In Momoriam.

CHELSEA, MICH., THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1890.

Mrs. Martha D. Gilbert was the daughter of Geo. and Mary Oxtoby, of Bellona, state of New York. She was born on the 5th day of December, 1885. She came with her parents to Michigan in April 1857, and settled in Chelsea, where she lived the greater portion of her life. She was united in marriage to Jas. L. Gilbert, Nov. 15th, 1859. There were three children born to them, namely: George N., Frank F. and Mary E., Mamie, as she is familiarly called, being the only one of the children now living, Georgie having died when about two years old, and Frankie at the age of Mrs. Gilbert was a faithful member of the M. E. church in Chelses, for nearly thirty-three years.

She had been a great sufferer, but bore her sufferings with patient christian for titude, even concealing for years from those nearest to her heart, the malignant nature of the disease, that finally took her from their fond embrace. After leaving her last counsel with her husband and daughter, she peacefully passed away, on Tuesday morning, June 17, 1890.

The funeral was held at the family residence, on the 19th, attended by a large circle of relatives, as well as many friends and neighbors of the deceased.

The remains were placed in the vault, and afterwards laid by the side of the precious ones, that made Oak Grove cemetery, to her, the most hallowed place J. H. McIntosh.

A Warning.

"Let any boy who smokes cigarettes look at me now and know what I have suffered and he will never put another in his mouth." These were almost the last words of Samuel Kimball, 16 years of age, who died at St. John's hospital, Brooklyn. As he lay upon his cot he was indeed a sad spectacle, and a glance at him undoubtedly would have been a forcible warning to millions of youthful cigarette smokers. His body was of a deadly yellowish hue; his face, arms and trunk were emaciated, and his legs were swollen to twice their of those who graduate from the Am Ar normal size. His sunken checks, livid lips and dull eyes give a ghastly apperance to Mr. Geo. T. Coulter, who has been our his face, more like the face of the dead than

GREAT REFORM CONGRESS.

To Be Held in Chicago During the Big Fair-Delegates from All the World. New York, June 19.-A great world's congress of labor and social reformers will be held in Chicago during the Columbian Exposition in 1893. On May 27 last the leading officials of the American Federation of Labor held a secret meeting at their headquarters, 21 Clinton place, in this city, and discussed the matter. Present at this meeting were Samuel P. Gompers, president; P. J. McGuire, vice-president, and W. Evans, secretary of the American Federation of Labor; William Martin, of Pittsburgh, president of the Amalgamated Iron Workers, and Frank Foster, of Boscon, president of the Central Labor

The leaders in organized labor decided to issue a world-wide call for delegates to represent every phase of re-form in social, political and labor conditions, including the Nihilists of Russia, the Anarchists of German-speaking countries, the Communists of France, the Trafalgar agitators of London, the Home-rule advocates of Ireland, the Crofters of Scotland and all other elements of Europe dissatisfied with the existing condition of things. To this congress also every American body of labor and social reformers will be invited to send delegates.

The formal call may be issued within a few days, and it is expected the congress will be the greatest gathering of the kind the world has ever known.

Michigan's Employes. The advent of the new management at he Michigangold mine near Marquette inaugurates a new policy. Superin-endent Ford has not only decided to curtail expenses, but is also determined to know what has become of upwards of $80,000 worth of mineral that authentic report says has already been mined from the Michigan. Thousands of dollars' worth has been traced to the trunks of miners, some of whom fled the district before their thefts were liscovered. Stumps, logs, ash-heaps and innumerable other equally innocent-looking localities have been found to be the convenient receptacles of golden chunks, where the reasure could await safe conveyance from the premises. There are circumstances that direct suspicion to emplayes higher in position than miners. As a precautionary measure, all employes are now required to change their lothing on the premises.
