sH-ap-nty, lust inst nty, that hate ims inty and at

ASH-te of diven of the with oung, or the Januven-Furnea, in Sat-191, at (Sub-ther-f said estate

ASH-ate of given to the nd tes-ing de-for the Janu-due, to Bull & in the Satur-s91, at other-of said estate,

wash-wash-scribed utheast don on on four-ritorial y-three rods to thence

th Net thath

the vill-

tenaw ing a day of he after-stou the county of

orth east

ns second running

said lot 14.

h parallel

th street.

street to beth New-nd, Maine

n the true advanced ms in the

of many

e removes rrh, Broz

ia, Liver

ses, Nerviess, Head-nvulsions, rinal and

s, A Fam-

per bottle strong.

CHELSEA STANDARD

WM. EMMERT OFFICE OVER

KNAPP'S HARDWARE STORE

UP STAIRS. TURN TO LEFT.

$1.00 PER YEAR STRICTLY IN ADVANCE.

PALMER & WRIGHT PHYSICIANS & SURGEONS.

OFFICE OVER KEMPF'S BANK.

OFFICE HOURS: Dr. Palmer's, 10 to 12, a. m., 4 to 6 p. m. Dr. Wright, 7:30 to 10, A.M. 1 to 3, P.M.

H. L. WILLIAMS. . DENTIST,

Graduate of the University of Michigan Dental College. Office with Palmer & Wright, over Kempf's Bank. Chelsea. Mich.

G. W. TURNBULL.

Having been admitted to practice as Pension Attorney in the Interior Department, is now prepared to obtain pensions for all ex-soldiers, widows, etc., entitled thereto. None but legal fees charged.

THE

Chelsea Flouring Mills WILL RUN

Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays. WH. H. WOOD, Manager.

DON'T

THE-

Restaurant and Bakery

WM. CASPARY.

TRAINS LEAVE: * EAST, -5:30, 7:13, 10:31 A. M. 3:59 P. M. WEST,-10:13 A. M. 6:19, 9:30 P. M.

Geo. BeGole was home yesterday.

For stamping call on Mrs. Staffan. Boyd sells fine oysters at 15 cents per can.

Mrs. Keziah Yocum is visiting in the village.

Clarence Maroney represented the F. & A. M's at Grand Rapids last week. F. Welker and wife, of Washington, D. C., are visiting Mrs. Fred Frey and family. Miss Clara Hemans of Jackson, was among her numerous Chelsea friends a few days this week.

D. B. Taylor was in Jackson several days this week attending the annual meeting of the A. O. U. W. We are informed that I. M. Whitaker has sold his fine farm about six miles east of here for $12,000. We hope the report is true. The Baptist society will tender its pastor, Rev. D. H. Conrad, a donation some evening week after next. Further particulars next week. Michigan weather this week again. Monday night rain; Tuesday morning, cold; Wednesday mooning, below zero; Thursday noon, roads muddy.

Hoag & Holmes completed their inventory last week, and at once went to Grand Rapids and bought a quantity of furniture for early spring trade. now meet Monday evenings for prac, I. M. Whitaker's, next Tuesday, Feb. tice and Friday evenings for instruc- 10th, at 2:50 p. m. She will also talk opened dressmaking parlors in the address the Lodge in open meeting at rooms formerly occupied by Miss Lus- 7 o'clock of the same evening. Subject: ty, and will be be pleased to have you "My visit to Dixie." Everybody corcoll on them.

Orrin Hoover made Chelsea friends a visit Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Ella Whitaker is visiting Miss Alta Parker in Ann Arbor.

Miss Nettie Hoover is assisting the Saline Observer a few weeks.

Howard Everett is spending several weeks in Washington, on business and pleasure.

Many of our citizens are wishing for water is limited.

sister, Mrs. E. E. Morse. Blanche Cole has a cat which, though pounds. Who has a heavier one?

Friday is the dull day in that city.

Bert Vogel, who spent several days last fall-can't get it! here after returning from Minneapolis, Rapids.

wool facinator. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this notice.

Dexter citizens will do away with the workingnens, citizens, peoples etc., tickets, and just have straight party tickets at the village elections.

The rope table and rope ornament craze has struck this, town with a vengeance, and many husbands are thinking of taking to the woods.

Miss Blodgett received a telegram from Milwaukee, Saturday evening, announcing the death of a brother. She left on the Sunday evening train for that city.

H. S. Holmes & Co. are now taking their annual inventory, but expect to get through about February 16, when they expect to have the greatest opening ever seen in Chelsea. See adv.

L. E. Sparks, of Jackson, was here Tuesday. Mr. Sparks has many friends here who would be glad to see him come and take charge of the mill again. -Chelsea correspondence to Argus.

Old times seem to be revived. Geo. Washington and Jefferson Davis, the former of Flint, and the latter of Ann Arbor, being employed as janitors at istration.

subject. Speak up, sisters and brothers.

The fire alarm was sounded Tuesday tinguished after causing a damage of about $25. Had the fire occurred dur- time to prevent Frank's being hung. ing the night, the loss would, no doubt, have been great.

Perhaps the largest tree in this part of the state was cut into four foot wood on E. Daniels' farm near North Lake, last week. It made nine cords of nic four foot wood, the butt thirty feet of the tree measuring four feet two inches in diameter. The tree was over five rods long as it lay on the ground.

Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lowry and Nellie and Earl, left for Platsmouth, Neb., where they will live for a time, at least. Mr. Lowry expects to take charge of a locomotive as soon as he arrives there. We very much regret their removal, but hope their fondest hopes will be realized.

Mrs. Julia Dexter Stannard, district president of the W. C. T. U., will meet in Ann Arbor. The members of the gymnasium the W. C. T. U. of this place, at Mrs. The Misses Geraghty & Howe have at their meeting at 6 o'clock, and will dielly invited.

Mrs. Staffan, whose accident was noticed in our last issue, died this morning, aged 84 years.

The republican county convention for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention, will be held in Ann Arbor, Tuesday, February 17th, This township is entitled to eight del-

The following additions have recently taken place in this vicinity: Jan. rain or snow as their supply of rain 24th, in the family of Ernest Paul; Jan. 26th, in the family of H. Heinin-Mrs. E. H. Keyes went to Lyons, ger; Jan. 29th, in the family of Sam. Tuesday, to spend a tew days with her Guthrie; Feb. 5th, in the family of Henry Lehman.

The publisher of the CHELSEA STANless than a year old, weighs fourteen DARD offers to take the office of county clerk. A word in your ear, Emmert, Dave Rockwell, of Ann Arbor, was from one who knows what he is talkin these parts last Friday. He says ing about: "Don't."-Argus. No, we wont-for the same reason you didn't

The Argus thinks the STANDARD is a has secured a good situation in Grand foe to education. Not so, dear sir; the STANDARD believes in education and Found! Last Friday night, an ice fore not only desires to see the University appropriation bill of $200,000 pass, but also an appropriation of $50, 000 for the Grand Army encampment, at Detroit. We believe the Argus agrees with us on both points.

An Ann Arbor man wants the authorities to look after the street railway company, because they run their cars so fast. If this man will place himself on exhibition at Wonderland, he will draw a larger crowd than the fat woman or lean man. Too fast! What do you want of a street car if it isn't to go fast? Detroit is the only place where street cars are used for funeral processions!

"UNDER THE LAURELS."

Rose Milford and Frank Colewood are adopted children of a wealthy planter, in the south, whose first wife has long since been dead? By the will of the late Mr. Milford, it is found that the estate was principally left to Rose, who was very dear to him. But the second Mrs. Milford, who is still living, together with a friend for an accomplice, attempts to break the will.

Kyle Brantford, in whose hands Mrs. Milford entrusts the settling of the estate, lays plans to marry Rose, and by so doing, get the entire property into the state capitol under the new admin- his own hands. Mrs. Milford, whose affections are fixed upon Brantford, The Register says that the new Bab- gracefully submits to all his plans uncock house will cost ten thousand dol- til she is financially under his power; lars and will contain all the modern then he, with an accomplice, Bob Butimprovements-and a nursery. There ton, sends Frank to jail, under the preare several papers in Ann Arbor which tended offence of horse stealing, and haven't been heard from yet on this compels Mrs. Milford's submission to his marrying Rose. Rose, whose interests are all centered in Frank, in the on account of a fire in Schenks store, depths of dispair is about to submit to several boxes of hats taking fire from fate, when by a happy coincidence, two a burning chimney. The fire was ex- of her friends overhear the plans of Brantford and reach the jail just in

In the midst of a thunderstorm, Rose appears in the jail in search of Frank but is disappointed. Broken-hearted, she is compelled to work in the kitchen with no one but the domestics as her friends. Frank during his absence, is not idle in bringing justice to whom it is due, and returns in time to restore Rose to her once happy condition, and place Brantford and Bob Button in the hands of the sheriff.

The above is a synopsis of the drama which will be rendered by the high school pupils on Friday evening, Feb. 13th, at the Town Hall.

Lima Luminations.

Miss Minnie Steinbach spent last

Miss Nettie Storms is visiting friends

Will Grau is going to Chelsea to learn the tailor trade. The young gent who lost his shirt, tions. The club numbers seventy-five. to the children of the Juvenile Temple claims a lady took it out of the cars. Edmund Hammond is confined to his bed with inflammatory rheuma-

Question for debate Saturday night: Resolved, That the present protective tariff is a benefit to the United States. for red and 94c for No. 1 white.

We have now in our basement, 5000 dollars worth of NEW GOODS in

Wash Goods, White Goods, Black Goods, Dress Goods, Hosiery,

etc., to open as soon as we get through with our annual inventory, which will be about February 16th. Get ready for the greatest opening ever seen in Chelsea. Respectfully,

H. S. HOLMES & CO.

AXES, CROSS CUT SAWS

Best hand-made WARE

all at lowest prices.

at special low prices.

Hardware Stock Complete Best Goods at Lowest Prices.

Markets by Telegraph

W. J. KNAPP.

DETROIT, Feb. 6, 1891. BUTTER.-Market quiet at 13@15c for best dairy. 8c for fair grades. EGGS-Market easy at 18c per doz for fresh receipts.

per bu for store lots. WHEAT-No 2 red spot, 14 cars at 102, 2 car at 101; May 1,000 at 1 03.

POTATOES-Market quiet at 95e

No. 1 white 2 car at 1 00. CORN.-No. 2 spot, 53c.

OATS .- No. 2, white, spot 48c.

Home Markets.

BARLEY-$1 25@1 35 $100 EGGS-15c P doz. LARD—Country wanted at 6@7 OATS—Remain steady at 40@42 POTATOES—Slow sale at 70c. BUTTER-Weak at 12@13c. WHEAT—Is in good demand at 95c

REPORT

CONDITION

Chelsea Savings Bank.

At Chelsea, Michigan, At the close of Business, Dec. 19th, 1890. RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts.... $103,458.35 Stocks, bonds, mortgages, etc 74,036.91 Overdrafts..... Due from banks in reserve 14,322.19 cities..... Due from other banks and bankers..... 11,596.83 Furniture and fixtures . . . 3,640,58

Other real estate..... 4,112.15 Current expenses and taxes paid ..... 1,224.47 Interest paid ..... 561.44 Checks and cash items. . . 1,385.51 Nickles and pennies..... 89.15 Gold ..... 290.00 Silver..... 824.50 U. S. and National Bank

Notes ..... 4,901.00 Total........ $220,443.59

LIABILITIES. Capital stock paid in.... $ 50,000.00

Surplus fund..... Undivided profits..... 9,677.71 Commercial deposits.... 40,453.98 Savings deposits...... 119,017,68

Total:.... $220,443.59 State of Michigan, County of Wash-

I, Geo. P. Glazier, of the above named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

GEO. P. GLAZIER, Cashier.

F. P. GLAZIER Correct—Attest: \ H. S. HOLMES (H. M. Woods

Directors. Subscribed and sworn to before me this 31st day of Dec. 1890.

THEO. E. WOOD, Notary Public,

WM. EMMERT, Publisher. MICHIGAN CHELSEA,

MISS CHARLOTTE CRABTREE (Lotta) is about to build a four-story brick store building to cost $50,000.

THERE were over 8,000,000 kegs of nails produced last year in the United States, of which one-half were cut steel, less than one-fourth cut iron and more than one-fourth wire.

A SYNDICATE has offered the United States $14,000,000 for Alaska. The peninsula cost Uncle Sam $6,500,000. A property which is increasing in value at that rate is a good thing to hold.

RUSSELL SAGE, the financial magnate, is a tall-built, gaunt, keen-eyed, hayseed-looking man, of nervous manuer, with a long, clean-shaven face, fringed with a scraggy, iron-gray chin-beard.

favorably in speed with the fastest war vessels affoat, and the battle ships promise to be among the most formid- his testimony. able and seaworthy of modern floating batteries.

WILEY JONES, colored, owns outright two street car lines, twelve miles in the "setting," rather than in the thought, total length, in Pine Bluff, Ark. He was born there, and was a poor barber fifteen years ago. He is largely interested in real estate.

Some years ago Lady Assington philanthropically sent twenty-four Brit-. ish families to the cape to found an improved colony. She bought land for them, but the result was a failure. The men would not work.

A FRENCH newspaper published the following extraordinary advertisement: "The owner of a lot of 3,000 dozen collars and cuffs of fine linen, valued at 13,000 francs, would exchange them for a country house in the neighborhood of Parls."

EIGHT pin manufactories in New England produce annually 2,000,000 packs of pins. Each pack contains 3,360 pins, which makes a total yearly production of 6,720,000,000 pins. These pins are usually put up in large cases, each case containing 672,000 pins.

VICTOR EMANUEL, the heir-apparent to the crown of Italy, assumed a fictitious title while traveling in Russia and Germany not long ago. The title happened to belong by heredity to an impecunious Italian, who has now sued the Prince for compensation for its use.

ONE of the most artistic and most valuable wedding presents which Princess Victoria of Prussia received was the gift of the King and Queen of Italy. which consisted of a cable chain bracelet of old gold, with a huge emerald in the center, surrounded by diamonds, all picked stones.

ONE day in October, just when a New Jersey fisherman had broken his last hook, a school of fish passed along which he estimated to be twenty miles long and two broad, and packed so closely that they crowded each other out of the water. Of course the hook pleasure to the country. This is an was broken.

THE most recent observations as to the amount of heat the earth receives from the sun show that in clear, pleasant weather 631 per cent. of heat is absorbed by the atmosphere and only 361 per cent. reaches the soil. This figure struction was $64,000,000, and the time rises in October to 41 per cent. and required to do the work was put at sinks to 28 per cent. in January.

UNDER the laws of every State in this Union the man who shoots another man who may be stealing his fruit or robbing his hen-roost can be prosecuted for manslaughter. The idea is that you shall go out and argue with him, and if argument won't do whistle for an officer.

A BELGIAN gun manufacturer says it is a mystery to him what becomes of all the guns made. They are not perishable or easily destroyed, yet year after year the great manufacturers have increased their works while the number of guns and pistols that are made each year is something enormous, and the trade instead of decreasing is constantly growing.

CINCINNATI, besides making 200,000 sets of harness, turns out 60,000 saddles annually. The saddles are of rude manufacture, however, and do not compare with the English article. The finest American saddle made does not sell for more than $30, while the English make are up as high as $250 apiece, and they are worth it, says a manufac-

Every day people think deeply upon these and kindred themes until perplexed and bewildered, and finding themselves no nearer their explanation or solution, they lay them aside, and take up the immediate questions that concern their daily lives.

THE cow tree, the sap of which closely resembles milk, is a native of South and Central América. It is a species of evergreen and grows only in mountainous regions. A hole bored in the wood, or even a wound made in the bark in this remarkable tree, is almost immediately filled with a lacteal-like fluid. Alexander von Humboldt was the first traveler to describe this tree and bring it to the notice of Europeans.

WHEN Lawyer Kimbrough attempted to go on the stand to testify in behalf of his client, at Memphis, Tenn., recently, Judge Du Bose ruled that he must first retire from the case. "The rule of this court is that no attorney in a case can testify for a client," said the Judge. "'Wharton on Evidence' takes strong THE new American cruisers compare grounds against such practice, and I will not permit it." Kimbrough formally announced his retirement and then gave

> THOUGH Mr. Spurgeon's sermons do not profess to be profound; and though their freshness is in the illustration and they are as compact and coherent as the most systematic mind could desire. The direct preparation only takes a few hours-although it must be remembered that in another sense all the preacher's life has been a preparation—and nothing is committed to paper beyond the "heads," which fill half a sheet of notepaper.

> LORD TOLLEMACHE, who has just died in London, at the age of 22, was known as the best landlord in Great Britain. Although the most uncompromising of Tories, he divided his vast estates into small holdings, allotted three acres to each laborer for garden, grazing and tillage; demanded that a cow and pig be kept; had his tenants taught butter and cheese making, and allowed them time to cultivate their holdings, the results of his liberal policy appearing in a large increase of the valuation of his property and the most prosperous and contented tenantry in the United King-

> JUDGE WHEELER of the United States District Court held that the act prohibiting the mailing of envelopes having on the outside words "calculated to reflect injuriously on the character" of the person addressed was violated by sending through the mails letters contained in envelopes bearing the words "Excelsior Collection Agency" printed in large letters across the upper half of the envelopes. The printed words were separate from direction to return if not called for, and the court held that they were obviously placed so as to attract attention and reflect delinquency in making payment upon the persons to whom the envelopes were sent.

> THE rapidity with which work on the Nicaragua Canal is being conducted, as shown by the report of the company engaged in the construction, will give American enterprise to the extent that the corporation at the head of it has an American charter, receives its chief support from American capital, and when finished, will furnish important aid to American commerce. The original engineers' estimate of the cost of conbetween five and six years. Experiences with other enterprises of the kind suggests the likelihood that in neither particular will expectation be completely realized. But even with a moderate advance in each case, the canal must ultimately be a paying in-

> "THERE'S nothing new under the sun," said Leo Ehrlich, the inventor, 'nothing new. Take a recent invention -the telephone, for instance. We thought that was new, but it has since been learned that in India the Brahmins used a telephone long before the birth of Christ. It was similar to the lovers' telephone, and consisted of two stretched sheepskin discs connected by a string, and the priests were able to talk over it a distance of six miles. Many of their miracles were accomplished by simply using the telephone. Take, again, the slot machines that are now all the rage. A similar device was in use by the French monks in the Middle Ages. They needed money and ingeniously constructed a wooden contrivance whereby worshipers could secure a small amount of holy water by drop-

A FEW POINTS FOR YUUR CON-SIDERATION.

Something of Interest to the Farmer, Housewife, Dairyman, Ranchman, Poulterer, and the Beekeeper.

THE HOUSEHOLD.

Ornamenting Plain Glass.

MODE of ornamenting plain glass, suggested by The Decorator and Furnisher, is to paint-the decorative design on silk or linen, and as soon as the surface has been varnished pressing it downward on the glass, after which the back of the linen or silk is gently rubbed, so as to exclude air bubbles. Before using either of these textiles, they must be stretched on a frame, and, if water colors are used, sized with isinglass, but no sizing is required with oil colors. The gloss of the glass will less interfere with the effect if a judicious selection of colors be made, preference being given to those which are subdued. Such paintings, well executed, appear to advantage in the shaded recesses of mantels and cabinets.

A Tried Cure For insomnia.

Every night, at an early bed-time, take a five-grain pill of asaletida—be careful to take no strong medicine after 3 before getting into bed take a hot footbath. Let the water be as hot as can be borne at first, and add a very little hot water as it cools. Be sure to keep well covered up, and to have the feet in the water for a full half hour. A month of this treatment under the most adverse circumstances completely cured the insomnia of a friend who had run the entire gamut of narcotics, stimulants, eating before retiring, and tiring himself out.-Ladies' Home Journal.

Simple Remedies

Wet tobacco will relieve bee or wasp

For nausca, lay a little pounded ice on he back of the neck. For neuralgia, bruise horse-radish and apply as a poultice to the wrist. A couple of figs eaten before breakfast s an excellent laxative, especially for

When suffering from overstrained and fired eyes, bathe them in hot water several times a day.

For a slight cut, bind on a piece of common brown wrapping paper-such as utchers use for wrapping meats.

A tea made by pouring boiling water over sweet flag-root will relieve worm sickness in children, and is also good for the chest, which has first been wrung out in boiling water and sprinkled with Cold water may be drank freely in all fevers, except when the fever is connected with lung troubles, as in such a case it might chill the patient. Another good remedy for bee or wasp stings is common earth mixed to a mudpaste with water. Apply to the afflicted part immediately, covering with a cloth. For rheumatism, take half a glassful of lemon juice for ten nights. Always take it when getting into bed at night. Wear flannel next to the skin, and in cold weather sleep in warm blankets. A good remedy for sore mouth is one teaspoonful each of powdered borax and one teacupful of sage tea. Mix well and rinse the mouth frequently.

A raw cranberry cut in two and onehalf of it bound over a corn, is said to be a sure cure. Another cure is, applying a poultice of stale bread which has been soaked in strong vinegar. Apply at

A little powdered borax thrown into the bath makes the water very soft, and greatly invigorates and rests the bather. This is particularly beneficial to those who are troubled with nervousness or sleeplessness. - Good Housekeeping.

THE FARM.

Pulling Stumps.

Stumps are ugly things in any lot, and particularly in a plow lot. If there are many, especially large, ugly ones, it will pay to buy an extractor; in the absence of this useful machine, the following simple device will prove effective: Get a straight tree about eighteen inches through of sound oak or other rigid timber, about twenty-five or thirty feet long. Get also an extremely, strong cable chain-no ordinary ox chain will do. Hitch a strong, steady yoke of cattle to the small end of the lever and draw it to the stump. Now pass your big chain around a large root and the lever at the same time, about three feet from the butt. Fasten the chain tightly and start the team, driving in a circle. A small stump will come out whole, but a large one may split into two or three sections. The above is the plan adopted by a Prairie Farmer correspondent. Pile up the stumps and when dry burn.

HOME-MADE STUMP PULLER.

THE STOCK RANGIL.

AGRICULTURAL TOPICS, | holds good with many other young ani-

Balking Borses.

the habit of balking it is cheaper and bran, cinders or coal dust, so that they better to shoot him on the spot than to do not touch each other. In the marintry to dispose of him in- any other way. time provinces the peasants use layers of A balkly animal usually wastes the time of other horses and of men working him more than the value of his services, besides giving cause for bad tem- tion of different substances in the preserper and profanity, the damage from vation of eggs. In dry oxygen gas eggs which cannot easily be calculated.

Educating Colts and Horses.

The Rural Guardian gives some very good directions for training a colt, from which we extract the following:

In starting the education of a colt he should be bridle-handled first on one side and then on the other. The trainer should put him about in different directions, forward, backward, to the right and leit, and get him to yield to the bit in little longer; carbolic acid (1 to: 500) each of these directions. This should be preserved them about six weeks. Eggs done both in the stable and yard, and in using the reins for this purpose the trainer should exercise a steady, firm pressure on the bit until the colt yields, when the pressure should be removed at once, in order for him to understand that he has obeyed. When the colt's head can be handled in every conceivable direction, and the muscles of his neck are supple and controlled, then handle the forward feet, then the body, and finish egg rested is covered, because the sillforward feet, then the body, and finish with the hind feet and tail, but it you When each egg is completely covered all can't handle him by the head and compel him to do everything you ask, 'you may be sure you can't handle his heels. When handling the colt's feet, teach him not only to allow you to pick them up and rub and rap on them with a hammer, but to hold them up until you get ready to let them go. Take the tail in o'clock in the afternoon; half an hour your hand carefully, and raise it well up over his back, repeating this until he makes no objection. Take a pole about the size of a sled stake, pole him all over his body, and pry in between his legs until he shows no fear of it. Teach him to stand and allow a harness to be tossed on to and all about him. Handle umbrellas, robes, papers, etc., about his | tion. head and body until he is utterly indifferent to all of them. Lead and back him into and over an old pair of shafts repeatedly, and when he is standing in them raise them up and rub his legs very best-and do it every day." with them, and finally bring the crossbar - against his baunches gently at first, and then more forcibly, until he cares nothing for it. Every colt should be educated to the crossbar, and it is as easy to do, that as it is to educate him to the breeching. All these things should be done to the colt before he is harnessed at all. Besides educating him in these respects, it adds to your control each time you get him to go through some new manoeuvre.

THE APIARY.

Rees for Farmers.

The farmer, above all others, ought to keep a few bees. He need not keep enough of them to make it a burden or a part of his business to care for them, but enough to supply his own table with honey-the purest sweet there is. It is For a cold on the lungs, lay a cloth on always-handy to have in the house. If one has never kept bees he will be unwise to go into bee-keeping rashly or extensively. A few hints, that may help some who are thinking of getting bees this summer, are given by Mrs. L. Har-

It is good policy for beginners' to purchase bees in boxes and barrels, as transferring is not the best kind of work for a novic.e Better buy a good colony or two, not more, of Italians in a movable frame hive. The Langstroth frame is to be preferred, for this reason, two-thirds of the scientific bee-keepers use this frame and bees sell better in hives where this frame is used. Every hive in an apiary should be exactly alike, so that every cover, frame, etc., can be mixed up and all fit when put together. Better alum, one-half teespoonful of soda and choose a live first, and not get a half dozen different ones to see which is pref-

Success in bee-culture is attained only by the faithful performance of many lit tle items. Some people never have any "luck" with bees. Why? One year the moths destroyed them, and another season the swarms left while the hives were being made ready, washed with appletree leaves and salt. A person who expect to make a success in bee-culture must study their lessons well, learn the habits of these industrious insects and their wants, and supply them. Last year the honey crop was an almost complete failure, owing to the severe drouth, and many colonies this spring had not a day's rations ahead. Let there be a long continued cold storm, and bees in this condition must starve.

Their owner must knew their condition, and this is one of the good things of the movable-frame hive. Bees consume stores very fast in the spring because of their rearing so much brood. Scientists tell us that an insect in its larvæ state consumes more food than during the remainder of its life. If a colony is short of honey, the best way to supply it is to remove as quietly as possible an empty frame, and insert a full one in its place. Where no frames of honey are obtainable, feed syrup made of any kind of sugar when bees are flying. Little wooden butter dishes make good feeders, as bees cling to their sides and ever drown as they do in glass or earthenware, unless filled with cut straw

THE PULTRY YARD.

Preserving Eggs.

At a late meeting of the London Society of Arts, Prof. P. L. Simmonds, F. L. G., read a very interesting and instructive paper on this subject. He said there is not much that can be brought forward as to the preservation of eggs. for this question has been very fully discussed and experimented upon in recent years. Cadet de Vaux suggested the plunging of eggs for twenty-four seconds in boiling water, in order to coagulate The Color of Young Colts. that portion of the albumen nearest the inexperienced breeder is often shell, and then to pack them in vessels There are subjects about which people think seriously every day. There is the subject of religion, the subject of human justice.

The inexperienced breeder is often puzzled to guess what will be the color of a new-born colt when it attains maturity. There is always a great change, but we believe that the final color at full age is nearly always indicated by the color of the eyelashes. The rule invention for $5."

The inexperienced breeder is often puzzled to guess what will be the color of a new-born colt when it attains maturity. There is always a great change, but we believe that the final color at full age is nearly always indicated by the color of the eyelashes. The rule ergs are liable to harden. For home consumption the French peasantry have for ages preserved their eggs in a very simple fashion. They take a wooden case or a large barrel, and pack them in When a horse has thoroughly learned thick layers of sawdust, fine sand, chalk, ashes moistened with salt water. The late Dr. F. Grace Calvert found by experiment the following results in the acare unaffected unless punctured; moist oxygen decomposes the eggs. In moist hydrogen or nitrogen, eggs will keep three months. Egg pierced or whole are perfectly preserved in carbonic acid, dry or moist. In chlorine water (1 to 500) eggs kept three months in a closed vessel: in solution of dilute chloride of lime, eggs would not keep two days; lime water and sulphate of lime kept them a immersed in an iodide of calcium solution were, after a month, not to be distinguished by smell or taste from perfeetly fresh eggs. M. Durand, a chemist. at Blois, steeps them in a solution of silicate of potash. This being very viscous, is kept liquid by adding warm water. The eggs are placed in a vessel containing the silicate and afterwards dried. Then the part upon which the over the eggs are placed in any receptacle, and may be left for a year, if necessary, without any fear of their spoiling. Within recent years egg powder has been produced, not a chemical combination, but the contents of eggs dried or condensed. It is stated that these are for omelettes and other cooking purposes, quite equal to new-laid eggs.

THE DAIRY.

Prize Essay on Butter Making.

The following points are those made by Mrs. W. E. Bush, of Sparta, Wis., in a prize essay at a Dairymen's Conven-

To make good butter, all having care of cows and milk should work interestedly, conscientiously and harmoniously, each determining to "do his best-his

Then having good butter cows, they may adopt the following plans with suc-

1: Keep cows in clean, warm, ventilated stables in winter.

2. Treat gently; feed, water, and milk

3. Food in winter: corn, oats, ground, mix with bran, scald, and salt occasionally; also carrots, pumpkins, good timothy, clover, and cornstalks. Avoid turnips, cabbage, and decaying vege-

4. Food in summer: good pasture and fodder-corn.

5. Pure water at all seasons.

6. Scrupulous cleansing of all utensils. 7. Milk rapidly and quietly in pail that strains while milking, or cover pail with folds of mosquito netting; re-strain through both wire and cloth into deep

8. Reduce and hold temperature at 50

10. Keep cream at moderate temperature until thickened, which indicates sufficient acidity.

11. Air by frequent stirring.

12. Churn in summer in early worning every other day, Sundays excepted. In winter not less than semi-weekly. Temperature 60 degrees.

13. Stop churning when in granular state, draw buttermilk and and add weak brine. Place pure white rather thin cloth in large seamless pan, half filled with brine, then remove butter to pan. Gather cloth with hand, repeat until no trace of buttermilk.

14. Butter still in granules, salt (pure dairy one ounce per pound,) by sifting evenly, stirring with ladle and turning

15. Pack immediately in tubs, previously filled with hot brine, then theroughly cooled.

16. Cover neatly with muslin, and set in cool dry place to await shipment.

Dairy Notes.

Any harsh treatment that excites the cow, lessens the quantity and injures the quality of her milk yield. TAKE good care of your stock and there will be but a few. occasions to injure what is the best medicine for them.

WHILE the milk is warmer than the surrounding air, it may be left uncovered, but when colder it may with advantage

IF you have an unprofitable cow in the dairy now is the time to begin to get her ready to turn off. Fat her before cold weather.

The breed of cattle that was supposed forty years ago to do well enough on straw as winter fodder has become extinct because there is now a better breed of farmers.

One of the uses of giving cows salt, especially in hot weather, is that it acts as a preservative in the system. Every one accustomed to test milk can tell by its flavor whether the cows have been getting their salt. There is no doubt, whatever, that the neglect of "salting the cows" spoils the butter and injures the milk for the cheese factory.

As soon as an early crop is off a piece of land, before the weeds, start, plow it up and sow rye. Here is late pasture for cows this year and early feed next. Plow it under next season, if your stock feeds it past grain-bearing, and put in any crop you choose. The moisture and warmth produced by the decay of green stuff turned under is really wonderful.

THE KITCHEN.

Blackberry Pudding.

A pint of flour, a pint of warm water, pinch of salt; mix flour, water and salt thoroughly; add one quart ot blackber-

AROUND THE CAMP-FIRE

coden

chalk.

they narin-

ers of

The y ex-ie ac-reser-

s eggs

moist

moist

keep le are

0 500)

'essel;

Jime,

lime

iem a

- 500)

Eggs

ution

dis-

n per-emist

on of very warm

vessel

wards

h the sili-

place.

ed all

ecep-

ar, if their

hemi-

eggs

that oking

made ivencare

rest-

usly,

-his

they suc-

enti-

milk

und, sion-

good void

rege-

and it 50

ates

ning

Cem-

veak

thin

pan.

il no

pure

ning

set

the

and in-em.

red,

tage

cold

osed

reed alt,

acts

ıbt.

ing

ires

v it

ith em.

gs.

OLD SOLDIERS TALK OVER EXPERI-ENCES AND SPIN YARNS,

The Blue and the Gray Revive Incidents of the Late War, and in a Graphic and Interesting Manner Tell of Camp, March, and Battle.

The Empty Sleeve.

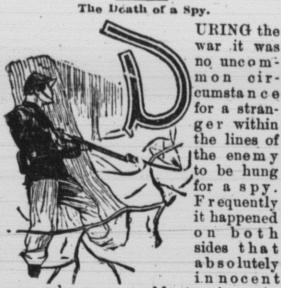

BY PLORENCE EARLE.

You may talk about the pathos In the hardships of the war; You may talk about the glory Of the cause that you fought for; But there's nothing so pathetic As the lesson we receive From the quiet, idle flapping Of the useless empty sleeve.

You may talk about the marches The scant rations and "hard tack;" Of "the last drop in the canteen," And "the empty haversack." There's nothing so convincing in The impression that you leave. As the mute and speechless record Of the useless empty sleeve.

You may speak of Southern prisons, But their horrors could not last; Of the roar and din of battle. And thank God that, too, has passed. But we see a grim reminder. Every morn and noon and eve In the living, speaking presence Of the useless empty sleeve.

Soldiers deck the graves of comrades With the laurel that they won, Poets sing of gallant heroes, And of deeds of great ronown But there's naught in poet's anthems, Or the chaplets that they weave, That can beat the touching story Of the useless empty sleeve.

URING the war it was no uncommon circumsta n c e for a stranger within the lines of the enemy to be hung for a spy. Frequently it happened on both sides that absolutely men who were unable to give satisfactory information concerning themselves met an ignominious death which they did not deserve. Even the epithet of spy coupled with a man's name in those days secured for him the loathing and contempt of his captors, and it was rare indeed that a man could be found with courage sufficient to champion the cause of a prisoner under sus-

Bishop Beckwith, says a writer in the Atlanta Constitution, was one of the men who knew no fear, and during all the years he served as Chaplain on General Polk's staff he was never known to swerve from the path which he considered that duty marked out for him. A striking example of the determination of his character was given toward the close of the war, when, in defiance of the findings of a court martial and in opposition to the sentiment of the entire army, he used every effort to save the life of a spy.

It was during the last year of the Confederacy that a man was found loitering about General Polk's headquarters. He was unable to answer the questions put to him satisfactorily, and, as his whole bearing proclaimed a Northerner, immediately it was said: "This man is a spy. Let him be hung."

A drum-head court-martial listened to the testimony, and as the prisoner could only bring forward his unsupported assertion that he was innocent, he was quickly sentenced to be hung. It was while the prisoner was waiting to be executed that Bishop Beckwith heard of the case, and hurried to offer what consolation he could. Something in the story he was told by condemned man convinced the chaplain that there was some truth in what he had listened to, and by the exercise of his wonderful eloquence he procured a new trial. The accused man's unsupported testimony was, however, not sufficient to convince a court-martial composed of stern soldiers as it had the man of God, and he was again found guilty The highest loss sustained by the and sentenced to be hung the next All the intervening hours the Bishop passed preparing the condemned spy for the dreadful ordeal through which he was to pass, and he even consented go as far as the gallows with the man he had tried to save, though he could not promise that he would stand longed to the famous "Iron Brigade of

by and see the execution performed.

In the gray light of the breaking day a dismal procession took its way to the borders of the camp. In the midst of the soldiers marched a man with his arms pinioned behind him, and by his side was the friend he had found in the midst of his enemies striving to comfort the doomed man in the hour of his sore trial.

Not until the rope was about his neck did the clergyman turn away, so as to avoid the death struggle, and as soon as it was over he hurried back to render the last service possible, and ee that Christian burial was given the lifeless clay.

About the foot of the gallows the oldiers stood looking at the swaying ody. There was no pity in their learts for the life cut off in its prime, had a two-horse ambulance in which fied, but all passed away in the throes and when their chaplain asked them the wounded man had been made as of mania a potu. The dead man's treaties useless, he advanced with a knife, and quietly, but with determination, commenced cutting down the body.

Every man there had received some kindness from the clergyman, and they all loved him well. When they saw that he was in earnest, reluctantly they lent their aid, and in a few moments the body was lying on the

Under the same force of example the soldiers even consented to place the corpse in the coffin, but dig a grave for a convicted spy was asking too much of them, and they refused absolutely to make a beginning.

Without a word of upbraiding or complaint Chaplain Beckwith procured a spade and commenced digging. One by one the hearts of the men softened at the sight of their brave pastor performing, for duty's sake, such an unusual task, and soon a big soldier took the spade from his hands and continued the work. Others came to his aid, and the grave was quickly made.

Finally, when the rough coffin was lowered, all stood with uncovered heads. Captain Beckwith read the Christian burial service, and saw to it that a wooden cross was placed at the head of the mound.

After the war, news of the manner by which the spy received the last offices of the church was carried North and finally reached the dead man's family, Their gratitude has never abated, and even now the Bishop of Georgia frequently receives letters from a distant New England home bearing ever renewed thanks for the kindness shown the enemy of his country while he lived, and the dehim after he was executed.

the highest percentage of killed in action during its whole term of service. The regiment entered the army in June, 1861, and was disbanded at the end of three years. The total number enrolled in that period was 1,203, and this includes non-combatants and the sick and absent, who did not go into battle. There were killed in action 238 men, 19.7 per cent. of those enrolled and very nearly one out of every five. This sanguinary record was not, however, attained by acci-

MONG 300

fighting regiments whose histories appear in Col.

Fox's "Regimental Losses in the Civil War," the Second Wisconsin heads

the list with sacrifice of half its numbers at a stroke. The Second Wisconsin had men killed in action in fifteen battles, commencing at Bull Run and ending at Petersburg. At First Bull Run, Second Bull Run. South Mountain, Antietam, Gettysburg and the Wilderness its losses were heavy, but there were scores of Union infantry regiments that lost a greater portion of their men in some one of these particular engagements and in others as well. regiment in any one of the battles named was at Second Bull Run, where Mountain, where ten fell in action. The loss at Second Bull Run was the result of a long, spirited fight, and in every one of its great battles (it bethe West") it gained prominence through its daring achievements as dent, such as being caught in a slaughter pen on some disastrous field with a well as through its roll of dead.

HE cavalry was falling back before Lee as he was headed for Chantilly and Bull Run; a squadron of us which had been detailed to bring a wounded officer away from a soon be in possession of the advancing Confederates, found ourselves shut in front and rear. We numbered about thirty men, and their old-time enemies each died satisto cut down the body and place it in the rude coffin which had been prepared, they all turned away, saying:

"He was a spy, let him hang there till he rots."

The wounded man had been made as body was carried to Vicksburg, Miss., the home of the dead soldier, by his nephew. His last words were: "Genmile before we discovered the box we mile before we discovered the box we were a Biggs, I have done my duty."

And, as his weak hands were uplifted in a salute, his spirit took its flight.

woods had not yet seen us. The Lieutenant in command consulted with the Major whom we were bringing away, and explained the situation.

"Prepare me as well as you can for the ride, give me a revolver, and then form your men by fours and ride right down on the rebs and cut your way through," was the order of the Major. I was in the advance set of fours, and the man on my right was next to to the highway ditch. All of a sudden, just as we were waiting the order to advance, a little negro boy, not over 3 years old, and as black as the blackest tar ever made, appeared in the ditch alongside of Parker. He seemed to have been hiding in the weeds, and I think he must have fallen out of a cart or got parted from the family as they were hurrying into the Union lines before Lee's advance. At any rate he was there and alone, and as we saw him, Parker said :

"Good lands! but here's a nigger baby right under foot and all alone! What shall we do with him?"

At that moment we got the word to go ahead, and Parker leaned over, picked the child up and placed him in front on the saddle. Two or three of us called to him to drop the boy, but he didn't do it. 'As we moved forward "Pick" was there and hanging on for dear life, his eyes as white as raw onions and every tooth plain to be counted. We were right on the rebels before they saw us, and it was biff! bang! slash! and we opened a lane and went through, every horse on the keen run and the wounded major firing away whenever he found a target for his bullets. When we finally got through "Pick" was with us and all right, and he had seen his first battle of the war. One would have said that he liked it, for his grin was broader than before, and he did not seem a bit

During the bloody days that followed the little fellow was with a company wagon, and I did not see him for a week. Then Parker took him down to Alexandria and left him with a colored woman, but, a few months later, being made company commissary and having the use of a wagon, he brought "Pick" back to the army, got a tailor to make him a suit of clothes, and then the boy was a fixture with us. He took to army life, and every one of the company took to him, and had any one misused "Pick" it would have gone hard with him. He was with us to the very last, and I saw him munching a hard-tack and looking on while Lee's ragged old veterans laid down their arms at Appomattox. termination he displayed in burying | He clung to Parker above all others, and, although the trooper was, a rough fellow and unmarried, the offer of $100 for "his little finger," which was made over and over, was no tempta-

When the war closed "Pick" was taken north to Ohio, sent to school and then put to a trade, and it was only a month ago that I walked in on him in a Cincinnati cooper shop and found him a lusty big fellow with a home and a wife and two children. He had never been back to Virginia, and although he had made many efforts to find his father and mother, not a trace of them had ever been

"I reckon I jist dun got losted in de hurry," he explained, "an' de fam'ly had so many odder ch'll'en dat dey didn't fink it worf while to stop an' look fur me."-Detroit Free Press.

The Last of a Remarkable Band.

HERE died recently on a sleeping-car between Memphis and Nashville the last of a remarkable band of ex-Confederates. His name was Henry Janet, and he died of delirium tremens. With the dead man a nephew watched and waited, and delivered to the authorities several papers, which show the dead man's career to have been a strange and checkered one.

When General Joe Johnston surrendered in 1865, the brigade of which General John C. Biggs was commander, and in which Janet was a Colonel, marched to Atlanta, slipping eighty-six were killed or mortally away from the main army in the dead wounded, and the lowest at South of night, and there disbanded. The officers of the brigade, with the staff, met at a banquet given by the grim old General, and there was formed one of the strangest brotherhoods history records. The "Famous Twenty" composed of the best blood in the South, saw their homes devastated, their hearth-fires destroyed, and had no place to lay their heads. Wine inflamed their already frenzied passions, and they swore eternal fidelity to each other, but that their hands should be against every man who fought against them. They also swore to spend the balance of their lives in riotous living and dissipation. How well they kept their oaths is shown by the fact that in four years thirteen had crossed over into the unknown, and house which would in 1030 only one was left, the man who died on the sleeping-car. A diary shows that not one of the "Pamous Twenty" died a dishonorable death, and though they failed to harm any of

In a Land of Cannibals.

The Rev. William Watt, a missionary of the New Zealand Presbyterian church, on the Island of Tanna, in the New Hebrides Islands, was at the Midland yesterday. Mr. Watt is a tall and bearded Scotchman with the Scotch accent. To a Journal reporter he

"On the Island of Tenna, where fam stationed, there are eighteen missionaries and 140 native teachers. The population of the island is about 60,000. The natives are of a brownish color and are almost entirely uncivilized, although they are rapidly taking to the teachings of Christianity and are gradually adopting the customs of civilized beings. In their savage state they go entirely naked and are fierce cannibals. They eat only those killed or captured in war. In 1839 they killed and ate two missionaries named Harris and Williams. In 1862 Gordon and his wife perished by the same means, and in 1873 Gordon's brother suffered a like horrible fate. You see they have hot gotten me yet, and I presume they think I am too lean to be palatable and toothsome.

"These islanders have no settled form of government, but; are divided into innumerable small tribes or clans, with no one chief of any importance. These tribes are continually making war on each other and no longer use the barbaric implements of warfare, as they have become accustomed to at least product of civilized genius-the Winchester rifle- and use it with deadly effect. The only government in the island is that wielded by a joint commission of the French and British governments.

"These islanders are a shiftless sort of people, living solely off the natural products of the soil, such as the yam, banana, bread fruit, cocoanut, etc., which grow in great profusion in that semi-tropical climate, The bread fruit is supposed by most people to be an article of food that can be plucked from the tree and eaten without any preparation, but, on the contrary, it has to be prepared by cooking it. The natives possess almost no property and seem to have no idea of accumulation and use.

"The native worship is idolatry and a worship of their ancestors. Some of ture. the islanders have wooden goods, and sacrifice to these deities. They also practice polgamy and intermarriage closely. But while they hold it legal for sisters' children or brothers' and sisters' children to marry, they do not are all called wives by the son, although he may claim but one of them in

The country is a much warmer one than this, the temperature running from 70 degrees to 90 degrees in the house. As you may imagine, it is very lonely on the island for us, as we see no other white men on the island but ourselves, except twice a year when the steamer comes from Australia on its semi-annual trip."-Kansas City Jour-

Sawdust Brandy,

revolution in the lumber trade. An eminent German sanitary expert says that the chemists have succeeded in making a first-rate brandy out of sawdust. Herein is the promise and potency of economy in the management of saw-mills at once startling and interesting. The cause of prohibition gets a serious set-back when it is reflected that the veteran "soaker" who finds the saloons all closed has only to provide himself with a hand-saw to go out and get as full as a "biled" owl on a fence rail. Talk about the wanton deforesting of our wooded demesnes why, there wouldn't be a fence left standing along the highways upon which the peripatetic tramp pursues the even tenor of his way. We shall have reached an appalling down grade of social demoralization when a man may drink the shingles off his own roof, and the legs off his wife's piano or best bedstead, to say nothing of the jim-jams possibly to be extracted from the window sills of and his iniquitous coadjutors pay for it. her domicile. Why, even the pretty moral of the "Old Oaken Bucket" is lost in the reflection that it is made of wood, and liable at any moment to be transformed into sawdust and thence into a brandy cocktail. If this new chemical wrinkle is susceptible of practical demonstration, and the sawdust pass an unholy and atroclous deed. It was distillation not too complicated and what they did with Huss. It was "safe costly, it will take a lightning calculator to figure out the possible rise in the price of the waste of the saw-mill and the corresponding enhancement of all timber values. Our lumber trade would experience a marvelous activity, ality and, indeed, of religion. Throw the and we should have to buy a faster printing press to meet the demand for copies of the Lumberman and we doubt | proclaim a kind of fast. We need not look if types and paper would hold out to meet the rush upon our want columns of the new investors in the lumber deals. The saddest reflection of all would be naturally in the destruction of our fondest poetic fancies by this cold, practical absorption of the sylvan charms of our suburban retreats. The lisped numbers of the "Talking Oak" of the poet-laureate would degenerate into the maunderings of a stuttering inebriate, and the touching tones of Morris be paraphrased to run: "Woodman (hic), share that tree; touch not a (hic) shingle bough—in youth it sheltered me, and (hic) I'm going to drink it up now," and then the iconoclast flattened with the divine afflatus might moralize thus man who built larger barns was on his way down to take possession of his so-called down to take possession of his so-called

Leaves have their time to fall,
And so have I,
But difference twixt léaves and me,
I falls more harder and more frequently. -Southern Lumberman.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL

SERIOUS SUBJECTS CAREFULLY CONSIDERED.

A Scholarly Exposition of the Lesson-Thoughts Worthy of Calm Reflection-Half an Hour's Study of the Scriptures -Time Well Spent.

The lesson for Sunday. February 8, may be found in 1 Kings 21:1-16. GOLDEN TEXT.-Take heed, beware of covetousness—Luke xii. 15.

INTRODUCTORY. The lesson before us, regarding covetousness, is incomplete unless we read on to the end of v. 19, at least. There we find the fruit of covetousness and its companion sins. For there were three flagrant crimes committed here; the crime of covetousness, for such, considering its results, it may be called, the crime of perjury and the crime of murder. The denouncement speaks as loudly as words can speak it, for all time and for all trangressions: "The wages of sin is death.'

WHAT THE LESSON SAYS. Naboth. An independent land-owner under the Jewish theocracy.- Jezreelite. Jezreel had been chosen by Ahab as his royal residence. It signifies God will sow or scatter. Its site was in the valley, or on the hill-side between Mount Gilboa and the Hill of Moreh, at the north (Esdrealon). A vineyard or orchard. First meaning, cultivated land, probably his home, his ancestral estate. - Hard by the palace. But the palace had been placed there later by Ahab. - King of Samaria, or Israel. Designated by its chief portion. A garden of herbs. A greenery; not so much for vegetables as for plants; a conservatory. Ahab had an eye to landscape gardening and would sacrifice his neighbor's comfort for his own gratification. - My house. Said to have been most magnificent. -A better vineyard. Hebrew idiom: good above it. ---Or if it seem good to thee. Hebrew: good in thine eyes. --- Worth of it. Translated, gift, in the recompense for the maiden, Gen. 34: 12. It suggests the curious trading torms of the Orient. See Abraham's transaction for the burial place in Machpelah, Gen. 23: 3-17. The Lord forbid it me. A marked Hebrew idiom. Literally, profanation to me from the Lord, should I give. This identical Hebrew is to be found at 1 Sam. 24:6, where David refuses to slay Saul in the cave. Naboth was a believer in God .- The inheritance of my fathers. There was a religious direction as to this. Numbers 36:7. Heavy. Hebrew, sad., Rebellious. - Displeased. First meaning, to boil, spoken of his vexed feelings .- I will not. There was still some respect for the sacred laws of the nation .- Would eat no bread. An indication of the childish weakness of Ahab's na-

Jezebel. Daughter of Ethbaal, king of the Sidonians, a heathen of the heathens. -Sad. Same word translated heavy in

And set. Same word again. (Shoo) as in 's. 8 and 9.—Sons. Like "brood of vipers." -Belial. From beli: not and yaal; to profit, i. e., no account, good for naught; allow the children of brothers to marry abandoned. Such men can be found, to each other. Indeed, it is considered serve the devil's purposes, in any commuthe thing for a brother's son to marry a sister's daughter, and these daughters bless. It also means to give parting salute, i. e., to renounce, which seems to be the signification in this connection. It is used in the same way, we are inclined to believe, at Job 2: 9, "Curse God and die." (Say goodby), the word here again being barak, so also Job 1: 5; 2: 5.

Inhabitants, or, as before suggested, vs. 8, 9, and 10, where the same word is used, session or council.-Did as Jezebel had sent. Willing tools.

Proclaimed a fast. As betokening that omething had gone wrong in the kingdom. And there came. Better as in the Revision (Variations). And the two men came. -Out of the city. Very exact in the letter (Lev. 24: 14); very loose as to the spirit of the law. -Stoned him with stones, Lev.

To Jezebel. It was at her instigation. And now look out for a startling -Naboth is stoned and is dead. A genuine laconic.

For money, i. e., what you could not get for money, I give you for nothing .- But dead. Hence, legally naught.

Take possession, i. e., to seize by force is the first meaning of the word. WHAT THE LESSON TEACHES

The Lord forbid it me. The king bids: the Lord forbids. Which shall be heard? There is no hesitancy in Naboth's mind. He is, at one and the same time, a selfrespecting citizen of the realm and a selfsurrendered servant of God. He teaches the king two lessons, alas, unheeded: that there are limitations to kingly demand and that there is a higher authority than the earthly ruler. Naboth is, in fact, an early advocate of Magna Charta, the rights of the people. He is also an early Protestant in the name of the true God and true allegiance: and like the early Protestants he became also a martyr to the truth.

I will give thee the vineyard. It is the voice of despotism and of the usurpation of power. Such voices spoke in the ears of Charles the First of England when his servants and agents in high station overrode, in his behalf, the law of the nation and the will of the people. Dearly did he So also Ahab and his despicable partner in vice. When even in history such a presumptuous sentiment speaks itself, it sounds the first death-knell of the arrogant authority that give it utterance. "Pride goeth before destruction and a haughty spirit before a fall."

Proclaim a fast. Hypocrisy, pure and simple. A holy day named in order to comconduct" they had promised him when they sent him to his death. As Carlyle sententiously says, that was not well done. It was as vilely done in Naboth's case. There is talk of opening the gates of the World's Fair on Sunday. The willest advocates of such a measure urge it in the name of mordoors, for sooth, open, and have some great services inside the grounds; as it were, far to see the Naboth's vineyard they are

Then they carried him fourth out of the city. They were very careful to keep the law. It would have been a fearful thing to slay a man inside the city or to hurl anything else than stones at him. Very pious were they about it all. They had a clue once to an atrocious murder that was committed on the outskirts of London, in that the miscreants confiscated everything but the meat in the basket. And why did they leave that? It was "good Friday."

Arise, take possession of the vineyard. And he arose to do it. That was Ahab's intention. God had another purpose. The wicked king arose to hear the sentence of his condemnation pronounced upon him Naboth was dead, Elijah was not, and God still lived. It is on the way down to take possession of the stolen property that most men meet their just awards. The covetous gains when the "thou fool" presaged his death.

Next week.—"Elijah Taken to Heaven."

NUGGETS OF GOLD

FROM EVERY QUARTER OF THE GLOBE.

The Latest Intelligence Received by Wire from Distant Lands and at Home-The Cream of the News Gathered from All

Quarters of the World. ACTION ON WINDOM'S DEATH.

Resolutions of Respect Adopted and a Committee Appointed to Attend the Funeral.

THE solemn and impressive duty of announcing the death of Secretary Windom to the Senate was performed by Mr. Morrill, the venerable "Father of the Senate." When the Senate was called to order on the morning of the 30th, nearly every Senator was in his seat, and it was obvious from the air of solemnity that pervaded the chamber that something out of the ordinary had occurred. There was also an air of sadness in the House, and unusual attention was paid to the prayer of the Chaplain. Resolutions of respect were adopted and a committee appointed to attend the funeral. Both-houses then adjourned until after the

FAILURE AT BUTTE.

Attachments Levied on the S'ore of James R.

Boyce, Jr., & Co. Ar Butte City, Mont., an attachment was levied on the store of James R. Boyce, Jr., & Co., one of the oldest and largest dry goods houses in the West, for $60,000, forcing an assignment. The assets are stated to be $125,000; liabilities estimated at $100,000.

Several Battles in Chili.

THERE have been desperate and sanguinary battles fought in the provinces of Chili between the rebel-forces and the government troops. Many have been killed on both sides, but the reports are conflicting as to which side proved victorious. Twelve thousand Chilian Government troops, dispatched from Valparaiso against the insurgents, have revolted and joined the rebel forces.

Whole Town Wipad Out.

FIRE wiped out the little town of Cygnet, Ohio. Six blocks were burned, and the following p rsons are known to have perished in the flames: C. Maloney, Frank Satterly, Gertrude Satterly. The loss will reach $100,000, with little or no insurance. The cause is unknown.

Relief for Sufferers

THE Nebraska House indefinitely postponed the bill providing for a recount of the votes cast at the late election on the prohibitory amendment. The bill appropriating $100,000 for the relief of the drought sufferers in the western part of the State was passed by a unanimous vote.

An English Statesman Gone.

CHARLES BRADLAUGH, the eminent free thinker and member of the House of Commons for Northampton, died at London. Mr. Bradlaugh was one of the most remarkable men that England has produced during the last half cent-

Taken to Washington.

THE remains of the late Secretary Windom were taken to Washington, accompanied by a large party of prominent New York men. Congress has adjourned as a mark of respect, and public buildings fly flags at half-mast

A. Crazy Minister Sentenced.

NOTWITHSTANDING his mind is affected, Rev. William Mitchell. of Fort Worth, Tex., is found guilty of forgery and sentenced to two years' imprison-

To Quit Business.

· DIRECTORS of the Anglo-Nevada Assurance Company at San Francisco resolved to reduce the capital stock from $2,000,000 to $500,000 preparatory to going out of business.

Shut Down.

THE Bellefonte (Pa.) Furnace Company's furnace, ore banks, and quarries shut down for an indefinite period, owing to an increase in freight tariffs, throwing 660 men out of employment.

Stricken w th Death.

News of the sudden demise of Francis B. Ogden, ex-Consul to Bristol, England, from heart disease, comes from New #### Missouri's Back Un.

THE Missouri Senate passed a resolution pledging itself not to appropriate any money for the World's Fair should the force bill become a law.

Failures for the Week.

Business failures for the week number 390, as compared with 380 last week, and 291 in the corresponding week of

Little Girl Killed.

KATIE KOPHEF, 8 years old, died at Pittsburg, the result of a wound inflicted by a stone thrown by an unknown

The Western Way.

Two Masked men entered a San Franeisce stere, held four persons at bay, stole $300, and escaped.

Scared to Death.

· JOHN AROKEN, a stockman who was a passenger on a train wrecked by an open switch near Kansas City, died of fright.

Sculp or's Wite Dead

the American sculptor, died at Florence, guereau's "Return of Spring," valued at | Secretary of the Interior, to succe

Senator Hearst Improving.

SENATOR HEARST'S condition is reported improving.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

EASTERN OCCURRENCES.

SCOTTDALE, Pa., coke workers to the number of 16,000 threaten to strike Feb. 2, if their wages are not raised.

COMMUNICATION with the world was suspended at New York during the prevalence of a frightful storm. All local traffic was stopped, wires were down, and the mud was a foot deep.

At New York a carriage in which Senator Stanford was riding came in collision with a street car. The Senator was thrown out, and received a cut on the left temple, and bruises on his arm and shoulder.

In a fit of drunken bravado, George Schneider, of Erie, Pa., placed the muzzle of a pistol in his mouth. He pulled the trigger too hard and will die. B. B. HOPKINS, a prominent Wall street broker, cut his throat while temporarily insane. He will die.

Ar Boston, while drunk, John Kelly shot his father, aged 70, through the head, killing him instantly.

JOHN BASKE, while oiling machinery at Pittsburg, Pa., was caught by a shaft and whirled around until his legs were thrashed off above the knees. He will GIANT POWDER exploded at Crafts' Station, N. Y., and literally blew Section Foreman Connelly to pieces. His remains wouldn't fill a peck measure.

It is estimated that the damage done by the great storm that swept the East will not fall short of $6,000,000.

AT Youngwood, Pa, 107 bodies have been recovered from the mine, and it is thought that forty-four more are yet interred. So far no evidence is found that any of the dead victims lived a second after the explosion.

SEVERAL workmen were seriously injured by an explosion at Arlington, N. J., which demolished the celluloid fac-

Four workmen at the Duquesne steel works in Pennsylvania were fatally burned by molten steel.

WESTERN HAPPENINGS.

WM. WRIGHT, an old bachelor deacon of the New Bedford (Ohio) Presbyterian Church, has been deposed by the congregation because church law requires that all deacons must be married and have his children in good subjection.

A LEWISTON (Idaho) special says Robert Ray Hamilton, of New York, is still alive, and the whole story of his death was a carefully prepared plan to get rid of his mistress, the adventuress, Eva

WM. ROBINSON alias James Reed, of Grand Rapids, Mich., is arrested for pension frauds. He has married a dozen soldiers' widows and skedaddled with their pensions.

FIVE "husky" boys at Anderson, Ind., tried to whip their teacher, Edgar Farmer. Each carried a black eye and bloody nose. Farmer was unhurt.

AT Westport, Minn., Mamie Ronnigan refused to wed Chris Abramson, who then shot the girl dead and committed

MILTON TOOTLE, JR., of St. Joseph, Mo., heir to a million, eloped with Belle Gordon, aged 16, the daughter of a poor

JAMES MILLER, old soldier of Kokomo, goes to jail for thirty days for refusing to answer census questions. AT Mill Grove, Ind., three people will die from effects of an explosion at a gas A HUMANE bureau has been established at Kansas City to prevent the shipping of hogs and cattle in the same cars resulting in many of the animals being maimed or killed. Several - shippers have been fined for their cruel economy.

AT Fort Morgan, Col., Mrs. Thomas Bennett hanged herself. Her mind was unbalanced through the loss of her husband's savings by the failure of a bank at Greeley. MORMON DELEGATE CAINE, at Washington, denies that Mormons are about to leave Utah. He says increasing numbers demand more room, and that but a colony will go to Mexico. LATEST advices are that Capt. Godfrey and six soldiers of the Seventh Cavalry were fatally injured in the Union Pacific wreck at Irving, Kan,

THE cause of the Indian scare in Minnesota lies in the fact that Swedes and Norwegians stole timber from the reser-

AT Stella, Neb., City Marshal Gaslin shot John Kennedy. Family affairs were at the bottom of it. Gaslin is ar-

FRANCIS MURPHY, the renowned temperance evangelist, is seriously ill at Morristown, Ind.

THE Northern Pacific paint shop at Brainerd, Minn., burned, causing a loss of $50,000.

THE body of B. H. Campbell, the Chicago millionaire, who so mysteriously disappeared from his home Thanksgiving Day, was found floating in the r'ver. The corpse was easily recognizable. The discovery greatly simplifies the settling of his large estate.

AT Holliday, Kan., C. A. Hoy and lots were cast. his wife were struck by a passenger train. Mrs. Hoy was instantly killed, and her husband severely wounded. land is the choice of Democratic farm-They had been married only about a recovering from the same disease. They all ate half-cooked pork Dec. 29. Ar Chicago the Western Refrigerator Company's building was fired by exploding ammonia and totally destroyed. The loss is $100,000; fully covered by insur-

THE building of the Western Art Association at Omaha, Neb., collapsed

Mrs. Andrew Davis and Mrs. Meyers, at Osgood, Ind., assaulted Miss Ida Ewing in church, and beat her so it is thought she will die.

THE State National Bank of Kansas City went into voluntary liquidation. It was organized in January, 1887, with a capital of $250,000.

GEORGE J. GOODMAN and Ed Hunt, of Kansas City, were soundly cowhided by the mothers of two girls they had enticed away. JUDGE THAYER, at St. Louis, dismissed a suit against Selwyn Edgar for violating the alien contract labor law on the ground that there was no contract, as Edgar in a letter asking two men in England to come over to work for him and inclosing tickets to St. Louis had said he could give them steady work, not that he would.

TEN tramps attempted to take possession of a passenger train at Tippecanoe, Ohio. They attacked the train crew with knives; the latter were re-enforced by the engine men, and finally drove the tramps out of the car after shooting three of them. two mortally.

AT Bellaire, Ohio, the principal of a ward school chastised a 14-year-old girl pupil for chewing gum. She went home crying, but later returned, accompanied by her mother, when both attacked the teacher, gouging his eyes so that it is thought he will lose his sight.

THE Cherokee strip is swarming with boomers. The Dill-O'Connor colony, numbering 2.500, containing none but well-equipped farmers, is the most prominent and has started the town of Enid.

It was reported that the wheat crop of Nebraska was 10,000,000 bushels short of the amount reported by the Governor, and that the growing crop was in bad condition.

Nicholas Siennas was found lying in the bushes, with thirty-three wounds in its trunk. It was evidently the work of an Italian with a stiletto. Eight men are imprisoned in raging

AT Park Side, Ill., the body of flames in the Chaplin Mine, Michigan. All shafts are closed down to prevent air from fanning the furious blaze. T. A. MANN, of Minden, Neb., becoming enraged at a cow, tied her in a stall and sawed her legs off. He was compelled to flee to escape lynching. WHEAT touched the dollar point at St. Louis, causing much excitement among the bear element and heavy losses. No failures were reported. JOHN NILES, a horsethief, was shot in Montana. The balance of the gang was arrested.

GEORGE E. CRAWFORD, ex-Governor of Kansas, died at Grand Junction, Col.

BECAUSE he couldn't win her love, Charles Goble of Kansas City shot Anna Luther and killed himself.

SOUTHERN INCIDENTS.

CITIZENS of Woodville, Miss., in massmeeting adopted a resolution warning S. A. Bradford, who wrecked a pay train on the L., N. O. & T. Railroad recently, and escaped punishment through a technicality, to leave the country immediately and never to return, on pain of death.

WILSON HOWARD, the famous Kentucky desperado who has killed eight men, was arrested at San Francisco and taken to Missouri, to answer to a murder charge.

THE West Virginia Legislature has passed a resolution to make no appropriation for the world's fair until the fate of the election bill is decided.

GABE STRICKLAND, a convicted murderer at Amite City, La., was forcibly taken from the Sheriff by his friends.

Ar Overton, Texas, the boiler of the Reed & Henry saw-mill exploded, killing Gill Henry and Dan Tucke, and fatally wounding John Austin, a colored man.

ROBERT DOTSON and John Banks fell under a train on the Louisville & Nashville road at Memphis, Tenn., and were instantly killed. The men were stealing

AT Fort Smith, Ark., Deputy United States Marshal Bass Reeves was shot and killed by a negro outlaw named Ned Christie. Christie was being arrested for a murder committed some

H. C. KEEBLE, of Selma, Ala., head of the Keeble Company, which failed for $250,000 a few days ago, has fled the

OUT of a capital stock of $165,000, President Moore of the People's Bank, at Fayetteville, S. C., left $65,000. He is arrested.

POLITICAL PORRIDGE.

In grand committee the Rhode Island Legislature declared Oscar Lapham (Dem.) elected to Congress from the First District. There was no election in the Second District, and a new election will be ordered. A committee reported that in both districts 2,045 defective bal-

THE result of the canvass conducted by two farmers' papers shows that Cleveers by a vote of 71,787 to 17,118 for Hill. Republicans are for Blaine by 39,209 to 31,013 for Harrison.

THE Wisconsin Legislature, by a vote MRS. BALL, the wife of Thomas Ball, while a wall was being repaired. Bou- of 82 to 45, has elected W. F. Vilas, ex $20,000, and other costly pictures were Senator Spooner in the United State

Is dangerously sick, and two others are succeed John J. Ingalls in the United | THE NATIONAL SOLONS

States Senate. JOHN P. JONES was re-elected United States Senator from Nevada for the fourth time, receiving 54 votes out of 60.

FOREIGN GOSSIP.

THE Liberal party in England has espoused the cause of the Scotch railway

DEBATE in the Reichstag shows an overwielming sentiment in favor of the admission of American pork, and the prospect is that the embargo will be quickly removed.

SOUTHEASTERN Russia is suffering terribly from cold and starvation. Many deaths are reported. The worst snow storm for years prevailed, isolating many

THE barque City of Papeete brings news of a serious revolt against French rule at Tahitl. The natives want the United States to protect them. London physicians have given up hope of the recovery of Leonard W. Jerome. Mr. Jerome is probably the most noted man in racing circles in SEVERAL leprous Russians and Russian Jews have sailed from Odessa for America. Quarantine officers are watching all ports.

FRESH AND NEWSY.

THE B. P. O. Elks have bounced John L. Sullivan, because he is "unworthy to associate with gentlemen, and his conduct has brought shame and disgrace upon the order." All lodges are ordered to refuse him admission.

THE strike of conductors and traindispatchers on the Chicago and Erie Railroad came to an end, and trains were at once put in motion, after having been tied up three days.

H. RIDER HAGGARD and W. Hosea Ballou have formed a partnership to publish their future novels jointly, so each can protect the other by copyrights in this country and Europe.

THE revolutionists in Chili are bombarding Porto Coquimbo, and have blockaded the port of Tongoy. Limache Alto and Quillota are in their control. Three thousand government troops are ordered to Porto Coquimbo.

S. B. MARTIN, of Texas, returned from England, says the sentiment there is greatly in favor of American dressed beef. Our inspection laws have restored confidence.

AT Alcatraz Island, near San Francisco, Surgeon Wm. D. Dietz, of the Fifth Artillery, killed his wife and then suicided. Insanity.

its first dividend-312 per cent. on first preferred stock. In his will, Historian Bancroft bequeaths his entire estate in trust to his relatives. CAVITT's glass packing rooms at Pittsburg, Pa, burned; loss, 25,000; fully insured. The Central Church of Christ, newly completed but never used, burned at Detroit, Mich.; loss, $28,000; insurance, $10,000.

THE missionary ship Phoebe Chapman. which sailed from Honolulu a year ago in charge of Elder Cudeny, of Nebraska, is given up as lost. Wreckage from her is reported from Tahiti islands.

A TERRIFIC storm at the island of Massowah caused the death of over one hundred people and enormous loss of prop-

THE cruiser San Francisco has returned to Mare Island Navy Yard from her final trial trip. Members of the examining board and all officers speak in the highest terms regarding the seagoing qualities of the ship.

REPRESENTATIVES of every linseed oil mill in the country, handling 13,000,000 bushels of linseed yearly, met and advanced the price of oil 50 cents per barrel.

MARKET REPORTS.

I	CHICAGO.
١	CATTLE-Common to Prime $	3.25	60 5	.75
1	Hogs-Shipping Grades	3.00	@ 3
١	SHEEP	3.00		.00
ı	WHEAT-No. 2 Red	.94	Ä	.95
1	CORN-NO 9	.4914	in	50
1	OATS—No. 2. Byr—No. 2.	.43%	(6)	.44
1	RypNo 9	.70	a	.79
	British Choice Creamery	.22		.26
	BUTTER—Choice Creamery CHEESE—Full Cream, flats	.10	8	.10%
	EGGs—Fresh	.22	46	.28
	POTATORS—Western, per bu	.90	(6)	.95
	INDIANAPOLIS.	.50		.80
		9.50		. 00
	Hogs-Choice Light	3,50	.00	0,00
	SHEEP-Common to Prime	3.00		0.75
	BREEF-Common to Frime	3.00	(4	4.75
	WHEAT-No. 2 Red	.90		.9512
				.50%
	UATS-NO. 2 White	.45	60	.46
	ST. LOUIS.
	CATTLE	4.00	@	5,50
	Hogs	3.00	(0)	3.75
	HOGS WHEAT—No. 2 Red	.97	@	.98
	CORN-No. 2.	.48	40	.49
	OATS-No. 2	.44	(0)	.45
	BARLEY-IOWA	.68	0	.70
	BARLEY-IOWACINCINNATI.
	CATTLE	3,00	(0)	4.50
	H0G8	3.00	60	3 75
	SHEEP	3.00	a	5.75
	WHEAT-No. 2 Red	.95	with	961
1
	WHEAT-No. 2 MILWAUKEE.
	WHEAT-No. 2 Spring	89	•	.91
				.50
	OATS-No. 2 White	45		.4634
l	OATS-No. 2 White	71	10	.79
	BARLEY-No. 2 DETROIT.	.65	100	.66
1	DETROIT	.00	9
à	L CATTLE.	3 00	40	4 50
1		3.00	64	3,50
ō	SHEEP	3.00	69	4.75
1	WHEAT-No. 2 Red	06	-
1	WHEAT—No. 2 Red. Conn—No. 2 Yellow.	50	14 @	.961
	OATS-No. 2 White	47	79 (5)	.513
1	WHEATTOLEDO,	021	1500	.48}
	WREAT	06	1/ 69	000
d	I CORN—Cash	=+	16 CO
į	OATS-No. 2 White	.01	200	.523 ž
i
ļ	Hogs-Medium and Heavy	9.00	(a)	5.00
	WHEAT-No. 1 Hard	3.00	(0)	4.00
Ü	CORN-No. 2.	1.07	1200	1.083
į	CATTON CAST LIBERTY.	.53	(c)	.56
	LATTLE-Common to Priva	4.00	TO THE
į	Hogs-Light	4.00		5,25
	1 SHEEP-Medium to Const	8.25		4.00
į		4.00		5.50
ļ	NEW YORK,	5.00	(4)	6.50
			2000
į		3.50		5.78
	SHEEP	3.2		4.00
	SHEEP. WHEAT—No. 2 Red.	4,00	(0)	4.75
ē	The state of the s	1.06	500	1 111

SENATE AND HOUSE OF REPRE-SENTATIVES.

Our National Lawmakers and What They Are Doing for the Good of the Country-Various Measures Proposed, Discussed, and Acted Upon.

In the Senate, on the 24th, there was no grayer, no journal, no morning hour, and only an exact quorum present - fortyfive Senators. The sensation of the day was the speech of Senator Stewart, of Nevada, against the force hill. Though a Republican, he has taken a position upon this question squarely in line with the Democrats, and so forcibly that there is a rumor that he will not be invited to future Republican caucuses for the debate of the bill. Mr. Stewart affects to find in the bill sufficient explanation of recent Democratic successes, and predicts further reverses for the Republican party if the bill is passed. He characterized the bill as an iniquitous measure, and declared that its principle, if carried into effect, would be more prejudicial to human liberty than secession itself. He questioned the constitutionality of the bill, and upon this point. had a sharp tilt with Mr. Hoar. Mr. Morgan also spoke against the bill, and held the floor at adjournment. After the customary squabble over the approval of the journal, led by Mr. Breckinridge, the House went into committee of the whole (Mr. Burrows of Michigan in the chair) to consider the naval appropriation bill, and soon after adjourned to noon of the 26th.

AT noon of the 26th the Senate reassembled, in continuation of legislative session. Mr. Morgan resumed his opposition to the election bill, yielding only to Mr. Wolcott, who moved to proceed to consideration of the bill. A counter motion to lay Mr. Wolcott's on the table was defeated -35 to 34-Senators Cameron, Jones of Nevada, Stewart, Teller, Washburn and Wolcott voting with the Democrats. Then, by the same vote, the election bill was laid on the table. In the House the matutinal jangle over approval of the journal had been rehearsed, and the roll was being called upon a motion to go into committee of the whole to consider naval appropriations, when news of the Senate's action reached there, and the Democratic side broke out in enthusiastic cheers. "Another Bull Run," said Mr. Brewer of Michigan and wrangling

In the Senate, on the 27th, House bill providing for the payment of Indian depredations claims was considered until 2 o'clock, when the apportionment bill was taken up as the unfinished business, the question being on Mr. Davis' amendment to increase the total number of Representatives from 356 (as proposed in the House bill) to 360; and giving an additional member to each of the States of Arkansas. Minnesota, Missouri and New York. Mr. Davis explained and advocated the amendment. In the House's bill passed for a railway bridge over the Missouri between Council Bluffs and Omaha. The House then went into committee on the military academy appropriation bill. In the course of the general debate, Mr. Rogers at Arkansas, referred to the recent Indian war as unprovoked and indefensible. If the report of the massacre at Wounded Knee were correct, the massacre was the most shameful THE Nickel Plate Road has declared murder in the annals of our national history. the resolution of inquiry had been referred should lose no time in providing for a thorough investigation.

THERE remain but twenty-nine days of the session and the two houses will be required to work with industry to properly complete the necessary legislation within that period. In order to make up some of the time lost the Senate will hereafter meetat 11 o'clock and as the Senate, when it does settle down to work, proceeds with commendable earnestness, ignoring trifles and technicalities, the telated appropriation bills and other measures that are considered urgent will be speedily disposed of. The Senate has five of the thirteen general appropriation bills, of which three are on the calendar, namely, pension, fortifications and army. In addition to these the Senate Committee has in course of examination and will soon be ready to report the navy and District of Columbia bills. Before these are reported the House will have completed several others of the supply bills that are now on the calendar of that body.

SENATORS GORMAN, Gibson and Faulkner, on the 29th, informed the Democratic leaders in the House that they had been formally notified by the Republican Senators in charge of the elections bill that no further effort would be made to bring up either the bill or the closure resolutions. The death of the bill is certain to be followed by the demise of free coinage. It is now doubtful if the free coinage measure will get out of the Coinage Committee unless the House takes it out. The Senate, by a strict party vote passed the apportionment bill just as it came from the House. Four amendments were introduced to increase by one each the Representatives in Congress from Arkauas, Minnesota, Missouri and New York. All were defeated.

What to Teach Boys.

Teach them how to be strictly truth-Teach them shorthand and typewrit-

Teach them economy in all their af-Teach them to be polite in their man-

Teach them history and political economy. Teach them arithmetic in all its branches. Teach them to avoid tobacco and strong drink. Teach them to ride, drive, jump, run and swim. Teach them careful and correct busin ness habits. Teach them how to get the most for their money.

Teach them, by example, how to do things well. Teach them to avoid profane and indecent language.

Teach them habits of cleanliness and good order. Teach them the care of horses, wagons and tools.

Teach them to be manly, self-reliant and aggressive. Teach them to be neat and genteel in their appearance.

Fashion Miscellany. Fans with folding handles are some times seen. FEATHER plush is a novel garniture of the autumn. THERE is a craze among collectors for old tapestries

CLASPS for ball and opera cloaks are studded with stones. VELVET calf is exceedingly popular for ladies' hand-bags and purses.

quietly and T to intr ard : ran a reeded sharp chair. limbs own a his ey but t the luster For

ECRETA

enual right was bere was leath to oul that ion's fi

the c

The d

omplet Vindon

rose to ountry astrum He fla

d bee

aster and at appl

A que embla; hished

Mr. V

are of ty all be ma

tood silent.

o one

At the many collar loor. orro The of all eral depot the White bent of the heart ance one of death behind was d Messelectrapplic growing. For applied the windows

Erty-

em-

Re-

bill

for

t its

d be than

asti-

oint held cus-

the ouse

sider

after

re-

ative

posi-

ly to con-

on to ated

es of laid

tinal

l had

call-ee of ched

ut in

Run.n

gling

pro-

reda-

lock,

n up

stion

rease

from ich of

d and use a r the maha.

In the

ers at

IN WAE

he re-

meful

story.

whom ys of

e re-within ome of hen it s and iation

con-

sposed

irteen

three forti-

of ex-

report

se will e sup-

dar of alkner,

ocratic

d been

Sena-

that no

ring up

utions.

be fol-

easure

tee un-ate, by ortion-

House.

to intives in

. Mis-

truth-

pewrit-

heir af-

r man-

olitical

all its

o and np, run

ct businost for

w to do

and iness and wagons

-reliant

nteel in some-

ture of tors for ks are ilar for ated.

is.

[New York dispatch.] The Hon. William Windom, Secretary of Treasury of the United States, died to-ght at 10:05 o'clock in the banquet hall at Delmonico's, where he was the guest of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation. His had been the first toast of the evening. He had finished his response, had seated himself, swooned at once, and died almost immediately. This was to have been a night of a feast of reason and flow of soul at Delmonico's. The New York Board of Trade and Transportation was to sit CRETARY WM. WINDOM. at its nineteenth nual dinner, and the great gold hall was right with light and colcr. And feasting re was happy and unrestrained, but bath too, sat at the board, and the only and that flowed out was that of the nas financial head. His spirit fled away the close of his speaking, which was the st of the night, and the last. The dinner, which began at 6 o'clock, was indom, introduced by Judge Arnoux, rose to speak, being the first speaker of the rening. He responded to the toast: "Our ountry's Prosperity Dependent Upon Its struments of Commerce."

He finished his speech at 9:55 o'clock. It ad been remarked that he was reading it hurriedly from the printed copy, going ster and faster as he neared the end, nd at last he requested the audience not applaud.

A quiver of fear shot through the asemblage, like an electric shock, when he hished.

Mr. Window was standing erect under the are of the gas-lights, while the faces of e most famous body of men in the counall turned toward him. Something was matter, they knew not what. For a ment the Secretary of the Treasury good silent, while the banqueters, equally lent, watched him. It was a moment that one who was present will ever forget. then Mr. Windom sat down quietly, too uletly many thought, in his seat, and Toastmaster Judge Arnoux arose o introduce ex-Secretary of State Bay-ard as the next speaker. He beran a short speech, but had not proeeded far when Mr. Windom gave a short, harp moan of anguish and fell back in his hair. His face grew purple; his lower imbs stiffened and stretched out, of their wn accord apparently, under the table; out there was no gleam of intelligence in he eyes, which were rapidly losing the

For only a moment he appeared thus. A ery went up from those sitting near the est table.

"Look! Look at Mr. Windom!" Every eye was turned toward the man those voice had just ceased upon the air. At the rear of the hall many stood, and many echoed the cry that Mr. Windom had collapsed in his chair and was falling to the loor. His face was ghastly, and a cry of orror arose from the late festive ban-

There was an immediate rush on the part fall toward Mr. Windom's chair, but sqvral doctors who were present at the dinner bey were Drs. S. A. Robinson, Durant, Whitney, Fisher, and Bishop. Dr. Robinson bent down, and making a close examination of the prostrate form, discovered that the eart was yet beating, and with the assistme of Judge Truax, Captain Snow, and ceathly pale. He was carried into the room whind the banquet hall, and everything as done to resuscitate him.

Messengers were hastily dispatched for ctric batteries, and as many as four were applied to his body, which was rapidly growing cold. This was exactly at 10.05 p. . For six minutes the electric shocks were pplied incessantly, but without success. He was then pronounced dead by Drs. Robnson and Durant. *I would say that the cause of his death was apoplexy," said Dr. Robinson, "if it was not for the history of heart disease. I am inclined to think that heart disease killed him. Mr. Windom was subject to fits of heart failure. On Tuesday last he was seized with an attack while on the steps of the Treasury at Washington, but he did not se consciousness, and was able to take care of himself.",

At 10:11 p. m. Judge Arnoux came out of the room where lay Mr. Windom and anbounced to the diners that Secretary Winom, whom they had the pleasure of hearing only a few minutes before, had breathd his last.

"He is dead," he said. This was the fearful announcement, utred in a voice midway between a sob and whisper, that floated through that gayly edecked banquet hall, around which still nung, like a funeral pall, the smoke of the fter-dinner cigar. "He is dead!" The words went to the eart of every man who heard them.

Could they believe it?
That the brilliant orator of a few minutes efore, that glowed with enthusiasm in prelicting his future policy in the Treasury, was now only inanimate clay. His-voice was forever silenced, and his ast words were for his country.

Every man looked at his neighbor with planched cheeks. Death had indeed been with them at their feast, and taken from the arong one of the nation's chief officers. William Windom, Secretary of the Treasmry, was born in Belmont County, Ohio, May 10, 1827. His parents had immigrated to that region from Virginia. He was brought up on a farm, was educated in the academy at Mt. Vernon. Ohio, studied law, and was admitted to practice in 1850. He became Prosecuting Attorney for Knox

County in 1852. In 1855 he settled in Winona, Minn. Joining the Republican party, he gained a repuation as an orator, and in 1858 was sent to ongress. He was a member of the House of Representatives for ten years, serving n the Committees on Public Lands and Expenditure, and on the special committee the rebellious States, and for ee years as Chairman of the Committee on Indian Affairs. He was apcounted United States Senator in 1870 to dil an unexpired term, and was afterward lected for a new term and re-elected in 1877. In 1881 he resigned on being selected by President Garfield for the post of Secre-President Arthur succeeded to the other financial enterprises, making his home principally in New York, until he was appointed Secretary of the Treasury by President Harrison March 4, 1889.

the same deducted in the omice. This aid placed local tickets on sale at two cents per mile. This indicates that the company has abundoned its announced purpose of fighting the Chapman law in the United States Supreme Court.

Peter Wise, District Master Workman.

Peter Wise, District Master Workman.

PENNSYLVANIA MINERS SUF-FER INSTANT ANNIHILATION.

Not a Man Escaped-Fire Damp the Awful Agent-A Carload of Coffins Needed-Appeal for Help-Terrific Scenes at the

[Youngwood (Pa.) dispatch.]

By an explosion of gas at Mammoth Mines No. 1, 110 men were killed. Sixtyfive bodies were recovered. The mine is on fire, and it is believed the unfortunate dead will be cremated before it is possible to reach them. An army of men is at work in the pit endeavoring to stay the fire and recover the dead bodies. They are making little headway, however. A car-load of coffins was received this evening.

One hundred and ten men were employed in that part of the mine in which the explosion occurred, and not one was left to tell the story of the disaster. Not more than fifty men were killed by the explosion. The others were overcome by the after-damp, While some of the bodies were horribly burned, torn, and mutilated, others were found with their teeth clinched on the iron rail of the pit road. Others were found with their faces plunged into the water. Not a few knelt as if in prayer when their untimely end came. Fire-boss Sneath was identified only by his gum-boots. He must have been pearest the explosion. His body was scattered about in dozens of pieces. His head was pulled from his shoulders. Both his legs were torn off. His clothing was ripped into shreds. That part of his body recovered was roasted and blackened. His mutilated body was found where the explosion is supposed to have occurred. His safety lamp was shattered into numberless pieces. His left hand clutching his lamp was found over one hundred feet from the trunk of his body, and one of his gum-boots was found fifty yards away. One of his feet with part of the leg attached was picked up. When the parts of his body were collected and sent in a sheet to the pit mouth they were identified by an engineer who recognized the gum-boots.

All the officials of the Fricke Coke Company are in the dark as to the cause of the explosion. Fire-Boss Sneath inspected the mine before work was begun this morning, and his written report, filed a few hours before he was killed, sets forth that the mine was safe at that

When the volunteers entered the mine a sight impossible to picture met them. Bank cars, mules, and-more terrible than all-men were piled in a compact mass against the ribs or walls of coal, as eyelids opened and shut spasmodically, and not a living thing was in the wreckage. It was almost as solid as the coal itself, so terrific was the force of the explosion. This obstruction was removed with difficulty, and they entered a chamber of horrors. The first object | ber, is dead and buried, aged 80. they discovered after leaving the main entry was a gum boot. In it was the leg of a man Farther on they found a human head, but nowhere in sight was the trunk that had borne it but a few minutes before. After walking a distance, surrounded by dangers unseen, but more terrible than can be imagined, they found the trunk. The ragged neck with the blood oozing from it told the story of the appalling disaster. Working their way in, the band found the bodies strewn along the gangway.

Every man in the headings where the explosion occurred was killed. None fell back to allow the men carrying the stretchers room to pass. Every corpse of t to inquire which body it was, for it was known that every one in that part of the mine at the time of the explosion was dead.

General Manager Lynch of the H. C. Fricke Coke Company is on the scene helping to devise means to rescue the perished workmen. His assistance is invaluable, as he has many years' experience in mining operations. The mammoth plant embraces 509 ovens, one of the largest plants in the coke regions, but it is hard of access. It is situated near the United Works, where an explosion recently destroyed the entire shaft.

The affair has cast a gloom over the entire coke region, and to-night hundreds of miners are flocking to the scene of the disaster offering assistance. The appalling loss of life in the Dunbar disaster is more than overshadowed by the destruction of life in this mammoth calamity. Language is too weak to describe the scenes at the mines. Horror is piled on horror. The news spread throughout the entire coke region and everybody was awe-stricken. The only man who escaped was Mine Boss Eaton. Among those killed are John Beverage and J. Boles, formerly of this place. The former resided here for many years and was held in high esteem by everybody. He was a roadman in the shaft. Ex-Mine Inspector Keighly, the Superintendent of the fatal shaft, is nearly distracted. It is a singular fact that misfortune seems to have followed him. His experience in the Hill Farm disaster resulted in his tendering his resignation as mine inspector.

Master Workman Peter Wise addressed the following letter to the miners and cokers of the region to-night: To the Members of the Knights of Labor and Workingmen of the Coke Region :

The sad news of a disastrous explosion at Mammoth mines has just reached me, and I fear many families have been left destitute. I therefore appeal to you to promptly render what aid you can to assist the. families of your brethren who have been killed. The Master Workman and committees at each works will kindly take the matter in hand and act as a relief com-mittee. Let the committee select a "check member," and each miner run as many wagons as he can under the circumstances contribute, and arrangements will be made with the companies to pay the amount, and thus prompt aid can be given. Drawers can adopt the same plan, and day men can contribute from their day's work, and have the same deducted in the office. This aid

INCIDENTS THAT HAVE LATELY OCCURRED.

An Interesting Summary of the More Im. portant Doings of Our Neighbors-Weddings and Deaths-Crimes, Casualties, and General News Notes.

JOHN WOODRECK, aged 101, died at Pewamo. He was a veteran of the war

AT Sault Ste. Marie, Reuben Montgomery, a young farmer, who went with William Coulter to "see him through" at the time he killed his father, was arrested as an accomplice to the brutal murder. Montgomery belongs to quite a prominent family. The evidence against him is strong.

FRANK Rose of Chicago died and his remains were sent to Kalamazoo. The death certificate stated that he died of quinsy, but it transpires that diphtheria was the cause. Many people have been exposed, and Kalamazoo authorities are indignant.

DELOS STAPLES, of Portland, Ionia County, who was convicted in the United States Court last December of using the mails for fraud, was sentenced to the Detroit House of Correction for founteen months. He ran an imaginary fruit and grain farm and advertised widely in country and religious papers through Indiana, Illinois and Ohio that he had "high grade wheat" and a special variety of huckleberry bushes for sale at fancy prices. He sent his patrons poor wheat and ordinary stubbles picked up in the woods or failed to forward anything at all, and neglected to pay for the advertisements. About forty victims appeared at the trial against him.

CHARLES H. HUTTON, a boiler-maker, died at Kalamazoo. He was injured by a pony running away, and lockjaw produced death.

Ar Bloomfield, Geo. Hall and two sons have died of diphtheria, and Mrs. Hall and the last child are dangerously ill.

CITIZENS at Saginaw, grin with glee at the sight of their street railway company and the M. C. Railroad in a redhot legal fight over wire cutting.

PATRICK KEATING a farmer of Jonésville, took paris green. His recovery is doubtful. No cause is assigned.

CAPT. JOHN M. MITCHELL, of Toledo, proposes to form a stock company and build a fast boat to ply between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven for freight and passenger traffic, the proposed boat to cost $40,000 and be of 600 tons burden.

AT BAY CITY, Michael Labiak died of diphtheria, and at 3 o'clock of the same day his widow also expired from the same disease. Two weeks ago an 18year-old daughter died of diphtheria, and of the four remaining members of the family two are ill and not expected to recover.

A PIONEER of Pontia; Horace Thurarrested a man who gives his name as the stealing of $7,000 worth of diamends in the Fifth Avenue Hotel. New York.

THE Sheriff of Calhoun County has offered a reward of $50 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who put arsenic in the well on Bert Wickham's premises in Verona.

AT Saginaw, eleven pieces of skin one inch wide and seven inches long were were injured and lived. Dead bodies taken from Miss Louise Little, to be were brought up every few minutes, and grafted upo, her sister Sarah, who was the crowd at the shaft mouth simply desperately burned several weeks ago while dressing for a party. The result of the operation is all that was looked

AT Au Sable, Allie Grace Crenshaw, of miscellaneous notoriety, took nearly a fatal dose of morphine.

A BAY CITY grocer named Joblinski accepted a $10 Confederate bill.

S. M. BOYLE of Essex was told to feed arsenic to his horses to cure scratches. He did so and buried four of the best

Just before going out of office Auditor General Tip Aplin awarded the printing of delinquent tax lists to Republican papers, but the Supreme Court says the new Auditor General has a right to recall the awards, as they were not con-

MRs. A. G. W. CRENSHAW, wife of the bigamist who died in prison, has sworn out a warrant for Wells Sabine, of Au Sable, for breach of promise.

J. A. C. CHEVRIER, undertaker at Oscoda, has assigned.

A 7-YEAR-OLD son of J. Maddox, of Pontiac, while feeding chickens filled his mouth with corn and was choked to

A 7-YEAR-OLD boy named Rice, at West Bloomfield, was kicked in the face by a colt, his jaw bones broken and his face made entirely unrecognizable. He may recover.

Ar a meeting held at Lausing, by the Michigan manufacturers of fruit goods, it was decided to ask the Legislature to appoint a commission to guard against fruit adulteration. President Geo. F. Almendinger, asserted that Michigan is annually using adulterated goods to the amount of ever $20,000,000. He said: "For our breakfast we are given adulterated coffee, into which we may also turn adulterated milk and then sweeten with sugar adulterated with glucose. We eat biscuits that have been raised with an alum baking powder, and spread it with butter that has been churned out of the fat of a steer instead of cream from a cow. We also eat pickles put up in adulterated vinegar and colored with salts of copper, and canned goods sea-soned with lead, and to close the day we take a cup of adulterated tea."

AT Saginaw, John L. Sullivan, the slugger, was challenged to throw a keavy trunk into a baggage car, and did so, smashing it to bits.

THE Chicago and Grand Trunk has

FINDOM DROPPED DEAD OVER 100 WERE KILLED MICHIGAN HAPPENINGS. MICHIGAN MATTERS.

DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE DURING THE WEEK.

Bills Introduced and Passed-Nominations Made by the Governor-Agile Coquettishness of the P. of I. Senators-Minor Pick-ups by a Special Correspondent.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.] LANSING, Jan. 27 .- The legislative work accomplished up to this date is not equal to that of former sessions, but it is expected both branches will soon settle down and perfect some of the really healthy legislation proposed at the beginning of the week.

Senator Benson, P. of I., introduced the following "good-will on earth and peace to men" resolution:

Resolved, That we earnestly wish that all the individual members of this house, comprising the three independent organizations of Democrats, Republicans and the Patrons of Industry, animated solely by an ardent desire for the public welfare, will labor faithfully to ignore party ties and partisanship as such, and will endeavor to pass such measures as the public needs and demands. Therefore, we pledge ourselves unselfishly and energetically for the passage of such measures as will, according to our own best belief, advance the true interests of the people.

Senator Doran, of Kent, introduced a resolution asking the Auditor General for a statement of all taxes received during the past year, together with an itemized statement of the sources from which the revenues have been received, whether from lands, corporations or specific taxes. The object of this resolution is to ascertain whether the taxes on corporations and specific taxes on railroads, etc., have increased in the same proportion as the taxes on farm lands and property and the poor man's cottage.

Representative Clapp, Republican, of Calhoun, introduced a joint resolution petitioning Congress to submit to the several State Legislatures an amendment to the United States Constitution providing for the election of United later the State Treasurer shall pay the com-States Senators by popular vote instead of by Legislatures as at present. It was referred to the Committee on Elections.

A bill has been introduced in the Pouse to bring private bankers under the espionage of the Commissioner of Banking. Also to prohibit the words bank or banking by any individual or corporation not organized under the laws of this State or the United States.

The three so-called independent P. of I. Senators, who have been swaying back and forth between the two old parties with all the coquettish agility of a Spanish skirt-dancer, and who with a final double back somersault landed squarely in the Republican camp' on Thursday, brought down upon themselves a storm of wrath from the P, of I. members in the House.

By combining with the Republicans the three P. of I. Senators succeeded in Ar Saginaw Chief of Police Kain has taking the appointment of the Committee on Redistricting the State from the John Howard, alias Charles Green, on hands of the President of the Senate suspicion of having been connected with and requiring that the committee. shall be elected by the Senate. The combine could thus elect any sort of a committee it pleased, and block the redistricting plans for a time at least. It may be that the Patrons are actuated by the purest of motives in going into this scheme, but their House colleagues fail to see it in that light. They assert point blank that the three have placed in jeopardy all the farmer legislation which it was hoped to pass by the aid of the Democratic majority this session, and unhesitatingly denounce the combine in the most unmeasured and indignant terms. The House P. of I. members will stand squarely by their Democratic allies. They state that they were elected with the help of Democratic votes, and that reform legislation will not be materially aided by swapping principle for the gratification of personal ambition.

The three P. of I.'s swung back into the Democratic fold on Friday under a rumored combine that all parties should be fairly represented on the Apportionment Committee, consisting of elevenone of the most important in the Legislature, but purely political.

Gov. Winans has sent the following nominations to the Senate during the week, all of which were confirmed in executive session: George Gundrun, of Ionia, to be memper of the Michigan Board of Pharmacy, to succeed George McDonald, of Kalamazoo; John H. Buggie, of Coldwater, member of Board of Contro State Public School, term of six years, to succeed Hon. C. D. Randall; John Pridgeon, Jr., Detroit, member Board of Metropolitan Police, term of eight years, to succeed Horace M. Dean; Robert Whaley, of Detrbit, member Board of Trustees Deaf and Dumb Asylum, to succeed Charles E. Belknap. Inspector General-H. A. B. Lothrop, of Detroit. Adjutant General-General Judson S.

Farrar, Mt. Clemens. Quartermaster General-Frederick B.

Wood, Adrian. Members Soldiers' Home Board-Rush J. Shank, Lansing, six years from March 1, 1891; L. G. Rutherford, Grand Rapids: Charles H. Manley, Ann Arbor, to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of Michael Brown, of Big Rapids, time expires June 12, 1893; L. Wells Sprague; to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Gen. R. A. Alger, time expires March 1,

State Salt Inspector-Marshal Casey of Saginaw; two years from January 6. Insurance Commissioner-William E. Magill, West Bay City; two years from July 6.

1891, now held by E. F. Grabill, of Greenville.

Members State Board of Agriculture -Edwin Phelps, Pontiac; Henry Chamberlin, Three Oaks. Warden Upper Peninsula Prison, Marquette-A. William Malmbourg, Ishpeming, two years from April 1. Charles H. Higdon of Jackson, Inspector, of the State Prison for the full term of six years, and Dudley O. Watson a member of the Board of Managers of the Ionia Reformatory for a like period.

GEO. A. DYER. | Traveler.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

THE House brought the Senate to time on the 23d. and a concurrent resolution was adopted providing for an adjournment until the 28th. During this recess the committees will visit the various State institutions with a view to investigating their need, and also the advisability of following out the recommendations of Gov. Winans relative to the consolidation of the numerous managing boards now existing. It is possible that radical action may be taken with reference to the State Mining School at Houghton, for just before adjournment a resolution was passed citing the fact that $220,000 had been appropriated for this institution during the last four years, and but twenty persons graduated at an expense of $11,000 each, and instructing the committee to consider the advisability of abolishing the school.

THE Legislature reassembled the evening of the 28th, but did no business owing to the absence of the many committees still engaged in junketing trips. The old war against medical quacks is to be renewed, and this time it will be fought to a finish. The physicians of the allopathic, homeopathic, and eclectic schools are united upon one point-and that is that the faith cure, the spiritualist, the herb doctor, and, in fact, all of that numerous class of practitioners who look upon a medical diploma as an unnecessary luxury must go. It is proposed to accomplish this by establishing a State Medical Commission, to which every doctor in the State must apply for registration, and every new one be subjected to a rigid examination before he will be allowed to hang out his shingle. On the question of the size and make-up of this commission the allopaths and homeopaths differ radically. Each has prepared a bill.

REPRESENTATIVE JACKSON, on the 29th, introduced bills to repeal the charters of the Grand River Valley Road, operated by the Michigan Central, and of the Erie and Kalamazoo Road, which is operated by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern. He also introduced a joint resolution providing for an amendment to the Constitution, authorizing the State to purchase railroads under certain conditions, and followed this up with a bill providing for the purchase of the business and effects of the Michigan Central Company by the State. The bill makes the Governor the purchasing agent and provides that in case the State and the company cannot agree upon the market value of the stocks the Supreme Court shall fix the valuation thereof, and two years pany the amount due it.

The Parting Hour.

"Yes, love, I will be brave; but it is so-o hard." "I know, dearest, but it must be; fate decrees it, love." "I ha-ate fa-ate," in an emphatic whisper.

"There, there! but my girlie does not hate her boy?" "Oh, no, no, no, no, no! How can you ever say it?" (Prolonged silence; two shadows blend as one.) "Well, the sad words must be said;

"Oh, no, don't say them, they are too cruel!"

"What shall I say, sweet? "Say-say-oh, I can't bear it!"

"There, let us both be brave. Time may separate us, but, dear, eternity will unite us forever." "Oh, how good and grand you are!"

With an endeavor at a lighter mood-"There, you've said the first half, now I'll say the other-by.' "It doesn't sound so hard that way, does it? I'll be brave and say it, too-

'That's a good-by-girlie." "Oh, you cute old darling!" Silence and shadows as before. By. love.'

"By, pet." "B-by." (Both together) "B-y."

And is it their last sad parting? Ah, what relentless fate could separate two such loving, young brave hearts?

No, sympathetic reader, it is not the last; it is their first and only, so far, since their engagement six hours previous, at nine p. m. And "relentless fate' is the necessity her "cute old darling" feels of getting home in time to change his dress suit, take a nap, and get down to the office at seven-thirty, to earn the daily fraction of his nine dollars and seventy-five cents per week.

Was Deceived.

"I have been deceived in that fellow Dettleson you introduced me to the other day," said Biggle, speaking to a friend. "At first I was much impressed with him, but I have found that my confidence was not well placed. "What has he done to merit a reversal of your opinion?" "Oh, nothing, only I have lost confidence in him.' "Yes, but he must have done some-

"Or, perhaps it would be more appropriate to say that he failed to do something. "Yes, we might say that; and did "Well, I'll tell you just how it was:

When you first introduced him he said, 'Come, let's have something.' All right. The next day I met him in the street, and after shaking hands he said that it was about time to take a drink. So it was and we took it. Three days later I met him again, and again he asked me to drink. Well, it went on this way until I felt sure of a drink every time I saw him. I could absolutely count on him, but I discovered my error this morning. I methim on the corner and shook hands with him in a most cordial manner and then waited and waited for him to say something, but he didn't say a word. I thought that I would aid his memory, and spoke of the fine mint toddies made by a fellow across the street, but he said nothing. Then I knew that I had been fooled in him, that the confidence that I had reposed in him had been misplaced. It takes some timeto find a man out; and this thing of forming a good opinion of a man without having studied him and discovered his weak points is not in keeping with a man of the world."—Arkansaw.

Dr. Elfenstein's Mission

A Remarkable Romance.

BY EMILY THORNTON.

CHAPTER XX.

SIR REGINALD'S RAGE. The next morning Ethel attempted to rise, as usual, but found herself so ill with a sick headache that the attempt was vain. Every time she lifted her head from her pillow it throbbed wildly, while a blind dizziness came over her to such an extent that she felt it were better to keep still for a while, until it passed away.

She had suffered before in her life from the same cause, and she knew it had been brought about by intense ex-

She knew also that it would take several hours to restore her to her usual

While certain of this, the most anxious feelings were aroused at her unhappy position, as regarded Sir Reginald Glendenning's sacred trust.

That the baronet should be at once informed of his dreadful loss, she well knew, in order that steps might be taken for the recovery of the missing treasure. But with this dreadful pain, how should she reach him? Finally she decided that the only way before her was to lie still until she was able to rise.

At nine o'clock a servant came to her room, and she sent an excuse to the family for her non-appearance. About ten a message came from Sir

Reginald asking how soon she could come to him.

She returned for answer that her head was still in such pain that she feared not until afternoon.

About five Dr. Elfenstein called to see his patient, and his lordship at once requested him to look after his secretary, saying that she was not able to come to him, while he was most anxious to see

Mrs. Fredon was then dispatched to Miss Nevergail's room to prepare her for a visit from the Doctor.

As the young man entered he was really startled to see how wan and pale the excitement of the night before and a few hours' illness had made her.

She had made several attempts to rise. and had succeeded in dressing herself; but the exertion had overcome her, and once more she had been obliged to recline upon the bed, while her large dark eyes and black dress made her cheeks seem almost like snow.

"Oh, Doctor!" she sighed, as he advenced and took her hand in his. "Can you give me something to stop this headache, so that I can go to Sir Reginald? He has wanted me ail day, and has sent for me several times, and I must see him, but I cannot seem to get there."

"Are you subject to such headaches?" "I have had them a number of times." "You have done right to keep still. will give you a remedy that I think will cause you relief in an hour's time. Until then you should try to sleep."

Preparing a liquid, he carefully held the tumbler to her lips, saw her drink it, then throwing a light shawl over her, left, saying as he did so:

"If you sleep now, I am almost certain you can visit his lordship in the length of time I mentioned."

It seemed that the medicine and his calm, kind words did soothe her, for at once she fell into the restful sleep so much needed. & The nap proved quite a long one, and it was seven o'clock in the evening be fore she crept through the hall, and, with a trembling frame but head greatly relieved, entered Sir Reginald's presence.

At once she saw that her illness had discomposed him, and that he was unusually irritable and nervous. "I am sorry I could not come to you as usual," she began, but he interrupted her by saying, crossly: "Oh, yes; I dare say. Stop all apologies, and while we are alone tell me if you obeyed my orders last night." "I did," faltered the poor girl. "Did the thing work well?" asked he,

"It did. I had no trouble in the Tower at all; but, oh, Sir Reginald, something terrible has happened!'

"What?" exclaimed the sick man, starting up in so sudden a manner that it caused him to fall back with a groan, although he kept a firm grip of the arm he had seized in his excitement, regardless of the fact that his tight grasp caused her to turn pale with pain.

"I dread telling you; but just as I left the Tower to push back the panels a frightful noise of a heavy fall came, then a large monster darted out, dashed the candle from my hand, and, with a howl, disappeared."

"My God! Girl, girl!" yelled the infuriated man before her, his face turning purple with rage, "what is this you tell me? Gone! Escaped! Speak!" added he, roughly shaking her by the arm. "Tell me it is a lie-a lie that you said

"No, Sir Reginald," returned the pallid Ethel; "it is the truth. Whatever you had there got out last night, and ran off through the ruins!"

"You jade! you hussy! What did you do wrong that made this happen? Answer, or I will tear you to pieces!" "Release my arm, sir. You are cruel in your rage; you hurt me!" "Speak, then. How did he get out of his prison?"

With a faltering voice, the frightened girl, while writhing in his grasp, mur-"I dropped the knife on the shelves a lalone, suffering as you see him now." few nights before, and forgot it. It whirled around, and I knew by the cry he gave that he had it." "Idiot! fool!" returned the enraged reply.

being before her, as he gave her arm such a fearful wrench that it dislocated

the elbow. "Out of my sight! out of my house this instant! You have ruined me with your cursed carelessness! Not another night shall you sleep under this

Once again he raised his arm-this time to strike. But fortunately, with a moan of pain at the injury she had already sustained, she had darted back, and so the blow descended on empty air.

Without another look at the man before her the poor young girl crept from his presence, and dragging herself back to her room, fastened herself in, while she sought to prepare for her departure. With her arm hanging motionless by her side, and nearly wild with pain, she opened her trunks and thrusting her valuables inside as well as she could, with one hand, she locked them, and dropped the key into her pocket. Fearing, she scarcely knew what, she put the package of papers her aunt had given her, with her purse also, in her pocket, that she might be certain of their safety. Then hastily putting comb, brushes, and night apparel in a hand-sachel, she paused to rest.

Advancing to her window, she found that a heavy rain was still falling, and that darkness was even then over the

Throwing her waterproof over her shoulders, with its hood drawn over her hat, she opened her door and glided through the hall, down the stairs, and out of the front entrance, fortunately without being seen by any of the family.

As she had passed the sick man's room, she knew by the sound of many excited voices within that they had gone to his assistance, and she judged he must have injured his hip by his passionate frenzy.

While she pitied the man, she feared him, and never breathed freely until outside the door.

Then with a hurried step she passed down the ramble.

CHAPTER XXI. ETHEL'S FLIGHT.

The darkness, as I have said, had come on early, in consequence of the dense clouds and falling rain.

It was after eight when Ethel left the Hall, and then, it was so dark under the shading trees that she could not see a step before her.

Unaccustomed to be abroad alone at so late an hour, her heart beat fast and tears coursed over her white cheeks, brought there by her fears as well as the acute pain in her arm.

Once away from the house and beyond the reach of Sir Reginald's wrath, she paused to consider whither she should go, and what she should do.

As she paused one thing seemed plain. She could do nothing until a physician attended to her wounded arm. In order to have this accomplished it was evident that she must seek Dr. Elfenstein at his home. She shrank from doing this.

Remembrances of their mutual experiences of the evening before caused her heart to flutter at the very thought. He might think it bold and unmaidenly thus to push herself into his pres-

Still it could not be helped. Her arm could not be raised, and on that arm she depended now for her daily bread.

Bitterly, she upbraided herself for her strange neglect in reference to that

Oh, that she had been more careful, and less easily unnerved.

She ought to have expected movements inside the room, where a wild animal was kept, and therefore counted it silly to have been so overcome as to forget her duty at the first sound she had heard. Regrets, however, were useless; she must hurry on.

How dark it was, and how difficult to keep in the path!

The rain beat upon her in torrents, and it seemed a weary way before she passed the porter's lodge.

Once in the road beyond, she could see lights in windows of dwelling houses far down the road. The first of them she knew was where

Dr. Elfenstein lived, and hope revived once more, and she pressed on, thinking soon to be there. But the road seemed very rough. Great ruts had been made in the earth, softened by the long rain, and these caused her to trip and fall twice.

Both times it had jarred her arm, and drawn forth tears of anguish. Wiping them away, she struggled to her feet and persevered. At last the gate was reached and opened with difficulty; then again a dizzy feeling came over her, and just as her feet stepped on the porch she fell forward in a long, death-like swoon. Dr. Elfenstein had gone out into the country, after his call at the baronet's, to visit a rather critical case, and did not return until quite late. As he passed the porter's lodge one of the servants belonging to the Hall stepped out, and hailing him, bade him to drive there at. once, as his master was in terrible dis-

Without waiting for a second bidding he turned into the grounds and had just entered Sir Reginald's room when Ethel glided past it in her flight from the

It was with surprise and intense wonder that the physician saw the change a few hours had wrought in his patient.

That something of a startling character had produced the effects now manifested was perfectly apparent, and that the good work of the past few weeks had been entirely destroyed in some fit of passion was too obvious to be-denied.

At once he saw that Sir Reginald was in a worse condition than he had found him in the first visit he had made after

"What has done this?" he asked of Lady Constance. "What excitement has he undergone since I left him doing well at 4 this afternoon?"

"No one knows. Miss Nevergail came to his room about 7. We then heard him speaking in a furiously angry way, and after awhile his bell rang a loud peal for assistance. On reaching him, he was "Where was Miss Nevergail.

"Yes; I know," returned the Doctor. Not until the clock struck ten could

Dr. Elfenstein leave the Hall, and then he was anticipating for the baronet a sleepless night. He himself felt tired, and greatly unnerved. The strange events of the night before could hardly yet be thought of calmly. All day he had deeply regretted no following up and learning the cause of their mutual flight; but whenever he had thought of it, Ethel's pleading tones and shuddering form had pleaded an eloquent excuse.

How pleasant was the remembrance of her dependence on him in those terrible moments!

Once or twice he found himself longing to be thus able to protect her all the remainder of his life; but then he had been obliged to thrust the yearning from his heart, and remember that his stern duty lay in a rougher channel, and that love could not be his guide, at least for years to come.

So thinking, he had reached his home, given his horse to the man in waiting, and then turned to enter his door, But what was this he saw lying in a heap upon the porch? Stooping to discover if it might not be a large, strange dog, his fingers came in contact with a human hand, and from its small size he knew it belonged to child or woman. Throwing open the door with his latchkey, the light from the hall revealed Ethel Nevergail's pale, unconscious face to his astonished gaze.

"Ethel here senseless! Oh, my darling, my darling!" he murmured, as he lifted her in his arms and bore her to the parlor sofa. "What can this mean?"

Placing her there, he ran to the foot of the stairs and called Mrs. Clum to his assistance. This person, fortunately, sat reading in her own room, waiting his return, that she might give him some refreshments after his long detention, knowing that he had eaten nothing since noon; therefore she was immediately by his side, and after hearing him state where he had found the poor young girl, proceeded to unbutton and remove the wet waterproof, while Earle brought camphor and other remedies, and then at once devoted himself to her recovery.

With joy, at last, they saw her eyes open; but the cry of pain that followed filled both with surprise.

"My arm! my arm!" she cried. "You hurt my arm.' Seeing that something more serious was the matter than a simple faint, Dr. Elfenstein released the hand he held, as it seemed to pain her, asking, as he did so, "if she had injured herself anywhere?"

"I cannot stir my hand, or arm, and fear it is broken," she moaned in reply. "I came here to show it to you."

"Then it was hurt before you left the Hall?" returned the Doctor, passing his hand over the useless member, in order to see the nature of the injury. She bowed her head, speaking no word

"Is it broken, Doctor?" finally she managed to ask.

"Not broken, but dislocated at the elbow. In order to replace it, I fear I must cause you pain. It will be impossible for you to go out again in this storm, therefore Mrs. Clum, my housekeeper, must prepare you a room, and you will remain here to-night. After she has made you comfortable in your bed I must replace the bones, and then you must keep perfectly quiet, or, after all this excitement, you will be thrown into a fever.

Giving Mrs. Clum several instructions, he saw her leave the room to prepare one for poor Ethel's reception; then, and not until then, he bent over the sofa where she lay, and asked her in a low

"Why did you not tell me this instead of coming out in the storm, when I have been at the Hall since eight this even-

"I did not know you were there, and could not have seen you if I had known it. Sir Reginald flew into a furious passion as soon as he saw me to-day, and bade me instantly leave his house. As my arm was hart, I was obliged to come to you."

"Miss Nevergail, how was your arm dislocated? And what means the mark of those fingers which I see upon the surface?"

"Do not ask, Doctor, for I cannot tell

"Well, if you cannot tell me that, why did Sir Reginalabid you leave his house?" "I cannot tell you!" was still her only

"Was it for any willfull fault you had committed?"

"No; oh, not I had met with an accident the nature of which I cannot explain. In short, I had, without intending it, neglected a duty he had charged me with on the day of my fright by the railroad. My nervousness then caused me to forget something. He had just discovered it, and flew in a rage."

"Then the brute seized your arm and gave it this wrench! You need not tell me, child; I know it by instinct. It is well I was not there, for one reason." "Why?"

"I should have struck him as he lay helpless in bed. I could not have helped it. But you are safe now; he shall never touch you again." "Not for I shall never go back. But where shall I go? What shall I do now?" she sighed, in reply.

"Stay here, of course, until you are well; then a place will be provided, never fear. Promise me one thing now, which is, not to worry about the future. Leave everything of that pature, for time and Providence to make plain, and try to compose yourself in order to recover the sooner. Will you do this?

He took her well hand kindly, almost tenderly, as he spoke; and, meeting his anxious, beseeching gaze bent upon her, she blushed faintly and gave the required

TO BE CONTINUED.

Ready for Business. Caller (Western newspaper office)

"I want to see the editor. Office Boy-"Editor's gone off fer six "She must have returned to her room. Weeks. Leave yer bill with me, an I'll She has been sick all day," was the give it to him when he gits back." "I haven't got a bill. I've got a club." "Editor's up stairs, sir."

bility and Shape.

"The bumblebee is a fine modes to study for a flying machine, and the more I study that species of a high order of birds the more complex does the flying machine problem appear. The bumblebee flies by the aid of motor power alone. It has no natual aid, but must depend upon the rapid working of its wings to fly. There is no wind and no feathers to assist the bee; it has small wings, entirely out of proportion to its large, robust body, and when it flies the wings, as any observer can see, are worked so rapidly it is impossible to calculate the number of flops to the minute. But the little bird must, perforce, be the model to solve the flying machine puzzle, because it is propelled simply by native motive power. Could this bumblebee carry the weight of another bee on its back is a question often asked. Well, it cannot, and even if a flying machine were invented on its model it would not be capable of carrying any weight save its own. Nature has done so much and failed to go any ture. We append the result. further," said Thomas Edison to a New York Herald reporter.

"You see, if wings were applied to man they would have to be quite small | as "muggy" as possible. in order to be worked rapidly. Large wings could not be moved rapidly enough, so the question of flying would | ening." never be settled by large wings, even if the motive propelling power were a thousand times greater than any yet lasting "Gus(t)" to cheer them. conceived of. A man might have wings constructed to carry his weight but that would be all. Like the bumblebee, he would be unable to do anything save carry his own weight, and that by sheer force of great power. Now, sea gulls have large wings, entirely out of proportion to their small bodies. But they have little motive power, and are simply kept up like a kite by the wind. If you will notice a gull you will rarely see it work its wings, but it keeps them outstretched and sails around the air in a beautiful style. No flying machine could skim about on the bosom of the wind like the sea gull. All birds propel themselves by flying and sailing. It is a natural action, but man cannot acquire it, at least not now and in this day and generation, when so many secrets of nature slumber before the savant's eyes for years. We can only go back to nature and pause and wait for years to understand the phenomena that now seems a mystery to our very finite

"I'm not so sanguine about a flying machine because nature has her limitations. Anyway, many of her secrets lie of "Beautiful Snow." hidden from us, and remain to enrich | Politicians like plenty of "bluster," and glorify some bright and wonderful anglers plenty of "drought;" merchants era in the future. Perhaps a century plenty of "dews;" poetasters plenty of or so from now the flying principle in man will be invented or discovered. Things unheard and undreamed of may come to light in the future and place us in the category of being too stupid to imagine and much less to invent them. But I have nothing to do with the fnture. If there ever will be a flying machine capable of carrying not only man but other weight with it. I. at present, cannot conceive it. There are certain fixed principles in nature we cannot ignore. We cannot pull ourselves yet through space by our own boot-straps, and we cannot leap from the top of a house without climbing on top first."-Boston Hera'd.

Be Careful Whom You Wedt

It is a pitiable fact that more than half the persons who believe they love one another intensely and marry under such belief live long enough to find themselves mistaken. But many American parents deem it quite sufficient for their children to avow in their salad day a reciprocal passion to take them at their words and hurry them into wedlock. We are a practical people, yet the name of love has a conjuring power with us. Before that monosyllable common sense seems to vanish.

We forget that while love may be ample for itself, it is not ample for marriage-a state in which prosaic facts, stern realities, manifold annoyance inevitably enter and play a most conspicuous part.

"Do they love one another?" That is the supreme and only test. "If they do, send for the clergyman and bind them fast."

Have they good health? Can they sustain each other? Have they anying capacity? Are they qualified to con-daily instances our divorce courts and, that it is to be! We are not too sentimental over what, if it ever goes wrong, sentiment will not aid and romance cannot cure.

If the American people were a little more careful about marriage beforehand we should have less cause to repent homes and public scandals. - Minneapolis Times.

Bridal Dresses.

If one would see how the queens of Spain have been attired at their bridals, she should visit an unpretending convent not far from Madrid. Here is the dress in which Isabella the Catholic was married; here is a rich robe, with a cut sults his ow across the bosom, that Isabella II. wore he pleases. when she was assassinated; here is the turquoise blue satin covered with costly lace decked with pearls that Mercedes EDISON ON FLYING MACHINES. among her perquisites are the weddin dresses of all the Spanish queens. From the ladies of the court are appointed ladies to attend her, and maids to attin her for state receptions and processions. Her wardrobe is kept in the sacristy the back of the altar. When one of the royal family is ill the Virgin of Atoch is pleaded with, but she could not say Mercedes, nor the late King of Spain nor any of their predecessors.

Every large cathedral in Spain has its image of the Virgin, each image has its different provi ince. One is besought by captives an prisoners, another by cripples, another by the insane. The wealth that should be turned into channels of industry piled up at these shrines. Buried in ignorance, superstition and idleness, no wonder Spain has so long lost its place among the great powers of Europe.

Our Weather Report.

For the information of the public, and recklessly regardless of expense, we have been gathering statistics as to what kinds of weather are most appreciated by various classes of our fellow-cree

Cabmen would like it to be conting-"fare." Beer-house proprietors would have it

Coal dealers, with a sharp eye to business, are particularly fond of "light-Inveterate theater-goers would be satisfied with nothing less than an ever-Our Irish friends say that, if they had choice ("which divil a bit is we iver loikely to git, Hiven hilp us!",) they would prefer to "take it 'hazy,' begobs! 'Bus-drivers are thoroughly sick and tired of the "rein." Single young ladies plaintively list forth that their only ambition is to get Children of tender years tell us that we must be a dunderheaded old ignoramus if we don't know their views without asking. "Squally" weather is what they want, and squally weather they'll have, or perish in the attempt. Promoters of bogus companies, et hoc genus omne, are eternally hankering for a "frost." Tipplers crave for "bail."

Actors are desirous of having the thunder" of applause accompanied by showers" of boquets. Stump orators are never happier than when they can lead their hearers into Gamblers are delighted when ther have "winned."

Lovers of pathetic poetry never weary

"rime."-Pick-Me-Up. The Sun and Its Final Extinction. The surface of the sun is often strewed, says Iron, with black spots; the smallest of which are as large as the diameter of the earth, and the largest of which are sometimes visible to the naked sye. These spots, which are variable in number and position, mark regions in which the luminous and ca ific activity of the sun is in a state o. . emporary diminution. As the great radient star is an incandescent mass--1,372,000 times more bulky than the earth-which unremittingly distributes the elements of life around it, it is continualty losing (though slowly, it is true) the powerful energy that is stored up in it. A day will come in the distant ages when the spots that are already darkening the sun will cover its entire surface. A solid crust will afterward form, as one has formed upon the earth, which also traversed these phases of the life of a star, for our earth was a sun that had a moon for a planet, and perhaps even (according to Mr. Stanislas Mennier) a second satellite that is now broken up. The sun will therefore be extinguished some day for want of fuel, but that fatal date will be far in the distant future, for we can estimate the time necessary for the extinction of the sun at more than twenty millions of years, and the time during which a state of life analogous to the present one will be able to exist upon the earth may be estimated at half that long period. Runs It to Suit Himself.

The oldest paper mill in this country, it is believed, is at Roslyn, L. I., and m thing to live on? Have they any earn- it the oldest, crudest methods of manufacture are still in vogue. It is run by struct a home that will benefit Meyer Valentine, who is the oldest society or strengthen the State? These manufacturer of paper in this country. are old fashioned questions, indelicate The mill is supposed to be at least 150 and impertment. They are fond of one years old, and it has never been used another; their fondness will be their for any other purpose. The manufacturer, who is 70 years of age, inherited Would it might be! But, alas, what the gray and wrinkled old building from his father, who made paper in it in the imdeed, our own observations furnish same old-fashioned way that his son still employs. During the Revolutionary war Gen. Washington stopped over night in Roslyn, and the following morning walked down to the mill, where, it is alleged, he made a sheet of paper for Valentine's father by the old hand process. The small frame, covered with mated misery, few blighted lives, ruined to have used to pick up the pulp with. is on exhibition in the mill.

Valentine runs the mill with the aid of several assistants. He runs it to suit himself, too. There are no regular hours for labor. Some days he starts up the noisy wheel at 7 o'clock and on some others at 10. He stops the machinery from rumbling acmetimes at 6 p. m. and other times at noon. He consults his own feelings and does just as

HAVE you ever observed that when a wore at one of her receptions.

The Virgin of the Atocha convent is the patroness of the royal family, and Boston Traveller.

welop

CH 0

TE G TH B A

ER S tain

L W

mo

The Power of the Press. q can give you gas if you are afraid rain will be too great to endure," ad a dentist to an elderly colored sah! I reads de rewspapers."-

ns. From appointers to attir

one of the

of Atoch

d not sav

of Spain

Spain ha

tires and

s, another

at should dustry is uried in eness, no

its place

ublic, and ense, we as to what preciated

low-crescontinu-

d have it

rp eye to of "lightvould be an everthey had

we iver

s!",) they

begobs!"

sick and vely lisp is to get l us that old ig-

eir views

eather is weather

s, et hoc

nkering

ving the anied by pier than ers into a en they er weary

oluster;"

lenty of s often

k spots;

are as

rth, and metimes

e spots,

nd posi-

luminsun is in

ion. As neandes-

e bulky

nittingly

around

(though energy

lay will

he spots

the sun

A solid

one has also tra-

f a star,

a moon

(accord-second

p. The

ed some

tal date for we

for the re than he time

alogous

to exist

ated at conntry,

., and in

f manurun by e oldest country.

east 150

en used

anufact

berited

ng from it in the son still

ationary

ed over

llowing

l, where,

f paper

d hand

red with is said

p with.

the aid

t to suit regular

e starts

and on

he ma-

es at 6

He con-

just as empt.

rope.

nt

and prov.

SUDDEN CHANGES OF WEATHER cause proat Diseases. There is no more effect-l remedy for Coughs, Colds, etc., than BOWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES. Sold only in ekeepers' Weekly.

A BARREL of apples opened near the de of Wight had a very fine apple in the nter with this message written on a ece of paper: "If any young lady who ances to eat this apple is desirous of atrimony she will please correspond th Hartley Marshall of Falkland Annapolis County, Nova Scotia.

ptrs.—All Fits stopped free by Dr.Kline's Great are Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Mar-lous cures. Treatise and $2.00 trial bottle free to cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 331 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the world-famed remody for all monic weaknesses and distressing rangements so common to Amerin women. It is a potent, invigoring, restorative tonic, or strengthver, imparting tone and vigor to whole system. For feeble woen generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite rescription is the greatest earthly Guaranteed to give satisction in every case, or money remded. See guarantee printed on ottle-wrapper.

A Book of 160 pages, on "Wo-Her Diseases, and How to are them," sent sealed, in plain welope, on receipt of ten cents, in amps. Address, World's Dispeny Medical Association, No. 663 im Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

TAKE first dose often astonishes the invalid. ng elasticity of mind, bouryancy of body, GOOD DIGESTION. ribowels and solid desh. Price; 25c.

BEECHAM'S PILLS (THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.) Cure BILIOUS and Nervous ILLS. 25cts. a Box. OF ALL DRUGGISTS.

aby is Better

E GOT SICK THE NIGHT ITH CROUP. B ALL THOUGHT E WOULD DIE. AMA GAVE HER WHITE'S PULMONARIA D IT CURED er so queck.

his great medicine is a safe and tain specific for Croup, and ould always be kept in the house ere there are children. It is most wonderful cough remedy the world. Three sizes, 25 ets., cts. and $1, and every bottle rranted.

GREAT CONQUEROR OF PAIN.

Sprains, Bruises, Backache, Pain in the tor Sides, Headache, Toothache, or any rexternal pain, a few applications rubbed hand act like magic, causing the pain

Conzestions, Colds, Brouchitis, Pneu-la Inflammations, Rheumatism, Neural-Lumbago, Sciatica, more thorough and ated applications are necessary. Internal Pains, Diarrhea, Colic, Spasms, sea, Painting Spells, Nervousness, Sleep-less are relieved instantly, and quickly by taking inwardly 20 to 60 drops in tumbler of water. 50c. a bottle. All cellent and mild Cathartic. Purely able. The Safest and best Medicine world for the Cure of all Disorders

ER, STOMACH OR BOWELS.

ore health and renew vitality. 25 cts. a Box. bold by all Druggists. Are These Halves Counterfeit?

"Oh, no, I can't take that. It's counterfeit," said a conductor on the Madison street line last evening as he rewho had come to have several turned a silver half-dollar to a passenger. th extracted. "No, sah, no sah!" she A discussion followed as to the genuineshaking her head emphatically; ness of the coin. It was bright and new, don't gib me no gas an' hab me git and had a clear ring, but it wouldn't go out'n dat cheer an' walk home dead; with the conductor. The passenger paid his fare with another coin, still holding the alleged counterfeit in his hand.

sitting close by.

"And so have I," said another across the aisle.

fourth, each in turn producing a coin like that refused by the conductor.

"Weil, they are no good," said the street-car man. "I have one in my pocket which the company refused to take, and I don't care to get any more of them. The whole West Side is flooded with them. Every trip I make I have to refuse one or more of them. A short time ago the conductors had a time with a counterfeit silver dollar, but it wasn't as perfect as this half-dollar."

The alleged spurious half-dollar bears the date of 1877, and to all appearances is genuine.

It is understood that the Sub-Treasury here recently put into circulation a large number of silver half-dollars of the mintage of 1877. - Chicago Tribune.

Through the Weary Hours

Of many a night, made doubly long by its protracted agony, the rheumatic sufferer tosses to and fro on his sleepless couch, vainly praying for that rest which only comes by fits and starts. His malady is one which ordinary medicines too often fail to relieve, but there is ample evidence to prove that the efficient blood depurent, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, affords the rheumatic a reliable means of relief. Check the malady in its incipient stages, when the first premonitory twinges come on, with this agreeable medicine, and avoid years of torture. Whatever be the rationale of the active influ-Whatever be the rationale of the active influence of the Bitters upon this malady, certain it is that no evidence relating to its effect is more direct and positive than that which relates to its action in cases of rheumatism. Like all sterling remedies, however, it deserves a protracted, systematic trial, and should not be abandoned because not at once remedial. It is equally efficacions in dyspensia, indirection equally efficacious in dyspepsia, indigestion and kindred diseases.

Georgia Legislators.

Here are some stories that Gazaway Hartridge tells about members of the Georgia Legislature:

When one of them introduced a bill on the first day, and the Speaker asked, "Shall this bill be committed or engrossed?" he replied, being somewhat at a loss, "Jes let it stay thar awhile, Mr. Speaker." They tell me that another brother missed the roll-call one morning, and in dire distress went to Governor Northen, humbly petitioning to be reinstated.

One of them asked another for a chew of tobacco. "I'll return the favor some time," said he. "No, you needn't return it," said the other, "I'm making 84 a day and don't mind the expense."

Another one went down to Bob Hardeman's office to know how much salary he could draw. "Oh." said the Treasurer. "I guess you cam get all you want." "Well," said the legislator, "I need some money for myself, and the old woman needs some, and the revenue officers are after one of my boys. Can you let me have $2.25?"

The Indian Question

Has been the absorbing topic lately. A facetious correspondent says: "If the agents, instead of dosing the poor Indians with cough cures, to the disgust of their palates and destruction of their stomachs, had sold them Sidloh's Consumption Cure, the only reliable cough oure, palatable to the taste and Enstantaneops in effect, they would all be on the reservations yet." This is doubtful, but certainly mothing creates more alarm than a cough-nothing cures as quickly as Shiloh's Cure. At was the first guaranteed care for coughs, asthma and consumption. It is the first in the estimation of all who have used it in throat or lung trouble. Bemember Shilloft's Cure.

A Shewer of Twins.

Within a period of ten minutes on Monday last three sets of twins were born to members of the same family. The wife of John Beam, of Mitchellville, aged 65 years, gave birth to awins, and her daughter, Mrs. Stratten, who lives in a neighboring township, presented her husband with twins the same evening. Mrs. Strattom's daughter Eva was married a year ago, and lives in Bradford. The friends of Mrs. Stratton and her mother were not yet through congratulating them over the inveresting natal coincidence in their families when Mrs. Stratton received a letter from herson-in-law announcing that her daughter had given birth to twins on Monday evening. The three double births occurred within ten minutes of each other. -Greensburg (Penn.) special to Philadelphia Record.

Husband and Wife

Have more than once been saved by the timely use of Kemp's Balsam for the throat and luegs, after all other remedies have been tried in vain. The Balsam stops decay of the lungs and cures influenza and acute and chronic coughs. There is no other medicine in the world that acts so promptly. certainly sone that does its work so thoroughly as Kemp's Balsam. All druggists sell it. Large bottles 50c and $1.

A Curious Slip.

Railroad President-What does this mean, sir? You have one of the suburban trains leaving a station at 8 o'clock. Superintendent-I-I thought that was President-Right! Who ever heard of such a thing, sir? You must be crazy! The idea of any suburban train, anywhere, leaving a station exactly on the hour! Make it 7:59 er 8:01.-New York Week y.

THERE is nothing (unless it be the sewing machine) that has lightened woman's labor as much as Dobbins' Electric Soap. constantly soll since 1864. All grocers have it. Have you made its acquaintance? Try it.

Highest Watertalls of the World.

According to a recent calculation, the highest waterfalls in the world are the three Krimbs Falls in the Upper Prinzgau.

Poor little child! She don't eat well, she don't sleep well, she don't look well. She needs Dr. Bull's Worm Destroyers. Papa. get her a box.

In church government standing committees are often made up of laymen.

His Rule, Retire at 10.

"I go to bed at 10 o'clock every night of the week all the year round," said a down-town importer. "I will not be kept away from home till midnight to see a play; I belong to only one club, at which I spend a couple of hours now and then, after dinner; I don't go to parties that would keep me up till a late hour. When I dine out at a friend's house I leave it before 10, and when I have a "Why, I have a mate to it," said a man friend to dine with me I let him know of my habit of retiring early. I am often rule is inflexible. As a consequence I "And I, and I;" put'in the third and am free from the headaches and dumps and sore joints and blues and doldrums that so many other men have, and in this month of December I am up with the dawn every morning, as lively as a cricket, get through with my paper by breakfast time at 7, and am all ready for the business of the day by 8 o'clock."

Progress.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities. Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

In Everybody's Mouth.

Buncombe-I suppose that man's name in more people's mouths than any other man's in the State.

Quidnunc-I want to know! What is it? Buncombe-It is Pullem-Dr. Pullem. Quidnunc-Why, I never heard of him Buncombe-Can't help it; it is just as Quidnunc-How do you make that out? Buncombe - Well, he manufactures false teeth, and his name is stamped on every plate.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, LUCAS COUNTY.

FRANK J. CHENEY makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure. FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886,
A. W. GLEASON, SEAT. Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and nucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

WHAT relation is the loaf of bread to a steam engine? Mother, because a loaf of bread is a necessity, a steam engine an invention, and necessity is the mother of invention.

It was in a house where they never used SAPOLIO that "The pot called the kettle black." Try it in your next house cleaning.

LOVE is an argument that is kept up until one of the two is worsted. BEECHAM'S PILLS act like magic on a Weak Stomach. THE flowery city-Minneapolis.

No Opium in Piso's Cure for Consumption. Cures where other remedies fail. 25c.

Totally Helpless

From Sciatic Khewmatism.

"In May, 1885, I was taken with sciatic rheumatism in my legs and arms, and was confined to my bed e. tire!y helpless. In August I was just able to move around. I was reduced to a mere skeleton, my appetite was entirely gone and my friends thought I could not live. I took almost everything I could hear of, but with no good results, during that winter. One day, reading about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla in March. April and May, I concluded to try it. One bottle gave me so much relief that I took four bottles, and since then I have not been troubled with rheumatism, and my general health has never been better. My appetite is good and I have gained in flesh. I attribute my whole improvement to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla." Wx. F. TAYLOR, Emporium, Cameron County, Pa. N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

CTS

BE UP

TO

THE MARK

CURES SURELY.

BRUISES.

746 Dolphin Street,

Baltimore, Md.,

Jan'y 18, 1890.

"I was bruised badly in hip and side by a fall and suffered severely. St. Jacobs Oil

completely cured

Legislature.

"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca,

Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades,

in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower

Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is work-

G. G. GREEN, Sole Man'fr, Woodbury, N.J.

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful applic ation of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gr dually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point.

Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—"Civil Service Gasette."

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in half-pound tins, by Grocers, labelled thus:

JAMES EPPS & CO., Homeopathic Chemists, London, England.

FOR A ONE-DOLLAR BILL sent us by maif we will deliver, free of all charges, to any person in the United States, all of the following articles, care-

Or, for postage stamps, any single article at the price named. On no account be persuaded to accept from your druggist any Vaseline or pre-puration therefrom unless labeled with our name, because you will certainly receive an imitation which has little or no value.

STEREOPTICONS BAttery & Optical Co.

CHICAGO, MAGIC LANTERNS.

PROF. LOISETTE'S NEW

MEMORY BOOKS.

Criticisms on two recent Memory Systems. Ready about April 1st. Full Tables of Contents forwarded only to those who send stamped directed envelope.

Also Prospectus POST FREE of the Loisettian Arts of Never Forgetting. Address

Prof. LOISETTE, 237 Fifth Av., New York.

ernment and Cheap NORTHERN PACIFIC R. R. LAND

Best Agricultura', Grazing and Timber Lands now open to settlers. Maile t FREE. Address

CHAS. B. LAMBORN, Land Com. N. P. R. R., St. Pan', Minn.

gon, the Free Gov-ernment and Cheap

.Chesebrough Mfg. Co., 24 State St., N. Y.

ing a complete cure."

SPRAINS.

Ohio & Miss.Railway. Office President and General Manager,

Cincinnati, Ohio "My foot suddenly turned and gave me a very severely sprained ankle. The application of St. Jacobs Oil resulted as once in a relief from pain." Prest. & Gen'l Man'gr.

me." WM. C. HARDEN, Member of State THE CHARLES A. VOGELER CO., Baltimore, Md.

SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION

CURE.

The success of this Great Cough Cure is without a parallel in the history of medicine. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive guarantee, a test that no other cure can successfully stand. That it may become known, the Proprietors, at an enormous expense, are placing a Sample Bottle Free into every home in the United States and Canada. If you have a Cough, Sore Throat, or Bronchitis, use it, for it will cure you. If your child has the Croup, or Whooping Cough, use it promptly, and relief is sure. If you dread that insidious disease Consumption, use it. Ask your Druggist for SHILOH'S CURE, Price 10 cts., 50 cts. and $1.00. If your Lungs are sore or Back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster, Price 25 cts.

> I took Cold, I took Sick,

SCOTT'S

I take My Meals, I take My Rest,

AND I AM VIGOROUS ENOUGH TO TAKE ANYTHING I CAN LAY MY HANDS ON : Emulsion of Pure Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda NOT ONLY CURED MY Incipient Consumption BUT BUILT ME UP, AND IS NOW PUTTING

FLESH ON MY BONES

AT THE RATE OF A POUND A DAY. I TAKE IT JUST AS EASILY AS I DO MILK. SUCH TESTIMONY IS NOTHING NEW. SCOTT'S EMULSION IS DOING WONDERS DAILY. . TAKE NO OTHER.

TACOMA $100 to $1,000 Carefully Invested here 1000 Trest es. TACOMA INVESTMENT CO., TACOMA, WASH.

ANTED-MEN TO TRAVEL. We pay $50 to $100 a month and expenses. Address Stone & Wellington, Madison, Wis. ASTHMA DR. TAFT'S ASTHMALENE address, we will mail trial CURED BOTTLE FREE THE DR. TAFT BROS. M. CO., ROCHESTER, N.Y. FREE

FOLKS Reduced 15 to 25 pounds per month by harmless herbal remedies. No starving, no inconvenience. Confident testimentals. doc, for circulars and testimonials. Address, DR. O. W. F. SNYDER, 243 State St., Chicago, Ill. Name this paper when you write.

PEDINE Cures cold or tender Swellen or perspiring.

Smaller Shoes may be worn with comfort. Price, 50 cts., at Drug Stores, or by mail. Trial Package and illustrated pamphlet for a dime.

DIAMOND BRAND

在45月4月4月日的

Elys Cream Balm For

E POSITIVE CURE.

PISO'S CURE FOR

Best Cough Medicine. Recommended by Physicians. Cures where all else fails. Pleasant and agreeable to the taste. Children take it without objection. By druggists.

CONSUMPTION

EVERY WATERPROOF COLLAR OR CUFF

Not to Split!

NEEDS NO LAUNDERING. CAN BE WIPED CLEAN IN A MOMENT.

THE ONLY LINEN-LINED WATERPROOF

COLLAR IN THE MARKET.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH, RED CROSS

ENNYROYAL PILLS

THE ORIGINAL AND GENUINE. The only Safe, Sure, and reliable Pill for sale.

Lasten, ask Druggist for Chichester's English Diamond Brand in Red and Gold metallic boxes cented with blue ribbon. Take no other kind. Refuse Substitutions and Institutions.

All pills in pasteboard bases, pink wrappers, are dangerous counterfelts. At Druggists, or send us de, in stamps for particulars, testimonials, and "Relief for Laddes," in letter, by return Mail.

10.000 Testimonials. Name Paper.

CHICHESTER CHEMICAL CO., Mediann Square, Sold by all Local Druggists.

THAT CAN BE RELIED ON

BEARS THIS MARK.

Not to Discolor!

TRADE

CUT THIS OUT. Grand Palace Hotel 81 to 103 N. Clark St.,

CHICAGO. Four minutes from Court House. Rooms $3 weekly. Transients 50c up. American and European plans. EVERY-

Can be made easy by any energetic person selling "CHAMPION PASTE STOVE POLISH." No brush required. No hard labor. No dust or dirt. Always ready for use. An article every housekeeper will buy. 216,000 packages sold in Philadelphia. Exclusive agency for one or more counties given competent person. Write to-day enclosing stamp for particulars. You will never regret it. Address CHAMPION CO., 44 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia, Pa. I prescribe and fully endorse Big G as the only specific for the certain cure

ILLUSTRATED PUBLI-

CATIONS, WITH MAPS.

describing Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Wash-

1 TO 5 DAYS. Mrd only by the Evans Chemical Co.

G. H. INGRAHAM, M. D., Amsterdam, N. Y. We have sold Big G for many years, and it has given the best of satisfaction.

D. R. DYCHE & CO., Chicago, Ill.

81.00. Sold by Druggists. C. N. U. No. 6-91

WHEN WRITING TO ADVERTISERS, please say you saw the advertisement in this paper.

A WOMAN BEST UNDERSTANDS A WOMAN'S ILLS. The experiments of Lydia E. Pinkham that years ago gave to the world the Vegetable Compound, were made through a feeling of sympathy for the afflicted of her sex. She discovered that nearly all the diseases of woman have a common

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S Vegetable

is a sure cure for all those painful compounds and weaknesses of women. Sold by all Druggists as a standard article, or sent by mail, in form of Pills or Lozenges, on receipt of $1.00.

Brs. Pinkham's book, "Guide to Health and Eliquette," healthily illustrated, sent on receipt of two 2c, utamps.

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

OFFICIAL VILLAGE PAPER.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1891.

AVENGED AT LAST;

Or, a World-Wide Chase.

A STORY OF RETRIBUTION.

BY "WABASH." [COPYRIGHT, 1890.]

Soon after Armida h d gone Eugene remarked to his mother

'I have something to tell you, moth-

"What is it. Eugene, something important?"

"Well, perhaps it is, and perhaps not When Miss Delaro called last week I asked her if she knew Mr Emerick, the South American merchant, and she stared at me as though a thunderbolt had struck her, and answered: 'How strange. Yes. I have met him; do you know him?' I did not tell the circumstances of your meeting him, but I said that you had seen him once and he so resembled an old friend of yours that you always had him in your mind, but I shall never forget her puzzled look."

"This life is made up of mysteries," said his mother, who was much impressed by what Eugene had related.

CHAPTER X.

"Non est vert, Non est vert," sang Porcy Lovel, in a rich voice, full of pathos. Certainly he seemed to feel what he sang, and accompanied himself on the piano in a perfect manner. As the last notes died away he turned round on the stool and noticed that he was not

"How long since you returned, Armida? I did not hear you enter the room."

"No, you were too much engrossed in your song to notice any thing else But how is it. Percy, that you always sing such sad songs? One would imagine that there was some terrible grief gnawing at your heart, when you sing those songs-you do it with what seems to be so much real feeling."

"If I do I can not give a more than ordinary reason for it. I passionately love music, and my whole soul responds when I commence to sing," replied Percy. Continuing, he asked:

"Ilave you been to the hospital again o-day?"

"Yes, I was there for over an hour. I saw that unfortunate young man's mother, a French lady, whom I should imagine was at one time in circumstances far superior to her present condition. Even her son seems to possess a bearing which is hardly compatible with their surroundings.'

"Did you learn any more of their history?" asked Percy.

"Nothing; but I promised to call some time at the store and have a long talk with Mrs. Bregy."

Percy was silent a few moments; but he resumed:

"Armida, I have been thinking that I would like to have a talk to that lady and her son some time. In fact, I have made up my mind to do it. Their strange connection with Mr. Emerick puzzles me and my curiosity impels me to learn more."

"What is your motive. Percy?" "You will pardon my abruptness, Armida, but for the present it must remain a secret; in due time you shall know all."

"No doubt you have excellent reasons," answered the unsophisticated

Changing the subject, Percy asked if she could tell whether Mr. Wilcox was in the house or not. Armida replied.

"I saw him a moment ago in the "Then if you will please excuse me, I will go to him, as I wish to speak with him on his business." With these words Percy left the room. He had not gone more than a moment when Mrs. Delaro entered the room where Armida sat alone.

"Well, my dear, and how did you find the patient to-day?"

"He was very much improved, mamma, and will leave the hospital in a few days."

"Armida, we must try to do something for that young man; it is not right that he should suffer so much and not be recompensed."

"But they will not take money; what then can we do?" said the girl.

"We must put our heads together and devise some means. By the by, my dear, was that Percy who went across to the library a moment ago?'

"Yes, he has gone to talk business with Mr. Wilcox."

"Then I must go too, for I also have some business matters to attend to this morning, and I need Percy's assistance." With these words the widow

"As usual," said Armida, with a pretty pout, "I am always left out in the cold. Why can not I know something of what transpires in these conclaves you are always having?" "It is hardly necessary that you should be troubled with any business matters."

said Mrs. Delaro as she left the room. Shortly afterward Armida ordered the carriage and went down-town to do some shopping. For the past few months they had been living in a handso furnished house near Gramercy Park. Armida and her mother passed their time very much in each other's company, and the days went by pleasantly enough, except for the fact that thoughts of great and lasting trouble continually recurred to Mrs. Delaro's mind, often making her sad even in her daughter's company. Mr. Wilcox and Percy found plenty to occupy their time attending to various business matters when they were not busy trying to get a fresh clew to Mario Delaro's murderer.

This morning there was to be a consultation of the three interested persons regarding the recent developments in connection with the Bregy's.

"If Mr. Emerick is Alphonse Bregy and this woman's husband, then he certainly can not be Velasquez," argued Mr. Wilcox.

"Yet," said Percy, "there may be other information to come which will change our opinion. For my part I am now too thoroughly interested in knowing who this Mr. Emerick really is to let the matter drop. His actions from first to last during the brief time that we saw him were of a character which gave me dark suspicions, and if there is a way to find out who he really is I am going to do it. I am afraid I do not dare to even hope he is the man we want. but I have become so imbued with the detective spirit that I am anxious to satisfy my own curiosity."

"I would suggest," said Mrs. Delare. wisely, "that we send for Eugene Bregy and his mother and ask them to tell us all they know Mrs. Bregy will doubtless give us their history and Eugene may have found out something. the out one thousand of his celebrated read knowledge of which will be worth possessing."

"That is undoubtedly the proper course to pursue," remarked Mr. Wil-

"Then it can not be done too soon," urged Percy. "I can not even go to sleep at night without that man Emtells me he is hiding from us or from

It was several days before Eugene was able to come up to the Delaros' house. The neighbors stared hard enough when they saw him and his mother seat them selves in the stylish victoria which was frown no in front of the store door to convey them to the temporary home of our California friends, and some queer remarks were passed about the airs which the French woman gave herself.

Upon reaching the house they were at once ushered into the library and the consultation immediately commenced.

Mrs. Bregy had very little to tell concerning her history prior to the time her husband deserted her. She related the incident of meeting him at a ball to friends from her own country, and told the story of their brief courtship and finally of her marriage to Alphonse Bregy. But she either could not or would not tell what her husband's business was. She said that for the first six mouths of their married life he was a loving husband and treated her kindly, but afterwards he began to go away for a week or two at a time and grew cold towards her. Finally, about a month after Eugene was born, he went away and never again returned. After that time she never heard of her husband but once and that was from a French plasterer, who had been out to Denver. This man asserted positively that he saw Alphonse Bregy in that city, but that he could not get to speak to him. "That," conhope of ever seeing him again until I met him a few months ago at the dock in Brooklyn."

"Was there any thing peculiar in his and he thinks the tramp did it. general bearing?" asked Percy.

"Yes, he stooped a little, but showed it more especially when he grew tired chicken business. C. G. Slimmer, day of wearing his shoulder-braces and answered Mrs. Bregy.

Then Mr. Wilcox asked what steps Emerick really was since he went away watched this item make the rounds and on the "Trinidad."

"All that has been done I did myself," said Eugene. "I went down to the office of Emerick & Co. on Pearl of any benefit to the chicken fraternity street and the clerk told me that Mr. Emerick was in Buenos Ayres." Eugene then recounted what he had heard while the door was closing.

importance was gained from the mother and son, but before they left, after being entertained during the evening by Mrs. Delaro and Armida, Mr. Wilcox said to Mrs. Bregy: "Inasmuch as the carelessness of our coachman was the cause of your son's accident, and as you persistently refuse any recompense, you must allow me to do one thing."

"What is that, Mr. Wilcox?" said Mrs. Bregy in a pleasant manner.

"You must permit us to make some inquiries regarding this Mr. Emerick and give us permission to find out all we can about him," he replied.

In a grateful tone the woman replied: "Any information you may be able to give to me, no matter how scanty in detail, will be gladly received and acknowledged."

TO BE CONTINUED.

-He-"Do you think you love me well enough to be my wife?" She-"Yes, George." He-"Well, I only asked to ascertain how you felt on the subject, so in case I ever should want to marry I would know where to come."-The -Neighbor Jones is growing poor because the street-car fare upon his daily route has been reduced. Formerly he saved six cents by walking to his work;

COUNTY CIRCUMSTANCES

Carefully Culled, Clipped, Cured .-Softly Served Subscribers. The state convention of the patrons of industry will be held in Lansing, February 24 to 28.

Arbor, was damaged $427 worth by up $636. fire and water last week. The Ann Arbor street railway is now practically owned by H. P. Glover, of Ypsilanti, and H. T. Morton, of Ann recently, breaking both bones of the right leg alove the ankle. The lady is 76 years of age.

The new Grand Army hall was did icated in Stockbridge last Friday evening, Rev. Washington Gardner delivering the address.

Mrs. Lashier, of Saline, sold $10: worth of hen product from 70 hens in twelve months. Who can equal it? It you can't, why can't you?

The Wadhams, Kennedy & Reule Co. with a capital of $16,000, has been incorporated in Ann Arbor, to do a general clothing business in that city.

Furgeson, of Ann Arbor, will turn carts this month, and probably 10,000 during the year. An industry worth

It was an Ann Arbor boy who got real vexed at another boy-so vexed, in tact, that he couldn't find hard words erick's image before me, and something enough to express his distike. Finally he exclaimed "if you weren't so dirty, I'd eat you."

> In our Unadilla correspondence two weeks ago an item appeared which said "Rev. Mr. North intends holding special meetings at this place when he gets through with his "loafers" at Plainfield." It should have read "labors."

Julius Lindenschmidt, of Saline, is about twelve years old. Two years ago he pinched a finger in a door since which time it has constantly troubled him. Last week Dr. Nichols ampuwhich she had been invited by some tated the finger and found that the cure for Thrush and rotting away disbone which was cracked, had never

The annual meeting of the patrons of industry of Washtenaw county, was held in Ann Arbor last week, at which time the following officers were elected; President, B. F. Gooding; vice president, G. W. Merrill; secretary, W. M. Fowler; treasurer, W. Dexter; sentinel, Benj. Cook.

Albert Hoffman, a farmer near Stockbridge, recently found a tramp in his hay while pitching some to his stock. The tramp wanted something to eat, cluded Mrs. Bregy, "was all I ever but Mrs. Hoffman refused unless the nent cure in a short time. heard of him, and I had given up all tramp would leave his revolver outside. This he refused to do. That night Mr. Hoffman's barn was burned

There is money in the thoroughbred operator at the Central depot in Grass Lake, last year cleared $242 from ten hens. He disposed of their eggs at $3 they had taken to discover who Mr. a setting .- Many exchanges. We have though we dislike to spoil a good story we dont think an item so misleading is or any one else. We think we know a little about the hen business; furthermore we happen to know Mr. Slimmer After this very little information of and have seen his chickens, and we are ready to wager dollars to doughnuts that Mr. S. never claimed to have realized any such amount from his ten hens. - Saline Observer. Here's the one chance of your life to get rich Mr. Grass Lake News-you "hatched" this story.

The Little Giant

Do not smash your fingers by using the horse is now cured. a shoe-hammer and flat-iron to crack nuts. Call on your hardware merchant and get the LITTLE GIANT NUT CRACKER. It cracks anything from a blackwalnut a child can crack the hardest nut. Its worked, and does its work perfectly. disease since. It will never get out of order, nor bruise your fingers. If you do not want to crack a hard nut but once a year, it will pay to have the LITTLE GIANT to do it with. It is put up in two styles, japanned at 50 cents, and nickel plated at 75 cents, is sufficiently strong in all its parts, and is warrantied, if well used. Thomas Holmes. | and Sollie over 53000 a rear such. It's N

The whole number of people connected with the legislature, including members of both houses, is 219, of which number 87 are officers, clerks, janitors, pages etc. All receive $3 per day except the pages, twenty-one in number, who receive $2 per day. The John J. Robinson's house at Ann daily pay roll-of the legislature foots

The Antiquity of Gloves,

The antiquity of gloves is very great They doubtless antedate history, for the earliest literature alludes to them. They have been known and worn from the remote ages of the world. Homer, in the Mrs. S. W. Dexter, of Dexter, fell Olyssey, describes Lacrtes, the farmer-King, the father of Ulysses, in his retirement: "While gloves secured his hands to shield them from the thorns." Xenophon jeers at the Persians for wearing gloves as a protection from the cold. "Not only did they have umbrellas borne over them in the summer," he says, "but in winter it is not sufficient for them to clothe their heads and their bodies and their feet, but they have coverings made of hair for their hands and their fingers." The Romans scorned such effeminacy at that time, but we are told that at about the time of Christ the amanuensis of Pliny, the historian, wore gioves to keep his fingers nimble in cold weather. -St. Louis Republic.

> -"Say, Gussie, who is Lucifer?" "Lucifer?" repeated Gussie, thought fully; "oh yes, I recollect now. He is the manufacturer of a certain brand of cook's Cotton Root COMPOUND Composed of Cotton Roct, Tansy and Pennyroyal—a recent discovery by an old physician. Is successfully used monday—Safe, Effectual. Price $1, by mail, sealed. Ladies, ask your drugist for Cook's Cotton Root Compound and take no substitute, or inclose 2 stamps for sealed particulars. Address POND LILY COMPANY, No. 3 Flaher Block, 131 Woodward ave., Detroit, Mich.

Sold by Glazier, the Druggist, Chelsen

GURLEI

Thrush, Pinworm Heave Remedy. Curlett's Thrush Remedy is a sure eases of the feet of stock.

or beast) a compound that effectually removes those troublesome parasites, which are such a great source of annovances to stock.

Curlett's Heave Remedy is a sure cure for Heaves in the earlier stages, and warranted to relieve in advanced stages, if not producing a cure.

TESTIMONIALS.

Carpenter Bros. of Dexter, Mich., says: We had a horse afflicted with the thrush for eighteen months, and tried various remedies to cure it, but could get nothing to help it until we used Curlett's Thrush Remedy, which made a perma-

Fred Strelle, of Delhi Mills says: One year ago I had a young horse that was lame three or four months, and could not find out what caused the lameness until the horse was taken to H. M. Ide, the horse shoer, who told me that the the limping gait and stinking smell of his foot was caused by thrush, and advised me to get a bottle of Curlett's Thrush Remedy, which after using a few times, removed the smell and lameness, and now the horse is pronounced cured by the best horseman.

Fred Jaeger, of Dexter, Mich., says. I had a horse which had the thrush, and tried to sell him, but could not realize half his value, used one bottle of Curlett's Thrush Remedy, which produced a permanent cure, and then had no trouble in disposing of him for the latter of the trouble in disposing of him for what he

Henry Schultz, of North Lake, Mich., says: I cured a very bad case of Thrush of three years' standing, by using Curlett's Thrush Remedy, when everything else that was tried failed to produce a

Erank Hoff, of Anderson, Livingston o., says: My horse for five or six weeks had a limping gait, and McKeeby, the blacksmith at Pinckney, Mich., told me thrush caused the lameness and advised me to get a bottle of Curlett's Thrush remedy, which, after a few applications removed the smell and lameness, and

Jacob Haas, of Lima, Washtenaw Co. Mich., says: I had a mare afflicted with thrush, and doctored her with a veterinary surgeon for six months, but three weeks after I quit using his medicine, to a hazelnut. It is a gem of beauty the of Curlett's Thrush Remedy, and and an engine of great power; with it after a few applications smell and lameness were gone, and then after using a dollar bottle of the remedy, the mare construction is simple. It is easily was cured and has shown no sign of the

> FOR SALE BY Wm. Livermore, Unadilla.

LEGAL NOTICES

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNT tenns. The undersigned has commissioners to receive, examine, an all claims and demands of all persons the estate of Charles Hall, late of said the estate of Charles Hall. late of said deceased, hereby give notice that six hereby give notice that said hereby will meet at the office of Turnbu Wilkinson in village of Chelsea in said on Monday, whe 13th day of April Monday, the 13th day of July ne ten o'clock as m. of each of said days, ceive, examine and adjust said claims. Dated January 12, 1881.

GEO. W. TURN BULL JAMES L. GILBERT, Real Estate For Sale.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WAS STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF W. tenaw. ss. In the matter of the estat John Young deceased. Notice is hereby that in pursuance of an order granted that in pursuance of an order granted that in pursuance of the estate of said John Y. deceased by the Hon. Judge of Probate in county of Washtenaw, on the 13th day of ary. A D. 1891, there will be soid at public due to the highest bidder, at the office of Sail & Wilkinson, in the village of Cheisthe county of Washtenaw in said state, our county of Washtenaw in said state, our county of Washtenaw in said state, our county of washtenaw in said state, on one o'clock in the afternoon of that day one o'clock in the afternoon of that day ject to all encumbrances by mortgage or o wise existing at the time of the decease o' ohn Young, the following described real:

Situated in the township of Sylvan, county Washtenaw, state of Michigan, known and scribed as follows, viz: The west balf of southwest quarter of section fifteen; also east half of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section twenty-two.

Dated, Chelsea, Michigan, Jan. 23, 1881.

Samuel, Guthair.

Administrator De Bonis Non with the willan nexed of John Young deceased.

Real Estate For Sale.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, COUNTY OF WASH Buth Young deceased. Notice is hereby gi that in pursuance of an order granted the manufacturer of a certain brand of matches."—Yankee Blade.

—"Did you tell Skittles that I was an infamous liar?" "No, I did not. Quite the reverse, in fact. I said you were a famous one."—N. Y. Sun.

that in pursuance of an order granted to the undersigned executor of the last will and teament of the estate of said Ruth Young decased by the Hon. Judge of Probate for the county of Washtenaw, on the 13th day of Jan ary, 1891, there will be sold at public vendue, with highest bidder, at the office of TurnBull Wilkinson, in the village of Chelsea, in the county of Washtenaw, in said-state, on Saturday, the seventh day of March, A. D. 1891. day, the seventh day of March, A. D. 1891 one o'clock in the afternoon, of that day ject to all encumbrances by mortgage or wise existing at the time of the death of deceased, the following described real es

F

All that certain piece or parcel of land sit ed in the township of Sylvan, county of Was temas, state of Michigan, known and describe as follows, viz: Commencing at the souther orner of lands owned by James M. Congdor the loth day of February, 1881, on section four teen (14) on the north side of the Territoria road thence running due north twenty-thre intersect the north line of said highway, thene southwest along the north line of said highway, thene southwest along the north line of said highway twenty-three (25) rods to the place of beginning containing one acre more or less.

Dated, Chelsea, Michigan, Ja 1, 23, 1891.

G. W. Turkburg, of Part of executor of the last will and testament of Ru

Real Estate For Sale.

State of Michigan, County of Washteam, as In the matter of the estate of Elizabeth New-ton deceased. Notice is hereby gives that in pursuance of an order granted to the un signed administrator of the estate of said Bit abeth Newton deceased by the Hon Juige of Probate for the county of Washtenaw, on the 13th day of January, A. D. 1891, there will be sold at public vendue, to the highest bidder, the office of TurnBull & Wilkinson in the Curlett's Pinworm Remedy (for man | said state, on Saturday, the seventh day March. A D. 1891, at one o'clock in the after noon, of that day (subject to all encumbrance by mortgage or otherwise existing at the time of the decease of said Elizabeth Newton the following decribed real estate, to-wit:

> Washtenaw, state of Michigan, known and de scribed as follows, viz: commencing on the south line of South street, at the north-eas corner of lot fifteen (15) of block two, accordi to the recorded plat of James Congdons secon addition to Chelsea village plat, and running thence south to the southeast corner of lot in the control of the thence west along the south line of said let three rods and ten feet, thence north parall with east line, to south line of south street thence east along south line of South street !

the place of beginning.

Dated, Chelsea, Michigan, Jan. 23, 1891.

SAMUEL F. GUTHERE. Administrator of the estate of Elizabeth New

Dr. Keily's Germifuge. A new discovery, prepared on the tru theory now accepted by all advance physicians, that Bacilli or Germs in the system are the active cause of man prevalent diseases. Germifuge rem this cause and will cure Catarrh, Brown Rheumatism, Syphiletic, Urinal an other Blood and Germ diseases. A Fam ily Medicine, scientifically prepare perfectly safe and leaves no injuriou effects. Satisfaction guaranteed of money refunded. Price $100 per bottle For sale by R. S. Armstrong.

ployment and teach you FREE. No space to explain ben information FREE. THE UE & CO., AUGUSTA.

