resigned on account of poor health, and the Governor appointed Benjamin W. Houston, of Tuscola, as his successor.

INCENDIARIES made an attempt on the 25th to burn the city of Bismarck, N. D., but the flames were discovered and extinguished.

On the 25th a skiff containing John Ricketts, Louis Williams and Harriett Lee and her four children, ranging from 6 to 16 years of age, all colored, was capsized at Arkansas City, Ark., and all were drowned except Ricketts and one child.

NEAR Omaha, Neb., the two sons of a well-to-do farmer named Shipley, accompanied by two other boys, names unknown, were drowned on the 25th by the capsizing of a boat.

The Recent Cyclone Proved Truly to Be but the Breath of Death.

Nearly 300 Lives Were Lost in Kentucky, Tennessee, Southern Indiana and Illinois, Not Including the Victims at Louisville.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 31.—It is now estimated that 150 persons were killed in this State outside this city and from fifteen to twenty-five in Tennessee, to say nothing of the fatalities in Illinois, Indiana and other States.

The destruction of property loss and of live stock can not be approximately estimated at present. A brief synopsis of the loss of life and property, wherever an estimate could be made, at other points than this city, is as follows:

In Louisville the latest estimate of the loss of life, the injured number, according to close figuring, about 150, and the loss to property about $200,000.

At Eminence, Ky.—Seven fatalities; property loss about $80,000.

At Marion, Ky.—Four killed and fifty-five wounded.

Eight miles from Marion a family of six persons were crushed to death by the fall of their dwelling.

At Sulphur Springs, Ky.—One death.

In the vicinity of Grand River, Ky., and Paducah, Ky.—Eight fatalities.

At West Louisville, Ky.—One killed and thirteen injured.

At Peotonia, Ky.—Four killed and many hurt.

At Blackfoot, Ky.—Twenty-one lives lost, and many more persons injured. In this district the property loss is estimated at about $40,000.

At Hillsboro, Ky.—Loss to property about $100,000.

In the country just back of Point Pleasant, Ky., twenty-five houses and a large number of barns were blown away. Several persons were fatally injured.

At Glasgow, Ky.—Five lives lost; damage to property about $20,000.

In Laurel County, Ky.—One death.

In Crittenden County, Ky.—Two deaths.

At Plymouth, Ky.—One death.

At Edinburg, Ky.—Six deaths. The property loss in the neighborhood will reach $30,000.

At Sullivan, Ky.—Ten or twelve persons injured.

In Webster County, Ky.—Eight lives lost; thirty persons hurt; loss of property about $10,000.

Between Hornburg and Clay, in Kentucky, seventeen deaths are reported.

In Hardin County, Ky., a farmer named Patrick and his daughter were killed, and there are two or three other fatalities reported.

Reports come from Hopkinsville, Ky., that for twenty miles around great damage was done. Houses and barns, fences and forest trees were blown down and scattered.

A telegram from Bellevue, Ky., states that the store of McCreary Bros., in that place was wrecked and burned and three men perished in the flames.

For the second time in its history the town of Fayetteville, Ky., was almost completely destroyed. The losses are estimated at $100,000.

The town of Nashville, Tenn., was hit by the cyclone Thursday night at Gayles, Tenn., 133 miles above Louisville. Six of the crew were drowned and two produce barges lost.

At Rogers, Tenn., William Wood, a postmaster, was instantly killed, and John Jones, the oldest man in the county, was so injured that he died in a few hours.

At Glasgow, Tenn.—Two deaths and many persons hurt. It was known that every house and building between Glasgow and Paducah in the path of the storm was blown away and injured.

At Paducah, Tenn., people are injured and without food or shelter. At Calender, Tenn., a house in Trigg County, every house was swept away.

A telegram from Bellevue, Ky., states that the store of McCreary Bros., in that place was wrecked and burned and three men perished in the flames.

For the second time in its history the town of Fayetteville, Ky., was almost completely destroyed. The losses are estimated at $100,000.

THE HOUSE.

The Bill for a World's Fair at Chicago Passed Through the Lower Branch of Congress by a Big Majority—The Formal Opening Postponed Until the Spring of '93.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The House has passed the world's fair bill, Hatch, Flower, and Belden voting for it. The vote was yeas, 301; nays, 49.

Those voting against the bill were: Abbott, Allen (Miss), Anderson (Miss), Bankhead, Bland, Breckinridge (Ark.), Brockbridge (Ky.), J. B. Brown, Buchanan (Va.), Calkins, Clements, Cobb, Crisp, Culbertson (Tex.), Doolittle, Edmunds, Elliott, Forney, Grimes, Hale, Hendon, Herbert, Holman, Kilgore, Latham, Lester (Ga.), Lester (Va.), Martin (Ind.), Martin (Tex.), McRae, Mills, McMillan, Montgomery, Morse, Norton, Oates, O'Ferrall, Peel, Pierce, Richardson, Rogers, Rowland, Sayers, Stewart (Ga.), Stewart (Tex.), Stone (Mo.), Turner (Ga.), Walker (Mo.), Wheeler (Ala.), Total—49.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Immediately after the approval of the bill by the House yesterday Mr. Candler (Mass.), called up for consideration the world's fair bill. The bill having been read in extenso, Mr. Candler, on behalf of the committee, offered an amendment providing that the commission shall appoint a board of lady managers of such number and to perform such duties as may be prescribed by the commission; and the board may appoint one or more members of all committees authorized to award prizes for exhibits which may be produced in whole or in part by female labor. Adopted. Also an amendment providing that one of the members of the board created to be charged with the selection of the Government exhibits shall be chosen by the commission. Adopted.

Mr. Candler offered an amendment in his original motion, to be considered as pending, providing for the dedication of the buildings of the world's fair with appropriate ceremonies, October 12, 1893; and further providing that the exhibition shall be opened to visitors not later than May 1, 1893, and closed not later than October 30, 1893. He said that this postponement was not asked by Chicago, but he thought that it would insure to the benefit of the exhibitors who were to take part in the exhibition.

The House agreed to Mr. Candler's amendment postponing the fair until 1893.

Mr. Belden, of New York, said: "Mr. Flower, Mr. Hatch and myself have signed a minority report objecting to this bill. We object to it because in our opinion Chicago has not given proper guarantees to raise $10,000,000, and without the amount we do not think the fair will be a success."

Mr. Belden closed his remarks by offering a resolution recommending the bill to the committee until such time as the finance committee of Chicago had shown them that $10,000,000 could be raised. Lost.

Mr. Carlisle's amendment that the Government building should be constructed of iron, steel and glass in such a manner that it can be taken to pieces and the material disposed of afterward was accepted by Mr. Candler and the Representatives from Chicago and unanimously adopted by the House.

Mr. Holman (Ind.) endeavored to have the Government appropriation reduced from $1,500,000 to $1,000,000, but he failed and Mr. McMillan (Tenn.) tried to have the appropriation for a Government building stricken out entirely.

The vote was then taken and the bill passed—yeas, 302; nays, 49.

EXTRADITION TREATY.

The Agreement Between the United States and Great Britain Made Public by Presidential Proclamation—The Class of Offenders It Affects.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The convention supplementary to the tenth article of the treaty of 1842 between Great Britain and the United States, concluded at Washington July 12, 1889, and ratification exchanged at London, March 11, 1890, was proclaimed Tuesday.

By the terms of the supplementary convention the provisions of the tenth article of the original treaty are made applicable to the following additional crimes:

1. Manslaughter, when voluntary.

2. Counterfeiting or altering money, uttering or bringing into circulation counterfeit or altered money.

3. Embezzlement, larceny, receiving any money, valuable security or other property, knowing the same to have been embezzled, stolen or fraudulently obtained.

4. Forgery by a banker, agent, factor, trustee or director or officer of any company, made criminal by the laws of both countries.

5. Forgery or subornation of perjury.

6. Rape, abduction, child stealing, kidnapping.

7. Burglary, house-breaking, or shop-breaking.

8. Piracy by the law of nations.

9. Revolt, or conspiracy to revolt by two or more persons on board a ship on the high seas, against the authority of the masters; wrongfully seizing or destroying a vessel at sea or attempting to do so; assaults on board a ship on the high seas with intent to do grievous bodily harm.

10. Crimes and offenses against the laws of both countries for the suppression of slavery and slave trading; extradition is also to take place for participation in any of the crimes mentioned in this convention or in the supplementary convention, provided such participation is punishable by the laws of both countries.

The convention further provides that a fugitive criminal shall not be surrendered if the offense in respect of which his surrender is demanded be of a political character, or if he has in fact been sentenced to death by a court of justice in the country to which he is to be surrendered.

No person surrendered under the convention shall be triable or tried or be punished for any political crime or offense, or for any act connected therewith, committed previous to his extradition, nor shall he be liable or be tried for any crime or offense, committed after his extradition, other than the offense for which he was surrendered, unless he shall have had an opportunity of returning to the country from which he was surrendered.

GREAT FIRES.

Three Conflagrations in the City of Tokio, Japan—2,635 Houses Burned.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The steamship City of Peking arrived from China and Japan Tuesday, bringing advices that on February 27 about 1,500 Japanese houses in Tokio were destroyed by fire and 78 partially burned.

Two persons were killed and about twenty-five firemen injured. One hundred and eighty-seven houses were burned in the city on the preceding day and on March 5 860 were destroyed and several firemen hurt. The fires originated accidentally.

Five Lives Lost.

ARKANSAS CITY, Ark., March 30.—Tuesday morning a skiff containing seven negroes—John Ricketts, Louis Williams and Harriett Lee and her four children, ranging from 6 to 16 years of age—capsized and the occupants were all drowned except Ricketts and a 6-year-old child, who saved themselves by climbing on the overturned boat.

CANDLE CACTUS.

Words can not describe the beauty of this plant. It grows 2 to 3 feet high, branching like a tree, and producing hundreds of golden yellow, sweet-scented flowers, large and double, like enormous roses. The stems are covered with a net work of shining spines, which reflect a luminous ray of light that can be seen for a long distance. A notice of this plant has been known and eagerly sought in the wilds of Mexico for years, and introduced by us last year. It grows very freely and quickly from seed, and this is the best way to get it, as plants are scarce and high. $1 each. For 25 cents we will send ten seeds together with a packet of Giant Evening Primrose, a plant which bears every evening lovely blossoms the size of a cup, and our 10-page Catalogue of Flower and Vegetable Seeds, Bulbs, Plants and Fruits. THIS ELEGANT CATALOGUE will be sent free to all who send us 10 cents. 25¢ order at once sends 100 seeds of the "Candle Cactus" and 100 seeds of the "Giant Evening Primrose." 50¢ order sends 250 seeds of the "Candle Cactus" and 250 seeds of the "Giant Evening Primrose."
