[George Bancroft was born in Worcester,

Mass., October 3, 1800. He was one of a numerous family, was educated at Exeter, N. H., under Dr. Abbott, who saw that he had "the stamina of a distinguished man." In 1813 he entered Harvard College, and graduating with high honors in 1817, went the following year to Germany to pursue his 1820. Mr. Bancroft later visited Berlin, and made an extensive tour of Germany, Switzerland, Italy and England, enjoying personal acquaintances with many of the most distinguished men of the period in those countries. He returned to America in 1822, and was for a year tutor of Greek at Harvard College,

He had been designed for the ministry and preached some sermons, but abandoned that profession for the pursuit of letters. Mr. Bancroft's most enduring fame will rest upon his History of the United States from the discovery of the American continent, of which the first volume appeared in 1834.

Mr. Bancroft had early associated himself with the Democratic party, and was in the lecture-room and on the stump a frequent and earnest advocate of its principles. In January, 1838, he was apcointed by President Van Buren collector of the port of Boston, an office which he held until the accession of Harrison in 1841, discharging its duties with marked energy and fidelity. In 1844 he was the Democratic candidate for Governor of Massa-Secretary of the Navy, a position which he held until September, 1848. His brief tenure of the Navy Department was signalized by several needed reforms, and especially by two important additions to its usefulness-the naval school at Annapolis and the astronomical observatory at Washington. Mr. Bancroft resigned his seat in the 'Cabinet to accept the appointment of Minister Plenipotentiary to Great Britain, where he remained until the summer of 1849. His residence in London, apart from the distinguished post he occupied as his country's representative derived vet further luster from the intimate association into which he was called with the eminent men of letters and statesmen of the day. Of such were

Macauley, Milman, Grote, Rogers, Dickens

Whewell, Peel and Brougham, in England; and in France, Guizot, Mignet, Lamartine, De Tocqueville and others. The historian did not fail to avail himself of the rare opportuniments upon American history. The public nanuscripts were placed at his disposal. Upon

York his place of residence and resumed active work upon his history. At the obsequies held in New York upon the passage of the remains of President Lincoln in April, 1865, Mr. Bancroft, by request of the municipal government, delivered the eulogy,

In February following, by invitation of Congress and in the presence of that body and of the assembled officers of the Government, he pronounced an oration upon the life and services of Abraham Lincoln in the House of Kep-resentatives at Washington. In the summer of 1867 Mr. Bancroft received the appointment of Minister Plenipo-tentiary at Berlin. The Kingdom of Prussia at this time, as a result of the civil war of the previous year with Austria, had formed with the lesser States of North Germany the North German Confederation, and to it the new envoy was also accredited. Mr. Bancroft at once applied himself to the settlement of an international question which for three-quarters of a century had been an unceasing source of discord between the United States and Germany, as well as other European powers. On February 22, 1868, six months after his arrival at Berlin, a treaty was concluded by him with the North German Confederation mutually recognizing the right of expatriation and naturalization.

Treaties to like effect were during the ensuing summer concluded by Mr. Bancroft with the viz: Bavaria, Baden, Wurtemburg and Hesse Darmstadt. Upon returning to the United himself at Washington, and in the same year published the tenth volume of his history, which brought the narrative to the treaty of peace in 1782. In the succeed ing years Mr. Bancroft devoted him self wholly in continuation of his great work two volumes in the spring of 1882. Mr. Ban-croft's hours of relaxation have been for many years devoted to the enthusiastic culture of the rose, of which his collection both at Wash port surpasses probably in number of variefrom Miss Elaine Goodale, supervisor of dead. It had been realized that Mr. education, the following letter dated Bancroft could hardly survive much Pine Ridge, January 12: longer because of the increasing "Yours of the 7th inst. askingfor a report of the battle at Wounded Knee is received. I was infirmities incident to his extremely not an eye-witness of the fight and my informa-tion has been obtained chiefly from Indian prisold age, but he had been in cheer ful spirits and apparently better health oners who were engaged in it, half-breeds who this year since his return from Newport than for several seasons past, so were present and from parties who visited the battle-field several days after the encounter. "The testimony of the survivors of Big Foot's band is unanimous on one important point namely, that the Indians did not deliberately plan a resistance. The party was not a war party, according to their statements (which I believe to be true), but a party intending to visit the agency at the invitation of Red Cloud, The Indians say that many of the men were unarmed. When they met the troops they anticipated no trouble. There was consequently friendly intercourse between the soldiers and the Indians, women even shaking hands with the officers and men.

"The demand for their arms was a surprise to the redskins, but the great majority of them chose to submit quietly. The tepees had already been searched and a large number of guns, knives and hatchets confiscated, when the searching of the persons of the men was begun. The women say that they, too, were searched and their knives (which they always cory for doraestic purposes) taken from them. A number of the men had surrendered their rifles and cartridge-belts, when one young man, who is described by the Indians as a good-for-nothing young fellow, fired a single shot. This called forth a volley from the troops and the firing and confusion became general. I do not credit the statement which has been made by some that the women carried arms and participated actively in the fight. The weight of testimony is overwhelmingly against this sup position. There may have been one or two isolated cases of this kind, but there is no doubt that the great majority of the women and children, as well as many unarmed mer and youths, had no thought of any thing but flight. They were pursued up the ravines and shot down indiscriminately by the soldiers. "It is reported that one of the officers called out: 'Don't shoot the squaws,' but the men were doubtless too much excited to obey. The killing of the women and children was in part unavoidable, owing to the confusion, but I think there is no doubt that it was in many cases deliberate and intentional. The Seventl Cavalry (Custer's old command) had an old grudge to repay. "The party of scouts who buried the dead re port eighty-four bodies of men and boys, fortyfour of women and eighteen of children. Some were carried off by the hostiles. A number of prisoners, mostly women, have since died of their wounds and more will soon follow. The party which visited the battle-field January 1 to rescue any wounded who might

The irresponsible action of one hot-headed youth should not be the signal for a general and indiscriminate slaughter of the unarmed and helpless." PINE RIDGE AGENCY, S. D., Jan. 17 .-The question which seems uppermost in the mind of everybody around the agency is whether or not General Miles will insist upon the complete disarmament of the Indians. It is reported on good authority that General Miles has chusetts, but was not elected. In March of the following year he was called ordered civilians to keep out of the hos tile camp because he intends to disarm the Indians if he has to shell their camp to accomplish his purpose. The General could not be seen to substantiate this. Adjutant-General Corbin was asked if General Miles had issued such an order, but he would neither admit nor deny the report. He claimed that so long as the arms were being surrendered by the Indians there was no necessity of using force to compel more speed.

Friday afternoon a significant effort to promote harmony among the Indians was made. A gathering took place at the instance of the Ogallalas and was held in what is known as "Loafers' camp" in the vicinity of the friendlies' quarters. Six hundred Brules were present. The Ogallalas had prepared a feast of hot coffee and boiled dog and the braves squatted in a circle, in the center of which steamed the viands. The only white man present was Lieutenant Taylor, Ninth Cavalry, commander of the famous Ogallala scouts. Among the Ogallalas present were Chiefs Standing Soldier, American Horse, Standing Bear, Fast Thunder, Spotted Horse, Bird and Bad Wound. White Among the Brules were Chiefs Short Bull, Kicking Bear, Eigh Pipe, Ires Bull, Turning Bear and Two Strike. American Horse reviewed the circumstances which had led to the present difficulty and had impelled General Miles to issue his order disarming the Indians. He said the order ought to be complied with and that they should return to their homes and bring their young men to respect their good white friends, dissuade them from violence and compel the children to return to school.

Short Bull said that a great many of the Rosebud Indians wanted to come to the Pine Ridge agency because they knew they would be treated better there. High Pipe and Two Strike also Lieutenant Taylor was asked to speak, and said that he knew very many Ogallalas and was satisfied that they were friendly. He did not know the Brules so well, but felt that there were many good and brave men among them who would listen to reason. The trouble was now over, and if they wished to remain in peace all they had to do was to comply with the order of General Miles. He closed by saying that their rights would be recognized by the present officers who had been placed over them. The council closed in the best possible humor.

An Explosion of Natural Gas in the Hotel Marvin, at Findlay, O., Completely Wreeks the Building—Two Girls Killed and a Number of Persons Injured. FINDLAY, O., Jan. 19 .- The first great disaster Findlay has ever experienced from the use of natural gas occurred shortly before 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon while the guests of the Hotel Marvin were waiting to be summoned to dinner. Sunday morning it was disovered that gas was escaping from a leaking pipe somewhere into the diningroom, and Mr. Marvin, the owner of the hotel, with three plumbers, spent the entire forenoon trying to locate the leak. About 10 o'clock they entered a chamber underneath the dining-room and found such an accumulation of gas that they could not breathe, and it was suggested that a hole be sawed through the floor of the dining-room in order to obtain fresh air. This was done, and just as the hole was made one of the dining-room girls, who was sweeping the floor, stepped upon a match, and in an instant an explosion occurred which not only wrecked the building but killed two girls and maimed and injured a dozen other employes. The force of the explosion was so great that it blew out the flame of the ignited gas and no fire followed the awful ruin which the shock had caused. The whole city rocked as if in an earthquake and all the windows on the square were demolished, while the and the office.

When the work of removing the dead and rescuing the dving was begun it was found that Katie Walters, a waitress, had been killed outright. Ella Johnson, a dining-room girl, was found alive under a mass of brick and mortar. but she died shortly after being carried to a place of safety. Kate Rooney, another dining-room girl, was also fatally injured but is still alive. Frank Poundstone, day clerk at the hotel, was painfully bruised and cut about the neck and face, but will recover. Anson Marvin, owner of the building, who with the plumbers was under the dining-room floor when the explosion occurred, was probably fatally hurt, as he inhaled the flames of the burning gas. Albert French, a porter at the hotel, was cut on the neck and head, but will recover. Frank Andrews, one of the proprietors, had his right eye knocked out and was seriously bruised about the face and throat. Charles Graves, Philip Weil and Jack Cahill, the plumbers, were painfully shocked and stunned, but will soon be themselves again. The financial loss will be about $25, 000 on the building and $10,000 on the furniture, all fully insured. It is a question whether any insurance will be realized, as none of the destruction was caused by fire. The excitement throughout the city over the catastrophe is great.

FOR A BROTHER'S LIFE.

Chicago Knights Templar Give of Their

CHICAGO, Jan. 19 .- An event that will be historical not only in Masonic but in humanity's record took place Sunday forenoon. The deeds of self-sacrifice were in keeping with the day. The event and all its surroundings. personal, moral and scientific, were phenomenal. In order to save the life of John O. Dickerson 146 Sir Knights of St. Bernard Commandery, Knights Templar, submitted to the surgeon's knife, contributed each his portion of skin sliced from the tender, quivering flesh to be grafted upon the body of their brother. The strips cut from 146 arms were transplanted to Mr. Dickerson and 144 square inches of his body were covered with these voluntary contributions, It was a feat in surgery and a demonstration that heroic sentiment is not a thing of the past.

Mr. Dickerson is 44 years of age and widower, his wife having died several years ago. Since 1870 he has been recorder of St. Bernard Commandery of the Knights Templar and during that time has been active in Masonic work. About a year ago he became affected with a cancerous growth on his thigh and right hip, which rapidly developed into a dangerous condition. Last summer Dr. Fenger performed a surgical operation, cutting away the diseased portions of the skin and flesh to such an extent that the epidermis could not again join and cover the exposed surface. In other respects the patient improved rapidly. The surgeon made an attempt to cover the place with a piece of goat skin. This promised to be successful, but the piece was too large and had to be removed. Then Dr. Fenger announced that the only certain method of healing the patient was to graft small pieces of human skin on the exposed and tender surface. St. Bernard Commandery heard of this and immediately offered to furnish as many subjects as the surgeons desired. It was suggested that 150 members volunteer to assist in patching up the afflicted

The volunteers, were readily forthoming, and Sunday at the emergency hospital, where Mr. Dickerson has been lying for a long time, a dozen surgeons assisted in transferring strips of epidermis from the intrepid knights to the body of the patient sufferer on the cot. When the last patch was neatly set in

The Congressional Committee Makes Its Report on World's Fair Affairs—Salaries of Officials Are Too High—Some Sug-

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 .- Representative Candler (Mass.), chairman of the select committee on the world's fair, on Saturday presented to the House the report of the sub-committee that went to Chicago to examine into the condition of matters there in relation to the world's fair. A synopsis is as follows:

It says that the power assumed by the World's Columbian Commission has produced confusion as well as caused unnecessary expenditure of public money which had been in-tended by Congress to pay the expenses of the Government exhibit, and not to pay excessive salaries to the officers of the commivision, the report says, had been made to pay the president, secretary and director-general 000 respectively, and also $8,000 to the "vice-chairman of the executive commit-tee." These salaries, in the opinion of the committee, are excessive sud-chould not be continued. Excessive expense has also been incurred in the appointment of such a large number as 115 women on the board of lady managers and the calling together of the board when the duties which will devolve upon it were not ready for its attention. The report

"Your committee are of the decided opinion that the fair can not well be conducted to a successful termination under the dual management which is now in operation in consequence of the construction placed upon the law by the World's Columbian Commission The commission has exceeded its power by the appointment of officers and committees to conduct the management of the fair in its executive details, which, in our inwreck of the hotel building was all but complete, the only rooms in the house to the World's Columbian Exposition and its escaping destruction being the parlors officers. The commission was given a quasi veto power and not that of taking charge of the execution of the plans for the fair. From th fact that the commission is honorary an without safary the conclusion is reasonable that its duties were not intended to be exact ing or continuous so that they would se riously interfere with the members' privat business.

According to our interpretation of the law, was the intention of Congress that the World' Columbian Exposition-that is, the company incorporated under the laws of the State of Ill nois-should have the executive control of the fair, and, this being so, the election of the d rector-general, the chief executive officer of th fair, by the World's Columbian Commissio and the payment of a salary to him ou of the Government fund should be discor tinued. The report expresses the opinion that the city which was selected by Congress to have the privilege of holding th fair and which will bear practically the who burden of the expense should have the sole co trol of each executive management, and b lieves that Chicago will prove herself full equal to the successful management of the e

The report says that the progress in the pr paration of the Government exhibit is as gre as could have been expected, and that the sult of the work of the board of Governmen control has taken tangible and satisfactor shape.

In order to carry out the suggestions of the report to place the whole enterprise on a more solid footing and carry out the evident in-tention of Congress the board submits a joint resolution directing the Secretary of the Treasury not to approve the payment of any expense attendant upon a meeting of th World's Columbian Commission or of the board of lady managers, except such meetings as may be called at the time of the dedication and opening of the world's fair, nor to approve the payment of any expense attendant upon a meeting of the executive committee of the Worlds Columbian Commission or the executive committee of the board of lady held not oftener than once in six months; nor to approve the payment of any salary to any officer of the World's Columbian Commission out of any money which has been or may be available for such purposes other than an annual salary not in excess of $5,000 to the president, $4,000 to the vice-chairman of the executive committee and $3,000 to the secretary; nor to approve the payment of any salary to any officer of the board of lady managers in excess of $5,000 to the president and $3,000 to the secretary; nor to approve the payment of any expenses of the World's Columbian Commission or of the board of lady managers other than those hereinbefore mentioned which shall amount to more than $10,000 per annum in the aggregate. In conclusion the report says: "Your com mittee also desire to recognize in this report liberal and pariotic spirit displayed by the board of directors of the Chicago World's Columbian Exposition corporation and by the citizens of Chicago and the State of Illinois, who have responded generously in every detail connected with the great undertaking."

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 19.-Honorable John L. Mitchell Congressman elect, has resigned the position of commissioner of the world's fair for this State. Honorable David W. Benjamin, of Milwaukee, has been recommended to President Harrison by Governor Peck for the position.

Much mischief is done in the treatment of constipation. The common opinion is that all requirements are fulfilled if the medicine forces unloading of the bowels. A great error. Medicine simply purgative, corrects no morbid condition, consequently their use is followed by greater costiveness. A remedy, to be effectual and permanent, must be composed of tonic, alterative, corrective and carthartic properties. These are admirably combined in Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills. They will, in a short time, cure all the sufferings that result from inactive bewels. There is no medium for advertising that can take the place of the family newspaper. A few years ago the country was full of Detroit, advertising "fakers" who went about from town to town with all sorts of devices with which they deluded merchants and other bus ness men and reaped large sums for which they gave their patrons no benefit whatever. In his home newspaper the business man has a medium for reaching his neighbors in the most direct way And it is the most profitable way, as the most successful advertisers everywhere barn for sale. The two cents per pound reduction upon the tobacco tax will not avail to benefit either the consumer or small manufacturing retailer. For instance, there are, say, five or six plugs in a pound of chewing tobacco. This the retailer divides into five cent pieces, cutting a plug in two parts. He can't make these pieces larger Hummel & Fenn, druggists, Chelsea. 8 nor can he allow the one fifth of a cent off the price, which would be the maximum given to him, for obvious reasons. In case of the small manufacturer the rebate on stock on hand won't amount to enough to pay for the troublesome and expensive conditions with which the new measure is burdened. Tariff tinkering again.

Foolish people have deposited their money savings in all sorts of ridiculous places for safe keeping, but it remained for an Ohio farmer to select a bee-hive as a depository. Something over $500 was the Coughs, etc. Save $50 by use of one amount he thus deposited, trusting to the sharpness of the bees, or to their sting, to protect it.
