

VOL. II. NO. 16.

CHELSEA, MICH., JULY 4, 1890.

WHOLE NUMBER, 68.

CHELSEA STANDARD. WM. EMMERT.

PANDARD GROCERY HOUSE. Corner Main and Park Sts.

100 PER YEAR STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

DVERTISING RATES. FOR DISPLAY ADVERTISEMENTS.

-	· Ma	3 08. 6	(8.	1 Year.
	1 Mo.	$24.00	842.00	$72.00
()1.	$12.00 9.60	14.40	24.00	42.00
ol.	6.00	9.60	14.40	24.00
ol.	2.40	3.60	4.80	6,00

sertion. 10 cents per line among loalitems. Advertisements changed as then as desired if copy is received by mesday morning.

PALMER & WRIGHT, PHYSICIANS & SURGEONS.

OFFICE OVER GLAZIER'S DRUGSTORE Dr. Palmer's, 10 to 1, a. m., 4 to 6 p. m. Dr. Wright, 7:30 to 10, A.M. 1 to 3, P.M.

tters,

lett's

ice a ı few

is reckey,

while

court

a mes, Mich-

eireui

1890, raise eribed

ertain

mship

tenav

north town

H.L. WILLIAMS, DENTIST.

Drug Store. Hours: 9-12 A. M., 1-5, P. M.

---AND---

MILK SHAKE

CASPARY'S * BAKERY

CHICAGO. 28 UNION SQUARE, NY. SAMIRANCISCO STLOUIS MD. FOR SALE BY DALLASTEX RELIABLE AGENTS WANTED.

PEERLESS DYES BEST For BLACK STOCKINGS. Made in 40 Colors that neither Smut, Wash Out Nor Fade. Sold by Druggists. Also Peerless Bronze Paints -6 colors. Peerless Laundry Bluing.
Peerless Ink Powders—7 colors.
Peerless Shoe & Harness Dressing. Peerless Egg Dyes-8 colors.

REST FOR THE NERVES.

The Importance of Occasional Absolute Cessation of Work.

As there are so many degrees of ner-Yous exhaustion, so are there many methods of restoration. What would be pleasant exercise to one might prove laborious exertion to another, and what would be soothing to one might be irritating to another. In all cases, however, complete nerve rest implies the maintenance of agreeable sensation and the avoidance of nervous agitation. It may not be possible to obtain such absolute rest as is here indicated, but the alm of treatment is to secure as near an approach to it as can be attained by legitimate means. No means are used Which might injure the general health.

The fact that women are more liable had sought to gain possession of the

ly possible to study this stage of the nervousness endeavor to escape the worries of life by taking refuge in drink, so that they usually bring upon themhaustion. On the other hand, there are the chief cause of the ailment. Although the most severe forms of this discan not be secured without more or less change being made in the ordinary mode of life. Nervous agitation is the chief cause of nervous exhaustion. It is almost impossible even for a healthy man to avoid a certain amount of agitation in connection with his affairs, while for the nervous man it is absolutely impossible. For the latter, therefore, a frequent holiday is essential. The way of spending such a holiday is a matter of urgent importance. Many nervous sufferers return home worse than when they left. They climb mountains in Switzerland when they lounging on the deck of an ocean steamer. They rise early "to make the best of to-day" when they had better lie several hours longer to fix the benefits seat of powerful-kingdoms and wealthy Office with Dr. Palmer, over Glazier's of yesterday. Like the unskilled rider, who dismounts for relief, they are frequently driven to bed to recover from history of the world .- A. II. Sayce, in their holiday exertions. The amount of Contemporary Review. THE BEST ICE CREAM exercise must be regulated by its effect on head or spine. Mere muscular fatigue may be overcome by regulated tigue may be overcome by regular walking, but nervous fatigue must be entirely avoided. If the patient can not take sufficient exercise to sustain his appetite and digestion, he had better undergo an hour's massage daily. And when he has once gained the power without fatigue of head or spine, he to retain it. There is no better preregular, unhurried, muscular exercise. If we could moderate our hurry, lessen our worry and increase our open-air exercise, a large portion of nervous diseases would be abolished. For those who can not get a sufficient holiday, the best substitute is an occasional day in bed. Many whose nerves are constantly strained in their daily vocation have discovered this for themselves. A Spanish merchant in Barcelona told his medical man that he always went to bed for two or three days whenever he could be spared from his business, and he laughed at those who spent their holidays on toilsome mountains. One of the hardest-worked women in England, who has for many years conducted a large wholesale business, retains excellent nerves at an advanced age, owing, it is believed, to her habit of taking one day a week in bed. If we can not avoid frequent agitation, we ought, if possible, to give the nervous system time to recover itself between the shocks. Even an hour's seclusion after a good lunch will deprive a hurried, anxious day of much of its injury. The nerves can often be overcome by stratagem when they refuse to be controlled by strength of will .- American Analyst. ANCIENT ARABIA

It Was a Land of Culture Long Before the Days of Mohammed.

We gather that as far back as the time of Solomon a rich and cultured Sabæan kingdom flourished in the south of Arabia, the influence of which, if not its authority, extended to the borders of head, and she is quite cured of the dis-Palestine, and between which and Syria | figuring habit. an active commercial intercourse was parried on by land as well as by sea. The kingdom of Saba had been preceded by the kingdom of Ma'in, equally civilsons and colonies were stationed on the fort, and in the end it will disappear enized and equally powerful, whose garrihigh road which led past Mecca to the countries of the Mediterranean. Throughout this vast extent of territory alphabetic writing in various forms was known and practiced, the Phœnician alphabet being the source from which it was derived. The belief accordingly that pre-Mahommedan Arabia was a land of illiterate nomads must be abandoned; it was not Islam that introduced writing into it, but the Princes and merchants of Ma'in and Thamud, centuries upon centuries before. If Mahommedan Arabia knew nothing of its past it was not because the past had left no record behind it.

A power which reached to the borders of Palestine must necessarily have come into contact with the great monarchies of the ancient world. The army Ælius Gallus was doubtless not the first which

than men to the severer forms of ner- cities and spice gardens of the vous exhaustion is one reason why the south. One such invasion is alcases quoted are chiefly those of women. luded to in an inscription which was Another reason is that in men it is rare- copied by M. Halevy. The inscription belongs to the closing days of the disease uncomplicated by the effects of Minman Kingdom, and after describing alcoholic indulgence. Most men who how the gods had delivered its dedicafind themselves becoming victims of tors from a raiding attack on the part of the tribes of Saba and Khaulan, or Havilah, goes on to speak of their further. deliverance from danger in "the midst selves other diseases of alcohelic origin. of Misr." or Egypt, when there was war In women this was not formerly the between the latter country and the land habit, but there is reason to believe that of Mazi, which Dr. Glaser would identhe late increase of inebriety among them | tify with the Edomite tribe of Mizzah is largely due to the spread of nervous ex- (Genesis xxxvi. 13). There was yeta third occasion, however, on which the many cases in both sexes where alco- dedicators had been rescued by their holic indulgence has undoubtedly been deities, 'Athtar, Wadd and Nikrahh; this was when war had broken out between the rulers of the south and of the north. ease have alone been discussed, it must If the rulers of the south were the not be supposed that milder forms do Princes of Ma'in, whose power extended not also require special nerve rest. This to Gaza, the rulers of the north ought to be found in Egypt or Palestine. Future research may tell us who they were and when they lived.

But the epigraphy of ancient Arabia is still in its infancy. The inscriptions already known to us represent but a small proportion of those that are yet to be discovered. Vast tracks have never yet been traversed by the foot of an explorer, and there are ancient ruins which have never yet been seen by the eye of the European. What has been accomplished already with the scanty means at our disposal is an earnest of what remains to be done. The dark ought to be loitering on the seashore or past of the Arabian peninsula has been suddenly lighted up, and we find that long before the days of Mohammed it was a land of culture and literature, a exercised an influence upon the general

TO CURE FROWNING.

A Bad Habit That Makes the Face Look Ten Years Older.

A great many earnest thinkers, especially those of a nervous temperament, fall in the habit of scowling when they read, write or talk seriously. This causes two little perpendicular lines to of walking from five to ten miles a day plow in between the eyes. You will notice these lines in portraits of the ought, by constant practice, to endeavor first Napoleon, Bismarck, the late Emperor William, Whittier and thousands ventive of nervous exhaustion than of others. The effect, as of all wrinkles and distortions, is to make the face ten

Now, this does not so much matter in a man, to whom good looks are of small concern, but it is a blemish on a girl's face. This habit of scowling or frowning is a habit almost impossible to correct, once formed, and it is a habit formed by a great many young people. Even in sleep their brows will be drawn together in this little frown that is an aider and abetter of age.

A smooth, white brow is one of the greatest attractions in a girl's face, and it is a shame that more attention is not paid to the correction of the bad habit. It is not so difficult if taken at the beginning. Practice speaking without moving any thing but the lips, and avoid raising and depressing the eyebrows while laughing or talking. A calm and even tone and avoidance of fits of temper will save many a wrinkle.

If the lines are already there it is sometimes possible to remove them by mechanical means. A bright, studious girl found herself the victim of this scowl, which had already made two fine nair lines in her white brow. She set herself to work to cure the habit by setting her mirror before her face when she read, wrote or studied; but as this slept in the band.

After several months the little hair lines disappeared from her pretty fore-

But the best plan is to avoid these marks. Don't frown. Check yourself and have your friends check you. Like all bad habits it will become less and less difficult to evercome with each ef-

The Domestic of the Period.

"Mr. Hankinson, you will excuse me if I receive you in the dining-room this "Don't mention it, Miss Kajones. It is much more cozy and homelike." "It is not on that account, Mr. Hankinson, but Bridget has gone into the parlor to take a nap on the lounge and given orders that she must not be disturbed."-Chicago Tribune.

-"You ought to support a good county fair here," said the new pastor, "you have a rich county and - " "Tain't no use," replied the Mayor. "We did try to organize, but the ground is too rolling; ain't a place in the county where we could lay out a good mile track."-Bur-

H. S. Holmes & Co.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

We are offering our entire stock of Men's Suits. Youth's Suits. Boys Suits.

Overalls, Flannel Men's Pants, Shirts, Summer Underwear, Straw Hats, etc., at reduced prices. We have too many goods, and propose to turn them into cash, if prices will do it. COME AND SEE.

Respectfully. H. S. HOLMES & CO.

WHOLE SET OF DISHES AND A

Pound of Baking Powder

FOR ONLY FIFTY CENTS, AT THE

she finally placed a ribbon band tightly across her brow, tying it in a knot at the back of her head, and at night she STANDARD GROCERY HOUSE.

CHELSEA ROLLER MILLS MARKET REPORT.

Corrected Weekly by Cooper & Wood

	$2.50
Roller Patent, per hundred,	2.50
I - I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I I	1004
I TE TO THE TOTAL THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPERTY
la Mari coorge Der Hilliand	11 200
Feed, corn and oats, per ton	15,00
Bran, per ton,	75c per 100
No short weights.

THE STANDARD COFFEE

In the Shadow of the Gallows

BY DAVID LOWRY.

SHEFTER BUILDINGS

Wherespor at histener attentively as the read from a boot quoted every hour in the finy by a people spreit perplexed experienced in a sover-living my-minding community horribe stories of whenceaft or Vil's Hill?" stiretlinied. Nowhern was there as nited fear and tremiting as a Salen -nowhere in Museuchusette was there stell dreat When comment and the peace and gwidwill that comes of understanding. His whose was tremittone at imee as is read and commented upor the words of constlatter forming the very forming of our capet there has I'l swear n' Christianity The even courtry linedrated moved his wife and distinguise despit. The fer o of his spirit commit- it true miented usoff to hern and when he dieset the noon saving. "Let us pray ever ann Bigger was subduct as she kindle At the time I will ut- 1805 - when

New Engineer vas convenient with the demsion of whoherest there was a pound. known as V limits ? out near one of the known to toning and out the of them. was guerrary move as V ner Hill become persons convicted of viccional. were concerned and mounted the scafford on View Etc. in the presence of a again. If his true

Walls Hill was a rocair avoiner after Len. Stinet from Jennet Fill baset breatt by centur possile win father the blace at exchence harding her own and mengenupra experiences rendered William Bill a very undescribe months after spurjet at eva reputation from the same all all appe CREA

In the open when the early named miles of buten were comme her appetend themsenter from the fintings a stout frame from Ley and wine my poor and structure termed a country of several to structure at the wife with was little to betown. The structure falled that house dutie panel for a while apparently biand fecus, was now dreated as mich as invente in all the work on the piece of upo until your approve the minute of Changel I were the course of the end one outtle she bent it her I wone Since yer that of strains signs yrmessed be west the wit not and V light Pont

Some there were was proposed burning the met minute. the min left be the had the puttings to . We have se well it bed " said dum with lattice next away. consecting people in neviron in make or tench formula or easy and had better the he hades her your viner and just our for a. that her her man we benimble I. is notice onser. more woman now in him appropriated it is not configured by which not have indeed Only the name is no mit only found some to selecte or menion of extrap times ex-

The steams that sponeaged the men, was transported by the fermion will be the fermion will be the free for a fermion of the first state of the fermion of wat he off her or Ville Ed that I have a hear seen than being. Mistress Lee ers of the lint like than here in these Been thus particular it besigning a new to avest him that charging called at manche that when he show which which we no the shower of noted over her falter promptly as the main speciment and proved all proper in was wearing onsimping in to ve of the superstilling

UP VILL S RILL mode the library were at the Louise to obstain moon. . one on bown mit Fifth the unit i are white after her finines personally it her aid to not find finder communications, some some form some finite new manner. Les emerges elements from her inther e while pred fortening of her elements and inther who rated wis lest the the state of the s

"If no ven our for ina Bidger" soul-Erra Lagran annest ----A art was granded to make to make to make the transfer He tremtuel Tit shots and poster appin

put un and fine und lattice

"I might have anown to be the time of the time and time that the " ment, followed eather to the victors and followed in the ment of t windles from the best and of I ment's said. mercer vil : home the signer of dewiththes are

Has tends with a stiffing on the parties.

fremader in morn. Leur

THE I am to make the part of the part of the comments of the part of the comments of the comme I'll meter new the product in the vis-

Rooms Looks Sell proper of the elect where the his find the district of the part of the pa tone and se the tall he have be made at meetingless meeting to the new ar of ther heart she heard a coming are a force . .

She disapteared in the aut again as he entrance, pressing a hand over their their tender Aribus Process that such on their stomache. Tell me made with Mrs. surrently there is no their best heart to still its throbbing. Cathering things can be buy that their best has it thus never a min opens his mount. Sunday decomes into the bug pourage, she moved slowly along the out. They have lost their hearts as well. They have lost their hearts as well. They have lost their hearts as well. What their hearts as well. What their hearts as well. What their hearts as well. courage, she moved slowly along the out.

Increase the real series as well inside of the hut, until her hand came in said her lover gloomily. They seem to against John Lee of Has in the real series and have turned to stone.

They seem to against John Lee of Has in the lover in another hand. Recoiling have turned to stone.

They seem to against John Lee of the hut another hand. Recoiling have turned to stone.

They seem to against John Lee of the hut another hand. Recoiling have turned to stone.

ilk to Will's Hill," he said, as he cast a | by the Marshal of Salem.

terrified look gioon non. Then he shivered; an agony of terror overnowered one with her? him he felt as though he were sinking to the earth. But he rallied and with tor. Proctor advanced thresteningly a hourse en for "Help" - nel homeward as lest as his less could carry him.

He was running for his life when he stunitiled against a man who was walking measity. questiv along the road Wnat That looper Stand bear"

"I am no rabbet an. I am but a poor apprentice an I would no hara-Lis the voice of Liza Basty."

And this is diaster Lline "Where are your feet parrying you so at this hour, Samuel Hobbs

"The a liony story I must not story twom him and convergerentice I must go home at once. 'n' least you out tel me where you IBVe been?

"I come from the mevil's own heldfrom Wills Hill-but mothing mot al. "He came because l'asked am to bring wichims to figure and gross superstitions. the money is busen could seam me to such rumors as he can gainer confesting ge tuck again."

" and pray wind were you doing

Wel. If you must know 'twas Am "Is she not boul Bugger name me go to water our Jamet

I am ned lynng I barne straight from V 11' * Hill. AND What saw you there" saw nothing one; I know I followed Jone to if a low bakes were worth all The is a grave charge. Lare " ave is no but here a what will prove

Ex main in a keroment - Gile Illis felt n carefulty thei returned in Trong that from mer melore size gra-

"E fine store. From count a gri run ur o from a lac to afrom as voni hills fumiliar to the people of baren. Gozet whomen ?'! wwent tosset he to Wiles believed built is Aftern or must be strong me a new transfer of the ground but I must have ne is the groups. him I must hister _lexyzuet

>  +5101" communic vot it stand where vot ure I wil nave a wort with the Mignsun or ins serios vot m' w som Let : an ready it make office it said

ter well sur the Ille ther cone with no lits. he ther values of size in size other Tills smuet woned. He impermost Wilking Four specific at thought, was ful though work in his

CHAPTEL A

When his opposite the same the fire and homer was homing a make ears

The family were in most than using, I seemen de l'un members su angelens de would strike in Alersia ther en r

THE R LIST, SUPPLIED WEST . WINTER IN unharmed note the events I am remain. Lot. Is he men in a one we were THE THE THE BALLET "V' Lette it child

"fiere in ner - une unewere. ensernd The bit bought has two meetings one at the moment who was demoning more word end it was been by a little Dir der father hat 100 posers, her te must ever ever ever And burges woned nothing it has that The same evening that a term 2 rooms they Then Ein Logger made a processes.

minerally at meeting the control of the value of the control of th and full the value Lord value for the large of the meter of the for any came in the appropriate of the contrary of the large of the first for any came conserve. 2 reserve to only out turns in the appre-

> "Auf out our thing of " * are her at most " ...

of thought summer arminet in a Ville are . . V. Do historical . and egent for her What here, Emilie 2 a a f il dott late. Di a bu. dewa."

Err aver smilet finner to member that I will not purpose you . The summer that inches a property The same the very our view the size of the fact that the same the same that the same that the same that the same that the same the same that the same that

ter that the printer of the pear take it thenk shore the march been approved by a street of the copy its laps prosthe Mary Lewis, whis the trace trace chimin to make a great—an epication of the himman data. another figure approached the other and out and new wanter against whispers and nothing there as there a may nother the contract the contract of the hur Janet stood tresolutely at her ove nother Here our people her of they had ded on something that stored , there is our

"And may do you mischiel.

The door latch was lifted at that inanswer a civil question without minering the platform, as his stately head towered the platform, as his stately head towered "This will tell who brings cake and stant, and Ezra Easty entered, followed his words."

"Did I not tell you me would find some

The apprectice pointed to Arthur Pros "Row dare von" lim Erra shielded in the Marshal samely replied

"I date mele than that as our prove But Arthur pushed the Marshal aside, and boxed the apprentice's ears soundly. The morse brought John Lee into the room, followed by Dorothed and Ann Bigger who stood in the doorway. "What is the meaning of this violence Ask Arthur Proctor. I but came be

"I'll have his wited," Line watness "Jane; " said her fathe; "what does Arthur Procte want here at the hour want incer her fathe courageously

"What the I tell you?" The apprentice turned to the Marshall entrare until there seemed to be a coming

Beacc," sau John Lee sterning and apprenension as it basen, where me Erra Lasty von know it will not say me and and Bigger stee your cake "JT mor be shiem and is in mistress 1129: INDEST

Perather Let advancing from the door SHRRENT INTETROSEC BOX

tirs auc. There is sometiming in the I will resoment. Ther nxing no eve abor no apprentice is asked nim. "Vine store the

. Twas your own daugnie and there a Am linger will prove the saw her Lax: then and liblinwes he. And where did you toltos her and

To Will a Hill within the hour since BY BEL SCITTE

"Vant proof have you of the When I that her it come nome with he and categor hold of her six fall name. maring the n my mand

The apprentice meld in a kerchief in no mand Perothes Lee suppressed in ext amminor as she moket a 10 daugmen Same it her turn cast a perfilled cook upon ner mother was was the fire is break the overnowering silence which followed the apprentice a polic speech

"Sin wom. sin begat our suggestive dates native between the Yorkha and Lot and spatching the gerome from Bill excisingmen

langer vas firm mine Consider he suspect their over her need to the voice of the Marsin rung and her must take you mu one! ATTENDED TO SEE THE PARTY OF THE PARTY.

ut me peremet men eving news in eful at me some with a me and other tuber in over it bravel and life

There was a ground in more in the Cana lin. The in was fre-hence to-I dones summer I was remarked that France Recupe vist herber to themen, by evel temperet as he was nothe past Bu people suit I vo hor niters violet The late that had overmied the app. abt The events that showeager the men. Was events to her of the shad of cure. There were times when he rest we Committee Meanite was the periods of the at a little while manner ? will min. In this was because it her little the un li vie totimie vist smatschet n is the customers. The Guide lin from enter - ware the community of the community and the descionation place stated a testuine the Bibst pupiling Teaps hour in in bilien.

There was a cheseful fire and a fina served from 1 + 100 summing lear lim. Twaders 1 +1 the opys the very to the correct of a content of the correct of the correct hear at much the first and more than the second of the first and the fir in When will indee these of whites. Not but much wheelt more and a mental eagle of got back red Her I hear V lany 2 and and some one companies are near the beard my factor vist. Percoher an the special vertical hear Valle Eth. where strange stills and forgin the lighter say this dum Lee is in this time the peternal billsememor have done adapting in the for the short and thought of entery there for the not the note that the form and the state of the state mine and kind burners who see these sup-LIVE THE THE VIET & HALL SCALES IN LIS DEPTIL STODES AND PLANT PROCE LINES. "I would thurs here if the united said that the other sure that the hear here the first section of the post of the "Well: well. The to least test to must dest to must be to make the state of the sta

Landlord, a jorum for the man that dares addition to the select crowd gathered on shakes a rat.

DI MER. I. M. HOWARD.

vitation to make a speech at the coming Fourth of July. melebration. to had hundreds, porthare thousands. of other men but it is to be housed that the honor du not have the same effect unon the other thouwantle for from the

Buncombe with the request he had begui te puf un and necessity for a new suit of clothes at the less i not un entire change of resi-

Bence and secupation. He was not a domestic angel at any time and poor pentie Ales Buncomie immediately descended to a lower scale it he estimation that ever before, while the unio lineconies were made to stant arount will a firmness hitherto unparaseset in the domestic economy fie that a gait of aweling importance fathon ere l'gre to bed. dont ... symble & and time and now his spina column seemet in comper from the strain but upon it as Mit. Binneonine swelled and breat and mile Lors Last. Answer strutted while his even had a fur away 100L B If the great mind was southing of min space it search of wonderfu and unaphroaciabe thoughts in the coming G: 1101.

I we this important pair and manner of me wheel had camed him the mynetion in the first place, for the committee. no being composed of critical or analyti-Dat. Destricted Institutely supposed that wifers here was so much but there has: is a corresponding amount of word aphas a numery provert . In the a lift lime in fingers through his stubily hair, and comis credit dur the trient and importablemen mice vinci le se evidende consideres him ed messes of the works will the public old accompanies thereal engineneed of a mome diffined swings and like

At note the theming special of the fire the up to following with the reading of the twinking of an eye. the Lechtains, and M: Bunconde. all the rest of the programme in fact, don - the Emerican enginthat the me supplied to 1796 the Life

lummy of met, vers on the onnier whole table for week before the amendment

 BURDIT LOTES SE SOUGHER EXERGED

Propose Grade view in the shorter of the sponsors reads in a the harm affirming of prior especially of February of July war in an interpose the community of the first track of American hard and the first track of the first of the list conduct to a conduct the revenue. I when it is not the control of the conduct to a conduct to a conduct the conduct to a conduct t fruit tipes in home and as if journing encarred and a members with M: 1-11- tales as is truck as encourage and the number emerged form the new wat wit at descript at greening. bunce live opine names I mail in some i spectated with hims other and main the first makes from a her one she mint vit field ince view thin in the whole is a mention to sure to the abdience was a good-natured one. The summaring Doctor made - mean. Wider - there, tenner +1 mb. to bis that the cheeks and model eves how theroughly side of the hut; until her hand came in said her lover grooming.

Sontact with another hand. Recoiling have turned to stone.

Word for John Lee 1 say made mine a Matthew And less but not least, the man's wife—child of his bone—all hand coolers best took no notice of the face that and nobody date was word. I diest put was carefully housted in be. Mr. But.

Spicy contents of the clother basket and others among the property and the put of the clother basket and others and nobody date was carefully about a put of the clother basket and others and nobody date was carefully about a put of the clother basket and others and nobody date was carefully about a put of the clother basket and others and nobody date was carefully about a put of the clother basket and others.

pore an orator of the day in their rear.

up from his stiff collar and ample cravat, ble, we blamed oneartin thing, " he muthis broad brow bared to the July breeze, tered as he struck a match.

and his broad smile beaming upon his follow-citizens in a most opndescending and patennining memer.

"That yet men bear's got curvator of the spine, her he?" remarked as honest furmer to another, as he caught a site view of Mr. Buncombe's postly figure. . Penrs like his buck bone's kinder dravn back somehow?"

does effor to th it lo

a pa

Sun

the turn on o

noth

who drive

an a stop

stres

the bold

of th

The

cluel

imp

little

thos

whil

head

each

chee

bega

amb

anxi

"oh,

out

CTBC

d ffe

held

the !

work

The

Eacl

and that calle

chil

The

best

yet '

Cin

acto

WOD

"the arm

shot

Yor

ised

ban

brok

ance

oj ei to h

wait

him

map

the in h 8W£

Car hote

ma

pala

com

atta It old love

Whi

Hor nisk that ball 80 I ceil love the riag

the big

Wed fra

* 1

H

TI

Th

It

The lowest gave a terse and pointed spencia, spring by wittilly remarking that he presumed his audience were as bungry as he was himself, and he would not detain them with a long speech within the very shadow of the tempting tables. The doctor ruttled through the Declaration with all the spend allowable, and the band pileved fast and furious upon the "Star Spangled Banner," and then Mr. how when the con- Buncombe arose, and with a murity mittee or program shem posed before his sudience, the estriffe, biles are "

*Anen Friends and feliev-citizens. that proud our of treedom the repre-It was it be a furn colors that, held in sentimive of our Arefron libertee, the Four Mr. Bunconste, he was uppeau to juxue " and a garmone time was ex- public speaking and that terrible malary shows as stage fruit somethin it its re-I be noncorn hewer of the village was den less man and his enesch few away from him to the four vinds of heaven in

Be turbed a vivid sed for his hunds representing the agreement unessent of through his bar with desperate energy the community, would filler with his mid begin again. These friends and felspeed the the mass and Mr. 2. see hew-named that proud tord of liberty. cost's described the best should pund the representative of our American free-1340 then at owl probably avalened trom The distinguist the emercialisted a bid in monday may by the menon of al the me or on which which the whither has beening streeming members, which event und ever evening the vicing Etn. ondite turned a strade tedder. "My The underton univered and Mr Burmonder very tradition about it fearly friends, he said agent designateds. That tentementaries into the should Ener: 2 # : 25#---

"Sey, muster, I grove the mercury engle - few-dawn 'somewied a small how it he abdence, after the jurise and le-OBER 1991 to be.

The apparents or managements semerk had completed Mr Bonemute's embarrassused, and while the people routed vois designated his Buncounte et greened ament to less west 12/8 months the persportan of delent from 114 brev and whiled for a few morantains to some inm from the rate of that r g. har stath-not. "F b) + gright bil dette it libw." Wilde-Jered Paliniber at Judita's est.

"Samed on right " recorned Jelinet. "He das bierness to a fell so taumed ing

· (our other med feller er men. Mr. Buncombe desires me to sur that owing to a stifficer afficies of talmens he was be the ale- to inset the stieresting and eleption; cratica vinet we and imped to hear." specifie lawret touriers, as he came to few of the point of third even time the front programmy exposions his ellipses. distribute the water transfer the sent and the state of t un emeret i the evening counte at the very sort ordered off to set, and something his continue as minus the short of in the species of the course product of the first of the ful again of the fire and culter for some has Mr. visci is always carried with said local safety borns, he fooded has bent,

"Married for our sel me somether empty that the committee most be. Tell to what of I was man, next never an here an action in the content of the and see my by Mrs. Little-omber scarlet.

- back to my ship lest somehody taken how combe himself, who was go ten up in a otherly neighborly attentions, succeeding omer, exclaiming:

"I have you now, Miss Janet! What rings you to Will's Hill at this hour with ake and milk, when you's should be at smooth of the figure resisted, there was a brief truggle, and Ezin Easty grasped the air suspect."

That is enough. It is Gless Ellis you the most and rubbed an ear with the most and rubbed an ear with the most and rubbed an ear with the most and rubbed and rubb

Mr. Buncombe formed an ornamental dictive eyes, and shook it as a terrier

He Could Drive.

It is one mark of a true artist that he does his work with a seeming absence of effort which is likely to be very deceptive to the inexperienced beholder. How easy it looks! Anybody could do it. So thought a passenger on a six-horse White Mountain coach, as related by a writer in the Sunday-School Times. The driver, he says, was a tall Yankee, with a face that might have been out out of an oak plank. The stage rolled smoothly along, with the leaders often out of sight around the turns, and a precipice going sheer down on one side, and a bank rising sheer up on the other. Our Jehu did not seem to be doing anything in particul r, and nothing appeared easier than to drive a stage as he did it.

Beside him sat a short, important man, who "talked horse" incessantly, while the driver listened good-naturedly, but with an air of amusement. At length the stage stopped at a bridge over a mountain stream. The driver handed the lines to the horsemen beside him, saying, "just hold these while I give 'em some water."

He took a bucket from under the rail of the bridge, and gave each ho se a dr nk. Then, as he climbed into his seat, he clucked to his horses, and said to his selfimportant friend, "you just drive 'em a little, while I put on my cloves."

It took him a long while to draw on those gauntlet gloves, the horses meanwhile listening backward, tossing their heads, biting at each other, and going each for himself.

Then a dry smile wrinkled the driver's cheek as he picked up the long whip, and began unrolling it to the breeze. The ambitious substitute, now flushed and anxious, turned to him with a despairing "oh, don't!" But the long lash floate ! out behind, and came back with a sharp crack close to the leaders ears.

The whole team plunged, but in six different directions, and the man who held the reins reached them helplessly to the real driver, saying, "Here, take 'em!"
He slipped them between his fingers, worked quietly a minute or two, shortening one here, loosening another there. The horses felt some magical change. Each pair came up evenly to their collars. and bent their heads together with an air that said, "This is all right.

The driver smiled his dry smile, and called out to them encouragingly, "There. children, your father's got home again!" Then turning to the disappointed man beside him, he said, good-naturedly, "Taint any wonder a stranger can't do it. He don't know the critter's mouths, nor yet their dispositions."

A Drama Behind the Scenes.

Charlotte Cushman, we are told, was in love but once in her life. She met in Cincinnati, where she was playing, an actor named Clark, with whom she fell in love. Through her efforts Clark was advanced to leading man in the company, and the course of true love ran smoothly.

One night the actress met a strange woman behind the scenes between the acts. The woman was worn and fade !looking, and was almost in rags, and carried a baby in her arms. Miss Cushman wondered who she was, and wondered how she got behind the scenes; but she wondered more when the woman came up to her and addressed her thus:

"You are Charlotte Cashman, the great actress. Haven't you got enough men to admire you, without coming between man man."

"Your only man!" eckoed Miss Cashman, hardly thinking she had heard

"Yes, my husband," said the fadedlooking, ragged woman.

Your husband?" cried Miss Cushman, getting excited. "What on earth are you talking about? De I know your hus-

"Yes; and you have taken, or you are tryin' to take him from me," continued the ragged one, looking Miss Cushman full in the face, who saw that the strange woman was in earnest.

"Who is your husband?" asked Miss Cushman, returning the look with in-

"Conrad Clark," replied the woman, "the father of this chile, pointing to the half-starved, then little child in her

Miss Cushman started as if she was

Conrad had married the woman in New York years ago, and had deserted her a year afterwards.

It was enough. Miss Cushman promised the woman she should have her hus-

"At least, I will have nothing more to do with him," she said and though it broke her keart, she kept her word.

She went through her part that night as usual-acted it splendidly-brought down the house; then, after the performance, she sent for Clark to come to her dressing-room. Clark knocked, and then of ened the door She brought forward to him his wife and baby, who had been waiting in the dressing-room to receive him. Such a reception! Charlotte Cushman never looked or acted so grandly on the stage all her life as she did that night in her dressing-room. She waved Clark away with a greater majesty than ever, as Queen Catherine, she waved away Cardinal Wolsey, and then, going to her hotel, probably had a good crying spell. But she never loved again.

The Story of a New York House.

There is in New York, upon one of the most fashionable thoroughfares, a most ma nificent house-yea, it is a veritable palace-which can never be looked at by the sentimental woman without a tear coming to her eye, because of the story attached to it.

It was designed and built by one of the Tichest men in New York -the head of an old Dutch family for the woman he loved. Throughout the whole house, which might have been called "The House Bountiful," were the colors, furnishing, ornaments, and dainty touches that were the young bride's taste. The ball-room, in which she expected to trip so many merry-measures, was walled and ceiled in many-colored marbles; but the lover, himself, directed the building of the porte cochere under which her carriage was to roll, so that, stepping out, she would not be touched by a drop of ready; the horses were pawing in the stable waiting for the day to come when they would carry their new mistress out; the coachman and the footman had their big white result. Over forty thousand carpenters are big white resettes at hand to wear on the wedding day; the house was full of fragrance, for beautiful flowers were Over forty thousand carpenters are selected as the result in New York.

Over forty thousand carpenters are selected as the result in New Stephens, Lebanon, Ohio, Mention This paper was warned to abvertee the number of congress.

HEEMAN & MONEY, Washington, D. C. Patent Pension Claim and Land Attreners.

H. D. Money, 10 years member of Congress.

A. A. Freeman, 8 years ass't U. S. Att'y Gen.

massed to please the coming mistress. and everything seemed to be in harmony with all this thoughtful, loving care, for the sun shone bright and it was somebody's wedding day. Yes; but it wasn't an earthly wedding, for when, with quick footsteps, her mother went to wake the expectant - bride, she found her dead. The last kiss she had given had been to her lover the night before. The last kiss he ever gave any human being he gave to her as she rested in her coffin. But he lives on in the beautiful house and does. with his great fortune, a deal of good, all in the name of the woman he loved. The shutters are never opened in that wonderful house, the carriage has never be n used, no feet have danced in the ball-room; but it and the solitary man are there as evidences of the fact that a love can so completely fill the heart that all life is nothing without it .- Ladies' Home Journal.

In Nature's Temple.

Dr. Mackenzie describes the churchgoing habits of the Scotch Highlanders in the early part of this century, and incidentally mentions a famous valley in which it was customary to hold open-air services. It was close beside the parish church-"a most wonderful hollow in the sandy-soiled prairie.'

It had a complete coat of beautiful inch-long benty grass, and a thousand spades could not have formed a more perfectly egg-shaped cup, in the bottom of which was placed the wooden preachingbox, and in front of it long, narrow tables and benches for the communion.

A few "shuparior pershous" sent before them stools on which to sit, see and listen, but ninety-nine of the hundred of us sat on the nicely sloping banks all around the "bed," till we overflowed upon the level of the grassed ground out-

The "bed" was estimated to hold two thousand persons seated, and perhaps three thousand were often gathered to the services, packed tightly to one another, as was the fashion at these times.

A more orderly and seriously conducted congregation I am sure has never been seen anywhere, or young men more polite to the women. From the shadeless situation and the crush, the women were often thirsty, and I have many times seen them kindly supplied with a shoeful of water from the parish well!

We hear of grand public rooms of bad quality for hearing the speaker, but the faintest word from the Dottom of Fingal's bed was heard as plainly as in a closet.

I should be very much surprised if any one who had ever heard an old Gaelic psalm floating in the ar, from the thousands of worshipers in this valley, could forget it in a hundred years. The finest organ ever made could not in its impressiveness equal that solemn sound.

Art in America.

It is true that the Greek love of beauty in its expression in art was accompanied by a civilization that stopped at a fixed point and fell, says Harper's Bazar. Did, I hear from her? O, yes; and she But the civilization from which women were excluded, as they were in the Greek, would fall to ashes in spite of the love and worship of beauty. It is true also that art in modern Europe has not rendered the race any better where it flourishes most freely; but cramping influences of tyranny, disturbing political pressure, and the effect of religious customs forbidding individual freedom of and wife, and robbin me of my only opinion will explain that, without recourse to the fact that only the bald material beauty is seen by the great number, and not the spirit which informs it. In our country we have brought about at last the conditions which should be fostering-wealth in abundance, to ether with unlimited freedom of thought and of expression, ambition and desire for excellence, and beauty everywhere at hend, in sea or shore, in mountains, in prairies, in everglades and pampas, and pastures and orchards and city streets, and the larger beauty of a people marching on to heaven alone knows what mighty goal. Here, then, art has a field which no other time or country has ever given it, for in no other country has it ever grown under the legis of national liberty, and in me other country where Dobbins Electric Soap wrappers. See list woman and the home have been so hon- of novels on circulars around each bar. oved as they are in this, so that work | Soap for sale by all grocers. which it may yet do for our homes is semething that arouses the imagination and makes the heart beat.

Depew's Southern Story.

T was talking with Chauncey M. Depew the other evening about his recent trip South. During our conversation he said: "I Sound the Southern people very interesting. The negroes are much more entertaining than I expected to find them. Yor know in the North we rarely, if ever. see the real darky, ragged, lazy and happy, as he is paturally. I overheard one conversation between an old 'aunty' and her daughter that will amuse you, I knew. Here it is:

'Liza Jane, hev yo' druv up all dem chickins yit?'

- "Yaas, ma.'
 "Yo' sho' yo' druv 'em all up?' " 'Yaas, ma.
 - "Yo'count dem chickens, Liza Jane?
- ".'Yaas, ma. " 'How many wus dere, Liza Jane?'
- " 'One. "Right, Liza Jane." - New York Star,

A Process of Mending.

Travis-Ch, dear! Early summer always treaks me up. I feel as if I was going all to pieces. Blood ood -Il tell you what you want to do, then

Travis-What's that? Bloodgood - Take a run right after dinner and get a stitch in your side .- Burlington Free Press. VICTOR BOULET, a poor workman at Keenville, N. Y., has made a lucky find. The path from his house to the gate had worn down so that some stones in it became troublesome, One morning he took a crowbar and began prying them up.

He found that they were cobblestones that had been driven into the ground, forming a circle. Beneath them was a large flat stone. His curiosity was excited, and he pried up the latter, when he discovered beneath it a brass kettle full poses except the laundry. of maney, but whether gold or silver is not stated.

THE Episcopai Convention of Ohio rain or a flake or snow. Everything was has decided to remove all restrictions

How to Make a Lasso.

No cowboy or ranger of the Western plains is of any account without a lasso, or "rope," as it is generally called. It is a much more useful article than a revolver, and the cattle king prefers expert ropers to crack shots any day.

Lassoes can be bought in any town west of Kansas City, and a fair article is manufactured for sale, but the expert roper makes his own rope. It may come in handy some day to save his life, and he wants to be sure that it is made properly. This is the way he makes it:

First, the rawhide is cut in thin strips as long as possible and half tanned with the hair on. Then these strips are soaked and stretched over a block. Then they are braided into a rope, c re being taken, of course, to pull the strands as t ght as possible.

When the riata (lasso) is made it should be buried for a week, ten days or even a fortnight, in the sand. It takes up moisture from the ground without getting hard. Soaking it in water won't do, nor will anything else, so the ropers say, except burying it. When the riata is resurrected it should again be left for a time stretched over a block, with a weight to hold it taught. Then the hair should be sandpapered off the outside, and when the riata is greased with mutton tallow and properly noosed it is ready for use.

Every roper who pretends to take care of his apparatus will bury his rists and stretch it every six or eight months. With these precautions a lasso is practically everlasting. It can't wear out, and a herd of cattle could hardly break it.

If About to Travel or Emigrate. The voyager cannot be provided with a safer remedy and protective medicine than Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Abundant testimony exists to prove that it nullifies hurtful climatic influences and the effects of exposure, that it reconciles the stomach to unaccustomed food, and prevents injurious results from impure water. Mariners, tourists, emigrants, and miners have all contributed their quota of testimony in its behalf, and its protective influence has been most effectually demonstrated in regions and under conditions where, if not really effective, that fact would long since have been exposed. In no class of disorders have its remedial and preventive properties been more conspicu-ously shown than in cases of malarial fevers, maladies for which it is the most popular specific in existence, both here and in the tropics, where ts reputation is scarcely second to that which it enjoys on this continent. It is, morever, a most agreeable appetizer and nervine.

How Dawson Managed to Hear from His Wite

"When I left home last month," sa'd Mr. Dawson to his friend, "Mrs. Dawson was not in a very good humor. I wrote her every three or four days; but for three weeks I received no answer to my letters. It is embarrassing to keep up a correspondence when you have no assistance. Finally I was desperately determined to hear from her. So I wrote a description of a beautiful young widow, stating she was stopping at our hotel. saved the expenditure of postage by boarding the next train. She's here with me now, and how glal I am that widow was imaginary."- West Shore.

Worth Hundreds of Dollars. My wife used only twe bottles of "Mother's Friend" before her third confinement. Says she would not be without it for hundreds of dollars. Had not half as much trouble as before. Dock Miles, Lincoln Parish, La. Write The Bradfield Regu-lator Co., Atlanta, Ga., for jurther particulars. Sold by all druggists.

What She Had Learned.

There is a lady in Washington who has spent numerous afternoons in an effort to acquire an acquaintance with the game of base-ball. She has attended gome after game, and recently, at the dinner table, announced the result of her observation.

I have learned," said she, deliberately, "that the pitcher does not try to throw the ball so that a man'can hit it."- Washington Post.

Sr. Noreis Free, will be sent by Cragin & Go., Philada., Pa., to any one in the U. S. or Canada, postage paid, upon receipt of 25

A CHIMNEY has been designed for the Royal Smelting Works of Saxony, Germany, by Herr Heneicke, that is to be 46 feet high, with an inside diameter of 23 feet at the base and 15 feet 6 inches at the outlet. The works will be connected with the chimney by a horizontal flue 1093 yards in length, which crosses the River Mulda and takes an upward course of 197 feet to the top of the hill, where the giant chimney will stand an example of eng seering skill. It will take 1,500,-tricks to build this perpendicular funnel, and its cost is estimated at about $30,000.

S. K. COBURN, Mgr., Clarie Scott, writes: "I find Hall's Catarrh Cure a valuable remedy." Lauggists sell it, 75c.

NEW YORK CITY is to have a splendid new hotel on the plan of the larger ones in London and Paris. It is to have a grand central court, into which carriages will enter, and on to which all the stories will open. This hotel is to stand on the site of the old Astor mansion; at Thirtythied street and Fifth avenue and is expected to be completed in a year.

Seuthern California fruit growers are importing orange trees from Cuba in large numbers.

Dayogists, you should always have a good supply of Dr. Buil's Worm Destroyers on hand. Mothers want these candies for the realdren and won't take any other.

Some geologists have contradicted Moses; but as all geologists have contradicted each other, Moses stands about as well as unybody.

For a disordered liver try BEECHAM's

Poets who are born, not maid, must be of the male persuasion.

"DELAYS are dangerous." Clean house at one with SAPOLIO. It is a solid cake of Scouring Soap used for all cleaning pur-

BEST, easiest to use and cheapest. Piso's Remedy for Catarrh. By druggists. 50c.

TRAVELING men smoke "Tansill's Punch."

New Laws: PENSIONS For Wid For Soldiers: PENSIONS For Park Write at once to J. L. McFarland, Washington, 1

New Pension Law!

PATRICK O'FARRELL. Washington

PENSIONS The great Pension Bill has passed. Soldiers, their widows, mothers, and you get your money. Blanks free. Joseph H. Hunter, Att'y, Washington, D. C.

DR. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S ORIENTAL CREAM, OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER.

FERD. T. HOPKINS, Prop'r. 37 Great Jones St., N. Y.

PATENTED AUG. 16, 1887, IMPROVED JULY 30, 1888.
DR. OWEN'S FLECTRO-

PATENTED AUG. 16, 1887, IMPROVED JULY 30, 1888.

DR. OWEN'S ELECTROGALVANIC BODY BELT AND SUSPENSCRY will cure All Rheumatic Complaints, Lumbago, General and Ne vous Debility, Costiveness, Ki dney
Diseases, Nervousness, Trembling, Sexual Exhaustion, Wasting of Body, Dis eases caused by Indiscretions in Youth.Age
Married or Single Life.
Cysent to Responsible Parties on 30 Days TRIAL
TRY A PAIR OF ELECTRIC INSOLES SI PER PAIR.
Also an Electric Truss and Belt Combined.

Also an Electric Truss and Belt Combined.
Send Sc. postage for PREE illust'd book, 224 pages, which will be sent you in plain sealed cavelope Mention this paper. Address
OWEN ELECTRIC BELT & APPLIANCE CO,
SOG North Broadway. ST. LOUIS, MO,
826 Broadway. NEW YORK CITY.

Webster's Dictionary $4.00.

ICTIONARY

UCILLUSTRATIONS

AND AN

AD XIDN3991

10000 WORDS

The Copyright on the Original Webster's Dictionary Expired with the Year 1889.

For forty-two years the people have paid a heavy roya ty to the great publishing firm who have held portant book in the English language. No American parent has been permitted to educate his boy or girl without paying tribute to this house, which has literally placed a till-gate across the highway of education. The gateway is now dismantled. This new edition of WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY is a complete reprint of the original work, which hereifore sold.

for $10.00 per copy. It is not a cheap, saide affair, but a bona-fide NOAH WEBSTER S DICTIONARY, plain-

iy printed on nice white paper and serviceably

by express the Dictionary above described.

ound-in leather.
Upon receipt of $4.00 we will send to any address.

As to our reliability, we refer you to the publisher!

271 and 273 Franklin Street, Core o. Ill.

of the paper in which this advertisement is printed. Money should be sent by expression postoffice order, bank draft, or registered letter. Address all

THE NEWSPAPER UNION.

In summer the warmer weather is especially weakening and enervating, and that tired feeling prevails everywhere. The great benefit which people at this season derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla proves that this medicine "makes the weak" strong," It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened part;, and purifies the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1: six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 50c and $1 bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Do not accept any substitute.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. SAN FRANCISCO, CAL. LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK. N.Y.

DENSION Washington, D.C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U. S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in last war, i5 adjudicating claims, atty since.

KIDDER'S PASTILLES Price 35 cts. ASTHMA.

Price 35 cts. ASTHMA.

Price 35 cts. ASTHMA.

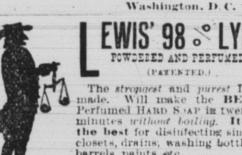

Chr riestown, Mass.

MENTION THIS PAPER THE WEST WESTING TO ADVECTISERS.

CHICAGO SCALE CO., CHICAGO, ILLS.

JAMES TANNER,

EWIS' 98 % LYE! POWDERED AND PERFUMED.

Late Commissioner of Pensions,

The strongest and purest Lye made. Will make the BEST Perfumed HARD SOAP in twenty minutes without boiling. It is the best for disinfecting sinks, closets, drains; washing bottles, barrels, paints, etc.

PENNA. SALT MANUF'G. CO., Gen. Agts., Phila., Pa.

PASTILLE DE MARS for an invitorator will factory ar lose ever offere i the public $1.00 per box). The Mars' OVOIDS for private ciseas a unsurpassed ($2 per box). Treatment and correspondence strictly connaientia. DR. DE MARS, Ex U.S. Evaniming Surpace, Sand Salumental Blds. Sec. 18. dorse Big & as the only specific for the certain cure of this disease. 1 TO 5 DATS. G. H. INGRAHAM, M. D. Amsterdam, N. Y.

We have sold Big G for Evans Chemical Co. many years, and it has given the best of satisfaction.
D. R. DYCHE & CO., Cincinnati, Chicago, III. Sold by Druggists.

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, in this paper.

PISO'S REMEDY FOR CATARRIA.—Best, Easiest to use. Cheapest. Relief is immediate. A cure is certain. For Cold in the Head it has no equal. It is an Ointment, of which a small particle is applied to the nostrils. Price, 50c. Sold by druggists or sent by mail.

Address, E. T. HAZELTINE, Warren, Pa.

The best is aye the cheapest." of and substitutes for SAPOLIO - It is a solid cake of scouring soap Try it in your next house-cleaning.

REAL ECONOMY.

It is worse than nonsense to buy a cheap article with which to damage more valuable property. Scouring soap is at best only a trifling expense, but with a poor and cheap article it is likely to do considerable damage to fine marble or other property.

OFFICIAL VILLAGE PAPER.

WM. EMMERT.

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1890.

COUNTY CIRCUMSTANCES.

Carefully Culled, Clipped, Cured .-Softly Served Subscribers.

"I will be a sister to you," she said. "No," he replied sadly; I have got one sister who wears my neckties, borrows car-fare, loses my hair brush, puts tidies all over the furniture in my room and expects me to take her to the theater twice a week. I think I will go into the world and forget you .-

An exchange says: The question has been asked us whether there is a law against playing ball on Sunday. Sec 2015 of Howell's compiled laws says that no person shall take part in any sport, game or play on the first day of the week. And every person so offending shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $10 for each offence.

Harry Sayles, the evangelist, closed a two week's series of meetings last Sunday evening with a result of nearly fifty conversions. - Stockbridge Sun. Trust they are "conversions," but such things are rare occurences, now. Those fifty converts ought to be able to convert that board of yours which allows a saloon to come in with a $3,000 bond, and probably any one on the bond who wants to sign it.

Sunday afternoon last, about an hour after services closed, the Michigan Centre church, in which Dr. Holmes preaches, was struck by lightning, and the tip of the steeple fired. The rain kept the flames from spreading on the outside, while men climbed up the inside and with dippers kept the flames from coming down, finally extinguishing them. A lady was also struck, severely burning the right side of her body and limb.

A young man who went "west" filled with enthusiasm and a desire to allowed and orders to be drawn on the "grow up with the country," sur- treasurer for the amount, less taxes. prised his friends by returning home Martin McKone, 24 loads gravel $12 00 after an absence of several weeks. He J P Wood, 63 loads of earth ... 630 said that while he was out land hunting in what he thought was the garden spot of America, he came across Walter Leach 13 " " a boarded up claim shanty. On the A Congdon 13 " boards nailed across the door he found Wm. Emmert printing first this inscription, which accounted for his unexpected return: "Fore miles from a nayber, 16 miles from a postofis, 20 miles from a raleroad, a hun- time to collect taxes be extended to dred and atey miles from water. There's the 1st of August. no place like home, we've gone east to spend the winter with my wife's folks."-Ex.

Calvin Bliss, after doing business in Ann Arbor for 56 years has sold out his jewelry store to his son Gilbert, and retires from active life. Mr. Bliss came to this city in July, 1834, and at that time was the only jeweler in the United States west of Detroit. Chicago was then merely a trading station. He had served six years at his trade before coming here, and is today the oldest known jeweler in the United States in continuous service. He retires from business hale and hearty for one of his years. Mr. Bliss was the youngest of 13 children, and his father was a lieutenant in the revolutionary war.

Every honest, reflecting mind knows that the local newspaper adds much to the wealth and prosperity of the place as well as increasing the reputation of the place abroad. It benefits all who have business in the place, enhances the value of property, besides being a public convenience. It increases trade, it saves you from loss, it warns you against danger, it points out your different advantages and your profit. If you want such a paper, support it by advertising your business in it; assist in increasing its circulation by getting your neighbor to subscribe for it. If you want such a paper you must not consider it an act of charity to support it, but a means to increase your own wealth as well as the wealth of the place in which you live; therefore support it by advertising and subscribing and paying for it.-Stolen.

The STANDARD one year and the Detroit Free Press four months for $1.25. Pay your subscription now and get the opening chapters of the Free Press $1,600 prize story "The Captain of Co. K."

"Excuse me, sir," he said as he stepped into the office, "but do you carry any life insurrace?"

asking another," said the merchant. "Do you carry any fire insurance?" "Why, no. I-"

"Well, if you go out quietly you won't be fired, that's all."

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Chelsea, June 5, 1890. Board met in W.J.Knapp hardware Roll call by the clerk:

Present, W. J. Knapp, president, Trustees, H. S. Holmes, H. Lighthall, W. F. Riemenschneider, G. & Crowell, W. Bacon.

Absent, G. H. Kempi. Minutes of meeting May 21, also May 29 read and approved.

Moved and carried to make the license to the book sellers $10 for second week. On motion the following bills were allowed and orders to be drawn on the treasurer for the amount less taxes.

Wm. Bacon, tile and lumber ... $57.55 A. Allison, notices...... 1.00 F. P. Glazier, one book..... W. J. Knapp, paying freight. Jame Geddis jr., work on road . 2 50 a permanent cure. Ch. VanOrden S. VanRiper Ben Hawley Ed Winters H. Lighthall Arthur Hunter

On motion the board adjourned. FRED VOGEL, Clerk.

Chelsea, June 19, 1890.

Board met in council room. Meeting called to order by president. Roll call by clerk.

Trustees, H. S. Holmes, W. Bacon, H. Lighthall, G. H. Kempf G. J. Crowell.

Absent, W F. Riemenschneider. Minutes of previous meeting read and approved.

On motion the following bills were James Leach, 7 loads gravel.... 3 50 R B Gates 21 " " quarter

H Lighthall, work on road.... Motion made and carried that the

On motion the board adjourned.

FRED VOGEL, Clerk.

Lima Luminations.

George Mitchell has some fine red raspberries.

Telephone Lodge elected new officers last Thhrsday night.

The wind did considerable damage around here, Monday afternoon.

Mrs. M. Ormsby and children, of Pontiac, are visiting relatives here.

S. J. Guerin and family, of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday at O. B. Guerin's.

Mrs. A. B. Storms and children, of Hudson are visiting I. Storms and stroke of paralysis. She is with her daughter, Mrs. A. Holden, at Sharon.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. THE CIRCUIT COURT for the County of Washtenaw.

Mary Riggs, complainant,

Clara H. Riggs, Chauncey W. Riggs, In Chancery.

Rowena Riggs. Defendants.

Suit pending in the circuit court for the Suit pending in the circuit court for the county of Washtenaw in chancery. At Ann Arbor on the 10th day of June, 1890, it satisfactorily appearing to this court by affidavit on file that the defendant, Rowena Riggs, is a nonresident of this state and a resident of the state of Ohio, and that the last known place of residence of a defendants Clara H. Riggs, and Chauncey W. Riggs was in this state, but that their present place of residence cannot be ascertained. On motion of David B. Taylor of counsel for complainant, it is ordered that the said defendants Rowena Riggs, Clara H. Riggs and Chauncey Rowena Riggs, Clara H. Riggs and Chauncey W. Riggs, cause their appearance in this cause to be entered within five months from the date of this order and that in case of their appearance ance that they cause their answers to the complainant's bill of complaint to be filed and copies thereof to be served on said complainant's solfcitor within forty days after service of them of a copy of said bill and a notice of this order, and that in default thereof said bill be taken as confessed by said popresident of the confessed by the confe taken as confessed by said nonresident defen-dants, and it is further ordered that within twenty days from the date hereof the said twenty days from the date hereof the said complainant cause a notice of this order to be published in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed and published in said county of Washtenaw, and that the said publication be continued in said paper at least once in each week for six weeks in succession.

HOWLETT, Register.

"Pd like to answer that question by Thrush, Pinworm Heave Remedy.

Curlett's Thrush Remedy is a sure cure for Thrush and rotting away diseases of the feet of stock.

or beast) a compound that effectually removes those troublesome parasites, Meeting called to order by president. Which are such a great source of annovances to stock.

Curlett's Heave Remedy is a sure cure for Heaves in the earlier stages, and warranted to relieve in advanced stages, if not producing a cure.

TESTIMONIALS.

Jue Stanton, of Webster, says: "I cured a very bad case of thrush with-

Henry Doody, of Dexter township, says: My horse was cured of a very bad case of thrush by using Curlett's Thrush Remedy.

Chas. Goodwin, of Webster township (formerly of Dexter township) Washtenaw county, says; "I cured the worst case of thrush I have ever seen, with Curlett's Thrush remedy, which made

George H. Conners, of Dexter town-2 50 ship, Washtenaw Co., says: I cured my horse of thrush by the use of Curlett's Thrush Remedy, which I have known others to use and it always produced a

Levi R. Lee, of Webster, Washte-H Lighthall, 41 loads of gravel. 20 50 naw Co., says: "I had a very valuable horse which was afflicted with thrush five or six years and could not cure it until I used Curlett's Thrush Remedy, which made a permanent cure; could not get half what the horse was worth while he was troubled with thrush.'

William Conners, of Dexter township, Washtenaw Co., says: "Thrush very nearly ate the entire frog of my Present. W. J. Knapp, President, horse's foot and I could not get any help for it seemingly, until I got Curlett's Thrush Remedy, which after a second application killed the smell and removed the lameness, curing it in a short time, leaving a good healthy growing frog which in a short time was its natural size.'

> H. M. Ide, the shoer of Floral Temple, Dexter, and other noted trotters, ays: "Have never known Curlett's Thrush Remedy to fail to produce a permanent cure of thrush; after a few applications, smell and lameness is re-

Jim Smalley, a noted horse jockey, of central Washtenaw county, says: 'Curlett's Heave Remedy never fails to give relief, and to all appearances cured the horses I gave it to, and they never show any sign of distress while being worked hard or driven fast."

A. T. Hughes, one of the supervisors of Washtenaw county, says: "Seven years ago I cured a a very bad case of thrush with Curlett's Thrush Remedy; the horse has shown no symptons of the disease since.

For sale by F. P. Glaxier and R. S. Armstrong.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WASH from date are allowed, by order of said probate court for creditors to present their claims against the estate of said deceased, and that they will meet at the office of Turnbull and Wilkinson ine village of Chelsea in said county on Tuesday' the ninth day of September, and Tuesday, the ninth day of December, next, at ten o'clock a. m. of each of said days, to receive, examine and adjust said claims.

Dated, June 9, 480.
SAMUEL GUTHERIE. Com.

CHANCERY NOTICE.

In pursuance and by virtue of a fina order and decree of the circuit court for the county of Washtenaw, in chan-Mrs. Chas. Guerin has had another cery, in the state of Michigan, made dated and entered on the twentieth day of January, A. D. 1890, in a certain cause therein pending, wherein Jame L. Babcock, Lewis W. James and Thomas S. Sears, executors of the last will and testament of Luther James deceased, are complamants, and Michael Keck, Jacob Fred Keck, Michael Keck, jun, Christiana Keck, and John Martin Keck, are defendants.

Notice is hereby given that I shall selat public anction or vendue, to the highest bidder at the east niam entrance to the court house, in the city of Ann Arbor, county of Washtenaw and state of Michigan, said court house be ing the place for holding the circuit court for said_county, on Wednesday, the sixteenth day of July, A. D. 1890, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to raise the amount due to said complainants for principal, interest and costs in this cause, all of the following described piece of land mentioned and set forth in said decree, to wit: all that certain piece of land situated in the township of Lodi, in the county of Washtenaw and state of Michigan, and described as follows, viz: The west half of the north west quarter of section four, in township three (3), south of range five east. Dated, Ann Arbor, Mich., May 30, 1890. PATRICK McKERNAN,

Circuit Court Commissioner, Washtenaw County, Mich. TURNBULL & WILKINSON, Solicitors for Complainants

Real Estate For Sale.

Pratt, deceased. Notice is hereby given of the territorial road bounded on the that in pursuance of an order granted west by Hugh McNally's land, on the to the undersigned administrator of the east by John Knoll's land, on the south estate of said deceased by the Honora- by the section line, and on the north by ble Judge of Probate, for the County of said territorial road, and the south ten Jackson, on the 23rd day of June A. D. acres of the west half of the northeast 1890, there will be sold at public vendue quarter of said section twenty-one, conto the highest bidder at the office of taining fifty acres, more or less, and Turnbull & Wilkinson in the village of used and occupied together for farming Chelsea, in the County of Washtenaw, purposes. Curlett's Pinworm Remedy (for man in said state, on Tuesday, the 19th day for the following described pieces or par. the afternoon of that day, subject to cels of land situated in the said town. all the encumbrances, by mortgage or ship of Sylvan particularly described as otherwise existing at the time of the follows, viz. the west half of the north death of said deceased or at the time of west quarter of the northwest quarter such sale, the following described real of section twenty-two, also about six interest in a certain farm situated in Horace G. Holcomb, being a part of the the township of Sylvan, county of Wash- southwest quarter of the northwest tenaw, Michigan, and particularly de- quarter of said section twenty-two. Also scribed as follows, viz: (the undivided commencing at the northeast corner of one-half of) the south half of the south section twenty-one and running thence east quarter, and the south half of the westward along the north line of said east half of the southwest quarter (and section twenty-one, five chains, thence Curlett's Thrush remedy; the eure the undivided five-twelfths (5-12) of) south parallel with the east line of said the north half of said southeast quarter section twenty-one, twenty-seven chains and north half of east half of said south and eight links to the north line of lot west quarter and the southwest quarter six, block eight, of the village of Sylvan of the northeast quarter of section (28) thence eastward along the north line of twenty-eight, in said township of Sylvan said lot six, eighty and one-half links to containing in all, two hundred and the northeast corner thereof, thence eighty acres occupied as one farm, and southward along the east line of lots six subject to the dower of Cornelia Pratt, and eleven of said block eight, four widow of Solomon Pratt, deceased.

of block twelve; lot one block thirteen, thirty-two links to the section line, and lots four, five, six and seven of thence north along the east line of said block seventeen, and all the land em- section twenty-one, twenty-nine chains braced within and adjoining said lots, and twenty-nine links to the place of beoriginally laid out for street purposes, ginning. Also village lots number nine but never opened or used by the public, and ten of block ten according to the situated in the township of Sylvan, recorded plat of said village, of Sylvan, Washtenaw county, according to the re-containing in all forty-three acres of corded plat of the village of Sylvan, all land be the same more or less, all said enclosed and occupied as one parcel and described parcels being enclosed and subject to the dower of Cornelia Pratt, occupied for farming purposes as one wife of Solomon Pratt, dec ased. Third. The undivided five-twelfths — Dated July 3rd, 1890.

5-12) of all that part of the west half of the southeast quarter of section twenty- Jy3Au15

one in said township of Sylvan in said CTATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF the territorial road and that part of the said west half of the southeast quarter Washtenaw, ss. said west half of the southeast quarter in the matter of the estate of Calvin of said section twenty-one lying south acres of land north of the territorial First. An undivided right title and road as conveyed by Elihu Frisbie to chains and fifty links to the centre of Second. The undivided five-twelfths Main street, thence eastward along the 5-12) of lots six, seven, eight and nine, centre of Main street two chains and

WELLS PRATT. Administrator.

THIS LITTLE ONE IS HAPPY

Yes, there is no reason why all can not be happy, and enjoy the good things of this earth. Many persons think that wealth is happiness in itself, but if you will look about you, you will notice that the poorer classes usually enjoy themselves the most. Why? Because they have no fear that they will lose money, or not make more. They are content if they make an honest living without robbing some one else.

Another reason is, that they usually pay cash for what they buy, thus saving not only on what they consume, but they do not spend money for foolish purposes.

We claim that the merchant who sells for cash only, is a public benefactor in two ways: first, he saves the buyer money on the goods he consumes, and secondly he teaches

True, it is no disgrace to have money and accumulate something for a "rainy" day. If you are inclined to save something by buying good goods at right prices, and for cash or eggs, call on the Standard Grocery House, Wm. Em mert, proprietor, corner Main and Park streets.

have an a No se church la Pinck Why not Mrs. S visor She Miss S recently The U grees thi history. Fred. cery stor roung n

CHE

WEST,

LOCA

Picked up

A sow

Hamil

D. B. T.

Give her A gre friends s Water at fifty The 7 been fur out. It Tues

this vill

being to

Mary

ed to de connec'

Mrs. 8

ty last good t Miss of scho Friday Prof. turn th aided in years of an old t charge, Atre urday a ery was to be co which . Satu the seas

ers are simply

Two

again S when a Some Saturda horse v a broke ance to kind in Alre

94 degr

for cou lay th The les Beakes city, an -Regi of the cept of ing are E. Lo ringto Satie 1 The

electio North Johns

CHELSEA STANDARD.

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1890.

of the south

n the n the

theast

', con.

rming

alf of town.

bed as north.

uarter

ut six itorial

bie to

of the

hwest

. Also

ner of

hence

of said

hence

f said

hains

of lot

ylvan

ine of

nks to

hence

ots six four

tre of ig the s and line.

f said

hains

of be-rnine

o the vlvan,

res of said land s one

and

out

joy

ear

are

me

out

, is ver

ite

TRAINS LEAVE: EAST, -5:43, 7:07, A. M. 4:02 P. M. West,-11:13 A. M.

LOCAL, NEWSY ITEMS.

picked up While Roaming Around This Most Beautiful Village.

A sow and pigs for sale. Apply to p. B. Taylor. Hamilton park at Ann Arbor, is to have an artificial pond 380 feet long. No services at the congregational church last Sunday evening. Too hot. Pinckney is overrun with burdock.

Why not make bitters of them? Mrs. Shurtleff, widow of ex-supervisor Sheldon Shurtleff, died Monday

Miss Sophia Meyers, aged 19, died recently at her home in Lodi, of neu-

The University conferred more degrees this year than ever before in its Fred. Gauntlett has opened a groery store at Saline. Fred is a fine Mrs. Staffan will sell millinery goods at a great reduction from now on. Give her a call. A great many people took advan-

f the cheap railroad rates to visit friends at a distance. Watermelons made their appearance at fifty cents each. en furnished with awnings through- M. Pharmacy Department." out. It presents a neat appearance.

being too small to carry off the water.

Mary Foster & Co., are now prepared to do cutting and dressmaking in connection with their millinery busi-

The pupils in Miss Harrington's room gave her a pleasant surprise party last Friday evening. They had a

Miss Josephine Hoppe closed a term school in the Savage district last friday, This closed Miss Hoppe's fourth year as teacher.

Prof. Hall wishes through these columns, in behalf of the school, to return thanks to all those who so kindly aided in the graduating exercises.

Wool is moving freer this week at from 25 to 27 cents per pound. Bayers are not anxious for it however, simply wishing to keep in the field.

Two Pinckney boys, about seven rears of age, recently put some powder in anold tin can and then one touched it off. One of them, Roy Harris received the charge, burning him severely.

A tree blew down on Broadway, Saturday afternoon, as Dean & Co's delivery wagon was passing. The tree had o be cut in two to extricate the horse which was not injured. Argus.

Saturday last was the hottest day of the season, the thermometer registering A degrees in the shade. It was hot gain Sunday until in the afternoon, when a nice rain cooled the atmosphere. Some one fired a large fire cracker. Saturday evening, by which a fine norse was frightened. The result was broken thitl. It's against an ordinance to fire a gun or anything of this kind in the village limits.

Already the democratic candidates lor county clerk are communencing to lay their wires for the nomination. The leading candidates are ex-Mayor Beakes, and deputy clerk Brown of this city, and Dr. D. P. McLachlin of York. -Register.

The teachers for the several grades of the school have been engaged except one for preceptress. The following are the names. A. A. Hall, Lucy E. Lowe, Libbie Depew, Dora Harrington, Mara Wheeler, Mary VanTyne, Satie VanTyne.

The following is the result of the election of officers of the P. of I., of North Lake, recently: Pres., C. D. Johnson; vice pres., Wm. Stephenson; meter, Miss May Frazier.

Ann Arbor voted Monday not to ex- GRADUATING EXERCISES pend $5,000 on the streets. Wanted! Fifty berry pickers on the South Lima Fruit Farm. Work for about six weeks. Mrs. Eliza Shaw, who came to Michigan in 1835, died at Saline, last week, aged 80 years. Her husband survives her. Sunday evening last, the young people and children of St. Mary's church consecrated themselves to the work for God. The church was well filled.

The Baptist church was crowded last Sunday evening by persons who wanted to witness the exercises by the children. The program was a fine one and nicely executed.

More law cases have been commenced in the circuit court since last October than ever before. The large number of foreclosures of mortgages accounts for this increased business .- Register.

Prof. A. Sager Hall, son of Dr. Hall, of Saline, was married at Baltimore the 18th of June, to Miss May Brady, a neice of Dr. Hopkins, president of the Women's College in that city. Prof. and Mrs. Hall will spend vacation at the old home in Saline.

The Patrons of Industry of Western Washtenaw, Eastern Jackson and Northern Livingston counties, will hold a grand picnic, at North Lake, Wednesday, August 20th. The most prominent speakers of the state will be invited to be present. Music will be furnished by several bands.

A. C. Schumacher, of Eberbach & Son was presented with a silver cup by the pharmacy class of '84 at their reunion last week, as the father of the in this market last Saturday, selling oldest child in the class, which was inscribed: "Willie, June 25, 90. Pre-The Turnbull-Wilkinson block has sented by the class of '84 of the U. of

A severe rain and wind storm, ac-Tuesday last, a small flood visited companied by thunder and lightning, is village, the gutt ers in many places visited this section Monday afternoon except severely shocking a number of and well received by the audience. persons. Wheat, corn, potatoes, barlev, oats, etc., suffered by being blown title of a solo by Mrs. Geo. Blaich.

YOUR FOLKS AND OURS.

Casper DePuv, of Stockbridge, was in town Saturday. Miss Dakin is a guest at the H. M

Wood's residence this week. Tom. Speers has returned to this place during the dull season. Mrs. Byron Wight is spending the week with Jackson relatives. Mrs. W. P. Schenk spent the pas week with parents in Grass Lake.

Prosecuting Attorney Lehman had law case in Jackson, Monday last.

Roy Hill and Henry Stimson gave party at the Lake last Wednesday.

the village, the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong.

Mrs. Boyd and children are in Read ing with relatives. They will remain several weeks.

Miss Clark, daughter of the noted orator, was the guest of Miss Mary Negus, last week.

Dr. Davis, of Grand Ledge, was in the village, Saturday the guest of his brother, Geo. Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould, of Howard City, Da., are being entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Armstrong.

Mrs. R. S. Armstrong returned home Saturday, after an extended visit with friends in various places.

Frank Glazier entertained his Sunday school class at his cottage at Cav anaugh lake, last Tuesday.

Monday last, Thes. Jenson and mother went to Detroit to visit Jens Norgard. They will return tomorrow. The Misses Jennie Hudler and May

Judson attended commencement exercises at Dexter; Friday evening last. Mrs. Geo. Irwin and daughters, Jennie and Cora, and granddaughter Hazel attended the commencement exercises at Dexter last Friday. Sec., Wm. Cooper: Treas., Lyman Had- last Friday, and remained until Mon- ord which would live forever? She ley; Sentinel, Geo. Webb; Guide, Perry day morning, when they left for Lan-Noah; Minerva, Miss Lucy Webb; Desing, their home. The best wishes of cessors, her essay was nicely rendered Rev. J. H. McIntosh, and the vast this community follow the couple. and well received.

Held Last Thursday Evening at the Town Hall-A Large Audience-Fine

Program The annual commencement exercise of the Chelsea Union Schools were held at the Town Hall last Thursday even ing, at which time the spacious room was more than packed with visitors who wanted to hear the well prepared

The stage was occupied by Supt Hall and teachers, the school board and quite a number of young ladies who took part in the chorus, and the three graduates, Messrs. Henry Herzer and Dorsey Hoppe, and Miss Cors Irwin. It was handsomely decorated with flowers, and over it in blue and orange, was suspended the class motto, "To Win, Our Aim." The Misser Nellie Lowry and Luella Townsend officiated as flower girls.

At eight o'clock, a selection was finely rendered by the orchestra, followed by prayer by Rev. O. C. Bailey, which should be imitated by other preachers in the future-it was good and short. After this, a chorus was rendered under the direction of Supt. Hall, some thirty persons taking part

The salutatory was given in charge of the preceptress, Miss Ida Hadley. She thought a mother ought to be in her place to extend a welcome; they came not with fame, but wished the sympathy of the audience; their presence was an encouragement to the graduates, and the kindly feeling shown in the past, should be continued in the future.

HENRY MERZER

delivered an oration on "Rome Was not Built in a Day." That grand city had its beginning some 2700 years ago, property was mortgaged in the United to fulfill the wishes of the prophetess. or nearly three times the amount of throughout. the National debt. At this rate the masses to elect high-minded men and true patriots for their brains and not made the presentation of diplomas, source of pride to Mr. Hoppe. To

CORA IRWIN taking for her subject "Friendship." friendship has no boundary lines; friend yet it would be much better if they no true friends, as the various stages studied. Pupils cannot expect to known integrity; one who will rejoice are often blamed for the backwardness burdens in times of affliction, for true fault. Parents should co-operace with friends will withstand the shock of ad- teachers and the board, and thereby members of the class, it would depend ates he said that the diploma was not upon their personal efforts, and must a reward for what had been done by seek advancement individually. Ex- them, but as a testimonial for faithful tended thanks to the school board and work, and a recommend to the world. public for efforts made in behalf of the Be faithful and your efforts will be reclass; also to the teachers and schoolmates. Now they (the members) must start out for themselves. Would they Mr. and Mrs. Fenner arrived here be a success? Would they make a rec-

"The Grand Old Ocean" was the title of a solo rendered by Mr. Geo.

The class historian was Herbert Dancer, and we must say that he did the subject justice. When he was nowas so shocked that he was taken down some of them. with the measles, and as this was his first effort, the audience could proba-. bly sympathice with him. So far the city free of charge. class had had no banquets, etc.; it was organized in 1889. Henry Herzer, the president, was born April 6th, 1869, and until seven years of age, he took life easy. At that age he commenced attending school in district No. 2, Sylvan, where he studied until 1886, when cery House. he entered school in this village. Dorsey Hoppe was born some two years after Mr. Herzer, and also got his youthful education at the same school house until he entered school here. Cora Irwin was born May 5, 1873, and when she entered school, she went into the third grade, therefore graduating young. The class was at one time composed of thirteen members, but one after another dropped out until only three were left. If they eling to their class motto, all would be well We guarantee the quality of the powwith them, he thought.

Miss May Judson appeared as class poet, and while we would like to give an outline of her most highly interesting poem, yet the writer has never acquired the art of reporting poetry. However we can say that she alluded to the class as having three desirable characteristics-wit, grace and beauty.

Music by the orchestra, "La Favorite," was well calculated to please the 87c 1 cars at 88c; June 3,000 at 88c audience.

To give the future of the class fell to the lot of Miss Mamie E. Gilbert. She hesitated to undertake the task. by Romulus, but it took years of pa- | She saw in the future that H. Herzer tient toil and conquering to found and | would go to Ann Arbor and take a build up this magnificent city. Each course in chemistry, but later he turnman is his own workman, architect ed book agent. Tiring of this, he again last, doing much damage. Shade and and builder, and if we would accom- took up University studies, and in deorchard trees were split or blown down, plish anything, we must go onward declining years he was president of out-buildings tipped over, while cel- step by step, doing well whatever we Yale College, having in the meantime lars and low grounds were flooded. undertake; decision was necessary. He acquired a handsome little wife. Her Lightning struck a shingle in Gabriel quoted Presidents Garfield and Lin- second vision was Pastor Dorsey Hoppe. Freer's door yard, splitting it into coln as men it would be well to imi- who had located in California, and on four pieces, but doing no further dam- tate. The oration was nicely rendered the memorable evening of the 26th, she had a visit with him. There she "The Wood Nymph's Call" was the learned that Mr. Hoppe had practiced law, making a specalty of divorce cases, seeing his error, he wished to make chose for his oration the subject, "Na- amends and was now the much adtional Embarrassment." He deplored mired preacher of a large congregation the centralization of wealth, as it was in San Francisco. Cora Irwin was at far worse than anarchist, etc. Trusts first a farmer's wife but later, she went check the falling out of the hair, and were being formed all over the coun- to Boston as a musician. She had try very much to the detriment of the written a book and was popular, but nation's good and to the ruin of the was at work on another-the history farmer and laboring man; they speculate of Christian Civilization. She was in staples in the pursuit of gains, and married a second time, the present thus form two classes-the one poor, husband being a broker. In closing the other rich. He claimed that farm she said that no success was too great States to the extent of $3,450,000,000, Miss Gilbert's paper was very interest-

A sweetly rendered solo by Miss L. next generation would be tenants and Annie Bacon was heartily received by not property owners. Only the rich the listeners, every word being discan new get in power, money being tincily uttered. Miss Bacon's future Rolla Heath, of Grand Rapids, is in necessary to get into office. The only promises to be very bright. The title remedy he saw was to educate the of her song was "The Bird of Love." SUPERINTENDENT HALL > their money. The effort was an ex- and address, his words being full of cellent one, and in the future will be a practical truth and wisdom. He asked the question: What should we require of pupils? To attend school? To fell the lot of rendering the valedictory, study a prescribed course of study? To promote them whether they know No voice as welcome as that of friend- what they have studied or not? There ship; it cheers the mourner and delig hts are those present who wish their chilall; not all acquaintances are friends, dren promoted from year to year, and ship was found where affection is and remained for years in the same grade. is appreciated in times of affliction; No graduate should leave the school true friendship is rare. A favorite has without understanding what has been of life will prove. No one should be amount to much who are present one admitted as a friend except those of day and are absent the next. Teachers in our prosperity, and help bear our of children, when parents are really at versity. As for the success of the benefit their children. To the gradu-

Music followed, rendered by Mrs. Congdon, Miss Lowe and Messrs. Hall and Ward. It was a beautiful selecblending in perfect harmony.

The benediction was pronounced by stock is complete.

Yeast cakes; all kinds at the Stands ard Grocery House.

Choice bananas, oranges, prupes, etc., at the Standard Grocery

One dozen papers at this office for tified that he was to take this office, he five cents. Come early if you wish

Goods bought at the Standard Grocery House delivered to any part of the Rose jars, (filled with mustard now) only 20 cents at the Standard Grocery House. Just what every lady wants.

Washtubs, washboards, mops, clothe lifters, clothes pins, clothes pin bags etc. just received at the Standard Gro-

The Standard Grocery House has just received a fine line of canned goods, including plums, white cherries, pine apple, pumpkin, corn, beans, peas, peaches etc., etc. If you want something nice call on us.

Buy a pound of baking powder at the Standard Grocery House and get a large handsome pitcher, or a full set of glassware-a spoon holder, sngar bowl, butter dish and cream pitcher. der equal to any.

Markets by Telegraph

DETROIT, July 4, 1890. BUTTER. - Market quiet at 10@12c for best dairy. 8c for fair grades. EGGS-Market casy at 13c per doz

for fresh receipts. POTATOES-Market quiet at 40c per bu for store lots. WHEAT-No 2 red spot, 5 cars at No. 1 white 10 car at 86c.

CORN.—No. 2 spot. 36c. OATS.-No. 2. white, spot 34c.

Home Markets.

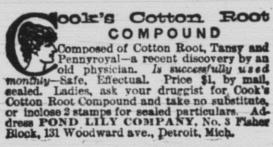

BARLEY—Is dull at 60 @ 85c 7 100 EGGS-10e 7 doz. LARD-Country wanted at 6(a7 OATS-Remain steady at 22(a)24 POTATOES-Slow sale at 25c. BUTTER--Weak at 8(@10c. WHEAT-Is in good demand at 82c or red and 82c for No. 1 white. CORN-Quiet at 30c 7 bu.

Dr. Kelly's Caputine. A new discovery. It has been proven oy microscopic examination, that Scalp diseases and Dandruff are caused by the Bacilli, or Germ, which burrows itself under the scarf skin of the scalp, and that these diseases are contagious and are communicated by persons using the same hair brush, comb or towel or sleeping in the same bed with another. Caputine removes this cause and will cure all Scalp diseases and Dandruff, increases growth, softens harsh brittle hair, restores faded hair to natural hair. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price $1.00 per bottle. For sale by R. S. Armstrong.

color, and preserves the gloss, thus preventing baldness and prematurely gray

Sold by Glazier, the Druggist, Chelses

The New Store IS

THE PLACE TO BUY

Gasoline Stoves.

Oil Stoves.

Haying Tools. Machine Oil. Deering Binder

and Mower, "The World's Best

Binder Twine.

Screens.

Hammocks.

Croquet Sets.

Everything at bottion and heartily received, the voices tom prices. Our hardware

W. J. KNAPP

WM. EMMERT, Publisher.

THE Mayor of Plainfield, N. J., has an umbrella that he has carried for thirty-five years.

A House at South Fairfield, Mich., was set on fire by the rays of the sun, reflected from tin pans that were set out to dry.

near Pine Grove, Pa., on the lands belonging to the Gettysburg and Harrisburg Railroad.

PROFESSOR HEBRA, of Vienna, used often to express limself in this wi-e: surgical genius operate on you."

cians to examine all applicants for positions on the force, to determine whether they are physically fit to do the work required.

clare that he never made use of one out the Indian princes. He laid his head of every ten expressions credited to at the feet of his high priest-the Gyali him. The expressions were mostly concocted by Washington correspondents and story-tellers, but everything tutes the highest virtue and one of the goes when a man gets the reputation.

crowds longer than any that he can put in his window. There is something about a French war scene that is action. Even an old engraving of Napoleon at Waterloo when put in the window will bert of Monaco found it necessary to

ity for the statement that the late Gen. being several hundred pounds to the Grant admired England "partly because square inch, he was unable to make a there was much in the sincerity of the | battery box of sufficient strength to resist | English character which pleased him, crushing. This difficulty was finally partly because it is a Protestant coun- overcome by the curious device of contry, a circumstance which had more necting a rubber-coated cloth balloon weight with him than he ever could publinto the box. On sinking the apparatus, gations, it was found that in twenty-four only were deep-sea fish snared but a cases the resemblance in the personal camera was sent down and negatives of appearance of the husband and wife was the ocean bottom under electric illumgreater than that of brother and sister, ination were brought up. in thirty cases it was equally great, and in only twenty-four was there a total absence of resemblance.

PHONOGRAPHY is fast becoming one of the standard branches of education in Great Britain. From returns made, though incomplete, it appears that in the first quarter of this year the teachers of phonography had under instruction in the whole of Great Britain 34,739 males and 3,028 females, making a total of 37,767, while the number under instruction during the whole of last year was 44,730. A large portion of the pupils were in what are termed "board schools."

prancing horse, but I was straddle of a sand such hospitals in France alone, plain, common, everyday mule."

selecting whatever they may specially ward. desire in the way of edibles. They then make up their own bills and settle with the cashier before leaving. Strangely the number of customers who cheat a stranger entered, stood by the door, the house is so small as not to be worth and asked in a loud voice: mentioning.

In Rome, the electric light is to su- topersede gas. The motive power will be He appeared to choke up right there, derived from the waterfalls at Tivoli, and while clearing his voice it was and the station for the distribution of the back door, several others turned power will be near Porta Pla. Rome their backs, and one man suddenly does not in this case lose in picturesque- went to sleep. Each one assumed an ness what it gains in modernization, for attitude or demeanor calculated to disthe few electric lights already establicourage the stranger, but he presently lished—as for instance, on the Quirinal got his voice and continued: Who will help a poor, discouraged Hill and in the Piazza Colonna—lend a man to drink a dollar's worth of beer?" singularly new and beautiful aspect to "I will!" yelled every man in the the Eternal City, as seen in the evening place in chorus, and a grand rush was from the neighboring hills of Frascrti made for the bar. and the other "Castelli." The spectacle | Figures can't lie, but lies figure.

light, across the wide Campagna, will be remarkable.

THE British Parliament houses are crumbling to pieces so fast that there is constant danger of some portion of the buildings toppling down upon the members. Parts of the front of St. Stephens have had to be entirely refaced because of the wearing away of the soft stone. Only a week or two ago a heavy piece of a stone heraldic animal suddenly fell close to the entrance to Westminster hall, in Old Palace vard, a means of entrance to the house which A DEPOSIT of black slate 1.800 feet is largely favored. But a few days bewide and two miles long has been found fore a portion of the ornamental stonework fell close to the members' entrance itself, and another heavy piece fell upon the pavement of New Palace yard not a month ago.

THE pilgrimage of an ideal devotee is "It is necessary that there should be recorded by the Gya correspondent of a surgical geniuses, but don't ever let a native paper in India, who writes: "His highness the maharaja of Travancore came here on a pilgrimage, and, THE street cleaning department of after staying for a couple of days, has New York has appointed three physi- left the place silently. He entered the city in a soft, meek, patient, humble and tranquil spirit, and presented a heavenly spectacle, bare-footed and bare-headed, and in fact, divested of LINCOLN's most intimate friends de- the princely luxuries which characterize -with supplication for benediction, and which, in Hindu point of view, constiprominent duties of a Hindu toward his departed forefathers. The priest's star A CHICAGO picture-dealer says that is in the ascendant, the man having French war pictures will hold the received, I hear, about Rs. 50,000 as a gift from the maharaja,"

In order to lure specimens of the deep-sea animals to a trap, Prince Alhold a crowd longer than anything else. sink an incandescent lamp with a powerful battery attached; but, the water MR. JOHN RUSSELL YOUNG is author- pressure at a depth of a couple of miles the increasing hydrostatic pressure At the meeting of a photographic so- forced air from the balloon into ciety, a paper was read on the resem- the box, keeping the internal and blance in married couples. Out of external pressure exactly balanced at graphed for the purpose of his investi- cessful was the arrangement that not crop of firewood is the end to be ob-

WE have no certain knowledge as to the manner in which leprosy was conveyed into Europe, but there is evidence to the effect that in the last century before Christ it had established itself in ditions. the Roman Empire. Its subsequent spread throughout Europe can easily be accounted for; wherever the Roman eagles went the germs of the disease would necessarily accompany them. From this source Spain, France and Germany sooner or later became infected. Leper' hospitals would appear to have been established in Norway somewhat later than in other European countries. History tells us that in the Frankish kingdom these institutions JUDGE JOSEPH Cox tells a Cincinnati were founded in the eighth or ninth paper that Gen. Sherman said to him centuries, in Ireland about the year once: "Cox, a mule is the easiest ani- 869, in Spain in 1007, in England in the mal to ride in the world. I always eleventh century, in Scotland and in the preferred to ride one during the war. Netherlands in the twelfth, and in Nor-In a picture representing the burning way in the thirteenth century. During of Atlanta the artist has me seated on a and after the crusades leprosy spread fiery steed, with fury in his eyes, etc., with extraordinary rapidity, and leper while the houses are burning and the hospitals, were multiplied all over soldiers are tearing up the railroad iron. Europe. It is estimated that in the Well, I was there; but I was not on a twelfth century there were two thouand nineteen thousand in the whole of Christendom. Some historians have THERE is a new system of restaurant asserted that the leprosy of the middle in New York. It is called "The trust- ages was introduced for the first time ing-to-a-man's honesty plan of quick from the East by those who returned service." Instead of the customers sit- from the crusades. As a matter of fact, ting at a table and being served and however, leper hospitals existed in afterward billed for the amount of fare, England some years before any of the they roam around the counters freely, crusaders retraced their steps west-

Ready to Assist.

There were twelve or fifteen men sitting around in a Buffalo saloon, when

"Gentlemen, is there one among you who will help a poor, discouraged man

AGRICULTURAL TOPICS.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS FOR OUR

RURAL READERS.

Stock-Breeder, Bee-Keeper, Housewife and Kitchen-Maid.

THE FARM.

Fuel for the Plains.

Martin Allen, addressing the Kansas Board of Agriculture, says: To grow actual trees to cut and split into stove wood of the Middle States takes time for which we cannot wait; or, at best, by beginning now, we can only hope to obtain this result as a luxury for our children. After some thought and considerable solicitation in my mind in behalf of these people on the plains and what they were to do for fuel, I blundered upon an idea that I trust may be of some value to them. It is a scheme to grow annual crops of actual fire wood. For this purpose let an acre or so of the best and most productive land on each farm be selected; if in the sharp bend of some small stream, ravine, or even canon, all the better. Let it be put in a good state of cultivation, and planted with yearling ailantus trees, four or five feet apart each way, and let them be well and thoroughly cultivated, as a crop of corn or potatoes ought to be, or let the whole be mulched sufficiently well to keep down all weeds. At the close of the first year's growth, or least before the second one begins, cut all down close to the ground, and continue the cultivation or mulching, whichever is most desirable to the owner. If the ground is to thin, put on plenty of manure; if too dry, and located on such a bottom as mentioned above, it may be helped by an overflow of water from a dam across the water-course.

The second year after planting, three or more stalks may be expected to grow from each plant or hill, and they should be from the size of a broom-handle to that of a fork-handle, or, under the most favorable circumstances, even much larger. These may all be cut off in the fall, winter, or early springonly to be followed by another crop of the same sort each succeeding year.

These annual growths are easily and use in the stove, and will be found not! equal to the best split hickory, beach, or hard maple, but a very fair firewood. far outranking cottonwood, elm and all possible for a bee to work itself up to, other soft woods and containing no

feetly at home so far as the hot sun- ual. As this bee apparently had no shine and the other vicissitudes of our thought of dying, it was caught and climate during the summer months are | caged with two or three others and kept concerned, and it is withal free from all a week or so to see what would become insect pests. It does not, however, al- of the matter. At the end of the week ways endure our severest winters, and it was apparently just as lively and a revelation. therefore when wanted for a permanent healthy as any of the rest, when all of A walk in a driving rain under prop tree it should be planted on less fertile the bees were set at liberty. eventy eight young couples photo- whatever depth was reached. So suc- less generous than when the annual to send away, in catching the escort bees

> seed without preparation, and should | mediately ran into the cage. As I did be planted about the time of planting not wish to remove all the bees and corn in well-prepared ground. It can queen to get it out, I let it go, soon also be grown with much facility from after which the thought came to me that root-cuttings. Let no one attempt to here would be a chance to test the grow it on the sod, or on ground that theory of the death of the bee from loswill produce nothing else, for in such ing its sting, as this queen was going to case I am sure my scheme would be about as much of a failure as a hill of from eight to ten days' time. Accordcorn or potatoes would under like con-

> > Farm Gleanings.

fertility and value from year to year is in the hands of an unprogressive and queen arrived in splendid shape, and

Young pigs should have a dry and warm place of shelter during the prevalence of cool, wet weather. And all young animals should be looked after inconvenienced thereby, and as far as I at such times, even in summer.

THE foreign cattle trade has been knocked out by lower prices abroad and advancing prices at home. The space chartered for the season on eleven steamers from New York to Liverpool has been canceled, and settlement made with the owners.

For the annual nourishment of 15, 00,000 cows and 12,000,000 horses there are needed 30,000,000 tons of hay, 90,-000,000 bushels of corn meal, the same of oat meal, 275,000,000 bushels of oats, 2,000,000 bushels of bran, and 30,000,000 bushels of corn, at a cost of $450,000,-

THE farmers of this country last year sold more than six hundred million dollars' worth of butter, eggs, milk, and cheese, and that, too, in addition to their own consumption of those aticles. The total is more than twice the value of the cotton crop and more than the value of any single crop except corn.

A. L. CROSBY, in Breeder's Gazette, says beef cannot go much, if any, lower, because the surplus caused by recent the combat. At times they do lose their mostly disposed of, and the legitimate theory has lately been advanced that increase in cattle-growing will not more bees use their stings in ripening honey, than keep pace with the demand. The and for polishing the capping to the crease than decrease.

THE Indian corn exhibition at Edinburgh, Scotland, is leading the Scotch to eat America's great staple, and they express a preference for it to oatment. A local paper says: "Indian corn bread Rural Home. is pleasant to the taste and lighter than oatmeal, and if the people are once acquainted with the really wholesome and nutritions food that can be made from this corn, it is thought that exportation may prevent the waste in America.

HORTICUBTURE.

It is a pleasure to note that a more way of pruning shrubs exists to-day than was followed a few years ago. Every, one is familiar with the ugly looking cropped specimens which for geese, 30 days. formerly were met with in every garden. Pruning was done in winter or early in the suburbs of towns and cities to spring, and as the wood which was cut keep a few hens. A small flock will cost away was the flower bearing portions, it but little, as the scraps from the table this way. Boil until within about fifended all prospect of flowers for that and any waste material, will provide a teen minutes of being done, then skin it season. It is now the practice of all large share of the food. It is claimed and rub all over the fat and the cut end good gardeners to prune as soon as cold that as many eggs are produced in with brown sugar, into which you have cutting back in places to give a nice outline to the bush, is all it needs. As nearly all shrubs flower from the wood Turkeys will not fatten if confin made the previous summer, it will be coops, but they may be kept in as wood preserved. The gardener who goes to his shrubs with a shears, rounding them off like a globe or shearing them flat on the top, o or the other of which plan is usually adopted, does not know his business. The most ordinary obser-kinds of young weeds are prefer grass by geese, and especially plan produced the flowers. There are, however, a few shrubs which flower on the wood made the same season. The most of late blooming ones are of this order. The dwarf horse chestnut, sweet pepper bush, bydrangea, clethras and some late flowering spiraeaslas of this class. These, then, are the ones to cut back. The more these are cut back the more vigorous are the young shoots, and the better the flowers. Just how much to prune is what can only be decided by the skilled man who should have charge of the work, but the hints given will suffice to guide those who wish to prune their own bushes. Roses are pruned on the same principle as shrubs. The hardy, hybrid sorts flower from last year's wood, hence, must not be cut down too close. About a third of the length may be cut away. The more tender sorts, teas, bourbons and the like, flower from the growth of the same season. therefore should be cut back quite close. It is possible to have weigelas and other shrubs to flower in the fall by cutting cares merely to afford opportunity them back almost to the ground before shoulder others. It should be ach they commence to grow in the spring, but the flowering is never so profuse as under the ordinary way in spring. Joseph Meehan.

THE APIARY.

Something About Bee Stings.

correspondent wishes to know whether a bee can live and do work after it has stung a person, leaving its sting; or if it dies, as is generally believed by many persons who keep bees. Up to within the past ten years nearly every one believed that a bee which had stung any one must surely die, for in leaving the sting, as the honey bee nearly always does in stinging an animal, a part of the intestines was supposed to be left with the sting, poison sac, etc., from which it was argued that the bee could not live. This seemed so reasonable that I formerly believed that the rapidly cut into suitable lengths for idea which prevailed was true, till one day after a bee had stung me, leaving its sting, it came to the attack again and again, with all the fury and vengeance getting in my hair and singing away as only an angry bee can sing, which will The semi-tropical foliage of this tree make the cold chills run up and down is quite pleasing to the eve. It is per- the back of the most hardened individ-

which were to go with the queen, one of them stung me on the end of one of my This tree is easily grown from the fingers, leaving its sting, when it im-Texas, which journey would require ingly I wrote to the party to whom they were sent, telling him about the matter, and asking him to take notice par-THE farm that does not improve in see if their were any dead bees in the ticularly when the queen arrived and cage. In due time he replied that the that there was not a dead bee in the cage. Several times since then I have tried similar ways to see if such bees as had lost their stings were in any waycan tell by contining them so as to know that I have the same bee, I can see no difference between such bees and those. which have their stings, as to length of life. Whether they gather honey or not, or whether they are allowed to live in the hive without their weapon of defense, is something which would be next to, if not quite impossible to tell, for in this case we have no means of keeping track of the individual bee. As bees are not tolerated in the hive, which are in any ways imperfect, it might not be unreasonable to suppose that the perfect ones might drive off such a one which had lost its sting, as being incapacle of defense were the hive attacked. That it was not the design of nature for the bee to always lose its sting when defending its hive, is manifest where bees repel robbers to the extent of hundreds and thousands of slaughtered ones, when in such cases not one bee in one thousand loses its sting, but keeps it so that it can slaughter bee after bee till the attacking party is repelled or they lose their lives in stings in other bees, but not often. A same, but so far the most of our practical apiarists consider the same as failacious. I have carefully watched for any proof to substantiate the truth of this theory, yet so far can see nothing which even points that way .- American

THE POULTRY-YARD.

Poultry Pickings. THE Poultry Keeper says that all claims of any difference between chick-

As a rule, for the hatching of chickens 21 days are required; for partridges, 24 cup sour cream, one egg, one-half tea; hens, 25 days; for common ducks, 28 batter; bake in jelly tins. For frosting days; for pea fowls. 28 days; for furkeys, between the cake, one cup sugar, four

It is a pleasure with those who live

will prove profitable to put the yard and fatten them before sel yard provided they are given a varie

THE Mirror and Farmer calls tion to the fact that geese can de work on any location overrun and purslane. Geese go right dow the roots for the plants, and effect keep them down if the flock is

THE Ohio Poultry Journal tells that fowls do not moult alike, no they moult at the same time annu the usual season, however, is from to September, while in some car runs to Christmas. Young and he fowls, fed largely on nitrogenous moult early in the season; old and bilitated hens moult late. Hens have the material for making richh and feathers before they shed their feathers.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

A Real Vacation.

House cleaning is over, the sch are closing and the mind naturally toward vacation and how and when spend it. A vacation ought to be, h that pertains thereto-a rest. It sho not be a season of relief from one se and a rest complete. In all ord households the carpet-cleaning pane-scrubbing are done and over the winter woolens are stored and tected against the ravages of moth dust; the spring sewing was fin weeks ago and the summer outfits been purchased. Now, before the vent of the canning and pickling preserving season, there should be physical and spiritual refreshme courses of study, Browning clas scientific lectures and the club w which has become a part of every man's life, should be laid aside and gotten. Only such literature should sought that will add solace to a mock, and luxury to a shady porch an arm-chair.

American women do not spend the time out of doors that they she In this, their rosy, healthy English ters set them a wholesome examp Time should be devoted every pleas day to a tramp, long or short, in woods and field, where they are ac sible, in the streets if they are not. the children are an excuse for remain ing at home, they should be ta along rather than that the mother s indoors all day. A pleasant day to walk is suggested, but it should not limited to fair weather. The benef of fresh air and exercise once realize the pleasures of a tramp in bad weather nttingly arrayed for it, will comeli conditions 1 stroll in the sunshine can never part. As so to the tired people, the cation should be as unlike the ordin daily routine as possible. This he good especially in the case of teach There should be an act of Legisla prohibiting teachers' meetings and stitutes and conventions in the summ They should have three months which to absolutely forget the shape the earth, and the multiplication tabl one-idead. How can they be anythin else, when not even in their vacation can they get out of the school-room mosphere? The needs of the teach suggest the needs of the pupils. Th a pernicious habit, which inconsil erate parents encourage, known making up" grades or studies. child who has been in the class-roo nine months in the year should have sh solute freedom from books when scho is out. To set them at work bringing up deficient per cents is cruelty, and to learn that all minds are not alis that some assimilate more rapidly the others; that some assimilate n quickly than others. It is foolish dangerous to force the slow mind.

he finally acquires, in his own way and The rest is needed for the slow, and it is just as necessary that, the quick back. If the books laid aside next wee are not opened until next September both mind and body will gain by the relief from study .- Mary H. Krout, is Chicago Inter-Ocean.

the task assigned it can not be mastere

in one year, give it two. All teacher know how necessary this is, and a have seen the hopeless dullard of t

first year, absolute master of the situ

tion, the second, and furthermore, wh

Hints to Housekeepers. WHEN dusting a room always usea small paint brush for the cracks and

A good remedy for burns, and one that is generally at hand, is a paste made of flour and cold water.

WET the hands in vinegar and camphor after having them in soapy water; it kills alkalı and keeps them soft.

Ir is claimed that holding a shovelful of hot coals over varnished furniture will take out spots and stains. Rub the place while warm with flannel.

THE KITCHEN.

Recipes. 4.

SPONGE GINGERBREAD-Three cups flour, one cup molasses, one of sugar, one of sour milk, one heaping table spoonful butter, two teaspoonfuls sale ens hatched in incubators or under hens | ratus, two teaspoonfuls ganger, and one of Rome, with its mighty overhanging cupola, illuminated by the electric articles.—Boston Transcript.

CREAM CAKE-One cup of sugar, one spoonfuls of sweet cream, put in cup and set on boiling water till thick; spread between the cake.

FIGURES can't lie, but lies figure quite extensively in almost all statistical fresh growth is required, and a little for turkeys is brisk at certain seasons, it

With brown sugar, into which you have thinning out of branches here and there, articles.—Boston Transcript.

With brown sugar, into which you have thinning out of branches here and there, articles.—A TURKEY can be made very fat in ten for ittree minutes. Very good for a picnic.

BOOM

IN CAMP A of the d Startli hes, Camp and Batt.

mally the faithfully

ntry, and gtaken pri Tennessee, ngeful ov BOOMING CANNON

ALS OF STIRRING INCIDENTS

IN CAMP AND IN BATTLE. s of the Rebellion Relate Amusand Startling Incidents of Weary hes, Camp Life, Foraging Experi-

The Army Overcoat.

and Battle Scenes.

idle as a boy, he was shiftless as a n passing by; ar used to scold, and his mother used to minuteered the day he was old enough hardly knew the fellow in his army

need his lary shoulders with a military as face rrow firmer; said the neighfook his hand, his mother beamed day he marched away a foolish r folks forgot their sneers, full fifty his parents letters they were long in he saved the Captain's life, that day he some manly parting words, and died osed his eyelids, with a choking in him to his mother in his army over-

ting-house was crowded full upon his as and scores passed down the aisle to shmsiden noticed on his hand a ring

progr. and hymn, and speech, and received the soldier and his army

when Decoration Day comes round, a his worn old father and his mother, adwith years. and listen to the chaplain's voice

Ahivate in the Cavalry

eight o'clock, when Com- "I next went past Batter's Robinet, trousers at the thigh, one the ranks. Suddenly a ap through the brain of one, and he fell dead. Our ande at once started on a all fours. He kept up that decomotion for nearly one Ms, in spite of the yells of the commands of the kept right on repeating, et him die, I guess I let finally the Captain brought and he stripped off his oments, shouldered them, 4 bee-line for camp. He faithfully from that time nd of his enlistment, and the others re-enlisted he home - three years was this incident we were on the Chewalla road to We obeyed, but did As we sheltered ourselves horses, several being Sergeant (afterward of the enemy's skirmish line a few mo- could, and then lying down in line in ments, he crept down the road to a the woods, with our horses tied to our the neck with the same ball. When were needed in that direction. Our the tree to fire, he was shot dead. I saw him in the afternoon lying in the same spot by the big tree. The Sergeant came back, and saying 'There's one for Bill,' took his place quietly and said nothing more on the subject." "We returned within our lines, the Captain reported what we had done, and we were ordered to the regiment at the corral. We had scarcely arrived there when the battle opened in earnest, and the Confederates made their grand assault. The artillery and musketry firing was the heaviest I ever heard. It was so concentrated that no part of the firing was at any great distance from where I was. In the midst of the heaviest fighting an order came for our regiment to ship smote mak a charge on the extreme right, where the enemy was overlapping our line. We started our horses on the run amid the contrabands, sutlers, teamsters, stragglers, everything going to the rear. The enemy had apparently been successful, and had broken our line in one place, and got into the streets of Corinth, thus creating great consternation among the non-combatants.

"As we ran our horses close to the forts the heavy guns were firing rapidly over our beads, and the dust and smoke were so thick we could not see and could scarcely breathe. Just in and the blue-we could not tell the front and under the guns my horse. probably blinded by the smoke and stunned by the noise, fell with me stark, under the trees and along the against the stump of a tree. Both the fence rows-in all kinds of places. horse and myself, were too badly hurt | They had got through their fighting, to get up for some little time, but an but we, tired and sore and hungry, head and deck his grave with flowers artillery soldier who happened along and knowing nothing of the morpulled the horse off me, and I lay row, had to ride along until our time there on the ground until the battle should come and we should get particularly interested in anything.

ered sufficiently along toward evening a battle-field, especially at night, in to be helped on my horse and go in that hot country, never forgets that search of the regiment. I went across part of it. Before daylight we passed to the field hospital, just east of the through Corinth and out through the RIVATE Max forts, and saw there such sights as I southwest of the town, where the at-Miller's diary of never saw on any other occasion. The tack had been made, and where anevents during wounded had been brought in from the other was feared at daylight, but we the battle of battle-field by thousands, and there, found none of the enemy, except dead Corinth opens under awnings and trees, were many ones. The charge upon our camp had once more on the operating tables, with surgeons, their been made by a part of a regiment morning of Octo- sleeves relled up, b'oody from head of Mississippi home guards, partisan to foot, plying their instruments rangers they called themselves; and It was early on the broken and torn and crushed the sick and convalescent in camp when the enemy limbs of the unfortunate wounded. I and regimental hospitals, our "homebegan firing saw big army wagons and six-mule shells into the teams loading up with the arms and we left them behind in camp, rallied town from a legs that had been cut off. There is a and repulsed them. Among the killed point on the Che- glory about being a soldier, and seeing was the major who commanded the walla road in danger and fighting, that never wore enemy, and the next morning we saw front of Battery off during our days of hunger and his grave by the side of the road with Robinet. The thirst and hard marches and exposures, his hand sticking out "so that his regiment (See - but this sort of thing brings one down mused and "stood to horse" quicker than anything else.

a infantry lines and between | field, and on out the Chewalla road, the skirmish line of Birge's The battle had been over some hours would not have done so inhuman a oters. By dismounting, they and nearly all the wounded had by this thing. tered from the enemy's bul- time been removed. I met an officer hwent over the men but hit coming from the front with his coat be horses. While lying there off and his neck tied up, and was told some fun with an honest it was Colonel Mower, afterward one after the retreating enemy to the lata, of which Private Miller of our best fighting corps commanders, ter place, and there ended, on the 6th, He had been shot across the back of the last of our tighting and skirmishthe Dutchman) was a the neck in the morning, knocked ing in connection with the battle of and was a particularly from his horse and taken prist Corinth."-Chicago Ledger. shoer. Once in the field no oner. When the enemy were could induce him to use his whipped they went away and left He said he had enlisted him free in their field hospital, and he he could shoe horses at home started afoot to find his command. I amy he would be a soldier went over toward the Purdy road and ing else. In the charge at saw where some of the hardest fighting George and his horse had been done. On each side of a genslightly wounded and his fle ravine or hollow the dead-lay in hadly riddled; his saber two long straight lines, one blue and out of his hand and the other butternut. None of the dead taball, his scabbard was cut seemed more than a few feet out of asword-arm was creased near line. The lines looked like they were a button shot off his dressed up for parade, and it was a allet through his hat, one grim and ghastly one -their last

"I found my regiment returning to an stirrup, and the horse the corral, and that night we got some Places. After that George rest, but still neither water nor feed much about only fight- for the horses. The next morning we Thirty-sixth Illinois and Company B. laged to get along still as started early after the retreating ene- of the same regiment, were deployed a very bloodthirsty one, my, went out the Purdy road, then as skirmishers to develop the enemy's crossed over toward the Chewalla road, position, which we seen found to Comday we lay holding our and about noon watered and fed our pany G's sorrow, losing thirteen men had a few days before shows the endurance of a poor old cavbrother, who was First alry horse, when mine went through, and heard the morning of the 3d to that time. The watch, getting her receipt and is not perceived until it is coiled round to the watch, getting her receipt and is not perceived until it is coiled round. and had been killed, "Late in the evening we reached heartfelt thanks. Page 148 in the hisen prison been killed, "Late in the evening we reached heartfelt thanks. Page 148 in the hisits prey. Is this evolution or design? Taken prisoner, at Medon Chewalla and camped for the night, tory of the Thirty-sixth Regiment Illi-Tennessee, was feeling camping under such circumstances had deprived him of his we remained in the we remained in the savage which is history made by the rank and the savage which is h while we remained in front fee and fried pork for ourselves if we file.

stump, laid his gun across it and ankles or wrists. We had only got waited for a Confederate skirmisher, comfortably fixed when we were orwith a straw hat, who was firing dered to march again, and took the from behind a tree, and had road to Corinth. There had been a just shot one of our men through dash by the rebel cavalry on the the arm and his horse through camps to the south of Corinth, and we

"THEY HAD GOT THROUGH THEIR PIGHTING."

march by moonlight was from Chewalla to Corinth, across the ground that had been fought over two days previously. Soon we came to the dead, most of them still unburied, and difference in the moonlight and was nearly over, too badly hurt to be our "plantation down South." as "After I got back to camp I recov- stench! Anyone who has been upon we used to call the graves. And the ond Iowa Caval- to the dread, horrible realities of war came to see him," the boys said. I heard of such things at other times was by General Hamilton sent where I saw dead men lying thicker thing of the kind I ever witnessed, and teast of the battery, outside than I ever saw them on any other I suppose the boys had liberal allow-

"We went across the country to the west until we struck the road from Chewalla to Pipley, and followed this

The Killing of Gen. Ben. McCulloch.

G. YARNELL. D., contribntes the followling to the Tribune: The following is the the death of Culloch. I was there. My company (G) of the Eattery Robinet, he was horses; this was on the 5th, and it killed and wounded before we could rally on our support. In falling back a member of Company B-Peter Pelican-failed to fall back when his company did. After the usual lull in horseman rode near where Pelican was concealed, and by the trappings of his horse and velvet snit of the rider he made up his mind that whoever he was, ! nary soldier, so, bringing his rifle to bear on the officer, he fired, killing himinstantly, securing as evidence that the officer was none other than Me-Culloch, his gold hunting case watch with "General Ben McCulloch" engraved on the inside of the case. I have seen and handled the watch; was with the company over four years. Our Colonel purchased the watch from years after the close of the war, an ad"JIMMY TEAR-DROP."

A Pathetic Story of the War of the Rabellion.

We had been skirmishing with Stuart's cavalry and at the bend in the read we had shelled them vigorously with our light artillery. As we passed this bend, still following the enemy, we found four dead men, three or four dead horses, and a boy about 10 years old sitting on a stone, so white-faced and scared that he could not speak a word. We spoke kindly to him, and tried to comfort him, and finally he began to cry. When we asked for his name he gave it as "Jimmy." "Jimmy what?" He was crying so that we could not make it out. Then some one suggested that it must be "Jimmy Tear-Drop," and the name at once became his.

The soldier of the civil war was a curious being. While the heat of battle was in his blood his heart would grow soft at sight of 'a poor rabbit frightened from cover by the awful din. We had not a second look for the dead lying there, but half a dozen troopers jangled as to who should be guardian of that boy. He was a legitimate capture -one of the spoils of war. As a compromise he was sent to the wagon-master for the time being.

In time "Jimmy Tear-Drop" told us connected with the gathering. --- A that his mother was dead. His father lived on the road by which we had marched, and as Stuart fell back he took his boy by the hand and fell back with the soldiers. In the confusion father and son had become separated, and they were never to meet again. Our camp was thirty miles away, and the boy went there with us, and once need. - Called her. A personal appeal within our lines the father, even if alive, had little chance to hear of him. Every company of soldiers had its pet, if not a dog, or cat or goat, then something else-even a 'possum or raccoon. It was late in the fall when we captured Jimmy Tear-Drop, and by spring he was known to most all the men in the brigade. He was a quiet little chap, seeming to have a great sorrow in his heart, and it was only when heard us talking about the end of the he war, and how we intended to find his father and bring about a reunion, that he laughed and seemed boy-like. The officers tried to send him away, but we bly had invited or permitted Jesus simply kept him hidden and treasured him as to teach .- Answered with indignation. if he had been a gold nugget. Our tailor made him clothes, and we foraged him a pair of shoes, and when we got him rigged out we all felt proud of him. I don't think Jimmy Tear-Drop learned any wickedness from us. We taught him to dance, and he could sing a song or two, but the boys were careful of their hard words when he was near, and no one would teach him anything about cards. On the contrary, "Old Jack," our company teamster, got some books and taught him his A. B. C's, and called us in to hear him spell "dog" and "hen"

and "hat" and other easy words. Well the spring came, and one day our whole army corps moved. Jimmy went along with the wagon train, and at a certain point on one of the highways the enemy made a dash and cut off a portion of the train. We got it, back after a sharp fight, and when we came to look around we found about twenty dead and wounded men. If there had been nothing more we should have wheeled into-line and jested over it. A soldier takes his chances, you see. If he wins he gets no credit. If he falls there is always earth enough to hide his body from sight.

We were getting ready to move on' when there was an excitement among of it? the wagons, and we pushed into the train to find "Old Jack" bending over and some of our boys were brushing tears from their eyes and others hotly vowing vengeance. That something on the blanket was our boy-our Jimmy Tear-Drop. A stray bullet had whistled through the cover of the wagon and ended his life as quickly as you could blow out the flame of a candle. And as he lay there on his back, white-faced and dead and his eyes haif-closed, we true story of saw through our own tears a great tear on his cheek-a pearl glistening in the southern sunshine which streamed down through the smoke yet hanging about the tree-tops. Then in our sore hearts we felt that we had rightly named him Jimmy Tear-Drop, and that the hand of God was in it .- Detroit Free Press.

A Cat's Whiskers.

The long hairs on the side of a cat's face are organs of touch. They are attached to a bed of fine glands under the skin, and each of these long hairs is connected with the nerves of the lip. The slightest contact of these whiskers with any surrounding object is thus every battle and skirmish, a solitary felt most distinctly by the animal, although the hairs themselves are insensible. They stand out on each side of the lion, as well as on the common cat. From point to point, they are equal to he was somebody more than an ordi- the width of the animal's body. If we imagine, therefore, a lion stealing through a covert of wood in an imperfect light we shall at once see the use of these long hairs. They indicate to him, through the nicest feeling, any obstacle which may present itself to the passage of his body; they prevent the rustling of boughs and leaves, which would give warning to his prey if he was to attempt to pass too close a bush; and Pelican as a relic. Some two or three thus, in conjunction with the soft cushions of his feet and the fur upon which vertisement appearing in the Chicago he treads-the claws never coming in papers asking for the whereabouts of contact with the ground—they enable the watch. The Colonel, satisfied that him to move toward his victim with a the person making the inquiry was the stillness even greater than that of the

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

ENTERTAINING DISSERTATION ON SERIOUS SUBJECTS.

A Pleasant, Interesting, and Instructive Lesson and Where It May Be Found-A Learned and Concise Review of the

The lesson for Sunday, July 6, may be found in Luke 13: 10-17.

INTRODUCTORY. Our Lord is on his way to the holy city his last journey thitherward. He seems now to be passing through Perea, and the twofold reference, at the opening of this chapter, vs. 2 and 4, is significant of the mixed character of his audience, it being part Galilean and part Judean. Here in this assembly he gives a needed lesson on the proper uses of the Sabbath. It is a time when we also need instruction in this important regard. Right views of the uses of the Lord's Day will do more than anything else to prevent its abuses.

WHAT THE LESSON SAYS. Teaching. The language implies customsry action. - One of the synagogues. There was a multitude of these places of public convocation. -On the sabbath. Literally the Sabbaths, i. e., from Sabbath to Sabbath. It was his habit to be in such places on the holy day.

Behold. A noteworthy circumstance spirit of infirmity. Looked upon as a demoniacal possession. — Eighteen years. Which would mean about half as many hundred Sabbaths of bodily weakness .- Bowed together. And yet there she was at church. - In no wise lift up herself. But she could hear; that is why we go to the sanctuary.

either in the midst of or at the end of his general address. - Woman, thou art loosed. The graphic order of the Greek is, Woman, released from thy weakness art thou!

Laid his hands on her. The considerateness of Jesus. We need not say, as our English version gratuitously puts it, that he even bade the poor, bent creature to come to him. He seems to have gone to her himself after his personal word. -Made straight. It is interesting to note that it is this same word that is used of the rebuilded temple at Acts 15: 16. "I will set it up." (ana-orthus; straight again.)

Ruler of the synagogue. Who proba-

WHAT THE LESSON TEACHES. And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the Sabbath. Here read we one of the legitimate uses of the sacred day. Our Lord gave his personal sanction and suffrage to Sabbath-day teaching. When we are met on the Lord's Day in the Lord's nouse it should be a source of reassuring comfort to us that we are following in our Lord's footsteps. Yea, may we not say that wherever there is true worship to-day our Master is still teaching in the synagogue on the Sabbath? "Where two or three are gathered in my name there am I in the midst.

When Jesus saw her he called her to him. It was something of an interruption to the orderly service. God grant us more such interruptions in his name! It the minister could only stop once in a while right in the midst of his elaborate discussion-the preacher giving pause for a bit of practice! Or was it following the teaching? Perhaps we shall only find here the application of a discourse, a personal and pertinent application indeed. It would rejoice many a pastor's heart if only he could finish up his sermon with some practical deeds of soul saving. And, in fact, is this not our Lord's own precedent for the after-meeting? The sermon preached, the lesson taught, we come down from the pulpit or the teacher's desk to a hand-to-hand and heart-to-heart encounter. Why not more

Jesus had healed on the Sabbath. This is another legit mate use of God's day. something lying on a blanket on the A moment ago we saw Christ teaching on grass. He was crying like a woman, the Sabbath, now we see him as freely putting out hands to heal. Teaching and helping, so goes the church of Christ her Sabbath journeys through this life. That little company plodding along under hot or snowy skies to the missing station, that floral committee carrying a basket of flowers up the crazy stairs to the sickroom, that colporteur on the wharves, that young man with the invitation cards in the hotel or on the street corner-all are doing good Sabbath-day work for the Master. Indeed, in the whole of life as we realize it to-day it is doubtful whether otherwise the teaching would be of any avail. There must be the helping hand as well as the teaching tongue.

Loosed from this bond on the Sabbath day. And to how many of us the day of rest has been the blessed dating point of the new life. The writer well recalls for himse.f that sweet Sabbath when the chains were loosed and the burden rolled

> O happy day that fixed my choice On Thee, my Savior and my God.

In the providence of God this day, the best of all the seven," has been and will continue to be a red-letter day of salvation to thousands and thousands. What better use to which to put the Lord's day! How better can we keep it than by soul-saving! Finished was our Creator's work on that day when he rested and called it good. Finished, in a larger, deeper spise, our Redeemer's work in the soul's meek surrender, and now may he see of the travail of his own soul and be satisfied. May the Sabbath day in church and school see many bonds of Satan loosed.

All his adversaries were ashamed and all the people rejoiced. Shame versus-Adversaries ashamed-people rejoiced. Well, be it so. We shall go on speaking the truth of Christ and living, so far as we may, the life of Christ, Doubtless, still there shall be men chagrined and disturbed and grievously vexed. But the people will rejoice. Then were the disciples glad when they saw their Lord. The soldiers at the tomb's mouth were in other mood. But here it was Christ's words that put to shame; it as Christ's deeds that brought joy and gladness. May we have such mighty work of God to follow up the lesson of to-day, that across all the land in the homes of all the people there may be heard the song of rejoicing!

Next week-"The Great Supper." Luke 14: 15-24.

CHELSEA STANDARD. WM. EMMERT.

OFFICIAL VILLAGE PAPER.

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1890.

By H. RIDER HAGGARD.

CHAPTER XXII.

ST. GEORGE'S, HANOVER SQUARE.

At the conclusion of his lordship's decision Mr. Addison became purple with fury, and Mr. Roscoe hid his saturnine face in his hands and groaned. Just then the attorney general rose, and seeing James Short coming forward to speak to his clients, stopped him, and shook hands with him warmly.

"Let me congratulate you, my dear fellow," he said. "I never saw a case better done. It was a perfect pleasure to me, and I am very glad that the judge thought fit to compliment you-a most unusual thing, by the way. I can only say that I hope that I may have the pleasure of having you as my junior sometimes in the future. By the way, if you have no other engagement I wish that you would call round at my chambers to-morrow about

Mr. Addison, who was close by overheard this little speech, and a new light broke upon him. With a bound he plunged between James and the attorney

"I see what it is now," he said, in a voice shaking with wrath. "I've been sold. I am a victim to collusion. You've had five hundred of my money, confound you!" he shouted, almost shaking his fist in the face of his learned and dignified adviser; "and now you are congratulating this man," and he pointed his finger at James. "You've been bribed to betray me, sir. You are a rascal! yes. a rascal!

At this point the learned attorney general, forgetting his learning and the exceeding augustness of his position, actually reverted to those first principles of human nature of which the judge had spoken, and doubled his fist. Indeed, had not Mr. News, utterly aghast at such a sight, rushed up and dragged his infariated client back, there is no knowing what scandalous thing might not have happened.

But somehow he was got rid of, and everybody melted away, leaving the ushers to go round and collect the blotting paper and pens which strewed the empty

"And now, good people," said Lady Holmhurst, "I think that the best thing that we can do is all to go home and rest before dinner. I ordered it at 7, and it is half past 5. I hope that you will come, teo, Mr. Short, and bring your brother with you, for I am sure that you, both of

And so they all went, and a very jolly dinner they had, as well they might. At last, however, it came to an end, and the legal twins departed, beaming like stars with happiness and champagne. And then Lady Holmhurst departed also, and left Eustace and Augusta alone.

"Life is a queer thing," said Eustace; "here this morning I was a publisher's reader at £180 a year, and now, to-night, if this verdict holds, it seems that I am one of the wealthiest men in England.

"Yes, dear," said Augusta, "and with all the world at your feet, for life is full of opportunities to the rich. You have a great future before you, Eustace; I really am ashamed to marry so rich a man."

"My darling!" he said, putting his arm round her, "whatever I have I owe to you. Do you know there is only one thing that I fear about all this money, if it really comes to us; and that is that you will be so taken up with what pleasure seeking people call social duties, and the distribution of it, that you will give up your writing. So many women are like that .. Whatever ability they have seems to vanish utterly away upon their wedding day. They say afterward that they have no time, but I often think that it is because they do not choose to make

"Yes," answered Augusta, "but then that is because they do not really love their work, whatever it may be. Those who really love their art as I love mine, with heart and soul and strength, will not be so easly checked. Of course distractions and cares come with marriage; but, on the other hand, if one marries happily, there comes quiet of mind and cessation from that ceaseless restlessness that is so fatal to good work. You need not fear, Eustace; if I can, I will show the world that you have not married a dullard; and if I can't, why, my dear, it will be because I am one.'

""That comes very nicely from the author of 'Jemima's Vow," said Eustace, with sarcasm. "Really, my dear, what between your fame as a writer and as the heroine of the shipwreck and of the great will case, I think that I had better take a back seat at once, for I shall certainly be known as the husband of the beautiful and gifted Mrs. Meeson."

"Oh, no," answered Augusta; "don't be afraid, nobody would dream of speak-ing slightingly of the owner of two-millions of money. "Well; never mind chaffing about the money," said Eustace; "we haven't got it yet, for one thing. I have got something to ask you."

"I must be going to bed," said Augusta, firmly.
"No-nonsense!" said Eustace. "You are not going;" and he caught her by the

"Unhand me, sir!" said Augusta, with majesty. "Now, what do you want, you

"I want to know if you will marry me "Next week? Good gracious! No," coming from to nev for them with.

"Things!" said Eustace, with fine con-"You managed to live on Kerguelen Land without things, so I don't see why you can't get married without them—though, for the matter of that, I will get anything you want in six hours. I never did hear such bosh as women talk about, 'things.' Listen, dear. For Heaven's sake let's get married and have a little quiet. I can assure you that, w you don't, your life won't be worth having after this. You will be hunted like a wild thing, and interviewed, and painted, and worried to death; whereas, if you get married—well, it will be better for us in a quiet way, you

"Well, there is something in that," said Augusta. "But supposing that there should be an appeal, and the decision should be reversed, what would happen then?" "Well, then we should have to work for our living-that's all. I have got my billet, and you could write for the press until your five year's agreement with Meeson & Co. has run out. I would put you in the way of that. I see lots of writing people at my shop."

"Well," said Augusta, "I will speak to Bessie about it. "Oh, of course Lady Holmhurst will say no," said Eustace, gloomily. "She will think about the 'things,' and, besides, she won't want to lose you before she is obliged." "That is all that I can do for you, sir," said Augusta, with decision. "Therecome - that's enough! Good night. And, breaking away from him, she made a pretty little courtesy and vanished. Now, I wonder what she means to do, meditated Eustace, as the butler brought him his hat. "I really should not wonder if she came round to it. But then one never knows how a woman will take a thing. If she will she will, etc., etc. And now it may strike the reader as very strange, but, as a matter of fact, ten days from the date-of the above conversation there was a small and early gathering at St. George's, Hanover square, close by. I say "small," for the marriage had been kept quite secret in order to prevent euriosity mongers from marching down upon it in their thousands, as they would certainly have done had it been announced that the heroine of the great will case was going to be married. Therefore the party was very select. Augusta had no relations of her own, and so she had asked Dr. Probate, with whom she had struck up a great friendship, to come and give her away; and, though the old gentleman's previous career had had more connection with the undeing of the nuptial tie than with its contraction, he could not find it in his heart to refuse. "I shall be neglecting my duties, you know, my dear young lady," he said, shaking his head. "It's very wrongvery wrong, for I ought to be at the registry; but-well, perhaps I can manage to come-very wrong, though-very wrong. and quite out of my line of business! 1 expect that I shall, begin to address the court-I mean the clergyman-for the

And so it came to pass that on this auspicious day the registering was left to look after itself; and as a matter of history, it may be stated that no question was asked in parliament about it.

Then there was Lady Helmhurst, looking very pretty in her widow's dress; and you, deserve your dinner, if ever anybody her boy Dick, who was in the highest. spirits, and bursting with health and wonder at these strange proceedings on the part of his "auntie;" and, of course, the legal twins brought up the rear.

And there in the vestry stood Augusta in her bridal dress, as sweet a woman as ever the sun shone on; and, looking at her beautiful face, Dr. Probate nearly fell in love with her himself. And yet it was a sad face just then. She was happyvery, as a loving woman who is about to be made a wife should be; but when a great joy draws near to us it comes companioned by the shadows of our old

"Now, then, Miss Smithers," broke in Dr. Probate, "for the very last time-nobody will call you that again, you know -take my arm; his lordship-I mean the parson-is there.' It was done, and they were man and wife. Well, even the happiest marriage is always a good thing to get over. It was not a long drive back to Hanover square, and the very first sight that greeted them on their arrival was the infant from the city (John's), accompanied by his brother, the infant from Pump court (James'), who had, presumably, come to show him the way, or, more probably, because he thought that there would be eatables going-holding in his hand a legal looking

"Marked 'immediate,' sir; so I thought that I had better serve it at once," said the first infant, handing the letter to

"What is it?" asked Eustace, nervously. He had grown to hate the sight of a lawyer's letter with a deadly hate.

'Notice of appeal, I expect," said John. "Open it, man," said Eustace, "and let's get it over." Accordingly, John did so, and read as follows:

"MEESON VS. ADDISON AND ANOTHER. "DEAR SIR-After consultation with our clients, Messrs. Addison and Roscoe, we are enabled to make you the following offer. If no account is required of the mesne profits"-"That's a wrong term," said James, irritably. "Mesne profits refer to profits derived from real estate. Just like a solicitor to make such a blunder."

"The term is perfectly appropriate," replied his twin, with warmth. "There was some real estate, and, therefore, the term can properly be applied to the whole of the income. 'For heaven's sake, don't argue, but get on!" said Eustace. "Don't you see that I am on tenter hooks?"

"My clients," continued John, "are ready to undertake that no appeal shall be presented in the recent case of Meeson vs. Addison and Another. If, however, the plaintiff insists upon an account, the usual steps will be taken to bring the matter before a higher court.

"Obediently yours, "NEWS & NEWS. "John Short, Esq.
"P. S.—An immediate reply will ob-

"Well, Meeson, what do you say to said Augusta. "Why, I have not got my that?" said John. "But I beg your parthings, and, for the matter of that, I am don, I forgot; perhaps you would like to take counsel's advice." and he pointed to thus: One-third—of which a moiety will go to the book in hand, and ten per cent. to the house, Then, should there be thing to you."

"Eh! what's the matter" said Eustace, yawning.

James, who was rubbing his baid head indignantly.

"Oh, no," I should not," answered
Eustace; "I've quite made up my mind.
Let them stick to their mesne" (here James made a face); "well, then, to their middle or their immediate or their anything else profits. No appeals for me, if I can avoid it. Send News a telegram."

The telegram to News & News having been dispatched, they all went in to the wedding breakfast. And after that Augusta went and changed her dress, and then came the hurried good-bys; and, to escape observation, they drove off in a hansom cab amid a shower of old shoes. And there in that hansom cab we will leave them. CHAPTER XXIII.

MEESON'S ONCE AGAIN. A month had passed—a month of long, happy days and such dear delight as young people who truly love each other can get out of a honeymoon spent under the most favorable circumstances in the sweetest, sunniest spots of the Channel Islands. And now the curtain draws up for the last time in this history, where it

drew up for the first, in the inner office of Meeson's huge establishment. During the last fortnight certain communications had passed between Mr. John Short, being duly authorized thereto, and the legal representatives of Messrs. Addison & Roscoe, with the result that the interests of these gentlemen in the great publishing house had been bought up, and that Eustace Meeson was now the sole owner of the vast concern, which he intended to take under his personal supervision. Now, accompanied by John Short, whom he had appointed to the post of solicitor both of his business and private affairs, and by Augusta, he was engaged in formally taking over the keys from the head manager, who was known throughout the establishment as No. 1.

"I wish to refer to the author's agreements of the early part of last year," said

No. 1 produced them somewhat sulkily. Hedid not like the appearance of this determined young owner upon the scene, with his free and un-Meeson like ways.

Eustace turned tham over, and, while he did so his happy wife stood by him marveling at the kaleidoscopic changes in her circumstances. When last she had stood in that office, not a year ago, it had been as a pitiful suppliant begging for a few pounds wherewith to try and save her sister's life, and now-

Suddenly Eustace stopped turning, and, drawing a document from the bundle, glanced at it. It was Augusta's agreement with Meeson & Co. for "Jemima's Vow." the agreement binding her to them for five years, which had been the cause of all her troubles, and, as she firmly believed, of her little sister's death.

"There, my dear," said Eustace to his wife, "there is a present for you. Take

Augusta took the document, and, having looked to see what it was, shivered as she did so. It brought the whole thing back so painfully to her mind. "What shall I do with it?" she asked;

"tear it un?" "Yes," he answered. "No, stop a bit," and, taking it from her, he wrote "Canceled," in big letters across it, signed and dated it. "There." he said, "now send it to be framed and glazed, and it shall be hung here in the office, to show how they used to do business at Meeson's. No. 1 snorted, and looked at Eustace aghast. What would the young man be after next? 'Are the gentlemen assembled in the hall?" asked Eustace of him when the remaining documents were put away

No. 1 said that they were, and, accordingly, to the hall they went, wherein were gathered all the editors, sub-editors, managers, sub-managers, of the various departments, clerks, and other employes, not forgetting the tame authors, who, a pale and mealy regiment, had been marched up thither from the Hutches, and the tame artists with flying hair-and were now being marshaled in lines by No. 1, who had gone on before. When Eustace and his wife and John Short got to the top of the hall, where some chairs had been set, the whole multitude bowed, whereon he begged them to be scated-a permission which the tame authors, who sat all day in their little wooden hutches. and sometimes a good part of the night also, did not seem to care to avail themselves of. But the tame artists, who had, for the most part, to work standing, sat down readily. "Gentlemen," said Eustace, "first let me introduce you to my wife, Mrs. Meeson, who, in another capacity, has already been-not greatly to her own profit-connected with this establishment, having written the best work of fiction that has ever gone through our printing presses' here some of the wilder spirits cheered, and Augusta blushed and bowed;] "and who will, I hope and trust, write many even better books which we shall have the honor of giving to the world." [Applause.] "Also, gentlemen, let me introduce you to Mr. John Short, my solicitor, who, together with his twin brother, Mr. James Short, brought the great lawsuit in which I was engaged to a successful issue. And now I have to tell you why I have summoned you all to meet me here. First of all, to say that I am now the sole owner of this business, having bought out Messrs. Addison & Roscoe" f"And a good job, too," said a voice]; "and that I hope that we shall work well together; and, secondly, to inform you that I am going to totally revolutionize the course of business as hitherto practiced in this establishment" [sensation], "having, with the assistance of Mr. Short, drawn up a scheme for that purpose. I am informed, in the statement of profits on which the purchase price of the shares of Messrs. Addison & Roscoe was calculated, that the average net profits of this house during the past ten years have amounted to fifty-seven and a fraction per cent, on the capital invested. Now, I have determined that in future-the net profits of any given undertaking shall be divided as follows: Ten per cent. to the author of the book in hand, and ten per toward a pension fund—to the employes of the house, the division to be arranged on a fixed scale"-(Enormous sensation, especially among the tame authors;) "and the remainder to the author of the work. Thus, supposing that a book paid cent. per cent., I shall take ten per cent., and the employes would take twenty-six and a fraction per cent., and the author would take sixty four per cent.'

And here an interruption occurred. It came from No. 1, who could no longer restrain his disgust.

"I'll resign," he said; I'll resign! Meeson's content with ten per cent., when an author-a mere author-gets sixty! It's shameful-shameful!" "If you choose to resign, you can," said

Eustace, sharply, "but I advise you to take time to think it over. Gentlemen," went on Eustace, "I dare say that this seems a great change to you, but I may as well say at once that I am no wild philanthropist. I expect to make it pay, and pay well. To begin with, I shall never undertake any work that I do not think will pay-that is, without an adequate guarantee, or in the capacity of a simple agent; and my own 10 per cent. will be the first charge on the profits; then the author's ten. Of course, if I speculate in a hook, and buy it out and out, subject to the risks, the case will be different, But with a net 10 per cent. certain, I am, like people in any other line of business, quite prepared to be satisfied; and, upon those terms, I expect to become the publisher of all the best writers in England, and I also expect that any good writer will in future be able to make a handsome income out of his work. Further, it strikes me that you will most of you find yourselves better off at the end of the year than you do at present." [Cheers.] "One or two more mat-ters I must touch on. First and foremost the Hutches, which I consider a scandal to a great institution like this, will be abolished"-[Shouts of joy from the tame authors]- "and a handsome row of brick chambers erected in their place, and, further, their occupants will in future receive a very considerable permanent addition to their salaries." [Renewed and delirious cheering.] "Lastly, I will do away with this system-this horrid system-of calling men by number, as though they were convicts instead of free Englishmen. Henceforth everybody in this establishment will be known by his own name." [Loud cheers.] "And now one thing more: I hope to see you all at dinner at Pompadour Hall this day next week, when we will christen our new scheme and the new firm, which, however, in the future as in the past, will be known as Meeson & Co., for, as we are all to share in the profits of our undertaking, I consider that we shall still be a company, and I hope a prosperous and honest company in the truest sense of the word." And then, amid a burst of prolonged and rapturous cheering, Eustace and his wife bowed, and were escorted out to the carriage that was waiting to drive them to Pompadour Hall.

In half an hour's time they were reentering the palatial gates from which, driven forth to seek his fortune. There, on either side, were drawn up the long lines of menials, gorgeous with plush and powder (for Mr. Meeson's servants had never been discharged).

"Good gracious!" said Augusta, glancing up the marble steps, "there are six of those great footmen. What on earth shall I do with them all?" "Sack them," said Eustace, abruptly; "the sight of these overfed brutes makes

And then they were bowed in-and under the close scrutiny of many pairs of eyes wandered off with what dignity they could command to dress for dinner.

In due course they found themselves at dinner, and such a dinner! It took an hour and twenty minutes to get through, or rather the six footmen took an hour and twenty minutes to carry the silver dishes in and out. Never since their marriage had Eustace and Augusta felt so miserable.

"I don't think that I like being so rich,' said Augusta, rising and coming down the long table to her husband, when at last Johnson had softly closed the door. "It oppresses me!"

"So it does me," said Eustace; "and ! tell you what it is, Gussie," he went on, drawing her on his knee; "I won't stand having all those infernal fellows hanging round me. I shall sell this place, and go in for something quieter."

And at that moment there came a dread. ful diversion. Suddenly, and without the slightest warning, the doors at either end of the room opened. Through the one came two enormous footmen laden with coffee and cream, etc., and through the other Johnson and another powdered monster bearing cognac and other liquors. And there was Augusta sitting on Eustace's knee, absolutely too paralyzed to stir. Just as the men came up she struggled off somehow, and stood looking like an idiot, while Eustace colored to his eyes. Indeed, the only people who showed no confusion were those magnificent menials, who never turned a single powdered hair, but went through their solemn rites with perfectly unabashed countenances. "I can't stand this," said Augusta, feebly, when they had at length de-"I am going to bed; I feel quite

"All right," said Eustace; "I think that it is the best thing to do in this comfortless shop. Confound that fellow Short, why couldn't he come and dine? wonder if there is any place where one could go to smoke a pipe, or rather a cigar—I suppose those fellows would despise me if I smoked a pipe. There was no smoking allowed here in my uncle's time, so I used to smoke in the house-

"Why don't you smoke here?-the room is so big it would not smell," said

'Oh, hang it all, no," said Eustace; "think of the velvet curtains. I can't sit and smoke by myself in a room fifty feet by thirty; I shall get the blues. No, I shall come upstairs, too, and smoke

And he did. Early, very early in the morning, Augusta woke, got up, and put on a dressing gown.
"Eustace," she said to her steeping spouse, "wake up, I want to say some-

"Eustace, we are too rich-we ought to do something with all this money."

"All right," said Eustace, "I'm agree. able. What do you want to do?" "I want to give away a good sum-say two hundred thousand, that isn't much out of all you have-to found an institution for broken down authors."

"All right," said Eustace; "only you must see about it, I can't be bothered By the way," he added, waking up a little, "you remember what the old boy told you when he was dying? I think that starving authors who have published with Meeson's ought to have the first right of election."

"I think so, too," said Augusta, and she went to the buhl writing table to work out that scheme on paper which, as the public is aware, is now about to prove such a boon to the world of scribblers. "I say, Gussie!" suddenly said her hus-band. "I've just had a dream." VOL

STANDA

$1.00 PER

ADVE

FOR D

Col. 81

Col.

Inch

Reading

nsertion.

cal items.

often as

Tuesday

PHYS

OFFICE C

Dr. Palm

Dr. Writ

H. L

Drug St

5, P. M.

ST.LOUIS

about the fift scope, as larg ma make fro mt osperien Address. H. J

IN

Cor

"Well!" she said, sharply, for she was busy with her seleme; "what is it?" "I dreamed that James Short was Q. C. and making twenty thousand a year, and that he had married Lady Holmhurst.

"I should not wonder if that came true," answered Augusta, biting the top of hor pen.

Then came another pause. "Gussle," said Eustace, sleepily; "are you quite happy?"

"Yes, of course I am; that is, I should bo if it wasn't for those footmen and the silver water jugs. "I wonder at that," said her husband.

"Why?" "Because"-(yawn)-"of that will upon your shoulders"-(yewn). "I should not have believed that a woman could be quite happy" - (yawn) - "who couldnever go to court. And he wont to sleep again; while, disdaining reply, Augusta worked on.

THE END. '

Not "Well Instructed" in French.

City Daughter (entertaining Father Hazeed at dinner)-Papa, dear, you oughtn't to eat pastry with your knife. If any of my city friends should be dining with me they would think you were not quite au fait.

Papa Hazeed-I don't care whether they think I'm off A or nigh A, or gee haw buck A; when I eat pie I'm going to eat it my way, and don't you forget it.-Chatter.

"You Never Visited."

A gentleman who lives out at Edgewater was starting for town the other morning and he had occasion to cross the railroad track on his way to the station. Jogging along before him on the road was a peripatetic peddler, who was evidently a Hebrew. The latter had a bony horse, which ambled along in some way, and the wagon in which the peddler sat was a very rickety affair. The Edgewater man heard the whistle of a train as less than a year before, Eustace had been | the wagon neared the track, and he knew that the morning express was due, but the Hebrew jogged on and apparently did not hear the train. As his rig struck the track the engine of the express dashed by and caught the rear wheels. There was a cry and a crash. The Edgewater man rushed toward the crossing just as the bewildered peddler pulled himself away from the wreck of his stock in trade. Straightening himself up and gazing after the fast receding train, he shook his finger at the rear coach and said, reproachfully: "You never vistled!" -Chicago Herald.

Should Say So. Miss Minnie-Was the play pathetic? Mr. Banklurk-I should say so. Why. even the seats were in tiers.-Harper's Bazar.

Half Heron, Half Stork The Zoological gardens have just received several specimens of the umbrette, which has not been exhibited since the year 1884. It is, however, fairly common throughout the Cape colony and in other parts of Africa, and extends its range to Madagascar. It is one of those birds which has proved a difficulty to the systematist, for it does not fit accurately into any classificatory scheme. It is half a heron and half a stork, with a general appearance which is unlike that of either. On the whole, in its structure it comes nearer to the heron, and it has the rather melancholy demeanor of that bird. I lives upon fish and frogs. Curiously enough it is looked upon by some of the natives of both Africa and Madagascar as a bird of evil augury. In Africa it is held to be sacred and to possess the power of witchcraft. There is something por tentous and solemn about the behavior of all these herons and bitterns which easily accounts for the origin of these legends Occasionally the umbrette relaxes the severity of its demeanor and executes fantastic dance with outspread wings It is also a bird of refined and sesthetic tastes, which are not shared by its im mediate kinsmen, the herons and storks It adorns its nest with buttons, frag ments of pottery, bits of glass, and an other bright looking objects which com in its way. The nest itself is enormou -nearly six feet across-and its interior divided into three chambers. This is a unheard of luxury, especially as it only lays two eggs and does not take in an keeper's room; but I can't do that lodgers, such as cuckoos. London Dail

New Street Car Stove.

The Electric Railway company at D Moines, Ia., has received two petrolem ail stoves, a new invention for heating purposes. The inventors claim for the safety and the most satisfactory all cheapest heat appliances for cars. stoves are placed underneath the are entirely out of the way, and, if said factory in their operation, will certain prove a big improvement over the stoves. The invention is a new one, tent having been secured by firm, who have given them a thorot test.-New York Telegram.