relatives and friends.

One of the many annoyances which daily occur to ladies while passing on the streets, is that they are obliged to often go out in the gutters in order to pass a crowd of men and boys who congregate in groups on the corners and crosswalks. It seems very queer that men will not politely step aside on the walk and let a lady pass, instead of making her either force her way among them or walk around them in mud.

A man who wants to get by a barbed wire fence, must have an eye that looks with entire accuracy from a very cool head, consummate ability in the way of handling his person, and the better part of an afternoon in which to study and accomplish the job. Otherwise if he gets across at all, he will find himself seriously spoiled. A barbed wire fence climber has got to sneak cautiously and deliberately over its undefended passes, so to speak, like a fugitive in the night, with the humble conviction that if a single weak point comes into active contact with the enemy, the result may be terrible all along the line. It takes a very able man with no superfluous clothing to transfer himself to the opposite side of a barbed wire fence.

St. Mary's church never looked as handsome as it did last Easter Sunday with its altars and sanctuary decorated profusely with exquisitely beautiful flowers and many colored lights. Such beautiful and choice flowers were never seen in Chelsea.

The Easter and Calla lilies were the principal flowers used in the decorations, and the entire scene was worthy of an artist.

To the artistic taste of Mrs. James P. Bacon, who had charge of the decorations, must be ascribed the rare beauty of the church on Easter day. Large congregations were present at both masses, and the offertory collection for the pastor was a very handsome one. At the high mass the choir sang Peter's mass in D, and it was the universal opinion that it was the finest

To all young ladies who wish to have pretty mouths, the following is said to be a sure receipt: Repeat each morning and each evening, in quick succession the following sentence: Funny Fanny Finch fried fifty-five floundering flat fish for Frances Forbes' fat father.

It is said the earth rises toward a fellow's feet every step he takes, in the ratio of its weight to the weight of the body going toward it. That's the rule. The exception is when the solid earth rises up bodily and hits a man in the nose—not such an extremely rare case either, with some fellows.

As an instance of perseverance under adverse circumstances and conditions, the weather bureau stands well to the fore.
No matter how many times it guesses wrong it picks its first and tries again.
To be sure it gets paid for guessing all the same in hits and misses—and that must be some solace, some incentive to paralyze itself trying it on again and yet again.

MULTIPLY.

2x0 is nothing you know.
2x1 cat is enough for a show.
2x2 boys are enough for one mother.
2x3 girls after some other girl's brother.
2x4 years may the President take,
2x5 cents one of our dimes do make.
2x6 hours is enough to work.
2x7 pairs may the dentist jerk
2x8 years make the girls awful sweet.
2x9 years bring the boys to their feet.

Now if you Teach

FOR SATURDAY, MARCH 28,

THE CHELSEA HERALD.

A. ALLISON, Editor and Proprietor.
CHLSEA, MICHIGAN.

The widow of Henry Ward Beecher has the income of $100,000 to live upon.

It is figured that on the shipment of $1,000,000 worth of gold coin in an Atlantic voyage, there is lost by simple rubbing something between $1,000 and $2,000 worth.

Glucose is produced in the United States at the rate of one million pounds per day, principally in the western states. The bulk of it enters into home consumption.

An illustration of the plentifulness of musical talent in New York is given through the report that there were nearly 300 applicants recently for the chair of organist in an up-town church.

The Arab ponies which the sultan recently presented to the three elder of the German emperor's six sons are said to have a pedigree which dates back to the "sacred mare" on which Mohammed fled from Mecca to Medina.

BROKER ROBERT B. DAVIDSON, of Philadelphia, is the only surviving clerk of the old United States bank. He is 82 years old, and was employed in the bank from 1832 to 1836, while Nicholas Biddle was president of it.

MR. GLADSTONE has three hats and three only. One is black and very old; the second is white and is used only in summer; the third is a soft felt and his constant traveling companion. Its age is unknown, but it is many years old.

ANGLOMANIA has given birth to a new fad, which is quite as silly as its other progeny. This is the custom of addressing local letters "town" instead of "city," in imitation of the practice observed in England. The most immediate and impressive effect of this innovation is to secure to the missive a two weeks' sojourn at the letter morgue at Washington.

Of various efforts to induce Mrs. Garfield to undertake literary work none have been successful. Recently she said to a publisher: "I am very busy in my family, and that is the end of my ambition. In no way am I personally famous." The name I bear is honorable and honored, but my own life has been only that of an ordinary woman devoted to husband and children. I have no desire to write, and always prefer that nothing be written concerning me."

When a member of the Sioux commission three years ago, Gov. Foster was taken into the city and decorated with a medal. The medal was fastened upon him was an elaborate feathered-tail dress, and Chief Swift Bear, when Gen. Crook suggested that Foster should have a name, promptly gave the distinguished commissioner the name, "Young Man - Proud of His Tail." "Charley" accepted the outfit with the modest confession that an Ojibwa never declined anything.

The dispatches have told of a woman who was for eight days buried in a snow bank and came out alive. The rabbit, it is said, is the only animal that can beat this record. A Paris professor has been making a number of experiments and has reached the conclusion that this little animal can withstand the lowest temperature. The Frenchman inclosed a rabbit in a block of ice and found it in the full enjoyment of life twenty-four hours afterwards and seemingly unaware of anything peculiar in its circumstances.

Mrs. FRENCH-SHELDON, the wealthy woman whose proposed during attempt to emigrate H. M. Stanley's recent feat in Africa has attracted much general attention, resides with her husband, a well-known author, in a beautiful retreat by the Thames at Hampton. She is of fine physique, lithe and supple, with piercing eyes, very handsome, of exceptional conversational powers, and one who appears to be regardless of fear. She is a granddaughter of Sir Isaac Newton, comparatively young, and of American birth.

COURTESY generally pays large returns and the lack of it often entails serious loss. The will of Jonathan Scoville, recently deceased, bequeathed $25,000 to the Buffalo academy of fine arts, but in a codicil revokes the bequest. Last January Mr. Scoville sent to the academy a present of several handsome pieces of statuary, which was not acknowledged. He waited a month, and then, angered by the silence of the academy officials, made the codicil. In this case a letter of thanks would have been a valuable letter of credit.

The time was when Americans could boast of the greatest hand lakes of the world, but the African explorers now say that Superior is smaller even than Lake Tchad, not to mention Victoria Nyanza or Tanganyika. And now Niagara falls is mentioned with retirement from a proud position as the world's greatest cataract, although the rival in this instance is on this continent. Rumor comes from the unexplored wilds of Labrador of a wonderful cataract situated 160 miles inland from Hamilton inlet, where the Grand river empties into the Atlantic ocean. These falls are said to be 2,000 feet high.

MISS GABRIELLE GREELY, daughter of the late Horace Greeley, lives at the old homestead, Chappaqua. Her family consists of her cousin, Miss Cecilia Cleveland, one maid servant and three dogs. She lives entirely for others, taking as the motto of her life: "I shall not pass this way again; any good, therefore, that I can do, let me do it at once." She ministers to the sick, the poor and the aged in the little hamlet of Chappaqua and the town of Pleasantville, which is about two miles distant. Here is her parish church, where she attends regularly, walking the distance twice every Sunday.

When it comes to abusing his wife a man in England can do a great deal of it for a small price. Edward Waters, employed on the Manchester ship canal, was arraigned before the country magistrates at Birkenhead, Eng., on a charge of assaulting his wife and the evidence showed that he kicked her, chased her about the house, seized her by the throat, attempted to strangle her, bunched her head against the wall, threw her on the floor and knelt on her chest, and, finally, as she rushed from the house, he gave her a parting kick and a blow in the mouth. The justices fined him twenty shillings.

NICHOLLS TO BLAINE.

Louisiana's Governor Writes a Letter to the Secretary of State on the Recent Tragedy in New Orleans.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Secretary Blaine has received a letter from Gov. Nichols, of Louisiana, in regard to the recent killing of eleven Italians in the jail at New Orleans, of which the following is a copy:

"I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th of this month, and in reply to inform you that the killing of eleven persons confined therein under indictment for the purpose of New Orleans.

"You state to me that it had been reported to the president, by the minister of Italy, accredited to the government of the United States, that among the killed on that occasion were three or four subjects of the kingdom of Italy. The telegram disclosed an apprehension on the part of the minister, evidently shared by the president, that the disturbance was a continuous and swelling disturbance, which might involve the Italian subjects in New Orleans.

"I have reason to believe that the hope expressed by the president that I would cooperate with him in maintaining the obligations of the United States toward Italian subjects who might be within the perils of the excitement, and that further riotous and bloodshed might be prevented, was based upon the facts to the extent further expressed the hope that all offenders might be promptly brought to justice.

"On the 16th instant I telegraphed you that there was an execution in the city at that time and that I saw no reason to anticipate further trouble.

"I also stated that the action taken was directed against particular individuals, and that the race or nationality of the parties did not enter as a factor into the disturbance. A week has passed since the date of my dispatch and the opinion then entertained as to the termination of the trouble has proved well founded. The men killed, as I have stated, were confined in prison, under indictments found in the criminal district court for the parish of Orleans; the sheriff has made no effort to return to the court the judge there has charged the grand jury now in session in regard to the matter, and the whole subject is, I assume, now under investigation by that body.

"I am satisfied that most of the persons killed were American citizens, but it is probable that two or three were Italian subjects. I have the honor to be, very respectfully, Sir, your obedient servant, J. M. Nichols, Governor of Louisiana.

The department of state will not take further action in the matter until the Italian minister makes some further communication upon the subject.

ITALY DEMANDS SATISFACTION. LONDON, March 25.—The News' Paris correspondent says he learns on the best authority that the Italian government, without discussing the status of the New Orleans prisoners, maintains that as prisoners they were entitled to be defended while in prison in the state, and declares that although proclaimed innocent they were not so defended, therefore the Italian government formally demands punishment of the mob's leaders and indemnity for the families of the men slain. In conclusion the correspondent says: "America seems animated with the best intentions and inclined to grant satisfaction."

WILL RESTRICT ITALIAN EMIGRATION. ROME, March 25.—The Italian government meditates taking steps to check emigration to America.

DRUGGED AND DROWNED. An Indiana Woman Tells How She and a Husband Made Away with Her Aged Mother-in-Law, and How They Were Caught.

GOVERNMENT, March 25.—Mrs. Frances Calkins, who is on trial with Frank Hendrix for the murder of her husband at Elkhardt last April, turned state's evidence Tuesday and made a full confession of the crime. This confession, coupled with other strong evidence adduced by the prosecution has made the case look almost hopeless for Hendrix, who still stoutly maintains his innocence.

The sensational features of the day, after all other evidence for the prosecution was in, was the release of Mrs. Calkins from custody in order that she might appear on the stand as a witness for the prosecution. Her story of the awful crime, by means of which she and Hendrix hoped to become joint owners of $6,000, was graphic and at times brought the audience up to a high pitch of excitement. It is as follows:

In February, 1890, Mrs. Calkins, who was a widow (Mrs. Whipple), was living in a flat at Elkhardt on the same floor on which Hendrix had his insurance office. Edward Calkins, an old man possessed of some money and property and editor of the Labor Signal, state organ of the Knights of Labor, boarded with her. She and Hendrix became quite intimate and soon formed a plan which, if successful, would result in her marrying Calkins, his getting his life insured for $5,000, willing his property to her and then being "removed."

Everything went well. Mrs. Whipple, who was a fascinating widow of 35, was married to Calkins March 25. A few days later Hendrix induced him to take out an accident insurance policy for $5,000, payable to his wife, and also to will his cash and property to her. Everything being now in readiness for the final blow on April 3, they took Calkins boat-riding, drugged him with liquor, and when he got up to change his seat Hendrix threw him into the river. They then wet their clothing thoroughly and returned, telling everyone that the boat had capsized and that Calkins was drowned.

During the recital of this story by Mrs. Calkins Hendrix was apparently unmoved. He claims that she is a bad and designing woman, and that the whole scheme is one of blackmail.

She Hit Him First. DE KALB, Tex., March 25.—On the 20th of March, 1890, a man named here, Monday morning, William Watts, a plantation laborer, on arising, told his wife Fannie to say her prayers, as he was going to kill her as soon as he had put on his shoes. The woman, to save her own life, determined to take that of her husband, and stepping out to a wood-pile, secured an ax, and returning to the house buried it in the back of his head, splitting his skull and killing him while he was putting on his shoes. The woman was held under $500 bond.

Killed by the Cars. ANDERSON, Ind., March 25.—Lizzie Bond, aged 20, while walking along the Cincinnati, Wabash & Michigan railroad, stepped from the track to escape an approaching train. Her clothing was caught by the cars and she was dragged 100 yards, her brains being dashed out against the ties.

DYING BY SCORES.

Feared Mortality in Chicago—About 900 Deaths Reported for the Week—Nearly a Quarter of a Million Residents Sick.

CHICAGO, March 25.—The deaths reported from pneumonia and kindred ailments for last week number over 920, the largest number ever recorded in this city. A careful estimate justifies the statement that nearly 250,000 people in this city are under medical treatment. Every branch of business is crippled by the prevailing sickness.

The officials in the department of health say that the number of deaths reported last week is without precedent. There have been single days in the history of the department when the number of deaths reported was unusually great, noticeably a day in July three years ago, when so many people were overcome by the heat. The number of deaths since the 1st of March, compared with the number for a corresponding period in 1890, illustrates the present condition of things very clearly. The table is made up by weeks:

First Second Third Fourth
Week. Week. Week. Week.

1890. 434 408 468 419
1891. 491 709 180 920

There were no less than 150 funerals in the city on Sunday, most of the burials being those of grip victims. Many other funerals were postponed for lack of burial facilities. The greatest number of interments took place in Calvary, where thirty-seven persons were buried.

The average per day last week at Calvary was thirty. Oakwoods had twenty-six interments Sunday, with an average of twenty-six per day for the week. Rose Hill had twenty-one burials Sunday. Its daily average last week was nineteen. Graceland only had sixteen interments Sunday, the lowest number for six Sundays. The daily average for Graceland last week was twenty. Other smaller cemeteries ran away above their average of interments.

Dr. J. D. Hammond said Friday: "The present epidemic of the grip is as bad as a season of cholera as far as the number of people affected is concerned. Every doctor that I know is overrun with business."

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 30.—Nearly 10,000 cases of grip are now reported in this city, and are springing up on all sides. The local doctors unite in saying the disease has become epidemic and only hope for warm and dry weather to come soon, as it is all that will check it. The railroad offices are all short-handed, and less than half the usual cars are working local trains. Nearly all the big stores are hunting salesmen, but none are to be had, as nearly everyone has the complaint in some form. The weather has been damp and chilly for several weeks, and this is given credit for causing all the trouble.

OSHKOSH, Wis., March 30.—The death rate in this city the past week has been alarming. In all twenty-six persons have died, most of them from the grip, and the undertakers have more than they can do, and many funerals have to be postponed in consequence.

FAIRBURY, Ill., March 30.—La grippe is prevailing here in an alarming degree, especially in the country districts. Entire families are stricken down and the disease has proved fatal in quite a number of cases, especially among children. The doctors have more patients than they can conveniently take care of.

KEOKUK, Ia., March 30.—William Woolley, old and well to do citizen, committed suicide by hanging Sunday morning. It was thought that his mind was temporarily unbalanced by a lingering siege of la grippe.

CHARLOTTE, Mich., March 30.—Fred Hall, aged 25, of Brookfield, killed himself by taking poison. He had just recovered from a severe attack of the grip and it is thought he was temporarily insane.

WILL TALK ON COMMERCE. List of speakers for the Congress to Be Held at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 30.—At the meeting of the executive committee of the commercial congress of the western states the following speakers and subjects for discussion were agreed upon:

"Improvement of Waterways," Gen. T. J. Henderson, of Illinois, and Newton C. Blanchard, of Louisiana; "Reciprocity," Don M. Dickinson, of Michigan, Ben Butterworth, and J. B. Burrows, of Michigan; "The Coinage Question," Gen. A. J. Warner, of Ohio; "Agricultural Depression and the Remedy," J. J. Ingalls, of Kansas; "The Promotion of Manufacturing Interests," Major William J. McKinley, of Ohio; "Taxation," C. R. Breckinridge, of Arkansas; J. H. Gear, of Iowa, and C. Stewart, of Texas; "Immigration and Settlement of Unoccupied Lands," G. A. Pierce, of North Dakota, and H. M. Thurston, of Union County, La.; "Jude J. L. Torrey, of St. Louis, author of the Torrey's Bankrupt Bill; "Railway Transportation," George R. Peck, of Topeka; "Legislation as Affecting Commerce," Gen. Wheeler, of Alabama; "Irrigation of Arid Lands," T. C. Henry, of Denver, and John Jay, of Junction City, Kan.

PAYMENT STOPPED. Indiana Has Already Received a Part of Her Share in the Direct Tax Fined.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 30.—Gov. Hovey is in receipt of a telegram from Secretary Foster stating that payment of the draft for $769,144.03, direct tax money, had been stopped, pending an investigation of the discovery that some $40,000 of the money had already been paid to the state during Gov. Gray's administration. The governor thinks that the secretary is mistaken, as the money referred to was returned under the swamp land act and had no connection with the direct tax. The stopping of payment on the draft complicates matters considerably, as there is no money in the state treasury.

HORTICULTURAL ITEMS. Do not get the plants in the house too much water, and if the temperature is low they will need less water, remember, than if it is high.

SHOULD one be so unfortunate as to have plants slightly frozen, dip them into a pail of cold water, or, if large, give them a good showering.

CARE should be taken to remove the sprouts from the young bulbs which spring up at the base of callas. This is especially necessary if the large plant is about to bloom.

It has recently been shown that the bad effects of fog were felt most by tropical plants, which in a state of nature were exposed to the sunlight. Plants which grew under the shade of forest trees did not suffer so much. Soft, tender plants and aquatic vegetation seemed to come off worst.

A good and cheap protector against destructive insects which attack small garden plants, according to a gardening journal, is to place bottomless flower pots over the plants, admitting light and air from above, but excluding the depredate at the sides. A short piece of pipe tile, several inches in diameter, answers the same purpose as well.

Patent medicines differ—

One has reasonableness, another has not. One has reputation—another has not. One has confidence, born of success—another has only "hopes."

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not.

Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison they belong.

And there isn't a state or territory, no—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that're happier because of their discovery and their effects.

Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back as they do if they do not benefit or cure you.

“August Flower”

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations Stomach. I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDERICK, Saugerties, New York.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's, S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.
