Graduating Exercises.

The high school commencement was held at the town hall last Thursday evening, June 26th, amid a display of flowers and finery that was nothing short of brilliant, and in spite of the warm weather, the hall was filled to its utmost capacity.
The exercises were promptly commenced at 8 o'clock with a fine piece of music by the Orchestra, followed by prayer by Rev. O. C. Bailey. Another piece of music was rendered, and then Miss Ida Hadley stepped forward and delivered the opening oration, which was followed by "Rome was not built in a day" by Henry Herzer. Mrs. Blach sang a solo, which was followed by "National Embarrassment" by Dorsey Hoppe. Cora Irwin told about "Friendship," and then Geo. Ward sang a solo, which was followed by Class History by Herbert Dancer; Class Poem by May Judson; music by Orchestra; Prophecy by Mamie Gilbert; solo by L. Annie Bacon. The diplomas were then presented by Prof. Hall in a few well chosen words. The Quartette, consisting of Mrs. Congdon, Miss Lowe, Geo. Ward and A. A. Hall, rendered another selection and the audience was dismissed with the benediction.
While all performed their parts well, it is but just to say that the graduating orations and essays were especially good. Manifestly, the pupils of our high school are receiving a good and thorough mental discipline from their teachers; each year also showing improvement.
The graduates were well remembered by their friends with floral offerings.
The music was probably the best ever rendered in the hall, and was greatly appreciated by all.

School Picnic.

On Friday, June 28, Miss Amelia Neuberger closed her first term of school in district No. 11, Lyndon, better known as Lyndon Center, and has been engaged for the fall term at the same place, which is proof sufficient that Amelia's beginning in the art of teaching has been a success.
A school picnic was held in the afternoon in the woods adjoining the school grounds, which was largely attended and immensely enjoyed. Tables were erected and a fine dinner served, with ice cream, candy, etc., after which the young folks repaired to the town hall and danced until dark.

Sheep.

There is no better or more splendid homeliver than the sheep, which declares two dividends a year, says Galien Wilson in the New York Tribune. Those who have persistently and judiciously maintained a considerable flock will be found prosperous. Almost any farm of 100 acres could readily maintain 100 sheep in addition to the other stock upon it. Their expense of sustenance would hardly be felt, and the soil would constantly increase in fertility. Sheep consume twice as many kinds of plants as other animals including various weeds, and the foliage of briars and bushes; are not only good scavengers, turning into money what would otherwise go to waste, but their supply of herbage is less liable to be cut off by drouth or other cause than that of animals consuming a smaller variety.
The Western Rural says: While sheep choose the best feed, they seem to do equally well on the refuse of pasture fields, shrub lots, and wastes of the cattle and feedparks. What crop suffers least in seasons of drouth if it be not wool and lambs? A great advantage incident to the sheep crop is, it is so readily marketed and is always in demand, while most other crops are not.

What Mrs. Grundy Says.

That if all the census secrets were out this would be a very unhappy world.
That the girl of the period this summer dresses as if for one prolonged picnic.
That there are no quarrels quite so mean as those that break out among relatives.
That the good qualities of a great many men appear only discovered when they die.
That girls with artificial complexions always most dread the "extremely hot day."
That the hot weather is helping on the opening of the season at the summer resorts.
That if there were ever magnificent days for "good bargains" in town they are the present.
That the hardest game in life to successfully play is that of "keeping up appearances."
That there must be plenty of people in the lunatic asylum who got there because neighbors of those "learning to play the piano."

DeWitt Melvin's residence, two miles west of Fowlerville, was struck by lightning Monday and slightly damaged. Wm. Dickinson, who was visiting the Melvins, lay upon the floor enjoying a siesta. The lightning tapped him, and when it got through Mr. Dickinson was unconscious, his trousers were torn off and his boots ripped open. Mr. Dickinson wasn't hurt, but he was thoroughly frightened. A little girl was also slightly shocked.—Journal.

A historian who is compiling the letters, etc., of President Lincoln has finished a search of the records of the executive office of Ohio. But one autograph letter is found. It is not often that a congregation "strikes it rich" so suddenly as the Forest Grove Presbyterian Church at Charlies, Pa. A few days ago the church was a modest little affair, with a debt and a light attendance. Some of the elders conceived the idea of boring for oil on the church grounds, obtained permission and sunk a well, with the result that petroleum in abundance was secured, and the property has been sold to the Standard Oil Company for $92,000.

The nerve-training school at Boston appears to have attempted too much. It had a class of one hundred and twenty young ladies whom it undertook to teach the art of keeping their nerves under perfect control, but some of them broke down under the training and the school is now in disfavor. A nerve-training school for women is a mistake to begin with. No matter how thorough its course of instruction it could never cure them of fainting at the sight of a mouse.

At St. Louis recently Charles Rainer informed Miss Annie Salina that he could not live with her. For reply she laughed in his face, whereupon the desperate lover applied into an adjoining room and blew out his brains. The poor girl is in great distress, but her grief is doubtless tempered with gratitude toward the dead youth, who was considered enough to depart from the custom usually followed by love-crazed suitors of forcing the offending objects of their affection to accompany them into eternity. She has the satisfaction of knowing, too, that her lover was sincere in his declaration.

Also, a black cloth coat of antique shape, a long satin vest, cashmere breeches and silk stockings—all black—and a three-cornered hat without feathers, as well as a sword.

The New York law making it a misdemeanor for a person to attempt to take his or her life went into effect in September, 1881. Prior to that time the average number of suicides in New York City was 160. It is now at the rate of 215 per year, but the number of unsuccessful attempts has fallen off. The law was not directed against those who commit suicide, but rather against those who attempt to commit suicide and fall in the endeavor. The average rate of suicide is lighter in Berlin, St. Petersburg, Paris and Stockholm than in New York, and smaller in London, Rome, Dublin, Madrid, Liverpool and Naples.

PALMER AT THE HEAD.

Michigan Statesman Unanimously Elected President of the National Columbian Exposition Commission—John T. Dickinson, of Texas, Made Secretary.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Temporary Chairman Harris called the National World's Columbian Exposition Commissioners to order at 10 o'clock a. m. yesterday. The report of the committee on permanent organization was called for. It was made in part, recommending the election of a president, five vice-presidents and a secretary, and setting forth the duties of these officials.

The commission, upon the adoption of the report, decided to proceed immediately to the election of a president, and Commissioners E. B. Martindale, of Indiana, moved that ex-Senator Thomas W. Palmer, of Michigan, be elected by representatives of every State and Territory. Upon a rising vote Mr. Palmer was elected and escorted to the chair. He said:

"I am profoundly grateful for the honor paid me. Yet I am filled with a feeling of trepidation. Men generally fear the unknown, and the duties of the office have not yet been specified. In regard to that distinguished man, Admiral Crofton, whom I know to be one who is always first, whose name has been mentioned in the commission, if he had consented to take the position, he would have given greater lustre to it."

A resolution was offered asking that THOS. W. PALMER, the committee on permanent organization nominate the remaining officials. This was objected to but finally carried, with an amendment making an exception of the office of secretary.

Commissioner J. T. Dickinson, of Texas, was then elected secretary by acclamation. The committee on permanent organization announced that it would receive recommendations for nominations for vice-presidents. Their report, as adopted, requires that the different political parties and that the remaining four vice-presidents be equally divided politically.

(Thomas Withers Palmer, of Michigan, was born at Detroit on January 25, 1833. His father, Thomas Palmer, was one of the pioneers of Detroit, and his mother was a daughter of Judge James Withers. Mr. Palmer entered the university of Michigan, but was forced to abandon his studies on account of ill health with his eyes; but the university gave him a degree a few years ago. He then made a trip to Europe, returning home by way of Rio Janeiro and the Mississippi river. In 1850 he engaged in business in Wisconsin, and continued in it until 1852, when he was elected to the position of merchant at Appleton, Wis. In 1853 he returned to Detroit and engaged in the real estate business. In 1855 he married Miss Lizzie P. Merrill, daughter of Charles P. Merrill, and then entered the lumber business with the latter. As the successor of his father and father-in-law he is one of the largest owners of lumber property and saw-mills in the Northwest, and he is the owner of a large fortune. Mr. Palmer has been an active member of the Republican party since its organization, but until 1875 he declined all suggestions that he be a candidate for office. In that year he was elected to the Detroit board of estimate. In 1878 he was elected to the State Senate, and in 1882 was elected to the United States Senate. He was re-elected in 1887, and he was re-elected to the term which closed on March 3, 1891. The newly-elected secretary, John T. Dickinson, is a typical Southern man, having been born in Houston, Tex., in 1858. He attended the best schools in England and Scotland, and finally graduated with the degree of bachelor at law from the University of Michigan when quite a young man. Returning to his old home he was soon elected secretary of the Texas State bar, and in 1882 he was elected to the position of secretary and general manager of the San Antonio International Fair Association.)

THE STRIKE ENDED. The Illinois Central Company Refuses to Discharge the "Obnoxious" Superintendent, but Curtails His Powers, and the Strikers Finally Decide to Resume Work.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The Illinois Central strike has been settled and traffic on that road was generally resumed yesterday afternoon. Superintendent Sullivan made the strikers a verbal offer, the concession amounting to a shortening of Superintendent Russell's powers in certain directions. Among other things the superintendent agreed that Russell will not have the power to hire or discharge other employees than those directly under him. Mr. Russell will still be superintendent of the road and have the power to appoint the heads of departments under him and the clerks in his office, but no others. The power to oversee, hire and discharge brakemen, engineers, switchmen, conductors and firemen will rest with the heads of departments and with Russell. The strikers to the number of over 400 considered Mr. Sullivan's proposition for five hours and finally decided to accept it.

JACK'S CELEBRATION

OR days before the Fourth Jack Harrington was in a state of the wildest excitement...

He reached the house just as the lights were about to be put out and the doors locked for the night...

PROGRAMME FOR FOURTH OF JULY THE BIRTHDAY OF J. HARRINGTON, JR. FIRE-CRACKERS, HORN AND DRUMS!

This programme was looked upon as a triumph of art by Jack and the fire-kindred spirits who constituted "the gang"...

Every thing progressed finely, and the night before the Fourth all plans were perfected, purchases made...

He knew that the barn had been locked long ago and that William, the man, had gone home...

Mr. Harrington carried Jack upstairs while Uncle Ned hurried off for the doctor, and while his mother was cutting the stockings from the badly swollen ankle...

"It will be all right in the morning, won't it, mother?" he asked so anxiously that Mrs. Harrington hadn't the heart to tell him that she feared it could use it...

The sunlight was streaming into his room, and he heard a soft whistle under his window; he started up, remembering what day it was...

So he dried his eyes very quickly when he heard his mother's step, and swallowed the big lump in his throat...

Every one was kindness itself, and I can not describe the attentions and tenderness shown him by his family...

"No, thank you; the noise might disturb the family," he said to the boys...

There was quite a fight with selfishness as night came on. Several of his father's and mother's friends had been asked to come and see the fire-works in the evening...

When Jack was helped up to bed that night he told his mother that he had had almost as good a time as he expected to have...

So he dried his eyes very quickly when he heard his mother's step, and swallowed the big lump in his throat...

Every one was kindness itself, and I can not describe the attentions and tenderness shown him by his family...

"The gang" came around and tried, in their boyish ways, to show sympathy; they offered to bring all their fire-crackers and fire them off in Jack's yard...

In fact, the book is the result of intelligent and careful work of years.

Lines on the Death of Mrs. Alfred Newton.

BY MRS. W. H. W. Her weary days are ended, Her troubles all are done. Her journey of life was finished. With the rising of the sun; She did her work in the evening. Before she went to rest, But early in the morning She woke on her Savior's breast. She has gone to meet her husband, Who was called eight years before. And was waiting up in glory Holding open Heaven's door. In her slumbers angels told her That her Savior whispered "come," And on snowy pinions bore her, To that bright eternal home.

She has gone, oh how we miss her, But the Lord called her to come, And I trust that we shall meet her In that bright and happy home. Only just across the river On its shining banks she'll stand, And she'll wait until she meets us Holding out her welcome hand. Death soon laid its hands upon her And her life soon passed away, And in robes of snowy whiteness On her couch so still she lay. Next then came the undertaker With a casket lined with white, And they gently laid her in it In the gloom of death's dark night. Then they took her to the church-yard Where they laid her down to rest, With her hands across her bosom And a lily on her breast. She has gone, yes gone forever, Pale as marble, still and cold, Laid in earth's cold silent bosom To return to dust and mold. But her spirit is in heaven, Where the happy angels dwell, Their amid its shining glories They have welcomed mother dear; She is happy but we are lonely, For to us so near she seems, All day long we think about her, And at night she's in our dreams. Yet we dare not shrink from trials That come o'er us day by day, We must bear our burden bravely, Passing o'er life's thorny way. She cared not how soon death's angel Came and bore her far away, She was weary of life's troubles, This is what I heard her say.

God knows best, he came and took her Far away from earthly care, Far away from every sorrow, All her trials He will bear. Now around the throne of glory There her sweet voice she will raise Amid the songs of endless praise. In a world of endless praise.

Waterloo Items.

We had a very refreshing rain Sunday afternoon, that did the crops a great deal of good. The Ladies Society of Waterloo church No. 1 was held at the residence of Mrs. Thos. Bott. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all. The Rev. F. Morehouse will preach at the M. E. church Sunday July 6, at 3 p. m. All interested are earnestly requested to be present. Several persons from this vicinity attended the commencement exercises at Grass Lake Thursday evening, and report a profitable time. The 4th and last quarterly meeting of the conference year was held at the U. B. church No. 1, Saturday and Sunday. The presiding elder was present as usual. We are sorry to learn that Mr. and Mrs. Bott expect to remove to Stockbridge in a few weeks. We understand Mr. Bott has purchased real estate and expects to make his future home there. We hope the change will prove beneficial in all respects. Miss Carrie Moe closed a very successful term of school here Friday June 27. This is her third term in our village, and all have been satisfactory. The pupils names reported as earning cards of honor are Lillie Rietmiller, Adelia Archenbrou and Johnnie Howe.
