THE influenza visited Greenland last May in an epidemic form before it had been heard of by the rest of the world.

THE CHIEF of Russia always eats the same breakfast—ham and eggs, a slice of roast beef and tea. Later in the day he is apt to dine a mile.

IRELAND fishermen now carry oil regularly as a means of smoothing the waves and enabling them to continue at work in weather in which heretofore their boats could not have lived.

CHARLES E. FLEMING, of Philadelphia, is a "boy evangelist" who is having wonderful success in the pulpit. He is at present preaching in Ohio towns and converting hundreds of people to the faith.

ALL of the bank note currency of the Italian Government is engraved and printed in the United States. The notes are neat, but small, resembling somewhat the fractional notes issued in war times.

It has been discovered that the nickel-iron-steel machine was an old Egyptian device for dispensing and purifying water in the temples. The apparatus was described by Hero, of Alexandria, who lived two hundred years B. C.

The largest bond ever made in Pittsburgh, Pa., was given the other day by Milton L. Meyers, guardian of Theodore R. Hostetter, son of Dr. Hostetter, deceased. The bond is for $3,000,000, and has only six months to run, as young Hostetter will then be of age.

HERETOFORE Manitoba has supported separate schools for Roman Catholics. A law has been passed abolishing this system, and hereafter all of the schools supported by public funds will be non-sectarian. A report states that the law provides that all classes shall attend the national schools.

DR. GEORGE MURRAY HEMPHREY, in his work on old age, collected facts concerning the lives of no less than seventy-four centenarians. Of course old Parr comes in for a paragraph, but he was only 132, and two others are named as having reached 160. This is considerably above Parr.

A YOUNG man of Watertown, N. Y., was married a day or two ago, and the wedding feast brought out the fact that he was a burglar. He wore a pin that was stolen and the table was set with stolen silverware. As a result of the discovery, he went to Canada on his bridal tour, leaving his young wife behind.

THE proposed Nicaragua canal will cost $65,000,000. The distance between the oceans is 169 miles, but only twenty-nine miles of canal will have to be dug. The San Juan river must be deepened. Lake Nicaragua affords fifty-six miles of free sailing. The Suez canal, which was cut out of the soil and sand for 100 miles, cost $81,000,000.

THERE have been, and perhaps are now, tender-hearted people who think the Government has not done enough for the Indian. Yet it is stated that the Turtle Mountain Indians have increased in a few years from 300 to 1,900 by accessions from the Canada side of the line. They come over to share better treatment than they had in Canada.

THE story of the discovery of a gold mine of astounding richness in China is supported by many specifications. The gold-bearing quartz is reported to be on a peninsula across the Korean sea from the peninsula of Corea, and directly west. The mountains are very precipitous, and the outcroppings of rocks rich in gold have been traced for sixty miles.

THE new extradition treaty with Great Britain was officially proclaimed at Washington and London the other day. American citizens with thieving tendencies and practices must therefore select some new country as a successful hiding-place from American officers, for this treaty puts up the bars so high that they will not get into the Canadian dominion with any further assurance of safety.

MAYOR GRANT, of New York, recently received a report from the Excise Board for the year 1899, from which it appears that there are now in that city 8,883 places licensed for the sale of liquors, including 5,857 liquor saloons, 194 ale and beer saloons, 1,366 ale, beer and wine saloons, 192 restaurants, 262 hotels, 56 steamboats and 1,098 grocery, drug and wholesale liquor stores. IN a recent talk with General Baum about the business of the Pension Office he estimated that there were 2,350,000 soldiers in the Union army during the war of the rebellion, of whom 1,250,000 are now living, of the living and the widows of the dead there are 655,000 on the pension rolls the names of 455,000 persons. There are now pending in the Pension Office undischarged 184,000 claims for original pensions for soldiers; 74,000 for widows, and 200,000 for an increase of pensions, making a total of 458,000. Since the 1st of January last $2,229 cases of pension claims have been disposed of.

THE Mississippi flood of 1890 is a grand object lesson. It teaches that the entire revenue of the United States Government would not be sufficient to confine the Father of Waters to his bed when the impulse to get up and spread himself comes upon him. His Muddy Majesty is as restless as a tornado and mocks the puny efforts of man to stay his course or establish boundaries for his goings forth. Some other solution of the problem than the building of mud dikes will have to be tried if the Mississippi is to go unweaved and unweaving to the sea if, indeed, his Majesty will ever so do.

THE nature of bacteria was for a long time doubtful, but it has recently been determined that they are vegetable rather than animal, occurring in four forms—spherical, ovoidal, rod-shaped and spiral. So minute are they that 1,500 of them placed end to end would only cover a space equivalent to one-quarter of the head of a pin. They are composed of a granula, watery mass, surrounded by thickened walls. A drop of water in the ocean in which they live. Among their various functions is included a marvelous power of reproduction; in twenty-four hours one bacterium will produce over sixteen millions.

A MAN OF NERVE.

The remarkable feat performed by John Phillips—Climbing a Chimney 335 Feet High—His Perilous but Ingenious Method of Reaching the Damaged Top of the Great Smoke-Stack of the Clark Thread Company's Works.

New York, April 12.—Thousands of persons kept their eyes on the big chimney of the Clark thread works, at Kearney, yesterday morning, watching for the appearance of John Phillips, the bold climber, who was about to finish his task of making the wreck created by lightning approachable by inspectors.

At 7:19 o'clock Phillips placed the last ladder, an iron one, in position, and climbed over the great bell and collar to the top of the chimney. On reaching the top he waved one hand and a wild cheer arose from the assembled watchers. A few more hours' work by the nifty climber made it possible for workmen to reach the top. The chimney was found to be considerably damaged.

During the severe thunder-storm on the morning of March 28 lightning struck the immense chimney of the thread works twice. The outer course of brick was torn off in several places and the chimney probably injured in other ways, so that it was thought unsafe to continue the operation of the mills till an examination could be made.

The height of the stack is 335 feet, greater than that of any other in the United States. How to examine and repair the damage wrought was a problem solved by Phillips, who offered to climb the chimney and hang a painter's scaffolding from the top. He proposed to use ladders which he would lash firmly to each other and fix to the side of the chimney by means of spikes driven into the cement between the bricks. His proposition was accepted, and a week ago last Wednesday he began to ascend the chimney.

With ladders and ropes and spikes Phillips set to work, and in a few hours he demonstrated the practicability of his plan. A fire truck ladder thirty-five feet in length was used as a foundation, its spikes at the bottom being sunk in a heavy plank, and its upper end fastened to the chimney with hooked spikes, which were firmly driven into the cement. The second ladder, which is twenty-five feet long, was lashed to the first, underlying it five feet. A cross cleat of wood was fastened at the base, to make the union more secure, and a strong plank was placed on two protruding spikes to keep the ladder a proper distance from the face of the chimney. This process was repeated with all the ladders. Each ladder was hauled up by a tackle block and rope, operated by two assistants upon the ground. After the lower end was secured Phillips daringly climbed it half way, and drove the spikes with which it was to be made firm.

The chimney is round, of symmetrical form, and is a beautiful piece of architecture. At the top there is a great flare or bell that has an outward slope of five feet, and to overcome this difficulty of the spectators of the work the most difficult part of the undertaking, Phillips was equal to it, however. He carried his ladders up in a straight course as far as they would go, and from a point fifteen feet or so lower ran a long ladder to the top of the bell. This was secured in the top of the chimney by means of spikes, and it was made steady by a lacing from the top of the uppermost short ladder, so that he could climb it to drive the spikes. To the onlooker it seemed an impossibility to so fasten a ladder at the angle required as to enable the climber to crawl outward and get over the edge of the bell at the top, but it has been accomplished, and the daring climber has earned a snug fee as his reward.

A FATAL VOYAGE.

Wreck of the Steamer Suetta in the Pacific Ocean—Of 291 Persons Aboard 179 Were Drowned—Five Lives Lost by the Sinking of a Schooner Off the Coast of Florida—A Steamer Collides with a Bridge—Six of Her Passengers Find Water Graves.

EAST SAGINAW, Mich., April 14.—The steamer Handy Boy of the Bay line of river steamers running between Saginaw and Bay City will bound down Sunday afternoon into the Flint & Pere Marquette railroad bridge, carrying away all her upper works. She was sixty feet west of her proper course in the channel. Carelessness on the part of those in charge is given as the cause of the accident. Captain Dolson got ashore and escaped, although police are searching for him. George Little, engineer, and Ed Trump, the man at the wheel, are in jail. The following are reported drowned: May Haight, aged 22; Mrs. Catherine Nevins, an old lady; Joseph Cassidy, two unknown women and an unknown man.

No bodies have yet been recovered. A number of passengers were slightly injured. J. W. Thompson was badly hurt and taken to the hospital. It is estimated that there were thirty people on the boat at the time of the accident and they were all swept into the river. The number lost, therefore, as reported at this hour, is merely conjecture.

The greatest excitement prevailed, and no intelligent story of events immediately following can be told by survivors. Three men and two ladies were picked up some distance below the scene of the wreck in an exhausted condition, and those injured were taken to the hospital or their homes.

The Handy Boy was built at West Bay City in 1882. She is of wood, 5,554 gross and 1,905 net tons burden, and has a carrying capacity of seventy-five passengers. She is valued at $5,000. She is almost a total wreck.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 14.—By the steamer Mariposa, from Australia, additional details have been received of the wreck of the steamer Suetta off Thursday Island. About 9 o'clock on the evening of March 1 the passengers, who were holding an impromptu musicale, were startled by the sudden stopping of the engines and the grating of the vessel's keel on a sunken rock. In less than three minutes the Suetta had sunk out of sight, leaving 391 people struggling in the waves, some borne away by the tangled rigging, and others, more fortunate, clinging to floating wreckage. Of 126 whites only thirty escaped, while of 165 negroes eighty-two survived, many whites being imprisoned in their steerage.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 14.—The schooner Ethel, from this port for Nassau with an imported cargo, has been wrecked near Cape Canaveral and those on board are lost. It was learned here that five persons were on board the Ethel—Captain William D. Garven and two colored men, Dennis Starr and John Gibson, the latter's wife and a colored boy named Charlie.

The result of the tournament gives Schaefcr the championship with Ives in second place and Slosson third. The standing of the players is as follows:

A NOTED CHINAMAN GONE.

Death of Marquis Tseng, the Foremost Statesman of the New Kingdom.

Pekin, April 14.—Marquis Tseng, the well-known Chinese statesman and former Minister to the courts of London, Paris and St. Petersburg, is dead. He was about 42 years old and succeeded his kinsman, Kwo Tai-Jen, as Minister of China to London and Paris in 1878, when he was about 30. Afterward, when the question of the retrocession of Kuldja threatened a misunderstanding with Russia, he was also accredited to St. Petersburg as the ablest Chinese diplomat of his time. He negotiated the treaty of St. Petersburg, replacing the treaty of Livadia. In 1885 he treated with France concerning Tonquin. He was the foremost Chinaman in Europe for about eight years, and in 1886 returned to China to take a high post there.

Swarming with Rats.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., April 14.—Rat hunting is both the work and the pastime of the farmers about Colfax, in McLean County. Such an invasion of the pestilential rodents has not been known in this part of the State for years. They fairly swarm over the farms, granaries and outbuildings, and are invading the residences. The war waged upon them does not seem to diminish their numbers.

QUEER CRIMINALS.

In 1266 a pig was burned at Fontenay aux Roses, near Paris, for having eaten a child.

In 1286 a judge at Falaise condemned a sow to be mutilated and hanged for eating a child.

In 1289 a horse was solemnly tried before the magistrate and condemned to death for having killed a man.

In 1694, during the witch persecutions in New England, a dog exhibited such strange symptoms of affliction that he was believed to have been ridden by a warlock, and he was accordingly hanged.

"CRIMINAL" animals frequently expiated their offenses, like other malefactors, on the gallows, but subsequently they were summarily killed without trial and their owners mulcted in heavy damages.

In the fifteenth century cooks were somewhat credited with the power of laying accursed eggs, from which sprang winged serpents. In 1474, at Hale, a cook was publicly accused of having laid one of those dreadful eggs. He was tried, sentenced to death, and together with his egg was burned by the executioner in the market-place, amid a great concourse of people.

WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED ANCIENT EDITION. A so-called "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary" is being offered to the public at a very low price. The body of the book, from A to Z, is a cheap reprint, page for page, of the edition of 1847, which was in its day, a valuable book, but in the present language for over FORTY YEARS, has been completely superseded. It is now reproduced, broken type, errors and all, by photo-lithograph process, in printed on cheap paper and flimsily bound. A brief comparison, page by page, between the reprint and the latest and enlarged edition, will show the great superiority of the latter. These reprints are an out-of-date and a last year's almanac. Southern Blood

Also gets out of order. When I received the box of Solid Extract I ordered from you, my sister-in-law 46 years old, had an old fever sore on her leg six inches above the ankle, it was of 15 years standing, but until some two years ago would come and go, but the last breaking out would yield to no treatment, though we tried everything, and she had taken her room, with the expectation of its proving fatal, as it was spreading rapidly. I applied plasters of your Solid Extract and gave it to her internally. The effect was miraculous. She improved from the start. The tonic effect of your Red Clover Extract is wonderful. Her appetite of which she had none increased, the stomach and bowels performed their allotted functions, and within four weeks her leg was perfectly healed up, and her general health better than any time in fifteen years, and we are all well.
