President Bogran Friday night had stationed a number of cannon about the barracks and early Saturday morning he opened fire. Sanchez and his imprisoned comrades, knowing that death awaited them in any event, fought with all the desperate courage of despair, but it was a hopeless struggle from the start. After a brief cannonading the walls of the barracks were almost completely battered down. There was a determined charge by Bogran's soldiers, s brief but desperate hand-to-hand fight, and then all that remained alive of the rebels were prisoners. Without the formality of a court-mar tial Sanchez, with several of the principal officers engaged in the revolt, were taken to one of the principal squares in the city, blindfolded, and stood in line in the presence of hundreds of the citizens. A firing party was told off. The doomed men were given a brief time for prayer, then the word was given, there was a crash of musketry, and the revolution of Longinos Sanchez to the Presidential chair who desire to get supreme power by force of Sanchez was not popular with the citizens of Tegucigalpa, and the sympathies of the people were altogether with Bogran; hence, though nearly everybody was grieving over the death or wounding of some relative or friend, there was general rejoicing over the signal victory of the Government forces. North Dakota Settlers Fleeing from Their Homes-Fear of an Indian Uprising-Redskins Making Preparations to Go on the Warpath.

MANDAN, N. D., Nov. 17.-Settlers on the farms and ranches south of Mandan are fleeing from their homes, believing that an Indian uprising is near at hand. They urgently demand protection, and many a farm-house in North Dakota will soon be deserted at a theater on the evening of the day unless the settlers receive some assur- | when Gordon's death was announced in ance that they will not be left to the mercy of the murderous redskins, who are now whetting their knives in anticipation of the mement when they may begin their bloody work. The Indians are trading their horses and all other property for guns and ammunition and will be well prepared when the outbreak comes. Local bardware men have sold all their ammunition to them. Joseph Buckley rode in Sunday from the reservation and says the Indian agents are harboring a feeling of false security and that the darger will be realized when it is too late. The mayor of Mandan has called a public meeting and the Government will be petitioned for guns to arm the citizens. The Indians say they will have every thing to gain and nothing to lose by an uprising. If they are beaten their rations will be doubled, as in the past. Buckley says every Indian on the reservation will shortly go on the warpath and that they have got possession of Custer's rifles, which the United States army has never found.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. - Albert H. Smith, the junior partner in the brokerage firm of Mills, Robeson & Smith, at 96 Broadway, is a prisoner at police headquarters charged with over seventy forgeries, aggregating $350,000. Smith has acknowledged his guilt to Inspector Byrnes, and has turned over all his property to W. A. Watson for the benefit of his creditors. The discovery of the forgeries, which cover a period of six years, was accidentally made on Saturday morning by a clerk. In his confession Smith says he used the money obtained by his forgeries to reimburse customers of the firm who had lost money on his suggestions. The loss resulting from Smith's misdoings will fall upon his firm, which has been in existence since 1872 and which has been held in the highest repute. The firm has assigned. Smith's crime is forgery in the first degree, and as he has confessed his guilt he can not escape a long term of imprisonment. He is 45 years old and a childless widower. All of Smith's forgeries are not a total loss to the firm, as about one-fourth can be recovered. The net loss will be $27,000. Smith was arraigned at the Jefferson Market police court and was remanded.

pedo cruiser Serpent has foundered of the coast of Spain. Out of a total of 276 souls on board only three were

The Serpent was a twin-screw vessel of 1,770 tons and 4,500 horse-power and carried six guns. It went on the rocks during a storm Monday night. A heavy, mist prevailed at the time of the disaster. Owing to the violence of the storm it was impossible to send assistance from the shore.

Tremendous seas swept the decks of the doomed yessel, carrying away group after group of the unfortunate men on board. The news of the wreck was conveyed to Corunna, a distance of sixty miles over mountain roads. The Serpent's complement was 170 officers and men. The others on board were going out to relieve men now on ships of the African station. The vessel was lost at point twenty miles north of Cape Finisterre. MADRID, Nov. 13 .- An official telegram from Corunna says that the Serpent was wrecked off Cape Rucy, near the village of Camarinas. There were 276 persons aboard, of whom only three were saved. The bodies of three ladies have been washed ashore. The Governor has ordered the authorities at Camarinas to render every assistance in their power.

The t ree persons saved from the Serpent are sailors, who swam ashore at Camarinas. They express the belief that all the others on board were drowned, but only four bodies have been washed ashore as yet. There is no telegraph station at Camarinas. LONDON, Nov. 13. -Lord George Hamilton, First Lord of the Admiralty, on rising to speak at a Conservative banquet at Acton Wednesday evening said he was sorry to announce that just before he came there he received a telegram that H. M. S. Serpent was lost on the coast of Spain, and he feared there had been great loss of life. The Serpent, he said, was one of our best cruisers, and was a valuable vessel, with excellent officers and crew. He could not tell the cause of the disaster. The announcement caused a sensation and it was evident that many of those present would have thought it proper to postpone the banquet, but ne action being taken to that end the entertainment proceeded, and after the guests had eaten and drank heartily, Lord George Hamilton led off in the toasts with an unusually jolly speech, his rollicking humor provoking peal upon peal of laughter. The news of this affair soon reached the London clubs and excited much adverse criticism. It is considered that Lord Hamilton's conduct may cause scandal against himself and the Tories such as was aroused against Mr. Gladstone and his political adherents by the alleged presence of the Liberal Premier

The mewspaper offices at Plymouth were besieged by crowds of people anxious to hear further news of the disaster. Among these were the sobbing wives and daughters of many of the lost seamen. It is stated that many of the crew of the Serpent, before the vessel started on what proved to be its last voyage, expressed the fear that some misfortune would befall the ship. The relatives of the crew of the Serpent at Plymouth and the dock-yard people there are full of gossip about the lost cruiser. It is claimed that it was unseaworthy and that it broke down on all its trial trips. Commander Ross is said to have been in the habit of treating his men with undue severity. The Serpent started last Saturday on its maiden voyage. It was commissioned for service in Africa last June but was detained by several mishaps to the machinery. It and its consorts were cordially disliked by the service. The Serpent had a bad record. It broke down more than once in the maneuvers of 1888. Lloyd's agent at Corunna telegraphs:

"It appears that the Serpent was runhing for shelter into one of the bays north of Finisterre. It is not known whether it foundered or grounded on the fearful reefs that are a continuation of the Galician mountains. If it foundered nobody need be surprised but the Admiralty. If it grounded on the reefs it could not stand a minute's battering in a heavy sea."

The Serpent was a third-class cruiser of the type of the Archer, of which the Concord, Yorktown and Bennington are practically copies. It was provided with whitehead torpedoes, tubes and apparatus for firing. The Serpent was built of steel, 1,770 tons displacement, 4,500 indicated horse-power, 14 feet 6 inches draught of water, 225 feet length, 36 feet beam. It was built at Devonport launched in 1887, cost (hull and machinery) £91.606. Its armament comprised six six-inch, five-ton breechloading rifle guns, eight three pounder, rapid-firing guns and three machine guns. It sailed from Devonport, being put in commission June 24 last, under command of Captain H. L. Ross, ordered to the Cape and the west coast of Africa.]

Supervisors were appointed in 900 of the 2,589 precincts in the State, and their reports show that the number of ballots thrown out averaged seven to the precinct, making a total of about 20,000. This does not include the protested ballots which the law requires to be returned to the circuit clerks and which are known to number about 6,000. MICHIGAN CROPS. A Monthly Report Issued by the State

The monthly crop report for November issued by the State Department shows that the area seeded to wheat this fall was largely in excess of one year ago, amounting to 1,500,000 acres, an increase of 64,000 acres. The average condition was much better than for the corresponding date for a number of averages 105 in the State. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in October was 4,971, 152 and in August, September and October 5,548,664, an excess of 1,418,944 bushels over the same period last year. THANKSGIVING.

Governor Luce Named November 27 as the Day to Give Thanks. Governor Luce has issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

From our humble and gracious fathers has come down to a thankful people the venerated unwritten law of annually observing a day of thanksgiving and praise.

The President of the United States has appointed Thursday, the 27th day of November, A D. 1800, for such service, and it is with cheerful conformity to the same that I invoke the good people of Michigan to observe the occasion in a manner worthy of the blessings vouchsafed to them during the year. And, while remembering that nowhere has God's hand better preserved and cared for His own than within his, our commonwhealth, let us not forget that we have among us many who are more un fortunate than ourselves and whose homes are darkened by clouds of adversity and sorrow. Upon this day let it be the mission of all, and the active lesson for our children, that to lighten some other's burden and to carry sunshine to some unexpected place is the best thankfulness. "It is only the hand which help another that God takes into His own and fills under my hand and the great seal of the State of Michigan this 11th day of October, A. D. 1890. By the Governor, CYRUS G. LUCE. G. R. OSMUN, Secretary of State.

rgentine Republic Investments Imperil the Great English Banking House of Baring Bros. & Co.—On the Verge of Ruin They Are Rescued by the Bank of England and Others-Liubi ities of $75,*

LONDON, Nov. 17 .- The Times, refer ring to the financial situation, saysi "The city has passed through a crisis verging on a panic. Such a time has not been known since the suspension of Overend, Gurney & Co. We rejoice that we are able to announce that the worst is years. It was 106 in the Southern, 100 over. The Bank of England has added in the Central, 103 in the Northern and to its historic services to the state and the commercial committee by its prompt action in averting what would have been a lamentable catastrophe. The administration of the bank not only provided vast re-enforcements to its stock of gold to meet exceptional demands in the event of a panic, but also stepped out of the ordinary routine of business to prevent the downfall of the greatest and most respected of English financial houses, which had for some days been in peril, and which, if it had fallen. would probably have brought down in widespread ruin a large number of smaller but important firms.

The great financial house referred to is that of Baring Bros. & Co. They have been helped through by the Bank of England, the Rothschilds and several London joint stock banks, who made large advances to the firm. The Baring Bros.' position is now believed to be secure.

The Bank of England has subscribed £1,000,000, three joint banks have given £75,000 each, and two others £500,-000 each to assist Baring Bros. Several other houses have subscribed smaller amounts, all the subscriptions making a total of £10,000,000. This will constitute a guarantee fund for three years. It is roughly estimated that the total liabilities of the firm, including £16,000,000 in acceptances, amount to £21,000,000, while the assets, at present prices, are valued at £24,000,000. The Government has authorized the Bank of England, if necessary, to issue an additional £2,000,000 in notes, and will suspend the bank act if requisite. The original cause of the firm's trouble was Russia's withdrawal of several millions of deposits on learnof the firm's dealings in Argentine and Uruguay bonds. It is expected that in-

Baring Bros. & Co. are one of the oldest and most respected banking houses in the world. The present firm was founded in the first quarter of the present century. John Baring, the ancestor of all the Eng Barings, came from Bremen and tled in Exeter, Eng., early in the eighteenth century. His son was Sir Francis Baring, a London merchant, who became a di-rector in the East India Company and amassed a very large fortune for those days. Owing to his influence William Pitt renewed the charter of the East India Company in 1797. Two of Sir Francis Baring's sons married sisters, daughters of Senator Bingham, of Pennsylvania This was about the year 1800. Their descendants are now the chief partners of Baring Bros. & Co., and besides hold four peerages in the English House of Lords. The Earl of Northbrook, Lord Wolverton, Lord Ravelstoke and Lord Ashburton are members of the famous Baring family. Of these peers only Lord Ravelstoke is now a member of the banking house. The other partners are James Stewart Hodgson, Henry Bingham Mildmay, Charles Loyd Norman, Thomas Charles Baring, Honorables Francis Henry Baring, Robert Kirkman Hodgson, Thomas Baring and William Baring Hulhed. Baring Bros. have been one of the great bank-ing houses which have lent money to the Egyptian Government. With the failure of Egypt to pay the interest on the loans the troubles of the Barings began. Instead of retrenching the house plunged deeper and deeper into foreign loans and investment. About five years ago

BIRCHALL HANGED.

Eroyation of the Marderer of Benwell in the Woodstock, Ont., Jall—He Faces Death Calmly.

WOODSTOCK, Ont., Nov. 15.—Reginald Birchall, who decoyed Frederick C. Benweil, a fellow countryman, from Eng land on a pretense of helping him to learn farming in Canada and murdered him in a swamp near here, was hanged in the jail-yard at this place at 8:26 a.m. Friday.

His death, so far as could be ascertained, was painless. Six minutes after the great weight jerked his body into the air, the physicians pronounced him dead. The post-mortem discovered that death had been caused by strangulation. The usual statutory verdict was found by the coroner's jury. The hanging was first set down for 9 o'clock, but by Birchall's own requestil was done half an hour earlier. After he had breakfasted he sat in his cel smoking cigars and chatting with old Sheriff Perry. The latter was solemn; Birchall was not. He seemed to find amusement in the fact of the old sheriff's sorrow for him. Birchall was dressed in a white flannel shirt, dark striped trousers, and slippers. At his throat he wore a tasty black tie. The criminal was accompanied to the scaffold by Rev. Wade, who has been constant in his attendance on the prisoner since the trial. Other members of the procession were George Perry, Birchall's guard, and Prison Inspector Chamberlain. Birchall was perfectly calm and cheerily saluted each member of the party as they entered his cell. Among the spectators was Arthur Leetham of Montreal, a friend of Birchall at Oxford. Leetham saluted the prisoner, who advanced and kissed him full on the lips, the tears running down Leetham's cheeks, while Birchall did not change a muscle of his countenance. Birchall mounted the steps of the scaffold with an unfaltering tread. When the religious exercises were begun Birchall joined heartily, being particularly emphatic in his "amens." On the surrounding buildings overlooking the jail yard were hundreds of people who were thus enabled to witness the last act of the Benwell tragedy. Birchall repeated the Lord's prayer after Rev. Wade while the noose was being put around his neck. He submitted to the hangman in his usual matter-of-fact way. There was a slightly wearied look in his eyes, While the doomed man's legs were being bound with a strap Birchall stood with his head erect, looking straight before him, and offering no objection to the hangman's operations. Toward the conclusion of the Lord's prayer Rev. Dr. Wade's voice was filled with deepest anguish and broke. He stepped forward and kissed Birchall, saying: "May God have mercy on you," and retired a few paces. The. supreme moment was at hand.

When Radcliffe, the Toronto hangman, pulled the black cap over Birchall's face the latter said, loud enough for every one to hear: "Well, won't you shake hands before I go?" This rather dumbfounded Radcliffe for a moment. Then he thrust forth his hand and shook Birchall's hand. Then stepping back he took hold of the cord connecting with the latch of the weight above. John Perry, the son of the sheriff, and acting for his father, was standing three or four steps to the left. He gave the signal and the bolt was drawn out. The body was jerked in an oblique direction. It moved around for a few seconds with its own momentum and finally hung straight down. A convulsive shudder ran through the frame. Then a blood-curdling sight was witnessed. The hands clasped and unclasped convulsively, the nails entering the flesh and causing the blood to flow; the legs drew up and straightened out. There was every indication that the man was being slowly strangled. His neck was not broken. Two minutes after the bolt was withdrawn Birchall's pulse was sixty strokes per minute. At the end of six minutes he was pronounced dead. [Birchall's crime was the killing of F. C. Benwell February 17 last in a swamp in Oxford County, Canada. Birchall came to Canada early in the summer of 1888 to become a farmer, early in the summer of 1888 to become a farmer, but, finding the work harder and the pay smaller than he had been led to expect, he stayed in Woodstock. Birchall talked a great deal about aristocrats in England with whom he claimed to be acquainted or connected. His wife seemed to second him in what he did. These two disappeared in the fall as quickly as they had come, leaving certain unpaid bills. When a man was arrested in February last for the murder of the stranger whose body was found in the swamp near

Princeton the people were made aware for the first time that Birchall had returned.

Against Birchall there were scraps of evidence which, while not making a complete case, were all consistent one with the other, and together were certainly strong. The principal witness was a young Englishman named Douglas R. Pelly, who had come out on the Britannic with Mr. and Mrs. Birchall and Benwell. Pelly and Benwell had made arrangements in England to take an interest in a horse ranch or farm which Birchall claimed he owned in Canada. According to Pelly, Birchall had represented this farm to be a mile and a half from Niagara Falls. Benwell's father, a retired British Colonel, was to pay £500 for an interest in this farm as soon as his son should write from Canada that he was satisfied with his bargain. Canada that he was satisfied with his organization of the profits of the condition that he was to have employment on the farm with a small share in the profits. Monday, February 17, Benwell and Birchall had taken the Grand Trunk southern distance to the alleged stock farm. had taken the Grand Trunk southern di-vision train to go to the alleged stock farm. That night Birchall returned alone, ex-plaining that Benwell had gone on fur-ther, probably intending to call at London, Ont. The two men, however, were seen to get off at Eastwood station and go across the fields in a direction which would take them to the swamp. Birchall was subsequently seen to re-turn alone. Two days later Benwell's body was found in the swamp.]

"Very frank was the admission, especially so when it came from one of the bigges young physicians of the city, one whose practice is among the thousands, though he has been graduated but a few years," says the Buffalo Courier. "Very cozy was his office too, with its cheerful grate fire, its Queen Anne furniture, and its many lounges and easy-chairs. He stirred the fire lazily, iighted a fresh cigar, and went on."

"Take the prescriptions laid down in the books and what do you find? Poisons mainly, and nauseating stuffs that would make a healthy man an invalid. Why in the world science should go to poisons for its remedies I cannot tell, nor can I find any one who can." "How does a doctor know the effect of his medicine?" he asked. "He calls, prescribe medicine? he asked. "He calls, prescribes, and goes away. The only way to judge would be to stand over the bed and watch the patient. This cannot be done. So, really, I don't know how he is to tell what good or hurt he does. Sometime ago, you remember, the Boston Globe sent out a reporter with a stated set of symptoms. He went to eleven prominent physicians and brought back eleven different prescriptions. brought back eleven different prescriptions. This just shows how much science there is in medicine." There are local diseases of various characters for which nature provides positive remedies. They may not be included in the regular physician's list, perhaps, because of their simplicity, but the evidence of their curative power is beyond dispute. Kidney lisease is cured by Warner's Safe Cure, a strictly herbal remedy. Thousands of persons, every year, write as does H. J. Gardiner, of Pontiac, R. I., August 7, 1890: "A few years ago I suffered more than probably ever will be known outside of my-self, with kidney and liver complaint. It is the old story-I visited doctor after doctor, but to no avail. I was at Newport, and Dr. Blackman recommended Warner's Safe Cure. I commenced the use of it, and found relief immediately. Altogether I took three bottles, and I truthfully state that it cured me."

Not a Local Disease

Mixed Grades... SHEEP...OMAHA.

Because catarrh affects your fical, it is not therefore a local disease. If it did not grist in your blood, it could not manifest itself in your nose. The blood now in your brain is before you finish reading this article, back in your heart again and soon distributed to your liver, stomach, kidmoya, and so on. Whatever impurities the blood does not carry away, cause what we call diseases. There fore when you have catarrh of the head, a single or other inhalant can at most give only temporary relief. The only way to effect a cure is to attack the disease in the blood, by taking a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which chiminates all impurities and thus permanently cures catarrh. The success of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a remedy for catarrh is vouched for by many people it has cared.
