DAMAGED BY WATER.

1-2 PRICE 1-2

On 5000 yards new Embroideries, 50 dozen Handkerchiefs

SALE OF THE SEASON.

On December 15th last, a large importer of New York received a shipment of Embroideries and Handkerchiefs that were wet. After claiming his damages from the company, he placed them on sale in big lots and we were fortunate to get some of them, and shall place them on sale Feb. 2nd, at about 1/2 price. The run from narrow embroideries to wide flouncings. The handkerchiefs are the same as we had such a big sale on before the holidays at 25c. We shall sell them at 16c each. Do not miss this sale.

fire department. W. P. Schenk clothing merchant, had a few hats damaged, which were piled near a pipe hole in the chimney.

The March weather of last Thursday put a sudden and unwelcome stop to ice harvest of Glazier & Co. The warm weather with occasional sprinkles of rain found the new icehouse without a roof, consequently the ice in it began to melt quite freely.

Deputy Sheriff Staffan and Marshal Moore, locked up two tramps last Thursday evening, who were passing one cent stamps, but they had not been in the lock up half an hour when they broke out and escaped. Chelsea should have a new and secure lock-up.

James Ackerson was drawing sandstone bases from the R. R. dock at A. Neuberger's marble shop, and coming around near the cattle yard, one of them got into a rolling movement and in less than three seconds fell to the ground. The stone weighed about 1800 pounds and it required the strength of five men to replace it on the dory again.

Sometimes man and wife are in the habit of disagreeing on trifling matters. The fine weather of last Thursday was the occasion of such a petty dispute. The man remarked that the weather reminded him of March weather, but the woman, true to her contradictory spirit, would have it April weather. To avoid a lengthy dispute the man had to agree to her kind of weather.

The Ann Arbor Democrat says: "It is positively disgraceful that in the city of Ann Arbor noted for her culture, refinement and intelligence, such a revolting affair should have been allowed to have taken place in the eastern part of the city on last Sunday afternoon. It was nothing more nor less than a disgraceful dog fight and was witnessed by men and boys taken there in hacks and carriages. A dog fight on a week day is bad enough, but when men have become so low as to go to a dog fight on Sunday, they have become low indeed."

Mr. Fred Frankle, of Waterloo, who committed suicide was interred in the German Lutheran cemetery last week, as it seemed beyond a doubt, that he was not responsible for what he did, for he has shown signs of temporary insanity for some time. The unhappy man first swallowed a cup full of kerosene oil, then partially succeeded in cutting his throat, and lastly hung himself in the barn, leaving the bloody razor on the table, which, when found in the morning, immediately led his people to the suspicion, that he had committed suicide.

The time for our charter election is drawing near.

The trouble is how can anybody be got

H. S. Holmes and E. G. Hoag were in Grand Rapids last Thursday and Friday,

Waterloo has quite a record of suicides.
Five in number. Two by shooting; one by poison; two by hanging.

The M. C. R. R. will commence building its double track between Dexter and

It is reported that two pupils of the German school at Waterloo quarreled over a game of marbles Friday, Jan. 23, and one stabbed the other with a pocket knife.

Life is like a game of draw. The fellow holding the best hand doesn't always rake in the pot. If we could think of a better understood parallel we'd draw it. Your draw.

The special annual meeting of the Chelsea Recreation Park Association will be held at the town hall Chelsea, on Saturday the 14th day of February 1891, at two o'clock p. m., for the purpose of electing seven directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

An exchange says: He had told his son to milk the cows, feed the horses, stop the pigs, hunt up the eggs, feed the calves, catch the colt and put him in the stable, cut the wood, split the kindling, stir the cream, put some fresh water in the creamery after supper, and be sure and study his lessons before he went to bed. Then he went to the farmers' club to discuss the question "How to keep the boys on the farm."

To make money, one must be in the neighborhood of moneyed men. You can't make money out of a pauper. A hundred poor men may pre-empt farms in a Dakota town or a Montana village, but they can't get rich out of each other. It is a mistake to get to far away from money centers or established neighborhoods. It is a pity to raise corn for fuel or to waste a large percentage of your crops in heavy transportation charges. One element of value in your farms is their proximity to cash markets for what they may produce.

The American Hotel proprietor differs from his brother elsewhere in the extent to which he gratuitously supplies a social exchange for all well behaved individuals who see fit to avail themselves of it. An outsider who enters a European hotel is, as a rule, expected to state what brings him there, but in this country he makes about as free use of the place as he does of the postoffice; enjoys its chairs, light and warmth, and seems to regard it as a general club of which he is a member in full standing, but relieved from any payment of annual dues.

The Adrian Press announces the engagements of several "star performers," as follows: The moon has engaged to fill two date with eclipses this year; the first will be on May 23 and will be a small affair.
Performance begins at five minutes of eight p. m. On the 15th of November, at thirty-five minutes past 10 p. m., sun time, she will put on the mask in great shape.
There will be a small eclipse of the sun at two minutes past five, June 6, and a similar light comedy by the same actor, in December. Beside the above, Mercury will undertake as a special engagement to walk barefooted over the face of the sun, May 10. He is said to be already soaking his feet with a preparation of asbestos."

The latest thing in portraits is the back view, with the head turned sideways, the eyes coquettishly peering over the shoulder.
An eastern correspondent has discovered that the back of the neck is beautiful in all that the term implies. The skin is of such fine texture, marble-like texture, etc., etc. Nice, isn't it, to sit for a picture in that position, with your neck about dislocated, trying to turn where it was never intended to go, for you are not built that way. Then you must smile, that is essential, showing your pearly teeth and vermillion lips (they are the latest.) What a picture you will make and how comfortable you will feel; but pride must bear many a pinch, and what matter if you dislocate the back of your neck in a vain endeavor to look charming.

The miscreant who started the mother-in-law racket has much to account for.
From the way-back time of that delightful widow, Ruth, and her kind old mother-in-law, the title of mother-in-law has been one of honor. She was regarded as an indispensable necessity about a house. She brought the qualifications for usefulness that only can come from long experience.
She made and baked the bread, and nobody had to take little liver pills to digest it.
She minded the babies, and they cried for her strong, gentle, skillful handling. She kept house while the family went to sea, side and camp meeting. She did five servants' work for her board and wages and saved the pieces, too. Now it is all changed, and the fashion is to decry the good old mother-in-law. Oh, there'll be a fearful reckoning for somebody.

SHAKE FOR 1891.

Oh no! The old regular 100-per-center can't see the point. What? Would rather take it easy and sell only a few goods at the old time profits.

We Are Not Built That Way.

We are stuck full of points and chuck full of goods. We propose to give you some of former and sell you the latter so cheap that it will amount to about the same thing as giving them to you, (in the eyes of the old time 100-per-center)

Before the middle of April we will sell you

22 lbs Granulated Sugar for $1

What's the matter with the McKinley Bill now?

We have just finished invoicing and find we have too many goods, but fortunately we know how to turn them into cash. The old time 100-per-center would let them turn at the old time prices or turn into midle and rust on the shelves.

We propose to make prices that will convert them into cash in double quick order.

Cut Loaf Sugar, cut to the quick and cut square, on the square, 16 ounces to the pound, 15 square pounds for a round $.

4 papers 8 ounce tinned tacks for 5 cents.
These tacks are thinned only on the outside.
Mr. 100-per-center will tell you so.

Lantern Globes 5 cents each.

These globes fit our 20c lanterns or 100 per-centers 92c lantern. You are doing the business—pay your money and take your choice. It goes without saying, however, that if you should happen to get them mixed up you couldn't tell to save you, which was which.

100-per-center's lantern globe 15c Our lantern globe 5c 100-per-center's fine profit 10c

Lanterns, 100 per-centers, 92c Lanterns, Our Own, 28c
100-per-center's small profit 60c

Careful scrutiny will show you that 100-per-center has got the 9 on the wrong side of the 2 but you find on comparing prices that the same rule holds good all along the line.

Lamp Chimneys, medium size, . . . 3c each Lamp Chimneys, large size, . . . 5c each 100-per-center will tell you they are made of common sand—his are undoubtedly made of diamond dust, judging from the price.

Stove Polish, 5c per package

Common every-day polish—the same that 100-per-center charges you 10c for.

As our space is limited, will simply add that we are loaded with 28c syrup, 28c tea, 28c molasses and 5c crackers.

Starch, all kinds, 6c per pound Farmers' Pride smoking tobacco 15c per lb Underbury and undersell due cut tobacco 25c per lb Water White Oil 10c per gal 7 pounds rolled oats for 50c

See our prices on last page. We lend, others follow.

The Chelsea Savings Bank has recently had built for it one of the strongest safes made, being the new patterns of the Moser Bank Safe Companies, Round Screw Door, Laminated Chrome Steel, Burglar and Dynamite Proof Safe, with no keyhole, spindle or other connection through the door or walls, nor any access to the lock from the outside, the door being screwed in and held secure by a Double Chronometer Time Lock from inside. It is considered the strongest and best security ever devised against efforts of burglars. The safe is protected by a large new fireproof vault made necessary to store the upwards of twenty years' accumulation of books and papers of its business, and the whole premises are further protected by an Electric alarm System, which gives instant warning of trespassers at night.
