People will never be broken of the bad habit of buying lottery tickets or of gambling in any form until human nature is so reconstructed that a man will not feel so good over winning $5 that he will forget that it cost him $25 to get it.

The following are the answers to Hummel & Fenn's riddles which appeared in our last issue. What is worse than raining cats and dogs? Hailing Omnibuses. Why is an umbrella like a pancake? Because it is seldom seen after lent. See new "ad." on this page.

Painters are very busy this week, painting the exterior of St. Mary's church. It will decidedly improve the appearance of the building, and make the outside in harmony with the beautiful interior. We are glad to note the continued prosperity of the church under its present management.

Farmers should be progressive; but there is no need of following every new wrinkle that is advocated by erratic or cranky writers. Advice which is good for one is often fatal to another, as one man's meat is another man's poison. Following the advice of experts and truly wise men even is not a safe proceeding without the exercise of judgment and common sense of one's own.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Heatley have gone east for a brief vacation, and, incidentally, to attend the wedding of their niece Miss Foster, of Toledo, the daughter of Mrs. P. W. Watts, of Lyndon. In consequence St. Mary's church, of which Mr. Heatley is organist, had no High Mass last Sunday, but the juvenile choir delighted the congregation with their rendition of some beautiful hymns.

Too much is attempted in our public schools, and hence those children who leave them at twelve years of age, as three-fourth of the pupils do, have not really completed anything. They write an indifferent hand, are inaccurate in numbers, are unvaluable to read from a book or a newspaper in such a manner as to convey the sense to another, and cannot compose in good English or ordinary letter.

The carriage horses to be presented to the Rt. Rev. Bishop Foley by the priests of the diocese of Detroit, were bought last week at Grass Lake from Curtis and Davenport. They are a seal brown and make a very handsome team. The price paid was $1200. The committee in charge visited many cities, and our sister city, Grass Lake, is to be congratulated on the honor won. The presentation will take place sometime in October.

Hon. James S. Gorman and postmaster McKone went to Adrian last Tuesday as delegates to the congressional convention. Chelsea citizens, irrespective of party, would feel highly honored if Senator Gorman were nominated. He has made an admirable record as a State Senator, and in the National house of Representatives, his influence and ability would be felt in national affairs. Later: Mr. Gorman was nominated on first ballot.

An ordinary hard question for housewives to solve, "How to clean gilt frames?" is answered in this week's Scientific American. The method devised is simple, too, consisting in washing the frames in beer.

Eastern fruit growers this year can have the consolation of knowing that their brethren in California are scooping in the shekels with both hands as the result of the almost total failure of fruit in the East.

Mrs. Freys vacant house corner Main and South streets was to be on fire last Sunday morning but the prompt action of the fire department soon extinguished the flames, although considerable damage was done.

Lansing has more attempts at suicide by young ladies than any other place in the state. Which moves the Portland Observer to observe that either the young men are not using them right or else the young ladies are losing their senses.

An exchange says: "An Alpena young woman, apparently in good health, has been asleep for nearly two years, and is still in the same condition. Her disease must be the same as some of our merchants who try to do business without advertising."

We recently saw a statement in a paper that seems incredible but it costs nothing to test it. It is this: A bunch of red clover hung up in a room and allowed to dry, will, by its perfume, rid the room of flies sooner than any poisonous or sticky fly paper.

The women of the country will spring to arms, or to crocheted needles, or to embroidery scissors, or to some other dangerous weapon at the dire announcement of a frost in seal skin. It is an outrage on the fair sex. There is only one trust in seal skins that can be thought of at all by the women, and that is a confident and unflinching trust that they are going to have one.

The person who furnishes items for a newspaper is always a valuable friend to the editor. Many persons hesitate about sending postal cards to a newspaper regarding the movements of friends, least the editor should think them anxious to see their name in print. He will think nothing of the kind; on the contrary he is glad to get such notes. Many seemingly unimportant items when printed are news to a large number of readers.

A literary man found that after writing for some time he would see strange objects when he looked up from his work, one of the most frequent objects being a large, black Newfoundland dog sitting in the corner of the room. He saw these objects for several days, and had begun to think that his mind was seriously deranged when he bethought himself of his rather tight shirt collar. He immediately loosened it, had all his collars made larger, and saw no more black dogs. Silly fashions are accountable for more bodily and mental troubles than people think.

Round shoulders are almost unavoidably accompanied by weak lungs, but may be cured by the simple and easily performed exercise of raising one's self upon the toes leisurely, in a perpendicular position, several times daily. Take a perfectly upright position, with the heels together and the toes at an angle of forty-five degrees. Drop the arms lifelessly by the sides, animating and raising the chest to its full capacity muscularly, the chin well drawn in. Slowly rise up on the balls of the feet to the greatest possible height, thereby exercising all the muscles of the legs and the body; come again into stand-position without swaying the body backward out of the perfect line. Repeat the exercise first on one foot, then on the other.

While almost everything else on earth seems to have changed and improved during the last twenty years, one has only to journey a few miles by an ordinary passenger coach to discover that the demeanor of the average traveler is just the same as when his father took his first ride: Every man or woman wants to occupy a whole seat. Every man or woman wants the window up. Every man puts his head out when the whistle blows for a highway crossing. If the train stops for over two minutes everybody wonders what is the matter, and if the speed is twenty miles an hour the man with the watch is heard calling out that the last mile was made in exactly a minute. Everybody carries his umbrella and his luncheon, as in days of yore, and the train boy sells just as many peanuts as he did during the reckless and extravagant days of war.

The intelligence of the present day drives out bigotry. Men of broad views are the leaders in all professions, and if any remedy proves its value, leading physicians no longer fear to not only use it, but to testify to its merits, as well, believing that "truth is mighty and must prevail."
Wanted—Gilt-edge butter at Hummel & Fenn's.
For flower pots go Geo. Blaich.
Glazier, the druggist, sells all dollar medicines at 50 to 75c per bottle.

Take a look at that fine line of friendship rings at Glazier's.
The weather predictions for this month are as follows: Fine weather will continue up to the 12th when a period of remarkable weather, at times changeable and stormy, with the development of sun spots, is likely to have its inception and to continue up to the 22nd. With trifling exceptions there will probably be pleasant enjoyable weather up to the 28th, followed very likely by rain on the 29th or 30th.
Fortunate woman! She traded at Glazier's and saved money.
The total number of deaths among the pioneers of the county, from September, 1889, to September, 1890, was 79, of whom 19 were under 70, 31 between 70 and 80, 23 between 80 and 90, and four upwards of 90, with two whose exact ages were not known. Of those upwards of 90, the oldest was Mrs. Margaret Gardner, of Augusta, who reached the ripe old age of 94—a native of Scotland and a resident of Augusta for 59 years. The others were Wm. Turner, of Dexter, 93, a resident there 60 years; John Kanouse, of Salline, 93, resident of county 59 years, and Mrs. Mary McCarthy, of Scio, 90 years of age, who had resided in that town for 32 years.—Register.

Those who save money, make money. That's a strong argument for trading with Glazier the druggist.
The strongest fort the devil ever finds is a happy heart.

Balloting in Boxes.
Under the new law which will be in force at the coming election unless it is declared unconstitutional at the October term of the supreme court, it is provided in addition to the printing of tickets by the state and other things, that one booth for each one hundred persons entitled to vote at each polling place and one for every fraction not less than twenty-five, shall be erected at each polling place into which voters may go to deposit their ballots.
The stall will be arranged against the walls of the polling place and shall not be less than six feet high, but it is not necessary that the sides of the stalls shall reach the ground so that the voter shall be concealed. The stall or booths must be so arranged that, as the elector passes in at the gate to the room where the ballots or tickets are taken by the inspectors of election, he shall pass through a temporary room provided for the purpose and be concealed from the inspectors of election and those without the said railing while passing through the said room. As he hands his ticket, carefully folded, so as to hide the name or names upon it, to the inspector, the latter will pronounce his name in an audible tone, and if there is no challenge, shall place the ticket in the ballot box without unfolding or examining it in any way.
The number of booths required for the election in this township based on the presidential election of 1888, is eight.

Stylish Bedclothes.
The latest caprice of rich and dandy ladies is a penchant for silk sheets, richly embroidered in delicate silk flosses. One of those costly affairs is of pale lavender, with a wreath of violets embroidered around it and violet sachet fastened in the corners. The heavier quilt beneath is filled with lavender-colored down, sprinkled with dried violets. A new bedspread, in marked contrast, is made of linen sheeting embroidered all over with white silk in bold conventional designs wrought out in "short and long" or "grandmother's stitch."

The regular banking hours of the Chelsea Savings Bank are from 9 a. m. to 12 o'clock noon, and from 1 o'clock p. m. to 4 o'clock p. m. But to accommodate the public, the bank is usually open for business from 8 o'clock in the morning until 8 o'clock in the evening, except from 4 to 6 o'clock p. m. during which hours the bank is necessarily closed, to count cash and balance account books.

Notice.
Uncle Sam pays his 300,000 employees, including soldiers and sailors, an average salary of $825 apiece. The average earnings of the plain, every-day citizen, who gets pay in proportion to the work he does, are about half that much probably. This state of affairs explains, perhaps, why about 28,000,000 male American citizens make a dead set for about 50,000 offices every four years.

When the roof caves in with a terrible din, When the rain through the windows come in, When the "Hon's" of Chelsea pinching their "tin," Then we'll have a new school house.

GILBERT & CROWELL.

A Goliath in a Stone.
Vinalhaven, Me., claims to have produced the largest stone ever brought to light. The Bodwell Granite company recently quarried a shaft of granite which is the largest piece of stone ever quarried anywhere, and if erected will be the highest, largest and heaviest single piece of solid stone standing, or that ever stood, so far as any record can be found. In height it considerable exceeds any of the Egyptian obelisks. The tallest of these, which was brought from Heliopolis to Alexandria by Emperor Constantine, and afterwards taken to Rome, where it is still standing, is 105 feet 7 inches high, while the Vinalhaven shaft is 118 feet long, 10 feet square at the base and weighs 850 tons. It is understood that the company quarries this immense monolith of their own account, not having an order for anything of the kind.—Ex.

Money Spent for Show.
Ten thousand carriages in Central park have a coachman and footman. At least 5,000 more have a coachman. Twenty-five thousand people ride these simply to wait on the rich, to minister to the luxury of the opulent. Ten thousand of these people are luckeys. The gorgeons and impressive uniforms—tall hats, rosettes, top boots, buttons—of the coachmen and luckeys are furnished by the owners of the carriages. They buy uniforms for the coachmen and luckeys just as they buy harness for the horses, and the cost is about the same. The uniforms cost about $150 per carriage. For the 5,000 more modest turnouts, with a plain, old fashioned coachman, the uniform costs about $30.
It costs $1,500,000 to make the coachmen and the luckeys look like monkeys. It costs $150,000 more to dress up the old fashioned coachman. The aggregates is $1,650,000.—Ex.
