Howell has a "horse hotel" full of stalls into which teams may be driven without unhitching and the door locked. Farmers may feed their own hay and oats and stay all day if they will pay 10 cents. We think just such a barn would pay in Chelsea.

From a study of the time occupied in mental acts by children old enough to understand what is asked of them, the gradual development of human faculty can be traced, as well as the unconscious education passed through in childhood. Ordinal observation shows that children are slow to a stimulus. Actual measurements have been taken by having children press upon a tube as soon as they heard a sound. The average adult time for this reaction is 14 of a second. Children from 4 to 7 years old require over half a second to do the same thing. The times, too, are irregular, from a minimum of one-fifth of a second to a maximum of a second or more, indicating an irregularity in the power to fix the attention upon so artificial a task.

When the time was measured the curve of contraction was also written. This in the adult is a quick, sudden stroke, occupying about .34 of a second. In three of the children the movement occupied over half again as much time, and in one child was as long as two seconds. The suggested test of the maximum number of pressures a child and an adult make in a given time. The adult makes 18 (in an extreme case 27) in four seconds, while the children average only nine pressures in the same time.

FIFTY-FIRST CONGRESS.
TUESDAY, Sept. 16.—The conference report on the land grant for the purchase of the public domain, was agreed to in the Senate. Bills were passed to repeal the timber-culture act, to grant the right of way through the public lands for irrigation purposes, and the House bill to prevent the sending of lottery advertisements, accounts of drawings and similar matter through the mails. In the House bills were introduced for the erection of a United States mint at Omaha, Neb., and for the erection of a statue in the city of Washington to the memory of John Ericsson at a cost of $50,000. The Enloe resolution disclaiming sympathy with Congressman Kennedy's attack on the Senate and Senator Quay was referred to the judiciary committee.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 17.—The Senate passed eighty private pension bills and considered an amendment to the bankruptcy bill which provides for voluntary bankruptcy only, but no action was taken. In the House the Langston-Enloe contested election case from Virginia was discussed, but no decision was reached. A joint resolution was introduced providing for the election of members to the next Congress from the same districts in Ohio in which the representatives of the Fifty-first Congress were elected.

THURSDAY, Sept. 18.—Mr. Voorhees introduced a bill in the Senate to require the circulation of the National Bank, to issue legal-tender notes in lieu thereof and to reduce the interest-bearing debt. Bills were passed to give the grade of Lieutenant-General in the army of the United States; allowing $13 a month to women who for six months rendered service in any regiment, camp or general hospital, and who are unable to earn their support. Resolutions relative to the death of the late Representative Laird, of Nebraska, were presented. In the House lack of a quorum prevented business.

FRIDAY, Sept. 19.—In the Senate bills were passed to discontinue the coinage of the $3 and $1 gold pieces and the 2-cent nickel piece, and for the protection of trees and other growth on the public domain from destruction by fire. A joint resolution was introduced for the immediate increase of silver money by the purchase and coinage of 10,000,000 ounces of silver within the next thirty days. In the House the absence of a quorum prevented business. At the evening session seventy-two private pension bills were passed.

AWFUL LOSS OF LIFE.
A Turkish War-Ship Founders with 500 Persons, Including Osman Pasha—Other Horrors at Sea.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Advices from Higo state that the Turkish man-of-war Ergotroul has foundered at sea, and that 500 of her crew were drowned. Osman Pasha, whose victory over the Russians at Plevna gave him a high rank as a fighting General, was on board and was lost. He had been on an official visit to Japan, having been entrusted with a special mission from the Sultan to the Mikado.

Osman Pasha was the best soldier in the Turkish army, and one of the heroes honored with the title of "ghazi," or conqueror, by the present Sultan, who has really defeated him. He was an Arab, and was born at Iskenderia, in 1832. He entered the Turkish army in 1850, and at the close of the Crimean war was made a Captain in the Imperial Guard. During the struggle between Serbia and Turkey which preceded the last Russo-Turkish war he commanded the Widin and was instrumental in bringing about the utter defeat of the Serbians under the Russian General Tcherniaeff. But the feat which gave him rank among great soldiers was his defense of Plevna during the last war with Russia. Since then he had been twice Minister of War, and was the idol of the whole Moslem world.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Advices from Higo state that the mail steamer Misaki Maru has been lost off Cochi, and that all of her crew, with the exception of one Japanese, were drowned.

BOSTON, Sept. 19.—The ship Challenger, of Bath, has put in here in distress. She has nothing but her fore and main masts standing. Captain Thompson reports having experienced adverse winds nearly the whole time after leaving West Hartlepool until the hurricane of August 31. Eight men were lost overboard and four injured.

THEY ARE NOW LAWS.
The President Signs the River and Harbor and Anti-Lottery Bills.

CHESBON SPRING, Pa., Sept. 20.—Mr. Tibbott, of the White House force, arrived here at 9 o'clock a. m. with the river and harbor appropriation bill and the anti-lottery bill. They were submitted to the President immediately after breakfast. He was perfectly familiar with the provisions, and after reading them over carefully attached his signature to each, so that they are now laws.

The President has signed the joint resolutions for printing the eulogies of Hon. S. J. Randall, of Pennsylvania, and Hon. David Wilber and Hon. N. W. Nutting, of New York, late representatives in Congress, and also directed the recognition of Francis S. Lampert as the Italian Consul General, San Francisco.

The President has been informed that the repairs now going on at the White House will make it uninhabitable until the middle of next week. Should he return to Washington before that time he will probably be the guest of Postmaster General Wanamaker.

The President and his family have accepted an invitation to visit the coal and lumber regions of Pennsylvania.

President Harrison has issued a proclamation extending to December 1 the time for the removal of live stock from the Cherokee outlet, provided half of the said live stock is removed by November 1.

RESULTS OF A CLOUD-BURST.
Deaths of Six Gypsies Taken from the River Near Evansville, Ark.

EVANSVILLE, Ark., Sept. 20.—Two families of gypsies, numbering nine persons, camped on the bank of the creek about a mile north of here Tuesday. During the night it is supposed they were struck by a cloud-burst, and Friday the bodies of six of them who had been drowned were recovered. Those drowned were Dinah George and three children and Hannah Jones and child. The men saved themselves and one child by clinging to some trees. The men say they own a farm near Kansas City.

A State of Victor Emmanuel.
ROME, Sept. 22.—King Humbert unvalued equestrian statue of his father, the late Victor Emmanuel, at Florence Saturday. An immense crowd witnessed the ceremony. A number of bands were present and played National airs. At night the city was illuminated.

Uncertainty a Meteor.
GALSBURG, Ill., Sept. 22.—A meteor which Captain S. Harris, of this city, saw fall over thirty years ago was found Saturday by workmen who were excavating for the Kohlsaat statue of General Grant. It is oval in shape, of a peculiar color and weighs 100 pounds.

FOR HIS LIFE.
Young Burchell on Trial for the Murder of Benwell—An Alibi to Be His Defense—History of the Tragedy.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Sept. 22.—The case of Reginald Burchell for the murder of Fred C. Benwell in February last will be called the first thing this morning. From all that can be learned the defense will be an alibi and that Benwell was alive after the date on which the murder was supposed to have been committed. Detective Biueti, who has been unceasing in his efforts to complete Burchell's defense, has secured two men, who, it is said, will testify that they saw Benwell alive after the 17th of February, the supposed date of the murder. Witnesses will be brought from Brantford, who, it is said, will testify to the same effect.

The dead body of a young man was found February 17 last in the tangled growth of a dark swamp on the edge of Mud Lake, Oxford County. The body was two bullet holes in his head and his clothing was covered with blood. So careful had been the murderer in covering up all clues that it would lead to the identity of the murderer man that he had not even changed his name. By one of these men it was stated that Burchell had been the most cold-blooded and calculating villain sometimes made, a new cigar case was left upon the ground, the name upon which "F. C. Benwell" led in the first place to the identification of the body.

Benwell was a young Englishman, son of Colonel Benwell of Her Majesty's army. The young man came to Canada in the steamer Titanic, sailing from Liverpool Feb. 8. His object in coming out was to investigate a project which had been submitted by one J. Reginald Burchell, to establish a partnership in a stock-farm near Niagara Falls, of which Burchell claimed to be the owner. Burchell had sought to get money from Benwell and his father but without avail, the old gentleman declaring that when his son reported to him from Canada that he was in the business was satisfactory he would pay the money agreed upon $500. With Benwell's death Burchell and his wife Florence, and a young man named Biueti, who also had made arrangements with Burchell to share the stock-farm, were left in a state of confusion. After a short stay at New York they went to Buffalo, thence almost immediately to Niagara Falls, whence Burchell and Benwell started to walk. Burchell was recognized on the road, having been well known in that section of country. He had lived at Woodstock a time when he made himself known as Lord Somerset.

The Crown will seek to establish that Burchell's farm being a pure myth the man dreaded the exposure that he would make his victim into the swamp on some pretext and there deliberately shot and killed him. So far as has been made public they have no direct evidence to prove the truth, but they claim to be able to show that he was seen returning from it alone. Burchell declares his innocence, and had lawyers and detectives engaged to confound and confound his adversaries. What the character of his defense will be is not known to a certainty, but it is supposed that they will try to show that the body, never seen since, was the result of a violent struggle, while Burchell did not when seen soon after, and they will try to convince the jury that detectives, having committed themselves to the declaration that Burchell was guilty, were engaged in attacking his life and not to the business of finding out the murderer.

Unveiling of the New York Tribune's Statue of Its Founder.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—The Tribune's statue of Horace Greeley was unveiled with simple ceremonies on Saturday. Colonel John Hay represented the Tribune as master of ceremonies; Miss Gabrielle Greeley, an only daughter of Horace Greeley, unveiled the statue. C. M. Depew delivered an address and Bishop Potter pronounced the benediction at the close of the ceremonies. Many prominent persons, including city officials, business and newspaper men and others, were present.

The statue is a colossal one of bronze. It represents Mr. Greeley seated and looking upward to one side, as if his attention had just been distracted from the copy of the Tribune which he holds in his hands. Standing erect the statue would be nearly eleven feet high. A plain but handsome block of dark, polished granite forms the base. Its only inscription is "Horace Greeley, founder of the New York Tribune." The weight of the statue is about 2,000 pounds, and the entire cost was something like $20,000. Sculptor J. Q. A. Ward spent eighteen months on the work.

Suicide of Lawyer Frederick B. Swift.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Lawyer Frederick B. Swift, who for several years had been the victim of intemperate habits, applied Friday night for lodgings at the Church Street police station. He was allowed to sleep there, and Saturday morning was found dead. A bottle of morphine was found on his person, together with some legal papers. Mr. Swift was graduated Yale College with Chauncey M. Depew, and at one time, as general counsel for the Adams Express Company, he had an income of $20,000 a year.

Happy Over Hennepe's Prospects.
ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 22.—The citizens turned out en masse Saturday night to celebrate the President's indorsement of the river and harbor bill, in which there is a section providing $500,000 for the Hennepe canal. Enthusiasm which has been bottled up for years was uncoiled and spent its force in a grand illuminated street parade.

DANGERS OF TRAVEL.
More Fatal Railway Wrecks Reported—An Excursion Train Telescoped in the Outskirts of Chicago—Five Persons Killed and a Dozen Injured—The Death List at Shoemakersville, Pa., Numbers Twenty-One—Three Trainsmen Lost Their Lives in Iowa—Other Disasters.

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—The Downer's Grove Chicago, Burlington & Quincy express train while running at top speed at 7:10 o'clock Sunday evening plunged headlong into the rear coach of an Illinois Central excursion train returning from Addison Park and crowded with excursionists. The accident occurred just west of Kedzie avenue on the "Q" tracks which the Illinois Central uses for its Western service. The train consisted of fifteen cars, all crowded, and the thirteenth and fourteenth cars were telescoped, killing four people instantly and injuring a score more, several fatally. One of the latter died soon after. The dead were all residents of Chicago. Their names are Lily Diener, Margaret Diener (cousin of Lily), Otto Schoeff, Theodore Bolger and an unidentified man. Three young ladies were fatally injured and nine other persons were badly hurt.

The Illinois Central train was the third section of a big excursion known as the fourteenth annual Evangelical Lutheran Orphan Asylum excursion. The asylum is located at Addison Park, and 1,500 Germans had taken their dinners and gone for a happy time.

The scene of the collision was about 800 feet south of the intersection of Eighteenth street and Kedzie avenue—Douglas station. The Illinois Central excursion train had come to a stop at the station awaiting the removal of obstructions at Western avenue, about a quarter of a mile north. The Downer's Grove express on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway was due at that point at 7:10 o'clock, and was four minutes late. It was due in the Union depot at 7:20, and the engineer was trying to make up lost time. The excursion train consisted of fifteen cars, every one filled with people. The express train consisted of an engine, baggage-car and six passenger coaches, with about 100 people on board. The uninjured on the excursion and all the people of the express train, none of whom were injured, made a wild break for the doors, and alighted on either side of the two trains. The greater majority, however, immediately gathered around the wreck and gave their assistance to those pinned beneath the telescoped cars, and to those whose injuries were so serious that they could not help themselves. The full force of the collision was exerted on the second and third passenger coaches from the rear of the excursion train, these two being telescoped. The rear of the third coach was crushed like an egg shell and all on the platform and in that end of the coach was doomed. The second coach crowded inside the first, tearing up the seats and crowding every thing into a mass in the front end of the car. One man had his throat cut by a broken piece of wood. The Diener girls, who had been on the platform, were killed outright.

The police arrested at the scene of the accident Engineer Dickson and later in the evening took McAvoy, of the Downer's Grove accommodation, into custody, and also arrested a trainman named W. H. Seavers. They failed to secure the Illinois trainmen, Carrington and Taylor, at Douglas station, as the men got away in very unseemly haste. They were arrested in the city later on.

THREE MEN KILLED IN IOWA.
COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Sept. 22.—A disastrous wreck occurred on the Wabash railway eight miles southeast of this city at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning. An incoming freight train from St. Louis, consisting of eighteen cars, all loaded with merchandise, ran into a burning bridge or trestle-work and the engine and thirteen cars went through to the deep forty feet below. The bridge is over a deep ravine. When the fire was sighted by the engineer it was too late to prevent a wreck. The killed were: Martin Eskridge, the engineer; Joseph Burke, fireman; Robert Williamson, head brakeman.

THE READING ACCIDENT.
READING, Pa., Sept. 22.—It was not until 2:30 Saturday afternoon that the wreckers reported that all the bodies had been taken from the Schuylkill river at the scene of the wreck of the fast express on the Reading railroad Friday evening. Twenty-one dead and thirty-two injured is the record of the awful plunge of the train after it had struck the coal train wreck at the curve.

A BAD WRECK IN NEW YORK.
MIDDLETON, N. Y., Sept. 22.—The Wells-Fargo express train eastward bound crashed into a coal train partially hidden by a curve about two miles west of here. The coal train was completely telescoped by the loaded cars ahead of it. The freight crew were asleep, and two of them—Conductor Charles Lepert and Flagman William H. Duffy—were killed.

FATAL COLLISION IN PENNSYLVANIA.
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 22.—An east-bound freight train on the Baltimore & Ohio road, twelve miles from here, was dashed into from the rear end by a fast freight. The engine of the wrecked train was sent for assistance and while returning, through a flagman's carelessness, was run into by the wrecking train near the scene of the first collision. James Shields, the engineer, was killed, and his fireman, Harry Cupbert, badly injured internally.

THE STATE FAIR.

A Big Success in All Particulars—The Financial Showing. The State fair that just closed was the best one yet held in the State. It was a success in every particular, and the management are well pleased. The following figures show, comparing this with last year's exhibit, a decided gain financially, while the expenses were not near so large. This will leave a snug sum on the right side of the account books. Last year the gate receipts on Monday were $34.50, on Tuesday and Wednesday, $4,937.75, making a total up to Wednesday night of $4,972.25, against $4,510.75 for this year. On Thursday, last year, the gate receipts were $3,120.50, as compared with $8,956.20 of this year. Friday's gate receipts were $1,392.15 last year, and $1,858.50 of this year. Total gate receipts for last year were $15,454.89, against $15,055.73 for this year; the total grand-stand receipts were $707.75, against $723.25 for this year; receipts on special classes, booths and entries, $3,150, against $3,640 this year. Grand total of $19,352.63 for last year, against $29,421 for this year. The turnstile receipts figured up a grand total of $9,374. They registered about two-thirds—a very conservative estimate—and the actual attendance for the week can safely be placed at the 45,000 figure.

PRESERVE THE FARM.

One Hundred Michigan Grangers Meet and Form a State Alliance. One hundred delegates met in Lansing and formed a State Farmers' Alliance and Industrial Union. A. E. Cole, of Fowlerville, was elected President; T. C. Anthony, of Marquette, Vice President; John M. Potter, of Lansing, Secretary; A. D. Carlton, of Dimondale, Treasurer; Luther Ripley, of Port Hope, State Lecturer; Mrs. Emma Moore, of Delhi, Captain; H. W. Cobb, of Perry, Steward; A. McKelvey, of Delta, Doorkeeper. Executive Committee: Chairman, George S. Wilson, of Horton; Thomas Nichols, of Sanilac; Martin Smith, of Okemos; B. F. McKillen, of Bad Axe; J. W. Ewing, of Grand Lodge.

Fighting for the Poles.

Some time ago the common council of Grand Rapids notified the Western Union Telegraph Company to remove its poles from Canal street, giving them fifteen days' notice. The other day the company, mistrusting that the city was about to begin operations on the poles, began action against the city in the United States Court, and Judge Severens issued a temporary restraining order against the city late that evening. The telegraph company will contest the removal of the poles to the last.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the State Board of Health by sixty-eight observers in different parts of the State for the week ended September 13 indicated that scarlet fever and influenza increased, and diphtheria, whooping cough, cerebro-spinal meningitis, measles and cholera infantum decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at twenty-seven places, scarlet fever at thirty, typhoid fever at thirty-four and measles at eight places.

Elected Their Officers.

The Fourth Michigan Cavalry met at Lansing recently and elected the following officers: A. E. Ford, of Ypsilanti, President; R. G. Moore, of Detroit, Vice-President; H. A. Backus, of Detroit, Secretary; James T. Hurst of Wyandotte, L. C. Remington of Grand Rapids, and S. F. Murphy, of Allegan, members of the executive committee. The next reunion will be held in Detroit at the G. A. R. encampment.

Short but Newsworthy.

Thomas R. Crespy, a negro lawyer in Detroit, was recently disbarred from practice at the Detroit bar, it being proven that he is dishonest and unfit for the profession. Rev. John W. Arney, of Muskegon, who trained race-horses and managed a race-track, has promised the Methodist conference that he will give up his sporting ideas. Eastern capitalists are after Bay City's street railway lines. Brigadier-General Brown of the State troops has forwarded his resignation to Governor Luce, to take effect October 1. By the runaway of their horse, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, of Choboygan, were thrown from their buggy and the latter was killed. The Upper Peninsula league baseball season is over. Houghton won the pennant, Ishpeming is second, Marquette third, and Calumet falls in as tail-ender. Fred Stevens, of Sarnia, met with a peculiar accident recently. While operating the steam shovel at the entrance to the tunnel, the shovel struck, a stone, glanced off, and struck him in the right leg, cutting it off.

An English syndicate has bought the Case quarries of Verde antique marble, and Marquette has granted it ten acres of water-power land at Dead river to build factories on. A fire occurred at the State fair grounds in Lansing, caused by tramps, and horse stalls to the number of 100 were consumed, causing a loss of about $5,000, partially insured. The Legislature of 1889 passed a law absolutely prohibiting the killing of quail, pinnated grouse or prairie chicken at any time until 1894. A penalty of $50 fine or 30 days in jail is provided for a violation. Michigan has 403,604 scholars in the public schools and 15,074 teachers, who were paid $3,139,374.85 for their services. A large bear straggled into a berry patch where Mrs. D. W. Stewart, of Five Lakes, was filling up her pails. Mrs. Stewart was too frightened to scream. The bear was also frightened, but retreated in good order. Henry Manuel, and Frank Weaver have been held at Decatur under $500 bonds to answer to a charge of furnishing liquor to Bradford Brooks. This is the first prosecution under the new local-option law passed by the last Legislature. At the business meeting of the Soldiers and Sailors' Association of Reed City recently Comrade Brown, of Big Rapids, was elected commander for the ensuing year and M. A. Laffer, of Hesper, vice commander. The reunion will be held at Detroit next year. Cold water was to have a new savings bank.

The case of the People vs. William London for the murder of Joseph Donagan, an Indian, at Scottville, in August, 1889, had been on trial for three days at Hesper when the jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter, and London was sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

DILLON AND O'BRIEN.

The British Government Orders Their Arrest on Charges of Conspiracy—Both Give Bail—Warrants Out for Other Irish Leaders. DUBLIN, Sept. 19.—John Dillon and William O'Brien were arrested Thursday, the former at Ballybrack and the latter at the Glangriff Hotel. The charges against them are conspiring and abetting tenants not to pay rent. Warrants have also been issued for the arrest of Messrs. Sheedy and Condon, members of the House of Commons, Mr. Patrick O'Brien and Rev. David Humphreys, of Tipperary.

In addition to those already mentioned it is ascertained that a warrant has been issued for a Mr. Dalton, who has been active in the work of the Land League.

Dillon and O'Brien have been arranged for a tour of the United States and Canada in company with Timothy Harrington and T. P. Gill, and were expected to sail for America early in October. In the Tipperary court formal evidence of the arrest of O'Brien was given before Magistrate Irvine, and Mr. Roman, who conducted the prosecution, asked that O'Brien be remanded until Thursday. Counsel for O'Brien cross-examined Inspector Rafter with the view of showing that, although O'Brien had committed the alleged illegal acts in June, no steps had been taken for his arrest until it was heard that he was going to America. Inspector Rafter denied that the mission to America had anything to do with the case. Mr. O'Brien remarked that the whole world knew the Government's motive for making the arrests. Mr. O'Brien was admitted to bail, Canon Cahill being his security. On the application of Mr. Roman warrants were issued for the arrest of other members of the National League.

Dillon was also bailed, giving £1,000 as security. He was remanded until Thursday. The warrant mentions offenses occurring between March and September. A constable served a summons on Mr. Sheedy at his residence, but did not arrest him. A large crowd of people, accompanied by a drum and fife band, were waiting at the station for Mr. Dillon, who drove in the mayor's carriage to his own residence, where he addressed the people from the steps. He said that the more frequent arrests were made the more resolute Irishmen would become in the national cause. Mr. Dillon, in an interview after his arrest, said that the object of the Government in taking such a step was a mystery to him, unless it was their intention to prevent the mission of himself and his associates to America. He was sure, however, that the Americans would not deprive the tenants of the Tipperary and other estates of the food supply, although it might be impossible for Mr. O'Brien and himself to go to America and make a personal appeal in their behalf. In his opinion the arrests would do more harm to the opponents of the tenants than a dozen public meetings.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Up to 7 o'clock Thursday evening no definite information had reached London of the specific utterances of Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien on which the warrants for their arrest were based. Neither had the Government given out any official explanation which would throw light upon their sudden and unexpected resort to a vigorous Irish policy. It is commonly supposed that the ostensible grounds for Mr. O'Brien's arrest are to be found in a very plain speech that he made last Sunday at an insignificant village in County Cork, named Schull. He dwelt upon the failure of the potato crop, and spoke of the gloomy outlook for widespread distress which Ireland must face this winter. Warming to his theme he said: "For tens of thousands of small families throughout Ireland it will become a question this winter whether they are to have food or their landlards."

Confronted with such an alternative, he thought there should be no hesitancy as to a choice. He advised the tenants on every estate to meet and consider as to what proportion, if any, they could honestly pay. When that question had been determined they should all abide by the decision. LIXCORN, Neb., Sept. 19.—President Fitzgerald, of the Irish National League, received a cablegram Thursday announcing the arrest of John Fitzgerald, Dillon and O'Brien, evidently to prevent their visit to America. Mr. Fitzgerald says such tactics will only serve to exasperate the Irish in America and make their contributions tenfold larger than they otherwise might be.

A SICKENING TRAGEDY. The Wife of a Minnesota Farmer Killed and Mutilated by a Fleasht Neighbor. LONG PRAIRIE, Minn., Sept. 19.—Wednesday night a man named Fred Paul shot Mrs. Louis Buelow, a neighbor who lived at Bear Head, eight miles from here, while she was at work in a potato patch. The fiend then cut off his victim's ears. The little daughter of the murdered woman was the only witness of the affair and told her father on his return. After killing the woman Paul went home and shot himself, being found by his brother some hours later. Coroner Cotes went to the scene of the tragedy a few hours after the discovery and found that the hogs had eaten the face off the dead woman. No cause is assigned for the tragedy, and it is thought that the man was insane.

KNOCKING OUT A STRIKE. Bankers, Merchants and Lawyers Turn in Work as Carpenters. SPOKANE FALLS, Wash., Sept. 19.—Spokane has been aroused by the walk-out of 350 carpenters from the great building of the Northwestern Industrial Exposition. The time for the opening is October 1. To complete the structure in time the prominent citizens of the city turned out Thursday dressed in overalls and carrying saws and hammers. Over 300 citizens have been driving the nails in the great structure. The mayor forgot his dignity, and aldermen wielded shingle-hammers.

The Rush of Goods to New York. MANCHESTER, Sept. 19.—The rush to get goods over to New York as early as possible in order to avoid the payment of the McKinley tariff is so great that it is extremely difficult to secure tonnage, and the available space on the liners is being engaged.

Has a Capital of $2,000,000. ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—The Mississippi Valley Loan & Trust Company of St. Louis, with a capital of $2,000,000, is the latest financial institution organized in St. Louis. It is intended to transact a regular loan and trust company business.

A Whole Family Poisoned. VIENNA, Sept. 19.—A family of eight persons, consisting of father, mother and six children, has been killed at Pressburg, Hungary, by ignorantly eating the fruit of the nightshade plant.

DOWN A HIGH BANK.

A Reading Railway Passenger Train Plunges Into the Schuylkill at Shoemakersville, Pa. Killed and Fifty Hurt Severely, Persons Killed and Fifty Hurt Severely. READING, Pa., Sept. 20.—Shoemakersville, a station on the Reading railroad fifteen miles north of this city, was the scene of a terrible railroad wreck at 6:15 Friday evening. The latest reports indicate that between fifty and seventy persons were killed and that an equal number received injuries more or less serious. Thirteen bodies have been taken from the wreck, some of which have not yet been identified. The ill-fated train is No. 8 express, better known as the cannon-ball train, which leaves Philadelphia at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. It left on Friday at Philadelphia, but with several minutes' delay, the engine started, and here owing to the large crowds who were returning home from the Berks County fair and who had gathered at that station to take the train. Seven more cars had to be added to the already-filled coaches, and a delay of fifteen minutes was caused. When the train was once beyond the numerous side-tracks about a mile north of the city the engineer began making up the lost time and in a few seconds the train was running at lightning speed. Suddenly there was a crash, a rumbling of the passenger coaches over the ties, and down went the engine, tank, baggage, express, and parlor cars and the passenger-coaches into the creek which borders the road at that point. The sight was a heartrending one. The escaping steam from the locomotive added to the horror, and but for the numerous side-tracks about a mile north of the city the engineer began making up the lost time and in a few seconds the train was running at lightning speed. Suddenly there was a crash, a rumbling of the passenger coaches over the ties, and down went the engine, tank, baggage, express, and parlor cars and the passenger-coaches into the creek which borders the road at that point. The sight was a heartrending one. The escaping steam from the locomotive added to the horror, and but for the numerous side-tracks about a mile north of the city the engineer began making up the lost time and in a few seconds the train was running at lightning speed. Bananas this week 10 cents at Glazier's. For glassware and Crockery go to Geo. Blaich. Glazier, the druggist, is paying 17c per dozen for eggs. Now is your time to buy fine jewelry at low prices for cash, such as watches, friendship rings, etc.; also a fine line of clocks and spectacles cheap for cash. L. Winans. Lamp wicks a yard long for one cent at Glazier's. For fall styles in millinery, call on Mrs. Staffan. Prices right; stock complete. Glazier, the druggist, sells all 50c medicines at 25 to 35c. The school try to satisfy the public by making a show of teaching what they don't teach and can't teach. One of the chief difficulties or disadvantages in our school system is that there are not, as a rule, enough teachers to do the work as it should be done. Glazier, the druggist, sells all dollar medicines at 53 to 75c per bottle. Woolen pants at cost at R. A. Snyder's. Glazier, the druggist, sells all pills, plasters, and 50c medicines at 12 to 18c. Rooms to rent, inquire of W. J. Knapp. If you want a nice evening lamp call and see me. Geo. Blaich. Choice honey 15c per pound at Glazier's. The best baking powder ever sold in Chelsea 20 cents per pound at Glazier's. Woolen pants at cost at R. A. Snyder's. Take a look at that fine line of friendship rings at Glazier's. It is difficult to say in precise terms, what forces are directly connected with the production of hale and happy old age. Certainly much more is involved than mere strength of constitution, for to this must be added healthful surroundings, contentment and active, temperate and regular habits. Hard work, so long as it is not carried beyond the limit of repairing regularly the worn-out tissues, is both harmless and conducive to longevity. Civilization is at once helpful and injurious as regards longevity. Under its protecting influence normal development at all ages is allowed and fostered. But civilization affords great opportunities for self-indulgence—and as a rule they are not allowed to escape. Fortunate woman! She traded at Glazier's and saved money. Woolen pants at cost at R. A. Snyder's. For flower pots go Geo. Blaich. Those who save money, make money. That's a strong argument for trading with Glazier the druggist. Woolen pants at cost at R. A. Snyder's. For all kinds of salt fish go to Geo. Blaich.

Caucus.

Dangers of Travel.

If one wants to get a lively sense of what it means to rush through space at fifty or sixty miles an hour he must get on a locomotive. Then only does he begin to realize what tribles stand between him and destruction. A few weeks ago a lady set an hour in the cab of a locomotive hauling a fast express train over a mountain road. She saw the narrow bright lines of the rails and the slender points of the switches. She heard the thunder of the bridges, and saw the track shut in by rocky bluffs and new perils suddenly revealed as the engine swept around sharp curves. The experience was to her magnificent, but the sense of danger was most appalling. To have made her experience complete she should have taken one engine ride on a dark and rainy night. In a daylight ride on a locomotive we come to realize how slender is the rail and how fragile its fastenings compared with the ponderous machines which they carry. We see what a trifling movement of a switch makes, the difference between life and death. We learn how short the look ahead must often be and how close danger sits on either hand. But it is only in a night ride we learn how dependent the engineer must be, after all, upon the faithful vigilance of others. The head light reveals a few yards of glittering rail and glistly telegraph poles and switch targets. Were a switch open, a rail taken up, or a pile of ties on the track, we could not possibly see the danger in time to stop.—H. G. Prout in Scribner's.

Mrs. Bachman, of Francisco, is visiting at Mr. Archenbronn's. T. C. Linseman has entered the literary department of the U. of M. Arthur Frederick, third child of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Moeckel, born March 18, 1883, died Sunday morning, aged 8 years 6 months and 20 days. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from the German Lutheran church, Waterloo.

A Professional Nurse.

One who is thoroughly competent, who is neat, tidy and quiet, whose very touch is medicine, who knows what to do, and when to do it is a blessing indeed, but so few there are who fully understand, know, and are able to use the requirements, the endorsement of a medicine by such a person should carry weight. They have practical experience, and opportunities of seeing and noting the effect better really than the Physician in charge, as they are with the patient day and night and every change and symptom is noted and watched. I have myself used and in my profession as nurse administered your Red Clover Remedies, and find that it does all and more than you say for it. I cheerfully recommend it for troubles of Stomach, Liver or Bowels, and have advised my friends to use it, which has been done and in every case with the very best result, and all speak of Loose's Extract Red Clover in the highest terms. MRS. E. OSBORN, Marion Ohio. March 20th, 1889. For sale by Glazier the druggist.

Washtenaw Democrats.

The Democratic county and representative conventions met in Ann Arbor Thursday, and made the party nominations. The ticket nominated is as follows: Chas. Dwyer, Sheriff; Arthur Brown, County Clerk; Gustav Brahm, County Treasurer; Michael J. Seery, Register of Deeds; Michael J. Lehman, Prosecuting Attorney; Patrick McKernan and Frank J. Jollyn, Circuit Court Commissioners; Martin Clark and Edward B. Birely, Coroners; Chas. B. Woodward, County Surveyor. The convention of the first representative district was held following the county convention, Hon. J. V. N. Gregory being renominated on the first formal ballot.

Called by a Cat.

"I guess that rat didn't like the way he was treated," said Mr. William Thomas, a Charlestown provision dealer, referring to an orphan rat which his charitably disposed cat had adopted into her family, and which ungratefully deserted the foster mother, who had so kindly taken it in "out of the wet." A few weeks since the cat, a Maltese, which makes her home in Mr. Thomas' office, had two wee kittens. Evidently ashamed or dissatisfied at having so small a family, and feeling that she could very easily manage and care for a larger one, she began searching for some little wanderers, who needed the kindly attention of a mother. Not finding one of her own species, and happening to discover a half-grown rat whose forlorn condition wrought upon her sympathy, she promptly gathered him in and installed him in her little family. On the following morning Mr. Thomas found the cat quietly snoozing in her accustomed place in the office, with her two kittens and their foster brother snugly ensconced by her side. "For several days," said Mr. Thomas, "she watched her adopted child just as tenderly as she did her own offspring, nursing him with them and dividing her care generously between them." The rat was evidently happy in his new-found home for a time, and was apparently not disturbed at seeing his foster mother occasionally rush out and slay other rats. Finally the restraint of being "died" to his mother's apron strings became irksome to his ratship, and he boldly essayed to play truant. On missing him the cat would at once hunt him up, and for the first at once hunt him up, and for the first single reproach let him off with a little rat should stay at home and not be running at large, learning bad tricks from older rats, who wickedly steal off from the store and commit other depredations. Again he ran away, and when caught, the cat, thinking it about time to assert her maternal authority, gave him a sound shaking up and culled his ears. This was more than rat nature could endure quietly, so as soon as opportunity offered he made good his escape, making up his mind that it was a pretty smart cat that could give him points on getting a living. The cat is now without a family, as her two kittens were drowned after the departure of the rat.—Boston Globe.

An Aristocratic Dog.

The dog which so gloriously distinguished himself by giving warning of the fire at the Hoffman has again been heard from; but this time in a matter not so heroic as the first attempt. Evidently the praises won by his intelligent act mentioned have so turned his head that the habits of the canine mob and common herd are distasteful to him. As a Columbus Avenue car was turning into Tremont Street in its uptown trip the other day, it made the usual halt, and a medium-sized dog stepped aboard. Earning the notice of the conductor, he jumped upon the cushion and gravely seated himself with the other passengers. After the car started the conductor noticed his fare, and stepping to the gentleman who sat next to the dog, informed him that the animal could not ride. The reply was given that the dog was a stranger to him, and the conductor proceeded to eject his four-footed passenger. The dog put on the amiable look that follows the command to "move up on the left," so naturally, and resisted the attempt to dislodge him so doggedly, that a lady who recognized the animal as he came into the car recited his history to some of the passengers, and at their earnest request he was allowed his seat, while further developments were watched. His dogship rode in stately dignity, only needing a pair of glasses and a journal to enable him to fraternize with his fellow-passengers, until the car stopped at Berkeley Street, when all eyes were turned upon him, but he calmly alighted. The lady commenced to think it was a case of mistaken identity, but as the car started the dog coolly stepped to the floor, and waiting until the platform was opposite the main entrance of the Hoffman, which is perhaps two hundred feet from where the car stopped, wagged his tail to the conductor, with a "tra la, old man, don't stop on my account," sprang off and ran up the steps. Inquiry of the elevator boy at the Hoffman reveals the fact that for some time the dog has refused to walk up stairs, but has waited for the elevator or has signaled for it by whining or crying. Theories are left to logicians and metaphysicians. The facts can be substantiated by a number of witnesses.—Boston Journal.

—Dear Hubby: Please send by money-order fifty dollars. I want to get a dress. Genevieve. P. S.—I had almost forgot to send my love. Your little wifey. G. H. Hoffman reveals the fact that for some time the dog has refused to walk up stairs, but has waited for the elevator or has signaled for it by whining or crying. Theories are left to logicians and metaphysicians. The facts can be substantiated by a number of witnesses.—Boston Journal.

—About six o'clock Wednesday evening two dogs were leisurely trotting over the Wilmington & Northern Railroad bridge when a shifting engine came thundering across. The larger dog succeeded in getting off the bridge, but the smaller one ran along on the plank ahead of the engine until it reached the draw where the plank ends, where, after running over one or two of the ties and finding the engine was close on it, lay down flat and let the engine pass over. The dog then got up and pursued its way to the other side of the bridge.—Wilmington Republican. Subscribers for the Chelsea Herald.
