$1 for 50 Cts.

A few weeks ago we advertised several hundred men's boy's and children's suits in our clothing department, and several hundred pair of shoes in our boot and shoe department, "broken lots" at 2-3 the regular retail price. These goods are nearly all closed out. Only about 50 suits and 75 pair of shoes left, we don't propose to put them back in stock, but in order to clean them out quick we shall give you the choice of what there is left at 50 Cts. on the $1.

See the goods and satisfy yourself that no wagons. The lumber belonged to Jacob such bargains were ever offered in Chelsea.

JUST OPENED.

The largest and handsomest line of men's, boy's and children's hats we have ever shown. All new goods to select from.

The Michigan Stove Company, the manufacturers of the celebrated "Garland" stoves and ranges, has sent us a "Holiday Souvenir" in the shape of a match box made from the aluminum which is used by this company in the iron mixture of which their stoves are made. Experience has proved that the mixture makes strong castings, prevents cracking and is a benefit to the iron in every way. The fact that the Michigan Stove Company is an enterprising corporation and that they are determined to put upon the market the very best stoves is evident from the fact that they are the first and only makers of stoves and ranges in America to use aluminum with an iron mixture. W. J. Knapp is agent for the Garland stoves and ranges.

Another Tenement House Horror in Brooklyn - A Two Story Dwelling Destroved by Fire and Six Inmates Burned to Death.

NEW YORK, Feb. 23 .- A fire which resulted in the loss of six lives, and which is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, broke out Saturday night in the two story double brick apartment house at 129 and 131 Sands street, Brooklyn. The fire originated in the cellar of the building at 129, near a wooden shaft that was used for the dumb waiter. There were four families on each of the single floors above the ground floor, or thirty-two families in all, and nearly everybody was at home when, at 7:50 o'clock, the roaring of flames was heard in the dumb waiter flue. There was a panic among the tenants and many ran to the fire escapes, with which the building was fortunately well provided both front and rear. But there was a family on the third floor of the house which was not so fortunate. This was the household of John E. Dorney, a printer employed on the New York Times. Mr. Dorney was not at home, but his wife, their four children, Julia Griffin, a sister of Mrs. Dorney, and Mrs. Dorney's spinster aunt, Margaret Griffin, aged 50 years, were in the rooms. Some of the family escaped by the roof. After the fire had been extinguished firemen found lying on the roof the bodies of Miss Griffin, the elder, and little Daniel Dorney, aged 8 years. They were carried down on ladders. Neither was very much burned, and it was evident that they had met their death from four more bodies were found. They were those of two adults and two children. The fire was out when they were found, and the firemen discovered them huddled in the small loft leading to the roof stairway. They were Jacob Benedict, aged 70; Edward Benedict, aged 18 months; Mrs. Margaret Dorney and 4-year-old Mamie Dorney. A THOUSAND KILLED.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the State Board of Health by fifty observers in different parts of the State for the week ended Febuary 14 indicated that measles increased, and dysentery, membranous croup, inflammation of the brain, cholera morbus, cerebro-spinal meningitis and typhoid fever decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at thirty-two places, scarlet fever at thirty-eight, typhoid fever at fourteen and measles at twenty-nine places.

Morphine Made Death Easy. George E. Smith, a well-to-do grocer of Oscoda, bought a large dose of morphine and going home took it and lay down on the sofa in his sittingroom. His wife came in shortly after. and he told her in the most matter-offact tone what he had done and how long he expected to live. She wanted to go for help, but he detained her with instructions as to what he wanted done until it was too late to save him.

Murdered by Vicious Poles. A row in a boarding house in Marquette resulted in the brutal murder of Michael Smith and the fatal injury of Michael Selka by Walenty Nowak and son. The Nowaks and other Poles were carousing on the second floor of the building, and Smith and Selka went upstairs to stop the fracas, when they were set upon with pickhandles. Smith's body was pounded into an unrecognizable mass of flesh.

SUNK IN THE OHIO.

A Steamer Collides with a Bridge at Cin-CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 18 .- The steamer

Sherlock on Tuesday struck a Kentucky pier of the Chesapeake & Ohio bridge while going down the river on a trip to New Orleans. She had on board thirty passengers and a crew of fifty or sixty. The boat went to pieces and floated down to Fifth street, where she sunk. She had on board 400 tons of freight. The cabin floated down the river, and at Riverside some of the crew got ashore in a skiff. Some were rescued at Fifth street. It is not known how many are lost. A harbor steamer went down the river in search of the missing people. The floating cabin was caught at Riverside, several miles below the city. As many as were left were hastily taken aboard and returned to the city. Mrs. McLean, of Pittsburgh, was instantly kilied by falling freight at the time of the collision. Her little granddaughter was drowned, and it is now certainly known that they were the only persons lost of the twenty-one registered passengers. It is not known whether all of the nine unregistered passengers were saved. It is believed that every one of the officers and crew were rescued. In regard to the were rescued. In regard to the cabin and deck clerks there is much uncertainty. Persons are reported having escaped to the shore for quite a distance along the river. One or two of the passengers were thrown into the river by the shock when the steamer struck the bridge, but two young men who ventured out in skiffs from the Kentucky shore rescued them. There were fourteen women among the passengers and some of them are in a badly prostrated condition. The Sherlock is a total loss. It was used in the Cincinnati and New Orleans trade, was valued at $35,000, and belonged to the Cintional suit of this term of the circuit cinnati & Big Sandy Packet Company. THE MARCH WIDE AWAKE

Has something for every taste, and all is of the best and brightest; the magazine is made for the young people, but the contributions are of such a sort that every member of the family will enjoy each page. The number opens with "An Old-fashioned Witch Story," from the Danish, by Laura E. Poulsson. "Under Ground" is a true and thrilling California adventure, by C. R. Parker. "Tippetoe," by Maud Rittenhouse, is a brief, pathetic Southern story. The serials this year are unique: "Five Little Peppers Grown Up," by Margaret Sidney, attracting thousands of readers; "Cab and Caboose," the railroad story by Kirk Monroe; and the autobiographical Italian story, "Marietta's Good Times," by M. Ambrosi. "Drawing the Child Figure" is a novel series of practical art instruction by the daughter of the Art-Anatomist, Dr. Rimmer.

The articles of the number cover a wide range of topics: "Our Government -who made it and why," with a fine portrait of Hamilton, by Hon. John D. Long; "A Visit to Winchester College at Commencement Time," by Oscar Fay Adams, with the words and music of the famous old Winchester commencement song, "Duice Domum;" "How Grandmother's Spoons Were Made," by Mrs. Ormsbee; entertaining articles by Prof. Otis T. Mason, Mrs. William Claffin, Amanda Harris and others; "Prize Problems in Horology," by E. H. cinnati-Two of Her Passengers Lose Hawley, of the Smithson ian Institution; and several pages of bright anecdotes. WIDE AWAKE is $2.40 a year; 20 cents a number. D. Keep an Account.

An account of personal expenses kept for a series of years becomes a valuable reference book when the question "How much dare I spend, or how little can I dress on?" must be answered several months in advance; savs an advance, says an exchange. Habits, circumstances, physical peculiarities and judgement in buying are some of the factors that make up the difference in the year's account. It will show too what the largest item of expence has been, or that may be the point to study economy, if economy is neces- Hardware Stock Complete sary. This item may be shoes, or gloves may be the devourer of extra expenses for dress and find they can keep their wardrobe in good condition and dress becomingly and spend comparatively a small amount each year. Though care and self-denial are necessary to accomplish this result. When one is desirous of keeping his account, many little economies will be resorted to that would not otherwise be thought of. Every passing fancy will not be gratified, to be regretted almost as soon, and many stitches will be taken to keep o'd gowns presentable. There are many ambitious young women who know them the faculty to dress well on very little is invaluable. There are many people of small means who seem to think that practicing such economy as caring for clothes that Specticles, which are superior in correct cost but little is useless.
