The Philadelphia Gas Company at present furnishes natural gas to 750 different manufacturing establishments, including furnaces, glass factories, etc.; also to 24,000 houses as per the secretary's report January 1, 1889. This number has grown immensely since that time, as the company has been steadily extending its lines, but even at those figures the daily consumption was 500, 000,000 cubic feet per day. This is equal to 25,000 tons of coal per day. The consumption now is far greater, as the company claims it has more gas than ever, but that the demand from that valuable source of income, the private residences, is also far greater.

The company also decided to go into the illuminating gas business. This will be done on a scale never before attempted here, as the Philadelphia company has a capital of $15,000,000, with George Westinghouse at its head, and These two cases combined, the shut-

VICTIMS OF WRECKS. A Score or More Injured by the Derail.

ment of a Santa Fe Train Near Topeka, Kan. - Fatal Smash-up in Ohio-A Railway Bridge Falls Near Dubuque, Ia. TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 25 .- The Santa Fe Denver express train which left here at 1:15 p. m. was wrecked thirteen miles south of the city Friday. The train left the track at a curve just this side of Wakarusa, a small station where the train does not stop. The engine kept the track and the tender left the rails, turning upon its side. The express, mail and baggage cars and three Pullman vestibule cars all left the track. The chair-car, sleeper and tourists' cars were overturned. The track is torn up for about 400 feet. Fortunately no one was killed. A relief train with a number of surgeons sent out from here brought the injured to this city. They are being taken care of by the Santa Fe Company at the various hotels. The injured number twentv-three, seven of whom are badly hurt.

AN IOWA BRIDGE FALLS. DUBUQUE, Ia., Oct. 25 .- A serious accident occurred Friday evening on the Illinois Central at Cascade crossing, six miles from this city, where a new iron bride is being constructed. A freighttrain started to cross the bridge, but after most of the train had passed safely the bridge went down. There were twenty-five men working on the bridge, and as it went down they jumped for their lives. The distance was sixteen feet. Most of them escaped, but several were badly hurt. The water-boy for the gang, Robert Keatty, of Center Grove, was caught by a falling car and killed. Dan Doherty, of Chicago, was thrown to the bottom and pinned down with his head above the water. He was badly burt. Four others were seriously injured, how badly is not known.

COLLIDED IN A CUT. Oxford, O., Oct. 25.-Two freight trains collided about 7 o'clock Friday evening in a cut and curve on the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Indianapolis railroad about two miles east of here. The wreck took fire. A rough estimate of the loss is $50,000. John Mathers, a fireman, is mortally hurt; others slightly hurt: John Kasner, of Indianapolis; John McNeill, Charles Monahan, George Mozzelle, F. J. Carney and John N. Spencer, all railroaders.

Six Persons Lose Their Lives in a Railway Collision in Kentucky-Two Killed in a Smash-Up in Alabama. COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 23 .- A disastrous

Wednesday morning on the Cincinnati Southern railway in a tunnel a quarter of a mile north of Sloan's Valley station. The trains involved were freight No. 22, north-bound, and passenger No. Cincinnati an hour earlier. Both these were held at Somerset, Ky., two hours or more on account of a freight wreck which occurred south of the place Tuesday night. When the track was clear the foremost Cincinnati train started out from Somerset first and met and passed safely a north-bound train. No. 22, north-bound, was sidestarted northward. Less than a quargines of the two trains dashed into each other and the cars following jammed into each other in a mass. Fortunately gone into the tunnel when the crash came, and so the three sleepers which did not leave the track served as a means of escape for the passengers. These sleepers were detached and drawn away from the burning train, but the baggage car, mail car and two coaches were burned. Six persons were killed and as many more injured. SLAIN BY TRAMPS.

An Aged Citizen of Desplaines, Ill., Brained by Unknown Men with a Coupling-Pin and Robbed of a Large Sum. DESPLAINES, Ill., Oct. 23.-Michael Brazell, 76 years of age, and for years employed as a baggage-man by the Northwestern railway, was brutally murdered by three tramps at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. He went into his barn on Desplaines avenue to feed his cow, when the three men who had been concealed in the building sprang upon him. One of them struck him on the head with a coupling-pin, almost brain-ing him. William Havens, an employe of the National tube works, passed the barn few minutes after 8 o'clock and saw three men run from the barn toward the railroad and jump on a freight-train moving north. His attention was also attracted by groans from the barn, and, on entering, he found Brazell lying on the floor. His head was pounded almost to a pulp and a dozen knife wounds were found in his body. When Havens entered Brazell groaned and said: "I am murdered," and turned on his side. He died the next moment, Armed parties of citizens are scourng the country and a large force of detectives are on the ground working on the case. The men are described as two short men and one tall man. The latter wears a light overcoat. It is known that the murderers secured $400 in cash and notes aggregating $1,500 against several parties in Desplaines. THE POSTAL SERVICE.

An Increase in the Revenues and a Reduction in Expenses During the Year. WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The report of the Sixth Auditor of the Treasury, who has charge of the accounts of the Post-Office Department, shows that the total postal revenues of the Government from all sources for the last fiscal year were $60,882,097, an increase over the preceding fiscal year of $4,705,486. Netwithstanding this increase in business the excess of expenditures over revenue for the last fiscal year was but $5,048,619 against $5,201,236 for the year before. The total value of stamps sold was $57.651,724, an increase over the previous fiscal year of $4,698,622. The total amount of money transferred by money orders and postal notes was $261,-993,794, from which the net revenue to in Southern Vermont, Brattleboro rethe Government was $824,220.

for Much Damage Along the Sea New York, Oct. 25.—A dispatch has been received from Far Rockaway, L. L., saying that a large ocean steamship was ashore beyond Long Branch. The steamer was reported to be a four-mast-ed vessel, and it is thought that she may be the Obdam from Rotterdam, which was expected to arrive Wednes-

New York was pelted Thursday night and Friday with one of the most piti-less storms it ever endured. The fierce northeasterly gale drove the rain in almost horizontal sheets, rendering umbrellas of little use, and the wind throughout the night rattled (signs and shutters till unbroken sleep be-came well-nigh impossible. The storm was part of the cyclonic disturbance which has hung over the Gulf States during the last two days, gathering strength as it moved northward. The storm has greatly affected the working of the telegraph wires, although there has been no general destruction. Telephone wires were also interfered with from the same cause. Mails from the south and west were delayed from one to two hours through the effects of the storm. Officers of vessels arriving Friday say the force of the storm on land is nothing compared to the terrific fury of the wind and ses outside. The steamship Old Dominion came from Richmond and other ports in Virginia and fell into the full swing of the storm immediately after leaving the capes. The wind blew sixty miles an hour and the sea caused the vessel to lunge and toss in fearful fashion.

The tide in the harbor was the highest known in years. The water reached the top of the Battery sea wall. Since noon Friday the increase has been about four feet. Reports from all sections of Long Island tell of damage by the storm. In several places yachts and small boats were driven ashore and wrecked. No loss of life has yet been reported. The vessels anchored off Staten Island were compelled to let go both anchors and additional cables to prevent their being washed ashore. A number of the smaller craft lying anchored along the shores were swamped. Several were carried by the high tide far up on the beach. ASBURY PARK, N. J., Oct. 25.-The

New Jersey coast towns received their full share of the severe northeasterly storm that set in Thursday. The damage done to shore towns from Sandy Hook to Barnegal Inlet by the severe storm and heavy tides will amount to thousands of dollars. The greatest damage was done at Monmouth Beach. The sea cut a large gap into the bluff and made a clean sweep across the driveway about thirty feet wide. Before the large Octagon House at Seabright the waves dashed up over the breakwater and into the basement of the hotel. The bulkheads here were badly damaged. All along Shrewsbury river on the other side of the driveway the high tide has of the tide was swept away. Boathouses, summer-houses and stables could all be seen either adrift or standing in from eight to ten feet of water. At Normandy-by-the-Sea the waves swept over the tracks of the New Jersey Southern and made such bad breaks that railroad traffic had to be suspendeds Much of the bluff here is washed

The storm did considerable damage in Brooklyn. Shortly before 10 o'clock, four-story brick building, in course-of erection on Haley street, was blown down, and John Lindsay, a passer-by, was buried in the ruins. His injuries are thought to be fatal. The damage to the building is estimated at $5,000.

DAMAGE NEAR BOSTON. Boston, Oct. 25 .- The old-fashioned northeast storm has prevailed in this section since Thursday night. It is most violent along the water front, although no damage is reported within the city limits. At Revere Beach the wind and high tide played sad havoc. The Woburn House, built on the shore at the north end of Crescent beach, was lifted from its foundations and settled deep in the sand.

Friday afternoon a small sloop yacht was lifted bodily by the wind and waves and deposited on the bed of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn railroad. The bowsprit projected across the tracks and was struck by a train from Boston. The boat was thrown over in such a position that the projecting mast was struck so forcibly as to throw the boat back into the water, where it sunk,

Along the south shore the storm is reported as the most severe since the big storm of November, 1888. At Providence Friday forenoon the schooner Emily Bell broke adrift and is now ashore in the harbor in an easy position. Aside from this no disasters are reported, but it is feared that a number of wrecks will occur. The coast is closely patrolled by men from the life-saving stations, but the tremendous seas would render their efforts at rescue almost unavailing should their services be

At Scituate the wharves were flooded at high tide and a part of Front street is under water. The schooner Active filled and sunk at her wharf, but all other craft in the harbor are in safe quarters. It was reported that a brig or bark was wrecked at Fourth Cliff. but the rumor can not be confirmed.

The storm has been unusually heavy ports two and one-half inches of rain.

ZINA P. KING ARRESTED.

The Ex-Treasurer of the Michigan Alun ni Association Short $15.000. ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 25.-Zina P. King, ex-treasurer of the University of Michigan Alumni Association, has been arrested on the complaint of William H. Wells, of Detroit, president of the association, on the charge of embezzlement. A year ago last June the board of directors learned of a shortage in the fund of the association. It transpired that King was short $17,000 and that he turned hart, the famous circus clown and over about $10,000 worth of property held by himself and wife. Failure to restore the balance led to his arrest.

honor of the 90th birthday of Count von Moltke. The ceremonies attending the celebration were inaugurated by an immense torchlight procession. Fully 20,000 people were in line and all classes participated. The Count was presented with an address YON MOLTRE. from the people of Berlin. In reply he thanked the citizens for their manifestations of love and regard. The celebration was continued Sunday.

At 9 a. m. the Count was serenaded by the Teachers' Choral Society and he received the congratulations of his relatives. At 9:30 he received army offigeneral staff, who came in a procession. At 11:30, in the presence of the Emperor, the guard and cuirassiers, with their colors, paraded before the officers of the general staff where Count von Moltke is residing. The veteran stood on the balcony. The colors were afterward taken to his room. Then all the German and foreign Generals, including Chancellor von Caprivi, General Kutossow, of Russia, and the Austrian deputation bearing an autograph letter from Emperor Francis Joseph, assembled in the great hall, where they were greeted by the Emperor. His letters of introduction brought him to the knowledge of Sultan Mahmond II, who at that time was attempting to reform the Turkish military service. The Sultan procured from the King of Prussia permission to employ Captain Moltke to draw up a plan of military reorganization, and this work and others that grew out of it protracted the young Prussian's stay in the East from one year, as originally intended, to nearly five years. Moltke's next assignment was as adjutant upon the staff of Prince Henry of Prussia, with whom he passed two years in Rome. The Virtue of Saving.

There is a story of a young man employed on one of the Vanderbilt roads, who, after fruitless endeavors to get his salary raised finally went to William H. Vanderbilt himself. He was kindly received, but when it came to the question of an increase of salary Mr. Vanderbilt said: Young man, the trouble in these days is not that men do not get salaries enough, but that they are two extravagant and do not keep what they get." With admirable composure the and will not return home until young man took a note book and pencil from his pocket, and after a little figuring said: "Mr. Vanderbilt, last Friday evening, and the result as I figure it, if God had given Adam of his efforts will be seen and appresalary of $25,000 a year, and he had crated on Nov. 4. lived to the present day, and hoarded every cent of it during these 6,000 years, he would still be $50,000,000 poorer than you are. Are there not possibly other ways of getting ahead besides saving ones salary?" Mr. Vanderbilt quickly closed the interview, but it is said to have or-

To the Patrons of the School.

You will notice by this month's report pupils; more than there ought to be, and you will agree with me, no doubt, that it stormy one, nearly all of the invited larity, for such habits are apt to follow them and be very injurious in the future.

If a boy is tardy or irregular at school he is very apt to be so in business, and thus make a flat failure of life. Hence in order that this practice may be checked as much as possible, we appeal to you for your cooperation. Let us work together for the good of the children. If you will at the proper time, both morning and noon, we will inform you, by the cards There's down on your knees when you that are issued to the pupils at the close of each school month, whether they go directly to school or otherwise.

On these cards, which are issued for your benefit, are recorded the number of times tardy, absent, and the standing of the pupil in each study pursued, which we hope the parents will look over carefully each month, and if not satisfactory, will cooperate with the teachers in cadeavering to stimulate an improvement. There is not a teacher in your schools but that feels a deep interest in the moral as well as intellectual development of the pupils, but inattention, tardiness and absence of pupils and indifferenc on the part of parents can not do otherwise than lessen the teacher's energy. So let us unite our efforts in reducing tardiness and absence to the minimum, thus raising the standing of every pupil and of the school. Respectfully,

A. A. HALL, Supt.
