pressing its thanks for the valuable report of the committee. The report details the work of its members in securing and aiding pension legislation in Congress, and its successful efforts in regard to the disability pension bill that became a law July 27. "This law," says the report, "while not in the precise form of the bill presented by the committee, preserves the most important features thereof, and, while not just what was asked, is the most liberal pension measure ever passed by any legislative body in the world, and will place upon the rolls all the survivors of the war whose conditions of health are not practically perfect." The committee on changes in the rules and regulations presented its report recommending various changes. A minority report in favor of adopting a resolution offered by the department of Massachusetts, providing the substitution of the old ritual for the present one was adopted by a large majority.

At the afternoon session resolutions were adopted favoring the removal of General Grant's remains from Riverside to Arlington, provided it was in accordance with Mrs. Grant's wishes; thanking Congress for passing and the President for approving pension laws; favoring the making of Ford's theater in Washington a National museum for war mementoes, and favoring the exemption of veterans from examination in thanked the soldiers for their cordial reeting, not to him but to his office. He was glad that the organization was based on merit, not on rank, but on the spirit impelling a man to enter the army for the sake of liberty throughout the world.

After addresses by Generals Sherman, Sickles and Alger and Corporal Tanner, at 12:30 the assembly broke up with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

At the morning session of the Woman's Relief Corps the committee appointed to visit the encampment reported a cordial reception and brought greetings from the boys in blue. The chairman, Mrs. M. E. Knowles, read the following report: Number of members, 102,522; amount of relief fund, $94,335; amount expended in relief since the organization in 1883, $248,929; turned over to posts, $126,168; grand total, $375,098.

The greater part of the afternoon ses sion was devoted to consideration of reports. Mrs. McHenry, of Iowa, was elected National president. Mrs. Elizabeth A. Turner, of Massachusetts, was unanimously elected senior vice-presi-

OUR POPULATION.

The Rough Count of the Census About Completed—It Shows That Uncle Sam's Family Numbers Over 44,000,008 Sqn's, an Increase of About 80 Per Cent. Within the Past Ten Years.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Census Office on Saturday finished the count of all the schedules in hand, comprising the returns from all but 12,000 of the 43,000 and odd districts into which the country was divided. The total population counted is 62,696,953, but it is estimated that the districts yet to come in will increase the total to 64,470,000. The latter figure may be taken as the population of the United States July 1, subject to variation of a few thousand when the final and revised count is made. This will not be known for three or four weeks, probably, as some of the districts will be late in coming in, and in a number of cities recounts are in progress. Approximately the populations of the States of the Union. arranged according to their relative rank, as shown in some cases by actual count, in others by postal card re-turns, and in others by careful estimate based on the count just completed, as classed by a member of Superintendent Potter's staff are as follows:

OUT A SITE.

World's Fair Directors Are in a Quandry -They Will Probably Abandon the Lake Front.

CHICAGO, Aug. 18 .- The Herald declares that the directors of the World's Columbian Exposition have given up all hope of securing the Lake Front as a portion of the site for the fair. The action of the Illinois Central Railway Company in refusing to pay for the made ground in case pending litigation terminated in its favor, together with the opinion rendered recently by Captain Marshall, the Govrnment marine engineer, to the efect that the cost of filling the basin vill be three times the amount anticisated, and that the time intervening between now and 1893 is wholly inadejuate, have forced the conclusion that briefly expressed in the following ignificant remark of President Gage: The Lake Front will not again come ip for consideration as a site for the world's fair by the directors of the Columbian Exposition."

The Lake Front being apparently bandoned, and the fact that Jackson Park does not afford as much land as it vas thought it would, only 112 acres, eccording to the report of Engineer Olmsted, being available, a stubborn situation confronts the directors. When he National commission convenes here again on September 15 they must have mother site to offer, and it must be one about which there is no question. And he task is not an easy one.

The advocates of the West Side site are pleased at the turn affairs have taken, and believe that the directors will yet be forced to accept their terms. Vice-President Bryan says that the West Side site is being held in reserve.

A formal tender of 425 acres on the West side, free of charge, has been made by Mr. A. J. Stone and others to the world's fair directors as a site for the exposition. The offer is indorsed by the west park commissioners.

"If the people, by act of Congress, choose to remove General Grant's remains to or near Washington, Mrs. Grant will refuse her consent only in case no provision be made for her to finally rest by his side. This she wishes to emphasize. She will be glad to see a monument begun at last which will mark the last resting-place of her husbead,"

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

A FATAL MISTAKE.

A Grand Rapids Porter Falls Four Storie Hendrik Zuidema, a porter at Rindge, Bertsch & Co.'s shoe factory in Grand Rapids, met a horrible death the other day. He went to the fourth floor on the elevator and in another room for goods. When he returned, supposing the elevator to be as he had left it, he stepped backward through the open door. The elevator had been lowered to the basement and he fell the entire four stories, striking across the top of the car on his back. He only lived a few hours. He had been employed by the firm sixteen years and leaves a wife and four children. There were no guards around the shaft, and the coroner's jury censure the firm.

Health in Michigan. Reports to the State Board of Health by seventy observers in different parts of the State for the week ended August 9 indicated that puerperal fever, erysipelas, inflammation of brain, cholera morbus, cholera infantum, scarlet fever, pueumonia increased and measles, whooping cough, typho-malarial fever, inflammation of kidney and pleuralis typhoid fever decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at twenty-seven places, scarlot fever at twenty-one, typhoid fever at twentytwo and measles at thirteen places.

A Michigan Town's Misfortune. Fire broke out in Wilcox & Smith's brick store in Waldron the other evening and spread in all directions, by the explosion of a lot of dynamite or powder stored there. Seven business houses, including the post-office, were destroyed. The total loss will amount to over $30,000. Insurance unknown. The fire was undoubtedly of incendiary origin, but there was no clew to the fire-

"I don't want you to do too much," said Mrs. Wiggin. "I am not one of those people that are willing to work their 'help' to death."

When Mrs. Wiggin entered the room of her lodger, her first proceeding was to lock the door-probably in order that none of the dust might get out of the room into the entry. Having done this, she laid down her broom, put on her glasses, and began to look carefully about her. First she scanned the mantelpiece, next the bureau, and finally she took the liberty of opening the upper bureau drawer. Here she found what she sought. Before her, wrapped in the same paper, was the mysterious bottle. Hastily unrolling it she learned the fatal truth. It was hair dye!

Why do I say fatal truth? I will tell you. Mrs. Wiggin at once concluded, what was indeed the truth, that this looked toward matrimony. She knew how much the use of the hair dye would improve his appearance, and feared that it would make him irresistible to Sophronia Jones.

The little pulp-germ grows and develops till it approximates the shape of the tooth it is to become; then it begins to calcify, forming the dentine part of the crown, while the enamel is deposited by an independent process. The surface of the crown attains its full size before the process of elongation com-mences. Then gradually it pushes its way outward through the gum, absorbing the tissue as it advances till the pure white enamel peeps out, to the mother's great delight. The first of the incisors usually appears at about the age of five months, and the temporary set of twenty is completed at about three years of age; but there is no uniformity or certainty in regard to the age, or which of the four central incisors will first appear. The process of "teething" is almost invariably one of disturbance to the health of the child: he is liable to fret and worry, especially if the outer membrane or skin of the gum proves tenacious, and does not readily absorb. In this case it should be lanced; an operation which is humane, in that it relieves the discomfort of the child, and entirely harmless, as there is seldom any hemorrhage worth the name, and if there should be a slight flow of blood it readily yields to simple treatment. The application of a dust of powdered alum is usually sufficient -Good Housekeeping.

RAILWAY collisions, from the inability to stop the locomotive, are likely to be made impossible when the electric light is substituted for the oil lamps now in use. Recent experiments prove that the electric headlight casts ight from half to three-quarters of a mile ahead. A train going at the rate of sixty miles an hour can thus be stopped in time to prevent any accident.

A St. Louis paper has discovered young colored man Benjamin Franklin Dixon, in St. Louis, who plays eight musical instruments at one time and has but two fingers. Around his neck is a brass and leather contrivance which holds all of the wind instruments he plays upon, so that by bending his head slightly he can reach them with his mouth. Under his foot is an electric button which connects with the snare drum and electric bells. On his left stands the big bass, which he plays along with the cymbals by means of a cord fastened to his left elbow. On the other side hangs the triangle, which he operates with his saving the limb, even though it shall right elbow, moving in and out chicken-wing fashion. On his head he fastens a frame with bells upon it, which he shakes at the proper time. While he is going through all the motions with his arms, head and feet, he carries the air he is playing on the harp, which is fastened to the same framework as the wind instruments .- Ex.

> Pionics. Almost any boy or girl can tell you what a picnic is like, but I wonder how many know why it is so call- NEW STORE ed, or that the custom is said to date only from 1802, not 100 years ago. Then, as now, when such an intertainment was being arranged for, it Superior and Buckeye was customary that those who intended to be present should supply eatables and drinkables. Originally the plan was to draw up a list of what was necessary, which is an excellent one to follow, for often, when there has been no previous agreement, it is discovered, when too late, that there is too much of one kind of food and not enough of another. The list was passed round, and each person picked out the article of food or drink he or she was willing to furnish, and the name of the article was nicked off the list. So it was from these two words, picked and nicked, that this form of out-of-door entertainment first became known as a "pickand-nick," and then as a plenic, the old-fashioned name for the basket parties of today.-Ex.
